Barbe Announces Production Cast For Next Play, 'I Remember Mama'

Mama, Katrin Double Cast In February Play Including Cloud, Vogan, McKinney, Rehm

Casting for John Van Druten's "I remember Mama," a two-act play to be given Monday through Saturday, February 7-12, in the Little Theatre, has been announced by Donald L. Barbe, head of the speech department, who is directing the play. Student director of the production is Bruce Catt.

Mama, the title role, has been double cast, with Bobbie Cloud and Ruth Vogan. The role of Katrin is also double-cast with Shirley McKinney and Maryann Rehm.

The supporting roles include Papa, Jack Ardolino; Christine, Marge Powell; Dagmar, Dot Elder; Nels, Dick Taylor; Aunt Trina, Tink Bullock; Aunt Sigrid, Norma Williams; Aunt Jenny, Maryellen Cipolla; Uncle Chris, Art Schrieber; Mr. Hyde, Bruce Catt; Mr. Thorkelson, Bill Stedman; Dr. Johnson, Bob Tanguay; Soda Clerk, John Thomas; Madeline, Estelle Pines; Dorothy, Billie Gambill; Arne, Jane Coleman; a nurse, Louise Hendricks; another nurse, Delores Nieman; a woman, Boots Bartlett; and Florence Moorhead, Jean Burt.

Adapted from Kate Forbes' book, "Mama's Bank Account," the story pictures a Norwegian family with Mama as head of the household.

Exhibition Depicts First 'Life' Decade

"Ten Years," a selection of news photographs from "Life's" first decade of publication, is now on display in the exhibition room of the McGill library. Consisting of 32 panels, the show will be on view from January 4 through 14.

Beginning with the major events of 1937, three panels are devoted to each year through 1946. There are a total of 64 photographs which were selected from "Life's" picture files for their news significance as well as their unusual photographic interest. A wide variety, both in subject matter and photographic style, has been presented.

The exhibition includes some of the best work of such veteran "Life" photographers as Margaret Bourke-White, Robert Capa, Frank Scherschel, George Silk, Alfred Eisenstaedt, Fritz Goro, and Walter Sanders.

Christmas Card Sales Make YW Gifts Possible

Y.W.C.A., with the proceeds from the sale of Christmas cards, has sent money and clothing to various places.

Fifty dollars each was sent to a Christian student at Gordon college in India and to negroes in Alabama. A box of clothing was sent to Frenchburg Mission school, Frenchburg, Kentucky.

In place of the regular meeting, Y.W.C.A. will conduct prayer meeting and singspiration during the week of examinations.

History Of New Castle Is Subject Of Address

Judge Walter A. Braham, formerly of New Wilmington, will address members of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, Monday, January 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge.

Now living in New Castle, Judge Braham will speak on the history of that city. Initiation of members will also take place that evening.

Fellowship Secretary Will Speak To CYF

Charles T. Troutman, associate general secretary of Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, will speak at the CYF meeting Sunday at 6:20 p.m. in the Little Theatre. Ruth Ban will be in charge of devotions.

Panhel Won't Dance . . .

Panhellenic Council's dance, originally scheduled for January 14, has been cancelled, according to Winifred Shaffer, president.

Harrison To Give Baritone Recital

Ocock Will Assist With Organ Selections

William P. Harrison, baritone, will present his senior recital in the college chapel, Wednesday, January 12, at 8:15 p.m. He will be assisted by Raymond H. Ocock, organist.

Harrison's selections include "Vez-zosette e care," by Falconieri; "Come Raggio Di Sol," Caldara; "Madamina," Mozart; "Die Bose Farbe," Schubert; "Thanenregen," Schubert; "Wie Melodien zieht es mir," Brahms; "My Love's Like A Red, Red Rose," Edwin Good; "Love's Philosophy," Roger Quilter, and "Song of the Flea," Modeste Moussorgsky. Edwin Good is scheduled as accompanist.

A selection of Bach numbers, "Gott, Durch Deine Gute," "Nun Komm, der Heiden Heiland," "Wir Glauben All' an einen Gott," and Reger's "Introduction and Passacaglia in D Minor" will constitute Ocock's part of the program.

Ushers are Francis Peterson, Richard Nevin, Benjamin Roman, and John Cutler.

Argo Wants Snapshots Of Campus Activities

Snapshots depicting campus activities, fraternity and sorority doings, and interesting student happenings in general, are again requested by Roger Hawk, Argo editor. He would like to have the negatives of the pictures.

Names of the 15 girls who have been selected as candidates for Argo beauty queens will probably be released next week. Their pictures will be sent to Billy "Diamond Horseshoe" Rose who will name four of them for campus royalty. Those girls whom he picks need not represent all the classes.

The editor has hinted that Argos will be ready by commencement.

Dr. W. J. H. McKnight Resigns To Accept Pittsburgh Charge

College Pastor To Leave At Semester End After Two And A Half Years Of Service

Dr. W. J. H. McKnight has submitted his resignation to the college after two and one half years of service as college pastor and dean of men. The resignation is to take effect not later than February 15. He will accept a call to the Brookline Boulevard United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

Present plans are that Dr. McKnight will leave at the end of this semester. It is probable that outside speakers will have charge of Sunday evening chapel services, while members of the Bible department will conduct the daily services.

Dr. W. J. H. McKnight

Before coming to Westminster, Dr. McKnight was pastor of the Kenmore United Presbyterian church, Buffalo, N. Y., for 15 years. He was also an army chaplain in the recent war.

Dr. McKnight was graduated from Westminster in 1922 and from Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary in 1925. He has his master's degree from Princeton, and is at present working for a doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh.

While here Dr. McKnight was instrumental in instituting the Seneca Hills retreat, now an annual activity of the campus religious organizations. He has served on many committees as advisor and as a member, and has helped strengthen the campus religious program in general.

Mrs. McKnight has also had duties in the college, acting in the role of housemother to the women who lived in College hall before her husband's return from the army.

Dramatic Recital Adapts 'Electra'

Trio Portrays Family In Civil War Period

"Mourning Becomes Electra" comes to the Little Theatre stage Tuesday, January 11, in an adaption of the Eugene O'Neill trilogy by Maryann Rehm and Janet Keller. A senior drama recital, the play will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Assisted by Eugene DeCaprio in the role of Orin, the senior speech majors will present selected scenes from the play, along with original narrations and soliloquies. Janet will portray Christine, and Maryann will portray Lavinia in this drama of family love and hatred.

Laid in the Civil War period, the plot is a revival of the ancient Greek "Electra" story. It is divided into three parts, "The Homecoming," "The Hunted," and "The Haunted." Spaced lighting will be used, and the two sets will be stylized.

Jim Fudge, junior music major, will sing the theme music for the performance. Glenn Reed and Basil Mesina will work as stage crew, and Dottie Elder will do the sound effects. Ushering will be Ruth Ban, Glenn Hartman, and Jean Thornton.

Kappa Delta Pi Will Offer Debate

Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, will sponsor a decision debate Monday, January 10, at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre between Westminster and the University of Pittsburgh.

Pitt debaters presenting the affirmative side of the national inter-collegiate question will hold that federal aid to education should be abolished. Representing Westminster and the negative view will be veteran debaters Robert Patton and Glenn Reed.

Committee Investigates Honor Award Situation

Honor awards which are presented to frats, sororities, and independents each year on the basis of scholastic standing may be revised as a result of a study being made by college officials.

Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women, has been named to head a committee to look into the situation. The awards are made each spring at an Honors Convocation, held usually during two daily chapel periods.

Beta Sigs Are Named As Volleyball Champs

Ending the season sporting an undefeated record, the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority has been named the champions of the annual volleyball tournament sponsored by the W.A.A.

In winning the crown, the Beta Sigs completed their regular six-game schedule without a loss. The Independent women finished in second place with a five and one record. Their only loss was at the hands of the Beta Sigs.

Initiation of new members will be held Tuesday, January 11, by the W.A.A.

Religious Teams List Future Engagements

Two college caravans and two gospel teams will serve in nearby churches this weekend. A caravan, led by Louise Hendricks, will go to the Woodville United Presbyterian church.

John Polock's caravan will be in the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church. A gospel team, led by Elizabeth Cummings, is scheduled to conduct a youth rally in the Stoneboro Methodist church, and Kenny Stewart will be in charge of a service in the Croton Avenue Methodist church, New Castle.

Prior to vacation, cabinet members of Life Service met in a joint meeting with officers of the Christian Service league, Grove City college.

Layman's Gift Aids Religious Groups

Gift of Samuel A. Fulton, a United Presbyterian layman from West Allis, Wis., the new DeCoto-suburban sedan has already begun its job conveying the various religious organizations on gospel team work, caravanning, and conference and convention trips. The car, which has been designated for the use of the religious organizations on campus, carries nine persons. Each of the six UP colleges has now received such a car from Mr. Fulton.

We'll Try Again . . .

ALTHOUGH WE didn't come right out and ask to find a president with the tag, "For Westminster college," in our Christmas stocking, we were rather hoping for a miracle of that kind.

There was a song once that ran, "Yes, miracles can happen." The songwriter might have had his faith shaken a bit if he had heard of our situation. It looks as if we need something even more than a miracle.

Many of us have heard rumors and more rumors. "They've got a president." "They can't announce it yet." "He's signed." "He isn't signed."

For what it's worth, the latest "official" word is that the committee reported they are hopeful of getting someone by May.

But don't give up hope. Remember there are only 350 plus days until next Christmas, and then we can try again.

Band Plays On . . . . .

AT Westminster as at any other place, the lavish happenings are played up. A play, a debate, an artist course concert, a student recital—all of these are important, and the people concerned deserve the publicity they get.

However, there are certain other happenings to which we are so accustomed that we fail to consider them when passing the laurels. One of these is the participation of the band at the basketball games.

Mr. Cameron and the band members deserve our thanks, because that long wait before games would be a lot longer without their entertainment. Especially to be congratulated are the student directors.

At the next game, don't just comment to your neighbor, "Gee, that sounded pretty good." That eight-letter word, applause, will let the band know, too.

Lots of Luck . . . . .

DR. McKNIGHT'S resignation as college pastor and dean of men recalls the many events in which he has played a major part. The chapel redecoration, institution of the Seneca Hills retreat, and the success of the Shares campaign were all due in a large part to the work done by Dr. McKnight. His aid as Student Council advisor has helped that organization many times.

We know we speak for the entire student body when we wish Dr. McKnight and his family the best of luck in their new charge at Brookline.

This Is A Snow Job

By Larry Friday

Christmas and New Year's have come and gone and all the celebration is over. Gifts have been exchanged and all the Christmas cards have been erased, so that they can be sent again next year.

The noise of New Year's Eve parties has ceased and the "pop" bottles have all been cleared away. This means that there are only 353 more shopping days left until Christmas. Christmas cards have become a source of worry to the mailmen, who must carry a greater load so that the mail can go through.

Mailmen today should be thankful, however. Christmas cards were not introduced until about 1850. Prior to this time, everyone, copying the style of "Abe," wrote their good wishes on the backs of shovels with charcoal. This practice was eliminated, however, when John L. Lewis announced that everyone would have to pay a royalty on the charcoal they used, and for the writing of Christmas shovels. This was a big shovelful to some people who really enjoyed sending and receiving Christmas shovels.

But Mr. Ball soon overcame this handicap by introducing his ball point pen. These pens would even write under snow. Soon after this, ink was invented, and writing became easier. This ink wouldn't even come off when the mailman stopped to make snowmen with the Christmas shovels.

Speaking of snow reminds me of anti-freeze, which in turn reminds me of New Year's. New Year's is usually a cold day and everyone likes to fill their radiator with anti-freeze, so that their blocks won't crack. People have been debating New Year's ever since Caesar was running around in his bold-look toga screaming at Britain to put anti-freeze in his best chariot, so that he could enter the tournament of roses at the local coliseum. Caesar always carried four roses in each hand.

Different people, however, celebrate New Year's in different ways. Until recently a reception was held by the President in his home for the general public. This year there was not enough room for a party. It seems that as yet, Dewey has not moved his furniture out of the White House. The President decided to spend a quiet evening at home on his porch.

In Philadelphia, a Mummies' parade is staged in honor of the coming of the new year. There has been talk lately that this practice will be banned, because for the last two years the Daddies have come running from home to join the Mummies in their parading. This left all the children at home alone. Unless enough baby-sitters can be found to take care of the babies, (this does not apply to babies in their second childhood) while their Mummies and Daddies are parading, the parade will probably be banned.

It has also been reported that Mr. Dewey telephoned Mr. Gallup on New Year's day to wish him a Happy New Year and tell him that all was forgiven. This was the New Year's greeting to end all New Year greetings, especially after Mr. Dewey has told Gallup to go jump in a poll.

Anyway, New Year's is a time for renewing friendships and forgiving enemies, so if Mr. Dewey can do it, anyone can. Go find your worst enemy and bury the ax. Somewhere between the shoulder blades would be the best place.

Frisbee's Foibles

I Hereby Re-solve

For years, with noble purpose, I would annually resolve To master my shortcomings And my problems wisely solve. With careful meditation, I'd compile a lengthy list Of the improvements I would make—A yearly optimist.

I need not tell what happened—My results are very clear—With few exceptions, I resolved The same list every year.

So, since these selfsame problems With such constancy recur, And since the same solutions Are the necessary cure.

This year, I just renewed my list, Resolved its execution, And with a hyphen labeled it, "My New Year's Re-solution."

New Year Adjustments Add To Confusion Of Campus

by Sally

New Year's resolutions are broken already and the first week after vacation finds snow flurries making us bring out those new mittens and mufflers we received for Christmas.

Bill McCreary tells about sunning himself on a Florida beach at Christmas . . . and the girls' swimming class freezes as the temperature in the pool reads 60 degrees . . . while Jeffers sets off some firecrackers—still celebrating New Years . . . Dot Elder spends the first day back at school resting in the infirmary . . . and Coco McWilliams says the Shmoo is now on campus . . . she brought him back with her.

P. J. Brown searches frantically for things from Scotland . . . while biology students, after a three hour lab, enter the TUB to find "Embryo" on the juke box . . . and Ralph Brown bellows to the St. Francis team, "Bo back to Brooklyn!" . . . later changes it to, "Go back to Altoona!" . . . as Bill Allen washes his car and a little later gets caught in the rain.

Neil Simmons has a bad day Tuesday . . . as soup is spilled on him at lunchtime and a milkshake follows suit at the TUB . . . while Bill Paul has congratulations sung to him . . . and Dot Hassel claims everyone comes to the infirmary to tell their troubles . . . but Jack Shepherd complains he can't concentrate on the psych lesson on concentration . . . and Bruce Wagner's sprained ankle keeps him on crutches . . . as Sue Nolph fails to recognize friends . . . she broke her glasses.

Junce Raymond, a little sleepy on Wednesday morning, walks into Science hall 15 for his English lit class . . . it happened to be in room 214 Old Main . . . and Elly Whitehill takes the coffee away from one Fergie breakfast before she has time to drink it . . . while new pledges learn their duties, fetching hats at the game Wednesday . . . as Esther Murray and Jane Mawhinney attempt to look sophisticated in the latest smoking fad, cigars . . . but turn a little pale.

Rehearsals for "I Remember Mama" keep speech majors busy, as the rest of us start thinking about exams.

Titan Tattletale

. . . AND HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Buster McKinley was delighted to find a dead mouse under her bed. It seemed to solve a gift problem for her. Taking an empty perfume box, she gently placed the mouse in it, accompanied the mouse with a dead rose, and gave box, mouse, and rose, to Nancy Stewart as a belated Christmas gift.

MUSICAL MADNESS

Patrons of the TUB are hereby warned for safety's sake to pick up their ears and hastily depart whenever they sight Joel Mellinger pouring coins into the juke box in preparation for playing "Powder Your Face With Sunshine." She is apt to let out shrieks of delight whenever Evelyn Knight begins her throaty warbling.

POETIC JUSTICE

While Chuck Jackson nonchalantly flipped a fifty cent piece, Dave Vogan stood by, ready to grab it and make his getaway. In the chase which followed, Chuck stumbled through a mud puddle and fell, tearing his trousers. Dave became so convulsed with laughter that he also fell—also smack into a mud puddle.

DORMITORY REACH?

Hearing sounds of undue hilarity from the Morris-Mullin room at Ferguson, Mrs. Downs started to investigate. Meanwhile, the girls, who were reading a humorous letter Peggy had received, decided they should close the door, since it was after noisy hours. "Tex" reached out to shut the door, without looking and then let out a shriek.

She had pushed against, not the door, but Mrs. Downs' face.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Shaf

It has become more and more evident that something should be done toward improving basketball at Westminster. Two recent games, Louisville and St. Francis, have brought out the fact that even though you play the race horse type of basketball, you can and should have a system of play.

Where does the fault lie? Is it the coach's system, is it too much individual play? Is there dissension in the ranks, or has publicity gone to their heads? You answer it; we are just presenting possibilities. It could be a combination of them all. At Farrell, the Cardinals from the University of Louisville made the Titan followers sit back and take notice. Although they also used a fast break system, they were organized. They had an offensive system. The fact that they scored 15 points in the final three minutes of play starts you thinking.

Westminster's guards were slow in getting the ball up to the front court. Time after time the forwards, who had rushed down the floor on a fast break returned to mid-court to lend aid. Dribbling the ball is all right but you can pass a ball up court faster than you can dribble the same length.

The TOWERING Titans have been letting the "little guy" get quite a few rebounds. Height should be utilized as much as possible in basketball today or you're lost.

Against St. Francis, the Blue and White cagers were stymied by the tight zone defense that was used. Although they have played against a zone defense many times in the past, the Titans still become confused. Zone defenses are not impregnable, if you have a system. Late in the St. Francis contest, almost too late, the Tall Boys started passing the ball around and found that they could crack the tight defense.

Local fans were heard to remark after the Louisville game, "They weren't that many points better than Westminster." Maybe they weren't, but the fact remains that they did beat us and decisively.

Titan Mermen and Supporting Cast

Home Record Still Unblemished But Titans Lose At Farrell

Coming from behind in the final minutes of play Westminster's basketball team ran their home game winning streak to 53 games as they edged a valiant St. Francis quintet, 57-56, Wednesday evening. It was the sixth win for the Towering Titans against one defeat.

In games played during the previous three weeks the Titans downed the Geneva Covies, 73-56, and the Sterling Warriors 56-40, on the Westminster court. On Friday evening, December 17, the tall boys defeated Carnegie Tech's Tartans, 62-41, on the Skibo floor in Pittsburgh.

Louisville Tops Titans

At Farrell last Friday evening the Titans were handed their first defeat of the season by a strong University of Louisville team. Led by two giants, Robinson and Coleman, the visiting Kentuckians proved too much for the Blue and White clad cagers. With three minutes to go there was a difference of only seven points between the two teams, but the Cardinals put on a drive that netted them a 21 point lead at the end of the game.

Bruce Wagner garnered 17 markers in an attempt to keep the Blue and White in the game. Coleman, captain and ace forward for the Louisville five, took the evening's scoring honors with 21 points.

Covies Defeated

On Tuesday, December 14, the Towering Titans defeated the Geneva Covies, 73-56, on the Westminster court. "Mac" McCullough had one of his big nights as he tossed in nine field goals and 11 fouls for a total of twenty nine points. Ed Milich, the visitors veteran forward, was runner-up with twenty one points.

With the first team on the bench the entire game the Blue and White clad cagers downed their visiting sister college, Sterling, Kansas, 56-40, on December 16. Jack Jones and Johnny Abraham with ten and nine points respectively led the scoring for the victors, Muhl, the visitors ace, was high man for the evening with five baskets and one free-throw for a total of eleven points.

On Friday evening, December 17, the Tall Boys traveled to Pittsburgh where they defeated the Carnegie

Tank Season Opens With Titan Win

Burrymen Meet Tutors Tomorrow At Edinboro

Friday, December 17, the Blue and White swim team inaugurated the 1948-49 season by playing host to the tank squad from Allegheny and topping the 'Gators, 37-29.

Tomorrow, the squad will travel to Edinboro State Teachers college hoping to continue their winning ways. The Titans showed good form in beating Allegheny but are prepared for trouble against the Tutors. Coach Burry stated that he expects to take the medley but is not too sure of the outcome of the other events. Fred Cassell and Freshman Paul Fenwick are expected to carry the brunt of the attack for Westminster.

Bob Warren, who is conceded to be one of the better swimmers in the district, spearheads the Red Wave swimmers. Warren may prove to be the deciding factor in the meet.

Westminster-Allegheny meet summary:

Medley relay: won by Westminster—Braun, Cassell, Wallace. Time: 3:21.5.
60-yard free style: Pitcher, Westminster. Time: 3:14.

220-yard free style: Fenwick, Westminster. Time: 2:39.6.

100-yard free style: Sayre, Allegheny; Pitcher, Westminster; Wallace, Westminster. Time: 58.9.

150-yard backstroke: Zuberbuhler, Allegheny; Braun, Westminster; Shenck, Allegheny. Time: 1:53.9.

200-yard breast stroke: Cassell, Westminster; Davis, Allegheny; Braun, Westminster. Time: 2:46.5.

440-yard free style: Gavett, Westminster; Enroth, Westminster; Gizzie, Allegheny. Time: 6:08.8.

400-yard relay: won by Allegheny—Rieley, Schlitt, Smith, Sayre. Time: 4:05.5.

Box scores for every game will be run in this and future Holcads to serve as a more or less permanent record. More sports on page four.

Hoopsters Resolve To 'Win Them All' During New Year

Slippery Rock, Geneva Are Titan Opponents; Wagner Out Of Action

Having started the new year right by successfully defeating their home hardwood record with a 57-56 victory over St. Francis last Wednesday evening, Westminster's Titans will travel to Slippery Rock tonight for their first game of the season with the Tutors. A new year's resolution of the Washabaugh team is "win all the rest."

Not too much is known of the Rockets except that they have a small fast squad. Their record is two wins and no defeats. Holdovers who are the backbone of Coach Storer's ball club are Harper, Phillips, Fox, Semango, Perry, Dobric, Davic, P. Johnson, and H. Johnson. One newcomer, to the Green-cad quintet, is former New Castle high star, Don Black. Many local cage fans have seen him in action and know what they can expect from him.

In last year's tilts between the two teams, the wins and losses were one each. The Titans beat the Tutors at New Wilmington but lost to the Storemen at Slippery Rock.

Geneva Tuesday

The Titans will stay on the road for one more game before returning to the campus hardwoods, as they meet Geneva college on the latter's home floor next Tuesday evening.

Covie coach "Slim" Ransom will probably start Milich and Vlasic at the forward posts, Harr in the pivot slot, and Cable and Edwards at the guard positions. Milich is among the first 25 high-scorers in the tri-state district and is the Covies' wizard on offense. He racked up 21 points while the Covenanters were losing to Westminster, 73-55, in their first meeting earlier this season.

The Titans are sorely hurting for the services of their star forward, Bruce Wagner, who injured his ankle in the Louisville game during the Christmas holidays. Jack Jones is doing a capable job of filling Wagner's position as was shown by his brilliant floor work during the St. Francis game. Johnny Abraham has also added a fresh breath of life to the squad with his deadeye shooting from all angles.

Rematch Scheduled With St. Francis Five

Announcement has been made that a rematch with St. Francis has been scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the Duquesne Gardens in Pittsburgh.

Final arrangements were completed yesterday with the officials of both squads. The Westminster-St. Francis contest will be played as the first game of a twin-bill which has Duquesne university meeting "Sim" Ransom's Geneva basketball team in the evening's feature attraction.

The Titan contest should be very interesting because of the closeness of the game here Wednesday night.

After the rush . . . . .

Coeds, Men Become Pledges

Sixty-seven freshman coeds have joined the ranks of sorority pledges, while 129 men went fraternity. Kappa Delta and Sigma Kappa took 14 pledges each, followed by Beta Sigma Omicron, 12; Theta U., 11; Chi Omega, nine, and Alpha Gams, seven. Forty-nine men chose Alpha Sigma Phi, while the Sig Eps took 43, and Sigma Nu pledged 37.

sey, John Potter, John Shepherd, Jack Skuba, Neil Simmons, Rankin Smith, Gerald Sybert, Howard Thomas, Wilbur Thomas, George Toohy, Jay Valentine, Robert Ward.

Floor Record Intact

Tech Tartans, 62-41. Regaining some of his old time form Chet Dembinski scored 17 points to take scoring honors. Rangy Mike Theodore led the Skibos with 12 markers.

In keeping their home record of 53 consecutive victories intact, the Tall Boys eked out a 57-56 win over the St. Francis quintet from Loretta, Pa., on the local court Wednesday evening.

Trailing throughout most of the contest, the Titans were unable to go ahead of the Red-clad passers until late in the third quarter. It was at this time that the two stand-outs, both freshmen, Ed Halas and Johnny Abraham, came into the fray with the spirit that sparked the team. Halas proved to be a demon on the backboards both on offense and defense while Abraham started hitting the hoops with amazing accuracy.

With a little more than a minute of playing time remaining in the game, Jerry Hyder hit the hoops with a long two-handed set shot that gave Washabaugh's charges their margin of victory.

Bill Wanish, St. Francis sophomore and former all-state star from Allentown, proved to be a thorn in the Titan's side all evening. His 21 points was tops for both teams. Wanish not only took the scoring honors but several times faked some of the Westminster stars completely out of the play.

Freezing tactics were employed by the Blue and White during the last minute and 20 seconds of play.

Eminent Authority To Name Beauty Finalists For Argo

From 75 to 15 to four—these might sound like the parts of a mathematical formula, but they're really the key numbers involved in the 1950 Argo eliminations.

Chosen from 75 pictures, submitted from campus organizations, the beauties were judged by John Lawson, Amarillo, Texas; Charles Grieder, New Castle; and William Comstock, New Castle, after a more than four hour session.

From these 15 finalists, four campus representatives will be selected by a recognized authority. Originally, Billy Rose was to have judged the candidates but because of a late photo schedule, Mr. Rose could not get the pictures before he left the country.

The four Argo beauties may represent any or all classes. Pictures of the 11 runners-up will also be displayed bordering the pictures of the four winners.

Final Artist Show Spots Troubadours

Program To Include Folk Songs, Opera

A band of "singing minstrels" who call themselves The Troubadours will perform in the college chapel February 8 at 8:30 p.m. in the last of the artist course series. Students will be admitted by activities tickets; admission price for others will be $1.

The group's repertoire ranges from Monteverdi madrigals to contemporary musical comedy. They sing numbers from grand and light opera to folk songs.

John De Merchant directs The Troubadours. Other members are Mary Edwards, soprano; Sandra Warfield, contralto; Ernest Lawrence, tenor; and John De Merchant, director of the cast will sing the baritone roles. Piano accompaniment will be played by Merrill Brockway.

The evenings program is divided into four sections. The first of these are "Lime Twigs and Treach'ry." Included in this is "Love Song Waltzes" from Opus 52 by Brahms, the Troubadours.

The second division, "The Velvet Curtain" includes "Elsa's Dream" from the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner, Mary Edwards. "Che Gelida Manina," Puccini's "La Boheme." The role of Rudolph will be sung by Ernest Lawrence. Duet from Verdi's "La Traviata," act II, Mary Edwards, Violetta and John De Merchant, Germont. Scene and duet from Verdi's "Il Trovatore," Sandra Warfield, Azucena and Ernest Lawrence, Manrico. Quartet from "Rigoletto" by Verdi, Mary Edwards, Gilda; Sandra Warfield, Maddalena; Ernest Lawrence, Duke of Mantua; and John De Merchant, Rigoletto.

Following an intermission the third division, "Come a Ti Ki Yippe to Hallelujah," will consist of an American saga on folk themes by De Merchant, "He's Gone Away," "Cowboy Fantasy," "Wake Up Jacob," the Troubadours. "Motherless Chile," arranged by De Merchant, Sandra Warfield. "Daniel In The Lion's Den," MacGimsey, John De Merchant.

The last section of the program is "Tunes From Broadway Square," Romberg's "Will You Remember," taken from "Maytime," Mary Edwards and Ernest Lawrence. "Anything You Can Do," from "Annie Get Your Gun," Berlin, Sandra Warfield and John De Merchant. Selections from "Oklahoma," Rogers, the Troubadours.

Scroll Members Elect Bill Davis President

William Davis, English major from New Castle, will preside over Scroll club in the coming year as a result of an election held last night. He succeeds John Pollock.

Other officers elected to head the honorary English fraternity are Glenn Hartman, vice president; Joan Henry, secretary; and Francis Thom, treasurer.

Squad Will Launch First Eastern Tour

Five members of the men's debate team will go on an eastern tour February 2-5. They will debate against Penn State, Dickinson, Temple, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, and Princeton.

Kerensky and Stonage will debate affirmatively on the intercollegiate question, Federal aid to education, Patton and Reed, negatively, while Dorworth will serve as alternate.

February 9, a tri-meet will be held at Mt. Union with Mt. Union, Heidelberg, and Westminster competing. This will be a direct clash contest. Direct clash is short, rapid fire exchange by a five man team. According to Melvin Moorehouse, debate coach, it will be the first time Westminster has engaged in this type of debate intercollegiate.

Westminster lost a decision debate to the Pitt squad here Monday. The battle was judged by the men's and women's debate coaches from Allegheny college, Professor Glen Timmons and Miss O. K. Ditty.

It's Up To You . . .

Voluntary chapels will be held during final examinations from January 19-28 at 1:30 p.m.

Members of the faculty and students will take part in the programs. No chapel services will take place Sunday, January 30.

Scrawl Editor Wants Staff Applications

Staff positions are open for the spring issue of Scrawl, according to an announcement by Peggy Morris, editor of the recent winter edition.

These openings include associate editor, editorial assistant, business manager, publicity director. There are several vacancies on the literary and business staffs. Applications for these positions must be in the English office before February 1, and should include the name, class, and major of the applicant. Experience and qualifications should be noted.

The new staff will be elected during the first week of the new semester.

Student Quintet Will Sing On WRW

WRW will feature a student quintet on its weekly program at 1:15 p.m., Friday, January 21, over radio station WPIC, Sharon.

Members of the group are Florrie Lee Johnson, Audrey Duerr, Percy Hall, Bill Dumbaugh, and Larry Wood. Florrie Lee, Bill, and Larry will be soloists, while Audrey also made the musical arrangements.

Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, associate professor in the music department, will present a program of piano music on the January 28 program.

Members of WRW's technical department are perfecting a filter microphone to be used to create special effects, such as telephone conversations and the little voice of conscience, on WRW broadcasts.

WRW has completed its special line to the TUB. Although the line is still in the experimental stage, broadcasts will be presented.

The Statesmen, a student quartet including Jim Fudge, Joe Thompson, Frank Darby, and Robert Lane, highlighted the WRW production today.

It's not easy, or . . .

Play Production Days Are Hectic Days

By Peggy Morris

"The Play's the thing"—even during finals, for the cast and technicians of "I Remember Mama," the Little Theater's newest production.

Producing a play is a complicated process at any time. Hours of planning, days of hunting props, and weeks of rehearsal are necessary before the curtain rises on opening night.

It all begins in a very quiet manner in some hectic corner of the speech office, when the director, Speech Department Head Donald L. Barbe, selects a play, in this case "I Remember Mama," as the Little Theatre's next major production. There are usually four such productions a year. One is given by Masquers, dramatic honorary, which last year inaugurated a policy of experimenting with new plays.

Once a play has been selected, a notice is posted announcing tryouts. The speech department favors having open tryouts which make non-speech majors eligible for a part in the play. There may be only three tryout times or there may be six. It all depends on how difficult casting the play is.

With the cast finally chosen, the four to six weeks of rehearsals begin. For approximately three hours, five nights a week, the cast rehearse lines, actions, and strain the director's sense of humor as the play begins to take form. These are the weeks when the front door buzzers at the women's dorms are pushed long after "zero hour" by returning cast members.

Finals will alter the rehearsal schedule only slightly. "They need

Dunlap, Hartung Will Head Council

Students To Choose Class Representatives

Raymond Dunlap and Stan Hartung were elected president and vice president respectively at the Student Council meeting, Tuesday, January 11. The election was held to fill the positions vacated by Paul Kolterjohn and Skip Davis who will be graduated this month. The new officers will take over their duties at the next meeting.

Class elections will be held Monday, February 7, in the chapel. The elections will be run by the Student Council representatives of the respective classes. The rules for conducting the elections and procedure for running for office are as follows:

1. A person who wishes to run for a class office must have a petition signed by 20 percent of his class.
2. These petitions must be turned in to the office by February 7.
3. There is no limit to the number of people who may run for an office.
4. The office for which a person is running must be designated on each petition.

Director Releases Production Staff

Members of the production crew for "I Remember Mama" have been released by technical director David E. MacArthur.

The student staff include John Regule, Robert Orser, William Kegel, lights; Betsy McComb, Doris Bush, Joan Noble, Alice Mitsos, properties; Paul Talley, Sue Nolph, Ellen Kaye, Helen Weeks, Jean Lewis, Barbara Downie, Isabelle Cooper, stage crew; Phyllis Williams, Joel Mellinger, William Sample, make up; Elizabeth Withrow, sound; and Mary Mauro, head usher.

The play, to be presented February 7-12, is under the direction of Donald L. Barbe. Miss Helen V. Cushman is costumiere, and Bruce Catt is assistant director.

Interfrat Awards Keys To McKnight, Seniors

Dr. W. J. H. McKnight was presented with an Interfrat key recently by Interfraternity Council in recognition of his services as advisor for the past three years. The key was presented by Jack Williams, president of Interfraternity Council.

Charles Bartoe and William Heatley, graduating seniors, also received keys.

Journalism Frat Acts To Add New Members

Ten students have been invited to accept membership into Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary fraternity.

The new group includes Maryellen Cipolla, Louise Hendricks, Norma Jean Hasselman, Lou Cummings, Margaret Scull, Glenn Hartman, Bill Kegel, Art Shaffer, Frank Ruth, and Roger Hawk.

We Need More Books . .

AS the end of the semester approaches, more and more students are making more and more trips to the library to write more and more term papers. No, they don't use more and more references. Too often, they can't find enough references on a subject for one term paper.

While we know that many of our library books were destroyed and magazine files interrupted in the burning of Old Main when the college library was located there, this fact is no comfort when the books we need aren't available.

Figures will further show our library's limitations. We have approximately 38,000 catalogued books for a student body of about 1,200. Compare these statistics with Geneva's 43,000 volumes for 800 students; Allegheny's 114,000 volumes for 1,000 students; or W&J's 68,000 volumes for 1,200 students.

We realize that size isn't everything, but in our case, even size would mean something. Trying to improve the situation, Pi Sigma Pi soon will begin their annual book drive.

Especially interested in strengthening the library because this would be a step toward acquiring a Phi Beta Kappa chapter here, the scholastic honorary is asking individuals and organizations for money or book contributions. Book suggestions can be secured from the librarians.

Between semesters, while we know that studying and working in the library will be the things you won't want to think about, try to remember that you and others after you will be using the library and its facilities. Then think about what you want to do to help Pi Sigma Pi put across their drive.

There Comes A Time . .

ALTHOUGH most of us are worrying about exams, some of our colleagues have taken their comprehensives and are about ready to leave the hallowed confines.

Jim Oravetz, Holcad business manager for two and a half years, and Len Harding, former sports editor and columnist, will be graduated at the end of this month.

Also graduating, but from the Globe Printing Co. rather than Westminster college, is Warren "Bucky" Kerrigan, who has literally put the Holcad together for four and a half years.

For all the time they have spent working to help make the Holcad what it is, we want to thank them and wish them lots of luck.

We've All Had It!

By Maryellen

For as long as I can remember, at least until this fall when I became a senior and my mind went totally blank there have been exams. And as long as I can remember, there have been ways to study and ways not to study. Seniors are usually experts in following the latter policy. It is one which every freshman should develop soon—very soon.

To begin with, just before you start to study, say to yourself ten times, "We all have them." Seniors of course will say, "We've all had it." That's consolation, although it doesn't do any good except waste about five minutes of your study time. That is—if you say them slowly.

Stack all your books within easy reaching distance—the TUB will do. Then sharpen three pencils. One placed behind your ear creates atmosphere in case a faculty member drops in to brief you on the exam. With the second pencil you can write notes—no, dear, not that kind. The extra pencil is for chewing purposes. This one is by far the most indispensable. Now take some blank sheets of paper, and the copy of the final. (Please note, the final was a Christmas gift from the faculty.) Place these on your desk. Select some book at random, making sure it has a splashy cover. Settle yourself in your chair, roll up your sleeves, and go to work. (For those of you without sleeves, omit the last suggestion.)

Are you settled? Fine, now you're really ready. Let's see—Chapter I—not much in that chapter, so take the next one, Chapter XX. Whoops, is that a letter waving from your textbook? Well, what do you know, it's postmarked 1947. You'll have to answer it. There's nothing like answering mail promptly. And while you're in the mood to write letters, why not one to your congressman? Only last night you complained that your ink was running out of the pen. I'll wait for you. I can file my nails. Go ahead, take your time—no hurry. Finished? Good. Now you can continue studying. One of the most important things to do while studying is to have frequent rest periods, say every 15 minutes or so. What ever you do, don't forget to take an occasional drink of water. Why? How should I know. But somebody once said that water was good for you, so drink it.

During your rest periods, which should last at least 30 minutes, try using your muscles, and avoid working mentally. Run up and down the hall. Great fun, and it limbers you up. (At least when you complain the next day about being tired, you'll be justified.)

Go back to your room, raring to go. There's nothing like some relaxation to get you to go back to work. (This is not true in all cases.) Anyway, go back to your desk, and this time put blinders on. Then all you can see is your work.

Wait! Is that dust you smell? You'll have to clean your room. There's nothing like a clean room to study in—all the best books are saying that this year. While you're cleaning, you might as well wash your hair, and wash the clothes in your laundry bag. Survey the room a few times. Make sure you've wasted as much time as possible. Anything to sew? You can do it now. This is your last chance.

By this time it's rest period again. Since you skipped the one before that, take two this time. They're free. If you can't find anything to do that's relaxing, go to bed. Have a nap, a long nap—nothing less than two hours. You'll wake up feeling terrific. Stand up and flex your muscles. (For those of you without muscles, don't bother.) It should be about 11 p.m. now, so you can begin to study again. Set the mood by playing the radio, good and loud. The first floor doesn't have one and they'll appreciate the music.

This time try studying on the bed. Get two soft downy pillows—all right, just get two pillows. Place a jar of jelly on the floor and a few boxes of crackers. Put a pitcher of water near them—the crackers are salty. Stretch out and reach for a book. Any good recent novel will do. Read it from cover to cover, skipping the description and conversation. When you finish the book, you should be sleepy. Shove everything to the floor—it will look as if you've been studying, in case your parents make an unexpected trip to see you. Then, go to sleep.

This method has been approved by college seniors the world over. This method has been approved by college seniors who found it ALL over after using it.

Every Extra Minute Counts As Studying Becomes A Must

by Sally

Getting in those late assignments and using up those extra minutes before the actual cramming begins, Westminster students look forward to that week of vacation before second semester.

Betty Lou Stahlman and Lou Kneppshield receive paddings for short sheeting beds . . . the culprit is Audrey Bryan . . . and three coeds, a little bored with the weather, break the ice to take a mid-winter dip in Garrett's lake . . . while Helen Sloss takes over for Jan Keller . . . quarantined in the Infirmary with chicken pox . . . as Renny Jackson exhibits striped canvas mittens . . . and Mrs. Frey talks about earthworms "out for a stroll."

Claire Philipbar, not content with her drab grey tank suit, embroiders a white shmoo on it . . . puts red trimming around the neck, and a yellow bow in the back . . . while Jean Lewis walks into a paint bucket . . . and Art Schreiber's play line is twisted into "clean your teeth and brush your oranges" . . . as Fergie appoints an entertainment committee for Elaine Pigossi, on house limits for failing room inspection . . . still Fred Timberlake finds "It Ain't Necessarily So."

Swede Tornell is sent in search of an empty room containing a plug, so the political science class can hear a wire recording . . . and returns with the plug . . . as Professor Dietz's art classes breakfast in the TUB, an atmosphere more conducive to study . . . and Duff Brown's reply to a criticism of his table manners is "If you don't eat you'll be eaten".

Professor Bohnhorst raises his hand to conduct a Rochmanioff arrangement . . . and the choir bursts out with "Happy Birthday" to Jim Fudge . . . as Mrs. Douthett's music box warns couples it's one minute 'til twelve . . . while Professor Cameron's criticism of Carol Merolla's bass fiddle note, "You're sharp!" prompts Carol to reply, "Thank you." . . . yet Mina Belle Packer, Marge Jones, Pat Rheinheimer, and Dodie Renshaw eat ice cream from an almost empty container . . . until someone catches them in the act.

Holcad reporters create a new cult as the journalists worry about the new point system.

Titan Tattletale

ESPECIALLY FOR FINALS

In front of Sewall's window, Peg Hill and Moogie Henderson were window shopping. Peg stared curiously at a sign and exclaimed, "Oh Moogie, this is just what you need—a new Bendix 1949 Electric Brain, easily installed any place without bolts."

JEAN'S BAR-B-Q TO CLOSE

At Browne hall where they enter a room in search of an assignment and end up staying for dinner, Jean Moore and Wanda Summerville are attempting to establish a new custom. It's called "Bringing Your Own Food."

AND SO ROMANTIC, TOO!

After Marge Hastings had herself carried from psych class to Fergie—she'd sprained an ankle—other women began considering this interesting mode of transportation.

WELL, I'LL CLUE YOU

"But, what kind of questions will you ask?" inquired a worried fine arts student of art instructor George Faddis.

"Well, I MIGHT show you a picture of a building and ask, 'Is this a pigpen, chicken coop, or the Parthenon?' And then again—"

COME AGAIN?

If Jane Bruggeman looks a little bewildered lately, it's because her roommate, Bonnie Richey, saw a play over the holidays.

The play was Sartre's "The Victors", and Jane has since received nightly lectures on existentialism in the theatre.

And the walls came tumbling down . . .

Since the last issue of the Holcad, we have received quite a bit of comment and criticism on this column. The original column was three paragraphs longer than that which was printed. Since we have told several people that we would print those paragraphs, they will be summarized.

One paragraph stated the reasons for the article. The opinions that have been voiced by the followers of the Titan squad influenced our actions the most. We decided to put in print what everyone was saying.

For years, the Holcad has been talking up the good points of the team, never the bad. No team is good enough that they cannot be targets for some criticism. Why look and report things as we would like to have them? Why not view things as they are?

We also stated that in previous years, Westminster usually placed several members high on the list of the Tri-State scorers. At the time we wrote the article there was not a single Titan among the first 25 district scorers. Since that time things have changed. We now have one in that group.

Mentioned also was the fact that in previous years the Blue and White cagers have played in some of the larger and more famous stadiums here in the East. Madison Square Gardens, Boston, Buffalo, Philadelphia have welcomed Titan teams, in the past. Why do we not receive those invitations now?

We are not criticizing anyone in particular. We think that this problem requires the consideration of all. We do not know where the trouble lies and are not trying to point any out. Winning has become a tradition here and we don't want another record like last year's. If anyone is pulling for the team, we are.

This is not meant as a retraction to any previous article, but merely to express our reasons for their publication. We hope the comments have and will be constructive and not destructive.

And now, if you please, pass me Carnegie's "Winning Friends and Influencing People."

Any letters concerning the above mentioned situation will be readily accepted. All correspondence MUST be signed and addressed to the Holcad sports editor. We will withhold the printing of the writer's name, if desired, but no letter will be returned.

Edinboro Mermen Down Westminster

Tank Meet Tomorrow Away At Grove City

Coach Barry's swimmers suffered their first loss of the season as they were defeated, 38-27, by the Edinboro Tutors in the winner's home pool Saturday, January 8. Four school records and two pool records were set during the course of the meet.

Charley Pitcher won the 60 and 100 yard free style events, and Fred Cassell was victorious in the 200 yard breast stroke race.

Tomorrow the tanksters travel to Grove City where they will meet the Grover mermen. Last year the Titans defeated a Grove City team made up mostly of freshmen twice by the scores of 42-24 and 51-15. The Wolverines are known to be stronger this year since they have defeated W and J.

Outstanding swimmers for the Grovers are Leightner, a backstroker, two sprinters, Benson and Jack, and Etter, who swims the 220 and 440 free style events.

The summary for the Edinboro meet:

300-yard medley relay—Won by Edinboro (Hilldorfer, Abbott, Warren). Time, 3:14.7.

220-yard free style—Won by Bronk (E). Johnson (E), second; Fenwick (W), third. Time—2:35.7.

60-yard free style—Won by Pitcher (W); Warren (E), second; Reichert (W), third. Time—31.2.

100-yard free style—Won by Pitcher (W); Wallace (W), second; Wilson (E), third. Time—58.7.

140-yard back stroke—Won by Hilldorfer (E); Braun (W), second; Montgomery (E), third. Time—1:42.7.

200-yard breast stroke—Won by Cassell (W); Gunnett (W), second; no third place. (Garfield of Edinboro placed second but disqualified.) Time—2:51.8.

440 yard free style—Won by Bronk (E); Johnson (E), second; Gavett (W), third. Time—5:52.2.

400-yard free style—Won by Edinboro (Hilldorfer, Abbott, Latini, Warren). Time—3:52.2.

Blue And White Win One, Drop Two During Past Week

Rockets Are Victims As St. Francis, Geneva Avenge Previous Losses

Westminster's Blue and White clad passers suffered their third defeat of the season, as they were edged, 55-54, by a fast breaking St. Francis quintet at the Duquesne Gardens in Pittsburgh Wednesday night.

The score was close throughout the game with the two teams deadlocked four times during the contest. With three seconds of the game remaining and the score tied 54-54, Mac McCullough fouled George Banchansky, who converted the free throw to win the game for Coach Skippy Hughes' speedsters.

Handing the Tall Boys their second straight defeat was sweet revenge for the Frankies, who last week had lost to the Titans by a one point margin.

High point man for the evening was Chet Dembinski, who garnered seven baskets and four free throws for a total of 18 points. Banchansky, the victors blond center, led his teammates in scoring with eleven points. Bill Wanish, the Frankies number one threat, was able to score only ten points due to the brilliant defensive play of Jerry Hyder.

Covies Upset Titans

The Titan hoopsters became the victim of one of the biggest upsets of the current season, when they were defeated, 62-59, by an under-rated Geneva quintet Monday night.

Led by husky Al Vlasic the inspired Covies got off to a fast start that netted them an eleven point lead at the end of the first quarter. Not

Basketball League Ending First Half

Swinging into the last week of action, teams in the intramural basketball league continued their pace to establish themselves in better positions in the standings of the league. The loop standings for the first half have not been completed.

Three games were played last Friday, two in the C league and one in the B loop. The Bachelors smothered the Married Men, 28-6, and the Sigma Nu C team edged out the Wolves 28-25. In a B game, the Sigma Nus trounced the Alpha Sigs by the score of 37-23. Bob Jackson, with nine tallies, was high scorer for the former, while Akio Aburano scored eight points for the ASP.

SPE Edges Wolves

Saturday morning, the Sig Ep C team edged out a victory over the Wolves by a 14-10 score. In a B game, the Married men took another one on the chin by losing to the Alpha Sig B team, 27-20. E. Reznik topped all scorers with 14 points for the ASP while Jeffries hit the cords for six points for the losers.

Starting out the week on Monday, the Indies took a game from the SPE C team by the count of 28-22. Snow for the victors was way ahead of the scorers with 13 points. The Married Men were again the losers when they met the SPE B team. The SPE wide margin, 30-7, was no match for the opposition and they coasted to an easy victory. Elder and Jackson were the high scorers for the SPE aggregation.

On Tuesday, the Wolves beat the YMCA, 18-11. Jack Hodges was high scorer for the victors with six tallies.

Bisons, Jackets Provide Opposition Prior To Finals

Bethany Here Saturday Titans Travel Monday To Meet Waynesburg

Before taking a break for the final exams, Westminster's Towering Titans will meet the Bethany Bison five tomorrow evening in the college gym and will motor to Waynesburg Monday to meet a powerful Waynesburg college aggregation. After losing their only two outings this week, the Blue and White dribblers will be anxious to get back on the winning side of the ledger.

Westminster's Titans will come home to meet the Bethany Bisons tomorrow night after losing two close outings this week to Geneva and St. Francis of Loretto.

The Bisons sport four regulars on the top twenty-five tri-state high scorers; and have their own personal "Martin Bomber" personified by diminutive Benny Martin, five-foot-five star who has hit the cords for 156 points in nine games this season.

Along with Martin are Harris, forward, with 124 points; Vujnovic, guard, with 104 points; and Mewhrtor, center, who has dumped in 102 points. These totals are for nine games.

Despite their high scorers the Bisons have only won two contests while losing seven. Their losses were by comparatively narrow margins, however.

First With Jackets

Next Monday evening the Titans will travel to Waynesburg for their first meeting with the Yellowjackets this season. The Waynesburg quintet has won five and lost two, thus far, having dropped decisions only to West Virginia and Youngstown.

Coach Frank Gustine will probably start Americo and Karmarkovich at the forward positions. Stough at center, and Staycer and Gjurich at the guard posts. Karmarkovich and Stough were both well up in the running for tri-state scoring honors last year and will probably be the men for the Blue and White to stop again this season.

This will be the final game for the Titans before semester finals. Floor action will resume on February 12 when they travel to Greenville, Pa. to meet the Bobcats from Thiel.

Aburano Named Captain Of 1949 Soccer Squad

Akio Aburano, junior physics major from Ann Arbor, Mich., has been elected captain of Westminster's 1949 soccer team. The voting took place this week among the squad members.

Acky has been a member of the Titan booters for the past two seasons. During the 1948 season, he was a first string half back and one of the outstanding defensive men on the squad. Although small in stature, Acky makes up this deficit in aggressiveness and speed.

this week when the Sigma Nus walloped the Alpha Sig aggregation by the count of 43-24. Chuck Elgin and Bobby Jackson teamed up for the winners to score more than half of their teams points. Elgin sunk 17 while Jackson hit the cords with 14. Dick Ellenberger was top scorer for the ASP with seven tallies.

League leaders and the standings of the three loops were unavailable at the time of publication. The first half champion and the complete standings will be published in the next issue of the Holcad.

to be denied Coach Washabaugh's cagers came back fighting in the second half and managed a one point lead at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth canto was a see-saw affair, but when in the closing minutes of the game Mac McCullough was forced to leave the game via the personal foul route, Slim Ransom's sharpshooters put on a drive that brought them victory.

Playing one of the best games of his career Al Vlasic led the scoring with 23 points. Westminster's Jackie Jones and the Covies' captain, John Milich, were runners up with eighteen markers.

Rockets Dump Tall Boys
Last Saturday night the Tall Boys handed the Slippery Rock Rockets their first setback of the season, as they easily defeated the Butler Countians, 53-39, at Slippery Rock. The Storer coached dribblers gave their towering opponents trouble in the first quarter, but the game was never in doubt during the final three periods.

Captain Chet Dembinski chalked up 10 points to lead his teammates in scoring, but the scoring laurels went to Fox, Rocket guard, who tallied eleven markers.

Play Production

a break from their studies," says the play's director in speaking of the student Gables and Garbos. During the exam period, rehearsals will only be held for an hour daily. The week of registration will find the cast increasing the pace with both afternoon and evening rehearsals.

More than just the people who will face the audience are being kept busy. Miss Helen Cushman and the students who work with her on the costumes are busy hunting clothes popular in the 1910 period. Townspeople to professional costume companies are being contacted. What can't be found will probably be made by the costume committee.

Props are already presenting a problem. For instance—where can an old-fashioned stove be found? Does anyone have a dilapidated car he won't be using from February 7-12? Students hunting props are canvassing the town and the surrounding areas. But the problems don't end there. It must be possible to get the car through the doors of Old Main. The stove must be exactly the right size. A few additional inches over its specified size will make a vast difference in the appearance of the stage.

Probably no other play has been made more difficult to stage, as a result of the stunted size of the Little Theatre. Even the bookholder, who huddles in the cramped wings as prompter, will have to huddle a little more for this play. "I Remember Mama" has 30 different scenes—from a soda fountain to a park. The small stage will be divided into three areas by means of curtains and travelers. Two or three students will be needed as curtain pullers for these scene changes. The stage crew must be so rehearsed that they literally can make scene changes within "split seconds"—in the dark. This quickness is imperative if the play's action is to run smoothly. More "spots," an auxiliary switchboard, and other needed lighting equipment has been secured for the play.

Another big hurdle is facing members of the cast. They must somewhere and somehow acquire a Norwegian dialect. So far, the footlights have done very well—with Italian and Scotch. Now "Papa" has perfected an excellent Spanish accent, but slowly the necessary Norwegian is developing.

Cast members hold many of the traditional superstitions of the theater, but the one which says that having a cat backstage is bad luck, is presenting a problem. One particular feline has an important role in the new production.

Apparently superstition will be sacrificed, but an even greater sacrifice will be made by Janie Coleman. She will temporarily sacrifice her feminine looks and locks when she appears on stage in the role of a little boy.

Ransack Trunks To Aid Theatre

Requests for period costumes for the years 1910-1920 have been announced by Helen V. Cushman, costumiere for the Little Theatre. Clothing needed for the women's costumes are waists, skirts, dresses, mitty blouses, light weight coats, and women's suits. Special articles for the women are high top shoes, Mary Jane slippers for girls, either modern or old style, and a feather boa. Costumes requested for the men are derby hats and boy's biquises.

In addition to the costumes, other articles are desired. These are an automobile veil and duster, a wicker baby carriage, and dishes typical of the age.

Anyone desiring to loan the articles for the play should contact the speech department. Members of the costume committee will collect the articles during the first week in February.

College Debaters Compete Saturday In Major Tourney

Annual Kent Meeting Shows Top Area Teams On Education Topic

Westminster's debate team will compete in its first major tournament of the year at Kent State university tomorrow, Feb. 12. The Kent tournament is held annually with the outstanding teams from Western Pennsylvania and Ohio competing.

The question, Federal Aid to Education, will be debated by two complete teams from Westminster. The first team is made up of John Kerensky and Dick Stonage, affirmative, and Glen Reed and Bob Patton, negative. The second team includes Burke Dorworth and Basil Messina, affirmative, and Don Huston and June Bender, negative. Ellen Ruthertford will accompany the group as an alternative.

February 17 Kerensky and Stonage, affirmative, will meet Duquesne university's negative team. This debate will be held at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre, and the public is invited. At the same time Huston and Bender, negative, will meet the Duquesne affirmative team in room 109 of Old Main.

Wednesday, February 2, a dual meet was held with Slippery Rock. Representing the affirmative were Frank Davidson and William Duff, negative, Frank Jones and John Douglas.

At Hickory High school last Friday morning debaters from Grove City and Westminster presented a cross-examination style debate before the student assembly. John Kerensky and William Duff represented Westminster.

Scull Will Edit Literary Magazine

Margaret Scull, senior English major, was elected editor of Scrawl at the literary magazine's staff meeting Wednesday.

Other new staff officers are Maryellen Cipolla, managing editor; Patricia Hays, associate editor; Paul Talley, art editor; Frances Davenport, publicity director; Kay Campbell, business manager.

According to Scrawl staff the position of editorial assistant is still open and vacancies exist on the literary, art and business staffs. Persons wishing to apply for any of these positions should contact the editor or submit an application to the English office before Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Pi Sigma Pi Receives One Hundred Dollars

One hundred dollars was granted to the Pi Sigma Pi book drive by the Student Council at the last meeting. The money was given after Adele Johnston made an appeal in behalf of the Pi Sigma Pi for the donation.

The Book Fund Drive is being conducted the week of February 21 to 26 to bring the library closer to the standards of Phi Beta Kappa.

Argo Editor Announces Schedule For Pictures

Group photographs for the Argo will be taken on February 14, 15, and 16, according to Roger Hawk, editor.

Schedules for the pictures will be posted soon. Any group not listed should contact the editor.

The pictures will be taken by Merin studios, while the Northern Engraving company, Canton, Ohio, will make the engravings. A. S. Gilman and company of Cleveland will print the book.

SAMUEL H. SLOAN

Sloan Takes Post As Dean of Men

Samuel H. Sloan, associate professor of economics and business administration, began his duties as acting dean of men this week.

Mr. Sloan received the appointment after the resignation of Dr. W. J. H. McKnight, former college pastor and dean of men. Dr. McKnight has accepted the pastorate of a church in Brookline.

Taking on the functions of the dean of men, Mr. Sloan also became head of the disciplinary committee. The office of the college pastor will be left vacant, while daily and Sunday chapels will be planned and directed by the members of the Bible department.

Dr. John Orr, acting president, emphasized that these arrangements are temporary, in view of an expected presidential appointment.

Art Lab Sets Scene For Student Exhibit

Art students' best works of last semester are being featured this week in the art lab.

Included in the display are freshmen charcoal drawings, oil paintings, posters, children's drawings, models of interior decorating and examples of commercial art.

The exhibit is being displayed during mid-term instead of the end of the year.

Dr. Steiner Begins Work In Education

Dr. Melvin A. Steiner has assumed a part time teaching position in the education department, and will teach both graduate and undergraduate courses.

Dr. Steiner has had extensive experience in college and public school teaching. He received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Iss goot play as. . . . .

Mama Leads Family Through Reminiscences

By Peggy Morris

"Ya, iss goot!" Mama says it; the applause of the audience says it after each performance this week of the Little Theatre production, "I Remember Mama." And students find themselves doing just that—remembering Mama.

Barbara Cloud, relaxed and confident, presents a professional stage appearance as well as a professional interpretation of Mama. She has a natural possession of the magnetic warmth which makes Mama the prevailing influence in all family affairs. Portraying the role with unusual sensitivity, Barbara speaks her opening lines with intensity and a rhythmical flawless accent. She maintains both to the final curtain.

Technically, Ruth Vogan, double cast in the difficult role of Mama, is good. Her facial expressions, her gestures, and her movements on stage are smooth and natural. As the play progresses, Ruth's interpretation of the role improves. Her voice strengthens and her Norwegian accent becomes still better as she seems to gain more confidence in herself. But the convincing amount of magnetism and warmth which enable Mama to quietly and lovingly dominate her family, even the semi-belligerent Uncle Chris, is too often lacking.

No member of the cast deserves more credit than David MacArthur who, in one of the production's crises, stepped into the role of Papa, mastering lines, accent, and stage positions only a few days before the opening night of the play. His portrayal of Papa is both sincere and professional.

Shirley McKinney veers from the less dramatic type of role she usually plays to appear as Katrin, the eldest daughter "who will be writer." Maryann Rehm is double cast in the role. Both girls show themselves to be experienced actresses, skilled in the many techniques of acting. "Mickey," in her interpretation of the role, places more obvious em-

Louis Untermeyer Will Speak Tuesday At College Lecture Series Presentation

English Honorary To Arrange Reception; Poet-Critic Will Meet Students Informally

Louis Untermeyer, poet, author, anthologist, critic, and lecturer, will speak in the college chapel at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 15. While he will be entertained by Scroll, honorary English fraternity, Mr. Untermeyer appears as part of the lecture course series. No admission will be charged.

After a reception to be held in Ferguson hall Mr. Untermeyer will meet students informally. Members of Scroll in charge of the reception are James Young, chairman, Pat Marshall, Shirley Webber, Peggy Morris, and Kay Scott.

Mr. Untermeyer was contributing editor to the "Liberator" and the "Seven Arts," and poetry editor of the American Mercury from 1934 to 1937. He was chosen "poet in residence" at the University of Michigan in 1939.

He has been an occasional lecturer at various colleges and universities. In 1937 he was awarded the Honnold Lectureship of Knox college, and in 1938 he delivered the Henry Ward Beecher lectures at Amherst.

Mr. Untermeyer has compiled 10 poetry anthologies, translated Heine, Horace, and Ernst Toller, and written 25 original books of verse and prose, including an autobiography, entitled "From Another World."

Contest Committee Declares Deadline

Registration for this year's senior library contest will close at noon on Saturday, February 26. Seniors planning to enter the contest who have not yet registered must give their names to one of the contest committee members by that time.

Nine seniors have registered for the contest to date. They are Margaret Scull, Hilda Stockhausen, Maryann Rehm, William Allen, John Pollock, Edwin Good, Elizabeth Cummings, Nancy Schmidt, and William Johnson.

Thus far, there have been no registrations in the contest for the best special library.

The committee will hold several exhibits of bargain books and books in inexpensive editions before the judging of student libraries in the latter part of April.

Dr. Mary Purdy, head of the college English department, is chairman of the library contest committee. The other members of the committee are Miss Amy Charles, Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, Miss Mabel Kocher, Dr. Robert Woods, and Harry Manley.

Dr. John Orr Will Lead Monday Chapel Service

Dr. John Orr, acting president of the college, will lead the daily chapel service Monday, Feb. 14. The Rev. Rowland H. White will speak Tuesday. He is pastor of the Neshannock Presbyterian church.

Wednesday, Robert F. Galbreath, Jr., associate professor of secretarial science will have charge of the program.

Theta U will conduct a devotional service Thursday. The program Friday will be presented by students of the conservatory.

Coleman Named Head Of Journalism Group

Dick Coleman, sophomore journalism major from Kane, was elected president of the "30" club at the meeting of the group held on Tuesday.

Other officers elected are Frank Ruth, vice president; Frances Davenport, secretary; and Alex Spisak, treasurer.

Barbe Leads Red Cross To Deshon For Program

The local Red Cross, lead by Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, will sponsor a program of entertainment at Deshon hospital on Feb. 18.

A home nursing course will soon be started by the Red Cross. Those interested in taking the course are urged to contact Pat Hays at Ferguson hall. Veterans' wives are invited to enroll.

Feb. 21 Deadline Set On Holcad Applications

Elections for the new Holcad staff will be held Tuesday, Feb. 22. All persons who wish editorial positions on the staff should submit written applications to the News Bureau (Old Main 304) stating qualifications. All applications must be in by 5 p.m., Monday, Feb. 21.

Prospective reporters may also sign up in the News Bureau.

Council Announces New Class Officers

Results of the election of class officers were announced today by Ray Dunlap, president of Student Council.

The results of the senior elections were as follows: Robert Hinman, president; Howard Walker, vice president; Ken Stewart, secretary; Joe Solomon, treasurer.

The new officers of the junior class are Robert Ranck, president; Bud Christy, vice president; Jack Wilson, secretary; Mat Yenny, treasurer.

New sophomore officers are Champ Barthelson, president; Bill Kegel, vice president; Marie Olson, secretary; Keith McGinnis, treasurer.

Museum Curator, Staff Laud College Museum

M. Graham Netting, assistant director of the Carnegie museum in Pittsburgh and curator of amphibians and reptiles there, headed a trio of staff members from that institution which visited the Westminster college science museum on the third floor of the Science hall recently.

Mr. Graham stated that he was amazed at the collection, and an evaluation of the collection by the trio indicated that it included many priceless articles.

The group examined the collection at the invitation of the newly installed chapter of Beta Beta Beta, national biology fraternity. An entire day was spent by the group in examining the hundreds of articles.

What's The Answer?

SEVERAL questions were left unanswered after this semester's registration, and as usual rumors have begun circulating. Each rumor is supposedly the bona fide answer to the question at hand.

At this point, the Holcad would like to become the answer man.

The registration of cars which was requested by the administration has caused much speculation. Mr. Sloan, acting dean of men, said today that the registration was not meant in any way to curtail the normal driving activities of students. The college recognizes that a car may be a necessity for the student both in business and social activity, but that in case of accident or other mishap, the college would be aided by this listing. The practice has been followed in many other colleges and universities.

Another recurring question has to do with room and board costs. Many students wondered about a supposed rise in prices. According to a check in the business office, the supposed rise in prices was due to the fact that a reservation deposit which the students had paid the previous year was deducted from the first semester's bill. Since no other reservation has been paid, no deduction was made this semester.

More rumors have been flying about the existence or nonexistence of a new president. Until the March meeting of the Board of Trustees, however, no questions can be officially answered.

And after the answers, we have just one more question. Why not try to track down some of these wild rumors? Just ask for the authority behind the statement, and many of the things you hear will evaporate.

Some Get Orchids . . .

ONE of the exchange papers we receive each week includes a sports column in which the writer hands out orchids for good performances and onions for bad.

After the class elections conducted this week by Student Council, we should like to hand out orchids to the junior, sophomore, and freshman classes. In each of them, at least 70 per cent of the class voted.

But perhaps that sports columnist's onions should go to the senior class where only 38 per cent of the class elected their class officers.

Dr. Simpson Pondered, But . . .

Biology Interests Won Out

By Sally McCoy

Only the scar on his finger remains from a wound received while dissecting a fish in a high school biology class, but it serves as a constant reminder to Dr. Myron L. Simpson of the time he decided on biology as a career.

The new head of the biology department at Westminster, who has developed many interests outside his chosen field, planned to study medicine. First aid manager of his high school football team in Cumberland, Maryland, he attended Massanutten Military academy for one year before entering American university in Washington, D. C. He worked as a student assistant at American university, and spent one summer doing undergraduate work at the University of Maryland.

Graduating with an A.B. degree from American university in 1933, he joined the faculty at Massanutten Military academy, still intending to go ahead with his medical studies. While there, he organized and taught biology as head of the department, served as director of dramatics, and advisor to the monthly newspaper and the school annual. Dr. Simpson liked Massanutten so well that he remained there five years, finally resigning to take a basic medical course at the Medical College of Virginia. Finding that his enthusiasm for medicine had abated, he felt that he lacked the interest in medicine necessary to become a doctor.

After a year of graduate study at the University of Cincinnati, he took graduate work in parasitology at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Maryland. He did special research on malaria, padasites, and immunology, and was student assistant in parasitology his last two years there. Receiving a Sc.D. degree from Johns Hopkins in 1944, Dr. Simpson became instructor in biology at Gettysburg college. Advancing to assistant professor of biology in December, 1944, he remained at Gettysburg until June 1948.

Camping is Dr. Simpson's summer pastime, with swimming, hiking, and tennis his favorite sports. His career as counselor and director at summer camps began at Massanutten where a land gift to the academy was developed into Camp Lupton. Dr. Simpson served as director of this camp for seven years, and spent a summer at Camp Kappa Sigma Pi, Clarksburg, W. Va., while attending the University of Cincinnati.

Not only biology is to be found in Dr. Simpson's collection of 2,000 volumes. As a member of five book clubs, he is still adding to the collection in his Cumberland home.

On the Westminster faculty since September, Dr. Simpson is advisor to Beta Beta Beta, the biology honorary. He has been national president of Kappa Sigma Pi since 1936. Dr. Simpson prefers teaching at a small coeducational college rather than a university.

Reds Vs. Clergy Tops World News

Fifteen leading Protestant clergymen arrested in Bulgaria have made a "complete confession" of espionage for the United States and Britain, a Bulgarian Government spokesman said today.

The arrests, charges and subsequent "confessions" followed closely the pattern set in another Soviet satellite country, Hungary, in the case of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

Those arrested in Bulgaria included the heads of the Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Pentecostal churches, known as the United Evangelical churches. Whereas Hungary struck at the majority religion in the Cardinal Mindszenty case, the United churches in Budapest list only 16,000 communicants among the country's 7,000,000 inhabitants.

The indictment charges the clergymen, all members of the supreme council of the United Evangelical churches, with slander against the state and black market currency deals in addition to espionage.

"They are all spies and traitors," said Deputy Foreign Minister Valdimir Topenchayov in Sofia. "They have committed the worst crimes known to Bulgarian law."

Finals Still Show Effects As New Semester Sprouts

by Sally

With repercussions from finals still being felt, the second semester brings a reshuffle of schedules and classes as well as changes in majors. A few new faces are seen on campus along with some former students who have returned.

Things are livened up a bit during exams when Al Nichols serenades Browne hall with his ukulele at three a.m. . . . and Bobbie Estep is congratulated on her dime-store ring . . . as Wayne Steinbaugh passes out chocolate bars after the botany exam. . . . and Miss Stagg serves tea during a French final . . . Marty Wedel goes home for vacation in an ambulance . . . just for the ride.

The semester begins with a bang when Ed Dotten finds a shot gun pointing through his bedroom window at two a.m. . . . claims the noise woke him up . . . and Clyde Shaffer is typically late for his first eight o'clock of the semester . . . chemistry experimenters chase themselves out of the lab when their "wrong combination" envelopes the halls in brown smoke . . . as Roy Slater claims he's right at home cutting up crayfish, says his dad is a butcher . . . while Jean Calhoun passes out chewing gum to the lab . . . and over at the TUB, Ted Rupert stares with bewilderment at his poor bridge hand as partner Bill Nido takes a seven trump bid.

Practical jokers are still at work, as Ivan Cooper's metal bed mysteriously disappears . . . he finds it completely disassembled . . . and Mrs. Mack is awakened by water dripping on her face . . . College hall's second floor is flooded . . . cream paint is noticed in Jack Garvin's hair . . . after he and Larry Wright collide with two buckets of the stuff while painting a hallway . . . as Bill Dumbaugh holds a mouse under Shirley Brandon's nose, making her let out a scream during choir practice . . . while Perc Nicholas gets out his jew's harp in chapel, and Bob Rothery turns on a flashlight in the balcony during Joe Hopkin's "beam of light" talk.

Coach Burry is seen hanging up the wash during his Monday lunch hour . . . while Mr. Mercer hops a milk truck to ride to his eight o'clock . . . and speech majors suddenly become aware of Peggy Morris . . . as Tink Bullock makes faces at Mr. MacArthur from offstage . . . while Aunt Jenny, Maryellen Cipolla, awaits cleaning bills after accidentally tossing a piece of jelly bread into the audience . . . Marge McCullough and Cappy Dunlap begin a slide down the walk from Hillside after the snowfall . . . later the Jeffer's hall fellows slide down on pieces of cardboard.

The teletype news causes a hall jam in Old Main as the UP wire brings us the latest news flashes.

Titan Tattletale

OR WAS IT GREMLINS?

Two trunk-clad figures could be seen wandering around the gymnasium at odd hours this week . . . On Monday it was Emery Ashley, and on Wednesday it was Chuck Jackson. It seems that both their lockermates had locked up and left a bit too early.

SHADES OF CAPTAIN KIDD!

In the faculty lounge yesterday, a group was gathering for the blood testing. As Virginia Stormer entered she took a card to sign and asked, "Do we sign in ink?"

"Don't be silly," came a voice from the group, "You sign in blood."

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY CROUD

Mr. Burry was discussing the economic principle that value is determined by scarcity. "What," he asked, "is the difference between a box of salt and a mink coat."

"Four thousand dollars," answered Duff Brown.

CAN IT BE SHE DOESN'T KNOW?

Westminster's own unofficial Frankie Gustine Fan Club Inc., Delores Brletic, recently received a letter from the great Frankie and, consequently, Fergie's halls were in an uproar as she conveyed the news from room to room.

When the din had subsided, Judy Wilkinson asked innocently, "But, who is he?"

Quotes And Unquotes

by Shaf

Several Westminster students have made names for themselves apart from their activities on campus. Two in particular are endeavoring to gain some recognition and remuneration for their efforts at the present time. We will try to enlighten you further and also solicit your aid.

The two students in question are Art Jones and Bill Dembaugh. Pursuing a music major on campus, these two men decided to find out just how much talent they did possess in their chosen field. So, they entered an amateur hour. They gathered force and ended in the finals. Combining their talents, these two men sing a duet, "Golden Days," from the operetta The Student Prince by Victor Herbert.

The contest is the Wilkins Amateur hour, sponsored by the Wilkins Jewelry store, Pittsburgh. The finals will be aired over station WCAE, Pittsburgh, this coming Sunday evening, Feb. 13, from 7 to 8 p.m.

This is where YOU, as fellow classmates, can do your part. The voting is done by postal cards sent in by the radio audience. Your choice is to be written on the back of a penny post card and sent to: Wilkins Amateur Hour, 615 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Besides his musical talents, Art Jones is also well-known on the athletic field as one of the district's top-notch sprinters and possible Olympic material. The diminutive runner cracked several district cinder marks last year and is expected to do even greater things in the future.

Away-From-Home Courts Pose Problem As Titan's Season Record Proves

Blue And White Drop Bethany Twice, Thiel But Lose To Kent State And Waynesburg

With two-thirds of the basketball season completed the Titans' record stands at 10 wins against five defeats. In games during the past few weeks the Westminster floormen have won three games while losing two.

Bethany's hard-luck Bisons were the guests of the Titans on Saturday evening, January 15, as they invaded the local hardwood only to be turned back, 63-48. Little Edgar Martin was the outstanding player for the Bisons as he put on a spectacular show of foot-work, passing, and shooting to lead his teammates in scoring with 14 markers. Chet Dembinski grabbed scoring honors with 25 points for the Titans.

Waynesburg's Yellow Jackets, always a tough nut to crack on their home floor, handed the Titans their fourth straight loss away from home on January 17. Ziarko and Karmarkovich spearheaded the winners attack with 20 and 18 points respectively. Chet Dembinski once more led the Blue and White offense with 24 markers and Johnny Abraham continued his sharp-shooting ways by shoving 20 markers through the cords.

Two Man Show

Don McCullough and Johnny Abraham staged a two-man duel for scoring honors when the Titans met Thiel on February 1 at Thiel which proved to be too much for the determined Lutherans. McCullough hit the hoops for 24 points that evening only to be bettered by Abraham who dumped in 27 markers. After a month's rest Bruce Wagner, star forward, saw action during this contest which re-bolsters the Titan squad considerably.

The Golden Flashes of Kent State avenged an earlier loss on the local floor as they thumped the Titans, 76-58, last Saturday evening to hand the Titans their fifth loss of the season. Leroy Thompson broke a one-year scoring record for the Kent State floor by scoring 21 points for the winners. Dave Haverstock played a brilliant floor game and added 13 points to the cause. Don McCullough was high scorer for the Titans with 16 points and Bruce Wagner was second with 12 markers.

Edge Bisons

Tuesday evening of this week the Titans traveled to Bethany for their second game of the season with the Bisons and defeated them by a four point margin, 70-66. Bruce Wagner led the scoring for the Blue and White with 17 points. Johnny Abraham was second with 15 and Jack Jones came in third with 13 points. Bethany's Mewhirter was high scorer for the losers with 22 points and Edgar Martin protected his total for the season with 16 markers.

Tankers Win Two In Rapid Fashion

Top Thiel And Grovers To Meet Pitt, Rockets

Westminster's busy swimming team added two more markers to the win column as Thiel and Grove City were defeated on successive days in the local pool.

Previous wins over Grove City and Allegheny and a lone loss to Edinboro account for a season record of four wins in five starts for the Titans.

The Blue and White swept over the Tomcats 51-15 as they notched a first place in each event. The Grovers proved a little more stubborn but finally succumbed 46-20.

Thus far the tank team has produced no outstanding stars but has relied on its all around balance for victory. Pitcher and Wallace in the dashes, Fenwick and Gavett in the distances, Cassell in the breaststroke, Braun in the backstroke and two fine relay teams have accounted for Titan success this year.

Saturday afternoon the locals travel to Pittsburgh to meet the Pitt Panthers who have been undefeated in the last two seasons of dual competition.

The Panthers are two deep in every event and figure to take the Blue and White in stride. Coach Burry's charges may have other ideas.

Next Wednesday the Titans return to their home pool to play host to Slippery Rock. The Rockets have consistently furnished the Titans with stiff competition and this year will be no exception. The District Class "B" Championship may well depend on the outcome of this meet.

Norb Borowicz Injured In Basketball Game

Norb Borowicz, a member of the Blue and White soccer squad and a former member of the Titan basketball team, suffered severe injuries Saturday night while playing for the East Brook Booster cage team in a game at Butler.

A sophomore English major, Norb is well known throughout this district for his basketball prowess. Last year's most valuable player in the local city-county league was fouled while driving under the basket and thrown against the wall. He is now in Deshon hospital, Butler, with a fractured right arm, lacerations about the scalp, and is badly bruised.

Plans are currently being made to play a benefit game in his honor as one of the county's best players and to aid in the payment of the hospital expenses.

ID's Defending Champs In WAA Cage League

The inter-sorority basketball league will get under way Thursday afternoon, Feb. 10 at 4:15, when the Alpha Gams meet the Theta U's in the first game of the season. All of the sorority teams will be trying to regain some of the prestige which they lost last year when the cup was won by the Independent women.

All Wednesday games will be played at 8:30 p.m. while the Thursday games will start promptly at 4:15.

The schedule is as follows:

Thursday, Feb. 10—Alpha Gams vs. Theta U's
Wednesday, Feb. 16—Independents vs. K.D.
Thursday, Feb. 17—Sig Kap vs. Chi O's
Wednesday, Feb. 23—Beta Sigs vs. (winner of the Sig Kap-Chi O game)

WAA Swimming Team In Meet At Edinboro

A six-girl swim team will represent the W.A.A. in a divisional meet to be held at Edinboro State Teachers college, Friday afternoon, Feb. 18. Other teams competing in the meet will be from Allegheny, Grove City, and Edinboro.

Swimming for the Westminster mermaids will be Sally Snyder, Jimmy Macbeth, Mary Lou Black, Carolyn Stephenson, Happy Eisenbeis, and Gloria Jenzer. This is a tentative lineup and members may be substituted before the meet.

Harold Burry Elected Officer Of Swim Group

Harold Burry, Westminster's jack-of-all-sports, is finally coming into the limelight in the district swimming circles having recently been elected vice president of the Penn-Ohio Swimming association.

Mr. Burry has turned out better than average teams during the past two years and is continuing to do so. Last year, the Burry coached mermen compiled a record of 12 wins as against a single defeat, and ended the season by garnering the Penn-Ohio Relays championships.

Courtmen to Meet Carlson Panthers On Stadium Floor

W. & J. To Meet Titans In Crucial Game Here Next Wednesday Night

Tomorrow the Towering Titans and their followers will make the annual pilgrimage to Pittsburgh where the Tall Boys will meet the strong University of Pittsburgh team on the Pitt Stadium Pavilion court. Game time is 8:15 p.m.

In previous games Coach Washbaugh's cagers have defeated the Jungle Cats 10 times while the latter have come out on top on seven occasions. The "ice cream eaters" have just returned from a disastrous western trip that netted them seven straight defeats. However, the Panthers are a better team than their record indicates, because they have played some of the nation's better teams.

David, Canterna Outstanding

Outstanding players of the Pitt team are senior co-captains, Sammy David and Oland (Dodo) Canterna, who play the forward positions. David, who has scored 265 points in 18 games, is one of the five leading scorers in the tri-state district. Canterna has been one of this section's outstanding players during his four years at Pitt. Mike Belich and Louis (Bimbo) Ceconi, the football star, will probably line up at the guard positions, while the veteran Mort Lerner or George Hrominak will start at center.

Saturday night's contest will feature Coach Grover Washbaugh's wide open fast breaking style of basketball versus the possession type system taught by William C. (Doc) Carlson, the Pitt mentor.

Prexies To Be Tough

Next Wednesday night the consecutive home game winning streak will be severely tested when the Blue and White play host to a highly rated Washington and Jefferson court team. The Prexies have lost only two games this season, and are one of the top teams in this district.

Adam Sanders, the W & J coach, employs the unique two platoon system. Since the Presidents boast no five exceptional players, the two team system has been put into use. For the sake of team play Coach Sanders does not substitute one player, but a whole team.

Those playing on team "A" are Dave Knoche, Chuck Davis, Jack Eaton, Tom Oso, and Roy Hartman. Platoon "B" shows Andy Mestrovich, Earl McKinney, Andy Turney, George Singer, and Bill Parkinson. Replacements are Phil Pearson, Jim McGregor, and Jay Zeffiro. Tallest man on the team is Jack Eaton, who stands six foot six. Other tallsters are Knoche (6-3), Turney (6-4), and Pearson (6-4).

SOCIETY SPINNING WHEEL

Quadrangle Elects Lorenz President; Coeds Display New Rings, Frat Pins

By Dodie

Good intentions and sincere resolutions to "crack the books" during the new semester are tossed aside this weekend to be replaced by Senate's midnight movie tonight and the final performances of "I Remember Mama." Westminster boosters will visit Pitt tomorrow night to help cheer the Titans on to victory.

QUADRANGLE has chosen the following new officers: Gloria Lorenz, president; Jeanne Lewis, vice president; Thelma Bennett, secretary; Grace Temple, treasurer; Pat Hayes, Student Council representative. . . . Nancy Schwartz has announced her engagement to Stirling Norris, ex '48, Sigma Nu. . . . Stirling will graduate from Pitt this year.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON held initiation ceremonies for Margie Jenkins and pledge ceremony for Barbara Williams on Thursday afternoon. . . . Evie Hill has accepted social privileges. . . . Pat Marshall has announced her engagement to Willard Acheson, '48, who is now taking graduate courses at Penn. State. . . . Judy Wilkinson, absent for a semester, is back on campus. . . . Lou Cummings was one of three girls from district colleges honored as "Women Leaders of Tomorrow" at a dinner and program given by the Quota Club of Sharon. . . . she was selected to represent Westminster by a faculty committee on the basis of scholastic achievement and religious and social activities. . . . Nancy McCaw visited Clarion State Teacher's college last week. . . . on campus recently were Marge Cruikshank, '48, and Jean Pollock, '47. . . . Dorothy Stein, '43, has announced her engagement to Donald Pierson. . . . they will be married in Maplewood N.J. on June 18.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA pledge officers recently elected are: "Cappy" Dunlap, president; Mitzi Patterson, vice president; Mary Schell, secretary; Dotti Bauder, treasurer. . . . Pat Branagan was pledged on January 22. . . . Alpha Gam pledge dinner was held at the Manse recently. . . . at this time the sorority presented a gift to Jean Basher, retiring president. . . . "Deets" Russell, '48, was a recent campus visitor. . . . a son, James Thomas, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Roseberry (Connie Dunlap, ex '49) on January 7.

Joe Bricker, CHI OMEGA, has accepted the Alpha Sig pin of Harry Nelson, ex '50, now a student at Penn State. . . . Margie Grant and Margie Foster have returned to campus this semester. . . . ## Speakers To Vie For Tournery Places

Qualifying rounds for the state speaking contests will be held in the Little Theatre, Tuesday, March 1. The winners will represent Westminster in the state extemporaneous and oratorical speaking tournament to be held in Meadville, March 10, 11, and 12.

Men and women will be judged separately in each event. In the extemporaneous section each contestant will draw three topics and select one of the three to speak on. The extemporaneous speaker will have one hour to prepare his speech. All topics will be based on material selected from the December, January, and February issues of Time magazine.

The oratorical speakers will prepare their orations in manuscript form, and the manuscripts will be in the possession of the judges while the contestants are speaking. Material must be original, and contain approximately 1500 words.

Prospective contestants should contact Melvin P. Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech.

Mama Leads Family

tion of the lovable, but frightening "black Norwegian." Uncle Chris appeals to the audience with his contrasting screams at the Aunts and sympathy for little Arne. Art succeeds in making the audience wonder what type of man really lies beneath the shaggy black brows and mustache. His deathbed scene is very skillfully and convincingly done.

Switching her affection from a cat to a dog to rabbits, Dottie Elder in the role of Dagmar, "the littlest sister" and family animal-lover, gives a consistently good performance. Her small size and babyish voice, so effective for pronouncing Dagmar's startling observations, make her a "natural" for the role. Dottie, followed closely by Maryann Rehm, does the most realistic crying in the play.

Providing much of the play's humor and a contrast to Mama's gentleness are the three aunts. Maryellen Cipolla as bossy Aunt Jenny persists in shattering the stillness of Mama's kitchen with her stomping-in-and-out trips for the sake of complaining in general. Norma Williams, Aunt Sigrid, vibrates so successfully that the audience fidgets with her. One of the most outstanding acting jobs of the entire play is done by Margaret Bullock in the role of Aunt Trina. "Tink," as the shy, innocent, youngest Aunt who "wants to get married," is pleasingly natural, convincingly pathetic and abused by the other aunts.

No cast member improved more rapidly nor continues to do so more steadily than Bill Stedman as Mr. Thorkelson. He proves the theatrical belief that a minor part can sometimes steal the show. Making more successful use of facial expressions than some actors do of lines, Bill's very appearance on stage as the timid, Swedish mortician-suit of Aunt Trina evokes laughter from the audience.

One of the non-speech major surprises is Marge Powell who plays Christine, the "stubborn vun" among the Hanson children. With her opening lines she portrays Christine as the family "brat." Her sarcasm and contempt for Katrin's "dramatics" become more evident as the play progresses.

Bruce Catt, an experienced performer in Little Theatre work, skillfully handles the more minor role of Mr. Hyde, Mama's literary, but financially embarrassed English boarder. Freshman Richard Taylor, as the son Nels, gives a consistent performance, although his interpretation understandably lacks some of the experienced touches of the cast's Little Theatre veterans.

Successful to the point that strangers in the audience have argued her sex, Janie Coleman, a senior coed cast in the role of Aunt Sigrid's nine-year-old son Arne, proves a wise choice for that particular role.

"Boots" Bartlett as Jessie, Uncle Chris's wife, Bob Tanguay, Louise Hendricks, Emmy Lou Schultheis, Dolores Niemann, John Thomas, Estelle Pines, Phyl Williams, Jean Burt, and Bill Kerr complete the large cast of 26—with one exception. Har-kimer Barbe, the feline "Uncle" Elizabeth, displays an uncanny awareness of the importance of proper timing as his tail swings pendulum-fashion in the post-chloroform scene.

Certainly there are scenes in the play that will be remembered. Notable among these are Dagmar's homecoming and the happily unsuccessful attempt at chloroforming battle weary "Uncle" Elizabeth; the rather touching moment when Katrin, grownup in the eyes of Mama and Papa, is offered her first cup of coffee; the debate among the three aunts about visiting the dying Uncle Chris and Uncle Chris's death scene itself; and the tender moment in the park when Mr. Thorkelson tells his wife, Aunt Trina, that he "wants her to have a waitress."

No small factor in making many of these scenes so outstanding is the lighting effects. Lighting in the scenes where entrances and exits are made on the steps from outside and where Katrin moves between the stage proper and her study is excellent. The costumes and scenery are also most effective. On this small pocket-size stage, approximately ten stage crew members smoothly handle 30 odd scene changes; Broadway used two revolving stages for the same production.

"I Remember Mama" will certainly be remembered. It is nightly adding a big fat star after the name Little Theatre in the minds of Westminster students.

Forry Announces Tryout Readings For Poetry Contest

Entrants To Interpret Standard Selections Of America, England

Preliminary readings for the 11th Annual Poetry Reading festival will take place Friday, March 4, at 4:30 p.m., in Old Main, according to John Forry, instructor of English, who heads the festival committee.

Participants in the affair are to present a selection of a standard American or English poet. Each entrant will be allowed five to seven minutes for his program, which may consist of a single poem, a selection from a long poem, a group of short poems by one author or a group of short poems on a single theme. This theme may center around death, spring, war, snow, seasons, etc.

The material to be presented must be read and not memorized. Introductory and transitional remarks are to be included within the time limit.

Judging for the finalists will be based on the quality of the poetry, effective interpretation and communication of the ideas and emotions of the poetry, and unity and coherence of the program.

Awards for the winners are two book prizes and an honorable mention. Finals for the festival will be held Monday, March 7, in Ferguson hall lounge at 8:15 p.m. Participants in the final event will be selected from those taking part in the preliminaries.

All students wishing to participate in the festival should contact the English department. Programs are to be submitted to a committee member for approval not later than 12 p.m., Wednesday, March 2.

Faculty members of the English department comprise the committee which include John Forry, chairman, Mrs. Ann Jones, Miss Maxine Gilliland, and George Bleasby.

First place winner of last year's 35 contestants was Adele Johnson. Ruth Vogan was awarded second place and Jan Johnston third. Ethel-yne Myers received honorable mention.

Eight New Swimmers Join Mermaid Pageant

At the Mermaid water pageant, March 22-26, eight new swimmers will be seen, according to president, Jean Bricker.

The eight are Lou Cobner, Marilyn Calvin, Martha Dewar, Shirley Armstrong, Roberta Twaddle, Isabella Cooper, Pat McClure, and Dodie Renshaw. The group is supervised by Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, physical education instructor.

Fudge To Present Baritone Recital

Holub Will Assist With Piano Numbers

James Fudge, music major, will present his junior recital Wednesday, February 23, at 8:15 p.m., in the college chapel. Assisting him will be Carolyn Holub, junior music major, pianist.

James, a baritone, will include the following selections in his portion of the program: "Lungi Dal Caro Bene," Giuseppe Sarti; "Deh Vieni Alla Finestra," and "Finch' Han Dal Vito" taken from "Don Giovanni," Mozart; "Wie Bist Du, Meine Königin," "Owusst' Ich Doch Den Weg zuruck," and "Minnelied," Brahms; "Eros," Grieg; "Thunderin' Wonderin'," MacGimsey; "Sea Fever," Ireland; and "When Mother Wields The Shingle," arranged by Victor Young.

Carolyn's section of the program is comprised of three piano preludes, "Opus 23, Numbers 3, 6, and 10, Rachmaninoff; La Soiree Dans Grenade" and "L'ishe Joyeuse," Debussy.

Ushers for the evening are Ruth Temple, Margaret Scull, Frank Darby, Robert Lane, and Edwin Good.

Dream Of Prexy's Portrait Nears Reality

By Maryellen

Prexy's portrait has finally become a reality. The idea to paint a portrait of Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president of the college, originated with Student Council. Supported by funds solicited by students, the painting is expected to be completed within the next two weeks.

The artist, Charles Dietz, director of the art department, was commissioned by the committee on the basis of the submission of a bid and photographs of portraits previously painted.

Before Mr. Dietz began actual work on the painting, he attended Sunday church services of Dr. Galbreath to study personality and character. In addition to this, he became personally acquainted with Prexy.

Actually, Dr. Galbreath has posed for the portrait only four times. During the first session of two hours, the artist sketched the figure with paint. The next two sittings were utilized to check the structure and

It's Their Turn Next

All Argo group photos not taken this week will be taken next week. A schedule will be posted on the door of the Market street entrance to Old Main.

Argo Editor, Roger Hawk, requests all groups that have not submitted snapshots to do so as soon as possible, if they wish to be included in the 1949 Argo.

At present only two or three of the social organizations have turned in pictures. Groups without entries will not be represented.

Committee To Discuss Cut System Revisions

Because of certain difficulties which arose last semester in the operation of the cut system, a student-faculty committee will begin discussion next week to revise certain points.

C. Robert Kelly is chairman of the committee which includes the Misses Beulah Campbell and Dorothy Kirk-gore for the faculty and Marty Kilgore, Marie Olsen, Kay Roedema, and Stan Hartung representing the student body.

Music Majors Will Stage Quasi-Vaudeville Show

Featuring a host of new campus personalities and groups, music majors next week will stage a quasi-vaudeville musical show called "Conservatory Capers." The hour-and-a-half program will begin at 8:15 Thursday, February 24, in the Community house.

Instrumental and vocal music, along with several miscellaneous acts, will be performed by a cast of more than 45. Roger Jarvis and his orchestra will do two feature numbers, and will provide background music for some of the acts. The background music has been arranged by Perce Hall, sophomore music major.

The "Be-Bop" combo, with piano, clarinet, tenor sax, trumpet, and trombone, features Ralph Brown, Al Sternberg, Perce Hall, Bob Lyon, and Bob Laufenberger. Rick Taylor is scheduled to play some piano interpretations of Stan Kenton numbers. Donald O. Cameron, director of the conservatory, and Jack McCullough are slated to present a violin duet.

rie Lee Johnson, Bill Dumbaugh, Larry Wood, and Perce Hall.

"Make Believe" is the choice of a girl's trio, Carol Keans, Lois Baum, and Shirley Armstrong, for their addition to the show.

Bill Dumbaugh and Art Jones will sing "Golden Days" as they did in their bid for the grand prize on Wilkins Amateur hour last week. Jim Fudge and Audrey Duerr are on call for an operatic duet from "Don Giovanni," and Don Davis and Alyce Anne Eppley have been named also for a duet.

"I'm Just a Girl Who Can't Say No" will be the words of Marie Olson in a solo number. A special musical selection will be sung by Audrey Duerr, Ruth Temple, Carolyn Holub, and Margaret Scull.

Magician-student Art Schreiber has a place on the program, as do two acrobatic "brothers" in a roller skating exhibition. Mark Gleason, tap dancer, and Bill "Hoagy Carmichael" Dumbaugh round out the repertoire of the variety show.

Frank Darby, Larry Wood, and Perce Hall are responsible for the organization and coordination of the entertainment as members of the planning committee.

Shares Campaign Will Aid Finances Of Three Groups

Gillilan To Present Program In UP Church To Further Campaign

Striving for $2,978, Westminster Shares will begin its annual drive on Feb. 28 and will terminate on March 5. Embodying a three-fold purpose the drive will concern itself with Gordon college, World Student Service Fund, and Church World Service.

Highlighting the campaign will be the appearance of Strickland Gillilan, one of the nation's leading humorists, Wednesday, March 2, at 7:15 p.m., in the United Presbyterian church.

One week of general information preceding the actual campaign, from Feb. 21-25, has been planned. Scheduled for the purpose of acquainting the student body with the three objectives chosen for '49, varied chapel programs are being planned. Lois Matthews and Bud Miller are co-chairmen of the campaign, while other committee members include Margaret Swagler, Margaret Scull, Jean Geuther, Frank Jones, and Jim Case.

Programs for next week's activities include: Monday, February 21, Shares committee, general presentation, Lois Matthews; Gordon college, Jack Williams; WSSF, Chet Dembinski; Church World Service, Jack Hodges; Campaign instructions, Bud Miller, and song by Bill Dumbaugh; Tuesday, February 22, explanation on Gordon college, devotions, speaker, Dr. James Cummings; Wednesday, Feb. 23, World Student Service Fund, devotions, speaker has not been named yet; Thursday, Feb. 24, Church World Service, devotions, speaker, Reverend Raymond S. Weider, representative of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

Red Cross Presents Program For Veterans

Melvin Moorhouse, professor in the speech department, was master of ceremonies for the entertainment program presented at Deshon hospital today.

Participating in the program were the Statesmen, Audrey Duerr, Helen Slöss, Bruce Catt, Jean-Lewis, Jean Burt, Maryann Rehm, Shirley McKinney, Rick Taylor, Bill Stedman and Gene DeCaprio.

A program of eight numbers was presented.

Squad Will Attend Forensic Tourney

Two Teams Compete At Mt. Mercy College

Westminster's debate team will participate in the annual forensic tournament to be held at Mount Mercy college tomorrow.

Two teams will compete from Westminster. The men's team includes Basil Messina and Frank Davidson, affirmative; Frank Jones and Franklin Jones, negative.

On the woman's team are Phyllis Williams and Ellen Rutherford, affirmative; Maryann Rehm and June Bender, negative.

The group will be accompanied by Miss Helen Cushman and Melvin Moorhouse. Mr. Moorhouse will comprise part of the judging staff.

Two teams from the squad will debate before Pi Sigma Pi on Monday.

The debate squad finished its season with ten wins out of 16 matches. Richard Stonage and John Kerensky had four wins out of four attempts.

one. On one occasion, Mr. Dietz dropped his paint brush on the carpet and was unable to find it.

The portrait, 32x38, will be presented in a modern style frame. Secured from New York, it has been re-finished and hand carved by William G. Faddis, associate professor of art.

The portrait is expected to be placed in the McGill library, inside an archway at the bottom of the stairway on the first floor. It will be lighted by a baby spotlight. There is a specific desire for the placement of the picture in this place. It will give the students a more personal and intimate contact with the portrait because it is at the student's eye level.

System Needs Change

AFTER one semester of operation, the revised cut system which was put into effect last September has, on the whole, proved successful. However, certain difficulties arose which showed that some reconsideration was necessary.

With one-third of the credit now deducted for a tardy mark and one-fifth of a credit taken off for an excess chapel cut, some students will find thirtieths of a credit recorded on their transcripts. Since this brings things down to ridiculous fractions, one of the suggested revisions of this section proposes that all tardy marks be counted one-fifth of a cut, while excess chapel cuts will remain on the one-fifth basis.

To further simplify the records, and because the first excess absence is no worse than any additional excess cuts, it has been suggested that three-fifths of a credit hour be deducted for each excess absence. The present plan deducts one full credit hour for the first over-cut and one-half of a credit for each additional excess cut.

Interpretation of the rule concerning the number of cuts allowed in any one course might have led to deduction of as many as nine or ten credit hours as well as failure in the course for certain students this semester. This rule will also be changed.

Minor changes will also be discussed concerning special consideration for students who are absent for an extended time because of illness or hospitalization.

In general, individual interpretations by the faculty seemed to cause most of the confusion that did arise. With the rewriting of some of the sections mentioned above, the student-faculty committee will try to clarify the system and improve its operation this semester.

This Ain't Mutts

PUBLIC health officers who make frequent unannounced visits to the TUB expressed enthusiasm at their last inspection because of the cleanliness and all-round good condition of the kitchen and counter facilities.

But the dogs are still on the tabu list in their book.

In fact, one dog's presence in the TUB can result in the building's license being revoked. This practice of putting in the dog will turn into a doggone, TUB-gone yet, inconvenience, if it puts the recreation center into the dog-house with health authorities.

Too bad, but it's a dog's life.

The Board of Trustees will meet in Pittsburgh, Monday, March 2. An announcement will be made. Let's hope it's the right one.

Reds Run Hungary, U.S. Envoy States; Chapin To Give Report Of Mindszenty Trial

PARIS, FEB. 18.—(UP)—Seldon Chapin, U.S. minister to Hungary, said today that no one but the "blind and twisted" could fail to see that the Hungarian people are under the domination of Moscow-trained Communists.

Chapin is en route to the United States to report to the state department on the trial and sentencing of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary.

He was recalled for consultations after the Hungarian government demanded his formal removal. He arrived in Paris yesterday by plane with his wife and secretary, Patricia McCarthy.

He said that neither the American nor British representatives in Budapest had been permitted to attend the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

Concerning newspaper coverage of the trial, Chapin said the "Press was hand-picked." He said he would give no further details "for fear of hurting and possibly endangering" some of the correspondents.

Chapin added, however, that the two American correspondents who covered the trial "have my complete confidence and reported it factually."

Asked if press dispatches had been censored in Budapest, he said they had "not been in a physical sense but through a fear of retribution." Again he refused to elaborate.

"Unless a person has actually lived in Hungary or any of the Iron Curtain countries and learned from personal observation the facts of life, he or she cannot possibly conceive what life is like," Chapin said in describing conditions in Hungary.

"I cannot tell you because the truth is beyond imagination and defies description."

Chapin said there have been many demonstrations in Hungary in the past year and that the red banners with the hammer and sickle now predominate over the red, white and green streamers of the Hungarian national colors at such events.

Chapin said he had "no idea" whether Cardinal Mindszenty was drugged before his trial.

N.A. Pact Needs Power

Washington, Feb. 18.—(UP)—Chairman Tom Connally of the senate Foreign Relations committee said today that unless Congress stands solidly behind the North Atlantic defense pact, it might be "worse than useless."

The Texas Democrat said the pact's primary value will result from Western Europe's realizing that congress is "four-square" behind the agreement. That is because of the congressional prerogative to declare war.

Propose Louis Fight

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 18.—(UP)—Joe Louis was guaranteed $400,000 today by Cincinnati promoter Sam Becker if he will defend his world heavyweight boxing title here this summer against the winner of the Ezzard Charles-Joe Maxim fight.

Maxim and Charles are scheduled for a 15-round bout Feb. 28 in the new Cincinnati gardens.

The offer was sent by wire to Truman Gibson, Chicago attorney for Louis. Becker said he would advance Louis $100,000 when the contract is signed.

The telegram said Louis has announced that he wanted a guarantee of $400,000 if he fights again.

Iron Dukes Upset

Pittsburgh, Feb. 18.—(UP)—Duquesne suffered its first home defeat of the season last night when a strong Cincinnati university quintet upset the Iron Dukes, 58 to 50.

The Dukes, favored by nine points, held the Bearcats to a 25-23 halftime margin, but from then on they couldn't keep pace. The Bearcats pulled away slowly and were never in serious trouble. Charley Cooper led the Dukes' scoring with 14 points; Bill Westerfield paced Cincinnati with 17.

Titan Tattletale

WHAT'S GERMAN FOR SCROUNGE?

Things looked suspicious when Jim Fudge failed to show up in German class Monday. He owed Professor Biberich a dollar.

SIMPLE ECONOMICS, MR. SLOAN

After stating that he would invest his money in a safe way, rather than save it, Mr. Sloan went on to tell his personnel management class that he would catch jackrabbits rather than steal if conditions got bad. He then said, however, that he would save a couple of jackrabbits for a really rainy day.

"Wouldn't that be the same as saving your money?" came the query.

"No," said Mr. Sloan, "My money would be working for me."

"So," replied Vic Fraser, "would your rabbits."

CALL HIM "LITTLE SURE-SHOT"

"This one is going in," said Acky Aburano as he aimed once more at the basket he had been missing.

The ball sailed over the basket, hit the floor, bounced high in the air, and—dropped through the hoop.

VINTAGE LOVE AFFAIR

English grammar students had started with the basic sentence—"The man walked"—and had worked it into—"The little man in the top hat, who had attended the game, walked slowly"—but needed a final phrase.

Jerry Hyder supplied the phrase, "down the street to the little old woman's house."

Tall Boys Defeat Presidents 47-44 In 55th Home Win

Pitt Continues Hex Over Hapless Titans With Win At Stadium

Westminster's Blue and White clad passers kept their home game winning streak intact, as they nosed out a fighting Washington and Jefferson college quintet, 47-44, Wednesday. The victory was the 11th win for the Tall Boys against six defeats, and only the third defeat for the highly touted invaders.

Led by husky Rich Fuhrer the Titans got off to a good start leading the Red and Black, 13-10, at the end of the first quarter. Not to be denied, the Presidents came back fighting and deadlocked the score, 24-24, at halftime.

With McCullough leading the way, the Blue and White put on a drive that netted them an eight point margin over the visitors at the end of the third period. Once more the Presidents came back fighting to deadlock the score several times in the hectic finale, but two foul shots by Bruce Wagner and one by Clyde Shaffer during the final seconds of play put the game on ice for the Titans.

Outstanding for Westminster were Rich Fuhrer and Al McCullough. Scoring ten points and capturing more than his share of rebounds, Fuhrer played one of the best games of his college career. McCullough, who was high scorer for the evening, gave a thrilling exhibition of fancy shooting and ball handling. "Big Mac" caged five field goals and eight fouls out of eleven tries for a total of 18 points.

Coach Adam Sanders' two platoons showed no exceptional stars. Two of the better players of the "starless team" were Jack Eaton, a six foot six inch center, who scored seven points to lead the losers in scoring, and smooth moving Dave Knoche was runner-up in scoring with six tallies.

of Pittsburgh five, 51-40, at the Pitt stadium pavilion. The Panthers got off to a fast start to take a ten point lead at the end of the first quarter. Featuring a tight defense the Tall Boys fought an up hill battle that enabled them to deadlock the score during the third canto. The Blue and White battled the Jungle Cats on even terms until the final minutes of the fourth quarter when Westminster's defense weakened due to the absence of Chet Dembinski, who left the game in the third period via the personal foul route.

Scoring honors went to Pitt's senior co-captain and scoring wizard, Sammy David, who scored 19 points. Chet Dembinski and Mac McCullough shared the runner-up spot with 12 points each.

Tanksters Lose To Pitt, Rockets

Four meets in nine days proved the undoing of the Westminster swimming team this week as they dropped two decisions in as many starts.

The tired swimmers lost to Pitt's speedy crew last Saturday in the Oakland pool by the overwhelming score of 46-20.

Returning to the local pool Wednesday the Titans were defeated by Slippery Rock, 38-28.

Fenwick Only Winner

The powerful Panthers had little trouble with Coach Barry's men as Paul Fenwick in the 440 was the only Titan able to get a first place.

For Pitt Dick Petro had a busy afternoon winning the 220, anchoring the 400 relay team and setting a new pool record on the 100.

Basketeers Open Second Half Race In IM Competition

SPE Cops Initial Title; Regains League Lead In Last Week's Games

Opening the second half of the intramural basketball league last Friday afternoon, the Alpha Sig C team trounced the YMCA five, 18-11, in the curtain raiser.

It was previously announced by the athletic department that the Sig Ep cagers won the championship of the first half of the league.

In the feature game on Friday afternoon, the Sig Ep A five nosed out the ASP team by the count of 25-18. Dahlgren was high scorer for the winners with eight points while Millward cashed in with five for the losers.

Married Men Win, Lose

Sparked by new additions to their team, the Sigma Nu C five dropped the Married Men, 24-19, on Saturday morning. Pritchard and Hodges each scored eight points for the victors while Riley also collected the similar amount of points for the Married Men. However, on Monday, the Married Men edged out the SPE C team by the score of 19-15.

Amiano and Reznik of the ASP B squad teamed up to drop the Indies, 35-28, the same afternoon. Reznik garnered 10 and Amiano nine while McGary of the Indies was high scorer for the game with 14 markers.

Sigma Nu Drop Two

The ASP A team and the SPE B squads were victorious on Tuesday afternoon as they each dropped the Sigma Nu A and B cagers. In the A game Beynon hit the cords for 12 markers as the Alpha Sigs nosed out the Sigma Nus by the count of 34-30. Thompson was high scorer for the losers with eight points.

In the B game Renny Jackson of the Sig Eps scored 14 markers to aid his team in defeating the Sigma Nu Bs, 22-6. Wilson was second high scorer for the winners with five points.

Floormen To Face Waynesburg Five In Tough Battle

Fan Will Meet Idol; Thiel Tries To Avenge Earlier Win By Titans

Having successfully weathered their second baptism of fire for the season against the Washington and Jefferson Presidents on Wednesday, the Titans will attempt to continue their winning ways at home tomorrow night as they meet a fast, sharp-shooting Waynesburg five. The Blue and White sports a perfect home record which is in its seventh season and which has been seriously threatened by the Prexies and St. Francis this year.

Waynesburg's top-flight scorers, Biarko and Karmakovich, will offer the most serious threat as they have combined for as many as 62 points in a single game this season. Karmakovich topped his own scoring record for a single game last week when he hit the nets for 40 points against Alderson-Broadus college. The Jackets have a similar home-floor reputation to that of the Titans and have threatened to ruin the locals' record on more than one occasion in recent years.

Something Different

On the lighter side of the ledger for tomorrow's contest, Dolores Brletic, a senior English-journalism major from McKeesport, Pa., will be introduced to her sports-world idol sometime during the evening. Waynesburg's floor coach, Frankie Gustine, former Pittsburgh Pirate star infielder, has been Dolores' hopes for a pennant flag flying over Forbes Field ever since she first became an avid fan of the great American sport and the Pirates in particular. She was terribly disheartened when Frankie was traded to the Chicago Cubs but will finally realize a long-standing ambition when she is introduced to the third-baseman.

Thiel Here Tuesday

Thiel's Tomcats invade the local gym next Tuesday evening in an attempt to avenge an earlier loss to the Titans at Greenville, 85-75. The Lutherans don't boast many individual stars, as their starting five usually manages to distribute the scoring rather evenly. If an outstanding player can be named, it is Bright, junior forward star, who scored 20 points against the Titans in the first meeting of the two teams. He is fast and shifty and holds his team together with his accurate passing and fine floorwork.

WAA To Play Host To Erie Passers

Westminster's WAA basketball team will play host to Mercyhurst college's girls team, Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the college gym. The Erie team will bring a traveling squad of sixteen girls and the WAA squad will be up against some stiff competition.

The team representing the WAA will be chosen from the following girls: Sally Gretsinger, Norma Hasselman, Lou Cummings, Izzy Tidd, Sally Snyder, Carolyn Stephenson, Louise Rubino, Barbara Williams, Claire Philipbar, Lou Cobner, Ellen Johnson, Phil Brown, Gloria Jenzer and Nancy Engle.

Hitting the cords for 15 points, Gloria Jenzer led the Theta U's to a one-sided victory over the Alpha Gams 21-2 in the inter-sorority league opener last Thursday afternoon.

Hartman Becomes New Holcad Editor As Thomas Reorganizes Spring Staff

Shaffer Will Assume Managing Editor Post; Four Seniors To Leave Publication Duties

Glenn Hartman, junior journalism major, was appointed Holcad editor for the coming year by Dr. William Thomas, head of the journalism department, at a staff meeting this week. Art Shaffer, will assume the duties of managing editor. Glenn has acted as news editor this year, while Art edited the sports page.

Chosen after they had submitted applications which stated their qualifications for the jobs, the new Holcad editors appointed Bill Kegel, sophomore journalism major, news editor; Sally McCoy, sophomore journalism, feature editor; Bob Carey, junior journalism, sports editor; and Jack Shepherd, sophomore journalism, copy editor. Dodie Renshaw was reappointed society editor.

Four senior members of the editorial staff will retire from the paper after this week's dual staff publication. Kay Roedema, present editor; Lydia Zahariou, managing editor; Peggy Morris, feature editor; and Maryellen Cipolla, copy editor, will begin their practice teaching next week.

Festival Winners To Receive Trip

Slippery Rock College Will Furnish Judges

Two winners in this year's poetry festival will earn an expense-free trip to Penn State college May 4 and 5 to participate in the Pennsylvania Inter-collegiate Reading Festival. The preliminary round on this campus will take place in Old Main at 4:30 p.m., March 4.

Three members of the English department of Slippery Rock State Teachers college will judge the final round March 7 in Ferguson hall lounge. They are Morrison Brown, Dr. Pierrepoint Nichols, and Mrs. Beulah Miller Cummins.

Registration for the festival will be open until Wednesday, March 2 at 5 p.m. Approximately 20 people have already signed up.

Two other students will compete in the prose narrative and dramatic selection sections of the Penn State festival. Miss Helen Cushman, assistant professor of speech, has announced that registration for this event will continue until March 15.

TU's Will Sponsor 'Windy Whirl' Party

"Windy Whirl" is the title of Theta U's all-college party scheduled for Friday night, March 4. It will take place in College hall from 8:30 to 11:30. Priced at $1.20, tickets may be secured from any Theta U.

Committees for the party are tickets, Shirley Mach; orchestra, Shirley Brandon; chaperones, Ann Hepler; food, Marge Van Dyke and Carol Meany; decorations, Joy Cantle, and entertainment, Mary Lou Hubbard.

Busy Weekend Looms For Gospel Workers

Two gospel teams will have double assignments this weekend. On Sunday morning, John Vandling's team will conduct worship services in the Volant Presbyterian church and the Richhill Presbyterian church. Stan Hartung's team will have evening services in the King's Chapel Methodist and the Pulaski Methodist churches.

From the department of children's work, under the direction of Pat Hays, a team will be sent to the Mercer Children's home tomorrow morning.

Need A Job?

For students who need jobs at odd hours and between classes, a sort of odd job bureau will be set up on trial in the dean of men and dean of women's offices this semester. Students who wish jobs should leave their names in these offices.

Gillilan To Lecture For Shares Benefit

Strickland Gillilan, humorist and writer of popular lyrics, will present a lecture in the United Presbyterian church, Wednesday, March 2, at 7:15 p.m. as a Shares benefit.

Sponsored by Student Council, the lecture's proceeds will be contributed to the Shares drive. Ticket prices are 50 cents for students and one dollar for adults.

Students Receive Scrawl Positions

Fifteen additions have been made to the staff of Scrawl, college literary magazine.

Carol Burt is the new member of the editorial staff. Nancy McCaw, Mary Lou Hubbard, Marjorie Irwin, Jean Swindler, Marianne Bartlett, and Alice Vogel have been added to the business staff.

Added to the literary staff were William Anderson, Jim Hodges, Howard Frisbee, Dan Pisor, and Wilma Duff. Lyle Bramhall will be associate managing editor and Sally McCoy will be advertising manager. Norman Rudolph will serve as an art editor.

A prize will be given for the best freshman contribution. March 21 is the deadline for contributed material.

'30' Club To Entertain Freshman Journalists

Freshman journalism majors will be entertained at a party in the first floor classroom of the Conservatory on March 2 at 8 p.m. The party is sponsored by the '30' club. Other journalism majors are invited.

Entertainment and refreshments will be offered. Women will be given 10 o'clock permissions.

Robert Auro Smith, who is on the foreign desk of the New York Times, will speak to the club and other journalism students at the next meeting of the group on March 9.

Sloss Will Depict 'Five Queens' In Self-Adapted Dramatic Recital

Helen Sloss, senior speech major, will present her dramatic recital, Monday, Feb. 28 at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Depicting a theme of "Five Queens," five biographical scenes will be presented by Helen. The program, with adaptations written by the speech major, includes "Queen of Democracy," Abigail Adams of America; "Queens of Escape," Empress Dowager of China and Marie Antoinette of France; "Queens of Autocracy," Catherine the Great of Russia and Victoria Regina of England.

Assisting in the recital are Maryann Rehm, Marianne Bartlett, Phyllis Williams, Robert Orser, and Bruce Catt. Ushers will be Mary Lou Hubbard, Barbara Cloud, and June Graham.

Representative settings and costumes will be used for each scene.

Learn Through Faults Is New Scroll Theme

With the belief that through criticism good writing is accomplished, original manuscripts prepared by members of Scroll will be read at the next meeting of the organization.

Scroll will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. Mary Purdy on South Market street.

Musicians Blow Horns - - - Ring Bells

By Maryellen

Music majors trimmed their long hair to give the campus one of the most enjoyable evenings of the year.

Working on a professional level, more than 45 cast members scored a hit with a variety show that really had variety.

It is hard to say any one spot was outstanding, but perhaps the biggest surprise of the evening was the roller skating "Force Brothers," Frank Darby and Roger Jarvis. Combining their skill with muscle coordination, the two men presented some intricate skating acrobatics.

Proving that opera has its place in a variety show, Audrey Duerr and Jim Fudge's "La Che Dorem La Mano" made the audience themselves feel they understood every word of the aria's Italian text. Art Schrieber's "solo" magician's act left the puzzled onlookers wondering why the water in the vase didn't wet the silk scarves.

Freshman Rick Taylor made the atmosphere a little sultrier with his Kenton arrangement of "Lover" and "A Sultry Day In New York," while the "Be-Bop" combo drove the audience into a sudden appreciation of what you can do in a few easy lessons, Mark teamed with Perce Hall to dance through the "Waltz Clog." Mark's solo was artistically graceful, featuring tap dancing at its best.

A highlight of the evening was Bill Dumbaugh with his famous "No More Tomorrow Lamour." Injecting his personality into his singing and playing, the future "Hoagy" lifted the audience with "The Lady's In Love With You."

Providing background music for the entire show, Roger Jarvis and his orchestra also played two feature numbers. Every show must have a Master of Ceremonies and this one had Larry Wood, who bridged the 13 acts with occasional and very appropriate remarks.

Perce Hall's arrangement of "Make Believe" sung by a new girls' trio composed of Carol Keans, Lois Baum, and Shirley Armstrong, proves the arranger will go a long way in any musical career.

The quasi-vaudeville musical show proved to faculty and students that the campus is packed with outstanding talent. Certainly if applause is to judge the success of a show, this one rang the bell.

Shares Committee Will Collect Contribution Envelopes This Week

Chapel Movies To Show Benefit Services; Gordon College Will Receive Largest Fund

To climax the Westminster Shares drive for $2,978, members of the Shares committee will contact students and faculty for their individual contribution envelopes either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Tomorrow, students will receive envelopes, mailed by the committee, in which they are requested to put their individual contributions or pledges. Commuters and others not contacted on Tuesday or Wednesday may leave their envelopes with Mrs. Betty Simpson at the VA desk in Old Main.

Shares originated on Westminster's campus in 1946 with an unorganized student collection of $247. In 1947 the first Shares campaign was organized with $1,625 the total collected. Last year the drive netted $2,294 with the goal set at $2,978. In retaining last year's goal the committee hopes to reach it this year.

Highlighting chapel services for Shares final campaigning this week are two movies. Monday, a Christian World Service film, "This Road We Walk," will be shown. World Student Service Fund will present "This Is Their Story" on Tuesday.

Gordon college is slated to receive $1,800 of the funds if the campaign reaches its goal. $586 apiece will go to World Student Service fund and Christian World service.

The largest allotment going to Gordon college in Pakistan will be used to pay salary and passage home for Bob Noble, missionary-teacher and alumnus of Westminster. Bob was sent to Gordon by funds raised in the 1947 Shares campaign.

Christian World Service, an inter-denominational agency, will use its share to aid sending of relief supplies to war stricken areas in Europe and Asia. Students overseas will be provided with food, clothing, and necessary supplies with the proceeds of the campaign that World Student Service fund receives.

Lois Matthews and Bud Miller are co-chairmen of the campaign which will close Saturday, March 5.

Masquers Prepare 'Glass Menagerie'

"The Glass Menagerie" will appear as a collegiate production for the first time in Pennsylvania when Masquers present it from March 14 to March 19 in the Little Theatre.

Tennessee William's memory play centers about Amanda Wingfield, a southern lady of fading gentility, who will be played by E. J. Smith. Laurette Taylor was the original Amanda, while Helen Hayes handled the role in a London production.

Amanda's poetic son, Tom, who tells the story, will be portrayed by Eugene DeCaprio. Janet Keller is cast as his crippled sister, Laura, and Edwin Good will play Laura's gentleman caller.

David E. MacArthur will direct the production.

Fun Is Fun, But . . .

A minority of Westminster's fraternity men seemed to be taking into their own hands the decision to use actions which can do nothing but injure the reputation of fraternities in general. Such childlike demonstrations as those of this week furnish good material for the rising wave of anti-fraternity feeling in the country. Witness the recent abolishment of fraternities on such campuses as Stanford and the non-existent hazing in many surrounding schools.

The college administration has not interfered, feeling that students deserve the right and are capable of forming and maintaining wise policies. Unless the majority of fraternity men asserts itself soon, we cannot expect to hold that privilege.

Everybody And George . .

IF Westminster students reach or surpass the $2,978 goal of Westminster Shares this year, one of the main reasons will be because we have been made aware of the specific need for our giving. In addition, through a well organized and extensive campaign we have been told just how the contributions will be used.

The Shares committee seems to have brought us to the point where we can no longer be passive. They have tossed the issue directly into the laps of the Westminster student body, who must decide whether to help or let George do it.

'30' For Senior Editors

FOUR members of The Holcad editorial staff make ready to swap their typewriters for teaching certificates as this issue goes to press. They act in an advisory capacity this week.

Editor Kay Roedema has served four years, starting as a reporter in her freshman year. Peggy Morris also boasts four years of staff work. Maryellen Cipolla and Lydia Zahariou each have three years to their credit. The new staff offers its congratulations for past work and well wishes for the future to all four senior women.

Two Protestant Clergymen Plead Guilty To Treason, Spying Charges At Mass Trial

SOFIA, Feb. 25. —(UP)—Two of the 15 Protestant clergymen accused of treason, black marketing and spying for the United States and Great Britain pleaded guilty today when they testified in district court on the first day of the mass trial.

Leading the parade of defendant before the three-man court were Nikola Naumov, president of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical Churches of Bulgaria and secretary to the Baptist Church Union Board; and Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, Methodist church superintendent. They admitted their guilt as charged.

Weeping copiously at times in the more than three hours he testified, Naumov said he would "advise all waverers to go to the state security people for their re-education."

He said the World Council of Churches, from whom he and his co-defendants allegedly received financial backing for their alleged spying, was "the last U. S. organization aiming to unite all churches in the struggle against Communism."

Ivanov told the court he had been "brought up under American influence," and that together with other influences "helped me to agree to act against Communism and against the Soviet Union."

Consider Air Force Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. —(UP)—President Truman is considering a proposal to let the air force buy more planes, it was learned today. The plan would put the air arm back on its year-old course toward 70-group strength in 1952.

The proposal was put before Mr. Truman Wednesday by Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., of the House armed services committee. Vinson is recognized as a top authority in Congress on military affairs.

"I don't know whether I convinced him," Vinson said today. "But I gave him all the facts, and he is considering them."

In his budget for the year starting July 1, Mr. Truman knocked in the head the five-year 70-group building program launched by an air-minded Congress last year.

He ordered the air arm held to 48 groups—far under the level called for in the scheduled build-up and considerably less than present strength. Mr. Truman said this was all the country could afford.

Vinson said today he asked the President to send Congress a request for an $800,000,000 supplemental defense allowance, to be used for additional planes and men to fly them.

Vinson figures this sum—enough, he says, to put the air force back on its 70-group course—can be scraped up by junking Mr. Truman's plans for universal military training. Mr. Truman asked just this amount for UMT.

Forrestal Calls Medicos

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — (UP) — Defense Secretary James Forrestal appealed today for 1,500 young doctors and dentists to volunteer for two years in the armed forces to meet an expected "critical" shortage of medical officers.

He said the forces would be short 1,600 doctors and 1,160 dentists by August 1 and 2,200 doctors and 1,400 dentists by January 1, 1950.

Unless enough volunteers come forward, Forrestal warned, "We shall be forced to resort to more drastic means, such as holding in service beyond their normal time, or in the last resort, asking Congress to pass a draft law."

Baseball Tiff Continues

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25. — (UP) — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians today added a charge of his own to his running fight with the New York Yankees and their general manager, George Weiss.

Veeck claimed the Yankees signed a 23-year-old Negro outfielder, Luis Marquez of the Homestead Grays, on whom the Indians already held an option.

The feud began two weeks ago when the fribe signed Artie Wilson and Weiss charged "unethical" practices.

Veeck said he would appeal the Yankees' acquisition of Marquez when he meets with baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler at Sarasota, Fla., next Monday.

Confusion Conquers Campus As Shmoos Take Over Town

by Sally

Shmoos are invading the campus. Everywhere the small gourd-shaped creatures are accused of spilling coffee into saucers, painting cakes of soap with clear nail polish, and pushing basketballs away from the hoop. But the shmoos, undisturbed, go about their work of checking on people.

Let's look at the campus this week through our shmoos' eye view.

Stan Stewart misunderstands the directions on the cough syrup he got at the infirmary . . . turns up at lunch a little tipsy . . . and farmer Jim Sharp tells C.G.A. the latest method of milking a cow . . . while Barb Bergland and Pat Smith parade under a sheet as the "animal" in Friday's chapel . . . as Fergie diners howl when Jim Fudge expands his chest to exhibit his new yellow tie and pops a button off his shirt.

Taking dips in the creek is the thing to do, or else, as "Kettles" Ross is awakened from a deep sleep to take his "swim" Thursday afternoon . . . while June "the shadow" Raymond clings to a ledge on the third floor of the Science hall . . . trying to escape his tormentors . . . and Kay Campbell claims she never saw anyone disappear as quickly as Harold Hileman.

Shirley Mack screams in biology lab as a grasshopper seems to jump out of the alcohol and land at her feet . . . while Don Book labels part of his grasshopper "hand lens" . . . and Wednesday evening diners can stop worrying . . . Andy Paparozzi's lizard came from the lab, not from the spinach as he claims.

Moose Green's car, borrowed from Bob Lane, breaks down on the way to Sharon . . . runs perfectly on the way back . . . and Margie Foster emerges red-faced from a tangle on the basketball floor . . . as Tom DeVito is finally persuaded to cut his Saturday classes . . . he's being married in the afternoon . . . yet Jack Griffith's mad pianist act ends with the "Martha Graham Dahnse."

Whether by a slip of the tongue or through a lack of Shakespeare, Bill Nido tells Dr. McGinnis that Prince Hal's companion was "Flagstaff" . . . while Marge Hastings, posed on the edge of the diving board with head down and arms outstretched, asks Mrs. Sheridan, "What do I do now?" . . . as half asleep, Mac McCullough hears Dr. Schuster talking about Secretary of the Treasury McCullough . . . answers "Huh?" . . . and at College hall Ed Lindenburg discovers that his bed, which had been moved into the hall won't go back through the door.

Titan Tattletale

THAT'S WHAT SHE CALLED IT

Mary Schell's informative speech must have been a lively lecture. The title was "How to Kill a Chicken" and Mary's gestures and vocabulary were peculiarly apt.

The class managed to stay sober while the chicken's head was chopped off, but broke into nervous giggles when she began to remove "the internal extremities."

NOT A CHOICE MORSEL

Mr. Cameron was calling roll in band and told all who did not have a ride to Farrell to answer "No Choice". He left the roll several times and made remarks to which unattentive musicians answered "No Choice."

He ended by telling them that they MUST wear band uniforms Saturday night.
Their answer? NO CHOICE.

BANG-UP GOOD TIME

YMCA and YWCA really had a noisy time Wednesday night. At Fergie, the YW's were disturbed by an iodine compound exploding under foot, while at Browne the YM's were shocked to attention when Mr. Dietz unexpectedly fired a gun in the middle of his lecture.

He used a blank to illustrate a point, but the listeners leaped as high as if it had been a bullet.

FOOD, FOOD, FOOD

Men at the eating club are thinking of asking for a third shift especially for Gerry Smith. They claim his table is starving daily as his hungry oral cavity opens and closes and their food is gone.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Shaf

This is my swan song. After this column is completed so will my duties be as sports editor. I am turning over all the trials and tribulations that go with the title to Bob Carey, Oil City junior English-journalism major. Bob is also sports editor of the 1950 Argo.

—O—
HERE AND THERE

Tomorrow night, the spotlight shifts from the Blue and White campus to the Farrell high school gymnasium and the annual Westminster-Pitt fiasco. In the words of the late P. T. Barnum, it may turn out to be "the greatest show on earth."

—O—
To those students who have witnessed this event in past years, it will be nothing new, but the freshman and other new students will glimpse the colorful rivalry between the two coaches as well as the teams. "Doc" Carlson can always be counted upon to help entertain the spectators during the slow stages of the game.

—O—
This year's squad will try to do, tomorrow night, what Westminster teams have failed to do in the last five encounters with the Panthers, and that is to solve the Carlson figure-eight and emerge victorious.

—O—
No, the picture was not expected to be as large as it is, but this group, nevertheless, deserves credit for their recent performance. The meet in which they were entered also listed girls who are majoring in physical education.

—O—
A chapter from the modern-day adventure stories is being enacted on our own campus. The recent waves of riots and one-way rides are strictly for the comic books. Fun is fun, but someone usually gets hurt.

Westminster W.A.A. Swimmers Cop Meet At Edinboro

Finishing with the majority of the first and second places, WAA's swimming team was victorious last Friday afternoon at the mixed swimming meet held at Edinboro college.

No points were registered as all of the teams were split into groups for the events. However, the swimming team of Jenzer, Black, Matheny, Stephenson, Eisenbeis, and Snyder was the winner in synchronized swimming. In winning this event, the Titan mermaids outpointed the other contestants from Edinboro, Thiel, and Allegheny colleges.

Titans Boost Home
Record With Win
Over WaynesburgThiel Aspirants Fail
To Avenge Former Loss
As Home Reserves Star

Westminster's Towering Titans extended their current winning streak to three games and protected their home floor record by taking two contests on the local hardwoods during the past week. The two victories at home were the 56th and 57th consecutive wins since that disastrous one-point loss to Duquesne in 1942.

Facing one of the district's leading quintets last Saturday evening the Blue and White floormen played a brilliant game as they defeated Frankie Gustine's Waynesburg courtmen, 56-51. The win was sweet revenge for the Titans who had been defeated by the Jackets at Waynesburg earlier this season.

Mac McCullough, Rich Fuhrer, and Bruce Wagner won scoring honors for the Titans with 14, 13, and 12 points respectively. Jack Jones

SN Downs SPE's

Swinging into hot action, the intramural basketball league continued its second week of activities in the young semester last week.

With Bob Jackson starring for the Sigma Nu A squad, the Sig Ep As went to defeat by the count of 29-22 last Friday in the feature game of the afternoon. Jackson cashed in with 11 points while Cy Krivosh had nine markers for the Sigma Nus.

In the first game on Monday, the SPE C squad beat out the YMCA in a low scoring game by the count of 18-12. Bob Dunseath hit the cords for 10 points for the winners. In the latter game of the afternoon, the SN C five dropped a close one to the YMCA, 29-25. Brown had nine points for the winners while Hopkins had seven for Sigma Nu.

played a fine defensive game as he held Chuck Karmarkovich, last year's top district scorer, to fourteen points.

With reserve players seeing lots of action during a large part of the contest, the Blue and White speedsters easily defeated Thiel's Tomcats last Tuesday on the local court. Decidedly lacking in height the Lutherans put up a good fight in the first quarter, but the taller Westminster boys proved too much for them in the final three quarters of play. Captain Mike Duff, with 13 points, took individual scoring honors for the evening. Jack Jones and Ed Halas were high scorers for the hosts with 10 points each.

According to Melvin Hetzler, physical education instructor, all men who have lockers in the gym are instructed to clean them out and remove the locks on or before March 1.

Titans, Pitt Stage
Annual Fiasco
Tomorrow NightSlippery Rock, W & J
Are Next Opponents
As Season Nears End

Doc Carlson's ice cream eating Pitt Jungle Cats will invade the Farrell high school gym tomorrow night in an effort to make it two straight over the Titans for the season. In the 28 meetings of the two schools to date, each has 14 wins and 14 losses which means tomorrow night's winner will take the lead in one of the closest rivalries in the section.

In the previous contest this year the Panthers came from six points behind with three minutes to go and annexed a 50-41 victory from the Blue and White at the Pitt stadium pavilion. David, Canterna, and Cecconi, the Panther floor whiz kids, have sparked the Oakland quintet's offense all season and should be tough and ready to go by game time.

Play Host To Rockets

Next Tuesday evening the Titans play host to the Rockets from Slippery Rock. In their first meeting this year the Titans downed the Tutors, 50-36, on the Green and White's home court and will have the added advantage of playing at home for this one.

The Tutors sport a fast, aggressive team that rates high among State teachers college quintets, but their lack of height counted heavily against them when they met the Titans in January. Don Black, former New Castle high school star is performing for the Rockets this season and is ably assisted by Phillips, Semango, Perry, and Dobric.

Meet Prexies Away

A contest equally as tough as the Pitt game tomorrow night faces the Titans next Thursday evening when they travel to Washington, Pa., for their second meeting of the season with the Washington and Jefferson Presidents. The Prexies came very close to ruining the local floor record a week ago last Wednesday as they gave a thrilling exhibition of passing and shooting only to lose, 44-47, to an inspired Blue and White team.

Natators Top Prexies
But Lose To Rockets

Westminster's tankmen ran their season record to five wins and four losses as they came out even in two meets this week.

Last Saturday, the mermen traveled to Washington, Pa., where they trounced the hapless Prexies 42-24. Wednesday, the swimmers took to the road and were defeated at Slippery Rock by the same score by which they took W & J.

The Titans completely dominated the W & J meet as they gave up only two first places to the Red and Black in the opening relay and the backstroke.

Slippery Rock administered almost the same dose to the Titans as was delivered to W & J. Only Pitcher in the 60 yard dash and the 400 relay team were able to eke out victories.

A busy week faces the team as they play host to the Tartans from Carnegie Tech Saturday and then travel to Allegheny on Wednesday. The final competition of the year will take place next Saturday at Carnegie Tech where the Titans will take part in the Penn Ohio relays.

Faculty And Students
Schedule 'Floor' Show

A doubleheader basketball program will be on tap in the college gym Wednesday, March 2, at 8:15 p.m. One game will feature the faculty men's team against a male student squad, while the other will pit a women's faculty team against the WAA. The WAA team will have a handicap of gloves for the game. Price of admission will be ten cents.

YWCA Elects Jenzer; Call Off Next Meeting

Gloria Jenzer, junior psychology major from Cliffside, N. J., was elected president of YWCA at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected are Alice Johnson, vice president; Dorothy Roberts, secretary, and Nancy Shane, treasurer. Doris Renshaw will be chairman of conference plans.

Wednesday's meeting has been cancelled because of the program to be presented by Strickland Gillilan.

Cloth Museum Shows Modern Textile Designs

"Contemporary Textiles and Designs," a student exhibition by John Kent Tilton, director of The Scalmandre Museum of Textiles, is now on display in the exhibition room of the McGill library.

The exhibition, containing 40 examples of textiles in a wide variety of color and geometrical design, covers the decorative periods from the early 18th to middle 19th century.

Little Theater Will Try Novel Staging Layout

Westminster's dramatists will experiment with centralized arena staging in a play to be presented soon in College hall.

Donald L. Barbe, head of the speech department, describes this type of staging as that in which the audience is seated around the entire acting area. He adds that it will be the first production of this type to be staged by the college actors.

Taking over the editorial duties of The Holcad is the newly-appointed staff. The new staff assumed their positions with the printing of this issue and their tenure will continue until the second semester next year. Above, back row, left to right: Bill Kegel,

City Promises Mailbox For Barracks, Sororities

For the convenience of barracks and sorority house dwellers a mailbox will be placed on the corner of Maple and Orchard streets.

The action is being taken at the request of the Student Council. Officials of the New Wilmington post office announced that the box would be placed there as soon as it arrives.

YWCA Clothing Drive Provides Overseas Aid

In accordance with the Westminster Shares campaign, Y.W.C.A. is conducting a clothing drive for overseas relief.

Collection of garments will be made in the dormitories and sorority houses. In addition a box will be placed in Old Main for the collection.

Galbreath Will Speak At Next CYF Meeting

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, former president of the college, will speak before Christian Youth Fellowship Sunday evening at 6:20 in the Little Theatre. His topic has not been announced.

Argo Sets Deadline For Campus Photos

No more photographs will be accepted for the Argo after March 15, it has been announced by Roger Hawk, editor.

He has requested campus groups to submit snapshots of activities and social affairs.

Shares Will Crown "King" Wednesday

Auction Will Feature Kisses, Shoe Shines

One of four men nominated by their classmates today will be crowned "king" of the Shares campaign next Wednesday night. The winner will be the student who has the most votes cast for him Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week. The candidates representing their respective classes are Cy Krivosh, senior; Dick Wharton, junior; Al Nichols, sophomore; and Paul Fenwick, freshman.

Sources close to the Westminster Shares committee have it that votes can be bought at ten cents each. The ballot boxes will be in the Tower room, Old Main. Money collected at the polls will be added to the drive for $2978 in the Shares campaign, all of which will be divided among the Gordon college fund, the World Student Service fund, and Church World Service.

On the night the "King" is crowned in the gym, an auction is scheduled to take place. Among the merchandise to be up for sale is a kiss from Jo Hodges, blond freshman cheerleader, and a shoe shine by some dignified faculty or administration member. In addition, merchants from New Wilmington and New Castle offer such items as tickets to the Penn theatre, two meals at the Castleton and various other articles.

'Windy Whirl' Features Combo, Variety Program

Theta U's Windy Whirl tonight at College hall featured Percy Hall's combo, and entertainment program of musical selections and a reading.

Al Nichols, master of ceremonies, presented the program consisting of a duet by Audrey Duerr and Jim Fudge and songs by Art Jones and Judy Wilkinson, accompanied by Mina Belle Packer. June Graham and Alice Vogel gave a reading to finish the evening program.

Bill Sample was in charge of the entertainment.

Testing Office Offers . . .

Educational, Vocational Guidance For Students

Westminster's new Mr. Anthony, John W. Reid, does not claim to have all the answers, but if you're undecided on your major or struggling with a subject, you are welcome to "come in and talk it over."

"We try to give the person a little more understanding of himself and give him several solutions to his problems," says the new director of the testing office.

The office, which serves both faculty and students, offers educational and vocational guidance. Data from freshman tests is available for every student, and additional tests may be given. Ability is correlated with achievement, as well as personality and interest, in interpreting the test results.

This student service offers vocational tests such as tweezers and finger dexterity measurement and the Minnesota spatial relations test,

Contest Finalists Will Meet Monday In Poetry Festival

Today's Preliminaries Eliminate All But Ten From Reading Contest

Following a preliminary round which was held at 4:30 this afternoon, eight finalists will vie for honors in the 11th annual poetry reading contest to be held in the lounge of Ferguson hall at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Finalists are Priscilla Barnes, Marian Brodbeck, Elizabeth Cummings, John Douglas, Bill Dumbaugh, Kathy Field, Minabelle Packer, Maryann Rehm, Alice Vogel and Judy Wilkison.

Winners To Receive Trips

The finalists, who were selected from a field of 35, will seek six rewards including two expense-free trips to the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate reading festival to be held at Penn State college March 4 and 5. First and second place winners will make this trip.

Winner of the first prize will receive a collection of the poetry of Keats and Shelly, and the second prize winner will be presented a book entitled "Famous English and American Poetry." "Poems of Edgar Allan Poe" will be given to the third prize winner, while "One Hundred American Poems of Seldon Rodmend" will be received by the reader rated honorable mention.

Slippery Rock Furnishes Judges

Three members of the English department of Slippery Rock college will judge the final round. The judges are Mrs. Beulah Miller Cummings, Morrison Brown, and Dr. Pierrepont Nichols.

Members of the student body and the public are invited to attend the festival. Miss Shirley Armstrong will play the piano during the intermission.

District Churches Hear Life Service Groups

Life Service this week will have three Gospel teams going out.

Ray Dunlap's team will go to the Unity Presbyterian church for the morning worship service on Sunday, while Jean Garvin's team will conduct the evening worship service at the Mercer United Presbyterian church.

City Rescue Mission in New Castle will be the scene of an evangelistic service on March 8 conducted by Stan Hartung's team.

Robert Auro Smith, Author-Editor, Will Speak Nine Times On Campus

N. Y. Times Far East Specialist Will Appear For Lecture Course Series, Student Group Talks

Robert Auro Smith, author, editor, lecturer and Far Eastern specialist for the New York Times will speak in the college chapel Wednesday, March 9 at 8 o'clock. Mr. Smith appears as part of the college lecture series.

Mr. Smith will be a campus visitor for two days, March 9 and 10. He will speak nine times on eight different topics. He will be a guest of the "30 club" and the International Relations club.

Works For "Times"

Mr. Smith has been affiliated with the New York Times since 1930. For seven years he was staff correspondent for the Times in the Philippines and also news editor for the Manila Bulletin. For two years during the war, Mr. Smith was the head of the India-Burma Division of the Office of War Information. He was Chief of the training division of O.W.I. in New York and the principal radio commentator of Far East Affairs for the O.W.I.'s "Voice of America". He has written such books as "Our Future in Asia," "Your Foreign Policy" and "Divided India". He has written a series of broadcasts for CBS and acted as political consultant to NBC on the United Nations program. His principal job today is that of Far Eastern specialist for the New York Times. He is also one of the editors on the foreign desk of the Times.

Was Rhodes Scholar

Mr. Smith is the son of a Methodist preacher and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university where he won the Ohio Rhodes scholarship. He received degrees from Oxford and started teaching, but soon changed to journalism. He says that he doesn't believe there have been 24 consecutive hours in the last 17 years in which he has not been doing something intimately connected with the problems of the Far East.

Mr. Smith will be available for any conferences with students during his stay here. He welcomes any questions and hopes to conduct two or three sessions of question and answer discussions. Any students will be welcome to any of the talks given by Mr. Smith in chapel or in any classes.

The schedule of talks by Mr. Smith for March 9 and 10 is as follows:

Wednesday, March 9—

9:50 a.m., Little Theatre, "Handling Foreign News"

10:45 a.m., morning chapel, "India and Pakistan"

1:00 p.m., afternoon chapel, "India and Pakistan"

4:15 p.m., faculty lounge for "30 Club", "Editorials and Propaganda"

7:00 p.m., YM and YW, "The Impact of the West Upon the East"

Thursday, March 10—

9:50 a.m. for International Relations Club, "The Soviet Union in the Far East"

4:15 p.m., Faculty Lounge, "The Rise of Asiatic Nationalism"

8:00 p.m., Public lecture in chapel, "What Makes Men Free"

Collegians Guild Plans St. Patrick's Program

CGA will present an original Irish program on its March 11 broadcast over WPIC at 1:15 p.m.

Committee members for the broadcast are Margaret Bullock, chairman, Joel Mellinger, Pat Trapp, Bill Stedman, and Chuck Jackson. Mina Belle Packer and Doris Renshaw are in charge of the music for the production.

"Murder Twenty Fathoms Deep," a radio play written by Bill Sample, was presented at the Tuesday CGA meeting. The play was given to acquaint the members with sound effects and their production.

Members of the cast were Bill Sample, Bill Stedman, Jack Griffith, and Jim Sharp. Eleanor Regule, Norma Williams, and Roberta Twaddle provided the sound effects, while Russell Sperry was technician.

Chi O's To Entertain Faculty Women At Tea

Chi Omega sorority will hold the traditional faculty tea on Friday, March 11, from 3:30 until 5:00 at Ferguson hall.

Guests will include women faculty members, faculty wives, dormitory residence directors, Mrs. John Orr, and Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women.

For Kenyon - A Fire For Us - A Warning

KENYON college's fire this week, with its deaths and numerous injuries, prompts a look into our own campus situation. Many of the buildings are well equipped for such an emergency. The newest ones, Old Main, Ferguson hall, Jeffers hall and the library, are semi-fireproof and boast an adequate number of exits.

Ferguson's three stairways, designated as fire towers, substitute for fire escapes, as do those of Jeffers hall. The library has two exits on the first floor and two in the basement. Old Main has three doors on the first floor and the large chapel exit on the second floor. Fire would not be apt to spread easily through its steel construction. Browne hall has two stairways with four first floor exits.

Hillside, with its three stories, has two fire escapes, north and south. Its back annex, housing nearly a dozen girls, offers no way out except down the central wooden stairway in the main part of the building.

One sorority house, Alpha Gam, owns a metal fire escape. It also has three downstairs entrances. The Chi Omega and Beta Sig houses each have one wooden fire escape in back, in addition to their front entrances.

Theta U has no fire escape, but it does have a back exit. The Sig Kap and Kappa Delta houses each have one side entrance downstairs along with their front doors.

College hall has one steel fire escape. It is located on one of the three hall ends on each floor. It's only inside stairway is wooden. The gym has one exit on its main floor.

Litter Up The Place

UNDOUBTEDLY the most pleasant aspect of the TUB these days is the appearance of the floors and tables. What does it matter that a student has to plow through an inch or so of napkins, used straws, candy wrappers and empty cigarette packs to get to the counter?

What if the floor is scarred by cigarette butts being crushed by a heel? It saves ash trays. It also saves cleaning off the table tops.

And who ever devised this idea of using score cards instead of writing on the tables when playing cards? Anybody knows that those smooth tables are easier to write on and better for erasing.

S'No Laughing Matter

OUTSIDE WESTMINSTER

With Mellor

Johnson Will Replace Forrestal In Cabinet, Supported Truman Campaign When Others Quit

WASHINGTON, March 4. —(UP)— Replacement of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal with Louis A. Johnson of West Virginia was understood to be a key move in national defense developments. Johnson's elevation to the No. 2 cabinet spot also paid off one of Mr. Truman's biggest political debts. It was Johnson who raised campaign funds for the President last year when many prominent Democrats would not contribute and others said it could not be done.

The new defense secretary will replace Forrestal on March 31. His confirmation is expected by the Senate.

Forrestal said that the rest of this month he would do everything in his power "to make possible a smooth and easy transition" in the military establishment. He said he had "no specific plans" after he leaves the government beyond getting a rest.

"There is the usual temptation to write which I hope I can resist," Forrestal told newsmen.

With the change in defense secretaries, Mr. Truman is about ready to shake up the military establishment. This will be done to meet charges that it is wasteful, lacks coordination and requires firmer leadership.

He will send to Congress recommendations for re-writing the 1947 Armed Services Unification Act in order to achieve real unification of the three military services.

So far unification hasn't been too successful.

Forrestal and Johnson, as they stood in the White House lobby, took turns praising each other, and Forrestal threw in a good word for the newsmen.

"You will get a fair deal from this crowd here," Forrestal said.

Forrestal said that for the next month Johnson will be "a sponge." He added quickly that he did not mean this flippantly. "I am confident Mr. Johnson will handle the job with great success," Forrestal added.

Johnson, in speaking of the need for maintaining a strong nation, recalled that when George Washington first created a military department, he called it "the peace establishment."

"That's what I want," Johnson said, "because strength means peace."

Norway Rejects Red Pact

OSLO, March 4. —(UP)— The Norwegian government, with the overwhelming support of Parliament, rejected a proposed non-aggression treaty with Russia today and decided to join discussions on the proposed Atlantic Pact.

A Norwegian delegation was expected to leave for Washington within 10 days to join the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg in discussing the proposed pact.

The government announced that a secret session of Parliament which was held yesterday approved the twin decision by a vote of 118 to 11, with only the 11 Communist members objecting.

Ask For Clergy Hangings

SOFIA, March 4. —(UP)— The death penalty was demanded today for all four leading defendants among the 15 protestant clergymen on trial for treason, espionage and black market activities.

The four defendants are the heads of the United Evangelical, Methodist, Baptist and Pentecost churches in Bulgaria.

Running On Reputation

LAKEPORT, Calif., March 4. —(UP)— A Ford roadster owned by Ray Stacy of Nice, Calif., got its 48th set of license plates today.

Stacy bought the 1902 Model T second-hand in 1919 and has kept it running ever since, using it for personal transportation. The late Henry Ford, Sr., is believed to have personally helped construct the roadster.

The license plates cost the minimum $6.

Only fifty two in a deck, fifty three with the joker, but they include the best known faces on campus. We shuffle them when we should be turning pages in a book, but they're as inseparable a part of the campus as playing that one last hand.

Queens of the classroom, the practice teachers, tell their troubles . . . as Jewel Jennings discovers that she, not the student, is saved by the bell . . . and Mimi Lostetter receives two candy bars from a pupil—one for her and one for the "other" teacher . . . while Maryellen Cipolla shows her students who is boss when she gives most of them F's the first day . . . Roman history class meets in the TUB as only 10 of the 50 members show up.

King of the basketball court at the WAA play night, Lopy Thompson is replaced by substitute Chuck Sittig when he learns that his "royal robe" needs repairing . . . and George Handy pesters announcer Bill Sample wondering how the score could be 2226 . . . Bill announced it as 22 to 6 . . . while Mrs. Sheridan agrees with Carol Burt that going on house limits is a good enough reason for not coming to the WAA affair . . . the Evans, Shaffer, Carey comb band provides competition for Cameron's players.

Joker Don Book sets a new style in short hair-cuts . . . as Earl Dexter and Jo Martin have a snow-ball battle near the TUB . . . to the delight of a Conservatory audience . . . and in social science Bob Gavett has the Indians living on reservoirs . . . while Jane Coleman turns barber using her biology lab scissors.

Larry Friday spends an evening trying to stack the deck . . . and Bob Hinman is proclaimed the shuffleboard champ . . . as the sled goes on down the hill leaving Emmy Lou Gladden, Ginny Bretsnyder, and Nancy Hoffman sprawling in the snow . . . Everybody slips and slides . . . but Gert Marburger is lucky enough to have Bill Dahlgren there to catch her as she falls.

Hearts are trump, as Dewayne Elgin's friends tell him it must be love when he misses three meals . . . and Sam Sloan forgets to tell his wife that it's Ladies Night at the Kiwanis . . . while Bonnie McHolme pulls Irene Hays out of bed—mattress and all . . . Bill Shannon's dark glasses fail as a disguise.

Let's put away the deck for now and see what next week holds for us in the cards.

Titan Tattletale

ALL DAY THEY SOAKED!

It's a wet, wet day over WKST as fraternity pledges request "Kilocycle Alley" to play "Cool Water" for their actives.

NO REMARKS

With the history of journalism class depleted by the absence of practice teachers, Queenie Gould finds herself the only girl in the class. And a new journalism radio script calls for two shrews.

"Well?" asks Lyle Bramhall as he glances at a blushing Queenie.

A SOCIAL SCIENTIST

Mr. Sloan's classes wonder why the primitive people built their lake houses on poles.

Art Schrieber has a simple explanation. "CRABS."

THE HERO

A demonstration Psych test had "guinea pig", Lucky Reznik, a little confused Wednesday. When asked what he would do if he were the first patron in a movie to discover a fire, Lucky replied "Leave."

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Legend tells us that March usually comes in like a lion. This year February went out with the Panthers. At least as far as Westminster is concerned it happened that way.

Last Saturday night the Titans fast-broke the Panthers to a 19-8 lead in the first quarter. In the second period their fast break slowed down a bit, and the Pitt boys started in on their game of ring-around-the-rosy. The half ended, 27-24, in favor of the Titans. In the second half the home team only scored twice from the floor which helped the Oakland boys considerably.

Aside from the field goal famine in that disastrous second half, there is a defense for the cake-walking type of basketball for which Doc Carlson is famous. Doc has been using his figure-eights against Westminster for quite a few years. Every year the same thing happens. The Titans love to play race-horse basketball which doesn't include waiting out a slow, deliberate offense. That is what spells success on slow deliberate offenses.

A few weeks ago I saw Penn State beat Pitt, 49-38, on the Nittany Lions' home court. The game started, as most Pitt games do, with the usual monotonous passing. The Lions had no place to go that evening so they just stood around and permitted the Panthers to make slight fools of themselves.

Coach John Lawther, a former coach at Westminster, used good strategy with his Penn State boys and told them to play fire with fire. As a result of a fine zone defense and the fact that the Lions allowed their fellow felines to play around with the ball as much as they liked, the score was 12-0 in Penn State's favor after the first six minutes of playing time. Then the Lions became a little eager and came out to get the ball. The first half ended, 20-18, in favor of Pitt.

In the second half the Pittites again faced a tight zone defense. This time the Lions didn't come out to try for the ball and won in a walk, 49-38. I will admit that the game was nothing like the race-horse battles for which Westminster is famous. BUT . . . the strategy worked. Perhaps Westminster fans would balk if the same thing happened sometime when the Titans play Pitt. Perhaps it is best to have a race-horse system which provides more thrills and snills. I believe it is best. But wouldn't it be nice to deviate from the beaten path just a couple of times a season and beat Pitt?

Tomorrow night's game with Carnegie Tech is the season's finale for the Titans. It is also the last time Captain Chester Dembinski will don the Blue and White. Elsewhere on this page your college history has been published, Chet, so I'll just say " . . . so long, good luck, and thanks for a lot of swell basketball."

Mermen To Defend Penn-Ohio Title At Tech Tomorrow

Burryanman Win, 36-30 Over Tech; Lose, 42-20 To Gator Tanksters

Tomorrow the Blue and White swimming team will travel to Carnegie Tech to defend their crown in the Penn-Ohio relays. Last year the Titans won the meet by a 16 point margin but are due for some stiff competition this year. The Slippery Rock Tutors have a fast, strong squad and hope to dethrone the Burreymen this year.

There will be eight district teams competing in the events including Carnegie Tech, Allegheny, Grove City, Thiel, and Slippery Rock from this immediate district.

Last Saturday the Titans played host to Carnegie Tech and emerged the winners, 36-30, in one of the most thrilling meets ever witnessed in the local pool.

Wednesday of this week the local swimmers were guests of the 'Gators from Allegheny, and were downed, 42-20. Allegheny was a surprisingly powerful squad and limited the locals to one first place, the 60 yard dash, which was won by Chuck Pitcher.

The Burrymen finished their regular season with the Allegheny meet and boast a record of six wins and five losses.

Chet Leaves So . . . Coach Washabaugh Regrets

By Al Krause

"All good things must come to an end."

Westminster's basketball coach Grover C. Washabaugh has resigned himself to the fact that that statement is very true. Saturday night will spell "finis" for Captain Chester Dembinski's collegiate basketball career, and his departure will bring many sighs of remorse.

During his reign as prince of the Titan floormen, Chester has amassed quite an enviable record. In his freshman year the six foot six inch pivot man hit the cords for 163 points during the season. He came close to doubling that mark in his sophomore year as he chalked up 323 points and was named to the Associated Press All-State dream squad. The following year, the 1947-48 season, Chester was again elected to a position on the All-State squad and just missed the two-century mark as he racked up 199 points.

Up to and including the Slippery Rock game last Tuesday the tall fellow has put 253 points through the nets for the current season which brings his four-year total to 941 points. He now ranks fifteenth among the twenty-five leading scorers of the tri-state district.

Chester will be graduated in June with a bachelor of arts degree, having majored in business and education. At the present time he is practicing teaching in the Hickory, Pa., senior high school, and claims that the students really look up to him.

When asked about his plans for the future Chester says he has decided to enter the business field. He has considered coaching also, but is not certain about that profession. He has also received several offers to play professional basketball but has passed them up.

Chester tells us that his two most satisfying moments were realized while playing on the hardwoods for Westminster. His first great moment came when he played against a heavily favored Pitt team at Farrell in his freshman year and was lined up opposite one of the Panthers' all-time greats, center Hank Zeller. The Titans won that one and went on that year to play St. Francis of Brooklyn at Madison Square Gardens which formed his second great moment.

He modestly relates that he had the opportunity of playing with "some great ball players", as he puts it, in his freshman year; namely, Stan Wasik, Tom Paine, Mac McLhinney, and Don Heddleston.

The court star says that he has no special hobbies as his time has been fairly well taken up during his four years here. He likes good food and especially ice cream. Chester's fine basketball record is only part of his accomplishments. In his junior year he was elected president of his class, and now presides as the prexy of Jeffers hall. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity and is their star softball pitcher during the spring intramural season. He is also a member of Block W club.

The soft-spoken cage star has made a lasting name for himself as one of Westminster's hall of fame members. Two years ago Hank Knoche, Washington and Jefferson's star center, paid Chester a fine compliment when the Prexie's floorman told him that he was the finest center he had ever played against. Mr. Knoche has played against the nation's finest.

And so with one more game remaining for one of the greatest Towering Titans we wish Chester, " . . . good luck and a hearty 'well done'."

Titans Play Host To Tech Tartans In Season Finale

Panther Jinx Proves Fatal As Cagers Lose Slow Game At Farrell

Westminster's Towering Titans will ring down the curtain on their 1948-49 basketball season tomorrow night when they play host to the Plaid of Carnegie Tech.

In an earlier contest this season the Titans defeated the Skibos by a 21-point margin in Pittsburgh, so the Donohoe-coached cagers are not expected to give the Tall Boys much trouble at New Wilmington.

Rangy Mike Theodore, the Tartan's leading scorer, will be in action tomorrow evening along with six foot three inch Pete Katselanas at the forward posts. At center will be Joe Matsy, while Jack Cetlin and Jack Riehl will be operating at the guard positions. Chetlin is the only senior on the Tech squad and will be playing his last game for the plaid.

Pitt Jinx Continues

Last Saturday night the Blue and White dropped their fifth straight game to the Pitt Panthers since 1946 by a score of 50-40 on the Farrell high school court.

With Chet Dembinski scoring eight points in the first quarter, the Titan passers led the Jungle Cats, 18-9, at the end of that period. The Panthers crept up in the second canto as the first half ended with the Blue and White out in front, 27-24.

By the end of the third period the Panthers had taken the lead, 35-32, as their defense began to tighten. The Titan offense bogged down completely in the last half as they scored only two field goals. They failed to score from the floor for the first five minutes of the last quarter as Pitt ran the count up to 50-40 when time ran out.

High scorer for the evening was "Dodo" Canterna, the Panther's senior co-captain, who scored 16 points. Upon leaving the game Canterna received the loving embrace of Doc Carlson, Pitt mentor, and hearty congratulations from Westminster coach Grover Washabaugh. "Dodo" has been one of the outstanding players in the tri-state district during his four years of collegiate competition.

Down Rockets Here

In a rough and tumble affair last Tuesday night the Tall Boys defeated the Tutors from Slippery Rock, 54-33. The underdog Butler countians were aggressive and put up a good battle although they were never ahead in the scoring.

Chi O, BSO Cop Wins; Jenzer New WAA Head

With Nancy Engle hitting the nets for 14 points, the Chi O's downed the Alpha Gams, 32-10, in last Wednesday's inter-sorority basketball game. Norma Hasselman was runner-up with 10 points while Gert Marburger scored seven markers for the losers.

Thursday's game saw Kathy Tidd scoring 11 points in a losing cause as the Beta Sigs edged the Sig Kaps 17-13. Williams and Gretzinger paced the winners with six points each.

Gloria Jenzer was elected president at Tuesday's meeting of the WAA. Other officers elected were Lois Rubino, vice president; Sally Snyder, secretary, and Claire Philipbar, treasurer.

Beta Sigs, Alpha Gams Elect Prexies, While Coeds Primp For Sorority Teas

By Dodie

Coming in like a lion, March was officially welcomed on campus tonight by the Theta U sponsored all-college "Windy Whirl" at College hall where Percy Hall's combo provided music for dancing. Sorority pledges began their cycle of weekly teas for one another this afternoon in the Ferguson hall lounge with the Chi Omega and Kappa Delta pledges serving as hostesses.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON elected the following officers at

Monday night's meeting: Nancy Shane, president; Claire Philippbar, vice president; Edith Glaser, secretary; Nancy Henderson, treasurer; Dodie Renshaw, social chairman; June Bender, pledge mistress; Marty Wedel, warden; Happy Eisenbeis, rush chairman; Jean Martin, scrap-book chairman; Kay Brunswick, editor; and Phyl Ackerly, Pan Hellenic representative. . . a surprise show-er, was held at the BSO house last Saturday afternoon for Adele Johnston. . . she received a linen dinner cloth and silver candlesticks as a gift from the sorority. . . Judy Wilkinson is in charge of the Beta Sig chapel program for Friday, March 11. . . on campus last weekend were Jean Pollock, '47, Jean Caldwell, Betty Fair, and Doty Haas Willaman, all '48, and Gladys Stitt, ex-'49.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA this week chose officers for the coming year as follows: Sue Nolph, president; Anne Osterhout, first vice president; Audrey Stochr, second vice president; Nancy Crawford, recording secretary; Sue Brown, treasurer; Marjorie Rollman, corresponding secretary; Noreen Stegailov, editor; Louise Imler, scribe; Phyllis Williams, chairman of names; Sally Edwards, activities chairman. . . Jean Basher, '49, was a visitor on campus last weekend.

CHI OMEGA held pledging ceremonies for Tink Bullock and Ellie Shindeldecker on February 21. . . Anita Oge has accepted social privileges. . . the pledge class is making arrangements for the Chi O house party to be held at Jeffers hall March 12. . . Isy Cooper is chairman of the committee. . . Tink Bullock has been chosen to represent Westminster in the Pennsylvania Oratorical contest on March 10. . . Shirley Smith, Jean Leighty, M. L. Cleland, and Ann Hope, class of '48, were recent campus visitors.

KAPPA DELTA's will hold formal initiation on Saturday afternoon for Jo Hodges, Jean Averill, Donna Barbe, Mary Firestone, Jane Irwin, Pattie Reinheimer, Jean Simpson, Roberta Twaddle, Marjorie Jones, Jo Foster, and Sara Purks. . . dinner for the new actives will be held at the Taverna Saturday evening. . . Bea Farnsworth, '48, has announced her engagement.

THETA UPSILON, Lee Moreland, '48, has announced her engagement to Harry Hazen of Fredonia, Pa. . . Andrew Brua, ex-'51, has accepted the Alpha Sig pin of Ralph Shiner. . . both are students at Penn State.

SIGMA KAPPA's house party for March 12 is being planned by social chairman, Marty DeWar. . . Betty Finch, ex-'49, and Lotrey Brown Turner, '47, visited campus last weekend.

SIGMA NU's were presented with a book entitled "The Story of Sigma Nu" by Judge James A. Chambers at the father and son banquet last week. . . alumni present at the banquet were Robert G. Dixon, Dr. Gilbert Taylor, William Heatley, ex-'49, and Dave Lloyd, '48. . . the chapter received with regrets the news of the recent death of Dr. Frank R.

Bailey, '09, . . . Dr. Bailey was the chief of the surgery staff at the West Penn hospital in Pittsburgh.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI pledges will give a program at the annual pledge-active dance to be held on March 18.

Vocational Guidance

Sixty-one members of the freshman class have already received guidance in educational conferences, and 20 students have taken advantage of the vocational information available. As Mr. Reid points out, vocational conferences may take a longer period of time.

"It's a bad situation when a student is worrying and working himself into a state of nerves when there is sometimes an obvious solution."

Mr. Reid's interest has been in educational and vocational guidance from the very beginning. He received a bachelor of arts degree from Swarthmore college in 1940. A scholarship student, he majored in psychology and minored in English and history. While there he studied under Dr. Wolfgang Kohler, famous Gestalt psychologist. He did cost accounting work in his home town, Ardmore, Pa., for two years after graduation.

From December, 1942 until January, 1945, he served in combat intelligence with the 99th and 1st U. S. Infantry divisions in England, France, Germany, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia. During the Battle of the Bulge, his battalion received a Distinguished Unit citation. His army experience "as an enlisted man" aids him in understanding the veterans' problems.

He received his M.A. in psychology at the University of Pennsylvania in June 1947 and served as instructor in English at the Haverford school, Haverford, Pa., the following year. Before coming to Westminster, Mr. Reid taught psychology at Bethany college, Bethany, W.Va.

He enjoys swimming, tennis, popular and classical music, and dancing. Psychological research he calls a "hobby." Mrs. Reid, former psychology student, teaches children in the New Wilmington Cooperative Pre-School association.

Procurement Officers
To Interview Students

Procurement officers for the US Air force and for the US Marine corps will be here this month. A Marine corps representative is scheduled for March 7, and two men from USAF will be here for two days, March 17 and 18.

The air force agents are especially interested in juniors and seniors. This program is not for reserve training. Tests will be available, for those who wish to take them, in the exhibit room of the library.

Pi Sig Book Drive
Nets Library $285

Although the Pi Sigma Pi book drive officially terminated on February 28, Committee Chairman Adele Johnston has announced that donations are still being received. Thus far, $285 has been contributed by campus organizations, faculty, and alumni.

Student Council topped the campus groups with $100. Next, with $25 was Alpha Sigma Phi. W.A.A., Scroll, YW, Theta Upsilon, and Pi Sigma Pi each donated $10. Giving $5 were Karux, Beta Sigma Omicron, Outing club, Delta Nabla, Phi Alpha Theta, YM, and Mu Phi Epsilon. The Physics club and Hillside each donated $3.

In the guise of liberation
From domestic hibernation
And the chance to rectify our social plan,

We've relinquished social censures
Which obstructed woman's ventures
As she strove for an equality with man.

But should not this female mission
Be appraised with keen suspicion,
Lest her plea for added freedom Really is

A maneuver to allow her
Rise to male-controlling power
That books will record HER-story and not HIS?

Gloria Jenzer Assumes Presidency In WAA

Gloria Jenzer, junior psychology major from Cliffside, N.J., was elected president of WAA recently.

Other officers elected are Louise Rubino, vice president; Sally Snyder, secretary, and Claire Philippbar, treasurer.

WAA "play day" is tentatively scheduled for March 12 at Edinboro college.

Journalism Class
Airs Press History

With history of journalism students doing research and writing scripts, a series of six weekly radio programs emphasizing the role of journalism in America will begin next week. They will be broadcast over WPIC, Sharon, from 9:30 to 10 a.m. on a day to be announced later.

The first program, directed by Frank Ruth, will depict the beginnings of the press in America. Lyle Bramhall will have charge of the second program having to do with famous trials pertaining to freedom of the press in America.

Entitled "The Lawrie Journalism Series," the shows will be produced with campus talent and in cooperation with the Collegian Guild of the Air. Maryellen Cipolla is program coordinator, while Frank Ruth is general program director. The series is sponsored by Mrs. A. K. Lawrie, Thomasville, Pa.

IM Race Tightens
Between SN, SPE

Seven of the eight scheduled games in the intramural basketball loop were played during the past week.

In last Friday's encounter the Sig Eps overcame the Alpha Sig C five, 18-14, the Sigma Nu B squad beat the ASPs, and the A squad of Sigma Nu defeated the ASP. In the C game, Dunseath was the big gun for the winners as he collected ten points for the Sig Eps. Russell led the Sigma Nu B team in scoring as they downed the ASP, 25-9. High scorer for the A game was Benyon with eight tallies while Jackson hit the cords for seven points as the Sigma Nu's edged the ASP's, 26-20.

The Married Men hung up another victory last Saturday morning as they downed the YMCA, 26-16. Jeffries paced the winners with 14 markers while Albridge had six for the YM.

Jack Hodges led the Sigma Nu C team in scoring as they edged the Alpha Sigs, 20-16. Hodges tallied in with nine markers for the game.

Jackson led the Sig Ep B five with 18 points as they beat the Alpha Sig Bs 38-22 on Monday afternoon. On Tuesday afternoon, in a B League encounter, the SNs downed the Alpha Sigs, 27-19. Russell again led the scoring with 12 points for the winners while Stewart had six for the Alpha Sigs.

College Revamps Insurance Setup For All Students

Student Protection Will Be Year-Round; Begins This Summer

Joining a growing list of colleges and universities, Westminster will institute a compulsory student health insurance plan. The plan will become effective with the start of summer school and will cost the student $20 a year, according to announcement made by Ross Ellis, business manager.

Protection is also given for the three months a student normally spends in vacation at home. The former service of 10 days of free care at the infirmary has been cut to four days and the entire plan will be a supplement to this.

Hospital Fees Paid

A student who becomes ill or injured, will be allowed $6.50 per day for hospitalization. As a hospital out-patient, the student will be allowed $10 for X-rays and if confined he will be allowed $40 for such service. Surgical treatment up to $150 is included.

Such other services as local ambulance calls, injuries to natural teeth and attention of specialists are included.

Maximum allowance for each disability is $650.

Schools already offering this service include M.I.T., Mt. Holyoke, Hobart, Monmouth, Pitt and Illinois.

Suggestion for the adoption of such a plan came from a faculty-student committee to the Board of Trustees several months ago.

Biologists To Show Two Sound Movies

Two sound motion picture films entitled "Human Reproduction" and "Emotional Health" will be presented in room 15 of the Science hall on Wednesday, March 16. There will be three showings, one at 11:15 a.m., and again at 4:15 and 7:00 p.m.

The first is a factual film on the human reproductive systems, and on the process of normal human birth. Models and animated drawings are used to describe the anatomy and physiology of the reproductive organs of men and women. The film stresses the biological normalcy of reproduction, and the importance of clear, objective familiarity with these facts as necessary to the success of marriage and parenthood.

The second film has three primary objectives: (1) to assure people of college age that emotional upsets are common; (2) to show that if a disturbance of this kind is prolonged, the need of professional counsel and care is just as important and normal

Curtain Will Rise Monday Evening, On Williams' 'The Glass Menagerie'

"The Glass Menagerie," Tennessee Williams' comedy-drama in two acts will open Monday night at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theater, under the sponsorship of Masquers.

The play centers about Amanda, a fading southern lady, who will be portrayed by E. J. Smith. Her crippled daughter, Laura, will be played by Janet Keller. Amanda's son, Tom, who is the narrator of the play, will be played by Gene DeCaprio, and the gentleman caller by Edwin Good.

The production will be presented each night from March 14 to March 19 at 8:15 in the Little Theater. The March 19 date has been set aside for paid admissions alone in order that outsiders may have an opportunity to see the play.

David E. MacArthur is director of this production, and is being assisted by Phyllis Williams. Scene design is under the direction of Maryann Rehm, while Alexander MacMorris is stage manager.

Other members of the production crew include Emmy Lou Schulteis, properties; John Regule, Edward Dotten, and Shirley McKinnon, lights; Barbara Cloud and Phyllis Williams, costumes; Louise Hendricks, music; Bruce Catt, Alexander MacMorris, Emmy Lou Schulteis, Mary Lou Hubbard, Edwin Good, Janet Keller and Phyllis Williams, construction crew.

Members of the stage crew are Delores Nieman, Lew Shirey, James Fudge, Glenn Reed, Bruce Catt and Frank Ruth. Mary Lou Hubbard will handle advertising.

Selection of Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel corporation, to deliver the 1949 commencement address at Westminster, June 6, has been announced by Dr. James M. Ferguson, president of the college board of trustees. In addition to delivering the address, Mr. Fairless will be honored with the doctor of laws degree.

Sign Regulations Announced By Orr

See editorial "It Should Work"

Posters and announcements are no longer permitted to be placed on doors, trees, and other odd places on campus, according to a memorandum issued yesterday by Dr. John Orr, acting president of the college. All notices placed contrary to regulations on or after March 16 will be removed by janitors.

Two bulletin boards have been designated for the use of students and student organizations. Short announcements should be placed on the large board in the lower hall of Old Main. The large, outside board at the west entrance is for posters. On the upper right corner of each notice or poster should be placed the dates during which it is to remain posted.

Another provision will be the Friday chapel service. Typewritten announcements handed to Miss Mercer, executive secretary to the president, at least one hour before chapel period on that day will be read by the organization in charge.

Football Star Wins Campus King Title

Dick Wharton was crowned Campus King at the Shares' auction held in the gym Wednesday night. The auction collected $158.24 for Westminster Shares to put the total for the campaign over the $2,000 mark.

Art Schreiber was the auctioneer, aided by Bruce Catt. Percy Hall and his combo provided music for the program, and Alyce Ann Eppley dedicated a song to the King, Dick Wharton.

A kiss from Jo Hodges brought the top bid of the evening from Don Hartman who was dressed as a hobo. Joe Hopkins bought a cat and shoe shine, the latter from Mr. Bibberich, who donated his services as shoe shine boy. The cakes baked by faculty wives received the most lively bidding during the evening. Approximately 45 articles donated by local merchants were sold.

Douglas, Barnes Will Go To Penn State Festival

John Douglas, reading the "Barrel Organ" by Alfred Noyes, won first prize in this year's poetry reading contest and Priscilla Barnes was awarded second prize. She read selections from Sandburg. Bill Dumbaugh gained third place in the contest with his reading of "The Old Huntsman" and "Siegfried Sassoon." Maryann Rehm received honorable mention by reading selections from Eleanor Graham.

The first and second prize winners will go to Penn State on May 4 and 5 to compete in the state poetry festival.

Three members of the English department of Slippery Rock college acted as judges for the final round. They were Mrs. Beulah Miller Cummins, Morrison Brown and Dr. Pierrepont Nichols.

Mr. John Forry announced today that this year's turnout for the finals was the biggest crowd ever to attend the event.

Benjamin F. Fairless, Steel Magnate Will Deliver Commencement Address

Fairless, Four Alumni Will Receive Degrees; Dr. James Ferguson Elected Board President

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United Steel corporation, will deliver Westminster's commencement address.

Mr. Fairless was named to speak at the June 6 exercises by the Board of Trustees at a meeting held Monday at the University club in Pittsburgh. He will also be granted a doctor of law degree.

Others named to receive degrees are the Rev. F. E. Vogan, Mercer; the Rev. Scott McMunn, Butler; the Rev. Arthur French, Washington, Pa., and the Rev. James Blackwood, Sunset Hills, Pittsburgh. All are former Westminster students and will receive doctor of divinity degrees.

Dr. James Ferguson of Bellvue, acting president of the board, was elected president and Atty. Clyde Armstrong of Pittsburgh, vice president. Atty. Robert Grier of Pittsburgh was re-elected secretary.

Plans were also approved for the construction of a faculty apartment of 10 units on a site yet to be determined. The committee on property, building and grounds, is composed of Judge W. W. Braham, New Castle; Norman Igo, New Wilmington; Atty. T. C. Cochran, Pittsburgh, and Atty. Thomas V. Mansell, New Wilmington, were authorized to take the necessary steps. The board also passed a motion allowing students entering Westminster from junior colleges to be eligible for scholarships under the same regulations that now govern freshmen.

Journalists, CGA Begin Radio Series

Future Plans Include Contest, Quiz Program

"The Beginning of the Press in America" was broadcast this morning to high school students in New Castle and Sharon. It is the first of a series of six programs to be presented by the history of journalism students and CGA members sketching the history of journalism. It is under the direction of the journalism department. Frank Ruth was today's program director.

This series, called the Lawrie Journalism series in honor of its sponsor Mrs. A. K. Lawrie of Thomasville, Ga., will be presented every Friday morning for six weeks to students in English, history, and problems of democracy in the New Castle and Sharon high schools.

Purpose Explained

The purpose of the programs is to help students gain a better understanding of the press as a whole, and to develop an interest and a sense of responsibility that the press of tomorrow be improved.

After each program students will write brief sketches based on the broadcast, and first and second prize winners will be chosen by Westminster judges. These prize winners will compete in a quiz program at the conclusion of the series with prizes including a $10 first prize and a $5 second prize. Journalism books will be presented to the libraries of the schools of the winners.

The next broadcast is entitled "Press Trials," with Lyle Bramhall as chairman.

Men Find Gal Who Won't Talk Back; Find Room Full Of Oddities Too

Have you met Pest Ma Rheres?

She has been here at Westminster for the past 50 years and 300 miles south of Cairo, Egypt, for about 2,000 to 2,500 years before that time.

Want to meet her? She won't have much to say for herself, because she is a real Egyptian mummy; she was the daughter of a pharaoh and lived during the Ptolemaic-Romanic period of Egyptian history. But for the past 50 years she has been in Westminster's Biological museum.

Probably this pharaoh's daughter was quite a beauty during her life but since beauty is only skin deep and no skin is left on her skull she now resembles a chunk of charcoal carved in the shape of a skull. However the mummy is only one of the odd and interesting exhibits that the members of Tri-Beta, biology honor-

Kerensky Survives Qualifying Rounds At State Tourney

Orators, Debate Teams Attend Annual Event At Allegheny College

John Kerensky, Westminster debater, is slated tonight to enter the finals in the extemporaneous division of the annual state debate and public speaking tournament at Allegheny college. He qualifies for the contest by virtue of his survival in the elimination rounds yesterday.

Students from Westminster and 28 other Pennsylvania schools are in Meadville for the three-day tournament which ends tomorrow. The meet is being sponsored by the Debate Association of Pennsylvania.

Others representing Westminster in men's and women's oratory were Bill Sample and Margaret Bullock. Lois Jean Cease was enrolled in the extemporaneous division in addition to Kerensky.

"Federal Aid to Education" is the topic under discussion by the debaters Florence Van Dyke and Ellen Rutherford are the affirmative side of the women's team, while June Bender and Maryann Rehm are the negative team.

On the men's team are Dick Stoneage and John Kerensky, affirmative; Bob Patton and Glenn Reed, negative.

The final debate will be broadcast over the Meadville radio station at 3:30 tomorrow. Swarthmore college was last year's winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorehouse are accompanying the students. In addition, Mr. Moorehouse was the toastmaster at a tournament banquet this evening.

Earlier this week the women debaters participated in an intercollegiate debate at Youngstown college. The men debated at Grove City college.

Committee Announces Scholarship Deadline

Application for the Henrietta Lee scholarships for next year must be made by April 22, it has been announced by the committee on these and honors.

These scholarships are open to juniors having not less than 75 hours credit and a 2.5 average at this time. The scholarships are for $100.

Juniors wishing more information on these scholarships should consult their major professor.

It Should Work . . .

DR. ORR'S directive against placing posters "just anywhere" on campus is sensible and necessary. Old Main's lower hall is beginning to look like a pawnshop with its lease running out. And the holes left by thumbtacks, not to mention the bare spots left where varnish has peeled off with glued announcements, don't improve the looks of the woodwork.

Realizing that cutting announcements from daily chapel was part of the cause for the artistic flood in Old Main, items may now be read on Fridays. This move was made with the consent of students in charge of the Friday programs. Students can help in this matter by keeping their news brief as possible.

Bulletin boards near departmental offices are reserved for those departments. No notices should be placed on them without the consent of the department chairman. Official announcements from administrative offices will appear in the glass-enclosed cases in Old Main.

If those in charge of the various bulletin boards see that outdated announcements are removed promptly, the new system should work. And the campus should again look the way we like to see it.

We Are Interested . . .

ADMINISTRATION sources have not made an official statement, but opinion is again running high that a president has been named.

However, no one at Westminster has been given authority to make a statement as to:

1. who he is
2. when he will take office
3. when his name will be announced

Now, we're a patient group; and although we may be confident that a man will be appointed—sometime—we find it hard to maintain faith in a board which doesn't bother to let us know how the situation is progressing.

If something important is happening, let's hear it. If nothing's happening, we feel we should know why not.

Board members, administration, faculty and students, as component parts of the college family, are vitally interested in this matter. And although we're willing to realize the wrong in premature news breaks, we do deserve periodic reassurance, especially in times when rumors run wild.

Moving Ahead . . .

TWO news items this week reflect a progressiveness here which is gratifying. The health insurance program is a direct benefit, and its cost is nominal. Movies to be shown by the biology department will present a valuable and necessary aspect of education.

Sally's Counsel Will Demand New Trial On Grounds Of Unfairness By Judge

WASHINGTON, March 11. —(UP)—Counsel for Mildred (Axis Sally) Gillars said today he will demand a new trial on the grounds that Federal Judge Edward M. Curran was unfair to the wartime Nazi broadcaster.

Chief defense attorney James J. Laughlin told newsmen that Judge Curran's charge to the jury which convicted Miss Gillars of treason was "outrageous and a shocking violation of accepted judicial procedure."

He said the charge was "an invitation (to the jury) to return a guilty verdict."

The Maine-born woman faces a possible maximum penalty of death, but she can be let off with a minimum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine. The federal government never has executed anyone for treason in peacetime.

Miss Gillars' counsel said that her love for a former Nazi radio official could not have compelled her to broadcast for the Nazi, nor was fear of being put in a concentration camp to be considered compulsion.

Mr. Laughlin has five days in which to file a motion for a new trial. He said he might file later today. Judge Curran may take as long as he wants to rule on the motion. If he denies it, he can impose sentence upon Miss Gillars at his convenience.

Silver Comet Derails

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 11. —(UP)—Four cars of the Silver Comet, Seaboard Airline Railway passenger train, ran off a pass track at a switch today and rolled into a field. Four persons suffered minor but painful injuries.

Three sleepers and a coach in the 10-car northbound train shot off at an angle from the rest of the train after a severe jolt at the switch.

Pullman conductor R. R. Hathaway, Birmingham, Ala., said the Birmingham to New York flier was going slowly over the pass tracks. He believed the derailment was caused by a split switch.

Palestine Truce Seen

RHODES, March 11. —(UP)—Israel and Trans-Jordan signed a formal cease-fire agreement today in their first major move toward an armistice which would settle their differences in Palestine.

Delegates of the two countries signed the agreement in the same room of the Hotel Des Roses where the Israeli-Egyptian armistice was signed two weeks ago.

Vickie Evans Set Free

HOLLYWOOD, March 11. —(UP)—Dancer Vickie Evans was free today of marijuana charges on which actor Robert Mitchum and two others were convicted.

A superior court jury of eight men and four women deliberated an hour and seven minutes yesterday before acquitting the blonde showgirl. She put her head on her attorney's shoulder and wept.

She denied knowing that marijuana was being smoked at the hillside cottage where she was arrested Sept. 1 with Mitchum, starlet Lila Leeds and realtor Robin Ford. Mitchum and Miss Leeds are serving 60-day sentences on marijuana charges.

Mercer Woman Indicted

MERCER, Pa., March 11. —(UP)—The Mercer county grand jury today indicted Mrs. Marie James, of Reynolds Village, on charges of murder and manslaughter.

She was accused of the fatal stabbing of Lewis O. Waring, a neighbor, last New Year's day in a Reynolds Village tavern. Mrs. James will be brought to trial next week.

Fair Weather Ahead

For Ohio, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania:

Temperature will average near or a little below normal with present cold snap moderating Sunday; warmer Monday but turning cold again Tuesday or Wednesday. Rain or snow about first of week; otherwise fair weather. Total amount of precipitation about one-half inch.

Laugh Frequency Of Campus Reinflates Punctured Morale

by Sally

When tuning in, whether on campus or on a radio, certain stations on the wave length come in more clearly than others. Everything can't be found on the dial, but this week's campus mike has picked up some items for the radio fan.

It's strictly a short wave broadcast when Peggy Morris hears her birthday serenade by Shady Lane, Frank Darby, Jim Fudge and Bill Dumbaugh . . . in the infirmary . . . while Pat Branagan leaves the ward feeling fine but "Penicillin sore" . . . and Nancy Engle collects autographs on her plaster cast . . . yet Jean Garvin, with a strictly desk job complains that she sits so much she's becoming "galvanized."

Static can be heard when a pledge calls to Chuck Pitcher, putting his window on the second floor, "Look at the putty Pitcher." . . . and Bob Rounce buys bath salts at the auction which turn out to be dusting powder . . . as if that isn't enough, a dozen eggs are dropped on his head later in the evening . . . while "King" Wharton blushes as he is crowned . . . but Gus Manwaring supplies smoke for "Down at the Station" with a cigarette-cellophane bellows.

Dead air—bad on radio—is even worse during a lecture question period . . . as Scotty Shields is asked by Mr. Smith, "What's on your mind?" and replies "Nothin'." . . . and fire follower Ruth Spangler exclaims about the chicken coop blaze at Neshannock Falls . . . while "Tarzan" Ray Op't Hof climbs a tree and swings from limb to limb rescuing Betty Lou Lint's tennis shoes . . . but latecomers Ed Lindenberg and Bill Danver prepare to leave the dining hall without eating until two half-finished meals are offered them.

Only television can catch the expression on Brady Mitchell's face as he complains that Dick Fuhrer lassoes milk from his windowsill on the floor below and returns the empty bottles . . . and Miss Gilliland compares Walt Whitman's poetry with a Sears-Roebuck catalogue . . . it has everything . . . while Joe Hopkins' classes think an investigation should be made of the tonic he drinks during class periods . . . as Frank Ruth blushes when Jo Meyer informs him that names ARE confusing.

We sign-off this Friday with the request that you dial our frequency frequently.

Titan Tattletale

MOZART MATRICULATES

These music students really know their stuff. The other day Bob Lyons was asked to identify an orchestral number on the phonograph. Of course he knew it and said immediately, "That's the second movement from Mozart's E flat major symphony."

It was "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" by Richard Rodgers.

SIMPLE SOLUTION

In one of Dr. Creighton's history classes, a democratic vote was taken to decide whether the test would be given on Tuesday or Thursday.

The vote was even, so Harry Abraham suggested a compromise.
NO TEST!

TRY, TRY AGAIN

Mr. Barbato has difficulties with Marge Hastings in instruments class. One of her classic mistakes occurred the day she sat all period trying to get some music out of a flute.

Her only trouble was that she'd forgotten to take the end covering off before she started to blow.

FROSH BRAIN TRUST

The economics classes may not teach it, but Frank Jones and Jim Deighan have really learned the art of trading. They went to Newc the other day with just a shoestring and returned with a book, a glass, and a piece of imported German pottery.

JUST LIKE GRANDMA'S?

The College hall residents have become business men with clothes pressing, and shoe shine establishments. Now Phil Coombe and Frank Finlay have set up an apple pie business in the kitchen.

They claim they're "right tasty" morsels.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Westminster's basketball record for the 1948-49 season is 15 wins and eight losses. This record placed the team eighth, out of 28 teams in the tri-state district. While this is not an excellent record for the Tall Boys, it is much better than average. This might sound like a very familiar strain which is heard in the vicinity of Brooklyn every fall, but I'll gladly go out on a limb and say that Waynesburg, St. Francis, Geneva, and especially Pitt won't get off so easily next year.

Last week one of the Pittsburgh sports scribes offered a fitting epitaph for Carnegie Tech's season finale here, as he wrote, "..... the Tartans are hosts to Grove City Wednesday, then say GOODBYE at Westminster on Saturday." It seemed for a time, however, that Marty Chetlin and Mike Theodore, Tartan scoring stars, didn't want to leave. It never pays to underrate the Plaid.

West Virginia's Mounties are the latest victims of the Pitt whirligig. Last Saturday night the Panthers ended the Mounties' home cage winning streak at 57 games..... a record which started back in 1944. The Jungle Cats turned the tide on the Mountaineers' home court that year also. The Pittites held the ball for seven minutes and 56 seconds at the end of the first half. Doc Carlson's cunning comment was, "..... sure, the crowd booed, but West Virginia could have come out after us." Seems we've heard that song before.

Now that the court season is closed the sounds of many sneaker-clad feet can be heard resounding from the runway at the gym, as the track team prepares for the spring grind. With Coach Burry at the helm we can expect another successful season.

Doc Thomas' golf team will be taking to the fairways soon in preparation for a stiff season. The Titan divot-diggers were last year's district champs and will be out to repeat their performance this spring.

Any new students and freshmen with some experience are welcome to try out for the team and they should contact Dr. Thomas in the News Bureau. Practice on the New Castle Country club links will start as soon as the weather breaks.

Titans End Season With Win And Loss For 15-8 Record

Fans Honor Dembinski As Tech Tartans Lose To Locals In Thriller

Coach Grover C. Washabaugh's Towering Titans closed the 1948-49 basketball season with 15 wins against eight losses as they defeated Carnegie Tech last Saturday night, 59-55. They lost to the Washington and Jefferson team on Thursday night of last week by an identical score.

In a thrilling home contest Saturday evening the Tall Boys ran their home floor winning streak to 59 triumphs as they edged a fighting Carnegie Tech quintet.

Led by diminutive Marty Chetlin and sharp-shooting Mike Theodore, the inspired Tartans led the Blue and White until late in the fourth quarter. Behind by five points with four minutes remaining in the final period, the Titans put on a thrilling drive that netted them the victory.

Playing his last collegiate game for Westminster, Captain Chester Dembinski received a tremendous ovation from the fans during the intermission between the third and fourth quarters. Chester scored 13 points to bring his season's scoring total to 272 points.

In a contest equally as exciting as the Tech game, the Washington and Jefferson Presidents downed the Titans, 59-55, Thursday, March 3. Jack Jones took high scoring honors with 13 tallies. Jack Turney with 10 markers was high scorer for the Prexies.

Teachers Break Even In WAA Sport Festival

In the WAA sports festival held Wednesday evening, March 2, a male student team defeated a faculty five, 27-16. Laughlin and Paul were high scorers for the youngsters with eight and seven points respectively, while Sheridan was the leading scorer for the losers with six markers.

The women's faculty cagers pulled an upset by defeating the students, 10-8. Miss Bailey led the tutors with six points while Sally Groetzing netted six markers for the students.

A third event of the evening was a volley ball battle between a team of boys and a sextet of coeds. The men ran away with the game, 28-14.

Hard Work Brings Reward For New Soccer Captain

By Alex Spisak

When asked what he thought of the game of soccer, Akio Aburano replied, "It is a lot of hard work, but I like it". Which is probably the reason why Aky has been elected soccer captain for the 1949 season.

All the fellows on the team feel that it was a wise choice, for Aky is one of the most popular players on the team. He is a great crowd pleaser with his sliding antics in stealing the ball from the opposition.

Aky's interest in the game was manifested in the fall of 1947 when Coach Harold Burry, Westminster's minor sports mentor, tried to get him to run over hill and dale for the cross-country team. Aky kept out of Mr. Burry's sight, for he had no particular desire to run five or six miles in one stretch. Not to be stymied, Mr. Burry caught up with Aky and had him go out for soccer. He liked the game upon being exposed to it, and the coach tabbed him for a starting berth for the following year.

Born In California

Aky is a California lad and was born on August 30, 1926, in Graton. His high school athletic record started at Sabastopol high school in Anala, California, where he ran the 50 and 120 yard dashes and also performed in the high jump. He earned his first high school letter for his efforts that year and then moved to Amashe, Colorado, where he was graduated from the local high school in June of 1943. His home is now at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Aky came to Westminster in the spring of 1944 but because athletics had been discontinued during the war, he was out of action for a while.

Uncle Sam sent Aky "greetings" in November of 1944 and promptly shipped him to Italy. During his tour of duty with the army he served as a medical aide in the infantry. He was discharged in October of 1946 and returned to Westminster's campus in the spring of 1947.

Top Man Again

Last season Aky again was a top man on the squad, doing his best in the 100, 220, and 440 yard events, and the one mile relay. He was also "top" man in the pole vault event, hitting over ten feet on several occasions.

Athletics have their thrilling and embarrassing moments no matter what sport they play. Aky can't recall any thrills, but he tells us that he was very red in the face one time when he was trying to kick a soccer ball over his head. He missed the ball and fell flat on his back to the amusement of several spectators.

With another tough soccer season coming up next fall, we wish the squad a successful year and know that the captaincy of the team is in good hands.

McCullough Is Named To Press 'Dream Team'

Allan "Mac" McCullough was named to the Tri-State all star team by the Pittsburgh Press today. Others named to the "dream team" are Fred Shaus, West Virginia; Sam David, Pitt; Charley Cooper and Jim Farrell, Duquesne.

The Press said in making its choice that the players were selected on the basis of all-around ability rather than point totals.

SPE's Win IM Cup As SN's Drop Two

Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated the Sigma Nu's in two afternoon encounters last Monday afternoon to win the intramural basketball league championship which they have held since 1938.

The first game between the B teams was sparked by Renny Jackson who hit the nets for 16 points, as the Sig Ep quintet won, 37-12. "Bucky" Ambill was high scorer for the losers with seven markers.

In the feature game between the two A teams, the scoring was low as the Sig Eps topped the SN squad, 20-18. Bill Paul led the winners with eight markers while Bob Jackson had seven points for the losers.

The final standings for the interfraternity league for the second half is as follows:

| Team      | Won | Lost |
|-----------|-----|------|
| Sig Eps   | 8   | 2    |
| Sigma Nu  | 6   | 4    |
| Alpha Sig | 1   | 9    |

The Independent loop standings:

| Team        | Won | Lost |
|-------------|-----|------|
| Leftwingers | 2   | 1    |
| Indies      | 2   | 2    |

The Leftwingers have one more game to play. If they lose, the league will be tied and will necessitate a play off.

| Team        | Won | Lost |
|-------------|-----|------|
| Married Men | 2   | 2    |
| YMCA        | 1   | 3    |

Swimmers Elect Braun And Cassell To Co-Captaincy

Burrymen Lose Crown To Rocket Tanksters In Penn-Ohio Relays

Bob Braun and Fred Cassell have been elected co-captains of next year's swimming team by the members of the swimming squad. Bob has been a mainstay on the team for the past two seasons, swimming in the breast stroke and back stroke events last year and specializing in the back stroke this season.

Fred is quickly becoming a star breast-stroker and has been well up in the point average in his two seasons on the squad. The men were chosen on the basis of hard work and improvement in their swimming during the season.

Bob and Fred relieve Captain Bill Wallace, free style star, who will be graduated in June. Bill has won the acclaim of the entire squad for his leadership during the past season and deserves a vote of congratulations for his fine job.

Lose Relay Event

Saturday, the swimming team, last year's Penn-Ohio relay champs, ran up against stiff competition at Carnegie Tech's pool when they attempted to defend their crown in the Penn-Ohio events. Slippery Rock college won the meet with a total of 45 points. The Titans placed sixth in the annual meet as four swimmers and the relay team placed to give Westminster eight points.

Gaining fifths were Fenwick in the 200-yard free style; Pitcher, 100-yard free style; Cassell, 200-yard breast stroke, and Gavett, 440-yard free style. The 400-yard relay team of Fenwick, Pitcher, Reichert and Cassell placed fourth.

Coach Burry's swimmers finished their regular season with a record of six wins and five losses. The following individual point records include the regular season meets.

Pitcher, 97; Fenwick, 55; Cassell, 52; Gavett, 48; Braun, 47; Wallace, 44; Reichert, 18; Enroth, 9; Seaholm, 5; Gunett, 4; Brown, 4; Orser, 4; Hosie, 2; Swan, 2.

Runners Begin Drills As Track Season Nears

Coach Harold Burry has announced that the track team has started its informal training program in preparation for the 1949 season. There is still a large opening for track aspirants in both track and field events, according to Coach Burry, who says that he would like a large turnout for the squad.

He adds that no former experience in track events is necessary.

Track Schedule

The following track schedule for the 1949 season has been released by Grover C. Washabaugh, director of athletics.

Jim Salsgiver, '49, was on campus last weekend for the Carnegie Tech game.

SIGMA NU's held a serenade last Tuesday evening for Ann Nicodemus and Bee Jones, recently pinned. . . . Miss Gloria DeBlasio, Youngstown, Ohio, accepted the Sigma Nu pin of Paul Rossi last weekend. . . . Dick Beveridge, '48, was a weekend visitor. . . . Mr. Robert Smith was a dinner guest Wednesday evening. . . . house guests last weekend were Marty Chetlin and Jack Riehl, Sigma Nu's from Carnegie Tech's basketball team.

Prayer Requests Warmth, Strength

By Bill Anderson

If the Alpha Sig or Sig Ep pledges appear exceptionally devout in chapel next week, you'll know that they're praying for fair weather for Friday, March 18, when a tug-of-war will take place between the pledges of the two fraternities.

This event, which may become traditional, will be staged at 4:30 p.m. across Neshannock Creek by the Volant road.

Even more prayerful than the pledges will be Joe Solomon, Sig Ep pledge master, and Don Book and Jack Wilson, Alpha Sig pledge trainers. If the Sig Eps win, into the creek go Book and Wilson; if the Alpha Sigs win, as they did last year, Joe Solomon can forget about his Saturday night bath next week. . . . Each side will consist of thirty-five pledges, who must remember that spiked shoes of any kind are taboo. Sam Sloan, dean of men, will shoot the gun to start the war, which will be waged with an Alpha Sig donated rope.

Last year, after challenging the Sig Eps, twenty five outweighed Alpha Sigs succeeded in pulling the Sig Eps into the creek. This year, however, the Sig Eps declared war and are hungry for revenge.

as with any physical illness, and (3) to explain in simplified language some of the basic techniques of psychiatric treatment and thereby allay the stigma attached to the necessity for this treatment.

These two films are being presented under the auspices of the department of biology. All interested students and friends of the college are invited to attend without charge.

Tub-Goers Hear News Of Moment*Students Asked For News Contributions

WRW and the journalism department, under the supervision of student director Jim Sharp, are presenting local, national, and international news three times daily over the TUB loud-speaker system.

Two of the broadcasts consist solely of campus news, announced at 10:45 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. At 12:45 p.m., journalism department announcers bring the national and international news from the United Press. Frank Ruth and Alexander MacMorris comprise the journalism announcing staff, while WRW members handle the campus news.

MacMorris states that the students responsible for the project wish to expand the hook-up to radios within a two mile radius of the WRW studios. He emphasizes that this undertaking is not restricted to members of WRW and journalism students. Anyone interested in the technical or verbal aspects of news announcing should seek information from Director Sharp.

Mr. Donald A. Barbe, head of the speech department, stresses that the campus news programs are based on material submitted by students. Contributions must be written on index cards, then placed in boxes located in Old Main and the TUB.

Men Find Gal

Many of the museum's collections were sent by former graduates or missionaries of the United Presbyterian church. But the museum contains other kinds of material. Such varied objects as Indian arrowheads, ceremonial buddhas, Far Eastern costumes, face masks of racial evolution and bullets from various wars were found by the members of the honorary. Even the latest thing in journalistic outfits of 2,500 years ago, an Egyptian scribe's kit, is in the museum.

Tri-Beta's members hope to clean and re-arrange some of the exhibits so they can be properly displayed in the limited space left by the classroom invasion. The large and varied collections of sea shells and plant fossils are to be the first displayed. The other extensive collections will be classified and stored until there is more room for the museum.

According to specialists from Carnegie Tech, who viewed the mineralogical specimens last month, they include some rare and valuable formations. Not only are the shell, fossil and mineral collections extensive but many of the Egyptian items are unusual. Besides the mummy there are preserved cats and dogs, that the Egyptians venerated and buried with their dead, plus carved wood servants.

Perhaps before long, thanks to the hard work of the Tri-Beta members, Westminsterites will be able to again gaze on Pest Ma Rheres and other re-discovered treasures in the Biological museum.

Shares Campaign Reaches $2,391 As Drive Continues

Pledges Are Expected To Total Almost $2700 Before May 5 Deadline

Westminster Shares fund total to date is $2,391.64, it has been announced by the Shares committee.

In addition, pledges have been received which would bring the total state debate and public fund total to approximately $2,700 by May 5, when the campaign will officially close. The goal is $2,978.

The contributions were divided as follows:

|                    |          |
|--------------------|----------|
| Auction            | $164.52 |
| Board of Trustees  | 154.00   |
| Faculty and Staff  | 591.00   |
| King Contest       | 57.85    |
| Lecture (Gillilan) | 98.46    |
| Organizations      | 260.00   |

Numerically, 513 students contributed to the fund. There were 92 members of the faculty and staff, 12 members of the Board of Trustees, and 16 organizations, who made donations.

This year's total shows an increase over the totals of the past two years of Shares' history. In 1947 the total was $1,625, and in 1948, $2,294.

Candidates Named For Queen Of May

Candidates for Westminster's 1949 May Queen are Jan Cuthbert, Alyce Ann Eppley, Charmaine Hazen, Carolyn Holub, Helen Papazickos, Marge Powell, and Phyl Williams.

The May Queen will be elected by an all-student vote in chapel Thursday. Queen candidates are traditionally chosen from second semester junior coeds by Student Council and a committee of YW and YM members.

YW and YM are in charge of the May Queen ceremonies each year. Student Council helps choose the candidates so the entire student body is represented during their selection.

Journalists Broadcast To High School Classes

Second in the series of six broadcasts on the "History of Journalism", was presented to high school classes in New Castle and Sharon today.

These broadcasts are being presented by the journalism department assisted by CGA. Llye Bramhall was the chairman of today's broadcast.

The cast included Mr. Forry, regular narrator for the series, Wilbur Dumbaugh, Paul Talley, John Ellison, Alvin Waugaman, Patty Trapp, and Joel Mellinger. Sound effects are handled by Sally McCoy and Frank Ruth is the program director.

Tri Beta To Sponsor Gym Swimming Party

Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biology fraternity, will hold a swim party tomorrow night in the college pool from 8:15 to 11 p.m.

Music, balloons, refreshments, and life guard protection will be provided, and the water will be heated. Water polo will be played.

The committee planning the party is headed by Mark Gleeson, assisted by Martha Wedel, Pat Johnson, and Duff Brown. Admission will be 25 cents.

Dr. Will W. Orr is Westminster's tenth president. He will leave a pastorate in Des Moines, Iowa, to begin his new job late in April.

Fall Deposits Now Due

Registration deposits for students who plan to return to Westminster next fall will be accepted in the business office until Saturday noon, April 23, it is announced by Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women. Those who will live on campus are required to pay $25, while non-residents will be charged $10.

Women will draw room numbers after that date, the stipulation being that only those whose deposits are paid will be permitted to participate.

Student Council Plans Annual Formal Dance

Student Council's annual all-college semi-formal dance will be held March 26 in the gym. The theme of this year's dance is a Mexican Fiesta, with entertainment and decorations suitable for the theme. The price of the dance will be $1.40 per couple, tax included.

Officers At Hall Plan Improvement

Under a new plan to better conditions at College hall, the following officers have been elected: Harry Abraham, president; Chuck Councilor, vice president; Phil Coombe, secretary, and Jim Deigan, treasurer.

Two meetings have been held at which rules were made to govern study hours and provide a recreational program for the hall. Plans have been made to hold a dance party in the near future.

Other plans being considered for improvement of the hall are provisions for a reading room and a new recreational setup. Requests have been made to allow men's parents to visit the rooms while visiting the campus.

Mr. Henry M. Calvert and Mr. Sam Sloan have helped the men in making the rules. Mr. Calvert is filling in for Mrs. MacDonald who is convalescing in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Memory Play, Starring E. J. Smith, Scores Hit

By Sally McCoy

"Blow out your candles, Laura," says Tom, but for audiences of the Masquers' presentation, "The Glass Menagerie," the candles are not out. Like the music in the background, the lives of the Wingfields go on and on with little change, but are not soon forgotten. In this serious "comedy-drama" our brief glimpse into the thoughts and hopes of the Wingfields leaves us in the depressed mood which Williams intended.

E. J. Smith, as the nagging, criticizing Amanda, gives by far the best performance of the play. Her reminiscing about the gracious life and her seventeen gentlemen callers provides some lighter spots in the play. E. J. is sincere as her deep concern over the welfare of her children reveals the discord in the Wingfield family. Talking continually in her high-pitched, gushing southern accent, she loses herself in the person of Amanda. One moment she is the distraught worrisome mother; the next a gay, charming Amanda in her youth at Blue Mountain.

Eugene De Caprio again gives a good performance as the bored, sarcastic Tom to whom the call of adventure and desire for places far from the hum drum alley in St. Louis are as strong as his father's "love for long distance." But as the narrator of the play he "reads" his lines. The story is not told by Tom Wingfield but by Eugene De Caprio.

Janet Keller, as Laura, is well-cast; but we have the feeling that it is Jan limping about the stage, playing old phonograph records, and arranging her glass menagerie. She speaks her lines in a cold dramatic manner, brightening only when the gentleman caller arrives. But this

Student Council Plans Celebration For April Arrival Of Dr. Will W. Orr

New President Comes From Des Moines; Held Pastorate With Congregation of 2,123

Dr. Will W. Orr's arrival on campus late next month to take over his recently appointed position as president, will signal the occasion for Dr. John Orr, acting president, to declare a college holiday. Dr. Orr and his family are expected to be here late on the 27th or early on the 28th of April.

Plans for the holiday, which will include an official reception for Dr. Orr, are in the hands of Student Council. It is not decided whether the event will take place Thursday, the 28th, or Friday. There is some speculation that if Thursday is chosen a three-day celebration will be called, since Parent's day is scheduled for Saturday of that week.

In the president's family are Mrs. Orr and three children, two boys and a girl. Their ages are nine, seven, and five. They will live in the president's house of the college, located at 560 Vine St., until the new one is built. Plans for its construction are being considered now.

At present, Dr. Orr is pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian church, Des Moines, Iowa. Since his pastorate began in Des Moines on April 1, 1939, the church's membership has increased from 327 to 2,123. A total of 2,312 new members were accepted during those years. He preaches his sermons twice each Sunday morning in order to accommodate the congregation.

Born May 4, 1904, in Charlotte, North Carolina, the new president is a graduate of Erskine college and Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary. Erskine is in Due West, South Carolina.

Taught High School

After receiving his degree from Erskine in 1926, he taught science in Statesville high school, North Carolina for one year. He served as principal of the Sardis-Carmel high school in his home town the next year. Then he enrolled in the seminary in 1928, graduating in 1931.

The First United Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls, Pa., held his services for the next eight years before he took his pastorate in Iowa. In 1940 he received a D.D. degree from Sterling college, Kansas. During the war he served as chaplain.

History Frat Members Will Attend Banquet

Three members of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, with their chapter advisor, will attend the annual spring banquet of the Beta chapter of the fraternity at the University of Pittsburgh Monday.

They are Don Huston, Bob O'Melia, John Vandling, and Dr. Alice K. Schuster, advisor.

Dr. J. H. Chambers, professor of history at the University of Leeds, England, and at present visiting professor of history at the University of Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania College for Women, will speak.

Kerensky, Sample Win First Places At Allegheny Meet

Winners Will Advance To National Tourney By Virtue Of Wins

Two Westminster students, John Kerensky and William Sample, will attend a national speech contest because each won a first place in the annual state debate and public speaking tournament at Allegheny college recently.

Kerensky, winner of the men's extemporaneous event at the Allegheny tournament, will go to the Grand Nationals debate and speech tournament at Mary Washington college, at Fredericksburg, Va., April 13 to 16.

Sample, who won the men's oratorical contest, will attend the National Intercollegiate Oratorical contest at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ind., April 22 and 23.

At the Allegheny tournament, in which 29 colleges participated, Westminster finished in fifth place. The men's affirmative team, John Kerensky and Richard Stonage, and the women's negative team, June Bender and Maryann Rehm, went through the tournament undefeated.

Sample and Kerensky

The men's affirmative team will debate Thursday, March 24, at 8 o'clock over WKST, New Castle. The next afternoon they will meet Pitt in a debate to be held at the Western Penitentiary, Pittsburgh.

The affirmative team and a negative team, Robert Patton and Glenn Reed, will participate in the annual Washington and Jefferson tournament March 25 and 26.

Three Musicians Rate State Band Festival

Three Westminster musicians will be in the intercollegiate band at the second Intercollegiate State Band Festival at Indiana State Teachers college, March 24 to 26.

They are Jack R. McCullough, who will play the bassoon, Ralph Brown, and John Cutler, who will play clarinets.

Morton Gould, conductor and composer, will be guest conductor. Assisting him in the conducting will be C. David McNaughton, band director of Indiana State Teachers college, and Leslie Saunders, president of the Pennsylvania Music Education association.

The intercollegiate band will consist of 135 musicians from 22 Pennsylvania colleges.

Presidential Horizon...

DR. WILL ORR comes to us with an enviable and well earned reputation. He has become known in many parts of the country as a result of his success in former work. The tremendous increase in members of his Des Moines church, his successful plan for youth which is spreading to many other churches, and his worth as a speaker have proved him to be a man of high caliber.

He was chosen from among 65 men who were considered by the Board of Trustees, according to Dr. James Ferguson, president of the board. His election came, as we well know, after more than a 16 month wait. Such a careful decision, though it was a long time coming, symbolizes the desire of all of us for a president whose work will be successful.

Success in his new job will mean to us a healthy relationship among all elements of the college, sound administration policies, and wise rules for student governing—all helping to build towards a greater Westminster. Dr. Orr's record indicates that his capabilities equal the task.

But the job is not his alone. The need to work for the betterment of our alma mater is a responsibility to be shared by every member of the college family. Dr. Orr will be the architect, but we must be the builders.

His value as an experienced and proven leader will show beneficial results only in proportion to the cooperation shown by everyone at Westminster.

We owe it to ourselves and to our new president to cooperate in every way possible when he takes office next month.

Education For Living...

OVERFLOWING crowds at the movies on emotional health and human reproduction shown by Myron L. Simpson, biology department head, this week prove the interest students have in such education.

Students are interested in learning how to handle the responsibilities of married life. They are interested in discovering the best ways to meet problems in raising children. And they are interested in knowing more about normal bodily functions.

The beginning steps in providing such information are already laid. In addition to the recent movies, YMCA and YWCA have sponsored a lecture series for several years.

Now is the time for a marriage course to be introduced which will benefit all of Westminster's students. A faculty committee should be appointed to study the situation and submit a plan.

Atlantic Pact Pledges Help For 20 Years; Congress Must Rule Armed Force Necessary

By Donald J. Gonzales, UP Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 18. —(UP)—The North Atlantic treaty would pledge the United States for the next 20 years to help Western Europe repel any Russian attack—but with armed force only if Congress ruled such action necessary.

The pact, the greatest peacetime defensive alliance ever proposed in the history of power politics, was published today. It will be signed here in early April.

It would not legally commit this nation to war in event of Soviet aggression. Under the Constitution only Congress can declare war. The pact would pledge the United States to take "such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force."

But while the treaty would preserve all the constitutional forms of the signing nations, its top American negotiator, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, frankly stated his belief that a major attack on Western Europe would mean this country should go to war.

Acheson said at a news conference that the pact carries no moral or other obligation on the part of the United States to go to war over a mere border incident.

But he made clear his belief that, under the pact, Congress should declare war if an aggressor launched an all-out attack, like those suffered by France in 1914 and 1940, at any nation in the North Atlantic defense area.

At Key West, Fla., where he is vacationing, President Truman said the treaty has his entire approval. He has read the text of the pact and of a speech Acheson will make about it tonight and has approved both, Mr. Truman said.

Key senators, both Democratic and Republican, indicated that the treaty is assured of senate ratification—but only after Acheson tells how much it will cost in terms of U.S. arms shipments to Europe.

The administration plans to ask Congress to authorize a military lend-lease program to cost between one and two billion dollars in the first year.

Federal Aid Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 18. —(UP)—The Senate Labor committee today approved unanimously companion bills to provide $300,000,000 for federal aid to education and $35,000,000 for school health services.

Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, said the bills represent a bipartisan effort to provide good educations and good health services for the nation's children.

Coal Shutdown Still On

PHILADELPHIA, March 18. —(UP)—The United Mine Workers refused today to call off the two-week memorial shutdown, despite charges by anthracite operators that the work stoppage was illegal under terms of the hard coal contract.

Two officials of the UMW issued statements at Scranton, Pa., upholding the mine suspensions, shortly after Ralph E. Taggart, anthracite operators' spokesman, reiterated a demand for cancellation of John L. Lewis' no-work order in the hard coal region.

'Fair Deal' Hopes High

KEY WEST, Fla., March 18. —(UP)—President Truman said today that despite the opposition of Southern Democrats and others he still hopes to get a major part of his Fair Deal program through Congress.

He said the events in Congress lately show that the nation has a three party system, just as it had in the presidential campaign last fall.

Approve Aircoach Plan

WASHINGTON, March 18. —(UP)—Capital Airlines announces that the Civil Aeronautics board has given approval to start two new aircoach services at rates comparable with railroad coach rates.

The routes are between New York and Minneapolis-St. Paul via Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, and Milwaukee, and between Washington and Chicago via Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Detroit. The first will open on March 24, the second on April 1.

Infirmiry Corrals Sniffers But Campus News Slips In

by Sally

A slight sniffle, a stinging in your throat, a weak feeling, and before you know it you're in . . . the infirmiry—not a popular building, but one frequently visited. You move to a world of soap operas and radio news reports; you lose contact with the campus except for fragments.

It's a dignified waiter at Allegheny college who feels ill, when he announces "Fish at the last four tables," and Tink Bullock confides, "I'd rather eat with the people." . . . while Bob Love and Jane Scott trade coats and imitate each other . . . dances claim the limelight as Chuck Jackson, Larry Friday, John Kratz, and Chuck Pitcher hold a private square dance, with John Anderson calling and playing . . . but Isy Cooper and Betty Toner use another style in their modern dance version of "Slaughter on Tenth Street."

It's not the heat that makes Myra Reichart's face red. . . . as she asks Dave Reed, "Do you take measurements?" and Dave's "Yes-ss?" brings the realization that he didn't know she meant the course in educational measurement . . . and the junior balcony finally stands, after getting up and down several times; they stand when the others sit . . . Vito Taylor amuses the rest of the psych class when he reveals that a tic is an animal . . . but Mrs. Jones has to look twice when she enters a freshman English class to find a dog seated in the front row with a book open in front of him.

"Hot" news, not a temperature, warms Bob Culison as flames eat a hole through the newspaper he is reading . . . while Roger Jarvis and Percy Hall call "Hup . . . two . . . three . . . four to a line of girls walking down the other side of the street . . . but Sally Fyock is swept off her feet when Tom Eckles carries her up to the Grill . . . and Marge Phillips confused her humanities class by referring to Franklin's DOGWOOD papers.

Something to deaden the pain is needed as Joe Hopkins is forced to write a retraction in the Globe of the statement that he broke his teeth eating his wife's cookies . . . Harvey Stewart announces the new president to early morning telephoners . . . as girls at Browne wake when the cry "Will Orr" is mistaken for "War" . . . and "Lady of Spain" holds sway on the juke box at the TUB.

Let's leave the fragments behind as a few bright red pills put us in shape for next week.

Titan Tattletale

ON THE ALERT

Shirley Vogel will think twice before she hugs the wall while walking on the first floor of Old Main. Monday, she was walking along when suddenly a door was flung open and she found herself inside—the door marked MEN.

BASKETBALL DAZE

It was a regular Hullabaloo when six football players played the girls in a basketball game—girl's rules—and won 37-25. Fellows complained about the fouls, especially when Chuck Nicholas placed his hand on the ball held by Ginny Lightner, and then turned sheepishly as the whistle blew.

GUEST OF HONOR

At College hall, they're so proud of their temporary "housemother", Mr. Calvert, that they decided to give him a party. They bought a cake and really planned a feast.

Mr. Calvert forgot to come.

INSURMOUNTABLE OBSTACLE

It was one of those hot stuffy classrooms, but Dick Coleman jumped up, walked to the window, put up the blind, and then with a bewildered look announced to the class, "It's locked."

Westminster's Gala WOW Day

The President Arrives

The HOLCAD presents on this page a pictorial review of some of the events of this week's "Will Orr Welcome," officially titled WOW Day by the Student Council committee in charge.

Dr. Will W. Orr arrived on Westminster's campus Wednesday afternoon amid the cheers of hundreds of excited students, faculty, and townspeople. The streets of New Wilmington were lined with people anxious to catch a glimpse of the new president and his family as they rode by in a convertible driven by Student Council President Ray Dunlap.

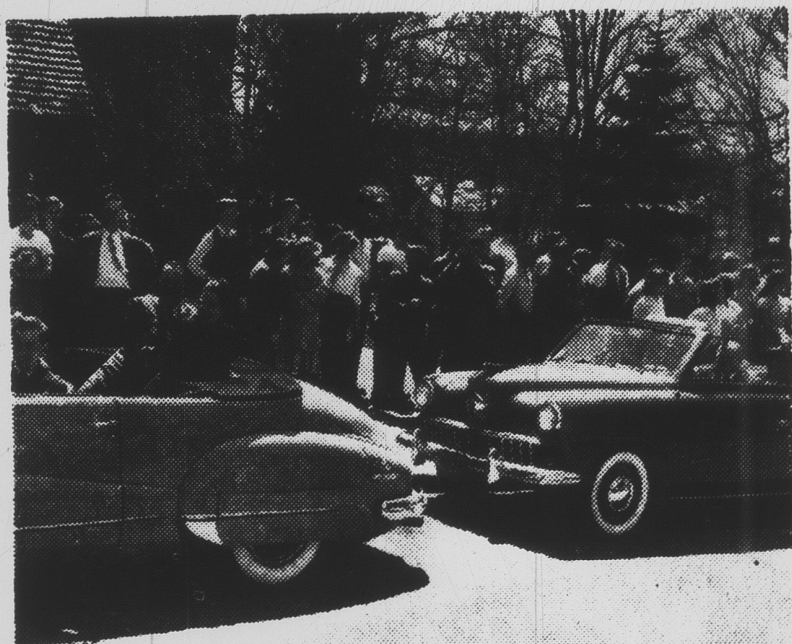

Their official car followed the college band in the parade and preceded float after float made by various campus organizations. Such mottoes as "pulling with Orr" and "now is the hour" dotted the long stream of decorated vehicles strung out behind. Sigma Phi Epsilon's pirate galley ship, fully equipped with pirates, took the judges' eyes for the second prize of $10 in the float competition.

A slow moving Kappa Delta turtle, head bobbing, was not too slow to be named third best in the parade, for a prize of $5. The three Orr children, Wilson, Arlis, and David, performed the honors in presenting the awards.

Surprised and somewhat taken aback by the huge celebration, Dr. Will Orr was almost, but not quite, speechless on what he termed would probably be "the last occasion you'll see me without words." He recalled that Joe Hopkins, chairman of the day and Bible instructor, had mentioned to him in a letter that there would be a few preparations made for his welcome.

Chi Omega's float, winner of the $15 first prize, symbolizes the gold rush of '49. Only Westminster, they say, found Will Orr instead of gold ore. The girls were dressed in typical prospector garb, and wielded suitable implements.

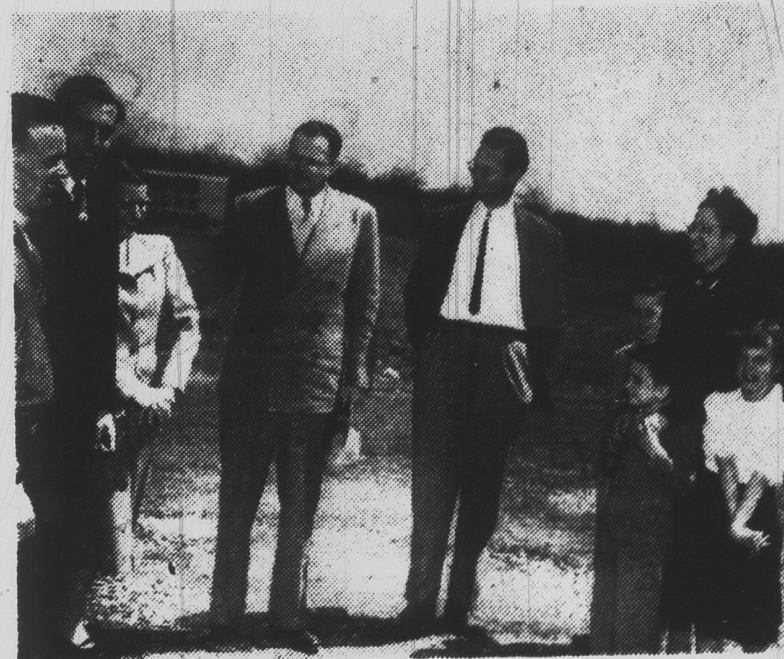

Our roving photographer catches the Orrs in an informal moment during the parade. This picture was snapped as the official automobiles passed the United Presbyterian church.

Three Westminster presidents, all in a row. Dr. John Orr, acting president since autumn, 1947; Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president 1932-46, and Dr. Will Orr, president May 1, 1949.

Symbolizing the combined welcoming spirit of the fraternities is Alpha Sigma Phi's "Greek Tribute." The Greek warriors on the float are Lucky Reznik and Don Hartranft.

The WOW Day committee meets Will Orr and family at the Pennsylvania-Ohio border prior to the beginning of Wednesday's parade. The parade started on Park Street, ended at the gym.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

In a school where spectator sports, especially basketball, are emphasized to the nth degree, it is only natural that some athletic facilities might be overlooked.

Soccer, cross-country, football, swimming, and track have been held in high esteem since inter-collegiate sports were resumed here in 1946 after a break-off caused by World War II.

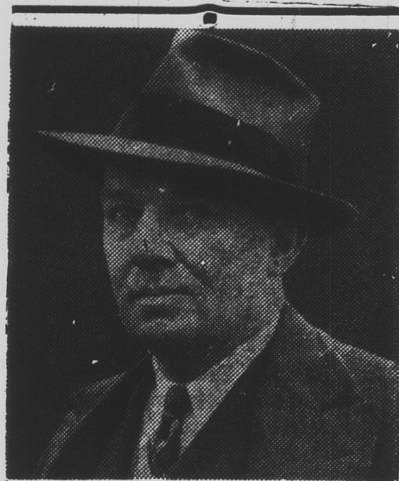

All this is very good. Westminster is becoming highly recognized in the sports world. But what about the average fellow who has neither the build nor the ability to gain a varsity position in the various sports offered at Westminster?

There have been a lot of gripes floating around the campus lately, very legitimate gripes, which concern the complete lack of gymnastic equipment . . . mats, horses, parallel bars, high bars, rings, etc. . . . in the campus gymnasium.

We respect the age and smallness of the present gymnasium, and acknowledge the fact that it was no doubt adequate back in the 19th century. We are cheered, moreover, by a report that plans have been made for the erection of a new field house and gymnasium during our centennial year, 1952.

In the meantime, however, there are lots of fellows on campus who would appreciate having these facilities in order to fill some of their leisure time in an attempt to remove some of the kinks . . . perhaps not all the gymnastic equipment mentioned above, but at least tumbling mats, and a set of parallel bars.

Washabaugh Plans
'Athletics' Theme
For Lecture TourCage Mentor To Give Series Of Talks At District High Schools

With the completion of the 1948-49 basketball season Coach Grover C. Washabaugh has undertaken the further responsibilities of a lecture tour which he will add to his duties as athletic director.

Coach Washabaugh has chosen as his topic for the tour, "What it takes", in reference to athletics in general. He has built up quite a reputation as a lecturer in past years and has scheduled seven talks which will take place through the remainder of March.

He will appear before the McKeesport Booster club, which has adopted the name, "Tiger club", on March 17. On March 20, he will travel to Aliquippa, Pa., to speak to the Serbian club. The rest of the lecture tour is as follows: March 21, Leechburg, Pa. high school; March 23 Mt. Jackson, Pa., high school; March 25, New Springfield, Pa., high school; March 29, Rochester, Pa., high school and March 31, Altoona, Pa., YMCA.

Beta Sigs Capture
Cage Tournament

Beta Sigma Omicron captured the WAA sponsored basketball tournament championship last Saturday, March 12, when they defeated Chi Omega by the score of 13-12.

Izzy Cooper for the Chi O's and Claire Phillibar for the Beta Sigs took top honors by each scoring six points for their team's cause. The Beta Sigs got off to a seven to three lead at the end of the first quarter and protected their lead throughout the game.

The losers were kept in check in the second period when they failed to score but came back strong in the third and final cantos by scoring nine points, but not enough to win before the final whistle was sounded.

Raymond Will Head
Varsity Organization

Bernard Raymond was elected president of Block W, varsity athletic organization, at a meeting held Wednesday night.

Other officers elected are as follows: Achilles Copetas, vice president; Victor Taylor, treasurer; and Clyde Shaffer, secretary.

All but Clyde Shaffer are football lettermen. Raymond is a backfieldman, while Copetas performs at left end and Taylor holds down one of the guard positions. Shaffer has earned a letter on the basketball squad for the past three years.

Faculty advisors talk over plans for "Carnival Capers", annual Mermaid show, with two members of the group which will present it's water pageant next week. Shown left to right are Miss Shirley Morgan, assistant women's athletic director; Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, women's athletic director; Audrey Bryan and Jean Bricker, secretary and president of Mermaids respectively.

Co-eds Gain Spotlight As . . .

'Carnival Capers' Is Theme Of Annual Water Pageant

By Al Krause

Rumba, waltz, ballet, all this and more will feature the annual Mermaid show which will be presented Tuesday through Friday of next week. This year's water pageant, "Carnival Capers," will be based on the various kinds of dance music.

The annual Mermaid show has been a tradition at Westminster for over a decade, as the Mermaids organization was introduced here during the 30's. Co-eds are granted membership in the select group following a series of tryouts held each fall which they must pass. The girls usually begin work on the show at the beginning of the second semester. You can be sure it is hard work too, that goes into the intricate routines which the girls create themselves.

For their services the girls are presented with a Mermaid emblem their first year with the group, and a key the following year. The by-laws of the organization limit membership to 50 girls.

Jean Bricker is the president of Mermaids this year. She is very ably assisted by Mary Lou Black, vice president; Harriet Eisenbeis, treasurer; and Audrey Bryan, secretary.

Former Mermaids Direct

Two former Mermaids are directing the pageant. Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, women's athletic director, and her assistant, Miss Shirley Morgan, are the guiding hands behind the scenes.

While majoring in dramatics and science here at Westminster, Mrs. Sheridan became very much interested in women's sports and decided to continue her education in the field of physical education at the University of Pittsburgh.

Golfers Prepare For Tough Grind
As Season NearsBad Weather Hampers
Drills As Champs Seek To Hold District Crown

Amid snow falls and other types of inclement weather, the Westminster golf team has taken to the fairways in preparation for their spring competition. Not all of last year's lettermen have had an opportunity to warm up as yet, due to uncertain weather conditions, but golf Coach Dr. W. J. Thomas states that practice will begin in earnest as soon as conditions permit.

Lettermen Bill Burke, Fred Broad, Sid Lukas, Jack Whitmer, Jack Winters, Bill Paul and Dick Fuhrer will be the regular starters this season. Newcomers Jack Whittaker and Bill Thompson appear to be likely candidates to strengthen the squad. Bill Thompson was last year's Western Pennsylvania scholastic champion and captained the undefeated Sharon high school squad.

Final negotiations are being made to use the New Castle Field club fairways as the home grounds, according to Dr. Thomas.

Tied With Groves

Last year's record shows a total of 12 wins against two losses for the Blue and White divot-diggers who tied with the Grove City squad in the district tournament at Allegheny and took the district championship.

The Titans lost their two games to Grove City on the Wolverines' home greens and to the West Virginia Mountaineers on the latter's home grounds.

After a successful road trip during which they won from Georgetown, Navy and Princeton, the Mounties were the hosts of the Titans in one of the final meets of the season and lost a one-sided match to the Blue and White.

A few changes from last season's schedule leave the Titans facing a tougher grind than before. Dr. Thomas is optimistic in a pre-season prediction, however, and gives the team an excellent chance of repeating last year's performance.

GOLF SCHEDULE

Little Titans Win Cup
In Hubbard Tournament

A freshman basketball team composed of Johnny Abraham and Jerry Sybert at forwards; Ed Halas at center; and Pat King and Harry Abraham at guards; and coached by Don Mayberry, won the consolation prize at the annual Hubbard, O., basketball tournament last Saturday night.

The freshmen, playing under the name of the Morella Collegians, dropped two heavily favored teams in the tournament before losing a close 42-40 contest to the Youngstown college five. A long shot in the closing seconds of the game brought victory for the Youngstown quintet.

Ed Halas and Pat King were named to the all-tournament squad, and Johnny Abraham won a trophy for scoring the most points in a single game, as he sunk 24 markers against Youngstown. Bob Demvon, Dave Hawbaker and Chuck Nicolas also played on the Morella Collegian squad.

Clark, Peterson To Present Recital

Prof. Ralston To Give Piano Recital Tuesday

Jean Clark, organist, and Francis Peterson, baritone, will present a joint senior recital in the college chapel Monday, March 21, at 8:15 p.m. Paul Rossi will accompany Peterson.

Tuesday evening, March 22, Mr. James H. Ralston, pianist and associate professor of music will give a recital at 8:15 in the Wallace Memorial chapel.

Monday evening's program will get underway with Peterson singing a group of three numbers, "Lungi Dal Caro Bene", Eecchi; "Bois Epais", Lully and "Avant de guitter ces lieux", Gounod. For her first organ selection, Jean Clark will play "Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Returning to the spotlight, Peterson will sing the "Prologue" by Leoncavallo from the opera "Pagliacci." The fourth item on the program will feature Jean Clark with, "Sonata Number Two", Hindemith and "Concerto Number 13 in F Major" by Handel.

"Night Sounds" written by Joseph Hopkins, instructor of Bible, and dedicated to Francis Peterson will be the recitalist's first selection of his final group of numbers. "I Want to be Ready", arranged by H. T. Burleigh; "Gwine to Hebb'n" by Jacques Wolfe and "The Rich Man" by Richard Hageman will also be included in this last group. Paul Rossi will accompany Peterson for this last number.

Jean Clark will complete the recital by playing "Symphony Number 1" by Vienne. Ushers will include Patricia Johnson, Adele Johnston, Frederick Riley and Joel J. Feigenbaum.

YM, YW Will Hear Talk On Inter-Race Situation

"A Solution To Inter-racial Problems" will be the title of a talk by Mr. John D. Carney Wednesday evening in the chapel, when he speaks to members of YMCA, YWCA and their guests at 7 p.m. All students are invited.

Students Will Decide News Programs' Fate

Broadcasts of campus announcements and world news to the TUB will be on trial next week, according to Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department.

"With the absence of chapel announcements, the service could prove extremely helpful," he said, "But unless the students cooperate, it will not be worthwhile to continue."

By "cooperate" Mr. Barbe is referring to the noise and confusion which persists while the broadcasts are going on.

of the Iowa State Guard, in addition to his work at Westminster church.

He has conducted Religious Emphasis Week in Westminster and several other colleges, including Sterling college, Sterling, Kansas; Hope college, Holland, Michigan; Central college, Pella, Iowa; Carroll college, Waukesha, Wisconsin, and others.

Devised Youth Plan

One of Dr. Orr's most widespread contributions has been his plan for youth, in helping to meet the problem of juvenile delinquency. He organized the Westminster Youth club, which includes as one of its bases, personal work with young people by the minister during week days. The idea is now in use by other churches and synagogues in Des Moines, and is rapidly spreading to other cities. He has lectured on the plan in such cities as Pittsburgh, Chicago, Minneapolis, Denver, Buffalo, and Omaha.

Hobbies of Dr. Orr include photography, stamps, and electric trains. His electric train collection drew much attention when it was displayed in one of the church rooms last December. Over 11,000 people visited Westminster church to see a presentation of the Nativity story and the train display.

To Help On Parents' Day

The Saturday after Dr. Orr's arrival at Westminster he will take part in the annual Parent's Day; the evening following he will preach in the chapel service.

He is Westminster's tenth president since its founding in 1852. He will relieve Dr. John Orr, who has been acting president since Dr. H. Lloyd Cleland left in the summer of 1947. The acting president will retain his other role of acting dean until the new president has had a chance to view the applicants for the position. He will not resume his former role of chairman of the Bible department until the new dean is chosen.

Evening worship services conducted by Westminster Gospel teams will be held Sunday in the Pleasant Grove United Presbyterian church, Youngstown and the First United Presbyterian church, Butler. Bob Ranck will head the Youngstown team while Bob Bingham and Margaret Anderson will lead youth meetings and the evening service in Butler.

Mercer Children's home will be entertained Saturday afternoon by the Children's Work department of Life Service.

A joint Youth Council meeting, consisting of the young people from four churches, was conducted by Charles Gensheimer's team in the Princeton Presbyterian church recently. Another team led an evening worship service in the Harrisville United Presbyterian church this week.

Bill Duff led a prayer meeting in the Epworth Methodist church, New Castle recently, and Stan Hartung headed the team which presented an assembly program in the East Brook high school today.

Committee Plans For 'Will Orr Day'; Will Cancel Classes

Celebration Includes Informal Presentation, Parade, And Reception

To welcome the new college president, "Will Orr Day" is being planned for Thursday, April 28. Classes will be cancelled for the all-day celebration and reception.

Working on plans for the day is a committee comprised of Dr. John Orr, acting president; Dr. William J. Thomas, and Student Council officers and advisors. Joseph Hopkins, Bible instructor, is chairman of the day.

The tentative schedule includes a student parade in the morning, following which will be an informal presentation of the new president. In the evening a semi-formal reception will be held, followed by a program in the gym.

Duff Brown, treasurer of Student Council, is in charge of the parade committee, and Phyllis Williams, secretary, will take care of planning a chapel program. Miss Helen Stig, dean of women, will plan the reception.

The new president and his family will arrive Wednesday evening, April 27, from their present residence in Des Moines, Iowa. Dr. Orr is pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian church there.

Tri-Beta Initiates Eight In Ceremony

Dorothy McBeth, Marilyn Davis, Alfred Apiselli, Roland Nord, Dick Silves, Frederick Lipp, William Gilkey, and William Throop were initiated into Tri-Beta, national biology honorary, yesterday afternoon at a candlelight ceremony in the biology lecture room.

Tri-Beta officers, Wayne Steinbaugh, president, Patricia Johnson, secretary, and Martha Wedel, historian, officiated at the formal ceremony.

At a special meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon the Rev. George Myers, pastor of the Methodist church of New Wilmington, spoke to the members on "Geological Ramblings". During his talk he exhibited various rock specimens which he collected as a hobby.

Girls Glee Club Elects Sara Davis President

Officers chosen for the coming year by the Girls' Glee club are Sara Davis, president; Carolyn Davis, secretary, and Barbara Bunce and Virginia Snyder, librarians.

Fashion Expert Garnell To Lecture On 'Dressing Up Your Personality'

Helene Garnell, fashion expert, author, and lecturer will appear as part of the college lecture series in the chapel Tuesday evening, March 29, at 8:15. The topic of the lecture will be "Dressing up Your Personality."

Following the lecture, Miss Garnell will be the guest at a reception in Ferguson hall. Ferguson girls will be hostesses.

Miss Garnell, one of America's fashion experts, believes that everyone can look better. She contends that grooming and clothes are not a matter of wealth, but a matter of taste. To prove her point she will make "something out of nothing" before her audience.

Miss Garnell studied at the Convent de Notre Dame de Scion in France and studied sculpture under Aristide Maillol.

Not satisfied with sculpting, she turned to designing. Under the tutelage of Jean Patou, Paris couturier, Miss Garnell learned the fine points of the art of dress and hat design. Later, she designed hats for the Duchess of Kent and was engaged to design for the French

Westminster's '49 May Queen And Court

Groups Will Retain Scholarship Cups

Scholarship cups awarded this year at the annual Convocations ceremony will be given permanently to the winners. Formerly, it was necessary for an organization to win three times before the cup could be kept permanently. The ceremony will be held April 4.

The competition includes all fraternities, sororities, independent organizations, and those in unorganized groups. Included in these groups are all active members, pledges, and social members.

Scholarship average is based on the grades of the second semester of the previous school term and the first semester of the current year.

Members of Pi Sigma Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, who are arranging plans for the program, announce that the recent book drive raised $350.

Organizations which contributed to the book drive may designate what books are to be purchased with their contributions.

ASP Pledges Swim As SPE's Win 'Tug'

Alpha Sig pledges were dragged into Neshannock creek this afternoon as the Sig Ep neophytes were victorious in the tug-o-war.

Postponed from last week because of bad weather the contest drew over 800 cheering students and townspeople.

The Sig Ep pledges went into the drink last year in the tug-o-war which promises to be an annual tradition.

WDAD Will Broadcast Part Of Band Festival

Radio station WDAD, Indiana, Pa., will broadcast tomorrow night a concert by participants in the state band festival being held at Indiana State Teachers college yesterday, today, and tomorrow. The program will last from 8:30 to 9:30. WDAD is 1450 on the dial.

Jack McCullough, bassoon, and Ralph Brown and John Cutler, clarinets, will represent Westminster in the event. They were selected on the basis of the state band's need for particular instruments, according to Donald O. Cameron, director of the conservatory. Mr. Cameron is accompanying the students to take part in the three day clinic.

Comps To Start May 10; Theses Due May 16

Comprehensive examinations will be given May 10, 11, according to an announcement by Robert F. Galbreath, Jr., secretary of the faculty and associate professor of secretarial studies after a faculty meeting last week. Senior theses will be due May 16.

It was also decided that all classes after 11 a.m. will be cancelled on Parent's Day, April 30.

Classic Will Feature Weekend Radio Show

Tchaikovsky's "Symphony Number Six in B Minor" will be broadcast over WRW's "Symphony Hour" program in the TUB Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Broadcasts of classical music in the TUB were begun last Sunday. The programs will include music used in the fine arts course.

The Westminster quintet, including Mary Lou Black, Florrie Johnson, Bill Dumbaugh, Percy Hall, and Larry Wood will present a program over WPIC, at 1:15 next Friday.

Grove City Cast Remembers Mama

Barbara Cloud, sophomore speech major, received a gold bracelet from the members of the cast of the Grove City college production of "I Remember Mama" in appreciation of her aid to the Grove City cast.

Barbara, who played the lead in the Westminster presentation of the play, was asked by Professor Philip N. Carpenter, Grove City director, to make ready to play the lead for their production when Carol Johnson, Grove City leading lady, became sick.

However, Carol recovered by curtain time, and Barbara's services were not needed. She had rehearsed only four times with the Grove City cast.

Engraved upon the bracelet were the words "I Remember Mama—Grove City College."

Several members of the Westminster production cast and crew attended the Grove City presentation of the play when it was given last Friday before a large crowd.

Mermaids Caper Into Swim Spotlight; Waltz To Intricate 'Dance' Numbers

By Bill Kegel

With a spectacular splash Mermaid's "Carnival Capers" dove into Westminster's hit spotlight this week and swam away leaving a wake of applause.

Using types of dances as a theme, the annual aquacade proved that even though they seemed to be going under for the third and last time the Mermaids could come up with another formation to keep a sell-out audience entertained throughout the show.

Opening with a "Grand March" the water-loving coeds staged an intricate bit of synchronized swimming, and set the keynote for the following "dance" numbers.

Next came a "Waltz," then as a complete change of pace, a "Square Dance." It seemed for a moment that a quick call for a resuscitator would be needed for a few of the bobbing swimmers, but they splashed through the last do-se-do without leaving one "dancer" on the bottom of the pool.

Highlighting the first half of the show was the diving exhibition. For this number the coeds recruited two "mermen," Chuck Pitcher and Paul Brown. Pitcher's board-grazing, perfect form diving was one of "Capers" outstanding features.

A "Chinese Shuffle" and a "Ballet" swung the aquacade back again to

Helen Papazickos Wins Queen Title In Chapel Election

Other Six Candidates To Comprise May Court At Crowning Ceremony

Attractive, brown-eyed Helen Papazickos, junior commercial education major from New Castle, was elected Westminster's May Queen yesterday at elections held in the chapel.

Helen, who is 19 years old, is a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority, Panhellenic council, Rho Gamma, the commercial teaching honorary, and the Women's Glee club.

Queen's Court Named

Members of the queen's court will be Janet Cuthbert, Alyce Ann Eppley, Charmaine Hazen, Carolyn Holub, Marge Powell, and Phyllis Williams.

Janet Cuthbert is a junior art major from Erie. She is president of the Kappa Delta sorority, president of the Panhellenic council, and a member of Mermaids, WAA, YWCA, and Alpha Rho Tau, art honorary.

Alyce Ann Eppley, music major from Newell, West Virginia, is a member of the chapel choir, WAA, YWCA, Chi Omega sorority, and Red Cross. Charmaine Hazen, a business administration major from Ellwood City, numbers among her activities WAA, Outing club, Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, Student Council, and the Theta Upsilon sorority.

Holub Majors In Music

Carolyn Holub is a music education major from Pittsburgh, and is a member of the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority, president of Mu Phi Epsilon, music honorary, and also a member of the college orchestra and choir, Kappa Delta Pi, and YWCA.

Phyllis Williams, a speech major from Farrell, is a member of WRW, Masquers, Student Council, Panhellenic council, YWCA, and the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Marge Powell, a Bible major, comes from Erie. She belongs to the Kappa Delta sorority, Mermaids, Little Theatre, WAA, Gospel team, Glee club, Life Service, and YWCA.

YMCA, YWCA, and Student Council chose the candidates. YMCA and YWCA will have charge of the crowning ceremonies.

Last year's May Queen was Martha Kilgore, senior elementary education major from Erie.

We Report . . . ... And We Invite

WE believe that the following letter deserves treatment in this column.

To the Editor:

After hearing Mr. Robert Auro Smith explain how the editorial policy is formulated for the New York "Times," I began to wonder how the policy of our "Holcad" is determined. Is the editor responsible, or whose opinions do the editorials express?

Respectfully,

While the editorial page presents the editorial policy of the "Holcad," it should be remembered that the principles of the newspaper are revealed throughout the entire four pages. In the presentation of news it is our constant attempt to follow the ideals of truth, accuracy, objectivity, and fair play, without which any explanation of editorial policy would be worthless.

The editorial column itself represents the voice of the "Holcad" editor tempered by staff consultations, and observations and information obtained from numerous sources. That voice reflects the principles of freedom of thought and the right to serve the best interests of the whole.

We try to evaluate fairly matters of interest and importance to the students, and to offer constructive suggestions for the improvement of the college as a whole.

However, "Holcad" space is not limited to our opinions. We want to make the columns of this paper a forum for the interchange of the viewpoints of our readers. As Adolph S. Ochs, who formerly managed the New York "Times," once wrote: "... opinions come out of the thinking of every man and woman . . . who is willing to use his or her mind. It is a task from which no one is exempt . . ."

Letters to the editor, or even talks with the editor serve to bring out the arguments of all sides in any matter. We invite such letters and talks. They help to create a healthy atmosphere, and will act to bring about a better Westminster.

How Many Cheat?

RESULTS of a poll to discover the extent to which Westminster students cheat on tests, and the methods by which they accomplish it, will be published next week.

Readers will be interested to know just how we compare with students of another college which conducted a similar poll recently. Are we honest to goodness cheaters, or are we just poor imitations of the real thing?

Smith Resigns As Ambassador To Russia; Will Accept Field Command; No Successor Seen

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(UP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Lt. Gen. Walter Bedel Smith as Ambassador to Russia.

Mr. Truman said he accepted it with great reluctance. Smith will be given a field command but his specific assignment was not disclosed. He has been ambassador to Moscow for three years.

The announcement was given to reporters after Smith conferred with President Truman for 15 minutes at the White House.

Smith told newsmen he understood command of the First Army at Governors island, New York, was being held open for him pending a decision on his resignation. However, he said his statement was not an announcement of such an assignment.

Smith returned to Washington last Christmas for medical treatment at Walter Reed hospital. At that time he told President Truman that he did not want to return to the diplomatic post but the President urged him to stay on the job.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said that the choice of a successor was "wide open."

There was no indication that acceptance of Smith's resignation had any connection with recent changes in top Soviet government and military posts.

Asked for comment on the announcement that Marshall Alexander M. Vasilevsky will succeed Marshall Nikolai A. Bulganin as minister of Russian armed forces, Smith said:

"The new man is a professional soldier and a very able officer. Bulganin was less of a soldier than a politician, and, of course, like a lot of the rest of us he is not very young any more. But I don't know what interpretation to make of it."

Smith told reporters he thought two years in the Moscow ambassadorial assignment is enough for any man.

'Peace' Group Picketed

NEW YORK, March 25.—(UP)—More than 500 pickets knelt in prayer in the middle of Park avenue before the Waldorf-Astoria hotel today as leftist delegates of 16 nations prepared to open a "World Peace Conference."

The picketing of the conference, sponsored by the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, started at 11 a.m., while some of the foreign delegates were holding a press conference in the hotel.

More than 100 policemen were on hand to keep the pickets in line. A crowd of more than 500 stood watching. An enterprising vender shouldered his way along the packed curbs selling buttons with the name "Cardinal Mindszenty" on them and a crucifix at the end of a ribbon for 15 cents each.

Pension Bill Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(UP)—John E. Rankin, D., Miss., introduced a modified Veterans Pension Bill today and said "it probably will be put before the house in a short time."

Rankin, whose original pension measure was killed by the house yesterday by a one-vote margin, said his new bill embodies all the changes that most House members had indicated they wanted.

His original bill called for $90 monthly pensions for all 65-year-old veterans of World Wars I and II. The new bill is confined to veterans of World War I, includes a test of need, and carries monthly pensions of $72.

Under the new proposal a 65-year-old veteran of World War I could qualify for the $72 monthly pension only if his discharge had been honorable and if his annual income was under $2,000 if single or $3,000 if married or with dependents.

'Sally' Goes To Prison

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(UP)—Mildred E. Gillars, the Maine showgirl who played "Axis Sally" for Hitler's wartime radio, today was sentenced to 10 to 30 years in prison and fined $10,000 for treason to her country.

Polish your clubs, dust off your bag, practice those iron shots, and set out for the nearest fairway. It's time to play golf. Maybe this is the season you'll break par . . . maybe this time you'll improve on that hook or slice.

Bill Allen finds himself in a water hole . . . as he discovers 14 milkbottles filled with water in his bed . . . the warning above says, "Don't make your own watery grave." . . . and "Chester" the dog wanders in and out of classrooms and dorms . . . while Bob Clever attempts to convince the lady sitting beside him in the movies that she has the winning ticket . . . she's forgotten her glasses . . . yet bulb snatcher "Mac" McCullough takes the ping pong room light bulbs at the wrong time . . . there's a game scheduled.

Maybe he should work as a caddie . . . Norm Rudolph is mistaken for 16 years old at Kent State . . . and Jack Garvin spends his time knitting in Browne hall lounge . . . but Buster McKinley turns to leave by the back door and walks into a closet . . . as Bill Kerr and Erroll Dexter even encourage the gals to buy their pipes . . . ## Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

By way of paraphrase, "In spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to what he has been thinking about all winter." In our case quite a few young men and women have been thinking about that first beautiful spring day when they can take their respective tennis racquets out of the moth balls and get ready for a couple of warm-up sets.

We read in the college catalog and in other bits of college publicity material that we DO have a beautiful set of tennis courts. We have been further informed that the tennis courts are going to be repaired in the near future, and a hard surfaced court is going to be laid.

But where are the tennis courts? At the last sounding, which was taken on Monday of this week, the "hard surface" was found to be three feet, one and one-half inches below the frost level. At least the soil had begun to provide a little more resistance at that depth.

For the past two years we have been reading about these same promises. Now the question is, "What's happen?" Gripes have already started to circulate about the present condition of the tennis courts. Especially since the first day of spring was ushered in with such beautiful weather. But perhaps we who are here now should be content to remember that alumni are always welcome to come back and enjoy campus facilities.

A long frame unwound itself from a Jeep pick-up truck out in front of the library the other day and converted itself into one of Westminster's most towering Titans. . . . Fred Paine was back to visit the campus and join the golf team for a few rounds.

The Mermaid pageant was every bit as good as pre-show predictions. We send congratulations to Mrs. Sheridan, Miss Morgan, and the Mermaids who combined to make the production a success.

Aspirants to positions on the Blue and White golf team have been asked to not use the New Castle Field club course until official permission has been received from the club. This was the request of Dr. William J. Thomas, Titan golf mentor, due to the fact that the fairways and greens are not yet in shape. The course is expected to be officially opened about April 1.

Sig Ep Neophytes Defeat Alpha Sigs

Brief Encounter Evens Annual Creek Struggle

By Shepherd and Anderson

Revenge was sweet for the pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon as they hauled the Alpha Sigma Phi pledges into Neshannock creek after a five minute pull this afternoon.

The official tugging got underway as Sam Sloan, acting dean of men, fired a blast from a shotgun, but there was a lot of tension on the rope in the few moments before the gun.

The Sig Eps, coached by pledge-master Joe Solomon, attempted to hold firm until the Alpha Sigs initial effort was spent. However, it was but instants later that the New Castle street men began their heaving in earnest.

Esposito Swims First

For a few minutes the teams marched forward and backward a few steps, to the cheers of a large group of spectators. Then, as the Sig Eps dug in once more for their pull, the lead men of their team saw Jack Esposito leap into the creek as he was pulled from the bank. That began it, and the Sig Eps charged ahead, knocking down their own men in their eagerness for the "coup de grace."

By the time this story is read, the Alpha Sigs have hung out their clothes to dry, placed their shoes on top of the radiator, and taken an aspirin to thwart any oncoming cold. On the other hand, the Sig Eps have torn the fraternity house apart and are now reading the "Holcad," viewing in retrospect their victorious afternoon.

Event Causes Jam

If we look back with the Sig Eps, we see a traffic jam on the Volant road, a bridge sagging with the weight of cheering college students and half of the population of New Wilmington, and Sam Sloan aiming his rifle at nothing in particular.

Below are two groups of boys, straining every muscle in their bodies. Straining for a while, the Alpha Sigs finally begin to weaken. Then, we see Jack Esposito lead off with a jack knife into the stream. Before long, all of the Alpha Sigs are wading across the creek to be pulled out by handshaking Sig Eps.

Ending the affair, several Sig Ep pledges seize Alpha Sig pledge-masters, Don Book and Jack Wilson, and heave them into the creek to fulfill a pre-war bargain.

Softball Managers Meet With Hetzler Monday

There will be a meeting of all softball managers on Monday, March 28, at 2:30 p.m. Coach Melvin P. Hetzler, director of the intramural softball league, asks that all managers attend the meeting. All entries in the softball league must be turned in to the athletic office by 4 p.m. Tuesday, March 29. Any individual participating in varsity athletics during the softball season is ineligible for league play.

Washabaugh Will Attend Dinner For Hamilton

Grover Washabaugh, Westminster's athletic director, will attend a luncheon in honor of Captain Tom Hamilton, athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh on Saturday, March 26, at 12 noon at the Pittsburgh Athletic club.

Speakers at the luncheon will be Mr. Harvey Harmon, athletic director at Rutgers university and Captain William A. Palmer, athletic director at Shady Side Academy. Mr. Palmer was director of athletics at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., when Captain Hamilton was in charge of the Navy's V-5 program there.

Mr. C. L. Walsh, director of athletics of the Pittsburgh high schools, Mr. Washabaugh and Mr. Harmon were all connected with the V-5 program in this district which Captain Hamilton headed.

Approximately 55 guests are expected to attend the luncheon.

Mel Hetzler Attends Football Clinic In Preparation For Spring Practice

Gridders Start Daily Workouts Next Week; Coach Plans To Emphasize Fundamentals

Rows of khaki moleskins, white helmets, and rennovated football shoes hanging in the gymnasium locker cage mark the preparation for spring grid practice which will begin next Monday, March 28. Football Coach, Melvin P. Hetzler states that practice sessions will last one and a half hours each day, five days a week.

In conjunction with his call for spring practice, Coach Hetzler attended a football clinic held at Coatesville, Pa., last week. Attending this conference were high school, college, and professional football coaches from the Middle Atlantic area.

Thinclads Start Outdoor Drills

Freshmen Add Power To Veteran Squad

Thirty-four men reported to track coach Harold E. Burry as intensified indoor preliminary workouts began on the gymnasium track last week. The men hoping to win positions on the field squad, as well as the track men, are expected to begin outdoor work next week if weather conditions permit.

Candidates trying out for distance and middle distance running are "Renny" Jackson, who will captain the thinclads this year, Ralph Foster, Don Bogdon, Al Williams, Larry Wright, Jack Kimpel, Johnny Wilson, Bob Field, Jim Deigan, Darl Wiley, Matt Bruce, Lynn Goodwin, Bill Hartwell, and Dick Wakefield.

Art Jones and Aky Aburano will run the sprints while Rich Paul and Ray Op't Hof will perform in the high jump.

Four men, Fred Navarra, Bill Shipstedt, Fred Cassell, and Ralph Brown are trying out for the hurdles while Ed Halas, Henry Vitkovich, and Jack Torrey will be hurling the shot put.

Coach Burry has five promising men, "Champ" Barthelson, Aky Aburano, Jack Hodges, George Koginos, and Larry Wright trying out for the pole vault.

Three veterans from last year's squad will be back throwing the javelin. They are Mac McCullough, Henry Vitkovich, and Acky Copetas.

Broad jumpers include Johnny Abraham, Bill Shipstedt, and Tom Replogle, while McCullough, Barthelson, Jack Torrey, and Pat King will vie for positions in the discus event.

The squad will try to better last year's record of four wins and three losses and Coach Burry hopes to enter a team in the Tri-State championships where the Titans tied for fourth place with Washington & Jefferson college last season.

Titan Cagers Lose In FC Tournament

Two teams composed of Westminster cagers entered the annual VFW basketball tournament at Ford City this year. Members of the Titan varsity defended the crown which they won last year. The crown was lost this week, however, as a team composed of upperclass varsity players and one made up of freshmen dribblers were defeated in quarter-final competition.

The upperclassmen dropped out of the race for the high prize when they were defeated by the Sharon Westinghouse five, 85-63, Tuesday evening. In the first round of play the Titans defeated the Pitcairn Mohawks, 95-59, last Friday night.

After having defeated West Mifflin Township, 69-61, the Freshmen were downed by the Oakland AOH, 85-63, on Monday night. The Little Titans had previously captured a second place trophy at the Hubbard, Ohio, tournament.

Last Saturday evening, March 19, the upperclassmen were defeated by a group of Serbian All-Stars at Aliquippa, 62-49. The game was held in connection with a national Serbian convention, and the players making up the Serbian quintet were recruited from all parts of the nation. The Serbian group included Waynesburg star Chuck Karmarkovich and Andy Mestrovic of Wash-Jeff.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Westminster Shares campaign has succeeded because of some—in spite of others. Thanks to 518 students, 92 faculty and staff members, 17 campus organizations, 12 trustees, a lecture, a king campaign, and an auction, we are now assured a total of over $2700. But thanks to some 600 non-sharing students, only two-fifths of this figure represents student donations, and we lack nearly $300 of our $2978 goal.

For those who have contributed or pledged, a word of appreciation is in order. But what about the 600 students who have failed to respond, who have been either passively indifferent or openly hostile to Westminster Shares?

Can it be true that some 50 percent of our student body are so selfish, so callous, so spoiled, so smug that they fail to appreciate the plight of wretched, afflicted people? I trust that there is some other explanation to this woeful apathy. I have no doubt that there are many who are perfectly in sympathy with Shares, who intend to give, but just haven't got around to it. And I am confident that the grippers and knockers constitute a small minority. Yet when a campaign as thoroughly publicized and carefully organized as Westminster Shares fails to elicit a response from over 600 students, something must be wrong.

What is it? Is anything wrong with sharing? Is anything wrong with our three sharing agencies? Or, perhaps, is there something wrong with some of us, that we can shrug off so indifferently our sharing responsibilities?

With concern.

Campus Radio Group Adds Seven Members

C.G.A. junior radio group accepted seven students into membership at the meeting held this week.

They are Kenneth Albright, Basil Messina, Bob McEwan, John Peterson, Betsy McCoomb, Paul Talley, and Sherwood Wolfson.

Frisbee's Foibles

Dear Readers,

Were you a bit perturbed last week To find, when interest reached the peak,

The Foibles' ending wasn't there? And did you groan in deep despair?

If so, we do apologize— Our sole intent was to surprise You readers with a treat unique;

A Foible series. Thus last week We watched the Drs. Orr advance—

This week we take a further glance, And find that they advanced the fame "And virtues of Westminster's name."

Debaters Vie At W & J In Annual Tournament

Dick Stonage, John Kerensky, June Bender, and Glenn Reed are representing Westminster in six rounds of the annual Washington and Jefferson college debate tournament being held tonight and tomorrow.

Approximately 18 colleges are represented. A Westminster team won second place in last year's tournament.

This afternoon the debate team met the University of Pittsburgh at Western Penitentiary. Yesterday afternoon they broadcast over WKST, New Castle, in a round table discussion with Geneva college.

Butler Pastor Will Lead Sunday Night Chapel

The Reverend Scott McMunn, pastor of the Second U. P. church, Butler, will be the guest speaker in the chapel Sunday evening, March 27.

Monday's chapel will be conducted by Dr. John Orr. The Reverend J. Paul Graham, pastor of the Third U.P. church, New Castle, will speak in chapel Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Kirkbride with Miss Alice Long, soprano soloist, will present a musical program in Wednesday's chapel. Quadrangle will take charge of the devotional program for Thursday, while Friday's chapel program will be presented by Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debate fraternity.

Pittsburgh-Xenia Prof To Address History Frat

Dr. J. L. Kelso, professor of semantics and archeology at Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, will speak at the initiation of new members of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, to be held March 31, at 7:30 p.m.

He will discuss "How we work out the history of the early Near East."

Darby Will Head Kappa Delta Pi

Frank Darby was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi at the education honorary's last meeting.

Other officers elected were Jean Gilliland, vice-president; Patricia Hays, secretary; Peggy Adams, historian and reporter, and Ann Hepler, treasurer.

Dr. Gilbert Taylor was the speaker at the meeting. He compared present day civilizations with those of ancient Rome. Members of Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary, were guests.

Dr. Robert Galbreath will speak at the next meeting on the "Advantages of Education as a Profession."

AG's Choose 'Orchids' As Gym Dance Theme

"Orchids to You" is the theme of the Alpha Gam all-college girl-ask-boy semi-formal dance, April 1, in the gym from 8 to 11:30 p.m.

Music will be provided by Chauncy Dean's orchestra. Tickets are $1.80 and will be sold in the Tub next week and in Old Main Wednesday. They will also be sold by Alpha Gam members living in Ferguson, Browne, and Hillside.

Highlighting the dance will be the crowning of this year's Alpha Gam pledge princess by Ethelene Myers, last year's princess.

General chairman of the dance and chairman of decorations is Anne Osterhout. Other committees are Janet Lindsey, tickets; Ruth Vogan, publicity; Patricia Smith and Barbara Bergland, chaperones, and Sue Nolph, refreshments.

Mu Phi's Will Give Concert Thursday

Musicians Set 'Spring' As Program Theme

"Spring" is the theme of this year's Mu Phi Epsilon concert to be given Thursday, April 7, at 8:15 p.m., in the college chapel. Mu Phi Epsilon is the national music honorary society. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental solos and an ensemble number.

Included on part one of the program are "Music of Spring," Branson, by Mildred Powell; "Intermezzo in E-flat minor," Brahms, by Doris Renshaw; "To Spring," Grieg, by Eleanor Whitehill, and "Hosanna," Weinberger, by Shirley Buechling.

Part two begins with "Burnt Rock Pool," Sowerby, by Carolyn Holub, followed by "Welcome Sweet Wind," Cadman, by Judy Wilkinson; "The Fountain of Ecqua Paola," Griffes, by Ruth Temple, and "Robin, Robin, Sing me a Song," Spross, by Doris Wanamaker.

Part three will include "Tendre Aveu (Romance)," Schuett, by Mina Belle Packer; "When You're Away," Herbert, by Doris Peterson; "Romance," La Farge, by Audrey Bryan, and "Three Loye Songs," Brahms, by the Mu Phi quartet.

The fourth and concluding part consists of one selection, "The Year at the Spring," Cain, by the Girls' Ensemble.

Ushers for the concert will be the Statesmen.

Debaters Schedule Meet With Case

Tau Kappa Alpha will be host to Case Institute of Technology debate teams, Friday, April 8. Debates will be held at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the Little Theater.

The negative team, Frank Jones and Frank Jones, will debate the Case affirmative team at 4 p.m., while the Tau Kappa Alpha affirmative team, Basil Messina and Bill Duff, will meet the visiting negative team at 7 p.m. The subject will be "Federal Aid to Education."

Frank Davidson and William Duff, affirmative, and Maryann Rehm and June Bender, negative, will debate before the DAR at the Castleton hotel in New Castle, Saturday, April 2. Using the cross examination style, the debate teams will discuss Federal Aid to Education.

Two Faculty Members Will Discuss Literature

"Our Favorite Piece of Literature" will be the topic for talks by William G. Faddis, instructor in the art department, and Thomas R. Wiley, assistant professor in the modern language department, at the April 5 meeting of Scroll.

The meeting will be held in the faculty lounge at 8 p.m.

Faculty Shifts Banquet

Postponement of the faculty banquet originally scheduled for next month until May 11 has been announced. The banquet will be part of the welcoming program for Dr. Will Orr, the new president of the college.

Theatre Will Offer One-acts, Recitals

Senior recitals and two one-act plays to be presented by Little Theatre dramatists will constitute Westminster's theatre program during the first week of May.

Bruce Catt, senior speech major, will direct and star in Elmer Rice's "The Adding Machine," May 2 and 3, for his senior recital. Shirley McKinney and Eugene DeCaprio, also senior speech majors, will present a joint recital, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," May 6 and 7.

Between these plays, May 4 and 5, will be two one-act plays, "Valiant" and "Our Dearest Possessions," both to be given each evening.

"The Adding Machine" has been cut down to suit a smaller number of characters and shorter scenes. These four plays will substitute for the major spring production usually offered by the Little Theatre.

WRW Hour To Feature Symphony And Ballet

WRW's Sunday symphony hour will feature Alexander Borodin's "Symphony No. 2 in B minor" and Reinhold Gliere's "Russian Sailors Dance," from the ballet "The Red Poppy."

A program featuring Florie Lee Johnson and Mary Lou Black was presented today instead of the scheduled quintet presentation. The quintet will broadcast next Friday.

Poll Reveals That . . .

Three-fifths Of Students Cheat On Tests

By Sally McCoy

If you tucked crib notes up your sleeve, or glanced at another paper on that test you took today, count yourself among the 60 percent of Westminster students who cheat on tests. However, if you resisted that temptation, you are among the remainder of the student body who say they don't cheat, according to a recent campus survey.

A poll conducted among 100 Westminster students last week revealed these startling figures. Students were asked in confidential interviews whether or not they cheat on tests. Twenty-two freshmen, 34 sophomores, 29 juniors, and 15 seniors participated in the survey.

On the basis of these interviews, 50 percent of the freshman class, 59 percent of the sophomores, 65 percent of the juniors, and 66 percent of the

Choir To Highlight Pre-Easter Chapel With Bach Cantata

Program Also Includes Numbers By Williams; Directed By Bohnhorst

Johann Sebastian Bach's cantata, "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison," and the "Five Mystical Songs" by Ralph Vaughan Williams, contemporary British composer, will highlight the evening chapel service on Palm Sunday at 7:30 p.m., presented by the college choir.

Dr. Ansley Moore, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, will deliver a brief message between the choral numbers. Dr. Moore will be in New Wilmington for the holy week services in the local churches.

Soloists for the Vaughn Williams' work will be C. Eugene Kingsley, instructor of voice at Duquesne university and soloist in the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

Differing widely in musical style and in emotional tone, the two compositions present varying aspects of the final triumph of Jesus over the powers of death. The text of the Bach cantata is derived from a 16th century Lutheran chorale. It is divided into seven parts, each based upon a verse in the chorale.

The texts of the Vaughn Williams' songs are by the 17th century English metaphysical poet, George Herbert. Titles of these five songs are "Easter," "I Got Me Flowers," "Love Bade Me Welcome," "The Call," and "Let all the World in Every Corner Sing."

Frank Bohnhorst, instructor of music, is director of the choir.

CYF Picks 'April Fool' As Theme For Party

"April Fool" is the theme CYF members have chosen for their party tomorrow at College hall from 8 to 11 p.m. Tickets are 35 cents and can be obtained at the door.

Chuck Jackson is entertainment chairman, Juanita McNinch is decorations chairman, and Bob Bingham will have charge of refreshments.

Gospel Teams Will Give Three Sunday Services

Three Gospel teams will travel this weekend. Stan Hartung's team goes to the Old Union United Presbyterian church near Butler, Bob Caldwell will take a team to the Unity United Presbyterian church, and Charles Gensheimer's team will hold revival services at New Salem Presbyterian church near Beaver.

Argo Editor Requests Senior Activity Lists

Seniors who have not been contacted or who have not submitted a complete list of their activities to the Argo are requested to do so immediately.

The lists may be given to Jean Swindler, Lois Gittings, Frank Ruth, or Roger Hawk.

According to Argo editor, Roger Hawk, all seniors not submitting lists will not have their activities printed in the 1949 Argo.

Pi Sig To Conduct Honors Program

Sittig, Sloan To Award Scholarship Trophies

Pi Sigma Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, will present the annual honors convocation program at the chapel services, Monday, April 4.

Presiding at the ceremony will be Ed Good, president of Pi Sigma Pi. The devotional part of the service will be under the direction of Adele Johnson and Bob Hinman, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the group.

The honors convocation address will be given by Dr. J. W. Creighton, chairman of the history department. Dr. John Orr will present certificates to students who are on the dean's honor roll for last semester.

Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women, will present a cup to the women's group which has the highest scholastic rating, and Samuel Sloan, dean of men, will present a similar cup to the men's group with the highest grade average.

Scroll, honorary English fraternity, will award the student who has made the outstanding literary contribution for the year; and the mathematics honorary, Delta Nabla, will name the year's outstanding mathematics student.

Honorary History Frat Initiates Eight Members

Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, initiated eight students last night in the history office.

After the initiation, Dr. J. L. Kelso, professor of semitics and archeology at Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, addressed the group in the faculty lounge.

The new members are Virginia B. Bretsnyder, Joel J. Feigenbaum, Harmon Fennell, James B. Hodges, John E. Matthews, Elizabeth B. McComb, Janet C. Schaefer, and Dwight A. White.

Committee Moves Date Of 'Orr Day'; Plan Rally, Dance

College Grants $110 For Student Floats In Welcome Parade

At the request of the new college president, "Will Orr Day" has been changed to Wednesday, April 27, instead of April 28.

Festivities will start Tuesday evening, April 26, with a pep rally followed by informal dancing in the gym. Twelve o'clock permission will be granted to the women.

Student Parade Wednesday

Wednesday's celebration will begin with a student parade by the college band, plus floats and displays by campus and community social organizations. The college has given Student Council $110 to divide among the sororities, fraternities and independents to build the floats.

The parade will begin at the west entrance to New Wilmington on West Neshannock avenue and end on the South Terrace of Old Main. Dr. and Mrs. Will Orr will award prizes for the best floats. College and town officials will extend greeting to Dr. and Mrs. Orr at the ceremonies on the terrace.

Informal Presentation

The new college president and his wife will then be informally presented to the student body and faculty and escorted to dinner at Ferguson hall by representatives of Student Council.

An early evening chapel service will end the day's celebration. Ministers of the local churches will speak, and Dr. Will Orr will deliver the sermon. The formal reception in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Orr will be held in conjunction with the Parent's Day reception, Saturday, April 30.

Program Committee Named

A committee consisting of Dr. John Orr, Dr. William J. Thomas, and Student Council officers and advisors are planning the day.

Duff Brown has been appointed chairman of the parade, while Bud Miller heads Tuesday evening activities, and Phyllis Williams will arrange the Chapel program. Regularly scheduled classes will resume on Thursday.

Dr. Orr To Attend Education Forum

Dr. John Orr, acting president of the college, will be in Chicago, April 4-7, for the fourth annual convention of the higher education branch of the National Education association. This clinic and workshop is held to be the largest educational gathering of the year, according to Dr. Orr.

Dr. Orr will also attend a Green Lake, Wis., conference June 24. He will be accompanied by Ross Ellis, college treasurer, and by a representative from the economics and business administration department. The meeting is interdenominational and will stress curriculum problems, especially those affecting economics and business administration.

Red Cross Will Solicit Funds For School Unit

Funds for the college unit of the American Red Cross will be solicited from Monday, April 4, to Wednesday, April 6. A booth will be placed on the first floor of Old Main to receive contributions.

Officers of the unit will be elected at an all-college meeting scheduled for the faculty lounge of the library, Thursday, April 7 at 7 p.m. Entertainment will feature a skit by Norma Williams and Jean Lewis.

Learn To Cheat . . .

WE ARE pikers.

The "Holcad" poll which found that only 60 per cent of Westminster students cheat shows that we do not begin to compare with the 83 per cent of Morehouse college students. To add to our shame, the methods used here are amateurish when placed beside the fake watch dials, "accordion jacks," and other tricks which they are reported to use.

What are we going to do? We don't want to go through life ignorant. And the 40 per cent who don't cheat don't have a chance against the 60 per cent who do, even though the 60 per cent aren't especially adept.

What we need is a course in cheating, designed to raise the standards of the trade and to put all students on an equal basis. Such a course would make it just as easy for one student to pass a test as another. This new program should include also an agreement among professors to give equal opportunities for cheating—by failing to provide an adequate number of proctors, by repeating the same tests year after year, and by counting heavily on one or two tests for the final grade in a course.

Let's not admit defeat. If we adopt these measures immediately, we can be the best cheaters since the first owner of the Brooklyn bridge.

Honest, we can.

We Choose A Course .

THE IDEA OF A marriage course which we mentioned two weeks ago is not new. The first specialized course in marriage was introduced in 1928 in the University of North Carolina. Since then, programs have gone into effect in several schools.

A letter from California State Teachers college describes a course begun this year which includes ten evening lectures of two hours each. Youngstown college, with one person in charge of the course, engages various experts for lectures. Other more distant colleges also offer marriage training.

Most of the programs include a view of the psychological, biological, sociological, and economic aspects of marriage. In our own school, marriage problems are discussed to a considerable extent in at least two courses. However, they naturally tend to lack the broad application of the four aspects mentioned above. Then, too, registration is limited by the departmental labels of the courses.

We are doing something, but is it enough? An all college marriage course still seems to be the best solution for offering all students this important part of an education for living.

Russia Terms Atlantic Treaty Aggressive; Claims Countries Are Stockpiling A-Bomb

MOSCOW, April 1.—(UP)—Russia blasted the Atlantic treaty today as "aggressive" and assured the world that the Soviet Union neither threatens nor intends to attack any nation.

The Kremlin announced that it sent a note yesterday to the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and Canada protesting that the treaty is clearly aimed at the Soviet Union and the people's democracies of eastern Europe. The note charged that the treaty violates the United Nations Charter, the Potsdam and Yalta agreements and the Anglo-Russian and Franco-Russian friendship and non-aggression treaties.

"The North Atlantic pact is designed to daunt the states which do not agree to obey the dictate of the Anglo-American grouping of powers that lay claim to world domination," the note said.

"One cannot but see the groundlessness of the anti-Soviet motives of the North Atlantic pact because it is known to all that the Soviet Union does not intend to attack anyone and in no way threatens the United States, Britain, France or the other parties to the treaty. Among the participants of the North Atlantic treaty are also countries whose governments expect to benefit at the expense of richer parties to this treaty and make various plans with regard to obtaining new credits and other material advantages."

The Soviet note charged that the Atlantic powers were carrying out extensive military measures which "can in no way be justified by the interests of self-defense."

It said these measures included increasing the armed forces, stockpiling atom bombs, building a network of air and naval bases, preserving the war-time combined Anglo-American staff in Washington and establishing a Western Union military staff at Fontainebleau, France.

Illusions Are Normal

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—(UP)—An uphill goldfish bowl, a world tilted, crazily, a stationary automobile that moved, and roses that were there, only weren't.

Sounds like double-talk but it's April Fool's Day and the Franklin institute observed the occasion by setting out to prove scientifically that "seeing things" is normal.

There wasn't any empty wallet tied to a string and there wasn't any brick hidden under a battered derby hat. But there was a talking head, with a newsman obliging by posing in the glass case which hid his body and left his head apparently suspended on nothing. A motionless flag offered to wave and a stationary automobile seemed to move. The moon was used to show the canals on Mars and there was an off-axis house which dropped your stomach to knee level. A novice could turn his hand through a pot of roses and never touch a rose. They weren't in the pot. They were behind it, and it was ridiculously easy to understand, once it was explained. Mirrors did it.

Dr. I. M. Levitt, Fels planetarium director, explained that it was the largest collection of illusions on earth, opened fittingly enough on All Fools' Day. The keynote was illusions are normal, and fun. More illusions will be added during the next year.

Paper 'Fools' Readers

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—(UP)—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat had the last laugh on its readers today.

Readers thought they caught the newspaper in a glaring error when they spotted the picture strip upside down. But when they turned up the page, they read:

"No, the panel isn't a mistake. Remember what day it is?"

Night Games Criticized

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—(UP)—Dr. Ernest L. Noone of the University of Pennsylvania school of medicine, today criticized the promoters of night high school football games as persons not "imbued with the true purpose of the school athletic program."

Dr. Noone, an associate professor of pediatrics, spoke before a panel of the annual schoolmen's week at the university.

He told the panel "We could do without" athletic coaches who introduce "big time publicity football" in the high schools, grade schools and junior high schools, and those who schedule arc-light night games "to attract suburban crowds."

Faces Are Red, Jokers Grin Amid Echoes Of 'April Fool'

by Sally

Were you offered a ticket to Westminster's first tennis match of the season, or told that the drinking fountains in Old Main will pour forth coke beginning next week? Maybe you heard about the fraternity father who shined his son's shoes. But don't believe it . . . today is the first of April.

Pranksters at Jeffers hall amaze Dick Wakefield's visitor from Pitt who asks, "Does this go on every night?" . . . as Roger Jarvis turns fortune teller, making wishes come true . . . while E. J. Smith and Alice Vogel meet with a nest of garter snakes . . . and 13 fellows put out a noontime brush fire . . . still get back in time for their 1:30 classes . . . yet Pud Toohey is so sleepy at breakfast that he pours cream into the sugar bowl.

Bright colors aren't confined to the jesters, as Bob Painter wears a pink shirt with tie and socks to match . . . and Frank Ruth's script line is twisted from "feed my lambs" to "feed my limbs" . . . as the church choir sings "Happy Birthday" to organist Jackie Clark during the postlude . . . while song leader Larry Woods hums to his music class learning an animal song, "Horses and pigs, ready sing . . ." and at a CGA radio show the "Kansas Kid" Paul Talley yells, "Whoa" after horses stop.

Trying to confuse the driver, Lynn Fitzgerald tells Margie Jenkins, Dick Coleman, and Tom Wilson on the way back to school, "We're some place between here and Marionville" . . . as Lois Brodbeck's Swedish pen pal writes that he's 187 cm. long . . . and Reverend Graham reminds Caroline Cox of the Lambeck conference during a chapel speech . . . while Dean Wheeler leads a calf around the campus . . . yet Buzzy Lewis is heard singing "So in Love Am I."

Jokers begin a day early as Betty Toner appears to be eating her dinner with three hands . . . one belongs to Nancy Engle . . . and Sally Groetzingler leads a Fergie dance session . . . while breakfast is served to all eight o'clock classes . . . yet Joe Hopkins is seen wearing a black tie . . . still it's announced that finals will be given at each student's leisure.

APRIL FOOL!

Titan Tattletale

MAYBE SUPPRESSED DESIRES?

If what psychologists say about "slips of the tongue" is true, then Nancy Hoffman and John Chiodo had better reform.

John, while making an imaginary basketball award to Al Caruso in speech class, spoke of a "hard-fought bottle."

When Rousseau's "Le Reve," a primitive painting, was shown in advanced art, Nancy called it "Mae West in the Jungle."

AND I USED CRIB NOTES—

Because the mimeographed sheets ran out, the poor souls seated in the last few rows of the chapel fine arts test had to have the questions dictated and use their own paper.

When Chuck Vogel discovered the situation, he whispered to the person beside him, "We might as well turn in the boards. There are more answers on them anyway."

POPULAR GAL?

Shirley Voegele received an unexpected answer at Hillside the other day.

She asked the girls at her dinner table, "What is it that Bob likes that no one else can stand?" in unison, they answered, "Shirley Voegele."

HE RAN OUT OF TOES

Duff Brown really had a sharp retort to one of Mr. Burry's social science questions, "How many men were in the last war?" Duff blurted out, "I don't know. I didn't count them!"

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

"Mighty oaks from little acorns grow." The venerated sage who came forth with this literary gem must have had in mind something very concrete. We find that a group of enterprising freshmen have hit upon a sound idea from which we hope bigger things may come.

The newly organized freshman baseball team gives promise of being quite an innovation. Although the men are not playing under the name of the school, the athletic department has sanctioned the activities of the ball club. The men will have to provide their own uniforms and equipment and have named the New Wilmington baseball diamond as their home field.

This new sports activity is a fine thing. Perhaps it may lead eventually to baseball's becoming a varsity sport here at Westminster. We note that Waynesburg college now has a varsity wrestling team which grew out of an impromptu intramural wrestling league. We send orchids to Frank Finlay and Jim Deighan and the rest of the men who combined their efforts to make such a team possible. A bouquet goes to Coach Grover C. Washabaugh and members of the administration who were far-sighted enough to realize the potentialities of such an organization. And we aren't forgetting Dr. Wayne Christy who has offered his services as coach and manager of the newly organized ball club. Good luck, fellows.

After listening to predictions which have been floating around campus for a few weeks now as to just who will be playing in the World Series next fall, I'll make a few of my own, despite reverberations. I'll pick Cleveland to repeat in the junior circuit and stick by Billy Meyer's Buccos in the National League. Careful now, fellows, all I know is what I read in the newspapers.

Due to space limitations, the intramural softball league schedule is being held over until next week. A complete schedule of the games to be played next week may be checked at the bulletin board in the gymnasium.

Attention softball managers!!... There will be another important meeting next Monday afternoon at the gym. Coach Hetzler asks that you all be present.

WAA Team Enters Sports Festival At Thiel Saturday

Greeks, Indies Await Annual Swimming Meet To Be Held April 6, 7

Six members of the Women's Athletic association, under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, will travel to Thiel college, Greenville, Pa., to take part in a sports' festival on Saturday, April 2.

The girls, Sally Groetzinger, Mary Lou Black, Carolyn Stevenson, Audrey Bryan, Gloria Jenzer, and Sally Snyder, will compete in volleyball, swimming, basketball, modern dance, and ping pong.

Other colleges represented in the festival will be Allegheny, Edinboro, Grove City, and Thiel. Mixed teams will be chosen from all the schools represented and each girl will take part in every event.

Annual Swim Meet

The annual inter-sorority swimming meet will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 6 and 7, starting at 4:30 p.m. on both days. It was announced that names of all contestants must be in the gymnasium office by 12 noon, Wednesday, April 6.

A girl can enter any of the events and there will be seven swimmers in each event representing the six sororities and the Quadrangle. The four best times in each event on Wednesday will compete in the finals on Thursday afternoon.

The events carded for the meet are as follows:

|               |           |
|---------------|-----------|
| Medley Relay  | 6 lengths |
| Sidestroke    | 3 lengths |
| Underwater    | 1 length  |
| Freestyle     | 3 lengths |
| Back Crawl    | 3 lengths |
| Freestyle     | 5 lengths |
| Breast Stroke | 3 lengths |
| Relay         | 8 lengths |

Forty-Two Men Report For Grid Practice

Forty-two candidates have reported for spring football practice which began Monday, March 28. Coach Hetzler stressed calisthenics, wind sprints, and elementary plays during the first day of practice with scrimmage scheduled for the latter part of the week. Aspirants for next year's team will work out for one and one half hours daily until the start of finals.

Swimmers Ready . . . On Your Mark

Softball Meeting Set For Monday Afternoon

A meeting of all managers of softball teams will be held in the gymnasium on Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., according to Melvin Hetzler, director of intramural softball.

A representative of each team should attend the meeting if the manager cannot be present. The rules and regulations governing the softball leagues will be discussed and reviewed.

Eleven Men Awarded Varsity Cage Letters

Athletic Director and Basketball Coach Grover C. Washabaugh announced last week that eleven basketball players have earned varsity letters for the season of 1948-49.

The list includes three freshmen, Johnny Abraham, forward; Ed Halas, center, and Patrick King, guard.

Others who have met the requirements of the athletic department are Chet Dembinski, senior; Dick Fuhrer, junior; Jack Jones, junior; Don Mayberry, sophomore; Allan McCullough, junior; Clyde Shaffer, junior; Bruce Wagner, junior, and Ed Dotten, senior manager for the past season.

Abraham, Halas, King, and Mayberry will also receive sweaters, while Dembinski and Dotten will get blankets, a traditional gift reserved for seniors.

Freshmen Form Baseball Squad

A freshman baseball team, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Christy, who will coach and manage the squad, will play its opening game of the season on the New Wilmington baseball field, Tuesday, at 4:30 p.m. Permission for the team to operate was granted by the athletic committee this week.

The idea of a freshman ball team was started by residents of College hall under the leadership of Frank Finlay and Jim Deighan. Practice sessions have been held on the local diamond and approximately 20 men reported to go through their preliminary paces last Monday.

The opposition for Tuesday's battle will be the New Wilmington high school and a probable lineup will be composed of the following men: DeWayne Elgin and Jim Snow will do the pitching, while Frank Finlay will be behind the plate. The infield will consist of Jim Case, first base; Frank Jones, second base; Gus Manwaring, short stop, and Al Krause, third base. Jim Deighan, Bill Danver, and John Peterson will cover the outfield.

Other men who will probably see action are Ed Halas, Jerry Seibert, Phil Comito, Herb Mullin, Bob Demman, and Bob Lawrence.

The athletic department is trying to schedule games with similar teams from Grove City, Geneva, and other colleges in the district.

Softballers Begin Loop Competition Monday, April 4

Division Winners Will Play Three-Game Series For Championship

If the weather man is in a congenial mood, the intramural softball league will begin competition on Monday, April 4. Mel Hetzler has released the complete rules governing league play and also a schedule which will run until April 26.

Softball rules are as follows:

1. Games are to be played at 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. with a ten minute grace period.

2. All games are to be played as scheduled with the following exceptions:

(a) Inclement weather, (b) postponement by mutual agreement of the team managers with the notification of the postponement to be filed with the intramural director at least 24 hours before the scheduled time for the game. Failure to comply with this rule means forfeiture of the game.

Eligibility

1. A complete team roster must be filed with the intramural director 24 hours before the time for the first scheduled game, and there shall not be any names added to this roster until after the first round of competition.

2. Any person on probation is not eligible for intramural competition, and if such an individual is used, that game shall be declared forfeited.

3. No one participating or practicing a varsity sport during this period shall be eligible for intramural competition.

Officials

Umpires shall be selected by mutual agreement of the team managers, and they shall have complete authority to officiate the game which they are working.

1. The schedule will be played in two rounds. The first round will be designated as the first half of the schedule, and the second round as the second half of the schedule.

Interfraternity Cup

1. The fraternity with the greatest number of wins in the first round shall be declared the winner of that round. In case there is a tie in the number of wins between two fraternities, a one-game playoff of the composite teams of both leagues will be held, and the winner of that game shall be declared the winner of that round. The second round shall follow the same procedure as the first round.

2. There will be a three-game playoff series between the winners of the respective leagues for the school championship.

Contest Rules

1. Nine players constitute a team, and that number must be present to play a game.

2. There shall be no base stealing.

3. On an overthrow at first, third, or home plate, one base will be allowed, and an overthrow at second will permit the runner to take as many bases as possible.

4. The pitcher in delivering the ball shall not raise it above the height of his shoulder, and he shall deliver the ball with the hand and arm being no more than 12 inches from the body, and with one complete motion.

AG's Sponsor Girl-Ask-Boy Dance; Alpha Sigs Elect Totzke President

By Dodie

Campus coeds play turn-about to escort their favorite beaux to the "Orchids to You" all-college semi-formal dance, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta, in the college gym tonight. While sororities continue initiations, the frats are busily making plans for their spring dinner dances.

THETA UPSILON will entertain other campus sororities at their "Donut Dunk" tomorrow morning. Shirley Brandon and Dottie Elder are in charge. Kay Campbell is making plans for a Parents' Day luncheon. Gail Antes and Shirley Mack are in charge of arrangements for Will Orr Day. Dot Wallace has been appointed assistant treasurer. The following new chairmen were announced at Monday's meeting: Libby Mawhinney and Barbara Cloud, sports; Dottie Elder, scholastic; Shirley Brandon, rushing; Bob's Bartlett, 'altruistic'; Kay Campbell, guard; Marilyn Barthels, fraternity study; June Graham, magazines.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA initiated the following pledges into active membership on Wednesday, March 30: Dottie Bauder, Pat Branagan, Cattie Dunlap, Lois Hendrickson, Nell Kling, Mitzie Patterson, Dottie Simon, and Ruth Vogan. A dinner was held at the Tavern after the ceremonies in their honor. Ellen Kaye was a member of the reception committee for Helene Garnell last Tuesday. Jean Basher, '49, Janie Campbell, '48, "Bizz" Burton Hartman, '48, and Ethelene Myers, ex-'51, will be on campus for the Alpha Gam dance this Friday. Visitors last weekend were Libby Bell, ex-'49, now a student at Penn State, and "Bizz" Burton Hartman, '48.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON's national inspector, Mrs. Isabel Kerner, will visit the local chapter this week. Elizabeth Coffin, ex-'48, will be married to Mr. Richard Dawes in Richmond, Virginia, on April 2. Judy Wilkinson will be soloist at the wedding. Janet Schaeffer is in charge of Beta Sig plans for Will Orr Day. Betty Ann Etter, ex-'50, was on campus last weekend. Dodie Renshaw is visiting on the Penn State campus this weekend. Guests last week at W & J were Mary McCoy and Shan Walker.

CHI OMEGA, Barbara Lewis, has accepted the Alpha Sig pin of Harvey Stewart. The pledge class will be initiated into active membership on Saturday, April 9. Marylou Black is in charge of Chi O's contribution to Sing and Swing. Plans are underway to entertain the district alumnae chapters at a celebration of the founding of the sorority. Marge Boles, '47, has announced her wedding date as April 30. Judy Gordon, '46, was a recent campus visitor.

SIGMA KAPPA has appointed Isy Tidd to take care of plans for Will Orr Day. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams (Pat Franek, ex-'49) are the parents of a baby girl. Marie Oden, '49, is teaching in Pittsburgh. Expected on campus this weekend are Chris Masterson, '48, Jane Allen, ex-'49, and Darby Johnson, '48. June Allen, ex-'47, Betty Arnold, '46, and Lorry Brown Turner, '47, visited on campus last week.

KAPPA DELTA's province president, Mrs. West is expected to make a visit next week. KD's are spending a basket of clothes and toys to their adopted war orphan. Bert Twaddle is visiting on Penn State campus this weekend.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI elected the following officers at the last meeting: Don Totzke, president; Bill Gilkey, vice president; Don McAllister, treasurer; Bob Clever, steward; Stat

Miller, recording secretary; Burke Dorworth, corresponding secretary; Bud Christy, marshal; Don Purdy, sergeant at arms; Frank Ruth, Tomahawk representative; Bob Ranck and Bud Miller, prudential committee. The Alpha Sig spring formal dinner-dance will be held at the Sheraton hotel, Pittsburgh, on Wednesday, April 13. Everett Neal and his KD-KA orchestra will provide music for dancing. Gene Yarnell, '47, visited the fraternity house this weekend.

SIGMA NU's are planning a son-father banquet for Wednesday, April 6. Two fraternity basketball teams, one of pledges and the other of actives, will travel to Bethany college Saturday for games with the Sigma Nu chapter there. Elmer Dills is in charge of plans for Will Orr Day. Robert Hofer, '48, was a recent visitor.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON is planning a buffet luncheon for Parents' Day, May 30. Harvey Conners is in charge.

Three-Fifths Cheat

of the students interviewed bother to take crib notes with them, while three said they get a copy of the test before it is given, and two look in their books during tests. One student disclosed that he cheats "if within vision," and another bragged, "I have a rubber neck."

A few novel cheating methods: writing on fingernails, placing a gyp sheet (crib) in one's shoe, and practicing eye exercises before class, were revealed. One person wrote so heavily on a sheet of paper that it left an impression on the paper underneath, which she took along to the test.

One-fourth of the non-cheaters claimed that moral principles kept them from looking on the next paper during a test. Four felt that they would be cheating themselves. "It doesn't do any good in the end although grades temporarily get you through," stated one person. Three say they can take the penalty for not knowing the work, and three are afraid of getting caught if they cheat. Another seems to have little faith in her fellow students because she said, "I usually know more than the person whose paper I look at anyway." A sophomore said, "I just grew up a bit."

Do the non-cheaters like giving answers on tests? One student announced, "I don't care if I'm an out-cast for not giving answers," while another admitted that he is bitter about cheating because it pulls his grades down.

Are we exceptions to the rule at Westminster, or do most college students cheat? Morehouse college in Atlanta, Ga., recently conducted a poll which revealed that 83 percent of its students cheat. Pitt seems to have its share of cheaters too, because a new ruling adopted by the Board of Deans states that infractions of the cheating rules will bring failure or dismissal from the school.

Maybe a new science is being developed—the science of cheating; but to many students it's old stuff.

Art Show Exhibits American Works

Modern American paintings from the permanent collection of the Butler Art Institute, Youngstown, are on display in the exhibition room of the college library.

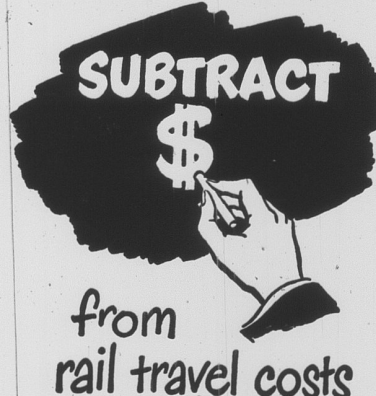

Included in the show are examples of style ranging from the ultra-conservative to the ultra-modern, the original works of American artists.

Two recent acquisitions of the institute, the intense blue and orange design entitled "The Seer" by Adolph Gottlieb and the near abstraction "Trumpet Player" by Byron Browne are being displayed at present. Raphael Gleitsman, winner of the first prize of last year's Carnegie show, is represented by "The City," an expression of war ruins.

You add hours at both ends of vacation when you go by train. Relax in a comfortable coach seat, or sleep the miles away in your berth while you speed homeward. Returning, leave later . . . with confidence that you won't miss a class.

Come back after vacation on a "College Special" . . . then return home at the end of the college year. Enjoy stopover privileges permitted by 10-day transit limit in both directions, if you wish.

Beta Sigs Secure Scholarship Award For Second Year

SN's Win Men's Cup; Duff, Shane Receive English, Math Awards

Beta Sigma Omicron and Sigma Nu won the scholarship cups for the women's and men's groups, respectively, at the Honors Convocation held this week.

Nancy Shane, Beta Sig president, accepted the award for her sorority, and Jack Williams, commander of the Sigma Nu fraternity, accepted the award for his group.

Henrietta Lee scholarships were awarded to Adele Johnston and Beverly Birkholz. Edwin Good won the Henrietta Lee fellowship.

Scroll's award for outstanding work in freshman English last year went to Wilma Duff. Nancy Shane was the winner of the Delta Nabla award for the outstanding mathematics student of the past year.

Students who achieved at least a 2.5 average in one or both of the last two semesters were listed among the Honor Scholarship groups. The names of those students who received a 3.0 average were announced. Honor students received certificates.

Dr. J. W. Creighton, head of the history department, delivered the address for the convocation. Robert Hinman gave the prayer, and Adele Johnston read the Scripture. Edwin Good, president of Pi Sigma Pi, presided.

Duff Will Preside Over Outing Club

Wilma Duff, sophomore elementary education major from New Castle, was elected president of the Outing club at a meeting held recently. At this meeting 16 women were initiated into the group.

Other officers elected at the meeting are Margaret Anderson, vice president, Janet Schaefer, secretary, and Juanita McNinch, treasurer.

Those initiated include June Bandemere, Lois Brodbeck, Jean Cease, Marjorie Crawford, Vilma Dunlap, Sally Edwards, Charmaine Hazen, Carolyn Hulse, Helen Jamison, Gloria Jenzer, Janet Lindsey, Sue Nolph, June Sabolia, Donna Schumaker, Mary Jane Shupe, and Barbara Williams.

A supper hike to college woods is being planned as the informal part of the initiation.

Reception Will Honor Senior Class Members

Members of the senior class who will take part in June commencement exercises will be honored Friday, April 22, at 8:30 p.m. in Ferguson hall lounge at the annual college president's reception.

Faculty members and members of the student body may join Dr. John Orr, acting president, and his wife at this time in honoring the senior men and women who will comprise the receiving line.

Dress for seniors will be formal. Prescribed dress for those honoring the seniors will be formal for women, while men are asked to wear business suits.

Mission Head Will Speak During Monday Chapel

Chapel will be held only Monday and Tuesday of next week. Dr. J. I. Moore of Youngstown, head of missions for the First Synod of the West, will speak Monday.

Beta Sigma Omicron will have charge of chapel services Tuesday.

Chapel will resume April 19 with a musical ensemble from Erie Strong Vincent junior high school. Chi Omega will have charge of the devotional program April 20.

Dr. Chester T. R. Yeates, head of young people's work of the United Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Carl Kissing, missionary from Ethiopia, will preside at services April 21. On April 22, Sigma Nu will be in charge of chapel.

Johnston To Head Senate Next Year

Succeeds Cummings In Government Chair

Alice Johnston will preside over Senate, women's governing body, in the coming year, having been chosen this week in an election open to all Westminster women. She succeeds Lou Cummings. Alice is a junior elementary education major from McConnellsburg, Pa.

Alice has served one previous term in Senate, during which she held the office of corresponding secretary. Her other activities include YWCA, in which she serves as vice president. She is also Crafts committee chairman for the Red Cross.

She is a member of WAA, A Cappella choir, and CYF, and has participated in Little Theatre work. Duties in Life Service group have carried her into Bible class teaching at Hickory Heights grade school near New Castle, where she teaches a 50 minute period every Tuesday.

Red Cross Unit Elects Edna McCuen Chairman

Edna McCuen, junior English major, was elected chairman of the Westminster chapter of the Red Cross last night.

Bob Ranck was elected vice chairman of the group and Ruth Devlin was elected secretary-treasurer.

A campaign total of $50.73 was announced at the meeting. Plans were made for the group to visit the DeShon Veterans' hospital May 12.

Pre-Law Group Attends Civil Court Session

Sixteen members of Tower Inn, college pre-law group witnessed a civil court session in New Castle recently.

Attending were Glenn Reed, Robert Patton, Bill Samuels, Ed Dotten Frank Davidson, John Regule, Frank Goodwin, Gaylord Lutz, Tom Danner, Joseph Lombardi, Vance Smith, Donald Wiley, Arnold Tornell, Chris Papazickos, Burk Dorworth, and John Hammerstrom.

She Never Wanted to Teach, but . . .

Prof's Wife Helps Bring Art Into Homes

By Paul Talley

"One thing I never wanted to do was teach," exclaimed Mrs. Annabel Kelly, wife of the Bible professor. But still, she can be found in the art studio every Monday night, instructing a group of Westminster ladies who hope to bring art into their homes.

This group is a crafts class, learning those crafts which can be most usefully applied in the home. The first craft studied, textile painting, resulted in numerous luncheon sets, dresser sets, and handkerchiefs. Mrs. E. C. Shortt, however, decided to paint pajamas for her daughter, Bobbie Lee. Some of the women have begun a study of wood crafts. Among these is Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women, who is working on a hand carved box. Others are painting wooden bowls or burning designs on trays.

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Dora Scott helped organize the group two months ago. Officers elected at that time were Mrs. John W. Reid, president, and Mrs. John G. Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer. The group, which is open to any women connected with the college—students, teachers, or the wives of students and teachers, was originally planned as a cooperative class. But when it was discovered that only Mrs. Kelly had done previous crafts work, she was asked to teach the group. Although her interest in crafts had begun while teaching a class in daily vacation Bible school, she had her doubts about keeping ahead of an adult group. Therefore she intensified her efforts in William G. Faddis' Tuesday afternoon crafts lab, in which she was enrolled.

In addition to the Bible school students, she has taught crafts to the Pioneer class of the United Presbyterian church. Her "egg hats," another craft, were exhibited in Old Main in connection with the appearance of Helene Garnell, milliner, who spoke here March 29.

Mrs. Kelly admits that most of the women have had no art training, but states that they are becoming decidedly design conscious. Their favorite type of design is the ultra-

Musicians Schedule Events

Keefer, Edgar Plan Joint Music Recital

Others Will Perform Post-Easter Programs

Three music recitals are scheduled to take place between now and April 21.

Bruce Keefer, pianist, and Howard Edgar, tenor, will present a joint senior recital, Monday, April 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the college chapel.

Keefer will play compositions by Chopin, Bach, Rachmaninoff, and Moszkowski for his part of the recital; while Edgar will sing works by Schumann, Brahms, Handel, McGill, Woodford-Finden, and Charles.

Ben Roman, baritone, and Jack McCullough, clarinetist, will present their joint senior recital, Wednesday, April 20, at 8:15 p.m. in the chapel.

Roman will sing numbers by Debussy, Debussy, Mozart, Schubert, Wolf, Felman, Dougherty, and Charles; and McCullough will offer selections by Mozart, Ponce, Guilhaud, and Poldini.

Judith Wilkinson, soprano, will give her junior recital Thursday, April 21, at 8:15 p.m. in the chapel. She will be assisted and accompanied by Mina Belle Packer.

Judith will sing selections by Handel, Durante, Puccini, Schubert, Charpentier, Cadman, Alabieff, and Sandoval.

Mina Belle will play compositions by Brahms and D'Albert.

C. Eugene Kingsley

Welcoming Plans Near Final Stage

'Orr Day' Celebration To Commence At 1:45

Plans are nearing completion for the welcoming ceremonies for Dr. Will Orr, new college president, on April 7.

Dr. Orr will be met in Youngstown by a committee and will be escorted to New Wilmington. The parade will fall in behind Dr. Orr, starting at 1:45, and will end at the south terrace of Old Main.

Prizes amounting to $30 will be given for the best floats. They will be awarded by the Orr children. Three members of Dr. Orr's church, now attending the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, will judge the floats.

Speakers representing the faculty, townspeople, and students will deliver addresses on the south terrace. Following will be the presentation of Dr. Orr and his family and awarding of float prizes.

At 5:15 Dr. Orr and his family will be escorted to dinner at Ferguson hall by Phyllis Williams, secretary of Student Council, and Stanley Hartung, vice president.

The college choir will present a program in the chapel at 7:15, at which time the new president will speak briefly. The program will end in time for students to attend the Thomas L. Thomas concert in New Castle. Buses will be outside the chapel to take care of the students.

The formal reception for Dr. Orr will be held in conjunction with Parents Day, April 30.

Kingsley Will Sing In Easter Program

Choir To Give Cantata During Sunday Service

C. Eugene Kingsley, head of the voice department at Duquesne university, will sing the baritone solos in the Vaughan Williams' composition "Five Mystical Songs" to be given Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., as part of the Easter program of the college choir.

Mr. Kingsley has appeared with the Pittsburgh Opera Company in "Tales of Hoffman" and "The Devil and Daniel Webster." He has held parts in two Broadway musical shows, and has been soloist in the Pittsburgh Bach choir and Mendelssohn choir. At present he is soloist at the Sixth Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

The choir will also present the Bach cantata, "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison" at the service. Between these two numbers Dr. Ansley Moore, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, will deliver a brief message. Dr. Moore will be in New Wilmington to deliver the sermons for the holy week services in the local churches.

Frank Bohnhorst, instructor of music, is director of the choir.

Debaters To Attend National Tourney

Melvin P. Moorhouse, debate coach, and a debate team will leave Monday, April 11, to attend The Grand National Forensic tournament at Mary Washington college, Fredericksburg, Virginia. Mary Washington college is a branch of The University of Virginia.

John Kerensky and Richard Stoneage, affirmative, and Glenn Reed and Robert Patton, negative, will represent Westminster at the tournament which will begin Tuesday, April 12. The topic of the debates will be "Federal Aid To Education."

John Kerensky, winner of the state Extemporaneous Speaking contest, will also enter the extemporaneous speaking contest at Mary Washington college.

Social Worker To Talk On Summer Camp Work

Henry B. Ollendorff of the Neighborhood House Settlement of Cleveland will speak, on Thursday, April 21, to students interested in summer camp work. The talk will be given in room 10 of the Science hall at 4:15 p.m. it has been announced by Dr. Blanche Carrier, head of the psychology department.

On April 23, the social psychology classes will be the guests of the Youngstown college Intercultural club.

Thirty Club Takes 12 At Ferguson Ceremony

Thirty club, a journalism group, initiated 10 students, Tuesday, April 5, at 8:15 p.m. in the Ferguson hall lounge.

Those initiated include Doris Bush, Joan Noble, Sally Fyock, Larry Friday, Paul Talley, Howard Frisbee, Margaret Shields, James Canan, Lyle Bramhall, Carol McKinley, James Case, and Albert Krause.

Frances Davenport was in charge of the candlelight ceremony, while Maryellen Cipolla presided at the formal initiation.

Hope Nears Reality . . .

IT is heartening to realize the concern for Westminster and her student body which the following letter indicates.

April 5

To the Editor:

The faculty members from the several fields of knowledge involved in the usual course on preparation for marriage have formed a voluntary committee, and will prepare a proposal to give to the committee on curriculum revision which is being postponed until next year so as to work with the new administration.

We shall be glad to select student representation for the committee.

Blanche Carrier

Thus it seems as though this part of education for living will become a reality. We congratulate the voluntary committee for its farsightedness, and pledge our aid in instituting this course. We are certain that such a program will help Westminster students to be better able to meet the problems and responsibilities of marriage and parenthood in later life.

To the offer from the committee to select student representation we answer, of course, affirmatively.

Statistics Warn Us . . .

SPRING vacation plans for most students are no-doubt already well under way. These plans will probably include a certain amount of driving.

Herein lies the need to mention some important facts, as well as to sound a word of caution.

Drivers in the 18 to 24 age group, into which the majority of college students fall, caused more than their statistical share of both deaths and injuries in 1948, according to figures just issued by a large insurance company. This group of drivers was involved in 26.9 per cent of all fatal accidents, or a total of 10,490.

The percentage in 1947 was 25.3 and in 1946 it was 24.8. The significance of this steadily rising trend is obvious. In view of the fact that drivers in this age group make up well under 20 per cent of the total of all drivers, these figures are all the more startling.

With vacation coming, there can be only one conclusion to draw from such data. Let's have fun, but let's be careful, too.

Big Three Approve New Occupation Statute To Aid In German Republic Establishment

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(UP)—The big three foreign ministers today approved a new German occupation statute clearing the way for formation of a western German republic under allied civilian direction.

The statute was approved by U.S. Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, and French Minister Robert Schuman.

The foreign ministers ordered the document transmitted immediately to the German parliamentary council which is drafting the proposed German constitution at Bonn.

In a special communique issued at the close of their final meeting, the three ministers announced that the Allied Military Government in Western Germany will terminate as soon as the new republic comes into being. However, military commanders will remain there in charge of occupation forces.

The functions of the allied authorities will become "mainly supervisory," although the United States, Britain and France will retain veto power over the Germans' administrative and legislative actions.

Nationalists Seek Peace

NANKING, April 8.—(UP)—Acting President Li Tsung-Jen, in a desperate plea to save the Peiping peace talks, offered today to surrender himself to the Communists for punishment as a "war criminal."

Li appealed by cable to Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung to withdraw his unconditional ultimatum demanding the surrender of the Nationalist government by next Tuesday.

He asked Mao to show moderation and reason to save the Nationalist-Communist peace talks in Peiping, "especially in view of the darkening international situation."

Israeli Troops Accused

CAIRO, April 8.—(UP)—The "All-Palestine government" charged today that Israeli troops have murdered Arabs, uprooted them from their homes and razed their villages.

The charges were contained in three memorandums to United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie and acting UN Palestine Mediator Ralph J. Bunche. The "All-Palestine government" is recognized only by the Arab League and a few Arab states.

Pact Nations Ask Arms

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(UP)—Eight free nations of western Europe today formally asked the United States for arms to defend themselves against aggression and to ensure the democratic world's peace and security.

It was a you-help-us and we'll-help-you request under the principles of the freshly-signed North Atlantic Treaty for common defense.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson disclosed the requests. They were from the five Brussels Pact nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg—in a joint request, and from Norway, Denmark and Italy.

Maritime Unions Fight

HALIFAX, April 8.—(UP)—Five seamen were wounded by shotgun blasts today in a waterfront battle between 500 members of opposing unions in an eight-day-old maritime strike.

Police said the shotguns were used by officers aboard the Lady Rodney, a ship tied up alongside the pier, when strikers attempted to board the vessel.

Fire hoses were manned aboard the Canadian Constructor in an effort to drive the strikers back into the pier sheds. Rocks, screw drivers, hammers, nuts, and bolts were hurled from both ships while men on the docks threw stones.

British Rightists Gain

LONDON, April 8.—(UP)—Winston Churchill's Conservative party ended the Labor party's 15-year rule of the London County council today.

The final count in yesterday's election deadlocked the Conservatives and Laborites, giving them the same number of council seats with the one remaining crucial seat going to a Liberal.

New suits, frilly bonnets, and bright flowers will replace the usual saddle shoes and sweaters as we take our places in the Easter parade next Sunday. We'll eat chocolate rabbits, colored eggs, and Easter ham, forgetting about themes and eight o'clocks for a few days.

A new outfit, but not exactly for Easter, are Jim Canan's cowboy spurs and Tom Mix ring . . . and Jean Chapman looks for a song on the juke box called "I'm confused," later learns the title is "Bewildered" . . . as Mel Moorhouse rushes to an early class only to learn that he doesn't have to teach it . . . while Al Sternberg names his biology frog "Ray Milland" because it has bloodshot eyes . . . still Janet Hatch's pupils present her with a birthday gift and Jewel Jennings has a cartoon drawn for her as the last week of practice teaching nears . . . but Renny Jackson finds himself listed on a program as the Reverend Renwick J. Unconventional costumes enter the picture as fellows race in skirts . . . but Sam Sloan Jr. forgets his in the rush . . . as Paul Fenwick is told that his slip is showing . . . and Sid Lucas wears a bright purple skirt . . . Harvey Stewart tells Mr. Manley that the bill in question, to be negotiable, must have a date . . . so Mr. Manley turns the question to the only girl in the class, Jamey Jamison, "Is that right, Miss Jamison, do you need a date?" . . . still everyone imitates Jane Wyman after seeing the movie.

Harvey, the Easter bunny is busy dipping chocolate eggs and weaving baskets in preparation for the big day next week.

Titan Tattletale

A SHARP JOKE

Norm Monack must have forgotten that last Friday was April Fool's day. His landlady asked him to call the post office for a box that had arrived for him COD.

After calling the number he said, "Ray, this is Norm Monack. Do you have a box up there for me,"

"This is Sharp's Funeral Home," was the reply.

THESE MODERN ARTISTS

Mr. Faddis was explaining the structure of a puppet to Jan Keller in crafts lab. While demonstrating a point, he said, "Now if I take my head off and put it over here . . ."

Carol Meany looked up from her painted tray and whispered, "Go ahead and try it."

'HAHVAHD YAH'D,' YOU KNOW

While Mr. Calvert was reminiscing about Southern plantation life in one of his social science classes, several jokers passed a note around on which they also reminisced.

Dottie Hassell dreamed of her ranch in Wyoming, Alice Aiken saw an image of her little shack on Coney Island, and Norm Rudolph wondered how the thirty servants were doing on his Erie plantation.

When Mary Anne Hagenbuch received the note, she wrote:

"I don't want any of that peasant life. Give me Boston!"

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

It all started back in 1941 when Pitt refused to play the Westminster Titans on the local basketball floor after having played here once that year. The Titans took a decisive victory in that contest. Then, Akron university decided that the college hardwoods did not possess sufficient size or lighting on and under which to risk a good record.

Now, for the third time, one of our most respected and oldest rivals has sent forth a decree stating that they wish to limit their basketball relationship with Westminster to one contest a year, to be played on their home floor, until such a time as a new field house or gymnasium is erected here which will be in keeping with present-day standards.

That college is Washington and Jefferson.

Mr. Adam L. Sanders, head basketball coach at Wash-Jeff recently sent a letter to Westminster's athletic director stating that, although he is a long-time friend of our basketball coach and members of the faculty and administration, and although he has the highest regard for our student body and our school, pressure from students, administration, and various alumni has forced him to discontinue a scheduled basketball game between Wash-Jeff and Westminster on the local court until a new gym is built.

He adds further that his own feelings on the matter add up to this: the spectators sit so close to the court and the court itself is so small that his players do not have a 50-50 chance.

We definitely agree with him. No team has a 50-50 chance on our basketball court. It is true that the home team always enjoys an advantage, but too much of an advantage usually leads to the above situation. Waynesburg and Kent State have also chipped in with similar gripes about the size of our floor and the cramped seating facilities which definitely hinder any visiting team.

It looks as though Wash-Jeff has started a stone rolling that, once other schools catch on, won't have a chance to gather any moss. What might be the result? Westminster could end up with a fine reputation for good basketball teams, but no one to play . . . at least here at home.

What could be the answer? Get the dust-laden plans for the new field house which we have heard so much about, brush off said dust, and take them out of the blue print stage.

We do need a new gymnasium . . . a modern gym with ample locker space, shower rooms and lavatories . . . and a basketball floor that will have enough room to allow a player to take a side court shot without fear of being hit on the cranium when the ball bounces back off the base of the wooden track overhead.

A Brief Respite . . .

George says . . .

I Like The Job

By Bob

How would you like to have the job of handing out athletic equipment for seven varsity sports throughout the school year? It doesn't sound like a very romantic or adventurous job does it? Perhaps it sounds rather dull. But not to George Anderson who is in charge of the athletic equipment locker in the college gym.

Mr. Anderson, who likes to be called George by students and faculty alike, was born in 1883 at New Kensington, Pa. He came to New Wilmington in 1926 and as made his home here since that time. Except for two years, "George" has been in charge of the gymnasium since he came here to live and was put in charge of the athletic gear locker two years ago.

All Are Great

With 23 years' experience working with Westminster athletics, Mr. Anderson has had a chance to see quite a few blue and white greats come and go. When asked if he had his own favorite team, he said that, in fairness to his many friends of the present and past in Westminster's sports, he could mention no outstanding teams or players because they have all been great in his estimation.

"Names like O'Donovan, Marsh Fischer, Phil Rice, Tudor Lewis, Ray Sweeney, Swede Hunneke, Ted Ossoff, and Wes Bennett have gone down in sports history here at Westminster," Mr. Anderson reminisced, "and I could name lots more if I had time."

He said he secretly keeps in mind a dream team made up of former players, but he could not give out any information to that effect because past stars still drop around to visit him, and he might have to present a few of them with some rather feeble excuses if they were not included.

Players continue to come and go, and Mr. Anderson continues to be, at once, a friend and advisor to all aspiring athletes. In the passing panorama of Westminster sports, "George" remains one of the central cogs in the machine.

Schill Will Speak To Titan Athletes

Dennis Schill, secretary of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce, will be the main speaker at the athletic banquet on April 19, at 6:30 p.m., in Ferguson hall.

Approximately 160 students and guests will hear Mr. Schill, who will speak on "Athletic Trends." Mr. Schill has been associated with athletics for many years and is now a football official. He coached football at Struthers, Ohio high school until 1935, when he accepted a similar position at Ellwood City high school.

Mr. Washabaugh states that any man who has participated in any of the seven inter-collegiate sports during the past year and who has finished the season will receive an invitation. Anyone who has fulfilled these requirements and who does not receive an invitation is asked to contact Mr. Washabaugh.

Chi O's Win WAA Swimming Meet; BSO's Take Second, KD's Third

Sally Snyder, Izzy Cooper Outstanding As Victors Break Pool Record In Relay

Chi Omega sorority won the WAA sponsored inter-sorority swimming meet held on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week.

By winning both the 160 and 120 yard relays, the Chi O's collected 25½ points to lead the Beta Sigs who had 22½ and Kappa Delta who placed third with 18½ points.

Sally Snyder and Izzy Cooper were individual standouts who carried the Chi O's to victory. Snyder took the underwater event while Cooper captured the 100 yard free-style swim. Snyder also broke the pool's breast stroke record from 60 seconds to 55.8 seconds but was disqualified due to making an incorrect turn at the end of the first lap.

Other individual winners were Dottie Simon, Alpha Gamma Delta, who took the side stroke; Priscilla Barnes won the 60 yard free style for Independent women, and Lou Cobner, Kappa Delta, won the back crawl swim.

The Chi Omega medley relay team broke the record for that event which was formerly held by the Beta Sigs. The old time was 1:42 and the Chi O's made it 1:39.7 by copping the event.

Lou Cummings of the Beta Sigs was the winner of the 60 yard breaststroke event after Sally Snyder was disqualified.

The sports festival at Thiel college last Saturday was a great success. Those who made the trip were Sally Grotzinger, Mary Lou Black, Carolyn Stephenson, Audrey Bryan, Gloria Jenzer, and Sally Snyder along with Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, director of women's athletics.

Teams were chosen from girls representing each school and each team took part in games of volleyball, swimming, basketball, ping pong, and modern dancing. Carolyn Stephenson and Gloria Jenzer were on winning teams.

SPE's Hit Finals In Sharon Tourney

Westminster basketball players brought home another set of awards last week as a Sigma Phi Epsilon squad placed second in the 12th annual Sharon Buhl club ABA tournament which was held March 29 to April 2.

The Sig Ep team was defeated, 49-47, in the final game of the tourney by the Tempys Beach team of New Castle last Saturday night in a thrilling contest.

The Westminsterites reached the finals by virtue of four victories in the earlier rounds of play. After having drawn a bye in the first round, the locals easily defeated the Marvy club of Pittsburgh, 42-23. The following evening they downed the Oil City Knights of Columbus, 55-30.

Gain Quarter-Finals

Moving into the quarter-finals, the Sig Eps defeated a strong Sharon Westinghouse five, 43-38. April 1, they beat the Harpers Clothes combo of Ravenna, Ohio, by a score of 79-58.

Jack Jones and "Mac" McCullough were named to the tourney's all-star team while Pat King and Johnny Abraham received honorable mention. McCullough, who was named the most valuable team player, and King, who scored the most points in the tournament, received trophies.

Other players on the Sig Ep squad were Clyde Shaffer, Jim Ross, Harvey Connors and Bill Paul. The team was presented with a 21 inch trophy and each player received a miniature sterling silver basketball.

ASP's, Indies Win In Softball Loop

Rainy Weather Halts Play Of Other Games

Intramural softball got under way this week as the Alpha Sigs and the Independent Men won White and Blue league contests.

Bob Gavett's single to center field, which scored Pete Enroth, broke an eight inning deadlock as the Alpha Sigs downed the YMCA, 9-8, in a White league game on Monday. Emil Reznick led his team to victory with three bingles, while pitcher Ed Anderson received credit for the win.

Starting off with a six-run splurge in the first inning, the Independents upset the Sigma Nu nine, 7-4, in a Blue league contest on Tuesday. The winning pitcher was Jack Williamson.

Because of inclement weather, few league games were played this week. The remainder of the softball league schedule from April 11 until its completion is as follows:

Sorority Pledges Become Actives As 'Animals' Amble At Gym Informal

By Dodie

Dancing to the music of Roger Jarvis' orchestra, refreshments, and a floor show will be the features of the evening at the NISA—Quadrangle "Animal Amble," all-college informal dance tomorrow night in the gym. Fraternities this week began their annual "Hell Weeks," while sororities initiate pledges into active membership.

CHI OMEGA's pledge class, which includes Tink Bullock, Isy Cooper, Jean Chapman, Nancy Engle, Billie Gambill, Bev Lewis, Buster McKinley, Doris Bush, Joan Noble, and Ollie Simmons, will be initiated into active membership Saturday. Chi O's are planning an Easter egg hunt for children of the faculty and married students on Tuesday afternoon, April 12. A luncheon will be held at the Tavern on Parents Day. Nancy Stewart is in charge of arrangements. Marge Foster has been elected as Chi Omega's representative to Student Council. Ann Hope, '48, and Mary Johnson, ex-'50, were visitors on campus last weekend.

THETA UPSILON held initiation ceremonies April 6 for Lois Baum, Nancy Englehard, Alice Frew, Barbara Hollingsworth, Llwanda Knepp-shield, Sally Leaman, Carol Meany, Betty Lou Stahlman, and Libby Wagner. A dinner was held at the Tavern afterwards in honor of the new actives and seniors. Jan Beighey, ex-'52, will be married to Bill Wolfe, Alpha Sig, ex-'50, on April 19. Holly Holleran, '48, and Jean Hopkins, ex-'49, were campus visitors last weekend.

KAPPA DELTA's plans for Will Orr Day are being made by Donna Shumaker, Bert Twaddle, Ruth Spangler, Mary Firestone, and Peg Adams. The annual Parents Day dinner is to be held at the Tavern. Jan Cuthbert is in charge. Marilyn Calvin was chairman of the chapel program on Friday, April 8. Betty Toner visited Allegheny's campus last weekend. Jo Cox is a guest at Rider's college, Trenton, New Jersey, this weekend.

QUADRANGLE initiated into full membership, April 6, Greta Ferenczy, Lois Giffin, Irene Hays, Lorraine Hoberg, Ruth Liebermann, and Marge McCullough. Sing and Swing program is in charge of Pat Hays. Nancy Schwartz, Ruth Liebermann, Marge McCullough, and Doris Nilsson are on her committee. Nancy Schwartz is in charge of Quadrangle's plans for Will Orr Day. June Hall, '49, visited campus last weekend. Kay Roedema is visiting at Penn State this weekend.

BETA SIG, Adele Johnston, will be married Saturday, April 19, in the college chapel to Bob Hinman, Alpha Sigma Phi. A reception at the Manse for the wedding party and out-of-town guests will follow. Mrs. R. L. Weddell, the former Eleanor Clark, '43, was on campus last Tuesday. Lois Holub Northcott, '42, is visiting campus this weekend.

ALPHA GAM, Ellen Kaye, was chosen pledge princess. Gert Marburger is in charge of the party which Alpha Gamma Delta will hold on May 2 for other sororities and Quadrangle. Ann Osterhout is in charge of AG plans for Will Orr Day. On April 23, a group from the local chapter will attend International Reunion Day in Pittsburgh at the Congress of Women club.

SIGMA NU pledges will be away from campus this weekend on "Hell Week" pledge trips. Al Williams was the winner of the pledge marathon run Tuesday. The Spring formal will be held at the Mahoning Country club, Youngstown, Ohio, April 13. Dave Lloyd, '48, Wally Wiggins, '48, and George Kramer, '48, were recent campus visitors. George was on vacation from Cornell. Joe Krakowski, '48, is now stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

SIG EP's "Hell Week" will be held Tuesday, April 19. Dick Ingraham, Jim Hodges, Dick Wakefield, and Bill Smith will attend the installation ceremony of a new Sig Ep chapter at Pitt, Saturday, April 9. George Toohey, Bob Lyon, Don Green, and Harvey Connors are in charge of the Sing and Swing planning committee. The annual Sig Ep district convention will be held at Penn State, April 30. Mike Lewis, ex-'50, now a member of Michigan Alpha chapter, and Charles Bartoe visited campus last weekend.

ALPHA SIG fathers played host to their sons at a spaghetti dinner Monday night at the fraternity house. Tuesday's chapel program was conducted by Frank Ruth and Chuck Pitcher. On campus last weekend were Bob Young, '47, and Pete Moran, ex-'49.

INDEPENDENT MEN are planning a float for Will Orr Day. Bill Morrison, ex-'50, was on campus last week. George Anderson, '49, has accepted a position with the Crucible Steel company at Midland, Pa.

Independents Plan For Animal Amble

Jarvis' Band Will Play For Dance This Week

"Animal Amble" is the theme of the Independent Men-Quadrangle all-college informal dance, April 9, in the gym from 8:00 to 11:30 p.m.

Music will be provided by Roger Jarvis' orchestra. Tickets are 40 cents each and will be sold at the door. They also may be bought from Independent Men or Quadrangle members.

Entertainment will consist of a floor show, and refreshments will be served. Door prizes, donated by local businessmen, include two dinners at the Tavern, $2.25 shoe repair at Fusco's, shampoo and wave set at the Curley Lox Beauty Shoppe, $2.00 dry cleaning at Carson's, and a haircut at Shaffer's barber shop. Holders of tickets need not be present at the drawing.

General co-chairmen for the dance are Beverly Birkholz and James Neal. Other committees are Greta Ferenczy and Bob Wachter, entertainment; Margaret Lawrence and Dean Wheeler, publicity; Estelle Pines and Howard Greenbaum, decorations, and Lois Griffen and Joseph Guthrie, refreshments.

simplified Pennsylvania Dutch style which has recently had a revived popularity. The class meets in the art rooms because no home is large enough to house the growing group. "But," says Mrs. Kelly, "We'll gladly welcome more."

The crafts class hopes to sponsor an all-college hobby show after Easter. A study of glass painting will complete the work for this year. Plans for next year include toys, Christmas cards and gifts, papier-mache models, and—if ambition still is strong—some of the ladies will attempt hand painted chinaware.

At the end of two months, Mrs. Kelly and the other ladies agree that art can be fun. Robert Kelly is not so sure. Looking at his wife's hand-painted wastebasket, he shakes his head and sadly muses, "Only four flowers in eight weeks."

But Mrs. Kelly happily continues her dual role as student and teacher of the applied arts.

Parents Day Invitations Ready For Distribution

Printed invitations to be sent to parents for Parents Day, April 30, may be obtained free of charge at men's and women's living quarters or at the dean of women's office, according to an announcement by Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women.

Cameron To Help Select Music For Band Festival

Prof. Donald O. Cameron, head of Westminster's music department, was appointed a member of the committee to select the music for the next all-state college band at the Inter-collegiate State Band Festival held recently at Indiana State Teachers' college.

Other members of the committee are William Schaefer, chairman, from Carnegie Tech, and David McNaughton, of Indiana State Teachers' college.

Children To Hunt Eggs On Chi Omegas' Lawn

Children of faculty members and veterans will take part in an Easter egg hunt, Tuesday, April 12, at 4 p.m., in the yard of the Chi Omega sorority house.

Children must be between the ages of 3 and 8 years, and the finder of the golden egg will win a prize. The child who finds the most eggs will receive a chocolate bunny.

Frisbee's Foibles

After Dinner Music

Some fellows, with a keen desire For music, join the chapel choir, While some soothe their melodic sense By singing with the audience.

Still some croon on the radio, At dances, or a music show, And some find tuneful yearnings met By campus barbershop quartet.

Yet some, a bit more shy, delight In warbling serenades at night, Or join that operatic club Of guys who yodel in the tub.

However, all, whose hearts rejoice In blending bass and tenor voice, Find their most cherished rendezvous 'Midst dormitory kitchen crews.

The rhythmic rattle of each dish, The sudsy water's steamy swish, The dampening towels, and cheerful throng

Add luster to each lusty song.

WRW To Present Beethoven Seventh

WRW's symphony hour will present the Beethoven "Symphony No. 7," in a broadcast to the TUB Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Also scheduled on the program is the third movement of the Beethoven quartet, "Opus 18, No. 6."

"Where The Cross Was Made," a recorded Easter play, will be aired over WRW-WPIC, Friday, April 15, at 1:15 p.m. The star in this religious drama is Glenn Reed with a supporting cast of Erroll Dexter, Bob Patton, Jack Griffith and Bob Williams. Sound effects for the play are handled by John McKnight and Russ Sperry with Lew Shirey announcing. The play will be recorded by Bruce Catt and is under the direction of Jean Burt. This is her fourth play in connection with her senior recital requirements.

Heard on today's broadcast was the Westminster quintet including Florrie Johnson, Mary Lou Black, Percy Hall, Bill Dumbaugh and Larry Wood. Ralph Brown, Bob Lyon and Bob Laufenberger supplied the instrumental background music. Numbers included on the program were "I Should Care," "Tabby the Cat," "That's the Beginning of the End," "Blue Evening," and "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm."

1939-40-41-42-43--ALL-AMERICAN--1944-45-46-47-48

Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., Friday, April 22, 1949

No. 22

Senior Libraries To Go On Display

Naming Of Winners Scheduled For Friday

Prize winners in the eleventh annual senior library contest will be announced at a tea for the contestants which will be held in the Faculty lounge of the library next Friday afternoon at 4 p.m.

The twelve seniors now entered in the contest are William Allen, Joseph Christie, Elizabeth Cummings, Edwin Good, William Johnson, Robert Losa, John Pollock, Maryann Rehm, Nancy Schmidt, Margaret Scull, Wayne Steinbaugh, and Hilda Stockhausen.

Miss Isabel Forbes, librarian at Grove City college, will judge the student libraries. Miss Forbes judged one of the previous contests.

Contestants will display their libraries in the browsing room of the library from Monday until Saturday morning.

Parents To Preview Two One-Act Plays

Two one act plays and two senior recitals will be staged in the Little Theatre the first week in May with a special performance of the one acts to be given Parents Day, April 30.

Bruce Catt's senior recital will play May 2-3; the two one act plays, "The Valiant" and "Our Dearest Possessions," will appear May 4-5, and Shirley McKinney and Gene DeCaprio's joint senior recital will fill the bill May 6-7.

According to Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, production crews are needed for all these performances. Interested students are requested to sign the list on the speech bulletin board.

Tickets for all performances will be available in exchange for activity tickets on April 25, 26, and 28 in Old Main outside the Little Theatre. Students may obtain one ticket for one of the performances until April 29 when all extra tickets will be available.

Save Time - Lose Sleep

Spring again and another hour's sleep is due to be lost as daylight savings time bounds in. Saturday night is the date for setting clocks ahead one hour.

That hour is doomed, of course, to stay lost until next September, when the sun catches up.

Seniors Arrange Joint Music Recital

Shirley Russell, organist, and Mildred Powell, soprano, will present a joint senior recital in the college chapel on Thursday, April 28, at 8:15 p.m. Jean Clark will accompany Mildred.

Shirley will play "Concerto No. 5," Handel; "Da Jesus an dem Kreuze standt," Scheidt; first movement, "Sonata No. 4," Mendelssohn, and "Chorale in E Major," Franck.

Mildred will sing "My Sweet Repose," Schubert; "Allerseelen," Strauss; "Romance," Debussy; "Chanson Triste," Duparc; "Je dis que rien ne m'épouvante," Bizet; "When I Have Sung My Songs," Charles; "Into the Night," Edwards; "Ah, Love, but a Day," and "The Lilac Tree," Gartlan.

Honorarys To Observe Tap Day During Chapel

Tap Day will be observed during the regular chapel periods next Thursday and Friday according to Peggy Morris, president of Target. Target is the Senior Women's honorary which annually sponsors Tap Day to give public recognition to those students eligible for membership in any one of the campus' 15 honorarys.

Beethoven Broadcasts To Continue Over WRW

WRW's symphony hour broadcast to the TUB on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. will feature Beethoven's "Symphony No. 2" in D Major.

Heard on today's broadcast was James Ralston, assistant professor of music, playing piano selections by Mozart, Brahms, and Debussy.

Band Will Present Two-Part Concert

Modern Tunes Stressed In Annual Concert

Westminster's 60 piece band will present its annual concert Monday evening, April 25, at 8:15 in the college chapel. Donald O. Cameron, head of the conservatory, will direct.

In two parts, the program will get underway with a John Philipp Sousa march, "Semper Fidelis." This number will be followed by Borodine's "Prince Igor Overture." "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," by Kern, follows. Other selections to be played in the first half are "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," Lockhart-Seitz; "L'Arlesienne Suite II," Bizet, and "March of the Steel Men," Belsterling.

A trumpet solo, Del Staigers' "Carnival of Venice" presented by Fred Timberlake will round out the opening part of the program.

Following intermission the program will include "Jolly Robbers Overture," Suppe; "Italian Polka," Rachmaninoff; "In a Chinese Temple Garden," Cetelbeg; "March Ponderoso," King, and Porgy and Bess, Gershwin.

Positions Reduced From Three To Two, Dr. John Orr May Find Leisure Time

By Sally McCoy

A man who has been doing the work of three men for the past year and a half will have his positions reduced to two on May first. After the new president arrives, Dr. John Orr will be one step closer to the position which he wants to hold, that of teacher and head of the Bible department. He has been serving as acting president and acting dean of Westminster while carrying a part-time schedule of Bible classes. He will retain the position of dean until Dr. Will Orr can name another dean.

Three times Dr. John Orr has held the position of acting dean until someone could take the job. He has declined taking the position permanently because he would rather teach. After being named acting dean for the third time, in 1946, Dr. Orr was given the position of acting

Activities Commence With Pep Rally, Dance Sponsored By Student Council

Escort Will Accompany Orrs From Airport; Evening Chapel Will Climax Crowded Program

Will Orr Day has been officially captioned WOW Day (Will Orr Welcome), according to an announcement by Joseph Hopkins, general chairman of the celebration.

Activities will begin at 8:30 Tuesday evening with a pep rally on the athletic field. Following the rally, the WOW Sweater Hop, sponsored by Student Council, will be held in the gym. Records will provide the music for dancing. Bud Miller is chairman of the dance. Women have been granted twelve o'clock permission.

Classes Cancelled

There will be no classes Wednesday. Events of WOW Day will begin with a parade at 1:45. A special car and motorcycle escort will meet the Orrs in Youngstown before the parade and accompany them to town. The parade will form on Park street and line-up will be determined by the numbers already drawn by the participating organizations. Leading the parade will be the college band followed by cars carrying the Orrs, administration, and faculty members. The parade will move from Park street to Neshnock avenue to the diamond and down Market street to Vine street. From there it will march to New Castle street, turn left to Waugh avenue, then back to Market street. They will go down Maple street past the chapel where official guests and judges will review the parade. The procession will then proceed to Orchard street and terminate at the gym. Duff Brown is chairman of the parade and Stan Hartung is in charge of traffic. Judges are members of Dr. Will Orr's Des Moines congregation who at present attend Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary. Prizes for the best floats have been donated by Dr. and Mrs. Orr. There will be a $15.00 first prize, $10.00 second prize, and $5.00 third prize.

Informal Welcome

Immediately following the parade an informal welcome for the new president and his family will be held on the South terrace by student, faculty, and community representatives. Ray Dunlap, president of Student Council, will present the student's welcome. Dr. James A. Swindler, faculty member since 1919, will represent the faculty. After the greetings, Dr. Orr will address the assembly informally. Judges will then announce their decisions and the three Orr children will present the awards. The program will close with a selection by the band. Ray Dunlap is in charge of program plans.

Dinner will be served in all dormitories Wednesday at 5:45. Phyllis Williams and Stan Hartung, Student Council secretary and vice president

Barnes, Douglas Plan Pre-Contest Readings

Westminster's delegates to the first Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Reading festival will appear in a special preview all-college performance in the Little Theatre, Tuesday, at 4 p.m.

Priscilla Barnes and John Douglas will read the poetry selections. Paul Talley will present a prose and Ruth Vogan a dramatic selection. All these will be given at Penn State.

Debaters Place Fourth In Tourney

Kerensky, Stongage Win 26 Consecutive Meets

Westminster debaters came away with fourth place in the Grand National Forensic tournament at Fredericksburg, Va., during Easter vacation, in a field with over 60 other contenders. Northwestern university took top honors in the four day event.

Debate Coach Melvin Moorhouse and a squad of four made the journey. John Kerensky and Dick Stongage handled the affirmative and Glenn Reed and Bob Patton the negative of the national topic, "Federal Aid to Education." Kerensky and Stongage were stopped by Georgetown, after 26 straight seasonal wins, in their final debate of the tournament and also of the year.

Kerensky, also in the oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contests, took second place in the former and entered the semi-finals of the latter. Stongage earned second place in the contest entitled "Response to the Occasion." In this division a topic is given to the contestant, who rises and makes an address. One of Stongage's spontaneous speeches was a dedication service for Kathy Fiscus, who died in a California abandoned well recently.

Bob Patton and John Kerensky will travel to Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, on April 27 to argue against Mt. Mercy college on the subject, "Resolved: that women are exerting an undue influence on American life." They will debate before the hospital nurses.

Seniors To Take Comps And Finals

Seniors taking comprehensives will not be exempt from final exams this semester, according to a decision reached by the faculty in a meeting yesterday.

The faculty also adopted 10 recommendations to govern practice teaching. The present six weeks system will be retained with modifications, except in elementary education, public school music, mathematics, and science, for which special plans will be devised.

Overall, the program is designed to create a system in which a student's practice teaching semester will be devoted almost exclusively to education courses. Classes will probably meet five days a week during the 12 weeks when the student is not teaching. This plan, with no classes scheduled during the teaching period, will eliminate the necessity for makeup work. The program will begin next fall.

Groups To Discuss Campus Radio Station

Members of WRW, CGA, and all students interested in radio broadcasting are asked to meet in the radio studio on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

According to Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, plans are going to be discussed for the formation of a campus radio station like those now in operation at Carnegie Tech and Bethany.

Word Of Tribute . . . For Quiet Service

WITH THE time drawing near for the arrival of our new president, the entire college seems to emanate an air of expectancy and even suspense. But in the course of the excitement and bustle over this important future event, we need to look backwards for just a moment.

It has been almost two years since Dr. John Orr stepped into the breech as acting president. Without protest about his already heavy duties, he took over the responsibilities of what is normally a full time job.

When he moves over for Dr. Will Orr on May 1, he can do so with the satisfaction that comes from a job well done. Weighed with the office of acting dean and with a teaching schedule, he has done his work quietly and without flourish. The record of his administration is well dotted with accomplishments.

As he closes out his efficient and commendable tour of duty, we salute Dr. John Orr. As his service to Westminster continues in the capacities of acting dean and professor of Bible and philosophy, we can offer only our best wishes for his future.

On The Carpet . . . Off The Grass

SHE STOOD by the west entrance to Old Main, hands on hips, foot tapping, an expression of haughty disapproval on her face.

"The editor of the Holcad," she exclaimed, "walking on the grass!"

And so he was.

"Next week there will probably be an editorial about walking on the grass," she continued.

And so there is. We see signs all year long which imply that it would be a nice gesture to maintain the feet off policy. Such masterpieces of phraseology as "Stay Off, Or My Name's Mud" can hardly go unnoticed. But, come spring with its accompanying soggy ground and "unsprung" grass, and we waste no time in attempting to wear a convenient path between some sidewalk and some building.

Two solutions present themselves in this problem. One is to create more sidewalks; the other is to walk on the ones already laid. Since it is hardly feasible to make the campus one huge sidewalk, there seems to be only one choice.

The editor of the Holcad will reform.

Truman Proposes Nationwide Compulsory Health, Recommends Regular Contributions To Fund

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—President Truman today proposed a nationwide system of compulsory health insurance as the keynote of a four-point national health program.

The president, without mentioning figures, recommended to Congress that the nationwide Health Insurance plan be operated along lines of the Social Security program with regular contributions by the public to an insurance fund. He did not say how much the tax should be.

The present Social Security system of old age insurance covers about 37,000,000 wage earners. The Administration is trying to expand it. "We should seek to include as many persons as possible within the Health Insurance system, so that more may benefit, and costs can be more widely shared," Mr. Truman said in a 3,000-word message.

Mr. Truman did not estimate what the cost would be, but he acknowledged that many Americans are concerned about the national cost figure.

"The truth is," he said, "that it will save a great deal more than it costs. We are already paying about four per cent of our national income for health care."

Dane Barked Down

HARRISBURG, April 22.—(UP)—Rep. William H. Milliken, R., Sharon Hill, hopes the state House will be in a less whimsical mood today when he tries to revive his bill to designate the great dane as Pennsylvania's official state dog.

The assemblymen spent 40 minutes poking fun at Milliken's bill before they rejected it late yesterday by an 85 to 74 vote. House members greeted the great dane bill with a chorus of woof-woofs, bow-wows, and arf-arfs. And the house decorum quickly shifted from bad to worse.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, D., Reading, solemnly offered an amendment to substitute the pink Mexican Chihuahua for the great dane. Readinger explained that "I love great danes," but he said he favored a more portable dog.

Before that question could be put to a vote, Rep. Hiram G. Andrews submitted (wrapped around a frankfurter) a written amendment to amend the Reading amendment by substituting "hot dog" for pink Mexican Chihuahua.

Mine Shaft Strike Ends

LANSFORD, PA., April 22.—(UP)—Ten bedraggled miners came up from the bottom of an anthracite mine today to end a 74½ hour sit-down strike they staged 500 feet underground.

They were greeted at the surface by fellow miners who had refused to work during the sitdown and forced the closing of six collieries in the rich Panther valley.

Approximately 6,000 miners were idle at the Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. operations at Tamaqua, Lansford, Coaldale, Summit Hill and Nesquehoning.

Reds Imperil Nanking

NANKING, April 22.—(UP)—A flood tide of Communist soldiers swept across the Yangtze into the heart of Nationalist China against crumbling resistance today, bracketing imperiled Nanking and spearing within 40 miles of Shanghai.

Key Nationalist strongholds in the lower Yangtze valley fell to the Communist onrush, along with scores of villages and hamlets. Firmly planted on the south bank of the river, Communist forces described by their radio as 300,000 strong were fanning out rapidly.

Military quarters feared the whole Nanking-Shanghai sector would be sliced into isolated pockets within a day or two, making it easy prey for a quick Communist mopup.

Police Hunt For Assassin

ATLANTA, April 22.—(UP)—Atlanta police today searched for a blue Packard sedan driven by a man with no legs on the possibility it could have been used to carry Metropolitan Opera tenor John Garbis on a ride to death.

Avery Re-Elected

CHICAGO—April 22.—(UP)—Sewell Avery, iron-fisted chairman of Montgomery Ward & Company, was re-elected to the board of directors today with little protest from stockholders against his business policies which had swept the firm's top executives out of office.

Avery, 76, who has been chairman of the $400,000,000 mail order house since 1931, was re-elected at the annual stockholders' meeting by a wide margin.

Tomorrow Cloudy, Cool

Late Weather Forecast: Western Pennsylvania—Showers ending tonight, not as cool in the East portion. Saturday considerable cloudiness and cool.

Strolling Reporter Finds Collegiate 'Hucksters' Busy

by Talley

Adverbs, nicknames, and publicity angles spring into our thoughts as we stroll up South Market street and view the advertising stunts of a post-vacation week.

The most striking display is concocted by the fraternity barbers who turn summer stylings into hilarious hairdos. Among those modeling the styles are "Pud" Toohey, who wears a teepee toupee, Pat King with his red hair a la Surrey (with the fringe on top), Jack Cooper with his creampuff, and Don Laughlin with his poodle pomp. Walt Legge displays a Fiji frosting and Jon Valentine sports what looks like a head hunter's delight.

Harmon Fennell gives personal recommendations as he takes measurements for plumbing fixtures, and Dot Wallace's open ammonia bottle causes tears.

Psychology club's showing of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" gets advance plugging from Larry Friday who appears in the Little Theatre as the hunchback of New Wilmington. Dee Neiman enthuses vocally over all those Parisians storming the cathedral. "for the sake of ONE woman," but Pete Anderson informs her coldly that it's just the principle of the thing, and Fergie girls circulate a brochure urging the use of "Casimoto Face Cream."

Events speak well for the careers of Westminster's practice teachers as Jewel Jennings discovers that four Farrell seniors have trailed her back to New Wilmington. However, Mimi Losteter sadly remembers the day she dismissed "Chapel" at Hickory.

Auto ads get an inspection as Bob Chavenson, Jack Shepherd, Russ Sperry, and Sherry Wolfson return a day late moaning about the car that broke down twice, and Mr. Faddis and Mr. Ralston offer double cuts for seats on a returning bus.

Bob Randolph advertises his basketball prowess by dropping a wadded napkin into a glass of milk. Bruce Catt's recital gets publicity as non-smokers in the cast search to find a "mild" cigar, and Norma Williams tries to find the correct pronunciation for her "Cousin's husband's disease."

About the only ad form missing from campus this week is the slogan, but observers wonder if it's a new style in classes or just "college publicity like the tennis courts" when Mr. Dietz has his elementary drawing students carry their benches out in back of the infirmary for an outdoor sketching session and Miss Cushman meets her costuming group on the terrace of Old Main.

But publicity minded students are just getting in practice for next week, which brings our version of ad man's paradise—Will Orr Day.

Titan Tattletale

WONDER IF THIS HOSE RUN TOO—

Economic buying was the topic under discussion in Sam Sloan's social science class. Mr. Sloan wondered why a woman wanted to buy a $65 evening gown, especially when it was shoddy and wouldn't wear.

"How do YOU know?" Pauline Christos angrily retorted.

FIRST, SAM, NOW SLEEPY

Sleepy Hazlett was quite taken back when he started to glance through a mail order catalogue. Think of it, he saw advertised ten "darling" dresses for only $2.98. And, best of all, he read of a big, cheap surprise package filled with wonderful things. Don't get panicky, girls.

It was only used clothing!!!

LOST CHORDS

The wind instruments class was religiously playing Tchaikovsky's "In Church." Bill Dembaugh squinted at his music, looked surprised, but kept right on playing. When the piece was over, he still had three measures left to play. Bill had been playing the song on the opposite page—a march.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

There has been a lot of talk in the past year about the type of teams Westminster has been playing in basketball. One of the arguments is that when the Titans play a mediocre team, they play mediocre ball. Well, guys and gals, stand-by for the basketball schedule for next year, which should be out within a very short time. I am not at liberty to reveal even part of the schedule at this time; but I can promise you that, when it is released by the Director of Athletics, you will be surprised and very happy to note that the Blue and White cagers will be playing quite a few big-name teams, both at home and away. Keep your eyes open for that big schedule.

We understand that a certain Westminster golf coach, whose initials are William J. Thomas, pulled a real faux pas last Tuesday evening at the athletic banquet. Don't let him kid you if he tries to get out of it by claiming it was "merely a very subtle joke."

During the Easter holidays the Titan divot-diggers went down to the Shannopin golf course at Pittsburgh to play the Pitt golf squad for the season opener. One of the Westminster boys overheard two Pitt rooters talking about the meet. One of them was heard to say, "Who are these guys we are playing today?" The answer was, "Oh, some little school up around New Castle." Came the rejoinder, "Just a warm-up, huh?" "Yeah," was the reply.

The Titan golfer informed his teammates of the over-heard conversation, and by the looks of things it must have made them quite angry... result: Pitt, 3, Westminster, 6.

Collegiate Athletes Attend Annual Sports Banquet"Greatest Game Of All Is Life," Says Schill
In Dinner Address

Approximately 160 athletes, cheerleaders, faculty members, and guests attended the athletic dinner held in Ferguson hall dining room on Tuesday evening, April 19.

Russell J. "Denny" Schill, secretary of the Ellwood City chamber of commerce and football official, was the main speaker of the evening.

Grover C. Washabaugh, director of athletics, opened the entertainment part of the banquet by introducing Melvin Hetzler, football coach, who spoke briefly on athletics. Harold E. Burry summarized last year's soccer, cross country, swimming, and track teams and Dr. William J. Thomas, golf coach, spoke concerning the golf team and last year's records.

Golfers Are Excellent

Dr. Thomas said that this season's golf team is one of the best in Westminster's history and that he would not be afraid to match his divot diggers with any other golf team in the country. He asked the general student body to support the squad in the home matches at the New Castle Field club.

"Denny" Schill, in the main speech of the evening, outlined his talk around four basic points, which, he said, all athletes should acquire while they are in college and actively engaged in competitive athletics whether intramural or inter-collegiate.

"Greatest Game"

The four points were: courage, ability to think, superior spirit, and sportsmanship. Mr. Schill compared these basic points with life, "the greatest game of all," and stated that we should learn these and use them in the outside world after graduation from college.

Freshmen Vie For Positions

Westminster's track squad took advantage of the warm spring weather this week to resume outdoor practice sessions which were previously hampered by rain and snow.

Coach Harold E. Burry is expecting excellent developments from some of his freshman aspirants who will be fighting for varsity positions against the veterans on the squad.

Middle distance runner Larry

It not only takes plenty of beef to toss the discus, but also plenty of know-how on how to use the beef. Here, Jack Torrey, junior English major from Erie, Pennsylvania, gives the plate a heave that was good for 151 feet. The track squad opens its season on May 3 against Grove City.

Softball Meeting Set
For Tuesday Afternoon

Melvin H. Hetzler, director of intramural softball, will hold a meeting of all managers of softball teams entered in the Blue and White leagues on Tuesday, April 26 at 2:15 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The purpose of the meeting is to reschedule all postponed games in order to finish the first round and to make arrangements for the second round.

Wright is temporarily sidelined with a leg injury while pole vaulter Jack Hodges has recovered from his ankle injury sustained in practice.

Freshmen showing much promise are Don Kirsopp, 440 relay; Matt Bruce, 880 relay; Don Bogdon in the mile, and Ralph Foster in the one and two mile events.

Other newcomers to the squad who are looking well in workouts are Al Williams, Jim Deighan, and Darl Wiley.

A practice meet is slated to be held on Monday, April 25, at 2:30 p.m., on the football field. The meet will be held under National College Athletic Association regulations as will the intercollegiate meets throughout the season.

W A A To Initiate Nine Candidates

Nine new members are to be initiated into the Women's Athletic Association on Tuesday, April 26 at 5 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The candidates to be initiated are: Joan Magee, Ellie Shindledecker, Margie Grant, Jalenha Frank, Kathy Tidd, Caroline Hulse, Lu Kneppshield, Carol Hancock, and Nancy McCaw.

The WAA sponsored intersorority softball tournament will get underway on May 2 with the Sig Kaps meeting the Independents.

All games will be played on the field between Browne hall and the Science hall. Any games that are rained out will be played after the scheduled games are finished.

The schedule for the tournament is as follows:

Monday, May 2, 4:45—Sig Kaps vs. Independents
Tuesday, May 3, 6:45—Beta Sigs vs. Chi Omega
Wednesday, May 4, 4:45—Theta U. vs. Independents
Thursday, May 5, 6:45—Theta U. vs. Beta Sigs
Monday, May 9, 4:45—Alpha Gams vs. Sig Kaps
Tuesday, May 10, 6:45—Alpha Gams vs. Chi Omega
Wednesday, May 11, 4:45—Chi Omega vs. Independents
Thursday, May 12, 6:45—Kappa Delta vs. Alpha Gams
Monday, May 16, 4:45—Kappa Delta vs. Theta U.
Tuesday, May 17, 6:45—Beta Sigs vs. Sig Kaps

Titan Golfers Win
Over Pitt, 6-3,
In Season OpenerLocals Cop First Two Rounds To Cinch Meet;
Pitt Man Shoots 73

Westminster's golf team opened the 1949 season with a 6-3 win over a veteran University of Pittsburgh squad Thursday, April 14, on the Shannopin Country Club links, Pitt's home course. It was the season opener for the Oaklanders also.

The Titans gathered all the points in the top two foursomes as Jack Whitmer and Fred Broad, playing the first two positions, turned in scores of 74 each. Sid Lucas and Captain Bill Burke turned in some additional points by winning the 18-hole competition in the second foursome.

Pitt Man Is Low

Irv Simon of Pitt shot a 73 for the course to turn in the low score of the day and upset Jack Winters of Westminster. Anderson of Pitt upset Bill Thompson, six and four as the Pittites captured the winning points in the third and final foursome.

The summary: Whitmer, Westminster, defeated Mihoco, 3 and 1; Broad, Westminster, defeated Burress, 3 and 2. Better ball—Westminster, 3 and 2.

Lucas, Westminster, defeated Sikora, Pitt, 3 and 2; Burke, Westminster defeated Mohr, 3 and 2. Better ball—Westminster, 3 and 2.

Simon, Pitt, defeated Winter, Westminster, 5 and 4; Anderson, Pitt, defeated Thompson Westminster, 6 and 4. Better ball—Pitt, 3 and 2.

S P E Takes Lead
In I M Cup Race

Sigma Phi Epsilon put itself ahead of the field in the race for the intramural softball cup, as Sig Ep teams won five of the eight Blue and White league contests played since the Holcad's last edition.

The Sig Eps started their winning ways by beating the Sigma Nus, 7-1, in a Blue league contest played April 8. Winning pitcher was Harvey Connors. Led by the home run hitting of Shaffer, Koch, and King, the Sig Ep White league team swamped the Phi Pi, 20-3, on Monday, April 11. The same afternoon the Sigma Nus captured their first win of the season, as they downed the Alpha Sigs, 7-3.

The following afternoon the Sig Ep Blue leaguers downed the Independent Men 4-2. Chet Dembinski won his first game of the season. In a White league game played the same afternoon the Alpha Sigs trounced the Sigma Nus 13-0. Hurler Ed Hallas not only shut out the losers, but he also contributed three hits to his team's scoring column.

Two For Dembinski

Tuesday afternoon the Alpha Sigs were defeated by the Sig Eps, 8-0, in a Blue league contest. The victory was the second win of the season for Chet Dembinski, the victors' ace fireballer. The second game of Tuesday's twin bill saw the Sig Eps defeating Sigma Nu, 9-1. Kenny Stewart turned in one of the best pitching performances of the young season, as he limited his opponents to a single tally.

Bringing their record to two wins and two defeats the Sigma Nus defeated the YMCA, 13-4. Kenny Hopkins led his teammates to victory with four hits in five trips to bat. Other games scheduled to be played during this period were either postponed or forfeited.

Positions Reduced

A return of veterans to Westminster and a large influx of students, while faculty and personnel were rapidly changing, made Dr. Orr's job more difficult. He claims the biggest job was evaluating service credits. Survey courses were introduced and a new divisional plan, now changed, was put into operation. The infirmary, TUB, and art class rooms were completed during Dr. Orr's presidency.

In October 1948 Dr. Orr was commended by a United Presbyterian Synod group meeting in Sharon for his "steadfast maintenance of spiritual aims through the difficult post-war readjustment period, while the increase in the student body has been so phenomenal and major faculty changes have occurred."

Dr. Orr was born in Ireland but came to this country when he was seven years old. He attended Park college, Parkville, Mo., and was graduated from Wooster college, Wooster, Ohio, where he was salutatorian of his class. He received his Master of Arts degree from Princeton university and a Bachelor of Divinity from Princeton Theological seminary. Dr. Orr studied at the University of Berlin, one year on a Princeton fellowship, and the second year on a German fellowship. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Orr, a Presbyterian U.S.A. minister, held pastorates in Middleport, Ohio, and Howell, Mich., before coming to Westminster in 1928 as assistant professor of Bible. Three years later he became a full professor and head of the Bible department. When a new philosophy professor was needed, Dr. Orr was given that job too, and Bible and philosophy were combined.

The Orrs have three children, Mrs. Paul Jamison, a missionary in Egypt; Mrs. Rodney Beal, wife of a Vermont minister, and John William, still in college. Dr. Orr's hobbies are fishing and gardening but he doesn't find much time for either at present. He has traveled in Europe, Britain, Canada, and Mexico. A trip to the Mediterranean, Palestine, and Egypt is planned for "sometime in the future."

Exhibition Depicts Protestant Revolt

Library Holds Display Arranged By Art Dept.

"The Protestant Revolution," a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of "Life" magazine, will be on display in the exhibition room of the library until April 26. The show has been arranged by the art department.

"The Protestant Revolution" is divided into four sections, the first of which is called "The Catholic church and its leaders." The second division deals with the protestant revolt and its leaders. It includes Martin Luther, John Frederick the Magnanimous, and John Calvin.

The third division describes the weapons of propaganda and persecution as they were used by both Catholics and the Protestants. The fourth and last division concerns the growth of nationality as it rose in Germany, France, The Netherlands, and in England.

Included in "The Protestant Revolution" are reproductions of the first illustrated edition of Milton's "Paradise Lost," Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," the first complete Bible in English, Martin Luther's German translation of the Old Testament, as well as work by Rembrandt, Rubens, Vermeer, De Hooch, and other 17th century painters.

Ollendorff Will Speak On Camp Counselling

"Anyone who would like to apply for a summer job as camp youth counselor at the Hiram House, Cleveland, should come to hear Mr. Henry B. Ollendorff next Thursday, April 28," Dr. Blanche Carrier has stated.

The meeting, postponed from yesterday, will be held at 4:15 p.m. in room 10 of the Science hall. Although the talk is primarily for interested students, everyone is invited to attend.

Elsewhere in the psychology department, the abnormal classes will travel to Mayview hospital, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday, April 26.

A brief chapel program at 7:15 will climax the day's activities. Dr. John Orr will conduct a devotional program in which the Rev. George Myers of the Methodist church and the Rev. Roland H. White of the Presbyterian church will participate. The college choir will present a special selection. Dr. James M. Ferguson, president of the Board of Trustees, will then introduce the president-elect. Dr. Orr's response will conclude the chapel program. Ushers for the program will be provided by women Student Council members. It is expected that the program will not exceed 45 minutes in length to enable those so desiring to attend the Thomas L. Thomas concert in New Castle. Buses will be waiting outside the chapel for those attending the concert. Phyllis Williams heads the chapel program committee.

In lieu of a formal reception on WOW Day, the committee has honored Dr. Orr's request that the Parents' Day reception in the library serve the double purpose of greeting the new president and all parents.

Tri Betas To Attend District Conference

Today Dr. Myron Simpson, biology department chairman, and five students left for Western Maryland College, Westminster, Maryland, where they will attend the regional conference of the Northeastern district of Tri-Beta. Besides Dr. Simpson, Wayne Steinbaugh, Bill Throop, Roland Nord, William Gilkey, and Mark Gleeson left for the conference.

"Peeper" hunting, followed by a weiner roast, will be the order of the day at the Tri-Beta meeting at 6:45 p.m. on Tuesday, April 26. Tri-Beta is the honorary biology fraternity.

The amateur biologists will hunt "peepers" or tree frogs. They want to see how many different kinds of frogs they can capture and also who can catch the most. To prepare for the hunt, the students have listened to recordings of "peeper" calls.

Mark Gleeson, program chairman, is in charge of the affair.

Last evening Mr. White, Lawrence county fish warden, spoke to the biologists in the Science hall.

Modern Language Prof Announces Retirement

Miss Elizabeth Stewart, professor of modern languages who is now on sabbatical leave, plans to retire at the end of this school year, according to an announcement by Dr. John Orr, acting president.

President Already Begins Role

Presents Awards To Contest Winners

Chi O's Win Float Prize In Wednesday Parade

In presenting the awards to the winners of the annual senior library contest today, Dr. Will Orr, the new college president, finds himself already in the midst of college activity. He will begin work officially on May 1.

Dr. Orr's arrival in New Wilmington was heralded Wednesday by a parade, informal reception, and a chapel service.

Pick up your special WOW Day picture insert in the News Bureau tomorrow or Monday.

The parade began the day's activities. After viewing the procession as it passed the chapel, the judges of the floats decided upon the winners and the Orr children presented the prizes at the informal reception held on the south terrace of Old Main. Chi Omega sorority won first prize, and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, second. Kappa Delta sorority was awarded third prize, and Alpha Sigma Phi and Sigma Kappa received honorable mention. Decisions were based on originality, beauty, and appropriateness. Judges were Dale Milligan, Jack Carr, and Mr. and Mrs. Aron Powers of Dr. Orr's former pastorate in Des Moines.

Dr. Orr expressed his gratitude for the welcome accorded him and his family after addresses by speakers representing the students, faculty, townspeople, and others. Ray Dunlap, president of Student Council; Dr. James A. Swindler, senior member of the faculty; Dr. R. W. Gibson, secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian church; William Gilliland, Burgess of New Wilmington; Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, past president of Westminster, and John B. Lewis, president of the Westminster

Students Meet To Form Plans For Radio Station

Members of CGA, WRW, and other students interested in forming a campus radio station met recently to discuss plans for the installation of a station on Westminster's campus. More than 50 students attended the meeting.

Donald A. Barbe, head of the speech department, requests that anyone interested in working on the campus station, no matter what phase of work is involved, attend the next meeting to be held in the early part of May.

Debate Team Schedules Concluding Home Meet

Westminster's debate team will hold their final home debate of the year Thursday, May 5, in the Little Theatre at 4:15 p.m. The subject of the debate will be "Women Are Exercising an Undue Influence on American Life."

The negative team will include two Mount Mercy college women who won first place in the women's division at the Grand National contest. Burke Dorworth and Bob Patton will debate the affirmative for Westminster.

Dr. Will Orr addresses briefly the WOW Day audience at his informal presentation on the south terrace, even though he "misplaced the speech which I had prepared—and which my wife wrote."

D. Brown To Head Council Next Year

John "Duff" Brown will be the president of Student Council when classes resume next fall.

Brown, a junior pre-medical major from South Orange, N. J., was elected at the weekly council meeting last Tuesday evening. Other newly-elected officers who will be installed in the fall are Robert Ranck, junior pre-ministerial major from Cherry Tree, Phyllis Williams, junior speech major from Farrell, and Bud Miller, sophomore political science major from Mercer.

Eight class representatives were elected in chapel last week. Sally Snyder, Roberta Estep, Bud Miller, and Al Nichols will represent the present sophomore class next year. Joan Foster, Jean Geuther, Robert Love, and Charles Nicholas will represent next year's sophomores.

Treetops Wave As...

Argo Applications Due

Applications for next year's Argo staff should be submitted to Miss Elizabeth Nixon in the News Bureau by Wednesday, May 4. Qualifications should be included in the applications.

YMCA Elects Meyers To Group Presidency

William Meyers, junior business administration major from Wilkinsburg, was elected president of YMCA at a special meeting held recently.

Dwight White was elected vice president, Mark Landfried, secretary-treasurer, and Henry Barnhart, Student Council representative.

The new officers will assume their duties on May 4.

Flying Newsman Covers WOW Day

By Al Krause

WOW Day not only featured a covered wagon, a turtle, and an ancient Greek horse and chariot, but the latest in news gathering devices. In case you were wondering, that grotesque object with the windmills on the top which kept buzzing the campus Wednesday afternoon was the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's helicopter.

This helicopter carried a photographer-reporter who took pictures of the afternoon's events. Unlike the other reporters who covered Will Orr's arrival at Westminster, Post-Gazette staff writer Don Bindyke was flown from Pittsburgh to New Wilmington in a helicopter by Roland "Red" Roelofs.

The Post-Gazette has had the helicopter in action for about a month. Working as a team, reporter Bindyke and pilot Roelofs are out daily covering events in the Pittsburgh district. Roelofs does not guide the helicopter with radar or a radio beam, he has an ordinary road map placed in front of him. With a camera on his lap and a case containing films and accessories at his feet, Bindyke takes pictures of the day's objectives.

The Post-Gazette sends its helicopter out to get all types of stories with publicity work at the top of the list. Tuesday the helicopter flew mail from Pittsburgh's downtown post office to the Allegheny County airport in a mail shuttle experiment.

Bindyke and Roelofs arrived at New Wilmington when the parade was forming Wednesday afternoon. Flying over the town they took pictures of the campus while previewing the parade units. As the reception on the south terrace of Old Main ended they again took to the air to get pictures of the winning floats surrounded by participants. Following the reception, President Will Orr, May Queen Helen Papazickos, Holcad Editor Glenn Hartman, and the writer were flown around campus.

At first sight a helicopter gives the impression that it is a rough riding contraption, but except for the loud noise of the engine, the "flying windmill" is surprisingly comfortable. No unpleasant sensations accompany its ascent or descent, and it touches the ground as smoothly as a '49 auto stops at the curb.

The Post-Gazette's helicopter is a Bell model which is equipped with a six cylinder, air-cooled Franklin motor. It is propelled by a two

'Sing And Swing' Musical Program Will Feature Parents Day Schedule

Groups Plan Luncheons For Parents, Guests; Other Events Include Chapel Service, Reception

"Sing and Swing," an annual competitive musical program sponsored by Student Council, will climax the Parents Day program tomorrow. The musical program will be held at 8 p.m. in the gym.

The six sororities, three fraternities, and the independent groups will compete for awards at this program. First in the

Theatre To Stage Recitals-One Acts

Schedule Productions For Six Nights In Row

Senior recitals and one act plays will highlight the week of May 2-7 on Westminster's stage. Productions will begin each night at 8:15.

In the cast of "The Adding Machine," Bruce Catt's senior recital, will be the following: Bruce Catt, playing the lead, Ruth Devlin, Ruth Vogan, Chuck Jackson, Alice Vogel, Darl Wiley, Emmy Lou Schultheis, Paul Talley, Norma Williams, William Stedman, Helen Sloss, William Anderson, Marjorie Irvin, James King, Mary Lou Hubbard, Raymond Harris, Robert Tanguay, Louis Eadie, William Sample, and Basil Messina. Catt will present his recital on May 2 and 3.

A one act play, "Our Dearest Possessions," will present these cast members: Helen Sloss, Jeanne Lewis, Marianne Bartlett, Barbara Crawford, June Graham, and Margaret Bates.

Another one act play, "The Valiant," includes the following: John Kerensky, Bill Stedman, Lew Shirey, Phyllis Williams, Jack Griffiths, and Basil Messina. These two one acts will be given May 4 and 5.

The joint senior recital of Shirley McKinney and Eugene DeCaprio, "Abe Lincoln In Illinois," to be given on May 6 and 7, will have the following dramatists: Shirley McKinney, Eugene DeCaprio, Bob Patton, Joseph Christie, Bob Cott, Marilyn Reeves, Eva Jane Smith, Maryann Rehm, and William Sample.

Cummings Takes Library Contest

Elizabeth Cummings today won the $25 first prize for her library entered in the senior library contest. The second prize of $10 was won by Robert Losa. Wayne Steinbaugh gained the $5 prize for his special library.

This is the eleventh annual senior library contest to be held. Judge for the contest was Miss Isabel Forbes, Grove City college librarian, who has judged one of the previous contests.

The libraries were displayed in the browsing room of the library this week. Other seniors whose libraries were on display are William Allen, Joseph Christie, Edwin Good, William Johnson, John Pollock, Maryann Rehm, Nancy Schmidt, Margaret Scull, and Hilda Stockhausen.

men's and women's groups will be awarded cups, while honorable mention will be made for the second place in the men's groups and second and third places in the women's groups.

Dancing to music provided by records will take place after the musical program.

Parents Day events will get underway at 11 a.m. when a chapel program will be presented for parents, guests, faculty, and students. At 12:30, luncheons in the dormitories, fraternity houses, and other locations will be served for the visitors.

A regular preview of two one-act plays will be given at 2 p.m. in the Little Theatre. These plays are "The Valiant" and "Our Dearest Possessions"; they will be given as dress rehearsals.

Parents Day Schedule

|       |   |
|-------|---|
| 11:00 | Special chapel program                            |
| 12:30 | Luncheons   |

| 6:00  | Dinners   |
| 8:00  | Sing and Swing, gym                               |

At the same time, a softball game between two all-star teams representing the Blue league and the White league of the intra-mural league will take place on the athletic field. In case of rain events will be held in the gym.

A reception, which will serve as the reception for Dr. Will Orr, will be held at 4 p.m. in the library. Parents should be accompanied by students.

Dinner will be served in the dormitories at 6 p.m.

The science museum on the third floor of the Science hall will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. for visitors. In addition, the radio studio will be open. Student guides will be on duty at these and other campus points.

Professor, Wife To Give Recital

Music varying in style from 16th century to present day will be played at 8:15, Monday, May 9, in the college chapel when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohnhorst present an organ and piano recital.

Mrs. Bohnhorst studied at Illinois Wesleyan and obtained her Master of Music degree in piano at Northwestern university. She was a studio accompanist at the Julliard school of music in 1947-48. Mr. Bohnhorst is instructor of organ at the college.

Mr. Bohnhorst will begin the recital with four selections, "Fantasie in F", Mozart, and three chorale preludes by Brahms. Mrs. Bohnhorst will then play "Partita Number Five in G Major" by Bach.

The recital will continue with Mr. Bohnhorst playing compositions by Sowerby, Luzzaschi, and Byrd, "The Winter Is Past", composed by Mr. Bohnhorst, and "Fantasie and Fugue in G Minor" by Bach. Mrs. Bohnhorst will then return to play five selections. She will play three preludes by Debussy, "The Solemn Pantomime" by Fletcher and "Weevily Wheat" by Mr. Bohnhorst.

The program will close with Mr. and Mrs. Bohnhorst playing the first movement of Schumann's "Concerto in A Minor".

Dwight White To Head National History Society

Dwight White has been elected to head Phi Alpha Theta for the coming school year at a business meeting held Thursday, April 28. Other officers elected are Janet Schaefer, vice-president; Virginia Bretsnyder, secretary, and Richard Wharton, treasurer.

An Open Letter...

... To Dr. Will Orr

Dear Dr. Orr,

Already the college family has welcomed you and your family in our best collegiate style. The lively celebration this week was evidence of our enthusiasm and of the hope with which we look forward to your administration. The high hopes for Westminster's future under your guidance are sincere, and we think justified, in view of your record as a leader.

But now that your special day of welcome is over, with all its excitement and bustle, it's time perhaps to change our slogan to WHOA instead of WOW.

We know that you are entering into a new experience which will require some amount of time for orientation. It will take time, too, for you and Westminster to become accustomed to each other.

As you move into the difficult period ahead, we assure you of our cooperation and willingness to pull together for Westminster.

Don't Worry...

... About Cut Plan

COMING UP FOR revision at the next meeting of the faculty, May 12, will be the class attendance rules which have been in effect for the past year. There is, however, no cause for anxiety.

The major clauses of last year's plan have been left intact by the student-faculty committee which has drawn up the proposed changes. If the faculty approves the revised rules, the formula which permits one and one-half absences per credit hour will still be valid, and presence on the special "Dean's list" will continue to signify exemption from the class attendance rules.

Some minor changes in penalties for overcutting are being recommended. These are mainly for the convenience of record keeping and will affect present conditions very little.

The committee evidently feels that the system which was originated a year ago, meant to serve the best interests of the college, is for the most part satisfactory. We feel the same way. And we trust that the faculty will demonstrate agreement when their vote is called for two weeks from now.

Southern Legislators Indicate Determination To Vote As They Please Despite Patronage

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP)—Dissident southern congressmen said today they will continue to vote as they please, despite President Truman's warning that patronage will go only to those who support him.

Mr. Truman's press conference remark yesterday had one immediate effect—it cost the administration some votes in the Taft-Hartley repeal fight. Both administration leaders and southerners in the House agreed on that.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., summed up the feelings of many southern Democrats on Capitol hill when he said: "I for one will not trade my right of judgment on how best to represent my people for patronage."

Many congressmen pointed out that they have virtually no patronage now. They said that about the only appointments they have any voice in are those of postmasters and rural mail carriers. These were described as being more of a nuisance than anything else.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D., La., who supported the States' Rights ticket last November, said Mr. Truman "obviously was stating either a bribe or a threat." "Either way," Hebert said, "Members of Congress will resent it."

Bulgars Accuse British

SOFIA, April 29.—(UP)—Bulgaria has accused Britain in an official note of committing a "brutal act of unfriendliness" in expelling a member of the Bulgarian legation in London.

T-H Proposal Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP)—The House today rejected a proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and revive the New Deal Wagner act without changes.

Israelis Seek Frontiers

LAUSANNE, April 29.—(UP)—An Israeli spokesman said today his government was trying to push the matter of permanent frontiers into the foreground of Palestine peace talks here.

Preliminary discussion started on Wednesday among representatives of Israel, Syria, Trans-Jordan, Egypt and Lebanon. They were under the auspices of the United Nations Palestine Conciliation Commission.

CINCINNATI, O., April 28.—(UP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler's office today suspended New York Giant Manager Leo Durocher.

Soviets, British Agree

BERLIN, April 29.—(UP)—Russian and British officials agreed today to a peace conference on control of canal traffic in west Berlin, and guards of both countries settled down at the control locks for a 24-hour armed truce.

Japs Ignore Hirohito

TOKYO, April 29.—(UP)—Tokyo's biggest newspapers gave the cold shoulder to Emperor Hirohito on his 48th birthday today.

Mainichi and Asahi did not even mention the occasion. Yomiuri carried a six-line story.

Before and during the war, all newspapers ran four-column birthday pictures of Hirohito on the front pages with detailed captions describing his health and concern for the people's welfare.

Wallace Blasts Pact

CHICAGO, April 29.—(UP)—Progressive party leader Henry Wallace said last night that under the Atlantic pact the United States would be more likely to provoke war than Russia.

Wallace, launching a nationwide tour to urge its rejection, said the North Atlantic pact illustrates the administration's "determination" to lead the nation into depression, bankruptcy and war.

Wallace, speaking over the American Broadcasting Co. network, criticized the state department and charged that Secretary of State Dean Acheson is trying to "undermine" the German peace.

Wit Escapes Dustcloths Despite 'Operation Cobweb'

by Talley

A dirty sock, a long lost letter, and a pile of dust—these collect in the middle of the room as you clean for Parents day . . . But despite the polishing that goes on, we continue to pull the absurd boners which insist on coming to light no matter what the week.

For instance, the love test pollsters have everyone asking, "Are you dead?" . . . while Ginny Lightner and Jody Turner, unable to repair Browne hall paddles, play ping pong with song books . . . as Andy Paparozzi discovers that "Mac" McCullough has a car with strange habits . . . and Pat King nearly loses the rest of his hair as a helicopter whirrs too close . . . still Jim Canan is happy to teach Ann Osterhout how to wield a frat paddle . . . until she practices on him.

There's confusion as Hoover Yount disrupts a baseball game with a snake . . . while TUB waitress Joan Meyer, bothered by jokester customers, who finally order devilled eggs, exclaims, "I've been devilled too much already" . . . but Joe Christie attempts to fade into his seat after pulling a "faux pas" before leaving the TUB . . . and the Thursday 9:50 gym class almost doesn't meet until Mel Hetzler decides whether to let them go outside or not.

Chuck Pitcher sleeps on a hard chair in art class since no one brought a pillow for his comfort . . . but Mr. Faddis finds time to gather snakes and frogs for his little boy . . . as Barb Hollingsworth and Beverly Lee dash paint around in last minute parade preparations . . . and Doris Nilsson explains she missed her class because she spilled a jar of jam . . . while friends of "Tiger" Lyon name his roommate, Bob McEwan, "Tiger, Jr."

Names mean little when Doctor Simpson calls Don Kirsopp "Doc" . . . as friends rename Eleanor Sloan "liniment" . . . and Louie "Hey Luigi" Barnhart is seen carrying a bag of nails . . . so Wally Lash invents the word of words in intellectual slang and says that it's "orticle."

There's excitement in the air as Harry Abraham and Jack Shepherd crash the White House on their pledge trip to Washington . . . and Donna Shumaker delights her Spanish class with a poem and an apple for Professor Wiley . . . while little Arliss Orr tells inquiring people that she preferred the bathtub float in the WOW parade . . . and students wonder if her father is moving into the library when vans unload books and baggage at the door . . . but Mr. Sloan is perturbed at people in the wrong seats and says, "there are eleven rows in that back seat."

But we continue to polish our manners in preparation for the arrival for our parents.

Titan Tattletale

"WE'VE CORRALED HIM!"

Everyone was waiting for the president. Even the New Wilmington children stood watching the parade, anxiously awaiting a glimpse of Dr. Will Orr. When the horse float came down the street, one little boy screamed, "Here comes the president! Here comes the president!"

EENY, MEENY, MINEY, MOE

After telling about William Hogarth in post Renaissance art class, Mr. Dietz passed around a self portrait of Hogarth and his dog. When Sue Horton got the painting, she looked first at one figure, then at the other. "Which one's Hogarth?"

INQUIRING REPORTER

A moving van parked in front of the library prompted one Holcad staff member to stop and marvel at the number and size of packing cases and trunks being unloaded.

"Gee, this is heavy," he said, tugging at a trunk. "Does this stuff belong to Will Orr?" he asked the men in the truck.

There working in coveralls was Dr. Will Orr!

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

The editor and members of the Holcad sports staff wish to extend a hearty welcome to you, Dr. Will Orr and family. We hope you will enjoy your new home. We say "home" because, having met you, we know you have already accepted Westminster as such.

And, now, a letter to the Post Gazette helicopter pilot:

Dear Sir:

We would like to know if you could give us information on whom to see about having intercollegiate football rules altered a bit to change the height of gridiron goal posts to, say, five feet. That should give you ample room for a take-off under any condition and from any football field. You see, we just got our new president and we would not appreciate having him wrapped around our goal posts, no matter how old they may be. (Excuse me, but I had to get in a plug for our new football stadium and field house). Your cooperation in this matter would be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

The experts say comparative records don't mean a thing. Perhaps they don't but here is one for the records anyhow. The University of Pittsburgh golfers beat the Mounties of West Virginia last week after having lost to the Titan linkmen in what was supposed to be a pushover for Pitt. That should place the odds in Westminster's favor when the Blue and White meets the Mounties next Tuesday. So, as weak as that well-worn limb might be, I'm going out to the end once more and pick the Titans to whip the Mountaineers.

It is suggested that you take in the all-star softball game scheduled for Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. The teams, made up of players from their respective intramural leagues, will be heavily loaded with diamond stars and the game should be close. After having been in this sports business for a while, one discovers that, if one's head is not severed from one's body after having stuck one's neck out the first two or three times, the neck usually becomes rather tough to penetrate, so I'll pick the White leaguers to come out on top.

Thinclads Meet Grove City Away In Season Opener

Squad Primed To Run Against Wolverines; Set For Geneva Next

Coach Harold E. Burry will unveil his 1949 edition of the track squad on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, against Grove City college on the Grover's track.

With two months of conditioning and preparation behind them, the Titan thinclads are awaiting the lid lifter to take part in some real competition as the Grove City squad has been undefeated since 1947.

On Thursday, May 5, the Blue and White team will travel to Beaver Falls to meet the Geneva Covies, another strong competitor in the district.

Probable Lineup

The probable lineup slated to meet the Grovers on Tuesday was announced by Coach Burry last week. The same lineup is expected to be used on Thursday against Geneva.

Three holdovers from last year's squad, Aky Aburano, Art Jones, and Bob Field, will take part in the sprints. In the middle distance events, Coach Burry will call on Don Kirsup, Matt Bruce, Jim Goodwin, and Field to run in the 440 while Al Williams, Johnny Wilson, and Larry Wright will perform in the 880 race. Ralph Foster, Renny Jackson, Darl Wiley, and Don Bogdon will take part in both the one mile and the two mile runs, and Field, Aburano, Wilson, Jones, and Bruce are slated to vie in the one mile relay.

Veteran Field Squad

The squad has plenty of veterans and a few newcomers to enter in the field events. Throwing the shot will be Henry Vitkovich, Jim Broad, and Jack Torrey. Torrey will also see

Rule Book Helps Clarify Softball Pitch Dispute

The following excerpt is taken from an official softball rule book which was published by the joint Rules Committee on Softball and distributed by Lowe and Campbell.

We are publishing this by the request of Melvin H. Hetzler in order to clarify the much discussed and argued pitching delivery of pitchers in the intramural softball league.

"A legal delivery shall be a ball which is delivered to the batter underhand and with a follow through of the hand and wrist past the straight line of the body before the ball is released. The pitcher may use any wind-up he desires providing that in the final delivery of the ball to the batter, the hand shall be below the hip and the wrist not farther from the body than the elbow."

Varsity Posts Sought As Football Drills End

Eleven line candidates continue to fight for three vacated line positions as the Titan gridders bring to a close their last week of spring practice. Tackles Bill Conrad and Cyril Krivosh will be missing from the squad next year due to graduation. Jim Ross, star wingman for the past three seasons, will also be lost because of graduation.

Line hopefuls seeking regular starting berths are: tackles, Vic Bianchi, Brady Mitchell, Jack Ramsey, Bill Hamer, Walt Schafer, and John Chiodo; ends, Fred Evanoff, Aky Copetas, Chuck Nicholas, Bill Nido, and Alex Bentley.

Backfield aspirants are due to be the workhorses of spring training this year as they are due for two more weeks of signal drills before they turn in their uniforms. The linemen will finish up their practice drills this week.

action in the discus with Al McCullough, and John Williamson.

Williamson, Vitkovich, and "Acky" Copetas will take care of the javelin while "Champ" Barthelson, Jack Hodges, and Aburano will be entered in the pole vault.

Competing in the high jump will be Rich Paul, Ray Op't Hof, and Jack Torrey, a trio that is always a menace to the opposition.

Titan Golfers Swamp Erie Center Of Penn State, 17-1, For Easy Win

Gain Sweet Revenge For Last Season's Loss To Grove City With 14-4 Win Over Crimson

After opening up their season with a 6-3 win over Pitt, the Titan golfers teed off on the linkmen from Erie Center of Penn State, Thursday, April 21, on the New Castle Field club links to turn in an almost-perfect score, 17-1.

Fred Broad was medalist for the afternoon with a 73 to lead the field. Jack Winter's man hit a hot streak on the second nine to eke out one point and save his team from a shutout.

Tackle Grovers

Last Tuesday afternoon the Blue and White divot-diggers toppled their arch-rivals from Grove City, 14-4, to make it three in a row. The victory was sweet for the Titans for the Grovers won the second game of their home-and-home series last year and gained a tie for district honors.

Captain Bill Burke, Jack Whitmer, Sid Lucas, and Jack Winters defeated their opponents, 3-0, while Bill Thompson won over Pumphrey of the Wolverines, 2-1. Billy Allen of the visitors won over Fred Broad, 3-0. Allen was the day's medalist with a 77.

Meet Edinboro Today

The Titans will travel to Edinboro, this afternoon for a match with the Tutors on the Culbertson Hill links, the latter's home course. Last year the Blue and White downed the Edinboro golfers in both matches of a home-and-home series.

Tomorrow afternoon will find the Titans visiting the Geneva Covenanters' home course at Beaver Falls. Playing their second match in as many days, the linkmen will be looking for another victory over the Covies whom they beat twice last season.

Next Tuesday, May 3, the Blue and White will travel to West Virginia university where they will meet the Mounties on the latter's home course. The Mounties were one of the two teams who defeated the Titans last year and will provide tough competition once again.

Baseball Club To Play Initial Game Tuesday

Westminster's unofficial baseball team will play its first game of the season when it meets the New Wilmington team Tuesday afternoon at 5:30. The New Wilmington outfit is a member of the North County league.

The locals hope to schedule contests with several other teams in this district, and a few local college nines. A game is in the offing with another unofficial team from Grove City college, which like Westminster does not play varsity baseball.

Squad members have been working out daily on the New Wilmington athletic field under the direction of Wayne Christy, team manager.

League Aces Play Parents Day Game

ASPs, Husbands Win White League Games

Two all-star softball teams representing the Blue and White intramural leagues will meet in the annual Parents Day game to be played at the athletic field at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. Players representing all intramural league teams will see action in the contest. The Blue leaguers will be out to avenge the 6-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the White leaguers last year.

Bob Rounce, captain of the Alpha Sig Blue team, will manage the Blue team, and Cliff Jones, Sigma Nu athletic director, will handle the White league aggregation.

Dembinski To Pitch

Jones has named husky Ed Halas as his starting pitcher. Bob Chavenson will catch for the White league combination. Rounce will go behind the bat himself to receive the hurling of Chester Dembinski. The White leaguers will be out to beat Dembinski who has not been defeated in four years of pitching here.

A partial list of the Blue league players includes Alpha Sigs Reznick, Amiano; Sig Eps, Abraham, Jones; Sigma Nu, Gilkey, Krivosh, and Waugaman. The White league roster shows Married Men, Riley, Timms, Jeffries; Sigma Nu, Russell, Chavenson, Seaholm; Alpha Sigs, McAlister, Book; Sig Eps, Shaffer, Koch, and King. Other members of the team have not yet been named.

Two League Games

During the past week two White league games were played. Alpha Sigs defeated Phi Pi Phi 7-5, Monday. Winning pitcher was Stan Kail, while Frank Ruth hurled for the losers.

Led by the hard hitting of John Jeffries the Married Men handed the Sigma Nus their third defeat of the season in another White league contest played Tuesday.

WAA To Hold Annual Banquet For Members

WAA will hold its annual banquet at the Tavern, Thursday evening, May 5. Awards will be presented to the members with the most points for the year and recognition will be given to those who were outstanding in the sports' program.

A group of the Mermaids will travel to Sharon, Wednesday, May 4, where they will attend a water pageant put on by the community.

The WAA softball league will get underway Monday afternoon. Games will be played on the field between Browne hall and the Science hall.

blade rotor atop the fuselage, instead of the conventional three-blade rotor found on most helicopters today. Compared with airplanes of the same horsepower, it is expensive to operate, since it burns 33 gallons of gas every two hours.

Although it has very little speed when moving backwards or sideways the helicopter has a forward cruising speed of about 80 miles per hour. On a cool day it can ascend vertically as high as 100 feet, while on a cold day it can rise to an altitude of 1000 feet.

About 90 per cent of the helicopters in operation at the present time are used for agricultural purposes, such as plant dusting. In some of our larger cities they are used to transport mail from mid-town post offices to suburban airports.

In case you are interested in purchasing one for yourself, the price tag says $25,000.

Journalists Plan High School Quiz*Will Use Radio Series As Question Source

New Castle high school students who wrote winning papers on the history of journalism class's weekly radio series will compete for prizes in a quiz program to be held on campus Thursday evening.

The six-broadcast-series, titled "The Lawrie Series on the History of Journalism" is sponsored by Mrs. A. K. Lawrie of Thomasville, Ga. The broadcasts were directed by Miss Elizabeth Nixon, associate professor of journalism and were dramatized by Westminster students. More than 800 high school students wrote papers.

Students of history, English, and problems of democracy wrote papers which were judged by three Westminster faculty members, Dr. Alice Schuster, Harry Manley, and Miss Amy Charles each week. The quiz program will be based on the entire series. Prizes will be awarded to winning students and two journalism books will be presented to the school libraries of the winners. The program will also include a reception for the contestants, their teachers, and the Lawrie players.

Lawrie players who dramatized the broadcasts are Mr. John H. Forry, narrator; Frank Ruth, announcer; Alvin Waugaman, John Ellison, Charles Jackson, Glenn Hartman, Norman Shirey, William Jackson, Jeanne Lewis, Joel Mellinger, Patty Ann Trapp, Marilyn Gould, Paul Talley, Arthur Shaffer, and Al Mellor. Maryellen Cipolla served as program coordinator and Sally McCoy was in charge of sound effects.

A similar program is planned for Sharon high school students later in May.

Alumnae association, extended greetings to the Orrs.

After the reception, Dr. Orr viewed the floats from the air.

At 5:45 Dr. Orr, his family, and guests were served dinner at Ferguson hall.

A chapel program in the evening concluded the day's activities. Dr. James M. Ferguson, president of the board of trustees introduced Dr. Orr. The new president pledged his best to Westminster and its future, feeling that his coming here is the will of God.

Dr. John Orr, acting president of the college, gave the invocation and benediction. Prof. Alan B. Davis led the responsive reading, the Rev. George Myers delivered a prayer, and the Rev. R. P. MacDonald welcomed Dr. Orr for the community.

During the service the college choir sang "Antiphon" by Ralph Vaughan Williams. Flowers, which decorated the altar of the chapel, were presented by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Grange, and the American Legion of New Wilmington.

Holcad Again Wins All-American Rank

For the 20th consecutive semester, the Holcad has taken top honors in its class by being awarded an All-American rating, according to rankings recently released by the Associated Collegiate Press critical service.

The highest possible score that a paper "excellent" in every respect could receive totals 1,065 points. The Holcad received a total of 935 points. The rating, determined by the ACP, is based on a complete survey on all phases of the publication.

The staff winning this recognition was headed by Kay Roedema, editor-in-chief. Others on the editorial staff included Lydia Zahariou, managing editor; Glenn Hartman, news editor; Peggy Morris, feature editor; Maryellen Cipolla and Bill Kegel, copy editors, and Art Shaffer, sports editor.

Pi Delts, 30 Club Arrange Program For Journalists

High School Students Will Hear Chalk Talks, Forums, Discussions

Journalism Day, sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and Thirty club, college journalism group, will be held Saturday, May 14.

The day, for high school journalists from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, is being planned by Peggy Morris, general chairman, assisted by Bill Kegel, correspondence committee chairman; Glenn Hartman, program chairman; Maryellen Cipolla, registration chairman, and Jim Case and Al Krause, in charge of campus tours.

Included in the day's program are campus tours, a chalk talk by William Kegel, managing editor of the Ellwood City Ledger, forums on various phases of newspaper work, and panel discussions of their work by Westminster graduates in the journalism field.

Harold Burns, editor and publisher of the New Wilmington Globe, will discuss the printer's side of school publications.

Music Majors Plan Two Joint Recitals

Program Will Include Piano, Organ Numbers

Donald Davis, tenor, and Edwin Good, pianist, will present a joint senior recital in the college chapel, Tuesday, May 10, at 8:15 p.m., while James Jones, pianist, and Richard Nevin, organist, will present their joint senior recital the next evening at the same time.

Davis will sing "Tu Lo Sai," Torrelli; "Lasciatemi Morire," Monteverde; "O Kuler Wald," Minnelied, Brahms, for his first appearance. His other numbers include "E Lucevan le Stelle," Puccini; "The Shepherdess," Horsman; "The Last Hour," Kramer; "I Wept, Beloved," Hue; "Lord Randel," Scott, and "For You Alone," Geehl.

Good will play "Sonata in A Flat," Beethoven; "Chromatic Fantasy," J. S. Bach; "Gavotte and Variations," Roumeau; "Ondine," Ravel, and "Tom Joad Ballad," Bohnhorst.

Nevin will open his part of the joint recital with "Prelude in G Major," "Ich Ruf Zu Dir, Herr Jesu Christ," and "In Dir Ist Freude," Bach. His other numbers are "Baroque Suite," Bingham; "Sonata No. 1," Borowski, and "Passacaglia and Fugue," Bach.

Jones will offer "Sonata in D," Haydn; "Waltz in E Major," Brahms; "Tarantella," Pieczonka; "Waltz in A Flat," and "Polonaise in A Major," Chopin. To conclude, Nevin and Jones will combine to play "Fantasia," for organ and piano by Demarest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohnhorst will present an organ and piano recital, Monday, at 8:15 p.m., in the chapel.

Honorary To Play Host To Student Teachers

Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, will end the school year with a dinner at the Tavern tomorrow.

Student teachers will be guests of honor at this meeting, at which some will relate their teaching experiences to the group. They are Maryellen Cipolla, Joan Cox, Lil Davis, and Marjorie Lostetter.

Frank Darby, new president of the group, will be in charge.

Target Elects Pat Hays At Formal Ceremony

Pat Hays, junior English major from Karns City, was elected president of Target at a dinner-initiation meeting recently.

Other officers elected include Mary Lou Black, vice president; Gloria Lorentz, secretary; Louise Hendricks, treasurer, and Peg Adams, historian.

Initiated at this event were Ann Hepler and Judy Wilkinson.

Psychology Club Adopts New Name

Malley Chosen To Head Organization Next Fall

Iota Delta is the new name of the Psychology club.

At the last meeting of the organization, the members voted to transform the club into a campus honorary. Also at the meeting, officers were chosen, and six students tapped.

Albert Malley will take over his president's duties next fall, along with Gloria Jenzer, vice president, Phyllis Ackerly, secretary, and Edward Millward, treasurer.

Anna Lou Kramer, Evelyn Martin, Phyllis Ackerly, Donald Green, Norman Leslie, and John Shannon were the students tapped.

A constitution was written and voted upon. The name "Iota Delta" is derived from the psychological term "id."

Retreat Will Start With Treasure Hunt

Treasure hunting, leading to campfire talks and a picnic dinner, will be the feature at this year's CYF spring retreat to be held tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Approximately 55 members are expected to attend. The group will meet in front of the south terrace of Old Main at 2 p.m., and is expected to find the treasure at approximately 4:30. The Rev. Robert Cressy, of Springfield, Pa., will speak to the group at this time and a picnic dinner will follow.

After the dinner the Rev. Cressy will talk to the group again, with the retreat to end at 7:30 p.m.

Interfraternity Council Plans Cathedral Formal

Interfraternity council will hold its annual formal dance, Friday, May 13, at the Cathedral in New Castle. Dancing will begin at 8:30 p.m. and girls will be given 1:30 permission. Corsages are optional.

Roger Jarvis and his orchestra will provide music for the dance, and refreshments will be served.

Tickets are $3.00 and they may be obtained from any member of the dance committee. Committee members are Bob Carbeau, chairman, Arnold Tornell, and Al Nichols.

Coeds To Select Rooms At Drawings Next Week

Present sophomore and junior women will select rooms Monday, May 9, at 4:30 p.m. in Ferguson hall. Freshmen will make their selections Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Browne hall.

A proxy may be sent for anyone unable to be present, according to Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women.

McCoy Appointed Yearbook Editor

Sally McCoy, sophomore journalism major, has been chosen as editor of the 1951 Argo, Miss Elizabeth Nixon, associate professor of journalism, announced yesterday. Glenn Weller, sophomore psychology major, was named Argo business manager.

Candidates for staff positions on the yearbook submitted applications this week, stating their qualifications. Four other staff members also named are Alex Spisak, sports editor, James Canan, Frances Davenport, and Rachel Ann Miller, literary editors.

Other staff appointments will be announced at a later date.

Officer With Long Title Keeps Walls Painted, Campus Green

By Sally McCoy

Ordering gallons of soap and checking grass-cutting equipment are all in a day's work for Alfred O. Shaffer, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Westminster. From his office in Hillside Mr. Shaffer supervises the work of 20 employees including janitors, grounds men, mechanics, maids, painters, and the watchman.

Changes made in the campus since 1933, when Mr. Shaffer first took the job, have meant an increase in the amount of work, but the staff of workers has increased by only two. There were only six major buildings on the campus in 1933, eight houses for students, and four houses for employees. There are now 13 major buildings and 20 houses, which must be painted every few years, and supplied with everything from furniture to soap.

In the basement of Hillside are workshops for painting, repairing

Students Will Vie In Eichenauer Test

Winners Will Receive Prizes Totalling $100

Eichenauer Bible Contest examinations will be held Monday, May 9, in room 201 of Old Main from 7 to 10 p.m.

The examination is a comprehensive test on the Bible, its content, origin, history, literary value, and related subjects.

Competition is open to all students with the exception of those who have been assistants in the Bible department, ordained ministers, and previous winners.

Students interested in competing in the contest are requested to contact Dr. Wayne Christy. Prizes, donated by Mr. J. B. Eichenauer in memory of his wife, consist of a $65 first prize, and a $35 second prize. Winners will be announced and prizes awarded at Commencement.

Journalists Will Attend Luncheon At Tavern

Journalism majors will attend the journalism award luncheon to be held at the Tavern on Monday, May 16, at 12:30.

Awards will be given to journalists in each class who have been outstanding in work on publications. The price will be $1.25.

Parisian To Speak Before Teachers, Students Of French

Plans Call For Exhibit Of 'Merci Album' Gift From French People

Mrs. Lansdon Bowen, a native Parisian, will address a meeting of the American Association of Teachers of French in the Pittsburgh district in the Little Theatre, Saturday, May 14, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Bowen will speak in French, and all students interested in hearing French spoken are invited to attend the meeting.

Plans are being made to exhibit at Westminster the "Merci Album" which has been sent to Pennsylvania by the French government in appreciation of Pennsylvania's contributions to the Freedom train.

The album will be presented to Governor James H. Duff in Harrisburg, Friday, May 13. Dr. Ella McRae Stagg, acting chairman of the department of modern languages, and Mrs. M. Mainsonnat Owens of the Pennsylvania College for Women are in charge of the album's exhibition in western Pennsylvania.

Dr. Stagg will attend a meeting of the Pittsburgh Modern Language association at the Pennsylvania College for Women tomorrow.

Chi Os, Alpha Sigs Win First Prizes

Chi Omega and Alpha Sigma Phi won the first prizes for the sororities and fraternities respectively at the "Sing and Swing", annual competitive musical program Saturday night. The program was the concluding event of the Parents Day schedule. Kappa Delta and Alpha Gamma Delta received honorable mention for the sororities, while Sigma Nu rated honorable mention for the fraternities.

Chi Omega won with their black-face rendition of "Louisiana Hayride" and "Chi O Girl." Alpha Sigma Phi's "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "I've Got You Under My Skin," and an Alpha Sig song arranged by Percy Hall earned them first place in the men's groups.

Debaters To Hold Banquet-Initiation

Tau Kappa Alpha, debate honorary, will hold their annual banquet and formal initiation, Thursday, May 12. The banquet will be held at the New Bedford Grange hall.

Professor and Mrs. Barbe and Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Moorhouse will serve as chaperones. John Kerensky, president of the group will preside.

Those who will be initiated into the group at the formal initiation are Frank Jones, William Duff, Basil Messina, Frank Davidson, John Douglas, Ellen Rutherford, and June Bender.

Westminster's debate team will debate before the American Association of University Professors in the faculty lounge of McGill library, Monday, May 9.

"Federal Aid to Education" will be the topic of the debate. John Kerensky will present the affirmative, and June Bender will argue the negative.

Faculty Club Schedules Banquet In Orrs' Honor

Westminster's Faculty Social club will hold a banquet at the Penn Grove hotel in Grove City, Wednesday, May 11, at 6:30 p.m., honoring Dr. and Mrs. Will Orr.

Mrs. Everett Handy is chairman of the banquet and Mr. David MacArthur, instructor in the speech department, is in charge of entertainment.

New officers will be announced at this banquet.

President, College Staffs To Join In Communion

Following the meeting of the Board of Trustees tomorrow morning at 9:30, President Will Orr will join with the Board, faculty, and all employees of the college in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This meeting will take place in the chapel at 11:15.

Survey Denotes . . . Need For Action

IN THE MONTH since the results of the poll on cheating were published, various reactions have been noted among students and faculty. Some are horrified, some are not willing to accept the results, some do not see the serious nature, and some worry about "adverse" publicity.

Whatever the scattered feelings, the basic fact remaining is that the situation needs improvement. We grant that the problem is not only in our school. A similar poll taken in most other colleges would undoubtedly show just as great a percentage. But the fact that we have company does not release us from the responsibility we owe to ourselves.

What can be done? Naturally, the solution to the problem must be worked out by those directly involved—the students and faculty. Joint committees of students and faculty have worked well together in the past on such issues as the cut system and the establishment of our recreation hall. There is no reason why such a committee could not help in this situation.

Both groups are to blame. They will need to dig for the underlying causes honestly and diligently. They should consider such questions as whether too much stress is laid on grades, and whether an adequate number of tests are given in all cases to provide for a fair evaluation of a student's grasp of the subject.

ANY HALF-SOLUTIONS such as extra proctoring or patrolling aisles might gain results superficially, but certainly would work to defeat what should be one of the main purposes of any college, the building and strengthening of character.

A better solution would be to devise codes of ethics for testing, one for faculty and one for students. These codes could be similar to those used in most of the professions. There would be nothing mandatory, and no pledges to sign. There would be none of the abnormal inhibitions like those placed upon students by various "honor systems." Instead would be a codified presentation of the ideal.

Of course, no such code can completely eliminate cheating. But, in providing a tangible set of principles to follow, it could go a long way towards achieving the ideal which we all acknowledge to be right.

No matter what the ultimate solution, the important thing is that we get started. Something must be done now to clear the air and head us in the right direction.

Nationalists Repulse Red Amphibious Landing At Mouth Of Whangpoo River Close To Shanghai

SHANGHAI, May 6.—(UP)—Shanghai garrison headquarters announced today that a Communist attempt to land amphibious forces in 100 small boats near the mouth of the Whangpoo 15 miles from Shanghai had been defeated.

The announcement said the landing attempt was made near the town of Liuho on the Yangtze 30 miles west of Woosung, center of the powerful fortifications guarding the mouth of the Whangpoo, Shanghai's exit to the sea.

Nationalist defenders drove off the landing attempt with heavy artillery fire, sinking 10 boats, the announcement said. The rest of the boats retreated to the north.

Still another communique reported that Nationalist troops this morning were yet in possession of Kashing, rail town guarding Shanghai's inland approaches 50 miles to the southwest.

Telephone reports from Kashing said Nationalist defenders still were dug in on a line five miles west. Other troops are taking up positions to the north and south of Kashing, these reports said. Gunfire and explosions indicating battle were heard from all three sides.

These reports said several thousand Communists attacking from the south were believed to have driven near Kashing's only airfield eight miles south of the city. The Nationalists were said to be fighting with their backs to the wall.

Another government announcement said four Chinese ringleaders of the Communist fifth column in Shanghai had been executed and that another 500 were under arrest for sabotage against the government.

British See Curtain Lift

LONDON, May 6.—(UP)—Britain today ordered a squadron of Spitfire fighter planes to shift from Malaya to Hong Kong in the first move to bolster the crown colony against possible internal disorders and Communist attack.

Air Ministry officials said the squadron, accompanied by transport planes and ground crews, would leave in the near future, making the 2,000-mile flight in stages. It will be replaced in Malaya, already menaced by Communists, with planes now based on Ceylon.

Shortly after the government announced planes to reinforce Hong Kong with guns, tanks, ships and planes and the War Office said the crown colony's garrison would be increased to 6,000 men, the British press opened a campaign for a Pacific Security pact.

G-Men Give Testimony

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(UP)—A G-Man testified today that the FBI put off arresting Judith Coplon on espionage charges for several weeks in hopes that she and her alleged Russian engineer accomplice would lead them to more suspects.

Miss Coplon, former Justice Department employe, is charged with stealing confidential FBI reports for Russia. She is charged with giving these reports to Valentin A. Gubitchev, suspended Soviet employe of the United Nations.

The State Department meanwhile announced that it has informed Russia that Gubitchev will be given a "fair and honest trial without undue delay." The U.S. again rejected Russia's claim that Gubitchev had diplomatic immunity. Gubitchev and Miss Coplon are under indictment in New York on conspiracy charges. The girl alone is on trial here.

Dutch Reach Agreement

BATAVIA, May 6.—(UP)—Dutch and Indonesian delegates reached an informal cease-fire agreement today under which the Republican government will be returned to Jogjakarta, the capital, reliable sources said.

These sources said Indonesian delegates flew immediately to Bangka island to get the final stamp of approval from Republican Premier Mohammed Hatta and other Indonesian leaders. They have been exiled there since fighting was renewed last December.

The two sides agreed to stop fighting, restore the Republican government at Jogjakarta, and attend a full-dress peace conference at the Hague, informants said.

Party Line Keeps Humming; Heat Wave Brings Sunning

by Talley

New Wilmington telephone lines are humming this week as the heat wave makes studying difficult. Seniors worry about comps while the rest of us realize that finals aren't far off. Let's listen in on the party line and see what the New Wilmington operator has heard.

Yells and shouts echo in Jeffers as Rich Paul tries for an hour to get Browne hall on the phone . . . while Ray Harris goes to a dance on crutches. Lou Kneppshield's corsage arrives with a "With Deepest Sympathy" card . . . but Bob Rudesill finds that a pair of black boots fill the bill when he can't find shoes to wear to the dance . . . still Dr. Will Orr questions commuters as to where they find a place to park . . . he can't find a parking spot.

Sunbathers compare notes and shades of tan while a few of the "white" outcasts look with envy . . . but Jean Chapman's avid desire for a coat of tan lands her in the infirmary for two days . . . and Barb Downie passes out from the heat . . . still Chuck Councilor, Jack Welty, and Jack Taylor learn that the College hall roof is not the best place for sunbathing . . . while the heat drives Mel Moorhouse's class to the TUB for breakfast where they meet Gene DeCaprio who cut the class . . . yet Lou Cobner cools off with a frosted milkshake, which Rex Henton accidentally spills on her.

Spooks get in on the telephone conversation at Monday's Spook party, as Pookie Shira is afraid to go upstairs in the dark . . . and the ghost who hands out parts of an operation can't find the kidney in the dark . . . still Tom Wilson swears off eggs after getting a mouthful of raw yoke . . . but Margie Foster can't tear herself away from Chester, the dog, who is dragged along holding the end of her skirt in his teeth . . . while Norm Rudolph's mail arrives at Fergie.

In classes as on the telephone, tongue-twisters get the best of us, as Matt Hosie has trouble with "reduction of production" . . . and someone sends Gail Antes 11 large American flags . . . still not a person to waste anything, Jim King eats the piece of candy he finds while clearing the tables in the TUB . . . but Mr. Kelly's bandaged finger is the result of an encounter with a power saw . . . while the Strong-Vincent choir seems to have an additional member in Chuck Gibson, who follows them up the aisle . . . late for chapel again.

An important call is going through now, and our number has ceased to ring, so that's all from the party line this week.

Titan Tattletale

RECKLESS DRIVING: TWELVE LIVES LOST

As Bob Carbeau pulled away from the curb in front of the library, a screech of brakes brought his attention to a thin little lady in a coupe. Shaking her gooey hands, she jumped out and screamed at Bob. They then drove uptown, went into the grocery store, and bought—a dozen eggs! Bob had caused the lady to take a raw egg bath in the dozen eggs she had on the seat of her car, thus initiating her into an embryo fraternity.

"WE'VE LANDED HIM"

While Mr. Galbreath and Dr. Orr were talking in the latter's office, Dr. Orr remarked about the office furniture which his Des Moines congregation was sending him. Tilting back in his chair, Dr. Orr suddenly went over backwards and landed on the floor. From his grounded position, he remarked, "Well, I guess you upset the president."

ZZZZZ AHHHH!

After Mr. Barbe explained in stagecraft class where it was safe to touch light sockets, Louise Hendricks asked, "Could we please have a demonstration?" Mr. Barbe went on to say that you've actually got to work with the sockets to find out which is the right one. "Yeah, if you drop dead, you get the wrong one," chirped Norma Williams.

BZZZZZ EEEEEK!

The next time Joan Meyer discovers a June-bug, she'll be careful where she displays it. When she held one in front of her half-asleep roommate, Joel Mellinger, Joel fell screaming to the floor. When the rest of Browne hall had been awakened and Joel found out what the bug was, Mary Schell commented, "It's a good thing she isn't a biology major."

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

According to latest word received from the business office all you tennis enthusiasts may shout for joy. Weather conditions having been what they are for over a week, the contractor for the job of repairing the courts has said that he will be able to start work in a very short time. Work has been held up for a time because of the wet weather. We send orchids to Mr. Ross Ellis who has given a lot of time toward arrangements for repairing the courts, and a lot of patience toward this column for statements concerning the situation in the past.

The hills of West Virginia helped to knock out one of my predictions and give me a 500 average for the week. The White leaguers did take the Blues, but those Mounties turned a surprise shutout victory over the Titan golfers. One of the local boys was overheard to say that this was the first time he had ever played on a vertical golf course. The Mounties play it smart . . . they drive over each hole and let the ball roll back down to the green. The Titans weren't quite so lucky. They started out by driving short of the greens and were flabbergasted to find that the pellets were rolling back down the slope to the tee.

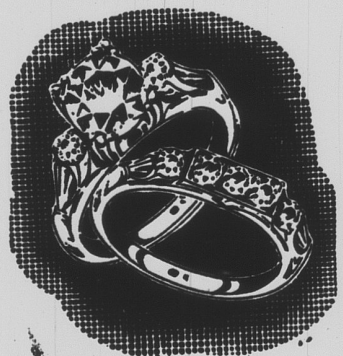

Westminster's "unofficial" baseball team won its first game of the season last Tuesday afternoon. Congratulations are in order. The New Wilmington locals have always been a tough group to beat. Keep it up, fellows, and who knows, your team might soon become an official organization. Westminster needs a varsity baseball team.

Revenge is sweet!! Grove City's track squad wallowed the Titans last year and went on to win the Tri-State championship. They hadn't been beaten since 1947 until Coach Burry's boys decided to change things around a little bit last Tuesday. An interesting occurrence in one of the events is brought to our attention. Rich Paul competed against a Grove City boy who stands 5'8". The lad had never cleared five feet ten inches before in a high jump. He went up to six feet one inch against Rich and chased the Titan ace high jumper up to six feet two inches before he dropped out.

Mounties Defeat Titan Linkmen

Lucas, Burke, Broad Lead Locals To Wins

Westminster's golfers lost their first match in six starts last Tuesday afternoon, 9-0, as the West Virginia Mounties' linkmen teed off against them on the latters' home course.

Hillis of the Mountaineers defeated Whitmer, and Prozello defeated Broad of the Titans in the first foursome; better ball: West Virginia, 3-0.

In the second foursome the Titans were again blanketed as Coulson defeated Lucas, and Feck defeated Burke to give the Mounties the better ball, 3-0.

The third time proved to be a charm in reverse as Walker defeated Winters, and Koehler beat Thompson in the third foursome, again giving West Virginia the better ball, 3-0.

Last Friday and Saturday the Titan linkmen won two for two as they defeated the Edinboro Teachers Friday afternoon, 14 1/2-3 1/2. Sid Lucas and Captain Bill Burke turned in perfect scores along with Broad and Winters. Fred Broad was the day's medalist with a 76.

On Saturday Sid Lucas and Bill Burke turned in scores of 74 to split honors as the Titans downed the Geneva Covenanters golf squad, 7-2. Fred Broad turned in a 2-1 win over his man.

Elgin Pitches Freshmen To Win Over Local Nine

Sparked by the five hit pitching of DeWayne Elgin, Westminster's unofficial freshman baseball team won its first game of the season Tuesday as they defeated New Wilmington by the score of 9-3. Elgin allowed the losers only two hits until the seventh inning when they scored their three runs.

The Westminsterites solved three New Wilmington pitchers for 14 hits. Elgin, Frank Finlay, and Bill Danver got three hits in four times at bat to lead their teammates in scoring. Long ball hitting honors went to Bill McKee who tripled to deep left field.

Stephenson And Jenzer Receive WAA Awards

Carolyn Stephenson was presented the WAA blanket award, and Gloria Jenzer received the letter award for the year at a banquet that was held by the Women's Athletic association at the Tavern last night. The winners were judged on sports participation, leadership, and excellent achievement in sports activities.

A group of members of Mermaids will visit the campus of Allegheny college, Wednesday, May 11, to witness a water pageant which is being presented by a group of Allegheny college women.

Bunching their hits effectively, the Independents defeated the Sig Kaps, 25-4, Monday afternoon to open up the inter-sorority softball league.

In Tuesday's game the Beta Sigs won over the Chi O's, 17-9, in a game which saw lots of extra-base hits.

Titan Thinclads Upset Grove City, 68 1/2 To 62 1/2 In Season Lid-Lifter

Relay Team Of Wilson, Aburano, Bruce, Jones Cop Mile Run; Jones Wins 100 Yd. Dash In 9.9

Running in an underdog role, Westminster's track team downed a hitherto undefeated Grove City track squad, 68 1/2 to 62 1/2, last Tuesday afternoon on the Grovers' home field. It was the season's lid-lifter for the Titans who did what hasn't been done since 1947 when the Crimson thinclads were last defeated. The Grovers had won nine straight including the Tri-State championship before they met the Titans.

White Stars Win All-Star Contest

Four Contests Played In IM Softball Loop

White league all-stars won the annual all-star intramural league Parents Day game, as they defeated the Blue leaguers, 8-3, last Saturday afternoon. Clyde Shaffer with a smooth playing infield behind him was the winning pitcher.

The intramural softball league began second-half play this week. Monday afternoon the Alpha Sigs edged the Married Men, 3-2, in a White league contest. Chester Dembinski continued his winning ways as the Sig Ep Blue league team trounced the Alpha Sig Blue leaguers by the score of 16-2, Tuesday.

Sigma Nus lost two games Wednesday as the Sigma Nu Blue league team was defeated by the YMCA, 11-7, and the Alpha Sigs downed the Sigma Nu White leaguers 10-7. The Independents-Commuters and Sig Eps-Phi Pis games scheduled for this week were forfeited by the Commuters and Phi Pis.

The following schedule is for the remainder of intramural softball league competition:

White League

Monday, May 9, 2:30—Alpha Sigs vs. Pi Phi

Tuesday, May 10, 4:00—Married Men vs. Sig Eps

Wednesday, May 11, 2:30—Phi Pi vs. Sigma Nu

Monday, May 16, 4:00—Alpha Sigs vs. YMCA

Tuesday, May 17, 2:30—Sig Eps vs. Commuters

Tuesday, May 17, 4:00—YMCA vs. Independent Men

Wednesday, May 18, 2:30—Sig Eps vs. Sigma Nu

Westminster's track team won its second meet of the season yesterday, as they defeated the Geneva thinclads, 78-53. Details next week.

The Blue and White won five out of nine track events and two out of six field events, but won a vast majority of second places to win the match which proved to be a thriller. With one event to go, the mile relay, the score was 63 1/2 to 62 1/2 in favor of the Titans. The relay team of Wilson, Aburano, Bruce, and Jones came home the winners in this event with a time of 3:37 to cinch the meet.

In the mile run Captain Renny Jackson turned in a time of 4:48 to lead the field home, and Brown and Foster of the Titans came in two and three respectively to place 10 more points.

Jones Wins

Art Jones again upheld his reputation for speed plus as he copped the 100-yard dash with a time of :09.9, while his running mate, Aky Aburano, came in second, ahead of Courtney of Grove City.

Four Crimson runners combined to give the Wolverines first place in the 440-yard dash, while Fields of Westminster and Young of Grove City tied for second place.

The 120-yard high hurdles event was won by Sutcliffe of Grove City and Fred Navarra placed second for the Titans, head of Hofinger for the Crimson.

Bechtold of the Wolverines came in first in the 880-yard dash, and Bruce of the Titans finished a close second to beat out Alloway who placed third for Grove City.

Art And Aky Win Again

Jones and Aburano were winners for a second time during the afternoon as Art won the 220-yard dash with a time of :22.3, and Aky came in a close second.

The 220-yard hurdles was the first event of the afternoon in which Grove City men finished first and second as Bechtold and Place finished first and second respectively for the Grovers. Fields came in third for the Titans.

Renny Jackson copped the second half of his double win in the two-mile runs he turned in a time of 10:45. Kroske of Grove City came in second and Wiley of the Titans came in third behind Jackson.

Even Scoring

In the field events the Grovers captured four out of six first places, but once again the Titans came through with a majority of seconds to keep the scoring fairly even.

Madallena of Grove City won the shot put with a toss of 40 feet 9 inches. Henry Vitkovich gained second place with his heave.

Ned Hamilton won the pole vault by clearing 10 feet six inches, and Aky Aburano captured second place. Hiack of Grove City beat out Aky Copetas in the javelin throw by a mere three inches with a heave of 173 feet 5 inches. Jack Torrey gained first place in the discus throw with a toss of 118 feet 2 inches, and Al McCullough placed second.

Takes High Jump

Rich Paul was closely pressed by Sutcliffe of Grove City in the high jump and annexed a victory with a leap of six feet two inches. Bartlett of the Crimson and Cassell of the Titans tied for third place.

Ned Hamilton won the broad jump with a near-record leap of 20 feet nine inches to edge out Replogle of the Blue and White. Altogether the Titans won seven out of the 15 events and took 10 second places to blanket the Grovers throughout the afternoon.

Formals Go On Despite Weather Change
As Heat Takes Houseparties Outdoors

By Dodie

Turning to the out-of-doors for tomorrow night's houseparties, campus sororities are busily planning for picnics and campfires to fill the bill. Spring formals continue tonight, with the Sig Kaps promenading at the Ellwood City country club, while Beta Sigs dine and dance at Shuster's. Meanwhile, the competition continues for both male and female social organizations on the softball diamond.

BETA SIG's spring dinner-dance is being held this evening at Shuster's, Greenville. . . social chairman, Dodie Renshaw, is in charge of plans for this semi-formal. . . Alumnae attending are Betty Fair, '48, Jean Caldwell, '48, Marge Cruikshank, '48, Jinx Jenkins, '48 and Mrs. Jack McKee (the former "Waugy" Brown, '49). . . Phyllis Ackerly, past president, has been nominated from the Beta Gamma chapter for the annual Bernardin award. . . this award is a diamond sorority pin presented each year to the outstanding senior chosen from candidates of all the Beta Sig chapters. . . the nominees are selected on the basis of activity, scholarship, personality, and leadership. . . Doty Haas Williman, '48, Fran Knox, ex-'49, and Mary Eliza Stewart Cummings, '48, were on campus last weekend.

The THETA U Mother-Patroness degree was given to 13 mothers Saturday afternoon. . . parents were honored with a Parents Day luncheon at Mabel's. . . the chapter presented Ida Falsetti, past president, with a rhinestone necklace and bracelet at the spring formal as a token of appreciation. . . Jane Moyer has accepted the Sig Ep pin of John Eason, '48. . . plans for the picnic to be held May 14 are being made by Effie Matheny and Dot Wallace. . . Shirley Brandon is in charge of chapel program plans. . . Lou Moreland, '47, and Carolyn Rocks, '47, were recent campus visitors.

CHI O's presented Buster McKinley with the cup for "Ideal Pledge" at the Parents Day luncheon. . . Ruth Randall is general chairman of the picnic to be held at Garrett's Lake Saturday night. . . decorations for Chi O's contribution to Sing and Swing were planned by Maggie Swagler and Billie Gambill. Barb Lewis is in charge of plans for the spring formal dance. . . recent visitors on campus were Shirley Smith, '48, Ann Hope, '48, and Jean Leighty, '48.

SIG KAP's have elected Peggy Lindquist treasurer. . . the houseparty this Saturday will be held at College Woods. . . Becky Carson and Pauline Christos are in charge of next Friday's chapel program. . . on campus this weekend are Chris Masterson, '48, Barby Johnson, '48, Jane Allen, '49, Ann Glenn, ex-'50, Holly Holmes, '49, and Jan Diehl McClure, '49. . . visitors last weekend were Lorry Brown Turner, '47, and Betty McChesney.

ALPHA GAMS houseparty tomorrow night will be in the form of a weiner roast at Mrs. Elmer Beecher Russell's. . . the New Castle Alumnae chapter held a party Tuesday, May 3, for the initiates, seniors, and two-year students. . . with the exception of the new actives, the honored guests were initiated into the Alumnae organization at this time. . . Phyllis Williams was in charge of the AG chapel program last Wednesday. . . Jean Basher, '48, was a campus visitor last weekend.

KAPPA DELTA's houseparty tonight is a "Barn Party," being held at Willow Brook Farm. . . Jimmy McBeth is in charge. . . spending the weekend off campus are Jo Hodges, who is visiting Kentucky university, and Jan Cuthbert, a guest on Kenyon college campus. . . Jean Johnston, ex-'49, was on campus last weekend.

QUADRANGLE will honor senior members with a picnic in the near future. . . Thelma Bennett and Gloria Lorentz are in charge. . . "Tex" Mullin, '49, was a visitor on campus recently.

SIG EP delegates to the annual convention at Penn State last weekend were Dick Specker, Jim Black,

Honorary Sponsors
Exhibit In Library

Displaying works by students in the drawing and painting, commercial art, and interior decorating classes, an art exhibition is presently on display in the exhibition room of the library. It is sponsored by Alpha Rho Tau, art honorary.

The works, by students ranging in art experience from one half to four years, stress fundamental principles and thorough grounding in preference to superficial finish and sophisticated techniques, according to Charles Dietz, art department head.

The drawings and paintings show the powerful and functional use of line, mass, and color, together with the practical or commercial use of design in industry.

Officer Keeps Campus

marred by nails and scotch tape; but Mr. Shaffer states that "There's been a world of improvement this year over last year in the dormitories." When an inspection of rooms was made during an Easter vacation, Mr. Shaffer found that the simple rooms with walls uncluttered by pictures were the best looking.

There has been little change in the staff since 1933. At the present time Henry Wilson is foreman of the campus men, and Edward Reed is foreman of the janitors. Mr. Shaffer finds that students cooperate in keeping the campus looking neat. In only one place, the corner of the Science hall and east of Old Main, was it necessary to place "Keep Off the Grass" signs.

A plastering contractor in Sharon before he came to Westminster, Mr. Shaffer came to the campus during the depression. The college enrollment gained during the depression, and students were anxious to take jobs as janitors.

Mr. Shaffer was born on a farm near Greenfield and says he doesn't like farming, but gardening is one of his hobbies. He is a member of the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church and spends several evenings a week there.

Mr. Shaffer says he would like to travel, but his opportunities to do so have been limited. The main interest of Mr. Shaffer and his wife, Dorothy, has been educating three children. Lawrence, who attended Westminster for two years, is an intern at Jefferson Medical school in Philadelphia. His sister, Jean, who went to Kent State university, is learning to be a medical technician at the same hospital.

This June, Alvin will graduate from Virginia Polytechnic institute, in Blacksburg, Va. Will Mr. Shaffer be able to attend the graduation?

"Why certainly, that's something I've lived for."

Going over plans for tomorrow's annual Journalism Day are some of the students who will take part. Left to right are Roger Hawk, Peggy Morris, general chairman, Frank Ruth, Kay Roedema, and Norman Shirey. These journalists are among the several leaders of forums on newspaper, magazine, and yearbook work. The day, held for district high school students, is sponsored this year by Pi Delta Epsilon and "30" club.

Banquet To Honor Masquers Initiates

Occasion Will Feature Oscar Presentations

After being initiated in the Little Theatre at 4 p.m. Wednesday, May 18, new members of Masquers, dramatic honorary, will be entertained at a banquet in the Manse.

Melvin Moorhouse, instructor of speech, will be master of ceremonies and this year's Oscar winners will be announced. The Oscars, for outstanding performance in college drama productions, will be awarded by a committee headed by John Forry, assistant professor of English, and including Samuel Sloan, dean of men, Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women, Miss Mabel Kocher librarian and Miss Elizabeth Nixon, associate professor of journalism.

The eighteen new members include Marianne Bartlett, Tink Bullock, Barbara Downie, Dottie Elder, Jewel Jennings, Bill Kegel, Jean Lewis, Mary Mauro, Bob Orser, Marge Powell, Louise Rubino, Bill Sample, Bob Tanguay, Art Schreiber, Grace Temple, Ruth Vogan, Norma Williams, and Betty Withrow.

Debate Team Schedules Final Debate Of Year

Westminster's debate team will hold their last debate of the year at a meeting of the American Association of University Women, Thursday, May 19, in the faculty lounge of the library at 8:15 p.m.

The affirmative team, Ellen Ruth-erford and Burke Dorworth, and the negative team, Maryann Rehm and Frank Jones, will debate the subject, "Federal Aid to Education."

This year's debate team has made approximately 20 public appearances.

CYF To Install Boone At Sunday Ceremony

Bob Boone, sophomore Bible major, will be installed president of CYF Sunday evening at 6:20 p.m. in the Little Theatre. Dr. Will Orr, college president, will speak to the group.

Other officers who will be installed are Dorothy Roberts, vice president, Robert Garvin, treasurer, and Lois McCurdy, secretary. John Peterson has been elected to represent CYF on Student Council.

Melvin Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech, will also speak.

YMCA, YWCA Schedule All-College Park Picnic

YMCA and YWCA will jointly sponsor an all-college picnic Saturday, May 21, at the community park at 5 p.m. in honor of the senior class.

In order to attend this picnic, students must obtain tickets by May 18 which may be secured at the office of the dean of women. These tickets are free, and are being used to determine how many students will be at the picnic.

Dormitory dining rooms will be closed for the evening meal that day.

College Orchestra Will Give Concert

Westminster's orchestra will present its annual concert Thursday, May 13, at 8:15 p.m.

"Haydn's Symphony No. 2" will be the first number on the program. Other selections include "The Entrance and March of the Peers," Sullivan; "Prayer" from Humperdink's "Hansel and Gretel"; the "Der Freischütz Overture," Von Weber; "A Selection of Friml Favorites," and "Valse Triste," by Sibelius.

The group is under the direction of Professor Donald O. Camerop.

Cwens Name President, Other Officers At Dinner

Barbara Hollingsworth, freshman art major from Mount Lebanon, will preside over Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, for next year it was announced at a dinner tonight at the Tavern.

Sally Leaman was elected vice president, Priscilla Barnes was chosen secretary, while Jean Geuther was selected to act as treasurer of the organization.

Initiated at the dinner were Barbara Hollingsworth, Barbara Williams, Jean Geuther, Carol Keans, Patricia Reinheimer, Sara Purks, Joan Hodges, Joan Foster, Priscilla Barnes, Tish Clark, Sally Leaman, Lois Baum and Carolyn Hulse.

Physics Club Invites Students To See Movie

Students interested in the field of radio theory are invited to attend a movie, "Radio Heat Frequency," in room 25 of Science hall Monday, May 16, at 8:15 p.m.

Physics club will sponsor the 45 minute movie, showing the newest in radio operation technique.

Shares Tops Goal In 1949 Campaign

Gordon College To Get Major Share Of Funds

Westminster Shares campaign this year surpassed its goal by $127.90, according to the final report given by Student Council's shares committee.

With the goal set as $2978, total contributions amounted to $3,105.90. This total was an increase of $811.58 over the 1948 contributions and $1,480.40 over the 1947 total.

Contributions were as follows:

|                        |            |
|------------------------|------------|
| Students               | $1,125.31 |
| Faculty and Staff      | $909.01   |
| Board of Trustees      | $301.00   |
| Student Organizations  | $285.00   |
| Auction                | $164.52   |
| Chapel Offering        | $127.85   |
| Lecture                | $98.46    |
| King Contest           | $57.85    |
| Day of Prayer Offering | $36.90    |

Total $3,105.90

Gordon college will receive $2,075, Church World service, $515.45, and World Student Service fund, $515.45.

Dr. Will Orr To Receive Carroll College Degree

Carroll college will confer a Doctor of Literature degree on President Will Orr, Monday, May 23, when he arrives at the Waukesha, Wis., school from Buck Hill Falls, Pa.

He will be in Buck Hill Falls as a delegate to the United Presbyterian General Assembly, which begins May 20. Since his membership has not yet been transferred, he will represent his former presbytery, Des Moines.

Seniors Face Keen Competition In Changing Business World

By Sally McCoy

Seniors looking for jobs after graduation are going to discover that good positions are more difficult to find than last year. An estimated 19 thousand more college graduates will be looking for jobs this summer.

As graduating classes increase and jobs decrease, competition for jobs is becoming keener and employers can afford to be more particular. Having a college degree will not necessarily assure a graduate of a job.

Some types of jobs will be relatively hard to find in the next year. The personnel field is overcrowded at present, and jobs are scarce for newspaper reporters, radio announce-

High School Students Will Participate In Journalism Day Program Tomorrow

'Today's Training Is Tomorrow's Career' Chosen As Theme Of Annual Student Visit

"Today's training is tomorrow's career" is the theme for Westminster's annual Journalism day, tomorrow.

This theme was chosen by the sponsors, Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and "30" club, college journalism group, as being appropriate for the purpose of the day, which is to help fit high school journalists for tomorrow's journalism.

Throughout the day, the visiting journalists, numbering about 150, will be given a chance to examine many phases of journalistic work. Registration of students will begin at 9:30 a.m., and will be followed by tours of the campus. At 11 a.m., they will be ushered into the Little Theatre for the first general meeting.

Peggy Morris will introduce Dr. William Thomas who will make the welcome speech. Following the introductory remarks, Miss Elizabeth Nixon, associate professor of journalism, will speak on journalism as a profession, and Dr. Thomas will regain the floor to show movies of last year's May Day celebration.

Chalk Talk Scheduled

After lunch in the dormitories, William F. Kegel, managing editor of the Ellwood City Ledger, will deliver a chalk talk in the Little Theatre. From 1:45 to 3:20, forums will be held with all students afforded a chance to hear each discussion. The forums and forum leaders are sports, Bob Carey and Al Waugaman; page layout Lydia Zahariou and Matt Hsieh; editorial management, Glenn Hartman and Kay Roedema; feature writing, Sally McCoy and Norm Shirey; yearbooks by Roger Hawk and Helen Dougherty, from the Northern Canton Engraving Company, Canton, Ohio; magazines, Peggy Morris and Maryellen Cipolla, and business, Frank Ruth and Al Mellor.

The graduate panels, headed by Zip Zahnizer, Jim Oravetz, and Ruth Stoehr, are scheduled for 3:45 p.m. In order, they will speak on trade publications, advertising and public relations. These graduates have worked in their respective fields since leaving Westminster.

Globe Editor To Speak

To conclude the day, Harold Burns, editor of the New Wilmington Globe, will present the printer's outlook on newspaper work.

The committee in charge of the day is made up of Peggy Morris, general chairman; Bill Kegel, correspondence chairman; Maryellen Cipolla, chairman of registration, and Glenn Hartman, program chairman.

The "30" club is aiding Pi Delta Epsilon in preparing for the day, and all journalism majors will be given a chance to participate in the activities.

Parisian To Speak To Group In French

Mrs. Lansdon Bowen, native Parisian and lecturer of the Alliance Francaise, will address a meeting of the American Association of Teachers of French in the Pittsburgh district in the Little Theatre tomorrow at 2:15 p.m.

Mrs. Bowen will speak in French on "Treasures of French Folklore" and will wear an authentic Breton costume. All students interested are invited to attend.

Exact dates for the exhibition of the "Merci Album" at Westminster have not yet been set.

Women's Glee Club Will Give Concert

Program Will Include Group Numbers, Solos

Women's Glee club will give its annual concert in the college chapel Monday, May 16, at 8:15 p.m.

The first portion of the program will be by the glee club and selections include "Gloria Patri," Palestrina; "Alleluia," Bach; "Beautiful Savior," arranged by Treharne, and "Panis Angelicus," Franck-Harris.

The second section will include solos by several members. These numbers include "Scherzetto," and "Elegie," Vierne, by Ethel Goshorn; "Cavatina," Raff, a violin solo by Norreen Stegailov; "Etude Opus 10 No. 3," Chopin, by Audrey Stoehr; "Stephanie Gavotte," Czibulka, a clarinet solo by Eleanor Whitehill; "Etude in D Flat," Liszt, by Nancy Elliott; and "Prelude," Vierne, by Jean Clark.

The last part of the program will be by the club, and the pieces are "Thanks Be To God," Dickson; "In the Boat," Grieg; "Flower of Dreams," Clokey; "The Snow," Elgar, playing the violin will be Norreen Stegailov and Sarah Marsteller, and to conclude, "Music When Soft Voices Die," Kramer.

Accompanist will be Audrey Stoehr. Ushers will be Ruth Temple, Carolyn Holub, Shirley Buechling, and Kathleen Brunswick.

Rossi, Evans, Plan Joint Music Recital

Paul Rossi, pianist, and Paul Evans, trombonist, will present their senior recital in the college chapel Tuesday, May 17, at 8:15 p.m.

Rossi's first number will be "Sonata in A Minor, Opus 42," Schubert. His other numbers will include "Capriccio," Brahms; "Nocturne in E Minor," and "Scherzo in C Sharp Minor," Chopin; "La Puerta del Vine," and "Feux d'Artifice," Debussy.

Evans will start with "Concertino for Trombone," David. His other selections will be "Arioso," Bach; "Andante et Allegro," Baret, and "Serenade" from "Student Prince," Romberg.

Ushers will be Alyce Ann Eppley, Marie Olson, Ethel Goshorn, and Bee Jones.

One Act Plays End Theatre Schedule

Westminster's dramatists will conclude the season on the Little Theatre stage Wednesday evening, May 18, in their presentation of two one act plays, "The Pierrot of the Minute" and "My Chosen People."

The former is directed by Mimi Lostetter, senior speech major, and includes a cast comprised of Chuck Pitcher and Ellie Schindledacker.

On stage for "My Chosen People" will be Barbara Cloud, Art Schreiber, Eugene DeCaprio, Helen Sloss, Robert Tanguay, Bruce Catt, and Ed Dotten. The play is directed by Mr. Barbe, acting head of the speech department.

Biology Honorary Plans Steak Fry For Banquet

In honor of the eight initiates, Tri-Beta will have its annual banquet in the form of a steak fry next Thursday, May 19, at Mrs. Totten's lodge near Harlansburg.

Swimming and badminton are also being planned by Pat Johnson, William Gilkey, and Roland Nord, the committee in charge. Starting at 4:30 p.m., the outing will end by 10 p.m.

Let's Reconsider . . .

THE CALM NOTE we sounded previously about the cut system was struck a resounding blow yesterday when the faculty voted to send a proposed, well planned revision back to the student-faculty committee for changes. They also passed a recommendation to limit cuts to one for each credit hour.

We oppose such a change. If there is any small wrong with the present cut system, it is mainly the result of a lack of uniform enforcement. Until the faculty gives the present plan a fair trial under conditions which are identical in every class, changes are wrong.

College students, we insist, must be permitted to use their own discretion in such matters of judgment if education is to be of full value. If students are not able to use freedom wisely, we are viewing a sad commentary on college educational setups.

Two-Way Benefit . . .

JOURNALISTS FROM several surrounding high schools will gather here tomorrow for the annual Journalism Day. This is one of the ways in which Westminster each year offers programs of interest and value to high school students. The drama festival and the music and forensic contests are among other examples of this policy.

Such projects are not only helpful to the visitors, but also provide good training for college students who participate. In addition, good opportunities are provided for young people to become acquainted with Westminster.

All in all, the results are beneficial for everyone concerned. Similar programs in other departments should be encouraged wherever practicable.

We're Jinxed . . .

WOE IS US! As though it weren't bad enough that April Fools' day fell on one of our publishing dates this year, the calendar deals us another blow with Friday the 13th.

We're expecting any minute to discover that the press has broken down, or that the Globe printing company has folded, or that some scoundrel has made off with the last ton of newsprint.

In case you've received your copy of this week's issue at the usual time, you can deduce that Gregory's calendar has lost out.

And whatever became of Caesar?

Communist Forces Breach Shanghai Defenses Seizing Two Strong Points In Northern Line

SHANGHAI, May 13.—(UP)—Communist forces attacking Shanghai's approaches have opened a breach in the city's northern defense line by seizing two strong points 25 and 22 miles away, official reports indicated today.

The government's central news agency admitted that Communist regulars, aided by guerrillas, fought their way into Shitong, 25 miles west, and into Liuhou, 22 miles northwest.

Capture of these two towns after 10 days of sharp fighting indicated that the government defense line based on Kunshan, 30 miles west, had been pierced in at least two places.

Communications with Shitong were broken off last night. A Shanghai garrison headquarters communique admitted that Nationalist defenders of Liuhou had withdrawn to the east.

At Liuhou the Communists were only 15 miles west of the strategic Woosung forts guarding the Whangpoo river, Shanghai's only exit to the sea.

Government reverses on the Kunshan front were made known after a three-day news blackout.

Clay Refutes Charges

BERLIN, May 13.—(UP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay pronounced the lifting of the German blockades a success today, thus refuting Soviet charges that the western powers failed to live up to their part of the agreement.

The retiring U.S. military governor said in a final press conference that he was satisfied "there was good faith on both sides" in putting into effect the four power agreement removing the Soviet blockade of Berlin and related restrictions.

Trapeze Artist Killed

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 13. (UP)—Twelve hundred stunned on-lookers watched a trapeze artist hurtle 100 feet to his death last night.

George Lanning, 31, of Hollywood, Calif., was killed when a trapeze bar broke during a performance.

His wife, Donna, formerly teamed with her husband as the "Sensational Royals," witnessed the tragedy. It was her birthday.

Lanning was performing here with the "world of pleasures" shows at an outdoor carnival.

Navy Secretary Chosen

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—The White House today announced that President Truman has selected Francis P. Matthews, Omaha lawyer and banker, to be Secretary of Navy.

Congress Shuns Boost

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—Many Democrats as well as Republicans turned a deaf ear today to President Truman's latest plea for a $4,600,000,000 tax boost.

Some of the President's staunchest supporters on the tax-framing House Ways and Means committee said privately that the national economy can't stand a tax increase now.

Guards Protect Records

NEW JERSEY CITY, N.J., May 13.—(UP)—A 24-hour guard was posted today at the incinerator in city hall and at all the exits and entrances of the building to prevent the destruction of any records or files of the H'one administration.

Horace K. Roberson, Hudson county attorney, ordered the precautions yesterday after members of the incoming "freedom" administration discovered city employees burning papers in the basement incinerator.

Hankow Reported Lost

SHANGHAI, May 13.—(UP)—American reports reaching here today said that Hankow, the most important industrial city in central China has fallen to the Communists.

Judge Orders Speedup

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(UP)—Attorneys at the Judith Coplon spy trial were under orders from the judge today to speed up their questioning of FBI agents who trailed the girl and her Russian boy friend around New York.

June Bugs Hop, Ideas Pop As Students Eye Books, Stop

It's not far off . . . that trip to the ocean, the mountains, or jus' plain home. Maybe you'll dash to the nearest tennis courts or the local swimmin' pool; and the fishin' looks mighty inviting too. With vacation plans in the back of our minds, we turn in the last assignments and heave a sigh of relief as seniors finish comps.

Carefree already, Hoover Yount chases June bugs in the library . . . and Bruce Keefer studies for the wrong comprehensive . . . while Lou Cummings takes an alarm clock to comps . . . "so, I'll know what time it is" . . . but Mickie McKinney, Pat Marshall, Maggie Scull, and Maryellen Cipolla celebrate the end of comps by going to the movie . . . yet proctor Don Huston returns to College hall to find his bed doused with water and record shavings burning in his room.

Getting in some early practice, John Hammerstein tries to conceal the fact that his golf score was 134 . . . when Dave Moore tells Sue Horton that his family has moved near Forbes field, and hears the reply, "Oh, good, now you can hop in a plane anytime and come up to visit me!" . . . while Doris Melzer is so befuddled after her weekend at home that she can't spell her own name . . . yet Leslie Jones gets a ticket for parking by the fireplug in front of the TUB . . . as Jack Shepherd and Russ Sperry are advised by Mr. Carter to take adolescent psychology.

Thinking about vacations instead of organs, chapel organist Carol Merolla begins afternoon chapel five minutes early . . . as Browne waiter Jim Cooley feeds slow-eaters Carolyn Hulse and Joan Bovard, so they'll leave the dining hall . . . and dishes are passed at college dining tables with the instructions, "Save some for Virginia." . . . an after effect of "Snakepit" . . . but Al Williams, in explaining his army experiences to a Gospel team audience says, "Many times I've had my foot on the rail and my arm on the elbow . . . yet Dr. Thomas, in returning home late, explains to Mrs. Thomas that Professor Biberich hypnotized him while they were playing golf."

Not particularly interested in the game, Chuck Gerrish hits the volleyball while sitting on the ground . . . and a moan arises in Joe Hopkins' Bible class when he says that the last name of Rhoda was no doubt Dendron . . . Rhodadendron . . . while Don Moore wonders whether the constitution should be ripped apart . . . still Tom Eckles thinks someone is following him when his shoes squeak as he walks through the library . . . but Miss Nixon spends 20 minutes under a heat lamp only to discover, as her skin peels, that a suntan bulb was in the lamp.

Vacation will be here soon, and graduation for the seniors, but let's not overlook finals.

Titan Tattletale

PROVERBIAL WORDS OF WISDOM

Pete Anderson was telling at the supper table of "Boris" Paul's jumping. "Why he can jump more than six feet—over his head!" His mouth a mixture of chop suey and New Jersey accent, Phil Cangelosi mumbled, "Eberytime I try to jump ober my hed, it movths. Achhh."

1-2-3-CONTORT

As the South African Negro dancers twisted their lithe bodies into strange contortions, thoughts of gym class swept through the theater audience. The Negroes continued to dance; but Rick Taylor, who could take no more, whispered, "I hope Mel Hetzler doesn't see this!"

WAS HE A REPUBLICAN?

"Mr. Churchill probably will be written in history books as one of the greatest Prime Ministers that Great Britain has ever had," Mr. Barry lectured to his social science class. "And also," he continued, "they'll put Mr. Roosevelt as one of the greatest American Presidents. What do you Republicans think of that?"

Duff Brown had to defend his Republican blood. "Well," he pondered, "Hitler was a great man too."

THE EARLY BIRD GETS . . .

An 8:55 English literature class was waiting to begin when Bob Rothery hurried in self confidently for his 9:50. After seeing the room filled with a strange class, he looked at his watch and apologized, "Guess I'm kinda early"

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Don't look now, but Westminster's track team is hotter than a four-alarm fire. At the beginning of the season, predictions from several sources didn't give the Titan harriers much chance to break even this year. Last Wednesday, with two wins under their belts, the Burrymen literally ran away with the triangular meet at Allegheny college.

A team that wins all the first places in the track events and three out of six of the field events just doesn't give anyone else much chance to pick up points. A lot of additional points were added to the cause as Blue and White track and field men managed to blanket a large portion of second and third places.

It looks like spring sports are picking up around the campus. The newest feature is the archery team. Right now the sport is in the intramural stage. It could soon develop into an intercollegiate sport. We need more intercollegiate sports for women.

In case you haven't had a chance to see our new tennis courts, they are in those red barrels down on the athletic field. Work has already begun for repairing the courts, and the asphalt in the red barrels will soon be placed in a more level position to act as a hard finish to the repairs. And so the battle is won.

A step in the right direction has been taken in regard to the college's unofficial baseball team. For the past month positions have been open to any student, regardless of his classification . . . freshmen, sophomore, junior, or senior. That is good. It gives a complete representation of the school. The freshmen started the ball rolling. Now it is time to make plans for changing the term, "unofficial", to varsity. As has been said before here, and will be said again, Westminster needs a varsity baseball team. By the way, the unofficial ball club is a pretty good one. Come out, and see for yourself.

The golf squad plays a tough one this afternoon on Grove City's course. The Wolverines made it tough for the Titans last year on their home links. If the locals win this one they will make it two in a row over the Grovers for this season. I'll pick the Blue and White to repeat for the double win.

Westminster's Golf Squad

SNs Top Indies,
ASP Blue Leaguers

In intramural league play this week the Sigma Nu Blue league team defeated two opponents by large margins, while the Sig Ep Blue leaguers edged the Independents, 4-3. Monday afternoon the Sigma Nus trounced the Alpha Sigs, 24-6. Al Waugaman and "Doc" Daugherty shared pitching duties for the winners while Ed Anderson hurled for the losers.

Continuing their high scoring the Sigma Nus downed the Independents, 16-2, Wednesday afternoon. Waugaman and Daugherty once again pitched for the winners. Unique in the contest was that Al Ballister was hit three times by pitched balls.

Softball Meeting Set
For Monday Afternoon

Coach Melvin P. Hetzler has announced that there will be a meeting of all softball managers Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. All managers are asked to be present. Times will be set for the playoff games which will decide the winner of the intramural softball cup.

Coming from behind in the late innings, the Sig Eps overcame the Independents in a hard fought contest last Friday. Winning pitcher Chet Dembinski and Bill Dahlgren, who hit safely three times, were big guns in the victor's attack. The YMCA-Commuters game scheduled for Tuesday was forfeited by the Commuters.

Local Golfers Tie
With Tartans, 9-9

Westminster's golfers were stymied in an attempt for their sixth win of the season last Tuesday afternoon on Carnegie Tech's home course, as the Tartans, playing the stubborn host, tied the Blue and White, 9-9.

Bill Thompson of the Titans was medalist for the day with a card of 80. Summary for the meet: Whitmer lost, 0 and 3. Broad tied, 1 1/2 and 1 1/2. Burke won, 3 and 0. Lucas lost, 1 and 2. Winters lost, 1/2 and 2 1/2. Thompson won, 3 and 0.

Wallop Tutors

Edinboro State Teachers' golfers went down under a heavy barrage last Friday afternoon on the New Castle Field club course, 17 1/2 to 1/2, as the Titans came within one half point of a shutout.

Fred Broad of the Titans was medalist with a 75 card against the Tutors. Jack Whitmer's man captured the half point on the second nine, giving Jack a 2 1/2 to 1/2 victory. Broad, Lucas, Burke, Winters, and Thompson each garnered 3 to 0 wins for the afternoon.

The golf squad travels to Grove City this afternoon for the second match of the season with the Wolverines.

Titans Win Over
'Gators, Teachers
In Triangular Meet

Jackson, Shipstedt,
Jones Earn Dual Wins;
Covies Dropped, 78-53

Dominating the track events throughout the afternoon, the Titan trackmen swept over Allegheny and Edinboro to win a triangular meet held at Allegheny on Wednesday.

Taking firsts in all nine track events meant victory for the Blue and White as Renny Jackson scored a double victory by finishing first in both the one and two mile runs and Art Jones won the 100 yard dash in :9.07, and the 220 yard dash in :22.2.

Relay Team Wins

Others who took first places were Wilson in the 440, Bruce in the 880, and Shipstedt in the 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles. The relay team of Wilson, Kirsop, Bruce, and Jones won the mile run.

The Titans didn't fare too well in the field events, producing only three first places and one second places. Copetas took the javelin, Vitkovitch the shot put, and Paul the high jump with 6 feet. By the end of the meet the Titans piled up 86 2/3 points to lead Allegheny who had 58 1/3, and Edinboro, last with 17 markers.

Geneva Bows

By winning six firsts and five second places in the field events, the Titans beat Geneva, 78-53, last Friday in Beaver Falls.

The usual double victory was scored by Art Jones as he took the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Fuget of the Covies took both the high and low hurdles.

Westminster took the mile relay with a time of 43.3.

Win Field Events

By winning four of the five field events, the Blue and White sewed up the meet for their second straight win.

McCullough heaved the discus 118 feet, Copetas threw the javelin 137 feet, Paul did five feet eight inches in the high jump and Replogle jumped 19 feet 6 inches in the broad jump.

Stang of Geneva scored the lone tally for the opposition as he won the shotput with a heave of 41 feet 2 inches.

Chi Os And Alpha Gams
Win Softball Games

Two intersorority softball games were played last week as the WAA sponsored tournament continued with the aid of good weather.

Kathy Dunlap of the Alpha Gams pitched her team to a 5-3 victory over the Sig Kaps Monday. Kathy Tidd hurled for the losers. The Chi O's romped over the Alpha Gams on Tuesday, 18-3, with Norma Hasselman taking credit for the victory. Kathy Dunlap of the Alpha Gams was the victim of the Chi O victory.

Seven girls under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, women's athletic director, visited Allegheny college Wednesday night to observe a swimming pageant sponsored by a women's athletic group. Those making the trip were Natalie McKenzie, Harriet Eisenbeis, Carolyn Stephenson, Audrey Bryan, Jean Bricker, Sally Snyder, and Mary Lou Bark.

Seniors Face

News states, "the University of Pittsburgh estimates that demand for engineers and technicians is about 10 per cent below 1948." But starting salaries in these fields are 10 per cent higher.

The Westminster Bureau of Occupations directed by Mr. William A. Johns sends out letters to 900 industrial companies each year and receives on the average 300 replies from companies who agree to investigate the education and experience of Westminster graduates. Personal data sheets are donated by the bureau, and replies from 100 copies sent for each student average about six inquiries and two jobs per student. Mr. Johns states that there has been little change in the number of inquiries and jobs over last year's average. "Literature on Occupations", a handbook designed by the bureau to help students find material on jobs in their field, is available to them in the Public Relations office.

Demand for students is far above supply in occupations such as teacher, librarian, physician, pharmacist, physicist, and dentist according to the U. S. News report. But Mr. Short's office which takes care of teacher placement has found that competition is keen in the secondary education field. Requests are being filled for music education and elementary education majors but requests for secondary teachers have not been as numerous.

An Occupational Outlook Handbook prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor gives information on this year's job opportunities in fields from the professions to farming. It shows a gradual decrease in job opportunities.

This year's college graduates will find it necessary to plan job campaigns carefully in order to find what he wants in the first year since 1940 that there has been a "normal" labor market.

Westminster's actress and actor of the year, Barbara Cloud and Eugene DeCaprio, are receiving the oscar awards for the best performances in the Little Theatre, from last year's winners, Helen Sloss and Bruce Catt.

English Instructor Gains Fellowship

Miss Amy M. Charles, instructor in English, has been awarded the Bloomfield Moore Fellowship by the University of Pennsylvania.

The fellowship is the highest the university can award a woman and is based on the recommendations of the English department, the Graduate council at the university, and her academic record in graduate school. The fellowship consists of a year's tuition and stipend toward a Ph.D. degree in English.

Miss Charles was graduated from Westminster in 1943 with general honors and honors in English. She received her master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1944. While at Westminster she was a member of Scroll, Pi Delta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, and Pi Sigma Pi. She also served as associate editor for Scrawl. The Allegheny County Civic club presented her with an award for outstanding scholarship in high school.

Miss Charles will begin her work at the university this summer. She has been granted a year's leave of absence by the college.

Pi Sigma Pi Chooses Patton To Head Group

Bob Patton was elected president of Pi Sigma Pi, local scholastic honorary, at a meeting held recently. Others elected include Dorothy McBeth, vice president; and Jean Swindler, secretary-treasurer.

Initiated at the same meeting were Joan Cox, Joan Gilkey Fennell, Hazel Guy Hervey, John Kerensky, and Glenn Reed, all seniors.

Juniors initiated include Phyllis Ackerly, Patricia Hays, John Kratz, Gloria Lorentz, Dorothy McBeth, Elizabeth McComb, Robert Patton, Milford Shimer, Jean Swindler, Ruth Temple, and Peggy Townsend.

Dr. Mary Purdy will be the sponsor for next year.

Dick Specker Will Head Interfraternity Council

Dick Specker was elected president of Interfraternity Council, recently.

Other officers elected are Al Waugaman, vice president, and Don Totzke, secretary-treasurer.

Interfraternity Council keys were presented to Jack Williams, Roger Seaholm, Dick Stange, Howard Walker, Arnold Tornell, Bernie Kessler, and Dick Specker.

Students With Tickets Will Receive Priority

Students possessing tickets for the YM-YW all-college picnic tomorrow will be given priority over those without, in case the number of persons attending exceeds the expected number, it has been announced by Miss Helen Sittig, dean of women.

The picnic is scheduled for 5 p.m.

Instructor, Student Receive Art Prizes

George Faddis, art instructor, and Charles Pitcher, senior art major, were awarded prizes at this year's Spring Salon, an art exhibition, held at the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown, Ohio.

Mr. Faddis received an award for the best painting by an artist not entered previously, and was awarded an honorable mention in oils for his painting, "Votive Symbols." Pitcher received a prize for his painting, "Trees in Spring," as the work most harmoniously framed.

Workshop To Broadcast Schubert, Prokofieff

Schubert's "Symphony No. 8" (Unfinished) and Prokofieff's "Classical Symphony" will be broadcast over WRW's "Symphony Hour" program to the Tub Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Once Upon A Vacation . . .

Students Eye Maps, Work-A-Day Life

By Bill Kegel

Anxiously awaiting the moment they can slam the last textbook shut and then try to fill another blue book, Westminsterites are getting set for another three months of sun and fun.

For many it will be back to the classroom for the summer session, with the late afternoon lecture held quite near the swimming pool in the park.

Probably the most extensive summer trip is scheduled by Professor Walter Biberich and his students going to Europe on a summer study tour. Helen Marie Bowater, Jo Cox, Nancy Henderson, Mary Lou Hubbard, Marge Irvin, Robert Losa, Jane Mawhinney, Molly Moyer, Emmy Lou Schultheis, Helen Sloss, and Martha Wedel plan to accompany him.

To quite a few the vacation means a chance to refill the overdrawn bank account. Al Sternberg is going to dig graves in a New Jersey cemetery, Al Nichols hopes to work in a post office, while Bob Rounce intends to sell shoes during the week and preach on Sundays.

Andy Paparozzi is going to beat the heat by working in an ice cream plant's packing room. Fred Casseli and Bob Braun pick lifeguarding as their summer job, as Isy Tidd and Dot Elder chose instructing in playgrounds.

Alex MacMorris and Al Hermann, an art student from Carnegie Tech, have the most ambitious trip outlined. They plan to hitchhike to California, then up the Alcan highway to Alaska, with the return trip by way of the outstretched thumb through Canada and the New England states.

Some of the other long trips are planned by Ida Falsetti, who is go-

Graduates Will Hear Fairless At Commencement Exercises

Dr. Will Orr To Deliver Baccalaureate Address; May Queen Crowning To Highlight Alumni Day

Approximately 290 men and women will receive degrees at exercises Monday, June 6, at 2 p.m. on the south terrace of Old Main. The ceremony will conclude the commencement weekend which will begin Saturday, June 4, Alumni day, and will continue Sunday with the presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," and the baccalaureate service.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel Corp., will deliver the commencement address. He will be awarded a doctor of law degree.

Receiving doctor of divinity degrees will be the Rev. Ferdimore E. Vogan, Mercer; the Rev. William Scott McMunn, Butler; the Rev. James H. Blackwood, Sunset Hills, Pittsburgh; and the Rev. Arthur E. French, Washington, Pa. All are Westminster alumni.

Dr. Will Orr Will Preach

The baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, June 5, at 7:45 p.m. in the chapel. Dr. Will Orr, college president, will deliver the sermon. At 3:30 p.m. the college choir will present the oratorio "Elijah" by Mendelssohn in the chapel. Soloists will be Alice Long, soprano; C. Eugene Kingsley, baritone, and Robert Bodycombe, tenor. Mr. Kingsley sang with the college choir this spring when it presented Bach's cantata, "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison." He is instructor of voice at Duquesne university and soloist of the Sixth Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

The Rev. James A. Blackwood, who will receive a doctor of divinity degree at the commencement exercises, will deliver the Christian Associations sermon in the United Presbyterian church at 11 a.m., Sunday, June 5.

Alumni day activities will begin at 10 a.m. with a faculty meeting in the Little Theatre. At the same time registration of alumni will be held in Old Main. At 12:30, the alumni luncheon will be served in the United Presbyterian church. An alumni business meeting will take place at 2 p.m.

Band Will Play

A concert by the college band will follow at 3 p.m. on the south terrace of Old Main. Donald O. Cameron, professor of music, will direct. Included on the program are "Semper Fidelis March," Sousa; "Jolly Robbers Overture," von Suppe; "On the Trail," Grofe; "Chinese Temple Garden," Cetelbey; "Peter and the Wolf," Prokofieff; "L'Arlesienne Suite," Bizet; "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," Lockhart-Seitz; selections

Speech Institute Will Begin June 10

Westminster's 1949 speech institute for high school students will begin June 10 and end June 25, according to Donald A. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, who will direct this summer's session.

Courses will be given in speech interpretation, radio, and theater. The session will be concluded June 25 with three one-act plays, acted by the students.

Aiding Mr. Barbe in the institute will be Helen Cushman, assistant professor of speech, and Paul Gamble, instructor in speech. Student aid will be given by Maryann Rehm, Lou Shirey, William Sample, and Phyllis Williams.

Journalism Honorary Elects Ruth President

Frank Ruth, junior journalism major, has been elected to preside over Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, for the coming year.

Chosen to serve with him are John Shepherd, vice president; Sally McCoy, secretary; Bill Kegel, corresponding secretary; and Louise Hendricks, treasurer.

New members taken into the fraternity since the beginning of the second semester are Sally McCoy, Louise Hendricks, John Shepherd, Bob Carey, Bill Kegel, Roger Hawk, Maryellen Cipolla, Glenn Hartman, Frank Ruth, and Art Shaffer.

Cloud, DeCaprio Win Drama Oscars

Dramatics Group Hears Variety Show At Dinner

Barbara Cloud and Eugene DeCaprio are the winners of this year's oscar for the best individual performance in dramatics. The announcement was made at the annual dinner of Masquers, dramatic honorary, at the Manse recently.

The winners were chosen by a committee composed of chairman John Forry, assistant professor of English; Mabel Kocher, head librarian; Elizabeth Nixon, associate professor of journalism, and Helen Sittig, dean of women. The awards were presented by Helen Sloss and Bruce Catt, last year's winners.

Catt Presents Gavel

Bruce Catt, president of the group, presented the gavel to Glenn Reed, president-elect, who introduced Melvin Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech. He then took over the role of toastmaster.

A variety program included Eugene DeCaprio who addressed future seniors with an impromptu speech on the senior reception; Jeanne Lewis who imitated a cat and dog fight; Bruce Catt who sang "Old Man River," accompanied by Edwin Good; Barbara Cloud and Norma Williams who sang an original duet entitled "Stagecraft," and Art Schreiber who presented an impromptu talk.

Maryann Rehm was chairman of the dinner arrangement committee.

Eighteen Receive Journalism Awards

Eighteen journalism students were awarded journalism award keys at the journalism luncheon held recently at the Tavern.

Seniors who received awards were Maryellen Cipolla, Margaret Lawrence, Margaret Morris, and Kay Roedema. Juniors were James Canan, Glenn Hartman, Frank Ruth, Arthur Shaffer, Norman Shirey, and Al Waugaman.

Sophomores honored were Frances Davenport, Sally McCoy, Jack Shepherd, and Alex Spisak. Freshman recipients were James Case, Al Krause, Larry Friday, and Paul Talley.

Jeanne Lewis entertained the group with a brief talk.

The College Year . . . ... In Retrospect

WITH THE END OF the school year in sight the opportunity comes to stop and look back for a moment at the accomplishments of the past nine months.

Of course, the arrival of President Will Orr takes the number one position in the events of the year. And the construction of the tennis courts, now in progress, is undoubtedly number two on the list.

But let's think of some less publicized happenings. Added precautions against fire have been installed recently. Specifically, a fire escape has been added to the Theta U house to supplement its two downstairs exits, and the number of fire extinguishers in some college buildings has been increased.

We have been promised that a proposal for a marriage preparation course will be prepared by a voluntary faculty committee for submission to the committee on curriculum revision, which is scheduled to meet next year.

All set to go into effect this summer is the student compulsory health insurance plan. This will provide protection for students on a year round basis, at a cost of $20 a year. Another medical aid recently instituted is the tuberculosis testing program.

Noticing the highlights of the year injects an optimistic note which should not be overlooked. As long as Westminster continues progressing, we have much to look forward to. Soon, perhaps, we'll see that new field house, a president's house, and the other constructions needed.

Parking Lots . . . ... 1952 Style

IT IS 1952. Crowds are bulging the streets of New Wilmington and the buildings of Westminster for the centennial celebration. Signs read "Westminster 1852-1952," and the band is playing in a mile long parade.

When the celebration is over, another parade begins. This is an informal one, its participants travelling in all directions. Some head towards Volant, some take the upper road to Newc, and others start a trek towards Sharon.

They are headed for the "roadside parking lots" on the roads leading from New Wilmington. These "lots" represent Westminster's only means of taking care of the throngs of autos present.

By the way, we had the same parking trouble at the president's inauguration back in the fall of 1949.

... What's A-head?...

Thar We Was Or...

This Is The Senior Story

By Kay Roedema

Have you ever met Mr. or Miss or even Mrs. Average Senior? If you haven't, don't miss the chance, because this is the time in their college careers when they are willing to tell all, or almost all, of what has happened.

Let's step over to this intelligent looking group. "Yup, thar we was, the largest freshman class (up to that time) in Westminster's history. Most of us had enlisted for a four-year period. The women were slightly more alma-matricotic at this point, as there were 230 of them to 90 men.

"Our first semester, after frosh hell week, was very quiet. The ratio will give you the reason. By the beginning of the second semester, more of us were coming back from one war ready to enter another. The women moved out of the fraternity houses; Browne hall's dining room was converted to a cafeteria; and double rooms housed three or even four persons.

"Prexy Galbreath conducted only one chapel service each day, but social activities increased. Stag lines at dances became masculinized. Some of us learned service expressions and songs around the piano in Browne hall lounge.

"Other activities became active again. Claire McClure was chosen ideal freshman; Jack Ardolino played a realistic Romeo in the Little Theatre production; and Pitch became the outstanding M.C. on campus. Sorority and frat rushing provided more fun, pride, and interest.

"As basketball spectators, we were really avid fans, even following the team to Pittsburgh and not making any complaints when the bus broke down and we got back at 4 a.m. Wayne Harpold dramatically saved one of our early games for us.

"Coming back after promotion to sophomore rank, we found a new commanding general, Dr. H. Lloyd Cleland. With more men returning, cheery "hi's" became more than a habit.

"Football, a war casualty, was revived and the Titans made the oddity column by having four ties, more than any other college team. Basketball games with Chet took up after football season.

"Meredith Brown was our Harvest queen that year, while the Gleeson brothers Astaired their way. Attempting to have our first big dance in December, we enjoyed even the planning and problems after we secured Duke Ellington.

"We worried about finding a major. The cut system was under fire, but Jake was one student who had no cut problems.

"Now we were of junior rank, but having missed our chance to torture the freshmen, we aided the sophomores with their fiendish plans. Our central office was now occupied by Dr. John Orr, but only temporarily.

"Hidge was crowned Homecoming queen by Johnny Long. The TUB was opened, and we no longer divided our time between the Grill and the Bakery.

"As John Kerensky rapped his gavel to try to restore order, Harold E. Stassen was nominated as Westminster's presidential candidate, and mock convention managers prepared to remove all posters and other signs of the battle.

"In September we returned as seniors. Another dance—Gene Krupa this time, seminars, theses, practice teaching, comprehensives, and all this plus welcoming our fourth leader Dr. Will Orr, on WOW day kept us on the alert. Now we're almost ready for finals and... Hey, where are you going?"

Let's just walk away and pretend we don't hear him. Why, he could go on like that all day.

"But, you haven't heard about the skirmish when we pushed Harry Manley's car up under the arches of Old Main. Yup, thar we was..."

Frisbee's Foibles

Speech Class Footwork

Although most orators rejoice in fluent use of pleasing voice, One problem faces all who speak, "What is the proper foot technique?"

Was Patrick Henry's freedom plea Accented by a side-arched knee? Did Dan'l Webster's words entrance Because of pyramidal stance? Did Romeo his love reveal While gently swaying toe to heel? Our customs say each may select The foot routine he feels correct; Yet he who would his words enhance Coordinates both voice and stance.

HOLCADABRA

Nostalgic Seniors Realize The Day Is Finally Here

by Sally

In black caps and gowns they await their turn; his name is read and Mr. Senior walks up to receive the piece of parchment tied with black ribbon that represents his toils and studies for the past four years. There are tears in the eyes of parents and friends, and a lump in the throat of the graduate as he thinks of the friends and memories he's leaving.

Not soon forgotten are the humorous things which make life more enjoyable... as Bob Clever climbs in the window of the Dean of Women's office to retrieve the chapel attendance sheets forgotten by Nancy Henderson and Nancy Lee Graham... and a journalistically inclined robin flies in the window to listen to Mr. Kegel's chalk talk at Journalism day... while "coach" Harry Abraham heckles third baseman Happy Eisenbeis and Janie White as the girls play softball... but Gerry Sybert says the black eye he's wearing is the result of a dive into Garrett's lake.

With more important things on their minds, footwear is forgotten... as June Sabolia leaves Fergie wearing two different shoes... and Tish Clark wears saddle shoes under her evening gown at the Glee club concert... while Bernie Kessler is teased about his new collegiate saddles... but her evening gown trips Audrey Stoehr as she bounces down the steps after being serenaded... yet Earl Dexter acquires a tan while modeling in gym trunks for the freshman art class.

We're in a dancing mood (don't know why)... but Brady Mitchell sings "Sweet Georgia Brown" and dances on the Jeffers' hall rug... as Chuck Jackson and Al Krause do a tap dance in the library reading room... and Bruce Catt "sings" Old Man River while Ed Good accompanies three rooms away... yet Herkimer Barbe, the cat in "I remember Mama", receives a mouse named Oscar for the outstanding animal performance of the year.

A caravaner's weekend is not all smooth riding... their hostess tried to please, but the bed collapses as Jean Garvin and Nancy Shane climb in, and they spend the night on the floor... but after teaching a girls' Sunday school class, Mark Landfried is asked by one of the 11 year olds for an autographed photograph... when Jamie Jameson's tadpole jumps out of the bowl she calls in all second floor Fergie girls to help catch the slippery animal... while Nan Gould tells about the advanced biology field trip that got lost... and everybody lines up to try Hillside's new inter-com system.

The last Holcad takes its place in the files and the typewriters are put away 'til next fall when we'll find new people and things to write about.

Titan Tattletale

FROM THE SPARKPLUG

Toastmaster Jean Lewis ended her brief journalistic career with the following remarks at the journalism honors dinner:

"For the seniors this afternoon, I have a bit of advice. I want you to make the best of all your opportunities from the training you've had at a good college like Westminster (plug). And I'm sure you've gotten the best journalistic training possible from Miss Nixon and Dr. Thomas (another plug)."

BALL FOUR!

At the softball games behind the Science hall, almost anything can happen, whether it be Ann Ashbaugh scooping them from second base or Barb Williams punching out home runs. When Jack Shepherd asked how a certain player got on first, Russ Sperry said, "She walked."

CAUGHT RED HANDED...

"Monster" Erdeky felt like cooling off some of his team mates after gym class on Thursday.

He picked up a footpan full of water and chased Ben Fluke, clad in a towel, out toward the football field.

In front of Mel Hetzler's office, "Monster" gave up the attempt to douse Ben with water, and threw it on bystander Bob Gavett.

Just as Bob picked up the pan, out walked Mel, pointing his finger accusingly at the innocent Gavett.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

You, will notice that no special mention was made in the Holcad sports news this week about the graduation of a certain track squad captain. That is because this space is being devoted to express, in the only words that we feel can be appropriate, our sincere thanks for bringing Westminster's track team to its first undefeated season . . . . . the first undefeated season in the history of the school.

Some people will remember Renny Jackson as the "Flyin' Parson," others as just plain Renny. In any event his track and cross country accomplishments in the past four years pose an enviable record. You can count on your fingers (excluding thumbs) the number of times Renny has been defeated while running for the Blue and White. This year he turned in four double wins in the distance events, out of six dual meets. The other two times he won once and placed second at each meet. Coach Burry proudly hails him as one of the hardest workers he has ever had the pleasure of coaching and training. Most distance runners in this district, that are still eligible for intercollegiate competition next year, will breathe a sigh of relief now that they no longer have to pursue Renny's flying feet. This is all we can say, Renny, but we know you are content to carry away with you the distinction of captaining Westminster's only undefeated track and field squad.

True . . . we must not forget two other graduating members of the trackmen. "Hank" Vitkovich, who has also carried a lot of weight on our football team in the past, is the big fellow who is pretty good at throwing things . . . such as the 16 pound shot, the discus (on occasion), and the javelin. In his three years with the track squad, Henry has managed to win quite a few points in the shot put and javelin events. He is one boy who has really been throwing his weight around on this campus.

Bob Fields is the third member of the graduating trio. Bob has given Coach Burry much satisfaction in his search for depth on his track squad. The secret of winning meets is to have a man in each event who is certain to take a second or third place, as well as a first place man. It is surprising how many points a team can rack up, just by possessing the depth necessary to get those extra points. Such a man is Bob Fields who has certainly contributed his share of points this year. And to you three we say so long, good luck, and keep right on winning.

Westminster's Track and Field Squad

Sig Ep Teams Win Interfraternity Cup

Sigma Phi Epsilon has been declared winner of the interfraternity softball cup, having registered more wins than any other fraternity.

Alpha Sigma Phi softballers will oppose the Sig Ep team in a three game series to decide the champion of the intramural softball league.

The Alpha Sigs were the winners in the White league, while the Sig Eps were the top team in the Blue loop.

With speedballer Chet Dembinski on the mound, the Sig Ep Blue leaguers won three games during the past week. Thursday, they defeated the YMCA, 6-2; on Tuesday they easily downed the Commuters, 12-4, and Wednesday they trounced the Sigma Nus, 20-2.

In other Blue league games played this week the Alpha Sigs defeated the Independents, 16-9, Monday afternoon. The Indies dropped their

Informal Nine Downs New Bedford Club, 12-5

Westminster's informal baseball team recorded its second victory of the season last Saturday afternoon, as they defeated the New Bedford nine, 12-5. Ken Aldrich hurled for the winners striking out twelve batters during the course of the game. Ivan Cooper, the local's third baseman, severely injured his ankle when he slid into home plate.

A game with the New Wilmington team Thursday night was called in the second inning because of rain. At the end of play the New Wilmington team was leading.

second game in as many days as they lost to the YMCA, 8-4, Tuesday afternoon.

The Alpha Sigs strengthened their hold on first place in the White league as they defeated the Sig Eps, 4-1, last Thursday. Ed Halas not only pitched for the winners, but he also contributed three hits to his team's offense. Kenny Stewart hurled for the losers.

Divoteers Avenge Loss To Mounties

Sweet revenge was the theme for the Titan golfers Wednesday afternoon as they defeated the West Virginia university golf squad on the New Castle Field club course, 12½ to 5½, to make up for an earlier loss to the Mounties on their home links.

Fred Broad of the Titans and Coulson of the Mounties shared medalist honors for the day with scores of 76. Burke, Lucas, and Thompson were runners-up with 78 each.

Last Friday the Titans won a tough one from Grove City on the Crimson's home course, 11-7. Aiton of the Grovers won medalist honors with a card of 68. The win was the second one over the Wolverines this season and makes up for the loss which the Titans suffered at the hands of the Crimson last year.

Defeat Geneva

The Titans took their second win of the current campaign from the Geneva Covenanters last Monday on the New Castle Field club course, 14½ to 3½. Captain Bill Burke tied with Wilson of the Covies for the day's medalist honors with a card of 77.

Thus far the Blue and White golfers have won nine, lost one, and tied one. They travel to Allegheny this afternoon to play in the annual Allegheny tournament, in which they tied with Grove City last year. A match scheduled with Erie Gannon for next Monday will end the 1949 season.

Home run applause to Sig Ep's who have again won the interfraternity softball cup. Congrats also to Chest-er whose pitching will be missed from intramural action.

Trackmen Win Six For First Perfect Slate In 97 Years

Locals Defeat Tech, 78-53; Kirsopp Stars In Middle-Distances

Westminster's 1949 track squad is unique among all past Titan thinclads.

With the winning of their sixth dual meet last Tuesday against Carnegie Tech, 78-53, the Titan cindermen became the first undefeated track squad in the 97 year history of Westminster college. The Titans will carry their undefeated record over to Slippery Rock tomorrow afternoon to compete in the tri-state meet which Grove City won last year. The first time trials will begin at 1:15 p.m., and the final laps of the day are tentatively set for 2 p.m.

Kirsopp Stars

Don Kirsopp, freshman middle-distance star, stole the spotlight last Tuesday afternoon when the Titans tripped the Tartans. He gave the spectators a thrill by running the 880-yard distance in two minutes, one and eight-tenths seconds to take first place over Dorman of the Tartans. Dorman is one of the district's top performers.

Art Jones and Ernie Cassler of Tech resumed a sprinting duel which was started last spring, and again Art won by a stride to turn in a time of :10.2. Cassler came back in the 220-yard dash to hand Art his first loss of the season in a dash event with a time of :22.4.

Running Events Captured

Johnny Wilson's first place in the 440-yard event, Renny Jackson's victory in the two-mile run, and Bill Shipstedt's victory in the 220-yard high hurdles gave the Burrymen a commanding lead in the running events.

To make the win decisive, Al McCullough took first place in the discus throw, Henry Vitkovich took the shot put honors, and Akey Copetas won the javelin throw. Vitkovich and Brick Stevens took second and third place respectively in the javelin throw.

Defeat Prexies

Once again paced by Art Jones, Renny Jackson, and Bill Shipstedt, the Titans outran the W. & J. Presidents last Saturday afternoon, 80-51. Jackson turned in a double victory in the mile and two-mile runs, and Shipstedt collected nine points in the hurdle events. Jones sprinted to a first place in the 220-yard dash, but was tied in the 100 as "Deacon" Dan Towler paced him step for step in the dead heat.

Clean Sweep

Three freshmen gave the Burrymen a clean sweep in the 880-yard run. Matt Bruce, Don Kirsopp, and Al Williams finished one, two, three, respectively.

Art Jones ran anchor man on the Titan relay team which evened up an old score by winning that event. Last year the Prexie relay combo won that event which gave them a last-minute victory over the Blue and White.

Paul Undefeated

Rich Paul, Don McCullough, Tom Replogle, and Aky Aburano won first places in the field events. Paul remained undefeated in intercollegiate competition with a high jump of six feet, two inches.

Aky tied for first place in the pole vault with 10½ feet. Replogle took broad jump honors and McCullough's discus throw of 126 feet, 10 inches, was unequalled.

ry Abraham are going to take a sailor's holiday and play basketball during their summer afternoons.

Bob Orser is going to work as a surgical orderly in a Jamestown hospital and Bob Hinman will serve as a male nurse in the Western Psychiatric hospital. Bob McEwan will be an elevator operator in a meat packing plant as Wally Lash sells Sears Roebuck products.

Don Boak, Russ Morgan, Alex Spisak, and Al Williams will work in steel plants while Bill Anderson, Jim Fudge, Ed Halas, and Mike Slater work on railroads. Road construction jobs will take Bob Rothery and Bob Lyon's summer time.

Thus when Westminsterites ask next fall, "What did you do this summer," there will be tall tales to tell.

Library Will Show Gift From France

"Merci Album," an expression of gratitude by the French people, will arrive at Westminster Saturday, May 28, for a scheduled exhibition. The Album will be put on display in the exhibition room of the library as soon as it arrives. It will be shown for a limited time only.

The Album is a gift to the State of Pennsylvania and is similar to the albums received by the other 47 states. Gov. James H. Duff received the Album for Pennsylvania at ceremonies held at Harrisburg, May 13.

The "Merci Album" committee, authorized by Gov. Duff to exhibit the Album throughout the state, includes Dr. Ella McRae Stagg, head of the modern language department at Westminster who is helping to schedule the exhibitions in Western Pennsylvania. Mrs. Virginia Dodd Cooper, professor of French at Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., has charge of the entire state exhibition program.

Al Williams Will Head World Relations Group

Al Williams, freshman history major, will head the International Relations club next year.

Also elected recently were Mildred Henderson, vice president, and Alice Aiken, secretary-treasurer. Mildred will also act as delegate to the International Honorary Fraternity council.

Workshop Schedules Variety, Musical Shows

Early evening broadcasts by faculty members and students will comprise WRW's summer radio schedule. Donald L. Barbe, acting chairman of the speech department, announced today.

Variety shows and musical selections are planned for many of the broadcasts. Helen Cushman, associate professor of speech, will direct the series which is scheduled for the first summer session and possibly for the second.

President Authorizes Psychology Honorary

Iota Delta has been authorized by Dr. Will Orr, college president, as a local psychology honorary.

The group, formerly known as the Psychology club, completed its last event recently at a picnic.

Initiation of new members will be held next fall. Claude Eckman, assistant professor of psychology, will continue as advisor to the group.

Cummings Accepts Post On University Faculty

Elizabeth Cummings, senior English major, has accepted an assistant instructorship at the University of Pennsylvania for next year.

She will teach two sections of freshman English and work for her master's degree in English. The award is $1,000 and tuition.

Committee Starts Inaugural Plans

Plans for the inauguration of President Will Orr, scheduled for October 14, were initiated this week with the first meeting of a committee of faculty, students, board, and community. Dr. Wayne Christy, acting head of the Bible department, is chairman of the group.

With President Orr, the committee includes Dr. Mary Purdy, Dr. John Orr, Dr. J. W. Creighton, Dr. Gilbert Taylor, and Dr. James Swindler, who represent the faculty. Students are represented by Duff Brown, president-elect of Student Council, and Glenn Hartman, editor of the Holcad.

Board members on the committee are Norman Igo, Thomas V. Mansell, and James A. McLaughry. The community of New Wilmington is represented by Mr. Filmore Campbell; and John B. Lewis, president of the Alumni association, will represent the alumni.

Helen Papazickos, junior commercial education major from New Castle, will be crowned May Queen at 4:30 p.m. She will be escorted by her court including Phyllis Williams, Charmaine Hazen, Alyce Ann Eppley, Marge Powell, Carolyn Holub, and Janet Cuthbert. At this time the May pole will be wound.

Class reunion dinners will be served at 6 p.m., and at 8:30 p.m. an alumni reunion party will be held in the gym.

The Board of Trustees will meet at 10 a.m., Monday, June 6, in the library. The faculty will meet in the Little Theatre at 9:30 a.m. the same day.

Preparation Begins For Annual Dance

Arrangements for next fall's "Dance of the Year," already in the beginning stages, will be carried on through the summer under the direction of Bob Carbeau and Phyllis Brasher. Bud Miller will take over in the fall as general chairman of the affair.

Student Council, sponsor of the dance, announces that investments of $100-$200 at six per cent interest are now being received from students or any others interested. Money may be turned over to Jack Fowble, manager of the college bookstore.

This method of raising the $2,200 dance budget has been used every year since the "Dance of the Year" was inaugurated three years ago. Only $1,300 needs to be raised this year as a result of a $900 balance from the previous dances.

Faculty Gains Five Members; Collins Heads News Bureau

Athletic Department Adds Three Coaches; Gamble Assumes Alumni Secretary Duties

Changes in this year's faculty include five new members, one returnee from a leave of absence, and one leave of absence.

Mr. George C. Collins of Greensboro, N.C., has taken over duties as head of the journalism department, succeeding Dr. William Thomas, who has accepted a position at Baylor university, Waco, Texas.

Mr. Collins holds a B.A. degree from Trinity university and a master's degree from Northwestern university. He was formerly on the faculty of Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., and has been engaged in industrial journalism and free-lance writing.

Mr. Collins will also take over the publicity work of the college as director of the news bureau.

Reith Replaces Gamble

Harry Reith of station WKST, New Castle, has replaced Paul Gamble as instructor of speech and radio. Mr. Reith is a graduate of Geneva college and the Pasadena Institute of Radio. Mr. Gamble is now executive secretary of alumni.

Three assistants have been added to the physical education department. They are Charles "Buzz" Ridl of Edgeworth, Robert Hope of Sewickley, and Ted Ossoff of Oil City.

Mr. Ridl is in charge of intramural athletics and is assisting in coaching football, basketball, swimming, and track. Before being graduated from Westminster in 1942 he played football and basketball here. He is also teaching in the business department, and studying physical education at Slippery Rock college.

Mr. Hope and Mr. Ossoff, who are enrolled for further education courses, are assisting in coaching the football team. Mr. Hope played football here in 1942 before entering the Army. He was graduated in 1947, playing on the 1946 football team. Mr. Ossoff played football and basketball for the Titans before being graduated in 1943.

Evans Returns From Studies

James W. Evans, associate professor of organ and composition, has returned from a year's work on his Doctor of Sacred Music degree at Union Theological seminary. Frank R. Bohnhorst, who replaced Mr. Evans during his leave of absence, has accepted a position at Hanover college.

Replacing Miss Amy Charles in the English department is Robert A. McGill of Drexel Hill. He is a Phi Beta Kappa, graduate of Dickinson college, and holds an M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Charles is on leave of absence.

Frosh Roll Shows Men Ahead By One

Continuing a trend that is gradually evening the number of men and women students at Westminster, the freshman class this year has arrived at a virtual saturation point. Men number 159 and the women follow with 158. This makes a total of 317 freshmen.

Claiming the most uneven representation between the sexes is the senior class which shows 226 men to 69 women. Total membership is 295. The junior class, with 188 enrolled, stands 109-79 for the men.

Registration figures for the sophomores reveals a male lead of 151-112 in a class of 263. Over all, men lead by a margin of 690-449. Total registration is 1139. Although the number of veterans has reduced each year, 320 remain, with over half of that number registered in the senior class. Against the 155 senior vets are 56 juniors, 52 sophomores, and 32 freshmen. One vet is a special student, and 24 are graduates.

Here It Comes . . .

Days of reckoning are drawing near for individuals known affectionately as "freshmen."

Hell Week will begin Wednesday, October 19, and continue Thursday and Friday October 20 and 21, it was announced by student council co-chairmen Phyl Brasher and Chuck Gerrish today.

Tribunal will be held Friday evening, October 21 in the gym.

Dean Of Men

DR. WAYNE H. CHRISTY

Christy Assumes Dean Of Men Post

'38 Grad, Letterman Welcomes New Duties

By Jim Case

Meet the man who has one of the toughest jobs at Westminster but is glad to have it.

Dr. Wayne H. Christy has been associated with the school for eight years as an instructor in the Bible department, head of this department, and now Dean of Men.

Doc, as he likes to be called, graduated from Westminster in the class of '38. He attended Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, Duke university and the University of Pittsburgh.

While attending Westminster he won a letter in football, playing end for Grover Washabaugh, played baseball, was a member of Block W, a member of the band, vice president of YMCA, and member of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity.

There has been a long-standing rumor that Doc turned down a major league baseball contract to go to seminary. He is flattered by this, but confesses that it is not true. He has played in organized baseball for a number of years with leagues in Pittsburgh, for the American Legion and for the New Wilmington team.

Christian Groups Hold Seneca Hills Retreat

Seneca hills is the site of the fall retreat starting today sponsored by the five Christian groups at Westminster. Approximately 100 students and faculty members are attending.

Dr. Will Orr will address the group Saturday morning on "Campus problems". Dr. Richard W. Graves, editor of the Christian Union Herald, will speak Friday evening and Saturday morning.

The Rev. William F. Pinkerton, head of the Bible department at Sterling college, will lead the Communion service Sunday morning. Dean Sittig will lead the Sunday school lesson.

The Rev. Joseph Hopkins is faculty advisor, and Bob Ranck is general chairman of the retreat.

Dr. Will Orr Will Report On College Conditions

President Will Orr will report on the state of the college before the synod of New York, one of the three controlling synods, October 5. The meeting will be held in South Ryegate, Vermont.

Orr Inauguration Program Set Homecoming Plans Completed

Dance Highlights Elliot Lawrence

Titans To Meet Gators In Homecoming Battle

Westminster's Autumn Week-end with its presidential inauguration, returning alumni, the dance of the year, organization displays, homecoming queen, Allegheny football game, and carnival will begin Friday, October 14.

Friday evening, the orchestra of Elliot Lawrence will greet Westminster dancers at 9 o'clock. The Homecoming Queen elected by the student body will receive her crown during the intermission.

Dormitory, sorority, and fraternity house decorations in their final forms will be judged on the basis of effort, originality, and color by an alumni committee Saturday morning. An alumni dinner is scheduled for noon in the United Presbyterian church.

Bands Will Parade

The Allegheny-Westminster game kickoff will be at 2:30 p.m. At half-time, spectators will witness a parade of the rival college bands and a float built by interfraternity council. Also, the representatives of the houses or dormitories judged to have the best

New System Gives One Cut An Hour

One cut will be permitted for each hour of instruction being carried by the student, and three tardinesses are equal to one absence, according to a recent statement of cut system changes issued by Dr. John Orr, acting dean of the college.

This is a change from last year's system in which one and one-half cuts per credit hour were permitted.

Absences which occur within 24 hours either before or immediately following a vacation shall be counted double cuts. If a student has more absences than his total number of credit hours, he will be penalized two-fifths of a credit for each excessive absence.

Students are required to attend chapel four days a week. Fourteen cuts will be allowed. Each excessive absence will be penalized by the loss of one-fifth credit.

Desire For Small College Brings Most Freshmen To Westminster

By Paul Talley

Desire for a small college education brought nearly a quarter of the freshman class to Westminster, a recent survey indicated. Holcad reporters asked 150 of the 286 freshmen, "What influenced you most in choosing Westminster college?" "We refused to be 'just a number in a big university,'" answered 22 per cent of those questioned.

Twenty-one per cent chose Westminster because of its church affiliation. Those who came because the college was near home added up to 6.6 per cent while six per cent had friends who attended Westminster. Family tradition brought 5.3 per cent, and one girl decided she liked the name. Two freshmen admitted that they had been turned down by other schools, one girl followed her boy friend, and one arrived with the sole purpose of getting a husband.

Each of the following reasons accounted for five per cent of the new-

Business Manager Sets Final Argo Distribution

Final distribution of the 1950 Argo's will be on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4 and 5, according to Frank Ruth, business manager of the Argo. All students who have not received their copy of the '50 Argo are asked to get them either Tuesday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. or Wednesday from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. in the library basement.

Cloud Heads Cast In 'Mama' Repeat

Dramatists Will Stage Original 'Black Arrow'

A repeat performance of "I Remember Mama" on the nights of October 10, 11, 12, and 13, and an original, premier production of Robert L. Stevenson's "Black Arrow" in the form of a musical comedy on November 10, 11, and 12 will afford Westminster's first view of her dramatists for the year.

"Mama" will be played again by Barbara Cloud, junior speech major, who will be supported by a single cast. Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, announces that the first three performances will be for students, with activities books serving as tickets. The final evening has been set aside for anyone who wishes to see the play.

"Black Arrow" will be seen for the first time anywhere as a musical comedy. Excepting the story itself, each phase of the production is original with Westminster. The cast will be announced after the tryouts for spoken parts on Monday, October 3. Barbe also announces that the ability to act and sing is necessary to obtain a leading role. He emphasizes that there are many openings in the cast for men.

Target Will Sell Plates With Main Tower Motif

During Homecoming weekend Target will sponsor the sale of dinner plates featuring a picture of Old Main Memorial Tower. The plates will cost $1.50.

Six Will Receive Honorary Degrees

Florida U. President Will Deliver Address

Inauguration of Dr. Will W. Orr as president of the college will take place Friday, October 14, at 10:30 a.m. in Wallace Memorial chapel. Also at the inauguration six honorary degrees will be awarded.

A doctor of humanities degree will be awarded Henry A. Roemer, president of the Sharon Steel Corporation. Judge William H. McNaughton of Pittsburgh will receive a doctor of laws degree, and the Rev. John Orr of the college Bible department will receive a doctor of pedagogy degree. Receiving doctor of divinity degrees will be the Rev. Samuel Coleman, Binghamton, N.Y., the Rev. J. Y. Jackson, Unity, Pa., and the Rev. Herman H. King, Buffalo, N.Y.

The Rev. James M. Ferguson, D.D., president of the board of trustees will preside at the inaugural ceremonies, and will officiate in the investiture of the president. Following Dr. Will Orr will deliver an inaugural address.

Schedule Procession

Preceding the ceremonies, official delegates, including representatives from colleges, universities and learned societies across the nation, and other out-of-town guests, including ministers from the three synods which support Westminster, will register at nine o'clock in Old Main.

At ten o'clock the academic procession, numbering approximately 300 and consisting of academic guests, the faculty, members of the board of trustees, and those taking part in the inauguration ceremony, will leave McGill Memorial library and

Editor Announces Dates For Pictures

Pictures for next year's Argo will be taken from October 31 to November 11 by a representative of Merin studios, Philadelphia, editor Sally McCoy announces.

Cards will be posted in the entrance to Old Main, October 17 and 18, on which those who wish to have pictures taken are to sign their names.

The editor announces the appointments of John Ellison as photographer and Bill Kegel as assistant photographer.

However, the positions of advertising manager, business manager, and some places on the business staff have not yet been filled. Present juniors who are interested should submit a written application of their qualifications to either Miss Nixon in the journalism department or the editor before Monday.

MacArthur Work Cited In Playwriting Contest

One of the finalists in the playwriting contest sponsored by the Valparaiso University Players is David MacArthur, instructor in speech and dramatics, for his one act play, "Money Isn't Everything."

The contest results were announced September 30. More than 200 plays from young writers throughout the nation were considered in the judging.

Fraternization

WITH WESTMINSTER'S 690 men, it is hard to believe that only three Greek letter fraternities and one independent men's organization exist on campus.

Even at the rate of more than 100 men to one fraternity, which is excessive, six organizations would hardly be enough. The freshman class containing 159 men, along with the prospect of comparable future classes, isn't going to help the proportion.

A statement by Dr. Wayne Christy, new dean of men, appearing on page one indicates that he would not discourage an increase in the number of fraternities. All the idea seems to need, therefore, is a few men to push it.

Fraternal affiliation can be a very important and rewarding part of a college man's life. More men should be encouraged to join; therefore more fraternities should be available.

An Era Begins

WE'RE BACK AGAIN—this time with a new president, and correspondingly with a brand new outlook for the year ahead.

We're beginning what the "Holcad" believes to be not only a new school year, but also a new era in Westminster history. Under new leadership we hope to push ahead to a new unity and a new height of progress. The time is right; the leader is right. The prospects look good.

Decline and Fall

FOR SEVERAL YEARS the feminine population at Westminster has enjoyed a huge, though steadily declining advantage over the hapless male sex.

Outnumbered by ratios which sometimes ran as high as two to one, the women have flaunted superiority—enjoying the competition for dates among the floundering but far from disinterested males.

But this year it's different. Registration figures for the freshman class (story, page one), shows that this trend is as near ended as the term "acting president."

Indeed, another couple of years in the same direction can cause a school-wide reverse of the present status. Ah, well, it must have been fun while it lasted.

Letters

WE INVITE AGAIN, as in other years, "letters to the editor." Editorial page space on the "Holcad" is always open to student opinion other than our own.

Please make your letters brief, not more than 200 words. Hand them to a staff member or place them in the wire basket in the "Holcad" office before 7:30 Wednesday evening. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request.

Only 109 Days 'Till Finals

By Larry Friday

No doubt the welcoming of old friends and acquaintances is all over now that school has started and the preliminaries are finished.

The memories of the greetings received and given, however, are probably still hanging around in some dark corner of our minds or on our bodies in the form of third degree burns and scars received from the official "welcomers" who begin to haunt the campus about the first week in September.

There are definitely different types of these "welcome back Charlies," who were here to greet their buddies when they returned after a restful summer at home.

The first type of well-wisher is the husky back-slapper who sneaks up in a crouch and goes into a flying one-and-a-half before throwing a half-nelson around the upper portion of a neck, while grasping the hand of his victim in a hammer-lock. The following five minutes are spent in a conga-like struggle for survival of the fittest. It takes at least five minutes for "Tarzan" to realize that he has assaulted the wrong person. While he is apologetically wringing the hand of the mistaken identity, who by this time is broken both in body and school spirit, he begins anew to go into his crouch to leap on his original prey. His friend by this time is cringing against the nearest wall muttering that his clothes and belongings should be sent to the next of kin who lives in Scranton.

To move to the opposite extreme we must mention the coeds who were formerly known as the fairer sex. The greeting they offer to their rushing mates of old is something not yet described by Britannica or Webster. There is a sudden scream, a fond silence and then a panic stricken dash into each other's arms. The minut is immediately started and the partners square-off again and advance more slowly this time. The oldest of the old friends call signals above the screeches, and an in-and-out-the-window game is formed.

Finally, after the more unfortunate friends have had artificial respiration or been given a sedative, the "Janes" (Tarzan's mate), move on to bestow their personalities on other unsuspecting returnees.

There is also the stutterer who can't remember names or faces. This type mumbles something about a nice summer or how have you been and hurries on trying to remember if that was John or Tyrone. Also we have the Smiling-Jack who calls everyone "Ace" or "Buddy" or "Dear" or "Beautiful" if the object of his greeting is wearing blue-jeans and nylon sweater.

To mention a few others briefly, there are the hand-pumper, the hat tipper, the silent nights, and the chin raiser, who bends back into an angular position and appears to be scrutinizing the sky for possible signs of rain, but is in fact honoring someone with a hearty "hyah-kid." Needless to say, something should be done about some or all of these types of greetings. There should either be a uniform salutation installed or at least some kind of control inaugurated.

In pre-war days, everything was calmer and more orderly. For example, the case of the Pilgrims versus Plymouth Rock. The wheel of the Pilgrims didn't rush out of his launch and maul the Indians who were on their way to scout the Pirates' winter quarters. He stepped very quietly to the nearest Indian, whose name was Boudreau, and tapping him on the shoulder with the "Mayflower Compact," asked him where the nearest motel was situated. We could all take a lesson from this unhurried and mannerly approach.

Still further back in history, even

Faculty Reception

At home, folks always called me "Brown."

But shucks, it's plain to see A common name like Brown Won't suit Westminster's faculty. For, "Glad to meet you Mr. Bown." "Delighted Mr. Broom." "A pleasure Mr. Bruno." "An intriguing name, Balloon." "We hope you'll like it, Mr. Brawn." "From New York, Mr. Brine?" And "Howdy, Mr. Buxom." Were the greetings down the line. Since I'm green here my face turned red;

I certainly was blue, For my beloved name of Brown Would surely never do. However, if the faculty Desire to change my name, 'Twould help a lot if they'd agree To all call me the same.

The Real McCoy

Ry Sally McCoy

INQUIRING REPORTER

At Hickory high school where some of the seniors are practice teaching, the high school kids like to interview their new teachers. One young reporter asked Bill Dumbaugh if he were engaged. When Bill said yes, he was engaged to Peggy Morris, the reporter asked if she was the same Miss Morris who had taught them last year. "We just l-o-v-e-d Miss Morris," the reporter added. "I just l-o-v-e Miss Morris, too," Bill confided.

WHITHER BOUND?

Three-ring notebook paper has a distinctive flavor for Phil Coombs, who eats it when he gets hungry during a class. "I don't get enough to eat," was his reply when questioned about this strange habit. . . . Larry Friday won't admit this, but he didn't know how to fill out the blank check his father gave him for books. After stalling for a few minutes Larry let Mr. Fowble fill in the correct words and figures. . . . Then there's the fellow with a bad cold who wanted some pills from the infirmary. He was afraid the nurse would put him to bed if he went himself, so he sent his roommate. The roommate returned with the pills, but he had been forced to take two of them in the presence of the nurse.

DORM DOINGS

Steve Ligette's snoring in Barracks 2-B annoyed Mac McCullough so much that at 3 a.m. Mac took his mattress over to 2-C and slept on the floor the rest of the night. . . . After massaging his head for 15 minutes, Percy Hall told residents of the Barracks, "The only way to avoid falling hair is to get out from under it." . . . Norma Roessler, Hillside freshman, became so absorbed in wrestling with a stiff shower faucet yesterday morning that she started to take a shower while wearing her pajamas.

ANIMAL INVASION

Dick Wakefield received a Tarantula spider in the mail this week, but the poisonous specimen didn't live long. Dick's going to have it mounted in a paper weight. . . . A live frog seemed to be jumping around the Grill last Friday. More than one group of girls screamed before it was discovered to be a life-like composition frog belonging to Don Wiley. . . . Some summer visitors are still on campus. The AG's are trying to get rid of a nest of wasps, and at the TU house they're fumigating for bedbugs.

UNDER THE TOWER

Dr. Creighton admitted to his American history class, the first day, that he is a Democrat, as is the writer of the text book used in the course. Next day, as the rest of the class replied, "Here," as their names were called, Joe Sabino answered the roll with, "Democrat." . . . And Mr. Sloan caught June Raymond trying to sit with the J's as his class took seats in alphabetical order. . . . A bright answer came from Earl Gibson when Mr. Eckman asked his eight o'clock Psych class why it isn't good, psychologically, to call people black and white in stories. Earl's reply—"Because they're color-blind." . . . Dr. Taylor told one class that early man came down out of the trees because the limbs would no longer hold him. . . . And Mr. Calvert won the nipple contest at the faculty picnic last Thursday, putting nipples on coke bottles.

SUMMER REFLECTIONS

Six Westminsterites, Jim Neal, Swede Tornell, Barry Lash, John Hammerstorm, Wally Erb, and Ralph Foster spent the summer working as forest rangers in Idaho. . . . Bobbie Cloud played several roles in the Jennerstown Mountain Play House. . . . Jim Case worked for The Valley Daily News during the summer. . . . Mina Belle Packer played the organ for the Canterbury choir which broadcast over KDKA. . . . Keith McGinnis sings on a 15 minute radio show over a Butler radio station each Sunday evening. . . . Dr. Creighton complained about the high price of a drink of water from the Florida fountain of youth. He asked his classes if they have noticed how peppy he's been feeling lately.

Editor's Cuff

By Glenn Hartman

A "letter to the editor" from Tom Petrecca, class of '50, earlier this week suggested that the senior balcony be returned to the seniors during daily chapel. Almost before the letter was cold, we found out that Student Council had passed a similar suggestion to Dr. Wayne Christy, new dean of men, who acted immediately. By Wednesday morning the change was ready to be made, and an announcement was made in morning chapel. Too fast for us.

It looks as though we're destined (this includes seniors) to learn our alma mater or lose some vocal chords in the attempt. President Orr says it's downright "embarrassing."

Argo Editor Roger Hawk and his staff deserve a pat on the back for a top notch publication. Incidentally, the Argos were ready last spring as he had promised, but when last minute efforts for transporting them from a Cleveland printing company failed, students had to leave for home without them.

First, a word of welcome. Welcome back to the upperclassmen. Welcome back also to the three new assistants in the athletic department . . . who have been here before. And last but not least, welcome to the freshmen, who we hope will enjoy a successful year at Westminster in sports, et al. It is great to be back.

We hope you have all noticed those very fine new tennis courts of ours. It was a tough fight, Mom, but we won. And we give another vote of thanks to Mr. Ross Ellis who endured the storm stoically and helped immensely to create those same courts.

The sports editor arrived on campus this fall in low spirits, having found himself already out on his limb. After all these many years of progress since early prehistoric man it seems that most sports editors have not done much to change the monotony . . . living in trees, that is. Last spring I predicted that the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cleveland Indians would face each other in the 1949 World Series. How wrong can one person be??? Oh, well, in my estimation Ralph Kiner more than makes up for anything the Pirates could have done . . . but didn't!

A familiar scene down on the practice field is coach Harold Burry, with one eye on soccer practice, giving his cross country boys a word of encouragement as they run their laps. Coach Burry, our jack-of-all-trades in Westminster's athletics, now has soccer and cross country to think about and will soon launch his 1949-50 swimming season. He is aiming for another mythical district championship in soccer.

With Bucky Ambill and Vic Bianchi on the injured list, the Titans will not have the advantage they had last year when they met the Indians from Juniata. An added disadvantage of playing on a foreign field should give the Blue and White the short end of the odds. However, since you can only be hung once (once a week, that is) I'll stick with the Titans over Juniata tomorrow.

Due to the unusual amount of sports news to be covered in the first issue, intramural football rules and the remainder of the schedule will be published next week.

Here's hoping we shall enjoy a banner year in sports at Westminster. And with the addition of coaches in the athletic department we can expect a better brand of football, basketball and we may even look forward to a baseball squad next Spring.

The Westminster Holcad

PAGE THREE

Intramural football rules and schedule can be checked through Buzz Ridl at the gymnasium office. The complete schedule and standings of the league will soon be published..

TITAN STARTERS: 1949 VERSION

Titan Booters Open Against Edinboro

Coach Harold E. Burry's 1949 edition of the soccer team will take the field against Edinboro State Teachers college Tuesday afternoon on the latter's field.

Quantity is the keyword of this year's squad. More than 30 men are drilling every day in preparation for the lidlifter. Six positions were vacated through last year's graduation and the only newcomer assured of a starting birth on opening is Ed Urban, a freshman from Philadelphia.

Shaffer Named Captain

Art Shaffer, senior veteran, has been appointed captain replacing Akio Aburano who transferred to the University of Michigan.

The Blue and White booters will be out to better last season's mark of four wins, one loss, and two ties.

Those slated to see action in the coming games are, forwards: Tom Byler, Bob Cullison, Ellis Daugherty, Jim Elder, Paul Fenwick, John Hughes, Ed Urban, Sherwood Wolfson, Eugene Erdeky, Sam Sloan, and Alex Spisak.

Washabaugh Slates Basketball Meeting

Grover C. Washabaugh, director of athletics and head basketball coach, has announced that there will be a meeting of all old and new candidates for the basketball team next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Sig Eps Take Lead As Intramurals Begin

Intramural football got off to a fast start this week with three games being played in A and B league competition.

Sigma Phi Epsilon started the season on the right foot by beating the Sigma Nus, 12-0, in an A league game played Monday. Highlights in the Sig Ep attack were the running of speedy Warren Smith, and the blocking of Ralph Orr.

Sigma Nu B Wins

Tuesday, the Sigma Nus B team downed College hall, 33-0. Dick Kronk and Norm Shirey led the victors to their one sided victory. The Sig Eps won their second game of the week when they defeated the Alpha Sigs in a B league game Wednesday. Harvey Connors scored both winning touchdowns on passes from Bill Dahlgren and Johnny Wilson.

Yesterday, the Alpha Sigs trounced YMCA, 33-0, in an A league contest. Sharp running and passing by Ed Drylie, Don Book, and Al Sternberg were outstanding in the victory attack.

Westminster Loses Opener To Rockets

Outstanding running, passing, and kicking by halfback Bob Phillips behind a hard blocking line proved too much for Mel Hetzler's Westminster Titans as Slippery Rock rolled to an easy 21-0 victory on the Titan gridiron Saturday.

The Titans threatened early in the game, driving from mid-field to the Rocket's 11 yard line but here a pass from Champ Barthelson was intercepted by Phillips and the Titan drive stopped.

Rockets Score Twice

Slippery Rock drew first blood in the second quarter on a ten yard pass from Phillips to Lyle Fox in the end zone. Harry Bassett kicked the point and the Rockets led 7-0.

Another interception by Phillips set up the second score for the Green and White. Three plays took the ball 35 yards, and a 13 yard pass from Bill Barron to Charles McCullough netted a TD. Bassett was again good for the point.

See-Saw Battle

The third period was a see-saw battle with Westminster showing strength, but in the final period a 30 yard drive was climaxed by a four yard plunge by Dick Murray for the third score. Bassett made it a perfect day by splitting the posts for the final point of the game.

Wharton, Verone Star

Veteran Dick Wharton and freshman back, Larry Verone, sparked the Titan offense but neither could break away for a score. Champ Barthel-

Titan Gridders Seek First Win In Juniata Tilt

Injury Benches Ambill; Verone Likely Starter At Halfback Position

Westminster's once-defeated football Titans will attempt to win their first game of the season when they meet the Juniata Indians at Huntingdon, Pa., tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Mel Hetzler's gridders will be meeting virtually the same team they easily defeated, 20-0, here last year. In games played since the two teams first met in 1930, the Titans have won three, lost three, and tied one.

Tomorrow's game will be a battle of systems, for Juniata coach Bill Smaltz, a Penn State product, employs a single wing offense in contrast to the T formation style of play used by Coach Hetzler.

Ambill Hurt

The same offensive and defensive teams which played the Slippery Rock game last week will see action tomorrow. Offensive guard "Bucky" Ambill suffered a rib injury in last Saturday's game, and will probably not see action against Juniata. Freshman Larry Verone may replace Dick Sylvester at offensive right halfback, and quarterback "Champ" Barthelson may be moved to the safety spot on defense, with Gaylord Lutz or freshman Dick Banick assuming the signal caller's role.

Harriers Seek Revenge With Case In Opener

Coach Harold Burry's cross country harriers have been practicing since September 15 in preparation for their first meet with Case university of Cleveland.

Last year the Case runners defeated the Titans on the local course, but a year's experience should give the Blue and White a better chance of evening the score in Cleveland on October 8.

The rest of the schedule is as follows:

|                       |         |
|-----------------------|---------|
| Oct. 15—Pitt & Geneva | At Pitt |
| Oct. 18—Slippery Rock | Home    |

| Nov. 12—West Virginia | Away    |

son kicked Westminster out of the hole five times but could connect for only three passes netting 18 yards.

Westminster was outplayed in every department except punting. Bob Phillips and John Moody, sparked the attack for the victors while Brady Mitchell, Vito Taylor, and freshman end, Ed Cary, were outstanding on the line for the losers.

SOCIETY SPINNING WHEEL

Romance Holds The Spotlight;
Cwens Stage First Informal Dance

By Dodie

It's back to the books after a long vacation, but the summer's pinnings, engagements, and marriages still take the spotlight. To usher in the year's social life, Cwens tonight are holding their annual semi-formal dance in the college gym, with the music of Percy Hall and his orchestra.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA, Audrey Stoehr, has announced her engagement to John Beiswenger, Alpha Sig... a dessert-bridge will be held for the alumni Saturday afternoon... Phyllis Williams and Ann Osterhout are in charge... Sue Nolph was the local chapter's representative at the Alpha Gamma national convention held at Roanoke, Va., in July. Frances Davenport was pledged yesterday.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON held formal initiation for Barbara Williams and Elinor Walls yesterday. Evie Hill was pledged at the same time... Phyllis Ackerly has announced her engagement to Lee Nash, formerly a student at Westminster, now attending Western Reserve... a recent pinning is that of Barbara Downie to Don Purdy, Alpha Sigma Phi... Dodie Renshaw has accepted the Alpha Zeta pin of Ted Allen from Penn State... Sally Funk of Mount Lebanon, Pa., has transferred from the Alpha Pi chapter at Baldwin-Wallace to Westminster... Betty Ann Etter is back on campus after being away for a year... Pat Marshall, '49, was married to Willard Acheson this summer... Jean Thornton, '49, became the bride of Bill Allen, Sig Ep, '49, at a June wedding... Jan Keller, '49, and Karl Moll, '48, were married early in September in Connecticut.

CHI OMEGA, Mary Lou Black, was married to Jack Torrey, Alpha Sigma Phi, in August at her home in Omaha, Neb... Jewell Jennings has accepted the Sigma Nu pin of Sherry Wolfson... a recent pinning is that of Alys Ann Eppley to Clyde Shaffer, Sig Ep... Phyllis Brasher attended the Chi O officers' convention at Natural Bridge, Va... two summer marriages are that of Shirley Smith, '48, to Bill Baker, ASP '48, and of Mary Johnson, ex-'50, to Joe Helfrich, on September 17.

KAPPA DELTA pledged Sue Horton, Thursday afternoon, September 29... Betty Toner and Lou Cobner were given the second degree at this time... Marilyn Calvin has announced her engagement to Earl Comstock of New Castle... Nancy Hoffman, ex-'51, has accepted the Alpha Sig pin of John McWilliams... another pinning of the summer is Jane Irwin, ex-'52, to Jack Garvin, Sigma Nu, ex-'52... Lynn Hammer, ex-'49, and Paul Koltruplin, '49, were married this summer... also married recently were Marty Ann Warren, ex-'49, and Jack Locke.

SIGMA KAPPAS held pledging Friday, September 26, for Ann Hankey... Jean Quigley accepted the Sigma Nu pin of Bucky Ambill... pinned during the summer were Pat McClure to Len Harding, Sig Ep '49, and Ann Hankey to Tom Eckles, Alpha Sig... Becky Carson has announced her engagement to Al Chambers... Shirley (ex-'49) and Keith Brooks are newlyweds, now residing in Pittsburgh... also living in Pittsburgh after their recent marriage are Betty Lou Lint, '48, and Ray McCluckey.

THETA EPSILON held pledging ceremonies for Priscilla Barnes Tuesday afternoon... Joan Bevard, Martha Kennedy, and Beverly Lee were formally initiated September 22... Marty Kennedy has accepted the Phi Gamma Delta pin of Scott Lewis, Allegheny college... Nancy Englehard, ex-'52, was engaged to Paul Troupe... Helen Holleran, '48, was married to Bob Carey, Sigma Nu, June 11 in Cannonsburg, Pa... June 29 was the wedding date of Betty Hamilton, '49, and Kenny Stewart, '49, Sig Ep... on June 25. Lu Mooreland, '47, became the bride of George Hazen... Myrna Hoon, '47, and Edward M. McKee were married on July 9 in New Castle... the college chapel was the scene of the wedding of Helen Sloss, '49, and Bruce Catt, '49, September 10.

Dorothy King, Ellwood City, was married to Arthur Shaffer June 10... the engagement of Carol Anderson, Erie, Pa., to Fred Curtze was announced this summer... Shirley Scott of Sewickley became engaged to Bob Willison, ex-'52... Bob transferred to Thiel college last Tuesday... Grace Paradise, Pittsburgh, has accepted the pin of Andy Tignanello.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON president, Dick Specker, announced that Al McCullough and Dick Ingraham have been appointed co-chairmen of rushing... Bill Paul and Dick Ingraham were delegates of the Westminster chapter at the Sig Ep convention held in Chicago... married this summer were Mickey McDaniels, '49, to Virginia Rupp; Earl Knause, ex-'50, to Donna Lou Stauffer; and Harry Hughes, ex-'50, to Irene Ganzmar, '49.

Editor's Note: Due to an overabundance of society news this week, it has been necessary to delay publishing some items until next issue.

Sally Snyder Succeeds To Senate Presidency

Sally Snyder succeeds Mrs. Howard Walker, the former Alice Johnston, as president of Senate, women's governing body.

Mrs. Walker was elected to the office last spring, but her marriage this summer left her post vacant. Barbara Williams was elected to fill the vice presidential space left by Sally Snyder. Minabelle Packer and Kay Campbell were appointed to the "conduct committee", counterpart of last year's "disciplinary action committee".

Two new representatives were elected Monday. They are Pat Reinheimer, representing the sophomore women, and Marg Foster, representing Chi Omega.

Belgian Sculptress Models Freshman*Silvercrucys Combines Art, Humor In Lecture

You too can become a sculptor! All you need is a quantity of sticky, clay-like material called Italian plastiline, and you can begin, says Madame Suzanne Silvercrucys, Belgian sculptress who spoke here Tuesday evening.

Humorous stories about her career as a sculptress, interspersed with her philosophic comments on the practical side of life kept the lecture crowd entertained as Madame Silvercrucys modeled the head of a member of the audience.

Freshman Katharine Mason was amazed to see her likeness on the platform when Madame Silvercrucys turned around the plastiline model she had been working on during the talk.

The sculptress, lecturer, and painter has modeled the heads of the Dionne quintuplets, Dr. Dafoe, Wendell Willkie, ex-President Herbert Hoover, and others.

She sculpts for the enjoyment she gains from it with the hope that "in the end maybe I'll do something that will survive me."

Asked whether she liked to do heads of college presidents, Madame Silvercrucys looked at Dr. Orr and replied, "Presidents are easy when they're good-looking like this one."

Panhellenic Elects
Ann Hepler President

Ann Hepler will lead the Panhellenic council this year. Assisting her will be Phyllis Brasher, vice president, Sue Nolph, secretary, and Isabelle Tidd, treasurer.

A tea for freshmen and transfer students will be held in Ferguson hall lounge October 7.

109 Days Till

before Roosevelt was President, the situation was better than it is now. When Columbus landed on an unknown island on his first trip abroad, he didn't break the all-college record for the 220 low hurdles getting ashore to shake hands with the members of the White Sox who were quartered there at the time. Instead, he paused to cough up a piece of leather that he had eaten on the way over, which was caught in his throat; and took time to put out the light that one of his seamen first class had seen on the way over, waking everyone on the ship yelling about it. Then Columbus advanced to the nearest inhabitant, who was busily checking a hot tip on his scratch sheet, and racing form, raised his arm majestically and asked if his surname was Kilroy, of whom he had heard so much.

Surely there is no need for more examples of good behavior in greeting a person. There is definitely a need for a change. Any suggestions for the solution of this problem will be appreciated, but not returned as they will become the property of the judges. Please enclose one dollar, to cover mailing expenses, with all suggestions sent in. Who knows, you may win the Jack - - - pot.

but was never offered a big league job. Last year he coached the freshman baseball teams for the college.

He is married to the former Lola Sewall, also a graduate of Westminster. They have a two year old daughter, LoAnn.

In connection with his job as dean of men, Dr. Christy sees an opportunity to work with men and welcomes the chance to associate with them.

Concerning fraternities, Doc states, "they make an important contribution to college life and I believe the groups on campus are larger than they should be. I believe that conditions would be improved if there were more groups and if the fraternities would widen their interests."

To be successful in college and in life, Dr. Christy believes a man should depend on his ability to maintain a well balanced life, putting proper emphasis on all phases such as intellectual, social, physical, moral, and religious activities.

Seven students, or four per cent of the interviewees, were influenced by the excellence of the catalogue. Three were impressed by publicity pamphlets. One of these quoted the exact phrase which caught his fancy. It was, "the living panorama behind the morning headlines." One person knew no reason except that she has wanted to attend since her childhood, while one had been informed about another Westminster college.

Two of the men interviewed received sports scholarships, another hoped to play football, and a girl liked the basketball team. Teachers were influential in sending four of the freshmen and seven came to take music. Three students planned to take speech, and two more heard that the radio department was good. Pre-ministerial students ranked 2.3 per cent of the class and one student will enter the pre-law course. One decided to attend a coed school, one wanted a good secretarial course, and one followed President Will Orr from Iowa.

The one hundred fiftieth freshman merely muttered, "Heaven only knows."

Vol. 67

Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa. Friday, October 7, 1949

Sororities, Quadrangle Announce Candidates For Homecoming Queen

Candidates for Homecoming queen have been announced by the six sororities and Quadrangle.

They are Phyllis Williams, Alpha Gamma Delta; Harriet Eisenbeis, Beta Sigma Omicron; Sally Snyder, Chi Omega; Natalie McKenzie, Kappa Delta; Pat McClure, Sigma Kappa; Barbara Cloud, Theta Upsilon, and Thelma Bennett, Quadrangle.

The winner, to be chosen by the college men Thursday, October 13, in the Tower room of Old Main, will be crowned at the Homecoming dance by Bandleader Elliot Lawrence.

Phyllis Williams is a senior speech major from Farrell. Harriet Eisenbeis, also a senior, is an elementary education major from Pittsburgh.

Thelma Bennett is a senior commercial teaching major and comes from Cannonsburg.

Sally Snyder, a junior, is from Bradford and is majoring in elementary education. Another junior, Natalie McKenzie, is an elementary education major from Erie.

Barbara Cloud, from Uniontown, is a junior speech major. Pat McClure, the only sophomore candidate, is from New Wilmington and is a secretarial science major.

Dick Specker Will Head Interfraternity Council

Dick Specker will head Interfraternity council this year. He will be assisted by Al Waughman, vice president, and Don Totzke, secretary-treasurer.

Arnold Tornell is chairman of the rushing rules committee. Other members are Bob Carbeau and Al Caruso.

Elected to represent their fraternities on the Homecoming queen float were Al Nichols, Sigma Nu; Jim Russell, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Art Schreiber, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Dr. Christy is the new faculty advisor to the council.

YWCA Plans Initiation

YWCA will end their current membership campaign with the initiation of new members Wednesday, October 12, in the college chapel at 7 p.m.

All desiring membership should contact their dormitory representative or Marjorie Lohse, Ferguson hall.

P.A. Rules Announced

Anyone wanting to use the public address system should apply at the speech office at least one week in advance, according to Fred McKnight, head operator. The charge is 50 cents an hour.

Monday's Style Note : For Freshmen - Dinks

Freshmen must begin wearing dinks, Monday, October 10, and must wear them every day until 6 p.m. except Sundays, when the frosh will be given a day's respite. The dinks must be worn until further notice, it has been announced by Hell week co-chairmen Phyllis Brasher and Chuck Gerrish.

Dinks may be purchased at the news bureau on the third floor of Old Main.

Hazing by upperclassmen is prohibited until Wednesday, October 19.

Freshmen Men Prepare 'Fall Frolic' Stag Dance

"Fall Frolic," a stag dance sponsored by freshman men will be held in College hall, tomorrow evening at 8:30.

Skirts and sweaters will be suitable dress for girls.

A 12 piece band, composed of members of the freshman class, will furnish music for dancing.

Upperclassmen are invited to attend. Price of admission is 30 cents.

History Group To Picnic

Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity, will hold a picnic for all history majors at the Beerbower home on upper New Wilmington road, Thursday, October 12, at 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Beerbower will speak on local Indian culture.

Nurses Do A Rush Business As Students Sniffle, Sneeze

By Bill Anderson

There's something in the air. With Autumn Weekend and Hell week coming up, one might guess it to be excitement. However, there's more in the air than that—cold germs!

Doris Bailey, head nurse at the infirmary, reported that in one week's time she and her three assistants, Emoline Gordon, Emma Dodds, and Betty Dickson, gave out cold medicine, mostly the well-known "green pills," to 405 Westminster students. Since each person received a packet with ten pills, approximately 4,050 capsules were distributed.

It is also interesting to note on what days the traffic to the white building behind the Tub was heaviest. On Monday of this week, for instance, the epidemic hit its peak of 77, while on Tuesday and Wednesday the numbers dropped to 68 and 43. Last week's figures were: Wednesday, 68; Thursday, 52; Friday, 45; Saturday, 36, and Sunday, 16. The tapering off on the weekends, said Miss Bailey, was caused by trips home and increased activity.

Inauguration Of Dr. Will Orr Will Open Autumn Weekend

College Will Award Six Honorary Degrees; J. Hillis Miller To Address Convocation

Autumn Weekend will get under way next Friday with the inauguration of Dr. Will W. Orr as president in the morning followed by the dance of the year in the evening.

Six honorary degrees will be awarded at the inauguration ceremonies.

A doctor of humanities degree will be awarded Henry A. Roemer, president of Sharon Steel corporation. Judge William H. McNaughton of Pittsburgh will receive a doctor of laws degree, and the Rev. John Orr, head of the college Bible department, will receive a doctor of pedagogy degree.

Doctor of divinity degrees will be presented to the Rev. Samuel Colman, Binghamton, N.Y., the Rev. J. Y. Jackson, Unity, Pa., and the Rev. Herman H. King, Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Orr Will Speak

Presiding at the inaugural ceremonies will be the Rev. James M. Ferguson, D.D., who will officiate in the investiture of Dr. Orr. Dr. Will Orr will deliver the inaugural address.

Registration of official delegates will take place in Old Main at nine o'clock.

One hundred and fifty representatives of colleges, universities and learned societies across the nation are expected to attend the inauguration.

There will be approximately 300 in the academic procession led by the faculty and followed by representatives of colleges and universities, the board of trustees of Westminster college and the platform group.

Presidents To Attend

This group is composed of Dr. James M. Guthrie, representing the synod of New York, H. Lloyd Cleveland, Ped.D., and Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, both former presidents of Westminster college, and Dr. Tim J. Campbell, LL.D., moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church.

The procession will leave McGill Memorial library at 10 a.m. and proceed to Wallace Memorial chapel for the inauguration program.

Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida, will address an afternoon convocation at three o'clock in the college chapel.

Homecoming Dance

Friday evening Westminster dancers will journey to the Cathedral in New Castle to dance to the music of Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra.

Homecoming Queen will be crowned at the dance.

Senate Honors Women At Jeffers Hall Party

Senate, Westminster women's governing body, held an informal party in Jeffers' lounge Tuesday to greet the freshman women.

Sally Snyder, Senate president, had charge of the evening's entertainment, which was composed of short comedy skits.

Refreshments were served and a brief songfest was held, during which an original tune, written by Pat Reinheimer and sung by Pat, Minabelle Packer, and "Jimmy" McBeth, was presented.

CGA Will Reorganize During Tuesday Meeting

Collegians Guild of the Air will meet Tuesday, October 11, at 7 p.m. to draw a plan of reorganization for the year's activities.

Helen V. Cushman, instructor of speech, announces that those interested in working as instructors in the various areas of radio should attend so that arrangements can be made for auditioning new members.

Following completion of plans, a CGA bulletin will invite students to try out for membership. The group is not limited to speech majors.

Committee Begins Study For More Fraternities

Interfraternity council appointed a committee this week to investigate chances for the establishment of more fraternities on campus.

Bob Carbeau, Al Waughman, and Arnold Tornell are the committee members. Working with them will be Dr. Wayne Christy, dean of men and advisor to the council.

Fraternization - 2

INTERFRATERNITY council this week appointed a committee to study the possibilities for creating new fraternities. This is a step forward.

Fraternities are considered by many, and rightly so, to be valuable in rounding out the life of a college student. Association with such a group and the friendships formed within it, are important in themselves, aside from the less concrete benefits obtainable such as training in self government and the handling of property.

This doesn't mean, of course, that fraternities are a completely ideal way to fulfill this part of a college education, nor are they the only way. But the fact remains that they are one of the best ways—certainly the most extensive—in use at the present.

We advocate, as stated last week, an increase in the number of fraternities in order to create a more realistic ratio with the male population. In view of the length of time it normally takes for fraternities to become established on a campus, we urge the special committee just formed to act promptly.

In The Cards

PROBABLY THE most neglected spots on campus are the bulletin boards. A lot of students just don't take time every day to read them.

From here, it's easy to see a few reasons why the readership is probably not 100 per cent, even though Student Council has made quite a few improvements.

1. Nobody wants to read through all the cards on the board in order to see if there is something of value to him.
2. The cards sometimes get out of line so that the eyes have to jump here and there and someplace else.
3. When small cards are on the outside bulletin board—which, incidentally, is set up for posters and large announcements—who wants to read the same announcement again while struggling through those on the lower hall board?

Antidotes for the last two reasons are simple. As for number one, reading the bulletins would be a lot less confusing if the name of the group to whom the announcement is directed were printed at the top of each card.

Try The Classifieds Or . . .

Students Revert To Type

By Paul Talley

As the winter population of New Wilmington settles down to a routine of classes, movies, and coke dates, the observant student discovers that his fellows are easily classifiable into five main groups.

The first of these is Laughing Boy. This well adjusted character may be distinguished by his carefree approach to the inevitable lessons entailed in getting a college degree. Throwing caution to the winds and books out the window, he prepares for the job known as "having a good time." Laughing wildly at the suggestion that he should study occasionally, he shames the rest of us into realizing what weak creatures we are to let professors run our lives. As we shrink back between the covers of our books we look around for another type to engage our interest.

We find him in the type known as the Stage Manager, so called because he can make a production out of the simple act of declining a French verb. Descending on the TUB, he swoops in front of a would-be bridge foursome and appropriates the last booth. On the table he arranges his notebook, French book, dictionary, pen, pencil, ink, ruler, and eraser. He knocks the ruler on the floor. It doesn't make enough noise so he pushes a book. As people look up he mutters, "Je suis enchante, tu es . . ." being careful to pronounce the words correctly. By the time he reaches "nous sommes enchante" he grasps his throat to indicate undue dryness and takes off for the water tap. Here he meets a girl, quite unexpectedly. He murmurs in her ear and blithely follows her out the door, leaving his books lying on his well set stage.

Better known at Westminster is the Suffering Martyr who carries on despite the awesome load which rests upon his weary shoulders. With just the right tinge of weariness and discouragement in his voice he makes sure that people realize just how busy he is. After all, doesn't he sing in the choir, attend all the games, support the school, and work on the stage crew. All this in addition to an overload of 18 hours? Do you need someone to do a job? Just call on S. Martyr. He'll do it—after he's made you feel like a heel for asking.

The fourth type is the Silent One, who shrinks timidly into his seat at the back of the classroom, combs his hair over his eyes and quivers if the professor glances his way. This type is the sole reason for the college cafeteria system—he'd starve if he had to ask for food. The Silent One's recreation consists of scuttling from room to class and back again. At the end of a frightening day, he ducks furtively into his house, whispers a greeting to his landlady, and rushes to bed, where he can forget his terrifying experiences.

The final type is the Student, who seeks wisdom for wisdom's sake. He declares that he is taking classes because he wants to and is interested only in learning, not in grades. But wise friends hurriedly leave the vicinity when Studious discovers that he failed to make all A's.

And of course there are some mixed breeds. Pardon me while I set the stage to play the suffering martyr.

Journalists Will Meet

Members of "30" club will hold their first regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. in room 303. Club activities will be discussed and plans concerning speakers and programs for the semester will be announced.

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

THAT HUNGRY LOOK

One freshman girl brought so much with her when she arrived for Freshman week, that she and her mother asked for someone to help them with a trunk. Duff Brown, who was dressed in dungarees and an old shirt, carried the trunk up the steps in Browne hall. The mother, who took Duff to be a janitor, insisted that he take the dollar she offered him. "He looks like he needs a good square meal," she remarked to her daughter afterward. When the freshman went to orientation class, she heard a speaker who was none other than the "janitor" Duff, president of Student Council.

CAT AND MOUSE

Herkimer Barbe, the starring cat in last year's production of "I Remember Mama" may have to do some fine acting to keep his part this year. The speech department went into ecstasies over a cat which walked into their office this week. As soon as the animal felt assured of a part, it walked proudly down the hall and out the front door . . . At the KD house the girls set a trap for some mice, but discovered that one of their victims, though caught in the trap, was still alive. Since no one wanted to remove the struggling mouse, Alice Lee Craig donated some of her liquid corn remover which contains ether. "Jimmy" McBeth waved the bottle under the mouse's nose until the animal passed out.

DEVIATION FROM LEARNING

Lotta Veazey entered Mr. Burry's social science class early, and spread the word that the class would have a test that period. She and a fellow conspirator sat back laughing as the students tore through the book, trying to cram a few facts before Mr. Burry entered the room. But the joke was on Lotta. The class did have a test . . . "The Red Shoes" is truly a beautiful picture," Mr. MacArthur told his drama class. "Beautiful prices, too," added Tom Petrecca . . . When a dog entered the eight o'clock history of philosophy class, Dr. John Orr remarked, "It's been said that the dog is the true philosopher. Maybe that's him."

THE SPORTS-MINDED

Two energetic freshmen, Edna Mayo and Mary Dickson, signed out of Browne hall last Saturday, "Destination—New Castle; Transportation—feet." The girls walked all the way so they could get ideas for themes, but found a ride back . . . The fact that the tennis courts were locked on Saturday didn't stop Mr. Bleasby, Mr. Forry, Jane Scott, Barbara Williams and Claire Philippar, who climbed over the gate. Tom List wasn't so lucky. He caught his pants on the top of the fence . . . The World Series is competing with classes and the TUB for attention. Bill Kerr carried a portable radio with him Wednesday, and at the Sigma Nu and Sig Ep houses they're watching the games on television.

ACROSS THE QUADRANGLE

"Lump" Swan knocked over the waste basket in the second floor library reading room, waking up 28 people. He sped out of the room, and as the students settled down to their books, "Lump" tip-toed back into the room and set the basket upright . . . Ken Albridge must be bored with college life, or else he has a movie pass. He has gone to a movie every night for the past two weeks . . . "Tiger" Lyon and Ray Op't Hof take their song-learning seriously. They arrived at musical methods class with Ray strumming a guitar, and "Tiger" and he singing, "Little Bunnie Goes Hippy Hoppity."

Funds for the Freeman science hall now total some $86,000, several thousands short. Although the price has not been stipulated officially, an adequate building will cost upwards of $200,000.

A student committee is now at work choosing a text book for the marriage course we proposed last semester. The "Holcad" is interested in printing your ideas as to what such a course should include. If you'd rather not be quoted, let us know what you think, anyway.

President Orr has gone bald quickly in his new environment, if we go by a picture appearing in a recent issue of the New Castle News. In reality, his name appears under a photo of J. Hillis Miller, main speaker at the inaugural next Friday.

Sigma Nus installed a 12 inch television screen this week, and are being followed by the Sig Eps with a 16 inch screen. What's in store now for Alpha Sigs—a movie screen?

Jean Lewis drew favorable comment from the president as well as students in her chapel mimicking of him this week. Laughed Dr. Orr, "That was good, I enjoyed it." He brought Mrs. Orr to afternoon chapel to see it; told Jean goodbye, it had been nice having her in school. He later presented Norma Williams with a copy of a Swedish magazine.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Extra points mean a lot. Extra points gave Juniata the game last Saturday . . . plus a guy named Mike Dzvonar. Mike ran for two touchdowns, passed for another, and kicked three extra points. That adds up to 21 points. Bill Smaltz can consider himself lucky to have a boy like that around. At any rate he is also the guy who crossed up this column's prediction for a Titan win. However, a stubborn streak having developed, we again lay our necks on the platter and take Westminster over Thiel tomorrow in another close one.

And now a question. Why is it that during our basketball season, wild yells, cheers, and other vocal caleschenics come issuing forth from the gym without hardly a motion from the cheerleaders? The answer, of course, is that Westminster is strictly "basketball minded." But when Jack Frost begins his annual painting campaign and the football tang is in the air, the Titan gridders take to the field feeling like they are the lost legion.

Honestly, fans, those same cheerleaders are down there in front of the home stands for the purpose of leading us in some good old-fashioned cheering. For the last two seasons the cheering at Westminster's home games has been very conspicuous by its absence.

There are eleven fellows out on the field who are, believe it or not, very human. Along with this faculty of being human goes a certain amount of emotional and physical stress and strain . . . Especially in the tight spots. For this very same reason, any or all of them are apt to err. It is the responsibility of you who are in the stands to show forth enough of the divine to forgive . . . and to realize that cheering does help. It doesn't fall on deaf ears. Those guys hear and put out in direct proportion to the amount of cheering for their side.

A private named Hargrove wrote a book during the last war. In it was a statement which contains much truth. He said "Morale, after all, is merely a matter of pride." In that case pride could be considered a matter of morale. Either way you look at it, if you fans can develop pride in your football team and show your pride by giving the team and the cheerleaders a break, the morale should increase for you and the team. It is worth a try, isn't it?

Titan Booters Scrimmage . . .

Booters Win, 2-0, Over Edinboro

Capitalizing on enemy mistakes, the Titan soccer squad rolled over Edinboro State Teacher's college, 2-0, in the season's midlifter at Edinboro, Tuesday.

Playing on a slippery field with drizzling rain hampering the Blue and White offense in the first quarter, the teams settled down to a seesaw battle as the Titan forward line tried in vain to dent the Teacher's goal.

The Titans threatened in the second period when the Edinboro goalie blocked a penalty kick by Alex Spisak. However, Spisak scored on a penalty kick late in the third stanza and the Blue and White booters went ahead, 1-0.

Fenwick Scores

Early in the final quarter after the teams changed sides, Paul Fenwick took a rebound from the Edinboro goalie's chest and drove it over the chalk line for the Titan's final goal. Captain Art Shaffer protected the Westminster goal in excellent style while Ed Davis, Emil Reznik, Norb Borowicz, and Bob Cullison were the stand-outs on defense for the Titans.

Meet Grovers Next

Burry's booters will open the home season with Grove City next Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Harriers Open Season Against Case Tomorrow

Coach Burry will take his Blue and White cross country team to Cleveland tomorrow for the first meet of the season with Case university. The harriers will be seeking revenge for last year's defeat at the hands of the Case thin-clads.

Sig Eps Fortify Lead In Intramural League

Sigma Phi Epsilon strengthened its hold on first place in the intramural football league this week by winning an A and B league game.

In a thrill-packed game played Tuesday the Sig Eps edged the Alpha Sigs, 14-13, in an A league contest. Signal caller Ralph Orr and halfback Jimmy Russell were outstanding for the victors, while the passing combination of Drylie to Totzke starred for the losers.

In another A league game Wednesday, the Sigma Nus defeated the YMCA, 12-6. Big guns in the Sigma Nu attack were passer Bob Gilkey and end "Tex" Curtze. Tight defensive play by "Duff" Brown, Chuck Pitcher, and Ralph Foster highlighted the loser's play.

Paced by elusive Johnny Wilson the Sig Ep B leaguers downed the College hall team, 33-16, yesterday. Also in B league play the Sigma Nus easily defeated the Alpha Sigs, 19-7.

Hetzlermen Lose To Indians, 21-18

Time ran out in the second half for an inspired Westminster football team Saturday as the Titans dropped their second game of the season to Juniata, 21-18.

Trailing Juniata 14-0 at the end of the first half, Westminster came back in the second and pulled to within three points of the victors before time ran out.

Extra Points Decide

Perfect extra point kicking by the Indian's Mike Dzvonar was the deciding factor of the game. His kicks were perfect on each attempt. Westminster quarterback, Champ Barthelsson failed on each attempt for the point.

Juniata was the better team the first half, scoring twice in the second period. Mike Dzvonar, senior tailback playing his third year of varsity ball, plunged for two yards for the first TD and threw a 23 yard pass to Julius Long for the second.

Sylvester Scores

The Titans finally came to life in the third period driving 60 yards in 11 plays. Dick Sylvester climaxed this drive with a 16 yard run for Westminster's first score. Barthelsson's attempt for the point was short.

Sylvester again scored in the fourth period on a 23 yard run after the Titans marched 40 yards in six plays.

Barthelsson Passes

In the fourth period the Titans started a drive from their own 30 and in seven plays scored. A 29 yard pass from Barthelsson to Fred Evanoff took the ball to Juniata's 26. With four minutes to go Barthelsson again passed, this time to Dick Wharton in the end zone. The try for the extra point again failed and Juniata still led 21-18.

Team Injuries Rise As Titans Prepare For Tomcat Contest

Lutherans To Field Experienced Eleven; Odds Favor Locals

With the injury list still on the rise, Coach Mel Hetzler will send his Blue and White grid-ders against the Thiel Tomcats at 2 p.m. tomorrow on the local field.

Last year the two teams battled to a 0-0 score in a game hampered by rain and mud. The odds lie in Westminster's favor this year, however, as the Lutherans lost five men in last year's graduating class.

Tomcats Win Opener

So far this season the Titans have lost to Slippery Rock, 21-0, and Juniata, 21-18, while the Tomcats won their first game of the season as they defeated Hiram, 20-7, last Saturday.

Even though he has lost five stalwarts from last year's squad, Thiel coach Jack Stoerber will field a veteran performer at every position. Stoerber, who has been coaching at Thiel for 24 years, employs a modified T formation featuring a wing back, which gives his offense added power when in sight of the goal line.

Quarterback Outstanding

Outstanding man in the Tomcat offense is quarterback Jack Desport, an Ellwood City high school product. Thiel's backfield is comparatively light with only one man, halfback Bill Borcicky, 180 pounds, weighing over 165 pounds. Other members of the starting backfield are halfback Jim Trettel and fullback Sam Seava.

Three Injured

Westminster will be without the services of at least one and possibly three key players tomorrow. Defensive tackle Jack Ramsey will definitely not be able to play as the result of a knee injury suffered last Saturday. On the doubtful list are end Fritz Evanoff and fullback Bob Benyon. However, both are expected to be ready for play tomorrow.

One bright spot in the Titan picture is the fact that Jim Cooley, a defensive guard, who was injured in a pre-season practice, and did not see action against Slippery Rock and Juniata, will be in condition to play tomorrow.

WAA Begins Season With Breakfast Hike

WAA opened its season with a breakfast hike for members and freshman women yesterday. The early risers ate pancakes and sausage by the bank of the Neshannock creek.

Beginning Oct. 5 the pool will be open for women on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. Five WAA points are given per hour for extra-curricular swimming.

After Homecoming the gym will also be open on Wednesday and Thursday between 3 and 5 p.m., with volleyball listed as the first activity. Members can earn ten points an hour for participation in this sport. The next WAA meeting will be Oct. 13 at 5 p.m.

Scoreboard Aids Fans

A vote of thanks is extended to the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity for their fine job of erecting and operating the new scoreboard on the east end of the football field. The board is an improvement to the field and will greatly aid the spectators in keeping abreast with the game.

Science Hall To House Psychology Laboratory

First of its kind at Westminster, a psychology laboratory is being established by psychology majors and the department of psychology. It is scheduled for use in psychology seminar, second semester. Part of the funds for it were raised by psychology majors last year.

One of the first pieces of furniture to go into the laboratory in room 25, Science hall, will be a large bookcase donated by Westminster Presbyterian church, Youngstown.

Pirate Game Announcer Will Speak To YMCA

Rosey Roswell, announcer of Pittsburgh Pirates baseball games, will speak at the YMCA banquet Wednesday, October 26, which will climax a two week membership drive.

Professor George Conway, mathematics professor, will speak on astronomy at the next meeting, Wednesday, September 12.

Members will have access to the gym and swimming pool on "Men's Night", Wednesday, September 19.

Karux Sends Bibles To Indian Students

Karux, pre-ministerial honorary, recently sent 23 reference Bibles to Bob Noble at Gordon college, Rawalpindi, India.

Ten new Bibles and 13 used ones were requested by Bob, a graduate of Westminster, for class work.

John Pollock, Westminster graduate of the '49 class, was guest speaker at a meeting held recently. Mr. Pollock spent the summer preparing for duty as a teacher in India.

Youth Worker Will Talk

The Rev. Lee Edwin Walker will be the speaker for Spiritual Emphasis week, Nov. 13-20, it has been announced by President Will Orr. The Rev. Mr. Walker is secretary of Bible study and youth work, a part of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian church.

He was until recently pastor of the Boulevard United Presbyterian church, Philadelphia.

Teachers To Visit New Science Hall

Traveling to Carroll college, Waukesha, Wis., for the dedication of a quarter million dollar science building, October 22, will be Myron Simpson, professor of biology, James E. Swindler, professor of physics, and John Collins, professor of chemistry.

A part of their job while there will be to investigate the building with a view to what should be included in Westminster's plans for a new Science hall.

Already designated as Freeman Science hall, it is number one on the list of projects hoped to be finished before the college's centennial year, 1952, according to Dr. Will Orr, president.

Major industries are also being contacted in an effort to find out what qualifications they want in the college graduates they employ in their laboratories, as well as what they believe to be the equipment necessary for a college science hall.

Debating Group Elects Moorhouse President

Melvin Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech, was elected president of the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges at the annual meeting Saturday in Harrisburg.

Mr. Moorhouse becomes the first Westminster debate coach to head the organization which is entering its 28th year. Forty five colleges and universities comprise the membership of the group.

Faculty Names Hopkins As Social Club Leader

Joseph Hopkins, instructor of Bible, has moved up to the presidency in the Westminster Social club, a faculty organization. He replaces Dr. William J. Thomas who has taken a position at Baylor university, Waco, Texas.

Elected to fill the vice president's office vacated by Mr. Hopkins is Mrs. James W. Evans. Mr. Evans is associate professor of organ and composition. Miss Clara McCandless, assistant to the business manager, will resume her duties as secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Students Sniffle

cold victims might try following these rules: avoid crowds, don't get overheated, drink plenty of fruit juices and liquids.

If Westminster students do not follow this advice, they may end up in one of the infirmary beds as Happy Eisenbeis, Jean Martin, or Pat Carlson. Pat said that she got her cold from intimate conversations in the Tub. Happy only answered, "That would be telling," when asked how she contracted her cold.

As your reporter left the infirmary, his pockets bulging with cough syrup and "green pills," he sped past the crowded Tub, bought a gallon of fruit juice, and went home to sleep things off.

English Teachers Visit Education Conference

Representing the English department of Westminster college at the Midwestern Education conference today were Dr. Myrta McGinnis and Miss Maxine Gilliland. This annual conference of the Pennsylvania Education association was held in the Scottish Rite cathedral and the senior high school in New Castle.

Psych Majors To Hear Child Study Director

C. G. Christopher, director of the Child Study department of the Youngstown schools, will speak to psychology majors Oct. 17 at 4:15 p.m., it was announced by Claude Eckman, assistant professor of psychology.

Another speaker, Dr. George Fortune, head of the Speech and Hearing Institute of Western Reserve university, Cleveland, will be here Nov. 5.

Dr. Fortune will speak under the sponsorship of the speech department and Iota Delta, psychology honorary.

CYF Seeks Members In Five Week Contest

CYF membership contest under the direction of Marge Powell swings into its third week next week with Bob Garvin, Al Williams, Paul Fenwick, and Chuck Jackson leading the membership teams.

Ken Gordon has been chosen publicity manager for the coming year.

A movie will be shown at Sunday's meeting.

Life Service Sponsors Training Of Caravaners

Caravan training sessions will highlight the weekend calendar for Life Service.

Tonight a recreation discussion will be held in the basement of the U.P. church. Saturday morning's meeting will be devoted to Sabbath school work and caravan etiquette. A worship service on Saturday evening will conclude the training program.

More than 80 students have registered for activities for the coming semester. Ten Gospel Teams, designated to conduct single church services on request, were organized at a recent meeting.

Art Honorary Installs McLaughlin In Top Post

Charles McLaughlin was recently installed president of Alpha Rho Tau, honorary art fraternity. Also installed were Jan Cuthbert, vice president, Eileen MacMillan, secretary, and Jane White, treasurer.

Sculpture in the dark will highlight this year's art department activities, assistant professor Dietz announces. New in the way of art at Westminster, this system employs the touch technique. That is, the student works by touch to bring to the surface those expressions that might otherwise be lost to the candid glance of the eye.

Enrollment for all art classes are up on the average of 25 per cent this semester.

Target Women To Aid In Inauguration Tea

Members of Target, senior women's honorary, will serve as aides at the inauguration tea, Friday, October 14.

Miss Alice Ligo, instructor in the French department, is a new Target advisor this year.

Target's regular meeting will be held Thursday, October 20, at Mary Lou Torrey's home.

Scroll To Meet Thursday

Scroll, English honorary, will hold its first meeting Thursday, October 13, at 7:15 p.m. in the home of George Bleasby, adviser. The program for the coming year will be discussed.

College Inaugurates Dr. Will W Orr; Over 700 Witness Chapel Ceremonies

Six Receive Honorary Degrees At Program;
J. Hillis Miller Addresses Afternoon Convocation

Delegates from 171 colleges, universities, and academic societies were here today to witness the presidential inauguration of Dr. Will W. Orr at 10:30 a.m.

Following the registration at nine o'clock in Old Main, the 300 delegates, guests, faculty, members of the board of trustees, and participants in the ceremony itself proceeded to Wallace Memorial Chapel.

There, Dr. Orr was formally installed as president by the Rev. James M. Ferguson, D.D., head of the board of trustees, who presided over the ceremony. Dr. Orr's inaugural address followed.

The Rev. John Orr, dean of the college, after receiving the citation of doctor of pedagogy from Dr. James A. Swindler, senior member of the faculty, delivered the other degrees.

Henry A. Roemer, president of the Sharon Steel Corporation received a doctor of humanities degree. Judge William H. McNaugher of Pittsburgh was cited as doctor of laws. Doctor of divinity degrees were conferred upon the Rev. Samuel Colman, Binghamton, N.Y., the Rev. J. Y. Jackson, Unity, Pa., and the Rev. Herman H. King, Buffalo, N.Y.

Several Take Part

The Rev. James M. Guthrie, D.D., of the New York Synod; H. Lloyd Cleland, Ped.D., former president of the college; Tim J. Campbell, LL.D., moderator of the General Assembly; and Robert F. Galbreath, D.D., also a former president, took part in the proceedings.

Convocation was held at three o'clock in the chapel, with Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida, addressing the assemblage.

During the official delegates' luncheon in Ferguson hall at 12:30 p.m., Doris Peterson, senior music major, sang "Through the Years" by Vincent Youmans. Lois Baum, sophomore music major, accompanied her. James Fudge, senior music major, sang Charles W. Cadman's "Service", aided by senior music major Ruth Temple on the piano.

Tenth President

The new president is the tenth in a line of Westminster leaders which began in 1853 with James Patterson, D.D. Successive presidents have been the following doctors of divinity: Robert Audley Browne, 1868-1871; E. Tupper Jeffries, 1872-1883; J. K. McClurkin, 1883-1884; Robert Gracey Ferguson, 1884-1906; Robert McWatty Russell, 1906-1915; W. Charles Wallace, 1916-1932; Robert F. Galbreath, 1932-1946; and H. Lloyd Cleland, doctor of pedagogy, 1946-1947.

Several educators have served as interim presidents, of whom the longest term belongs to Dr. John Orr, 1947-1949.

History Group Will Visit

Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, will visit Ft. Necessity and the Albert Gallatin home at Point Marion, Pa., Thursday, Oct. 20.

Dr. Alice Schuster, Dr. J. W. Creighton, and Dr. G. H. Taylor will accompany the group.

Freshmen Await Hell Week; Co-chairmen Announce Rules

By Bill Anderson

"Make a hell out of heaven, a heaven out of hell." So wrote John Milton and if the freshmen follow his advice, they can transform Hell week from Oct. 19, 20, and 21 into three days of heaven. However, indications are that there will be nothing heavenly done next week.

General and daily regulations for Hell week have recently been announced by Phyllis Brasher and Chuck Gerrish, co-chairmen of the event.

Must Wear Dinks

Every time a freshman hears "Boom, Frosh," he must stoop down and spring up, make a noise like a rocket, and spin around at least three times waving his arms and hands. Capping these "explosions" will be the blue and white dinks, which must be worn at all times, except in the chapel, dining halls, and private rooms. When an upperclassman says "Dink Frosh," frosh must tip their dinks.

In addition, the novices will carry the "Yearling" at all times and will be responsible for all material in it.

Even though freshmen will not sit in the TUB, they must open doors and wait on upperclassmen. When passing an upperclassman on the sidewalk, the freshman must move off. If he wants to cross Market street, he must do so only between the white lines in front of the library.

Frosh To Get Names

In addition, the freshmen must have three 9" x 12" name cards with their first and last names printed

Dance Highlights Lawrence

Pianist Will Crown Homecoming Queen

Chapel Choir Will Give Sacred Music Concert

Pianist Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra are featured at Westminster's Dance of the Year tonight from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. at the Cathedral ballroom in New Castle. Girls have been granted two o'clock permission.

During intermission one of the following will be crowned Homecoming Queen: Thelma Bennett, Barbara Cloud, Harriet Eisenbeis, Pat McClure, Natalie McKenzie, Sally Snyder or Phyllis Williams. College men voted for the Queen yesterday in the Tower Room.

Saturday morning will be spent decorating dormitories, fraternity, and sorority houses for judging by an alumni committee at 10 p.m. Awards for the best houses will be made between halves of the Westminster-Allegheny game scheduled for 2 p.m. on the athletic field.

Float To Carry Queen

Also during half time the Homecoming Queen and her court will be paraded on a float constructed by the Interfraternity council. Following the game, Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, will serve tea in Browne hall lounge, assisted by Target, senior women's honorary.

From 8:30 p.m. till midnight Saturday, the Autumn weekend carnival will be held in the gymnasium. Campus organizations will erect booths where visitors may play such games as penny pitch, basketball throw, and dart boards for a slight charge. Profits are to be pooled and shared by the organizations. At 9 p.m. the TUB will be opened for dancing to the music of Percy Hall's orchestra. Dancing will continue until 11 p.m.

Bleasby Will Speak

Sunday activities will begin with Sunday school at 9:45 in the college chapel. Mr. George Bleasby, assistant professor of English, will speak on "God and the Nations." Local churches will hold regular services at 11 a.m.

Under the direction of Dr. James W. Evans, associate professor of organ and composition, the Chapel Choir will present a sacred concert in Wallace Memorial chapel at 3:30 p.m. They will sing music by Bach, Farant, Gretchaninoff, Karg-Elert, Billings, Buxtehude, and Mendelssohn.

DR. JOHN ORR

DR. WILL W. ORR

Ceremonies for the installation of Dr. Will W. Orr as president of the college today include an afternoon convocation address by Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida. Also on the program is Dr. John Orr, dean of the college, who will receive the degree doctor of pedagogy. The day's program begins at 10:30 a.m. in the chapel.

Holcad Maintains Collegiate Rating

All-American rating has again been attained by the Holcad for the 20th consecutive semester.

Of a possible 1065 points, the Holcad scored 990, it was announced recently by the Associated Collegiate Press.

Entering competition in the classification of colleges and universities whose enrollment is between 1,000 and 2,499, the paper was judged only on its performance during the spring semester of last year and not on any past record.

Feature copy was commented upon as good and the sports coverage and display was listed as lively. Special mention was given to the copy desk for its excellent job of editing. Typography was also marked excellent for being readable, neat, and attractive.

Honorary Hears Handy

Dr. Everett Handy, professor of education, spoke on "Education As A Career" at a special Kappa Delta Pi meeting Thursday in the chapel.

Lawrence Will Officiate At Crowning Of Queen

Results of the Homecoming Queen election will not be announced until tonight at the dance.

However, according to a well informed source, the queen is expected to be either Sally Snyder, Harriet Eisenbeis, Thelma Bennett, Pat McClure, Phyllis Williams, Natalie McKenzie, or Barbara Cloud.

She will be crowned during intermission by bandleader, Elliot Lawrence.

Musical Comedy Cast Will Practice Next Week

"Black Arrow," the Little Theatre's musical comedy, will go into full rehearsal next week.

Chorus practices will be held in the Conservatory Oct. 17 and 18. The men's chorus will meet Oct. 17 at 8 p.m. The women's chorus will rehearse at 7 p.m., Oct. 18, followed by rehearsal of Sir Daniel's chorus at 8 p.m.

Scrawl To Hold Meeting For Staff Applicants

Scrawl, campus literary publication, will hold an open meeting for all interested in joining the staff Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 4:15 p.m.

Those interested are requested to write a letter stating their past experience, major, interest in either the literary or business staff, and suggestions or criticisms of Scrawl. This letter must be given either to Pat Hayes, Ferguson hall, or dropped in the basket in the English office, room 212, by Friday, Oct. 21.

Literary staff applicants are asked in addition to submit an original manuscript, not necessarily new, by Oct. 21.

Radio Club To Audition Prospective Members

Prospective members of the Collegians Guild of the Air must sign for auditions on the list which is posted on the speech bulletin board by Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Present members will meet at 7 p.m. Oct. 18, to work out the audition schedule of these names. This schedule will be posted immediately after the meeting.

Committees for the auditions are Jewell Jennings, Marjorie Rollman, and Basil Messina, who will select the audition material. Bob McEwan will be in charge of technicians, while Lea Mylander will prepare audition lists.

Trio Will Appear In Artist Course

The Opera Trio, with Donald Dickson, baritone, Sandra Warfield, contralto, and Mae Endich, soprano, will appear in the chapel, Oct. 18, at 8:15 p.m., as part of Westminster's artist series.

Donald Dickson, nationally known on stage and radio, has been in the Artist Course in the past. Sandra Warfield was a member of "The Troubadors", a vocal ensemble which appeared here last year.

"Talents of these three people should combine to produce a truly exceptional concert, and the program is carefully selected to present representative selections from grand opera to boggie-woogie," says Mr. Donald O. Cameron, director of the Artist Course.

Pi Delta Accepts Collins As Honorary Member

George C. Collins, head of the journalism department, was recently made an honorary member of Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary. Mr. Collins will be formally initiated into the group at a later date.

Pi Delta Epsilon is making plans for an advanced journalism class to judge the high school papers of those high schools which participated in last year's Journalism day program. The papers which are judged best will be given awards.

Little Theatre Opens Season With 'I Remember Mama'

By Frances Davenport

Mama again faced the spotlights as Westminster's fall theater season swung into its opening this week. Not to be compared with last year's production of John Van Druten's "I Remember Mama," the fall presentation was completely different with a fresh handling of the individual characterizations.

Bobbie Cloud entered her part naturally and with a thorough understanding for her role. Instead of acting Mama, Bobbie was Mama.

Backed by the knowledge of the part and of the people with whom she was to work, Bobbie was able to give to the role the warmth and sincerity that the character needed to make it seem real.

Uncle Chris in the person of Art Schreiber gave a near professional performance as the gruff man whom everyone feared. Art approached his role with great gusto and a sense of enjoyment that made his characterization human. Special mention might be given to the death bed scene which surpassed much of the rest of the action in dramatic quality.

Comedienne to the last, Jeanne Lewis stole scenes from the moment she entered the steps on Steiner street. As timid Aunt Trina, Jeanne gave the needed touch of humor. The audience was fascinated by the clever acting done by Jeanne with the use of only her hands in several of the scenes. Bill Stedman was the perfect counterpart as the mousey Mr. Thorkelson.

Welcome Back

WE PREDICT THAT the number of grads returning this weekend will far exceed the number who have gathered on any previous day or weekend in Westminster's 96 year history. There are two reasons. First is the size of the latest alumni group, the class of 1949. It is the largest graduating class on record. Second is the increased importance of the weekend due to the inaugural ceremonies.

To this history making group of home-comers, the Holcad offers a cordial "welcome back."

We Need Campaigns

THIS YEAR'S Homecoming queen campaign seems, somehow, to lack the vigor of the last two years. The spirited publicity campaigns of the past were excitable, and worked up enthusiasm plus for Autumn weekend and the big dance.

Admittedly, they consumed much time and money; and last year's unfortunate "episode of the posters" did leave a dry taste in the mouth. But they were well worth the effort for the liveliness and high spirit they created. The entire student body was aroused.

We hope Panhellenic council sees fit to allow them to go on again next year.

See The Masthead

SEVERAL NEW NAMES appear on our masthead this week. These people have worked on the staff for the past three weeks, and have shown enough ability and reliability to be given positions on the Holcad.

Be sure to see these names on the masthead. And while you're at it, glance at the other names, too. It takes a lot of students doing a lot of work to publish and distribute a weekly newspaper.

Fraternization - 3

THE "FRATERNITY STORY" this week is nothing more than a report of action frozen. Inaugural and Homecoming planning have prevented work on the attempt to create more fraternities on campus.

But Dr. Wayne Christy, who as Interfraternity council advisor is working with the special committee, promises action as soon as "the weekend" is over.

We hope to see the investigation well under way by next edition.

Coeds Won't Like This, But

Styles Change, Women Don't

By Jack Shepherd

With the increase in the number of women at Westminster it is time for us to attempt to analyze this phenomenon of mass education known as the coed. Her increase in numbers means that more feminine charm will be unleashed against the already badly shattered walls of the man's world. Her potency here at college is demonstrated by the fact that she has uprooted men students from one of their strongholds upon the hill. Nevertheless, just what is this coed, what makes her tick, what are her idiosyncrasies?

First, let me point out that analysis of the coed correctly belongs in a branch of abnormal psychology, under the heading of female psychology, and that the generalities herein are completely biased, unscientific, and open to bitter debate. We must, of course, proceed on the assumption that no one can understand a woman anyway.

The layman who reads current journalism would conclude that Miss Coed is a cross of Cleopatra, Miss America, and Helen of Troy, i.e., she is slim (!), blonde, beautiful, brainy, pursued by "packs" of handsome men, and is an all-round wheel. In spite of Time, Life, Seventeen, Harper's Bazaar, and the movies, the average coed is rarely even two of these things. If any of them do happen to possess more than one of these desirabilities they espouse themselves immediately and are no longer mere coeds.

Let us begin with an examination of a typical day in a coed's life. Let us assume that it is Friday, and that our little scholar decides to have a bit of breakfast. Arising as late as possible she squirms into her clothing and rushes to the dining room at least one minute before the doors close. Spotting her, eyes bleary, complexion wan, lips pallid, and hair stringy, the waiters muffle sneers and gasp as they turn the other way. She is last from the dining room, of course, and prepares for class by sort of making up and sort of combing her hair. Waiters have a good case for bachelorhood. Let him that has ears hear, and him that has eyes, see!

Classes, naturally, bore her, as she does her best to avoid intellectual enlightenment. However, our fair damsel manages to stave off death from boredom by chatting with her friends and neighbors, getting the morning gossip over the woman to woman grapevine. Late to chapel as usual, her heavy feet mangle several tender toes as she pokes a young, unsuspecting fellow in the eye with her slide rule, which she uses to compute bridge scores. As if this weren't enough she's heard some hot trivia and . . . !

Since the morning was spent wasting time in classes, our male-displacer-to-be scuttles over to the Tub for a few hands of bridge and some choice campus dirt. Between hands, she and her girl friends consume soft drinks, smoke fags in their inimitable female fashion, and ogle at the transient Apollos.

After refusing onions for dinner but stacking away plenty of everything else into her fast widening figure Miss Coed flies to her room to ready herself for THE date with THE man. She isn't pinnated, but wishes the poor boy would "hang his shingle," and in consequence she takes the pains before the mirror now that she should have taken 12 hours before. Our hero, of course, is on time, but the mademoiselle wants to be safe, soooo, Don Juan sits in the lounge and waits, and waits. When she appears, she's beautiful! What a metamorphosis!

At 12:01 a.m. a shriek tears the air. Another head was rolled, another song of best wishes will ring out in the dining room. She is a woman in triumph. She has conquered; to her belong the spoils.

From this little distorted sketch we note that our wee nymph is more social than intellectual. This is really not uncommon and practically rules out the possibility of platonic friendship on the college campus. However, studies are not completely neglected by the coed, because she

Frisbee's Foibles

Boom Frosh

Westminster's campus may, next week, afford psychologists a peek into the adolescent stage of youth in this atomic age. For endless study indicates October 19th as the date when freshmen will begin to free Stores of atomic energy. First symptoms, so these experts say, is wild emotional display—The words "Boom Frosh" will cause a scene of whirling, whistling "bomb" routine.

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

INJUNS

Practice teachers Harvey Anderson and Larry Wood are having hair raising experiences in teaching the third grade at Hickory high school Indian music. Big Brave Anderson introduced Big Chief Wood to the class with the instructions that any little squaws or braves who missed a question would be scalped. Plans are for a big bonfire with the teacher's desk when the little Injuns learn their music. When asked what the best Indian tribe was, one little brave answered, "The Cleveland Indians," and Big Brave Anderson could only answer, "Ugh!"

PROFESSOR'S PUNS

Dr. Carrier's psychology class had just seen a movie about giving I.Q. tests to children. She asked her students, "Why did the little girl in the movie push the block of wood across the table?" Fred George replied, "Cause her dad was a bartender." . . . Mel Moorhouse wandered through a typography lab last Monday, picked up a slug of type and commented, "So this is what they call type-casting." . . . During an art lab in which Mr. Dietz was helping Lou Cobner, Clare Brown called to her, "Teacher's pet, teacher's pet." "No they don't," replied Mr. Dietz.

THE DRAMA

One table of Fergie diners was discussing the movie, "Random Harvest." No one could remember the name of the male lead who loses his memory during the movie. "Oh, you know the one I mean," said Jean Lewis, waving her arms frantically, "He had anemia." . . . Bill Mullen, of the stage crew for "I Remember Mama," was arranging some properties on stage between scenes, when someone pulled the curtain open too soon. Bill hurried back as the curtains opened, wrapped himself up in one, and tried to keep from laughing as he stayed there during the entire scene in which Uncle Chris was dying.

TROUBLES, TROUBLES

In the Browne hall cafeteria, flustered Wilma Duff told Fred McKnight that she had lost her slip in a garbage pail. Fred was stunned, until he realized that she meant the slip of paper he had given her to be turned in for payment at the business office . . . Tom Wilson wondered why his car was traveling only seven miles to a gallon of gas. Rather than put up with the expense, he looked for the trouble and discovered that he had put his carburator in backwards . . . Jim Elder, who was sitting on the bench during the Thiel-Westminster game, leaned too far back and was kicked when cheerleader Peggy Darby did one of her high jumps.

EITHER WAY—YOU GET WET

Herr Biberich was explaining the accusative and dative cases used with prepositions to his German class. "You swim up the river in accusative and around the river in dative," he illustrated. "When do you swim in the neuder?" asked Earl Veazey.

TV IN COLOR

Not to be outdone, the Alpha Sigs had a TV antenna, but the set had not arrived. Chuck Pitcher painted some colored pictures on glass, placed a bulb behind it, and when someone asked to see their set, he invited them in and switched on the light.

Notes From The . . .

Editor's Cuff

By Glenn Hartman

Among the 171 official delegates on campus today for the inauguration are no less than 22 college presidents. They represent colleges, universities and academic societies from all over the country.

By the way, the inauguration comes as no surprise to us. We've known all along that we have a president.

It seems to be stretching things a little for tests to be given on Monday following the big weekend. Might be easier on the constitution if they could be postponed a day or two.

Twenty per cent of U.S. private colleges and universities will operate in the red this year, despite a 52 per cent rise in tuition rates over 1941-1942, according to a report in Quick magazine. How does this tuition increase compare with Westminster in the same period? Including the various fees charged in addition to tuition at that time, students here were paying an average of $150 dollars a semester. With tuition at $195 now, the rise in tuition is only about 30 per cent.

Although the Freeman science hall is first on the list of building projects, the dormitory fund is ahead by a few thousand dollars. It totals about $95,000. Ground could well be broken for it before the science building. It is undecided whether the dorm will be built for men or women.

The field house lags far behind in funds, with nothing more in the kitty than a shaky start.

Look for enrollment figures to go up next year in order to compensate for the size of the present junior class. The juniors average about 100 fewer than each of the other three classes.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Since my prediction average for the season is now .000, and it can't get much worse, I'm taking the Titans over Allegheny tomorrow in a surprise upset. Mel Moorhouse and I have collaborated on a score prediction and have decided that it will be 19-14 for a final quarter Blue and White victory. Please move over Mr. Gundelfinger . . . here we come.

Freshmen: a word of advice . . . if you are seeking the privilege of removing those dinks after the Bethany game, show the upperclassmen how to cheer tomorrow. Last week's showing was of some improvement, but the gains or losses of the team seemed to govern the cheering, not the pleadings of the cheerleaders. You freshmen were the ones who were cheering last Saturday, so let's keep it up. Maybe you can give the upperclassmen a few pointers.

Titan injuries are still mounting as we arrive at the day before the big game. In 1947 when we met Allegheny on homecoming weekend we faced the same situation . . . Joe DeMoise had a bad ankle and couldn't play, Mickey McDaniel was out of action with a knee injury, and Bill Heatley was moved from center to tackle to replace Cy Krivosh who had been hurt in the previous week's game. The 'Gators only beat us 14-0, in spite of the loss of so many stars. They have the odds in their favor, all right . . . but odds have a way of being very deceptive.

With the exception of a few loyal rooters, the number of fans at Westminster's soccer games for the last three years has been almost nil. How many of you sports fans have ever seen a soccer game? The sport has been carried on here since 1946. One of the veterans of the soccer eleven came up to me the other day with what I consider a legitimate gripe. He said, "How about mentioning in your column the fact that at most of our home games the fans can be counted on the fingers of both hands. We'd like a little noise coming from our side of the field once in a while," he added. "It's getting pretty bad when the opposing team's cheering section is bigger than our own at a home game." . . . and he's right!!!

A round of applause goes to the freshmen on the cross-country team who, without much experience, have managed to even up their season's record with one win and one loss. They took a close one from an experienced Gannon squad this week.

Sig Eps Hold Lead In Football League

Intramural league football entered its third week of play with Sigma Phi Epsilon continuing to hold its lead in the A and B leagues.

The Sigma Nus defeated the Alpha Sigs, 19-0, in an A league game Monday. The running of Jerry Simon, and the pass catching of "Tex" Curtze were outstanding for the winners, while Ed Drylie and Don Totzke starred for the losers.

In a B league game Tuesday the Alpha Sigs and College hall teams battled to a 6-6 tie. Bob Baer of the Alpha Sigs and Ted Smith of College hall scored for their respective teams.

With Russ Koch, Johnny Wilson, and Harvey Conners scoring touchdowns, the Sig Eps tripped the Sigma Nus, 19-12, in a B league game Wednesday. Dick Kronk and Norm Shirey scored TDs for the losers.

Titans Hold Thiel To 7-7 Stalemate

Sprinting 19 yards for Westminster's only score, Dick Wharton climaxed an 87 yard drive in the final period of Saturday's game to tie Thiel, 7-7, in the best display of power the Titans have turned in this year.

Wharton, big ground-gainer for the Titans all afternoon, scored on a play through the center of the Tomcat line. Champ Barthelson's attempt for the extra point was good, which proved to be the deciding factor of the game.

Bob Himmelman, Tomcat end, took a 15-yard pass from quarterback Jack Desport in the second period and scored standing up for Thiel's only score. Their extra point was kicked by Roy Moss.

Titans Threaten

The Titans made a strong bid in the final minutes of play but could not penetrate far enough into Thiel's defense to score again. After taking the ball on downs just after making their TD, the Titans showed their best offensive power of the afternoon. On eight consecutive running plays they rolled up four first downs. Here they bogged down when they took to the air.

Field Goal Fails

A field goal was attempted by the Tomcat's big tackle, Roy Moss, but fell short. This was the first three pointer attempted here this year.

George Watto, Brady Mitchell, and Harry Sample sparked the Titan defense while Dick Wharton, Dick Sylvester, Paul Campbell, and Vic Bianchi carried the brunt of offensive play. Bianchi caught all three of the Titan's passes.

Titans Play Host To 'Gator Eleven At Homecoming

Hetzler Shifts Backs To Replace Benyon; Face Veteran Squad

With the injury jinx still riding their shoulders, the Westminster Titans will meet the Allegheny 'Gators tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. before an expected capacity Homecoming crowd.

The 'Gators will come here with virtually the same team that won six games while losing only one last year. Last week Allegheny avenged that lone defeat by beating Oberlin, 21-20.

First playing in 1899, Westminster and Allegheny have met 37 times with the locals winning 13, losing 20, and tying four. Last year the 'Gators won, 14-0, at Meadville.

Wharton At Fullback

Coach Mel Hetzler has announced that his regular left halfback, Dick Wharton, will sub for the injured Bob Benyon at fullback with either Paul Campbell, who played fullback last week, or freshman Larry Verone replacing Wharton. Benyon suffered a severe "charley horse" in the Juniata game two weeks ago and will be unable to play tomorrow. The fullback position will be nothing new for Wharton, who was a regular at that position last year.

Another casualty of the Juniata contest, defensive tackle Jack Ramsey, will be out of action again this week because of a knee injury. Guard Jim Cooley, who saw limited action last week due to an injury suffered in pre-season practice is in top shape for tomorrow's game, as is end Fritz Evanoff who was hampered by an injured leg last week.

Daddio Coaches 'Gators

Allegheny is coached by Bill Daddio, an All-American end at Pitt during the reign of the "dream backfield." Daddio served as end coach at Pitt and played for the Buffalo Bisons of the All-America football conference before going to Allegheny in 1947.

The visitors will field a letterman at every position. A big gun in the Gold and Blue's attack is quarterback Norm Baker who is playing his fourth year as a regular. At fullback will be Bob Teitt, a former Pitt letterman. Operating at the halfback positions will be two speedsters, Jerry Watson and Chuck Reimer.

Thinclads Win, Lose; Meet Pitt, Geneva

With a nucleus of only two veterans, an inexperienced Titan cross-country squad lost to a superior Case team last Saturday, 39-16, on Cleveland's 3.88 mile Wade Park course.

Ralph Foster and Dick Wakefield are the only returning lettermen from last year's squad which won one and lost four. Among the freshmen Francis Legge and Bob Smith showed much promise, according to Coach Burry.

Defeat Gannon

Last Wednesday the Blue and White runners traveled to Erie where they ran against the Gannon college hill and dalers and eked out a last-minute 30-25 victory.

Although Ralph Foster and Frank Legge came in two and three respectively, it remained for Pherson and Smith to put on a final spurt and come in seven and eight, with the winning points.

Guests Of Panthers

Tomorrow the cross-country team will travel to Pitt for a triangular meet with Pitt and Geneva. After the meet the three teams and their coaches and managers will be the guests of the Panthers at the Pitt-Miami game.

Journalists Consider Steel Strike Coverage

Journalism 251 is carrying on a six-week program of studying the steel strike.

Each day all material concerning the steel strike is clipped and considered for its importance and placement in the paper as the strike continues. The strike articles are being clipped from The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

At the end of six weeks the strike will be considered for its significance to the various college departments.

Harv Manley, assistant professor of political science will present the political significance of the steel strike. Alice K. Schuster, assistant professor of history, will explain the historical importance of the strike. The strike from the standpoint of good English and cultural development will be discussed by John H. Forry, assistant professor of English.

Librarian Announces Fine Notice Revision

McGill library will send out notices of book fines at six-week intervals this year instead of at semester end as in previous years, it has been announced by Miss Mabel Koher, head librarian.

Overnight books on reserve will be due at 9 a.m. the following day. The library will open at 7:50 a.m. The fine on overnight reserve books is 15 cents the first hour, and 10 cents for each additional hour that the book is overdue.

Two-week books have an overdue assessment of two cents a day. When the fine is not paid upon return of the book, a ten cent tax will be added.

Hell Week Will Begin (Continued from Page 1)

in block letters. On Wednesday each frosh will get at least 50 separate signatures of seniors, on Thursday 50 junior names on a second card, and on Friday 50 sophomore names, on a third card. All these cards must be worn to Tribunal in the gym Friday evening, Oct. 21, at which time roll call will be taken. The men, who will not be permitted to shave before Tribunal, can do so Friday night because of the dance following Tribunal. Before Friday night there will be no coeducation.

The co-chairmen of Hell week have also made known the daily regulations. On all three days the coeds will wear two black stockings, plus one high heeled and one flat heeled shoe. They are not permitted to wear jewelry, put up hair or wear lipstick or nail polish.

Women To Wear Pigtails

Wednesday will find the freshman women with seven pigtails, their books in a wastebasket, and lipstick on the tip of the nose, chin, and a dot on either cheek.

On Thursday they must part their hair in the middle and plaster it down, carry two stuffed animals, and wear their clothes inside out and backwards. This excludes sweaters. On the last day, Friday, women will wear plaid skirts above the knee, a sweater that definitely clashes with the skirt, and a green ribbon around the throat. This time books will be carried in a suitcase.

Men To Wear Skirts

The freshman men, on the other hand, follow these regulations. Two sweaters, a skirt, and a head scarf, plus complete facial and leg make-up, will be worn Wednesday. The men will not carry their suitcases on this day. Thursday finds the clothes inside out and backwards, odd shoes and odd socks, complete facial make-up, and an apple, which must be carried at all times. That night the men will answer roll call at 8:30 in front of Old Main and should be prepared to "pray for rain."

As their last bit of hell, the men on Friday will wear two pairs of pants, only one of which may be dungarees, with the outside pants-leg rolled up to the knees. In addition, they will wear a dress shirt backwards and carry a clock.

Argo Will Post Sheet For Yearbook Pictures

Argo will post a sheet in Old Main Monday, Oct. 17, and Tuesday, Oct. 18, in order that students may sign up for individual pictures to be taken for the 1951 yearbook. Pictures will be taken beginning Oct. 31 through Nov. 11.

Fellowship Speaker To Talk On Preparation

Jean Hollingsworth, an Inter-Varsity Fellowship speaker, will address CYF this Sunday evening on "The Necessity for Preparation." Wilma Duff will be the devotional leader for the meeting, beginning at 6:20 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

By means of two competing teams, CYF has started a contest to gain members.

Team one, the Sad Sacks, is headed by Chuck Jackson and Bob Garvin. Bob Rounce and Paul Fenwick have charge of the Stumbling Schmoos of team two.

The contest is being run as a baseball world series, with "play-offs" and "broadcasts" staged during the meetings.

YM Banquet Will Climax Membership Campaign

Representatives of YMCA will be in the halls of Old Main Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday to take the names of the members who are planning to attend the banquet Oct. 26.

Rosey Roswell, announcer of Pittsburgh Pirates baseball games, will be featured as toastmaster on the program which will climax a two week membership campaign.

Any man interested in joining YMCA can obtain membership cards from the representatives on the announced dates.

Outing Club Will Admit Men Into Organization

Outing club will admit men to membership, according to the new constitution ratified at the first meeting held this year.

Future plans for the club include a girls' football game which will probably be between the freshmen and upperclassmen. Proceeds of the game will be appropriated for a fund for a cabin.

Dance Highlights

Jim Fudge, baritone, has been chosen to sing "It Is Enough" and Alice Ann Eppley, soprano, to sing "Hear Ye, Israel" both from the oratorio "Elijah" by Mendelssohn.

CYF will meet at 6:20 p.m. to hear Jean Hollingsworth speak on "Necessity for Preparation." The Sunday chapel service at 7:45 will feature an address by Dr. Bruce Wilson, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The student committee in charge of Autumn Weekend includes Duff Brown, general chairman, Bob Carbeau, chairman of the Dance of the Year, Bobbie Estep, chairman for Saturday events, and Marge Foster, Sunday chairman.

Target Members Serve As Hostesses At Tea

Members of Target will act as hostesses at the inauguration tea this afternoon.

Saturday they will join with Cwens to serve cider and doughnuts at Browne hall after the game with Allegheny. Target will sell centennial plates as souvenirs during Homecoming weekend.

Prof. Collins Announces Chemistry Assistants

Robert Como, junior, Thomas Waite, and Donald Pritchard, both sophomores, have been chosen as undergraduate chemistry assistants, according to Dr. J. O. Collins, chairman of the chemistry department.

Mrs. Marietta A. Eckland, secretary for the Science hall, will continue as graduate assistants.

Dr. Collins recently attended the American Chemical Society convention in Atlantic City. He participated in the section on chemistry education.

Groups Begin Use Of Des Moines Plan

Use of the Des Moines plan for weekday religious education is the latest addition to activities of the Christian groups on campus.

Students already under training in the methods of this program include a group of four who will be ready to head an observation school the first Wednesday in November in the Second United Presbyterian church of New Castle. They are John Rock, Percy Hall, Marge Anderson, and Nancy Shane.

This observation school will furnish the means by which pastors of churches in the area will be able to acquire a working knowledge of the methods employed under the system.

Widely known as the Youth Training program, the Des Moines plan was originated under the leadership of President Will Orr during his pastorate at the Westminster United Presbyterian church, Des Moines, Iowa.

Its purpose is to promote better understanding of the church among children between the ages of 10 and 15.

Biologists Will Travel

Seven members of the bacteriology class will travel to Jameson Memorial hospital in New Castle to observe laboratory techniques next week.

ell, John Thomas, and Dot Elder was handled a little stiffly at times perhaps, but still with the genuine feeling of the close family. Phyl was more at ease in her study than within the play itself.

Domineering Aunt Jenny as portrayed by Ruth Devlin was a fine performance including the dynamic gestures of bossy people. Following in the wake of Aunt Jenny, Aunt Sigrid, viz. Norma Williams, astounded the audience momentarily by the outsize shape of her nose. Unhindered by her most prominent face makeup, Norma fluttered and whined around the stage in a fairly convincing manner.

To all of the cast goes a large bouquet for giving a fine performance and an enjoyable evening's entertainment to their audience.

Lighting, excellent makeup, and good direction helped make "I Remember Mama" a success. Though the movement between the scenes was slow, the underlying current of hard work was there.

The performers amateurs? Perhaps, but as Katrin did we'll remember Mama, too.

Frosh To Perform Punishment Stunts At Gym Tribunal

Council Plans Dancing After Stunt Program; Athletes Will Paddle

Freshman Tribunal will get underway tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the gymnasium with a program of stunts to punish alleged freshman offenders of Hell week regulations.

Following the Tribunal's judgments dancing will be held in the gymnasium until 11:30 p.m.

Tribunal will consist of all the members of Student Council. Duff Brown, president of the Council, and Chuck Gerrish will officiate during the stunts program.

Paddle duties will be handled by representatives from Block W, the major sports' lettermen's organization, and representatives from the minor sports.

Freshmen will wear jeans to the Tribunal and will have the signatures on their name cards checked by Tribunal members.

Phyllis Brasher and Chuck Gerrish are co-chairmen for Tribunal and Hell week.

Over 1200 Hear Inaugural Speech

Colleges of America must take a greater part in absolving the world of "danger and fear," declared Dr. Will W Orr in his inaugural address last Friday in Wallace Memorial chapel before an audience of more than 1,200 people.

"Someday, somewhere, and let us pray soon, a great light will break upon the minds of confused and bewildered peoples and nations," the new president affirmed. "It may well begin on a college campus."

Dr. Orr then pledged his efforts to the end that Westminster students, faculty, and alumni would make their contributions to the molding of a better world.

"God never meant nations to live in fear and distrust," he said, "He never meant for the flower of youth to be offered in sacrifice to the god of war."

Dr. James M. Ferguson, who invested Dr. Orr with the president's office, charged the president to "bind up the testimony of God's promise so securely together that it will not be lost, and seal the law of God upon the consciences and behavior of those committed to your care."

Speaking at the afternoon convocation Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida, spoke on the liberal arts college and what it is expected to contribute to the modern world.

"Colleges and universities must contribute to the stability of society and its institutions," he said.

Bandleader Crowns Pat McClure Homecoming Queen At Dance Of Year

Pat McClure, sophomore secretarial science major from New Wilmington, was crowned Homecoming queen by Elliot Lawrence during intermission at the Dance of the Year, Oct. 14.

The queen and her court were paraded during half time of the Westminster-Allegheny game Saturday on a float constructed by the Interfraternity Council. Members of her court included Sally Snyder, Harriet Eisenbeis, Thelma Bennett, Phyllis Williams, Natalie McKenzie, and Barbara Cloud.

Also during the half, awards were presented to winners in the house decoration contest judged Saturday morning. The Alpha Sig's won first place for the fraternities by transforming their house into an old woman's shoe. A featured highlight of their display was the use of moving figures.

The freshmen women commercialized on radio jingles to win the best dormitory prize for Browne hall.

Radio Guild Will Vote To Receive Members

Voting on applicants for Collegians' Guild of the Air will be held after auditions have been completed. New members will be received into the organization Nov. 1.

Applicants who have not auditioned should consult the audition schedule on the speech bulletin board. Applicants who cannot appear at the appointed time are requested to sign their names at the bottom of the schedule list.

Material for the auditions will be provided at the speech studio in the library. Auditions are being held for announcing, narrating, and dramatic work.

Bethany Tilt To Decide Fate Of Frosh Dinks

Westminster must win the football game tomorrow with Bethany or the freshmen will have to wear their dinks until Thanksgiving, Duff Brown, president of Student Council has announced.

In case of a tie freshmen will still be required to wear their dinks until Thanksgiving.

Debaters Number 25; More May Join Squad

Twenty-five students have turned out for this year's debate team, Melvin Moorhouse, debate coach, has announced.

Students who wish to join the team may do so next week by notifying Mr. Moorhouse in the speech office, Old Main.

Round-robin tournaments are being scheduled at the University of Pittsburgh for women and at Carnegie Tech for the men in the near future.

Outing Club Schedules Wednesday Supper Hike

Outing club will travel to college woods for a supper hike Wednesday, Oct. 26.

The group, which recently elected to accept men into membership, will meet in front of the gymnasium at 5 p.m. A 25 cent charge will be made.

Sign-up sheets will be posted in all dormitories.

Cwens Will Give Party For Freshman Women

Cwens will give a party for all freshman women Wednesday, Oct. 26, from 9:30 to 10:30 p.m. in Browne hall lounge.

Entertainment has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

Cleveland Writer Looks At Israel

"A Gentile Looks at Israel" is the topic of Spencer Irwin who will speak Monday, Oct. 24, at 8:15 p.m. in the chapel. This will be the second program of the lecture series.

Mr. Irwin is associate editor and foreign affairs columnist of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. He has recently returned from a visit to the Near East.

International Relations club and "30" club will hold a tea for the speaker at 4:15 p.m. Monday in the faculty lounge of McGill Memorial library. The two groups are sponsoring Mr. Irwin's lecture.

Fraternities Recall History; See Position, Responsibilities

By Jim Canan

On Westminster's campus, the names Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Alpha Sigma Phi connote the stability, organization, and tradition of national fraternities. Within reason, these fraternities are permitted to dictate their own policies, so long as they abide by the liberal rules ordained by the school.

In other words, they are progressive fraternities of college men, able to enjoy the present and plan for the future, safe within the sanctions of their environment. Behind them stand their national headquarters, their school, and their alumni. To what do they owe the security that is theirs? Did the present fraternities just "happen" at Westminster?

A tolerant, child-soothing smile would be your answer should you ask this question of any member of the early eating clubs. He would recall those days between 1852 and 1921, when Westminster adjudged Greek fraternities "un-Christian." Whether he had been a Van, Kelly, Crescent, or Neshannock club member, he would have known the courage it took to be a fraternity man

U.P. Youth Leader Will Lead Students In Religious Week

Powell, Reed Will Act As Week Co-Chairmen; Hopkins Will Advise

Marge Powell and Glenn Reed will serve as co-chairmen for Religious Emphasis week Nov. 13 to Nov. 20 featuring the Rev. Dr. Lee Walker, former paratroop chaplain and at present head of young peoples' work in the United Presbyterian church, as main speaker.

Joseph Hopkins, instructor of Bible, will serve as general advisor for the week.

Members of the general planning committee are Frank Thom, vets' barracks; Don Lammers, Life Service; Bill Meyers, YMCA; Caroline Cox, CYF; Sue Nolph, Alpha Gamma Delta; Betty Ann Etter, Beta Sigma Omicron; Phyllis Brasher, Chi Omega; Jo Foster, Kappa Delta; Isy Tidd, Sigma Kappa; Joan Henry, Theta Upsilon; Gloria Lorentz, Quadrangle; John Peterson, Alpha Sigma Phi; Paul Fenwick, Sigma Nu; Dick Specker, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Lois Matthews, Student Council; Jim Case, Holcad; Renie Carlson, Browne hall; Walt Cleary, College hall; Dorothy Roberts, Ferguson hall; Jean Bauder, Jeffers hall; John Cutler, Commuters; Jim Canan, Argo; and Jim Clinefelter, Karux.

Other faculty advisors are Dr. Mary Purdy, Donald O. Cameron, Paul E. Brown, Harry Manley, Walter Biberich, C. Robert Kelly, Charles Dietz, and George Collins.

Exhibition Depicts Sculpture Pictures

Varied Subjects Range From Real To Abstract

Photographs showing contemporary trends in sculpture comprise the art exhibit now being displayed in the exhibition room of McGill Memorial library.

The exhibition, sent by the Museum of Modern Art, New York, shows the sensations and interpretations of various subjects by contemporary sculptors.

The exhibit consists of four groups. The first deals with the human figure, ranging from classical to abstract forms. The second group displays abstract forms of various subjects, while the third group shows portraits ranging from realistic to abstract impressions. Group four is a series of constructions, abstracts, employing brass, lead, copper, iron, steel, glass, plastic, string, marble, and bronze.

One of the outstanding works displayed is the bust of George Bernard Shaw by Jacob Epstein.

Improve Honoraries

A VITAL NEED on our campus is some method for improving the programs of our various honoraries and other extracurricular organizations. With more planning and energy, most of these organizations could go much further towards filling the goals they set up for themselves, and thus fill valuable needs in college training.

To help the organizations function better, a group of representatives met last spring and discussed how they could help each other to build smoother running systems. This group brought out several suggestions for the problem, in addition to suggestions as to how honoraries can be of more service and value to members as well as non-members.

Now the group has drawn up a constitution and presented to President Orr a request for approval of an inter-honorary council to function in such capacities as those mentioned. We urge speedy approval of the measure, so that the group can begin work immediately.

Notice Requested

IT'S TOUGH TO BE a frosh, think the frosh.

But think of all the attention they're drawing. If seniors received so much attention they'd probably never think of graduating.

But while we're discussing "attention", what about upperclassmen receiving some unsolicited attention from the frosh? Too many freshmen are failing to come out with a friendly "Hi" when passing upperclassmen.

Oh, well, maybe Tribunal will help us get better acquainted.

The Feud Returns

THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN. Nature's traditional conflict between the sexes seems to have broken into fury with the publication of Jack Shepherd's article last week. In fact, the Holcad is roundly criticized in a letter this week for even printing such an onslaught.

To ease the pain among our female segment, we've arranged to print a feminine version of the facts next week, written by a woman member of our staff.

Sing Men, Sing

MALE VOCAL TALENT in the music department has outlets in various musical organizations such as the a capella choir and the all college choir. These, of course, are excellent experience, and provide good music for their audiences.

It would be nice, however, if we had a male chorus to correspond to the women's glee club. This would not only provide a new variety of music for listeners, but would also help musicians by broadening the scope of musical activities.

Textbooks Help In Exams

By Hugh Robinson

Textbooks, not to be confused with Don Book, are about to come into their own around campus. Jack Fowble's charges, after acting as dandy dust collectors for the best part of September and October have finally been opened by their wayward owners. The reason—those six-week tests are at hand.

Since school began we have been noticing the increasing piles of books in the Tub and other hiding places such as the library cloak room and the lockers in Old Main. However, these stacks are now disappearing as each text wanders off clutched to the bosom of its sometimes reluctant master. Although this phenomenon appears at regular intervals it somehow fails to arouse the comment which we think it deserves.

Therefore we, that's the editorial "we", are launching a campaign to make October 24th to 28th "BE KIND TO YOUR TEXTBOOKS WEEK."

Have you ever thought about the life which these poor creatures lead? Pity the poor unfortunate French book that right now is reposing in the Tub. Helmut Dantine (that's my name for the book and it may be translated "there's gum on your hat") is up at the crack of dawn, well anyway 7:30. While Charmaine and Sally work vigorously to satisfy a ravenous horde of students, poor Helmut is forced to sit back and be content with the crummy end of everything. On good days the glaze from a glazed doughnut may fall his way, but this is a far cry from the exquisite Parisienne cuisine on which he was raised. Soon after this meager meal he is assailed by weird noises emanating from the jukebox, which to him must appear monstrous in size. As if this were not enough, all day long he must listen to the babble of a foreign tongue that obviously grates upon his sensitive ears. Why he doesn't even get to class once in a while to hear the melodious tones of Miss Ligo or Dr. Stagg.

The crushing blow has not yet arrived but will as soon as the snows come. Then to add insult to injury snow laden coats will be hung directly above his resting place and he will be subjected to Westminster's version of the old Chinese water torture as the fluffy stuff slowly melts and comes drip by cold drip down on his well-bound sides.

Up on top of the lockers outside the speech office in Old Main there is another sad-eyed specimen of the textbook world. This one, poor soul, was theoretically created as a chemistry lab manual. Zimcoloff (to be translated by the reader) has only been to lab once. It seems that some flippant fate ordained it this way so Zimcoloff just sits, almost within sight of his goal, and pines with every molecule of his being for just one whiff of sulphur dioxide.

When Zim was only a gleam in Dalton's eye he had hopes of taking his place alongside Al Capp's Kigmies. For you see above all else he loves to have the pages torn right out of him. In fact to make the job easier he's perforated on every leaf. Alas, the fates would not have it, so there he is sound of wind, limb, and pages while some more asthetic book is scraped, scribbled on and finally erased from the very face of this earth.

Is it then a wonder that we cry out for "BE KIND TO TEXTBOOKS WEEK?" Somehow, someplace may you find in the depths of your heart a little compassion for these our misunderstood brethren and next week repeat aloud to yourself our slogan, "Paper bound, leather bound, or unbound—You may be heavy, you may be dull, but please enlighten this poor thick skull."

Frisbee's Foibles

Graduates ?

The collegiate delegation
At last week's inauguration
Looked so dignified in cap and gown and hood,
That surprise and consternation
Greeted campus infiltration
Of another capped and hooded brotherhood.

For their constant flippant chatter,
Makeup which refused to flatter,
Bright contrasting hues of cap and hood and gown,
Style reversals, plus the matter
Of their songs which served to shatter
Quietude from College hall to Browne.

And, in short, their contribution
Of complete uncouth confusion,
Destitute of either dignity or grace
Makes us ask, "Which institution,
'Kiddie Tech' or 'Evolution',
Sponsored delegates of this year's freshman race?"

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

CROSS COUNTRY CRISES

"What was keeping you?" Coach Burry asked when Walt Legge and Bill Pherson trailed in at the Pitt-Westminster cross country meet last Saturday. "We followed the wrong set of arrows," was the reply. The fellows had followed another runner who didn't know the course, and they overran it 300 feet . . . . When questioned about the cleats on his soccer shoes, Don Kirsopp asked in amazement, "Cleats, what are they?" He had one cleat on each shoe.

BROWNE HALL BLAZE

In the excitement that followed the fire started by a Browne hall lounge radio, Beth Holmes grabbed her evening gown before dashing from her room. Half asleep, Sally McNally muttered, "They've burned breakfast again," later was seen dragging her huge, blue stuffed deer to safety. Jane Barthel insisted that she didn't want to go on the breakfast hike when she was awakened, and Genevieve Castadale threw all her clothes on a sheet and carried them out of the building on her back. Barbara Warner planned to tell her Math teacher that her paper had burned in the fire, and Caroline Stott complained, "I'll bet the boys wouldn't even miss us if we burned up." Custodian Everett's classic comment—"Must have been a mighty hot record on that machine."

SLEEPY

Doris Peterson and Jim Fudge, who entertained at the inaugural banquet last Friday, had a long wait before it was their turn to sing. "Are they serving the dessert yet?" Doris asked Jim.

"Yes," moaned Jim, "And five speeches yet."

"Spiced peaches?" asked Doris. "I thought they served spiced peaches in the salad."

BZZ! BZZ!

It was half time at the Homecoming game. John Lewis, president of the Alumni, was speaking. The crowd was silent. A coed from Allegheny, seeing a friend about 10 rows up in the stands, whispered to her, "Nonny's pinned." "What?" "Nonny's pinned," the girl repeated. There was a shriek, "Nonny's pinned," her friend shouted. As the choice bit of news spread through the crowd, people stood and applauded shouting, "Nonny's pinned!"

FAMILY PROBLEM

A sociology class was discussing family relationships and how teenagers and their parents could continue their friendships when the children started dating. "Why not take teenagers and their dates along on picnics with the family?" it was suggested. "There was her father, her mother, her sister . . . ." sang Mr. Lathrope . . . . As Dick Fuhrer examined a magazine drawing of Neanderthal man a voice bellowed, "Hey, Fuhrer, how'd you get in 'Life'?"

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Holcad:

We were surprised that Westminster's newspaper, which boasts an All-American rating, would print such a feature as was printed in this week's Holcad. The article we are referring to is "Styles Change, Women Don't" by Jack Shepherd.

Here we will not go into detail to describe the different parts of it, but it was disgusting enough to arouse our personal dignity.

We have questioned many girls in Ferguson and few even know Mr. Shepherd by sight, so when he speaks of coeds in general he should be better acquainted with their habits.

The short concluding paragraph hardly compensates for the material found previously.

Disgustedly yours,

A Group of Indignant Ferguson Coeds

Editor's Note: The writer of the article waits table in Ferguson hall dining room.

Editor, The Holcad:

Congratulations to the Holcad feature writer who so courageously sounded the alarm against the subtle and calculated encroachment of the coed into the tranquil life of our college. Like Tom Paine, John Locke, and Montesquieu, this writer possesses a rare gift which enables him to look behind the hurly-burly of contemporaneous events to perceive great social forces at work; and what is more important, he possesses the ability to express cogently and concisely his observations.

Who among us would have thought that the seemingly innocent and lovable coed constituted so gruesome a menace, so great a threat to our security? Yet as we read the profound words of this great man, we cannot but be impressed with the unalterable truth of what he says.

But do not be despondent, men. All is not lost. The issue is now clearly drawn. Let us arise and meet this feminine onslaught with vigor and courage and teach these would-be tyrants that this is a man's world, and so it shall remain!

Signed,

(Male student)

by Bob

In the three years that I have been a student at Westminster I have never seen a team play ball like the Titans did last Saturday. In my estimation it was great. No one player or group of players could be named as standouts. A Westminster TEAM played throughout the game and the 'Gators knew they had been in a tussle. Without attempting to apologize or alibi for last week's prediction, I firmly believe that the Titans were at least two touchdowns better than Allegheny . . . and I think that belief was proven beyond a doubt to all who witnessed the contest. It was a job well done, and if the same thing happens this week the freshmen won't have to worry about wearing those dinks until Thanksgiving.

And now for this week's prediction. I'm taking the Titans (as usual) over the Bisons in a close contest . . . now laugh. I think they can do it, especially if the scores keep coming in groups of two as they have been: two defeats, two ties, and . . . ? ? ? ?

This business of history repeating itself is getting to be hard on my ulcers. That soccer game last Friday afternoon was a real thriller. The Grovers made their goal with only one minute and thirty-five seconds remaining in the regular playing time. The Burrymen kicked off and took exactly thirty seconds to score a goal, after spending the better part of four quarters trying to get the ball past a superb Grove City defense. The two overtime periods served to increase the tension, and this typewriter jockey lost his voice in the process.

The cheering is improving. Last Saturday the cheerleaders got a lot of cooperation and it all sounded very well. But the smaller Allegheny rooting section equalled Westminster's cheering in volume. This should not be. Tomorrow will be the last home game for the Titans this year and will also be the last time for all you fans to cheer for them en masse. Give it a real go this time.

The intramural football league competition is really tough this year. You can spot the participants a mile away. Most of them just manage to get to classes after a game. If you don't think it is rough, come over and watch. Those boys play for keeps.

Gridders Surprise Undefeated Gators With 0-0 Deadlock

Dick Wharton Stars; Teams Fail To Show Necessary Punch

Displaying power to spare everywhere but inside their opponent's 20 yard line Westminster's Titans battled a highly-rated Allegheny college eleven to a scoreless tie before a capacity Homecoming crowd last Saturday afternoon.

Coach Mel Hetzler's gridders got off to an exciting but short lived start in the early minutes of the first quarter when Dick Wharton broke off left tackle to run from his own 29 yard line to the Allegheny 15.

Defensive Backfield Stars

Paced by the hard running of Wharton, Campbell, and Sylvester the Titans came back strong in the third quarter to march from their own 15 to the Allegheny 20 yard line. Here the Blue and White offense showed a need for a hard-driving fullback such as the injured Bob Benyon, as the locals lost the ball unable to gain enough yardage for a first down.

Late in the fourth quarter the Titans failed to take advantage of one of the big breaks of the game when Harry Sample charged into the 'Gator backfield to recover a fumbled lateral thrown by quarterback Norm Baker to halfback Dick Scibetta.

Scibetta Intercepts

Several minutes later Scibetta redeemed himself by stealing a pass out of the outstretched arms of Vic Bianchi on the Allegheny two yard stripe. A few plays later Scibetta stopped another Titan thrust by intercepting another one of Barthelsson's passes on his own 18.

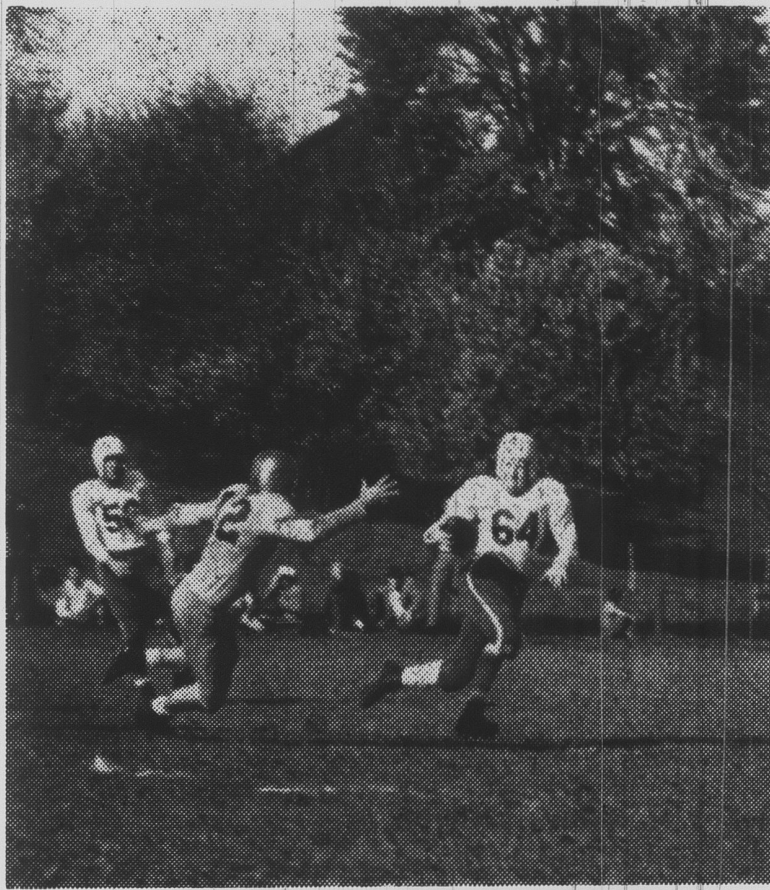

Strong defensive play by Westminster's line forced the 'Gators to punt. In the next sequence of plays the Blue and White led by Wharton brought the ball back to the Allegheny 45 yard line. Needing four yards for a first down with only a brief time remaining until the end of the game quarterback Barthelsson elected to punt rather than try for a first down.

Baker Passes

Following Barthelsson's kick into the end zone the smooth moving Baker passed from his own twenty to end Bill Jack, who raced down the right sideline into the clear. Once again it was Chuck Nicholas to the rescue. The speedy sophomore raced across from his defensive position on the left side of the field to catch Jack from behind as the final gun sounded.

It's Wharton Again . . .

Harriers Meet Bisons At Half Time Tomorrow

Coach Burry's cross-country squad will run against the Bethany Bisons tomorrow afternoon, with the meet scheduled to get underway during the half time period of the Titan-Bethany grid contest.

This is the first time since 1947 that a cross-country meet will have been run in this manner.

Sigma Nus Tie Sig Eps In A Football League

Sigma Phi Epsilon's victory streak in the intramural football league was halted as the Sigma Nus shut out the Sig Eps, 9-0, in an A league game Wednesday.

A touchdown pass from Bob Gilkey to Johnny Ellison clinched the contest for the winners in the third quarter after they had caught the Sig Eps in their own end zone early in the game for a safety.

Outstanding for the victors beside Gilkey and Ellison were speedy Simon and blocker Jim Case. Running and passing by Warren Smith and Ralph Orr led the losers' attack.

SN And SPE Tied

Sigma Nu and the Sig Eps are now tied for first place in the A league with one defeat each, but the Sig Eps hold a one game lead in the B league.

Burry Booters Tie With Grovers 1-1

In a near-repeat performance of last year's contest with the Wolverines the Titan soccer team came from behind to tie Grove City, 1-1, in two overtime periods in last Friday's home opener.

Last year's clash ended in a 0-0 tie after playing two overtime periods. After dueling for almost four periods, the Wolverines drew first blood by sending the ball over the Titan chalk line with a 15 yard shot.

Last-Minute Score

Immediately after the Westminster kickoff with one minute to go, the Blue and White forward line took the ball deep into Grove City territory where the Wolverine goalie trapped it. However, Bill Samuels, inside left, charged the goalie and the ball trickled from his hands. Sam Sloan came in from the right-wing position and guided the ball over the goal line with an assist from center-forward Alex Spisak.

Scoreless Overtime

The game ended seconds later and the teams played two five minute overtime periods, but neither squad was able to score.

This afternoon the Westminster dribblers meet undefeated Thiel at 3 p.m. Last year's encounter was a one-sided victory for Westminster as they trounced the Tomcats, 8-1.

Sig Ep B's Win

Featuring a tricky set of reverses the Sig Eps downed the Alpha Sigs, 15-7, in a B league game Monday. Bill Dahlgren and Russ Koch were outstanding for the winners, while Bob Baer and Frank Ruth were key men in the losers' attack.

In another A league game Tuesday the Alpha Sigs defeated the YMCA, 6-0. Big-gun for the winners was Ed Drylie, while Len Fudge's defensive play starred for the losers.

Titans Face Bisons In Final Grid Tilt Of Home Schedule

Expect Tough Contest; Johnson Discards "T" For Single Wing Attack

On the up-swing following last week's near-upset over Allegheny, the Blue and White will tangle with the Bethany Bisons in the last home game of the season tomorrow at 2.

After winning only one game last season, the Bisons have bounced back into the football spotlight this year to become one of the strongest teams in the tri-state area. So far this season they have defeated Davis-Elkins, 31-6, and West Virginia Wesleyan, 20-13; while losing to Carnegie Tech, 41-6, and Salem, 12-0.

Tomorrow the West Virginians will be out to avenge the 20-7 defeat they suffered from the Titans last year.

Single Wing Used

One of the big factors in the Bison rejuvenation is the fact that a single wing offense is employed exclusively this year by Bison Coach Glenn Johnson. Last year both the T formation and single wing were used.

Outstanding man in Coach Johnson's attack is triple-threat tailback Erie Antila, who is an outstanding passer. At the fullback spot is Don Levine, who performed at quarterback last season. Scatback Mill Lee, who played halfback last year, has been shifted to quarterback.

Two brothers, Ronald and Gerald Kramer share the right halfback assignments.

200 Pound Line

Averaging 200 pounds per man the Bethany line will probably be the heaviest forward wall to face the locals this year. The two tackles, Tom Wampler who weighs 215 pounds and Bernard Oakes at 220 pounds, have had a lot of experience and give the forward wall added strength.

Since no one was seriously injured in last week's contest, Coach Mel Hetzler's charges will probably be at full strength tomorrow. Only fullback Bob Beynon and tackle Jack Ramsey, who have not seen action in the past two games, are on the doubtful list.

Harriers Place Second With Pitt And Geneva

Westminster's harriers took second place in a triangular meet held last Saturday against Pitt and Geneva.

Pitt proved to be the superior team by taking first place with 15 points. Westminster scored 59 and Geneva came in last with 66 points. The meet was run on the Schenley park course in Pittsburgh.

Rockets Win

In a home game Wednesday, the Titan thinclads lost to Slippery Rock, 15-40. Slippery Rock, reputedly the best squad in the area, broke the Westminster course record of 33:10 minutes with a new time of 32:4.

Face Bethany Tomorrow

Tomorrow, the Titan harriers face Bethany at home. The meet is to be arranged to finish at the half of the football game. The Titans lost to Bethany last year and will be out to avenge this defeat.

A meeting was held recently to discuss the year's program.

Kappa Delta Pi Will Vote

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity, will consider and vote on students meeting requirements for membership at a meeting to be held Friday, Nov. 18.

Trio Scores Hit With Presentations

Musicians Sing Opera, Modern, Popular Music

An enthusiastic audience brought The Opera Trio singers back five times for encores in the chapel Tuesday evening.

The first of the year's Artist Course presentations, this trio, including Donald Dickson, baritone, Sandra Warfield, contralto, and Mae Endich, soprano, presented a program of vocal selections ranging from Mozart's "La ci Darem La Mano" from "Don Giovanni" to Cole Porter's medley from "Kiss Me Kate."

Trio Draws Encore

The program was divided into three sections, the first, operatic music, the second, modern music, and the third, a medley of popular songs. As a finale the three sang "Wunderbar," bringing an encore, "Amen" and repeated bows.

Sandra Warfield, the most animated of the singers, saddened her audience with Tchaikowski's "Adieu Foret" from "Jeanne D'Ari," and amused them with a medley of "Why Can't You Behave," "Always True to You," and "I Hate Men."

Dickson Sings Spirituals

Donald Dickson, who seemed uncomfortable in his operatic selections, was at home in the spirituals which he interpreted powerfully and well. His presentation of MacGimsey's "Down to De Rivah" brought him two encores, for one of which he sang Gershwin's "A Woman is a Sometime Thing."

The rich soprano voice of Mae Endich enhanced the soft French of "The Jewel Song" from Gounod's "Faust," with Donald Dickson, Miss Endich gave the current hit song "So In Love" a new grace.

Physics Students Attend Teacher's Conference

For the first time in recent years three students are attending the Pennsylvania conference of college physics teachers, accompanying Mr. Straw, assistant professor of physics.

Tom Eccles, Earl Veazey, and Tom Lusk are the three students majoring in physics attending the conference today and tomorrow at Penn State.

Fire Causes $400 Loss In Browne Hall Lounge

Damage estimated at $400 was caused in Browne hall lounge early Tuesday morning in a fire which started in a defectively wired radio, according to New Wilmington fire chief, George Brown. No one was injured.

The fire was discovered shortly after 3:15 a.m. by policeman Wallace McKean. He was making his rounds when he detected the fire in the downstairs lounge.

McKean summoned firemen who extinguished the blaze. Girls living in the dormitory were unaware of the fire until roused by night watchman Oscar Sipe.

The radio was completely destroyed and chairs and tables in the lounge were burned.

United States Civil service examinations for junior professional assistant and junior management assistant have been announced. These examinations are open to college seniors who will finish their studies by June 30, 1950, and are for careers in the federal service.

Positions to be filled from the junior professional assistant examination include architect, astronomer, bacteriologist, biologist, economist, food and drug inspector, geographer, geophysicist, legal assistant, mathematician, physiologist, psychologist, social science analyst, and statistician.

Positions to be filled from the junior management assistant examination are general administration, organization and procedures, budget, and personnel.

Information may be secured from the Civil Service Commission in Washington.

Deadline Announced For Anthology Entries

National poetry association headquarters announces that the closing date for their Annual Anthology of College Poetry will be Nov. 5.

Students are invited to submit verse for publication. Entries should be addressed to National Poetry association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles, 34, Cal., and must bear the author's name, home address and college attended.

Instructor Will Speak

Florence Lewis, a teacher in the Pittsburgh - Xenia seminary will speak to Life Service members in the chapel on "Worship Programs", Thursday, Oct. 27, at 7 p.m.

This is one of a series of meetings for training Gospel Team members.

Karux Initiates 18 At Formal Banquet

Karux, pre-ministerial honorary, initiated eighteen members at a formal banquet recently.

Speaker at the banquet was the Rev. Lewis Brown of the Struthers, O., United Presbyterian church.

Of the eighteen members initiated, thirteen were freshmen, four sophomores, and one a junior. Freshmen were Jerry Shave, Paul Wierman, Rodger Kenyon, Louis Davidson, Lester Phillips, Ed York, Kenneth Gordon, Darrell Yeaney, George McBridge, Edward Liddell, Bob Franklin, Bob Brown, and Jack Gimlin.

Sophomores are Tom Prosser and Don Phillips, both transfers from Geneva college, and Harold Denhart and Al Williams. The one junior is Tom McLaren, a transfer from Georgia Tech.

Dr. Will Orr, college president, and Dr. John Orr were present at the banquet.

Fraternities Recall

War I. With most of the members in the service, the clubs merged into a single group, only to re-form with new strength when the brothers returned.

In 1921, the Board of Trustees saw the futility of the restriction on Greek fraternities and removed it. That same year, the Kelly club reverted to its original name of Pi Rho Phi, organized in 1854. This local fraternity joined the ranks of Theta Upsilon Omega, a national, in 1924. The present Lambda chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon came into being when TUO merged with Delta Phi Sigma local, in 1938. The Delts had been the Neshannock club, which was organized in 1905.

The Crescent club of sub-rosa days affiliated with Phi Pi Phi national in 1927. Phi Pi Phi combined chapters with Alpha Sigma Phi national in 1939, and the latter name was adopted by the fraternity. The Alpha Sigs' chapter at Westminster is Alpha Nu.

Kappa Phi Lambda local, which became the Van Orsdel club when the frats went underground, reassumed its Greek name on campus in 1921. Sigma Nu accepted the Kaps into its brotherhood in 1947, the local fraternity becoming the Epsilon Psi chapter.

Thus, fraternities have evolved from the days of secrecy and localization to their present positions of dignity on a national scale. To the men who fought to maintain them, the stable status of the Greeks must be satisfying indeed.

Ping Pong Champs Will Exhibit Skills

Game Between Stars Will Feature Exhibition

Ping pong by Lou Pagliaro, national table tennis champion for three consecutive years, and Hamilton Canning, internationally known star, will swivel heads in the gym Friday, Nov. 4.

Titled "The World's Greatest Table Tennis Act," the exhibition will include a match between the two men, trick shots, and a game between a seated Pagliaro and a spectator. The spectator will be masked, and on cue will challenge the champion to a match.

On a coast to coast tour, the exhibitionists have performed to many luncheons, colleges, and clubs. Pagliaro has appeared in Bill Stern's commented movie shorts.

William Meyers, president of YM-CA, sponsor of the show, has announced that the price will be 50 cents, including tax. Starting time is 8 p.m. and all students are invited.

College Campaigns For New Dormitory

With the idea of having a new men's dormitory available by the fall of 1950, the college is going ahead with a private campaign for funds. Total funds now have reached almost $95,000.

The building will be named for Dr. Robert McWatty Russell, president of the college from 1906-1915.

A public drive for contributions to the Freeman Science hall project will continue in line with the building plan already laid out by the college. The plan includes also a memorial field house.

President Will Orr announced the dormitory campaign in a press conference early this week. He said the recommendation had been passed unanimously in a meeting of the board of trustees.

He described the board as being in "fine spirits."

"If I had any fears or doubts about Westminster's future, the last board meeting has gone a long way towards quelling them," he said.

He announced, too, that the board passed unanimously his recommendation to install 455 more bleacher seats for next year.

Alpha Sigs Will Sponsor Free Informal Dance

"Cathay Rendezvous," the first free, all-college, dress-up dance will be held Saturday, Nov. 5, in the gymnasium.

Sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity the dance will feature the music of Roger Jarvis' 14 piece orchestra.

Jack Wilson, social chairman of the fraternity, who is in charge of the dance, emphasized "there will be absolutely no admission charged."

Street length dresses will be correct dress for the women.

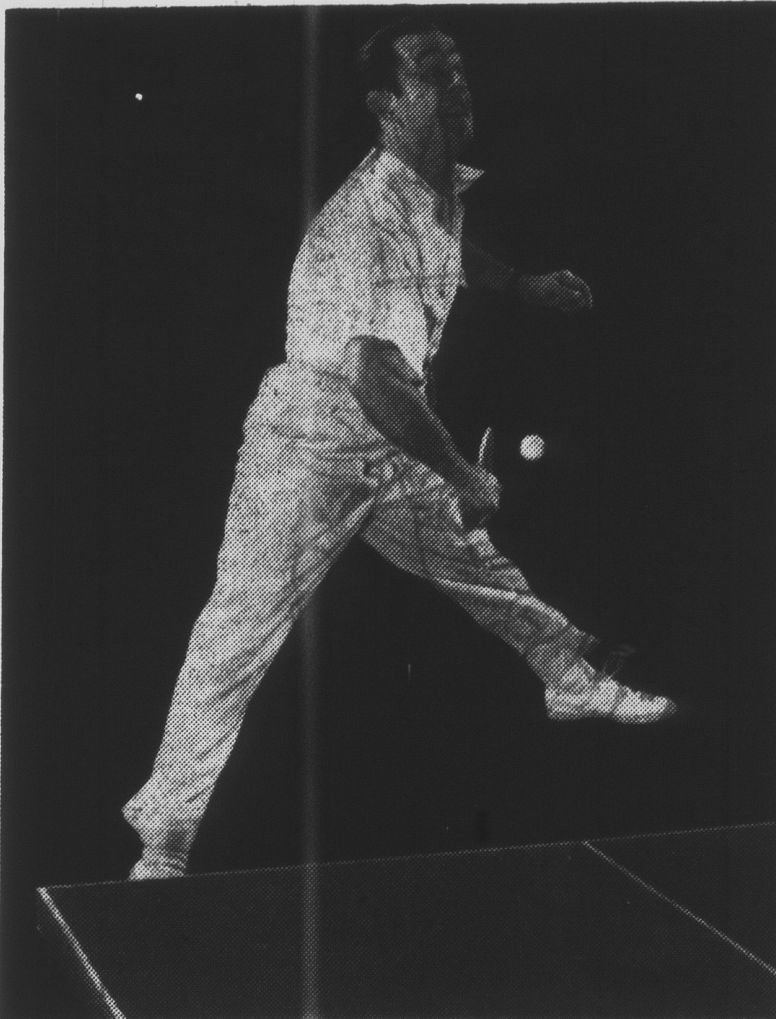

Chuck Pitcher will be the master of ceremonies at the intermission entertainment. Art Schreiber, fire eater and magician, the Statesmen quartet, and Bill "Hoagy" Dumbaugh are the featured performers.

CGA Members Advance

Six former members of the Collegians Guild of the Air have gained enough points to qualify them for membership in the Westminster Radio Workshop.

They are Jack Griffith, Joel Melinger, Mina Belle Packer, Marjorie Rollman, Russell Sperry, and Bill Steadman.

Ping Pong Champ In Action

Lou Pagliaro, national table tennis champ, takes to the air for a backhand shot. Pagliaro will appear here with another table tennis star, Hamilton Canning, Friday, Nov. 4.

Council Announces Frat Rush Rules

Interfraternity council has announced that fraternity rushing dates are from Oct. 24 to Dec. 15.

Rush parties will be given by Sigma Nu Tuesday, Dec. 6, by Alpha Sigma Phi Thursday, Dec. 8, and by Sigma Phi Epsilon Friday, Dec. 9.

Pledging invitations will be given out Monday Dec. 12 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Silent period will begin at 6 p.m. Monday, Dec. 12 and will end at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 13.

Freshmen will be allowed in fraternity houses for meals from Monday, Oct. 31 through Friday, Dec. 2.

Alpha Gams Will Hold Party For Sororities

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will hold an open house for all sororities Monday, Nov. 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. at which they will serve coffee and brownies.

The committee includes Mitzi Patterson, chairman, Phil Williams, Norma Williams, Noreen Stegailov, and Ann Osterhout.

A Poll Indicates . . .

Most Upperclass Men Want More Frats

By Bill Anderson

"Do YOU think there should be more fraternities on Westminster's campus?" When asked this question, 76 upperclass men answered "yes," while only four men replied "no." Of these 80, there were 20 from each of the fraternities, Sigma Nu, Alpha Sig, and Sig Ep, and 20 unaffiliated.

Then this question was put to each man, "Why do you think we need more fraternities on campus?" Of all the answers given, three reasons for the addition of more fraternities predominated, reduce the sizes of the present organizations, give more men the chance to join, and cut down friction between existing fraternities.

Of the 20 Sig Eps questioned, only one was against the formation of a new fraternity. He argued that there was a need at one time but that the

Theatre To Cut Prices On 'Red Shoes' Show

Westminster theatre will offer reserved seats for the movie "Red Shoes," at a special student price of 90 cents Thursday, Nov. 3, from 9:30 to noon. Student council will have charge of sales.

The picture is scheduled for Nov. 7 and 8. There may be matinees in addition to the regular evening performances.

Freshman Class Elects Council Representatives

Peg Darby, Art Menno, and Ken Gordon were recently elected to Student Council from the freshman class.

Bob Crawford was appointed to fill the vacancy left by William Duff, representing the Independent men.

Student Council announced that election of class officers will be held the week of Nov. 5. Chuck Nicholas will be chairman of the election committee.

Little Theatre, Conservatory Will Present 'Black Arrow'

Barbe, Cameron To Direct Musical Production; Groups Will Offer Show In Community House

"Black Arrow", a musical comedy written by Joseph Hopkins, Bible instructor, will be presented Nov. 10, 11, and 12 in the Community house by the Little Theatre and the music conservatory.

This is the Little Theatre's annual premier production and will be the largest dramatic undertaking of the year. Approximately 100 students will be associated with the production.

MacArthur To Handle Dancing

The play will be directed by Donald A. Barbe, acting head of the speech department. Donald O. Cameron, head of the music department, will have charge of the chorus and orchestra. Vocal instruction will be handled by Alan B. Davis and Miss Alice Long of the conservatory. David MacArthur, speech instructor, will direct the dancing, and Miss Helen Cushman, speech instructor, will be in charge of costumes.

Melvin Moorhouse, speech instructor, will handle business and publicity, and Ed Gallagher will take charge of scene design and stage managing. Orchestrations for the production were written by Mrs. Joseph Hopkins.

Fudge, Jones To Sing Lead

Members of the cast are James Fudge and Art Jones, Richard Shelton; Alyce Ann Eppley and Judy Wilkinson, Joan Sedley; Croy Pitzer, Sir Daniel; Emery Ashley, Sir Oliver; Jean Lewis and Phyllis Hartman, Mme. Bouillon; William Dembaugh, Bennet Hatch; Ruth Vogan, Goody Hatch; Robert Horvitz, Duckworth; Allan Yeo, Appleyard; William Mullin, Clipsby; Harry Bowen, Pawlin.

Paul Talley, innkeeper; John Gimplin, Condall; Marianne Bartlett, Nance; Charles Jackson, first archer; Ray Conner, second archer; Dorothy Snider and Nancy Hibbs, pages; Norma Williams, first woman; and Isabella Cooper, second woman.

The male chorus of Sir Daniel includes Bill Mullin, Bill Dembaugh, Frank Darby, Don Drugmond, Hoover Yount, Don Cuthier, James King, Roger Jarvis, Percy Hall, and Ray Conner.

Members of the Black Arrow male chorus are Harry Bowen, Charles Jackson, William Horowicz, Bennett Fluke, Elwin Bentley, Ray Op't Hof, Robert Gunnet, and Bob Boone.

In the women's chorus are Marion

Evans Will Present Organ Program

James W. Evans, associate professor of organ, will present an organ recital in Wallace Memorial chapel at 8:15 p.m., Monday, Oct. 31.

The first portion of the recital will consist of the numbers "Toccata in E Minor," "Blessed be Thou, Lord Jesus," by Pachelbel; "Allegro," from Concerto IV, by Handel; and "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," by Bach. "Chorale Prelude and Fugue," by Brahms, and "Variations on Weinen Klagen," by Liszt will comprise the second part.

To conclude, Mr. Evans will play the "Symphony No. 1" Chorale, Sherzo, and Allegro, by Vierno.

Geneva Will Pay For Damage Here

Paint, Theft Mar Scene; Police Catch Four Men

Geneva college has promised to pay for the damage done by its students to Westminster's campus this week. Dr. Charles Lee, president of Geneva, complied with Dr. Will Orr's telephone request for reimbursement after four Geneva men were caught Monday, Oct. 24, at 2:30 a.m., after having painted and stolen Westminster property.

Wallace McKean, chief of police, and Oscar Sipe, night watchman of the college, found whitewash, brushes, and the sign from the Chi Omega sorority house in the students' car.

Since the unlucky quartet did not possess any of the stolen property from the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity house, which was damaged most, the police believe that they comprised only part of the raiding party. The Covenanters, caught red-handed are Earl Wagoner, Beaver Falls, Pa.; G. A. McClure, Vanport, Pa.; Loyal Wilson and John Barjuka, both of Ellwood City, Pa.

Monday afternoon, following a chapel plea by Robert Ranck, vice president of Student Council, against a retaliatory foray, the Genevans returned. This time, between 3 and 4 p.m. they painted yellow G's on the Alpha Sig walk, in front of the gym, and on the barracks. After a

Scroll Will Initiate 26 In November

Scroll, honorary English fraternity, will initiate 26 members Nov. 8.

The new members are, seniors, Robert Carey, Rebecca Carson, Patricia Hays, William Wallace Lash, Robert Lipp, Elizabeth McComb, Albert Malley, Marjorie Powell, Gerhard Schlumberger, Milford Shimer, Howard Snyder, John Wareham, and Matthew Yenney.

Juniors to be initiated are William Anderson, Guido Boarsio, Donna Dagnon, Ruth Devlin, Marjorie Hastings, Thomas McLaren, Gordon Mahan, Ann Nicodemus, Carl Snyder, Marjorie Van Dyke, and Mary Zahariou.

The sophomores joining are John Frasier and Howard Frisbee.

Poetry of Stephen Spender, who will speak to the group next month, will be read by Robert Canon, William Davis, Joan Henry, Jean Swindler, and Francis Thom.

Dr. Fortune Will Speak

Teaching deaf mutes to speak will be the subject of Dr. George Fortune's lecture at 4:15 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, in the college chapel.

Brought here by the Psychology fraternity, Iota Delta, and the speech department, Dr. Fortune is director of the Western Reserve university speech clinic.

Editor Announces Dates For Argo Pictures

Pictures for the 1951 Argo will be taken in the art lab beginning Monday and will be taken for two weeks until Nov. 11, it has been announced by Sally McCoy, editor.

Photographs will be taken from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1:30 until 5:30 p.m.

Students who have not yet signed up for pictures are requested to do so as soon as possible.

Geneva's Rampage

THESE PRE-GAME raids began all in fun, if you interpret the word loosely. Mainly there were haircuts and white washings, not always appreciated by the victims, but always fun for the haircutters and whitewashers. We played too, just like Geneva and the rest.

Trouble crept in when some of the schools began "broadening their interests" to include property destruction. When this started, administrations of district colleges stepped in with restrictions and reciprocal agreements. They warned that if property was destroyed, offenders would be held liable.

Some of Geneva's boys climaxed the whole set of affairs with their rampage this week. The damage they did here showed the height of irresponsibility.

But what's worse, they've created such an effect that any retaliatory pilgramage would not only spoil our case, but would also seem anti-climactic.

For those offenders who came back and tried to undo the damage, we say all right, forgiven. For the few who haven't shown up, and who still have possession of some Westminster property, we say nothing in the fear of saying too much.

Pay Now -- Buy Later

WE ALL WANT OUR money's worth. Whether we're grabbing a nickel coke at the Tub or dickering for a broken down used car, we make sure we're getting what we pay for.

Yet only 31 students got what 1139 laid out cash for at the lecture this week.

Of course, almost anyone can think of a lot less mercenary reasons for sitting in on this and other college lectures. Sure, it's a chance to hear about the outside world from our isolated paradise. And true, we might glean some information from one of these informed strangers.

But when it comes back to realism, Buddy, we're footing the bill.

It's a fact that often we don't bother to go unless the speaker is so well known that we've heard of him. As a result we often neglect a speaker who may have more of importance to say than some famous personality. (It is somewhat safe to assume, however, that a speaker in the lecture series is recognized in his field.)

Then, too, our studies or bridge might interfere with this extra-curricular event. If that's the case, forget about the lecture. You can probably catch up on it some other time.

Then it comes back to realism, Buddy, and we're still footing the bill.

It's Not Easy

HOW SOON WILL we have another fraternity on campus? The answer to this question might be a common misunderstanding among students, if we judge by what one letter to the editor says this week.

Representatives of Interfraternity Council's special committee, reporting on the various complications associated with the problem, say that we will be doing well to have a new fraternity by next fall.

At present, the committee is carrying on a thorough investigation of all the steps they will have to take to bring in a fraternity. Many of these steps are on a national scale and have to do with the National Interfraternity Council.

Locally, they have already drawn a sign from the administration to go ahead. These are, of course, such problems as housing, funds, and the mechanical process of getting a secure start in competition with the three well-established organizations.

The conclusion is that we are almost certain to see a new fraternity established, but not by next semester.

Women Get Last Word

By Francis Davenport

There are two sides to every story, each considered to be right, depending upon which side of the fence you are. The men have had their say according to the expert opinions published a few weeks ago in the columns of the Holcad. Now it's the women's turn.

Betty Coed might not be all that the pulp magazines and dime novels make her, but then her male counterpart is not exactly an Adonis either.

The average male of the campus rarely appears on the scene until after the breakfast time has elapsed. If he happens to be employed in one of the college dining rooms, he arrives in such an ill temper that even Hedy Lamarr would seem drab. As a result of the perusal by half asleep males comes the interesting analysis that coeds, at breakfast, are not all they appear to be later in the day. Ah, but Joe College looks no better at dinner than he did at the time of his 8 o'clock class.

Classes seem only a place to catch up on that sleep missed the night before when an interesting bull session kept the boys awake. If by chance some of the discussion happens to penetrate the lethargy, Joe sits up, adds his gem of wisdom and immediately goes back to his interrupted sleep.

Such a strenuous morning must be recompensed for by a cup of coffee and a smoke squeezed in between 10:40 and chapel, leaving just enough time to crowd into the pew as the doxology is being sung. He's out of breath, but is nevertheless present, which fact he signals to the proctor who by that time is three or four rows back. Waiting for the dismissal word, our 'Hero' collects books and coat and slides to the edge of the seat that he might better race outside for another smoke before the next class.

Afternoon finds Joe stationed in the Tub or Grill allowing the weaker sex to gaze on the 'superior male'. A brief bit of banter with the fortunate damsels and then off to join the B team for a little game which helps tone down the premature middle age sag that is beginning to set in.

And then night comes! Some lucky freshman chick has the dubious pleasure of being our young swain's date for the evening and perhaps the object of the bull session later on in the night.

If the occasion dawns when studying seems inevitable, Joe rushes hastily to borrow the next day's assignment from the girl who sits behind him in accounting class, or invades the library (horrible word) to cram an hour's study between conversations with the fraternity brother across the table.

The male of the species is the intellectual giant. If you disregard the fact that 83 of the 145 people on the Dean's Honor list for last year were women, the rest representing the male population, you could reach such a conclusion.

Men are of course very neat, never appearing in class wearing anything but clean white shirts. Jeans of course are to be used for working and never make their appearance into formal company or into the dining room with white dinner jackets.

Naturally all men are very courteous no matter where they are. Their language is always above reproach, in mixed and unmixed company. No dusty parables escape their lips in front of teachers or women, never!

Of course men are always prompt to classes and arrive on time for dates. They wouldn't think of appearing anywhere a minute or two late. For them punctuality is mandatory.

Men are completely faultless, beyond reproach. Far from hating men, girls only want to reform them a little.

Frisbee's Foibles

No, No, 1000 Times No!

There's one guy who perplexes me, It's that queer fellow "No." I've never seen him, but signs say He's everywhere I go.

For instance, when I want to park And locate a swell space, I always find "No parking" there, Just like he owns the place.

And No smokes, loiters, shouts, and walks

Where most of us would be Severely reprimanded, So he must, assuredly,

Be a clever politician With a lot of weight around, Or else he has concessions Almost everywhere in town.

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

SKIT MINUS SKIRTS

"Actors" Bill Cook and Don Lammers needed two skirts for a skit which their gospel team performed last weekend. The team was in East Liverpool, when it was discovered that they had forgotten to borrow skirts. Dodie Renshaw and Nancy Shane donated the skirts they were wearing, and led the singing clad in raincoats.

AND HE SAID

At the conclusion of the movie "Hamlet," Sherry Wolfson wisely remarked, "I knew it was an inside job all the time." . . . And Marilyn Calvin, who was telling a story to her elementary education class, began, "Soon it will be winter and the snow will be covered with ground." . . . "Is the church meeting our needs today?" Boots Bartlett asked several people in the Tub. She was taking a survey for junior Bible. Gus Borasio said no, the church wasn't meeting his needs. When asked what his needs were, Gus answered, "Money!"

SMOKING JACK O' LANTERN

Hillside coeds and Mrs. Douthett smelled smoke one night this week. After the Browne hall incident, they wanted to discover the trouble. They searched the rooms, around the staircase, and down in the cellar. Bev Lee had fallen asleep with the candle in her Halloween pumpkin still lit . . . Mary Lou Shuck wasn't feeling well Tuesday afternoon. When asked what was the matter, Mary Lou explained that she had been at the French tea and had eaten too much because she didn't know how to say "No, thank you" in French.

THE BEGINNING AND THE END

A beginner at bowling, Jean Averill learned how on the first four balls she sent down the alley. Rolling the first ball, Jean fell on her knees; on the second she slipped and fell backward, feet and hands flying. The third ball dropped with a thud on the alley, but the fourth ball . . . a strike! Jean Quigley, who was impatiently waiting for the Westminster-Bethany game to end, kept looking at her watch and then at the field. Finally Jean turned around and asked George Mauch, "Do you know what time this game is supposed to end?"

SENIORS WHO SUFFERED

Frank Ruth is looking for a detective to tell him why some freshmen sang "Tell Me Why" to him last week. Three times he was stopped, asked his name, and serenaded by freshmen, "with the compliments of upperclassmen." . . . Another upperclass member who suffered during Hell week was Nancy Lee Graham. She returned from the Tub Thursday evening while freshman fellows were praying for rain in front of the AG house. Walt Cleary saw her and pushed her under the streams of water thrown at the frosh.

LAST MINUTE

"Rather impromptu," as Florrie Lee Johnson said, accurately described the Thursday morning chapel. During the doxology Florrie searched frantically through the pulpit Bible for the scripture. She turned to the other chapel performers and whispered, "I can't find it!" The doxology ended, so she glanced at the book and announced, "I shall read the . . . second chapter of Joel."

Letters to the Editor

Could Have Frut By Semesters

Editor, The Holcad:

For the last few weeks your paper has been writing about how much we need another fraternity. Well, when are we going to get one? If this committee you tell us about is working on it, why isn't there some progress? It seems to me there is too much talk and not enough acting.

A new fraternity on campus next semester would be just the thing. But there is no chance for having one by that time if somebody doesn't get busy.

(Student)

Editor's note: See editorial, "It's Not Easy"

Lecture Course Draws Few

The Editor, Holcad

During the past few days a variety of emotions and feelings have passed through me. I have been angry, ashamed, disgusted, cynical, and amazed; but most of all, I'm just baffled and perplexed. I can't explain why just 31 (yes, 31, count them) students came to hear Spencer Irwin's lecture on Monday evening. Where were the other eleven hundred students?

The Lecture course brings an outstanding figure in the world of journalism and foreign news to our campus to speak on a timely subject; pays him well, out of money collected from students; and a handful of students, a few townsfolk, and some of the faculty come to hear him. I was ashamed of myself, and Westminster, when I had to take him to the platform to introduce him to the "faithful."

What is the answer? Inadequate publicity? Poor choice of subject and speaker? Too many activities? Tell me. I want to know.

The Holcad

Vol. 67 Friday, October 28, 1949 No. 5

Published weekly during the college year, except recess periods, by the undergraduate students of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania. Total circulation—1500 copies.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at New Wilmington, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Subscription $2 per year.

Things are looking up! Because of last week's win over the Bisons, my prediction average has "zoomed" up to .200, which is an improvement. And so, being very reckless at this point, I'm taking Westminster over Geneva tomorrow. If the boys win, I've got a .333 average . . . if they lose, I've established a .166 for the season. At any rate I'm finally on the board.

Some people just can't help being childish. The boys from Geneva, seeking to gain revenge for some lost scalps last year, have decided to arrange the campus a little bit. In the care and upbringing of children, it is sometimes necessary to set an example. I hope we at Westminster are grown up enough to take Dr. Orr's advice and leave the Geneva kiddies alone. They have had their fun. Perhaps we should reward them with a few teething rings . . . or better yet, a victory over them on the football field.

Homecoming games being what they are, and pressure at such events being what it is, the Titans will be at a decided disadvantage tomorrow, for the Covenanters are celebrating their homecoming this weekend. Most teams give out their best-plus on Alumni day, e.g., the Allegheny-Titan tussle. This factor should always be taken into consideration.

With the Titan gridders on the road tomorrow, you fans will have a chance to FILL the stands for the Frostburg-Westminster soccer game, scheduled for 1:30 tomorrow afternoon on the local field. Frostburg Teachers college of Maryland has put out a soccer squad this year which beat Slippery Rock, 1-0. The Rockets beat us, 3-0, last Tuesday, which makes Frostburg two goals better than we, statistically speaking. However, I'm sticking with the Titans over the Tutors for a 3-1 win.

This will be the first time since soccer was started here as an inter-collegiate sport in 1946 that we have played Frostburg. They are rated high in their district. This means the Titans will be in for a rough afternoon. Let's have a large crowd down there backing the Burrymen. With no more home football games to look forward to, soccer should come into the spotlight. We have three remaining home games including tomorrow's contest. Come down and give your vocal chords a healthy workout.

Wharton Stars As Locals Defeat Bethany Bisons

Local Reserves Show Fine Aerial Attack During Final Quarter

Led by fullback Dick Wharton, Coach Mel Hetzler's gridgers romped over the Bethany Bisons, 19-6, in the final home game of the season last Saturday afternoon.

The Titans wasted little time before scoring. On the sixth play from scrimmage Wharton took a handoff from quarterback Gaylord Lutz, and raced around left end for 45 yards and a TD. "Champ" Barthelsson's attempted conversion by placement was blocked by the hard-charging Bison line.

Showing a smooth working single-wing offense the West Virginians came back in the second period to tie the score. The visitors' only touchdown was set up by a 24 yard pass from reserve-tailback George Taibi to end Bill Markis that put the ball on the Westminster two yard line. Eric Antila scored following an unsuccessful plunge by Don LeVine. The score remained deadlocked, 6-6, when the Bethany attempt for the extra point went wide of the goal posts.

Wharton Scores Again

The Blue and White moved ahead in the third quarter after Larry Veron intercepted a pass on his own 30 yard line. With Barthelsson, Campbell, and Wharton carrying the ball the Titans ran from their own 30 to the visitors' ten yard line in five plays. Wharton scored his second touchdown of the afternoon when he carried around right end from the ten to pay dirt. The locals attempted to add the extra point with a pass from Barthelsson to Evanoff which was knocked down by Bethany defensemen.

Westminster scored its third touchdown in the fourth period when speedy Dick Sylvester scored from the visitors' 15 yard line on a quick opening play over left guard.

Freshmen Star

Fans were given a surprise by Coach Hetzler's reserve team made up mostly of freshmen which saw action late in the final quarter. Sparked by quarterback Dick Banick these newcomers showed a smooth passing attack, and exhibited fine all-around play.

Outstanding on offense for the Titans was hard-running Dick Wharton, who averaged almost nine yards each time he carried the ball. Once again the Blue and White line was outstanding on defense with Brady Mitchell and Harry Sample playing exceptionally well.

Titan Cross-Country Squad . . .

Titans Meet Frankies At Gardens Dec. 29

Grover C. Washabaugh, director of athletics, has announced that a game has been scheduled for an open date in the Westminster basketball schedule for the coming year.

On December 29th the Titans will meet the Red Flashes from St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., in the first game of a double header at the Duquesne Gardens in Pittsburgh. Last year St. Francis squeezed out a 56-55 win over the Titans in the Gardens.

University of Duquesne's Night Riders will meet George Pepperdine college of California in the night-cap of the twin bill.

Standings Unchanged; Sig Eps, Sigma Nus Win

Standings remained the same as five games were played in the intramural football league during the past week.

Last Thursday the YMCA held the Sig Ep A leaguers to a 27-27 tie. In another game played Thursday the College hall team upset the Sigma Nus, 33-22, in a B league contest.

Sigma Nu A leaguers continued their winning ways as they trounced YMCA, 33-7, Monday.

Tuesday, the Sig Eps downed College hall 26-6, in another B league game. Scoring 15 points in the final two minutes of play the Sigma Nus edged the Alpha Sigs, 15-12, in a B league game.

Geneva Plays Host To Blue And White At Homecoming

Adam Karcis Paces Veteran Geneva Team; West Will Coach Covies

Adam "the Atom" Karcis and his fellow Geneva Covies will play host to the Titan gridders at Geneva's homecoming game tomorrow afternoon.

Left halfback Karcis, who is the number one man in the Beaver countians winged T offense, is rated as one of the best backs in district football. In 1947 he led the Covies to the tri-state mythical class B championship, and was named top back on the tri-state all-star eleven. Last year, playing with a leg injury, "the Atom" gave a brilliant display of broken field running as the Titans edged the Covies, 26-25, here.

New Head Coach

Walt West, who has been an assistant coach at Geneva for the past three years, is now head coach of the Gold and White. West played quarterback at Pitt in 1941, 1942, and 1943, and also played professional football with the Cleveland Rams in 1944. He is assisted by Cliff Aultman, who is one of Geneva's all-time grid stars.

Letteri, Cable Star

The Covies have two other outstanding stars in ends Frank Letteri and Lloyd Cable. Letteri, who is one of western Pennsylvania's finest wingmen, led his team in scoring last year. Cable, who is also a basketball star, was one of the district's leading punters.

The Titans will be at full strength except for fullback Bob Beynon who has been lost to the team for an indefinite period. Coach Hetzler will start the same lineup he has used during the five previous contests.

Foster Leads Harriers To Win Over Covies

Ralph Foster finished with a time of 34 minutes and 24 seconds over Westminster's 5.75 mile course to lead the Titan harriers in a 27-28 victory over Geneva last Wednesday afternoon. It was the second win of the season over the Covies for the Burrymen.

Last Saturday the Bethany Bisons edged out the Titans in a half-time cross-country meet, 23-32. Wednesday's win gives the Blue and White a three win-three loss record up to date.

Carnegie Tech's runners will meet the Titans here Saturday, Nov. 5, for the final meet of the season.

WAA Tourney Opens Wednesday Afternoon

WAA begins its 1949 volleyball tournament next Wednesday afternoon at 4:00. The lead-off games are the Theta Us versus the Alpha Gams, and the Sig Kaps against the Independents.

On Thursday the Chi Os battle the Beta Sigs, after which the winners of Wednesday's games meet. The rules of the tournament eliminate a team when it loses two games.

Ghosts and goblins haunt the campus tonight, as several sororities entertain with Halloween houseparties . . . Sig Kaps will hold their party at College Woods Saturday night.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA's Halloween houseparty tonight is planned by Ellen Kaye . . . Joel Mellinger attended a Pi Kappa Alpha dance at Pitt last Saturday.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON, Barbara Williams, has been appointed athletic chairman for the year . . . Sally Funk has been chosen magazine subscription chairman . . . Happy Eisenbeis visited Pitt's campus last weekend for an SAE "Blue-Night" houseparty.

CHI OMEGA, Shirley Voegelé, is a co-chairman of the joint KD-Chi O houseparty at College hall tonight . . . Nancy Stewart, ex-'51, visited the house last weekend . . . she is now attending Marietta college . . . M. L. Cleland, '48, visited on campus last weekend.

KAPPA DELTA's celebrated National Founder's day Oct. 23 . . . Bee Jones, Patty Rheinheimer, and Bobbie Estep visited Carnegie Tech's campus last weekend . . . Winnie Shaffer, '49, was a visitor on campus last weekend.

Former QUADRANGLE members, Peggy Morris, June Hall, and Beverly Birkholz, all '49, visited campus last weekend.

SIGMA KAPPA's houseparty tomorrow night at College Woods is being planned by social chairman, Marty Dewar . . . Pat McClure has announced her engagement to Len Harding, Sig Ep '49 . . . Martha Dewar and Jean Quigley visited the Sig Kap chapter at Carnegie Tech last weekend.

THETA UPSILON entertained Mrs. Will Orr, Mrs. John Orr, Mrs. Wayne Christy, Miss-Sittig, and chapter patronesses at a tea this afternoon . . . Boots Bartlett and Effie Matheny were in charge . . . Marty Kennedy visited Allegheny college last weekend . . . National President, Mrs. Samuel L. Fuller, visited the local chapter Saturday . . . Harriet Sarver, '46, was a recent campus visitor.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI's free all-college dance, "Cathay Rendezvous," is being planned by the social committee, with Jack Wilson in charge, for Saturday, Nov. 5 . . . Roger Jarvis and his orchestra will furnish music.

SIGMA NU, Harold Hassel, '49, visited the house last weekend.

Hillside Women Plan For Halloween Dance

Hillside women are planning a "stag or drag" Halloween Hop for tomorrow evening with dancing to records from 9 to 11:30 at the dorm.

House president Barbara Williams and Mrs. Ethel Douthett, residence director, are in charge of plans.

There will be no charge for admission and light refreshments will be served.

Men Want Frats

keen and bring about better interfraternity relationship.

A second Sigma Nu answered, "Yes, definitely! It will give the frat-minded man a chance to join a group which he might not otherwise get in because of filled quotas."

Two of the unaffiliated men interviewed were against any new organization, while the majority answered positively. The one said that he was just new on campus, but as far as he could see, three frats seemed sufficient. The second dissenter emphasized the need for social or eating clubs like those at Princeton university.

"And why do you think Westminster needs more fraternities?" another unaffiliated student was asked. His reply reached the crux of the whole situation.

"Because I'm not in one!"

CGA Will Take 17 In Studio Initiation

Seventeen members will be formally initiated into Collegians Guild of the Air Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m. in the radio studio.

The new members are Harry Aichner, Ed Anderson, June Bandemer, Gloria Ben, Harry Bowen, Isabella Cooper, Bob Cronenwett, Marilyn Eastman, Sally Funk, Marilyn Gamble, John Hall.

Phyllis Hartman, Beth Holmes, Bob Horvitz, Franklin Jones, Henry Kautz, Phyllis Knight, Jane Krebs, Gene MacDonald, Amy Martin, Dick Mattocks, Janet McDanel.

Sally McNally, Bill Mullen, Bob Nesbitt, Ilse Packmohr, Croy Pitzer, Tom Prosser, Jo Russell, Bill Roy, Nancy Smith, and Shirley Voegelé.

Seventeen students who also auditioned will be placed on the waiting list.

Loa Mylander was appointed chairman of the initiation committee. Other committee members are Chuck Jackson, Betsy McComb, Dodie Renshaw, and Art Schreiber.

Pat Hayes Announces Manuscript Regulations

Pat Hayes, editor of the campus semi-annual literary publication, Scrawl, has announced rules for this semester's manuscripts.

All scripts must be put in the Scrawl basket in the English office by Friday, Nov. 11. Two copies of each script should be typed, double spaced on one side on 8½ by 11 sheets. A margin of an inch and a half must be left on each side of the page.

Accompanying the manuscript should be a title page consisting of the title of manuscript, the writer's name, his class and an estimate of the number of words. The writer's name is not to be on the manuscript itself.

Gospel Teams Schedule Two Sunday Meetings

Life Service will send out two teams Sunday night to nearby churches.

Wilma Duff will lead a team to the Kaylor, Pa., Baptist church, while Harold Byers will lead the team going to the Oak Grove Presbyterian church, Portersville, Pa.

The group will meet Thursday, Nov. 3, in the chapel at 7 p.m. to hear Dr. Will Orr speak on "Preparation for the Gospel Team talk."

Youth Commands In Modern Israel Says Foreign News Writer Irwin

By Mary McCoy

Spencer Irwin described the new Jewish state as the "one country in the world where youth is in command" as he spoke to an audience of approximately 60 in the chapel Monday evening. He was here as part of the Lecture course.

Mr. Irwin, foreign news editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, has recently returned from a trip to Israel.

The war for independence, fought against the Arabs, was

Women Debaters Plan Meet With Mt. Mercy

Women of the debate team will travel to Pittsburgh Thursday, Nov. 3, to debate at Mt. Mercy Academy.

They are freshmen, Dorothy Foster and Ruth Anderson for the affirmative, and sophomores Lois Baum and Virginia Rheel for the negative.

This year's debate question is, resolved: that the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industries.

The first practice debate will be held Monday, Oct. 31, at 4:10 p.m. with Frank Davidson and Basil Messina taking the negative, and Bill Duff and Frank L. Jones taking the affirmative.

Journalists Play Host To High School Guests

Four Sharon high school students and the International Relations club were guests at a tea held this week in the faculty lounge of the library for Spencer Irwin, Foreign affairs columnist for the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The tea was sponsored by "30" club, a journalism group.

Mr. Irwin spoke to the guests and club members on foreign correspondents, holding that the caliber of foreign news presentation would be better if the correspondents would spend less time in press clubs and more in foreign offices.

chase which revealed that 53FR6 was the license number of the car, the invaders escaped.

Three more Genevans returned yesterday afternoon to clean up some of the damaged property.

The four men who were caught Monday apologized individually to Student Council during the Tuesday meeting of that group. Student Council accepted the apologies and requested that any information concerning the whereabouts of the stolen Alpha Sig property be reported if found.

An estimate by the fraternity on the cost of the destruction shows that the letters, labor, material, and spot welding needed to replace the wooden recognition sign add up to $20.90. The bronze plaque, bearing the fraternity initials, is worth $25.00, and the odd-size weatherboarding which was stripped from the house will cost $19.00. The total cost is $64.90.

Ross Ellis, business manager of the college, estimates cost of damage to college property at $10.00.

Leads For 'Black Arrow' Premier

Discussing their double cast lead roles in the premiere of the "Black Arrow" are left to right Jim Fudge, Alyce Ann Eppley, Judy Wilkinson, and Art Jones. Three performances will be given, Nov. 10-12.

Curtain Rises Thursday Night For 'Black Arrow' Musical

Adaptation Of Stevenson Story By Hopkins Will Feature 24 New Songs With Overture

Born on the USS Moracove, a troop transport, "Black Arrow" musical comedy will make its debut in the Community house Thursday, Nov. 10, at 8:15 p.m.

Joseph Hopkins, Bible instructor, adapted the production from Robert Louis Stevenson's novel of the same name while enroute to the Philippines from San Francisco in 1945. He was serving as a navy chaplain at the time.

James Fudge, baritone, and Alyce Ann Eppley, soprano, will sing the leads Thursday and Saturday, while Art Jones, tenor, and Judith Wilkinson, soprano, will sing the leads Friday.

Mrs. Joseph Hopkins has orchestrated the entire show. The approximately 150 pages of musical score are for a 16 piece orchestra which will be conducted by Donald O. Cameron, head of the music department. Mr. Cameron is director of chorus and orchestra.

Show Includes 24 Songs

The show will be built around 24 songs, 10 repeats, and one overture. Among the songs, all written by Hopkins, are marches, waltzes, ballads, and comedy numbers. Vocal instruction is being handled by Alice Long and Alan B. Davis, instructors of music.

Donald L. Barbe, acting head of the speech department, is general director of the production. All choreography originated with David MacArthur, speech instructor. Helen V. Cushman, assistant professor of speech, is in charge of the costumes which were rented especially for the show.

Gallagher Designs Sets

Ed Gallagher, speech major, designed the sets, for which all new scenery was built.

On the stage crew are Sanford Scheller, Lou Kneppshild, Barbara Crawford, Ruth Hodel, Nancy Smith, Margaret Wheeler, Janet McDaniel, Joel Mellinger, Carol Hancock, and Beth Holmes.

Bill Kerr and Gus Borazie are in charge of lighting, while Grace Temple, Lorraine Hoburg, Donna Barbe, and Louise Hendricks are handling the props.

On the makeup crew are Dorothy Elder, Barbara Downie, Grace Per-

Interfrat Awaits Inquiry Answers

Campus Groups Seek Fraternity Affiliations

Interfraternity council expects answers soon to letters of inquiry sent to a dozen national fraternities, according to a report of its sub-committee on new fraternities this week.

These letters request information on procedures the nationals would require for accepting a group into their organizations.

Meanwhile, locally it is reported that some independent groups are beginning work on establishing new fraternities. Interfraternity council offered to help one of these groups this week, when an unofficial representative accepted an invitation to attend the council's meeting.

Jim Neale, president of the National Independent Students association, was also present at the meeting. The sub-committee expressed a desire to see NISA strengthened. This, the report read, will help to alleviate the shortage of fraternities.

Frosh To Nominate 'Ideals' Next Week

Identity of Westminster's Ideal Freshman man and woman will be revealed as soon as a result of elections to be held next week are known.

Frosh select their ideals each year in elections sponsored by the Holcad. The method of voting this year will not be disclosed until voting day, according to Art Shaffer, managing editor.

"We want to avoid pre-nomination campaigns as much as possible," he stated, when questioned as to reasons for withholding the information.

He did say that every vote would constitute a nomination, although he declined to explain further.

He made no comment when asked on what day the nominating would take place.

Bramhall Assumes Editorial Position

Lyle Bramhall has been appointed managing editor of the 1949-1950 edition of Scrawl, college semi-annual literary magazine, while Ann Nicodemus will handle the duties of assistant editor.

Editorial assistants are Bill Anderson, Jean Swindler, and Roger Hawk.

On the literary staff are Peggy Townsend, Clifford Jones, Nancy Brown, Joan Henry, and Mary Ann Woodcock.

Myra Reichard, Nancy McCaw, Eileen Barclay, Janet McDaniel, and Carol Schmidt comprise the business staff.

Joanne Klein is the exchange editor; Frances Davenport, publicity director; Paul Talley, art editor, and Mary McCoy, advertising manager.

The manuscripts, which are due by Nov. 11, should be turned in in duplicate. They should be typed and double-spaced on one side of 8 1/2 by 11 sheets. There should be no more than 56 typewritten letters and spaces in a line.

President Likes To 'Know People'; Finds Time For It During Long Day

Answers Interview Questions Directly On Issues Confronting Students, College

By Bill Kegel

"I like to know people."

And although he often works 16 hours a day between two cluttered desks or travels throughout the area speaking about Westminster, Dr. Will W. Orr always seems eager to meet someone else.

Dr. Orr took time off from his multiple duties serving Westminster as her tenth president, to point up and clarify to the students some of the important issues now confronting the college.

Student Body Plans Grove City Invasion

Plans for "Operation Migration", unofficial title for a mass trek of Westminster students to the Grove City football game, are under way in Student Council.

Students who need rides will be asked to register next week for transportation to the game on Saturday, Nov. 12. Students who can drive to the game will also be asked to register if they have room for passengers.

"Some of the football players say the cheering at the Geneva game was partly responsible for the victory last week," said Duff Brown, president of Student Council. He added that the Grove City game would be a chance to show some "real school spirit."

"We can really help the team bring home a win if everybody gets behind this operation," he exclaimed.

Thespians Will Present Dramatic Techniques

Techniques of drama will be demonstrated to students and faculty members of area high schools as a project of the National Thespian society, Saturday, Nov. 12.

Kelly Yeaton, of Pennsylvania State university, will discuss central staging as one of the features of the day.

The freshman drama class will present demonstrations of various fields of dramatics. A motion picture, "On the Air," will be shown.

Those attending the project will attend the showing of "Black Arrow" Saturday evening.

Two Dates Changed For Argo Photographs

Argo pictures will not be taken Thursday, Nov. 10, or Friday, Nov. 11.

Students who signed up for appointments on those days are requested to sign up for appointments earlier in the week.

Students who have missed their appointments should see the photographer as soon as possible.

Alpha Sigs Plan Dance With Far East Flavor

Oriental decorations will be featured at the Alpha Sig's "Cathay, Rendezvous" dance tomorrow night in the gym from 8:30 to 11:30.

Roger Jarvis and his orchestra will play for the first free, all-college, dress-up dance.

Bob Rounce and Pete Enroth are co-chairmen of the decoration committee. Other chairmen are Larry Friday, entertainment; Bob Koepp, advertising; Bill Sample, orchestra, and John McWilliams, chaperones.

During the intermission entertainment Chuck Pitcher will be master of ceremonies.

Ten Year History Of Scrawl Shows 'The Fun's In How You Say A Thing'

By Mary McCoy

Picasso was "Greek" to 85 per cent of Westminster's students in 1941, and probably the same percentage of us feel that way today, but Scrawl, the magazine which printed that figure is not so static. With its motto by Robert Frost, "But all the fun's in how you say a thing," Scrawl has been part of our campus life for the past 10 years.

Founded March 14, 1939, by Scroll, English honorary, the first issue was named "Scrawl" by Geraldine Busch, then a junior. Three hundred copies of this 16 page magazine were printed, under the direction of Mr. McCrea Hazlett of the English department, and Prof. Wallace Biggs of the News Bureau, that year.

Since then the publication has been as large as 48 pages, and the spring 1948 Scrawl used a facsimile of the cover of Tomorrow magazine which changed the size from nine by six to eight by eleven inches.

Miss Amy Charles was on the staff of the spring issue in 1942, and won a prize for her story, "Der Meister".

Quadrangle To Hold Tea For New Women Friday

Quadrangle, independent women's group, will hold a tea in Ferguson hall lounge from 3 to 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 11, for all new women students.

Guests at the tea will be Mrs. Will Orr and Dean Sittig.

Doris Nielson has charge of the invitations. Lorraine Hoburg is chairman of the food committee, and Estelle Pines is in charge of favors.

Mrs. John Orr will be patroness. Dr. Alice Schuster of the history department is sponsor of the group.

Lets Go East

LAST WEEK'S VICTORY over Geneva shows the effect spirited cheering can have on the football team. With Student Council's plan to organize a huge Grove City invasion we have a chance to help hand the Grovers their third defeat of the season, while wrapping up our third victory.

In comparison with our 7-0 triumph over Geneva, Grove City shows a 13-7 loss to the Covies. However, they downed Allegheny 32-0 a week after our scoreless tie with the 'Gators.

When the call comes for students to sign up their cars for transportation next week, everyone who is driving can do a real service by handing their names in early. If every car is filled to capacity, the "caravan to the east" is a cinch to be the biggest in Westminster history.

Those who need rides should sign up early, too, to avoid last minute complications.

Student Council is going all out. If the rest of us go all out, too, there's no reason why "Operation Migration" won't be a success. Let's all plan to go east on Nov. 12.

Home On Time

"CHRISTMAS COMES but once a year," and so, by gosh, does Thanksgiving. During the war, it was a common thing for some to gnaw turkey legs or K-rations somewhere away from home. Seniors will even remember that in 1946 Thanksgiving day was spent right here at Westminster.

This year, though, a compromise is being tried. Students can go home for part of the day.

Those who travel a distance can begin at the official vacation time, 6 p.m. on the day before Thanksgiving. They can ride the train all night, and arrive home bedraggled next day, just in time to stagger into their chair at the table.

The dean's academic advisory committee says it can't be helped because the college year is running too close to the minimum number of days. But we can't for our life see why a half day can't be chopped off to give students more time to get home.

To Frosh Only

NEXT WEEK you'll have a chance to name your ideal freshman fellow and girl. That is, you can vote for the two people in your class who best live up to the title "Ideal Freshman."

Do some heavy thinking about the name you're going to write as your choice. Whom do you want to have represent the class of '53?

It doesn't matter what your roommate deems as the qualifications for the title. The only way we'll obtain a true idea of what this year's freshman class likes is by each of you voting the way you, and only you, thinks best.

We are eager to see the results.

Tea For Five, Or...

Coffee Keeps Me Broke

By Jim Case

Once upon a time there was a man reputed to be a connoisseur of fine cigars, who after taking a long drag on one of the poorer species of the cigar family uttered these famous words, "What America needs is a good five cent cigar."

Years later, during the second world war, one of the more witty of the nation's financiers made this memorable statement, "What this country needs is a good five cent nickle."

Today the cry of hundreds of Westminster coffee drinkers is, "What this campus needs is a good five cent cup of coffee."

As most coffee drinkers know by now, coffee is 10 cents a cup in many of the town's leading establishments. As a result, the price of one of the necessities of life for many students has doubled. Think what would happen if the price of everything doubled? We would be spending twice as much money.

As everyone knows, the most important thing in a cup of coffee, other than coffee itself, is water. Take the water out of coffee and what do you have? Strange as it seems you still have coffee but not in a very drinkable form.

Now in New Wilmington, one nickle, one twentieth of a dollar, five pennies, will purchase about 50 gallons of water. To be a little more precise, the cost of one cup of water in New Wilmington is .003125 cents. (This cost was computed by a math major on the basis of 1000 gallons of water costing 50 cents.)

This high cost of water leaves about 4.996875 cents to be spent for coffee. Of course there are those who will argue that labor, overhead, depreciation of the pot, cup, and spoon, and numerous other items must be considered, but the fact remains that coffee and water are what coffee drinkers want when they ask for a cup of java.

The exorbitant price of 4.996875 cents for coffee may seem high to some but look what that 4.996875 cents has to do.

First the fellow who plants the coffee seed must buy the coffee seed. Have you tried buying a coffee seed lately? Price has gone up sharply since the invention of Postum. The fellow who plants the seed must care for it until it is a grown tree.

When it is a full grown coffee bean and ready to vote it must be picked. Who wants to pick coffee beans for nothing? After it is picked it must go through all the government red tape in order to leave the country.

When it is finally ready to leave its homeland it must buy a ticket to America. Of course if it is going to England it will buy a ticket to England. That is only fare to the English.

When the little bean reaches America it must go through the customs office. Never can tell when a coffee bean will try to smuggle a lima bean into the country.

Once in America it goes to the coffee company who has bought it. Here it is roasted and ground up into little pieces. Hardly worth the bother to come all the way to be treated like that. After this cruel treatment it is shipped to the wholesaler and then to the store. From here it goes the last mile and ends up in hot water. After all it has been through it could use a bath.

The little coffee bean goes through all this and much more for the paltry price of 4.996875 cents. Is it any wonder a cup of coffee costs a dime? It would be more reasonable to charge $10 for a cup of coffee after all the poor little bean has to go through.

All this just goes to show that the British and the Chinese have had the right idea all the time. They drink tea. So do a good many Westminster coffee drinkers now.

Frisbee's Foibles

ALOFT

When I sit in the balcony
My ego swells excitingly;
My confidence and stature grow
To see the little folk below.
My view, from this celestial height,
Dwarfs fool and sage, makes each a mite,
And lets me, like a hawk, survey
Their varied behavior display.
And I, suspended high in space,
Can overlook this pygmy race,
Can, with no headpiece foliage
To hinder, see the entire stage.
So, every time I climb the stair
And watch small grass-like tufts of hair,
My ego has a lofty fling,
For once more I'm balcony king.

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

WE KNEW HIM WHEN

Dave Harbin, a Westminster graduate of 1943, replaced Frank Sinatra on the Hit Parade two weeks ago. He is singing as Jeff Clark. Dave announced over WPIC while studying here as a journalism major. He belonged to Kappa Phi Lambda. During the war he worked for the OWI in New York and started to study music. Dave became interested in singing professionally, and in December 1948 won an Arthur Godfrey talent scout show which led to his present job.

PATIENCE AND . . .

His job as head of the stage crew for "Black Arrow" is getting on Ed Gallagher's nerves. He is having a difficult time making the freshmen on the crew follow directions. One night this week he woke up shouting, "Nesbitt, Nesbitt, put that flat up!" . . . Norm Shirey spent two hours shaving last Friday night. Norm is "breaking in" a new electric razor, or vice-versa.

WIT OR WITOUT

Hi Frisbee asked two Browne hall kitchen crew members, Bill McCreary and Don Myers, where they got their jokes. They pointed to the garbage barrel which was labeled "Witt, Corrugated". . . . When Dick Hunt returned with a squirrel after the first day of hunting, Ray Harris asked, "Is that a red squirrel?" Dick replied, "It was a grey squirrel until it dyed." . . . Bill Kerr received a ticket for illegal parking in Erie Saturday. But Bill was watching football on the Alpha Sig TV set, and his car was parked in front of the house.

THROUGH SMOKE OR CELLOPHANE

Geneva halfback Jim Pietro was lying on the ground when the rest of the team unpled after a play in Saturday's game. The loudspeaker at the field blared, "and Pietro is injured on the play." Just as Pietro got up and walked back to the team, Jerry Hyder, who was leading cheers with his trumpet, started to play taps . . . "Cricket" Andrews put blue cellophane over the Sig Ep TV set. When Dick Ingraham came in, "Cricket" announced that the house now had colored television and Dick watched the set for five minutes until someone told him.

I LIKE COFFEE BUT

Along with the rest of us, Chuck Gibson was discussing coffee prices at the Tub. "I've been drinking tea since coffee went up to 10 cents," he said. "I HATE tea." . . . And a note found on one table over a full cup of coffee read, "WHY, when the price is doubled does the coffee taste so terrible?"

Notes From The . . .

Editor's Cuff

By Glenn Hartman

Roy Burnside, manager of the Tub, declined to make any "on the record" statement this week on the rise in price of coffee. He has promised, however, to say something next week if the situation is not eased. He wouldn't say, either, how much his coffee sales have decreased or how many cups of tea he has sold.

This year's freshman class of 317 will dwindle to 216 by their sophomore year if they follow the precedent set by frosh of the past 10 years. By their junior year they will have only 134 students; and only 123 will ever be seniors. They will, that is, if the administration doesn't succeed in its attempt to beat the law of averages.

Not more than 150 of the present sophomore class can expect to register in the senior class, the averages say. And only 163 will be juniors next year in comparison with their 263 members now. Juniors, at 187, will drop 15 next year.

These figures compare favorably with other schools, but it seems like too many dropouts. Wonder which heads will roll next spring?

We aren't the only student body that ever failed to know our alma-mater, according to a report of a large southern university. "An embarrassing majority," says the Cougar, newspaper of the University of Houston, "do not know the school song."

They asked 20 students if they knew the words, and found that only one, a freshman, could repeat them.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

Just for the record books, the Titans were penalized five times last week against Geneva. Four of these penalties were for the substitution of a kicker on fourth down, causing a delay in the game which brings a five-yard penalty under the present rules. The other instance was a five-yard loss for being off-side. There were no penalties for unnecessary roughness, roughing the kicker, clipping, or any other infraction of the rules of that type. That adds up to 25 yards lost due to penalties and a very clean game on the part of the Titans.

Now that my average for the season is .333 (.500 if the two ties are discounted) I'm feeling a little cocky so I'm taking the Titans over the Yellow Jackets tomorrow. The Jackets boast a pretty good average to date, so now is the time to change all that. There should be about a one-touchdown difference when all the dust has cleared . . . in favor of the Titans, that is.

Westminster nearly had more fans at last Saturday's game than the Covenanters did and it was the home team's homecoming!! The fine size and cheering of the Blue and White section meant a lot to our boys. It definitely counted a lot toward the victory.

Rumor has it that the Alumni association of Geneva college was ready to invite Mel Hetzler to become an active member until after the game. Mel is a Geneva grad but hasn't been so very polite to his alma mammy of late. That's okay, Mel, we like your being right where you are.

Although my one prediction for last weekend was good, I seem to have become a little mixed up in the soccer department. I said the Titans would take Frostburg, 3-1. Instead they dropped a close one to the Tutors, 2-1, and whipped Allegheny last Tuesday, 3-1. I was just four days too early. And while we're on the subject, I'd like to know just how Allegheny managed to beat Grove City, 2-0, a while back. They surely didn't have the kind of stuff last Tuesday that would have beaten the Grovers.

As an afterthought, come down to the soccer game tomorrow and see the Blue and White tangle with the Plaid of Carnegie Tech. It will be a cheaper afternoon (and more enjoyable) than sitting in the Tub drinking TEN CENT coffee.

With Bernie Kessler doing the blocking, Dick Sylvester cuts around left end for some valuable yardage against the Covies from Geneva Saturday.

Titan Harriers To Meet Plaid Here Tomorrow

Westminster's cross-country harriers will run against the Carnegie Tech Tartans tomorrow afternoon on the local course.

On Nov. 13 they will finish the current season as guests of the Mountaineers of the University of West Virginia at Morgantown.

Sig Eps Clinch Cup In Football League

Sigma Phi Epsilon clinched the interfraternity cup in the intramural football league, as the Sig Ep B leaguers downed the Sigma Nu B team, 7-0, Monday afternoon.

Sigma Nu and the Sig Eps, with one loss each, had been tied in the B league before Monday's game. Harvey Connors and Russ Koch starred for the winners, while Norm Shirey and Bob Jackson led the loser's attack.

In other games this week the Sigma Nus defeated the Alpha Sigs, 12-6, in an A league game played Wednesday.

The Alpha Sigs were handed their second loss in as many days when they were trounced, 32-0, by the College hall team yesterday.

An A league game between the YMCA and Sig Eps scheduled for Monday was forfeited by the YMCA.

Booters Play Tech In Last Home Tilt

Soccer will bow out of the local scene when the Blue and White booters meet the Tartans of Carnegie Tech for the last home game of the season tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

The Titans play their last game of the season against Grove City college at Grove City next Friday afternoon, Nov. 11.

Carnegie Tech owns a record of two victories and two defeats. Their latest triumph was over Thiel, 3-2, last Tuesday. Tech is known to have a good defense but their forward line has yet to prove itself.

Titans Beat 'Gators

Westminster chalked up the third victory of the season last Tuesday when they overwhelmed Allegheny, 3-1. Tom Wilson opened up the scoring in the second period to put the Titans out front at the half, 1-0. Freshman Ed Urban, left winger, squeezed one through the 'Gator goal early in the third frame, and he again drove a 25 yard shot past the enemy goalie in the last quarter to put the Titans out front, 3-0.

Allegheny scored late in the fourth period on a penalty kick which caromed off Art Shaffer's hands and into the net for the visitor's only goal.

Frostburg Wins

Westminster was nosed out last Saturday afternoon, 2-1, by Frostburg State Teachers college of Frostburg, Md. The visitors went ahead, 1-0, in the third period, but Alex Spisak came through with a goal for the Titans in the last quarter to tie up the contest. However, with five minutes to play Frostburg tallied on a free kick to move out in front, 2-1, for the final score.

Hetzlermen To Try For Third Win Against Yellow Jackets Tomorrow

Wharton, Mitchell Injured Last Week;
Waynesburg Held Geneva To 0-0 Tie

Hoping to run their winning streak to three victories, the Titan gridders will meet a strong Waynesburg eleven tomorrow afternoon at College field in Waynesburg, home of the Yellow Jackets.

Last year the Yellow Jackets converted three Westminster fumbles into touchdowns to defeat the locals, 20-0. The record of games played between the two schools shows that the Yellow Jackets have won 11, the Titans two; with one game ending in a tie.

Titans Top Covies In Surprise Upset

Lutz Passes To Ward
For Lone Touchdown

Outclassing their opponents in almost every department Coach Mel Hetzler's gridders upset the highly-favored Geneva Covies, 7-0, at Geneva's homecoming game last Saturday afternoon.

The lone touchdown was set up by Vic Bianchi, who intercepted a Geneva pass on the Hilltopper's 41 yard line, and ran the ball back to the 14 yard stripe. Two plays later Lutz passed to Mac Ward in the end zone for the game winning TD. Champ Barthelson's kick for the extra point was good.

Only one other time did either team threaten to score. Earlier in the game Paul Campbell took a short pass from Lutz on the Geneva 41, and raced down the left side line to the nine where he was driven out of bounds by the Covie safety man.

Outgain Geneva

The Titans topped the Gold and Black in total yards gained, 314-141. Lutz completed nine out of 15 passes for 120 yards gained through the air, while the losers' passers could complete only three out of 19 tries for 83 yards. The Beaver countians, whose defense against rushing was eighth best in the nation before last Saturday, were outgained on the ground 194 yards to 58.

Bianchi Stars

The line-backing, pass receiving, and pass intercepting of Vic Bianchi was outstanding. With fullback Dick Wharton out of action most of the game because of a leg injury, backfielders Gaylord Lutz, Mac Ward, Paul Campbell, and Dick Sylvester starred for the Titans.

Titan Swimming Team Prepares For Opener

With a little over a month remaining until the season officially opens, the Westminster swimming team is preparing for its first meet with Grove City college on Dec. 13.

Fred Cassell and Bob Braun are the co-captains and their returning letter winners are Bob Gunnet, breaststroker, and freestylers Chuck Pitcher, Doug Reichert, Duff Brown, Tom Swan, Paul Fenwick, Bob Gavett, Pete Enroth, and John Lukacs.

Coach Harold E. Burry has three freshmen trying out for the squad in Fred Suppess, Harry Sampson, and Bill Koller. However, he is still looking for more swimmers and anybody with experience is invited to try out for the team.

THE BAKERY

Freshman men participating in inter-collegiate athletics (soccer, football, swimming, cross country, and basketball) are requested to meet in front of the chapel at 12:45 Monday.

All-American Mentor

Stan Keck, an ex-All-American and coach of the Jackets, has built his team around a fast, hard charging line and a set of fleet scat-backs. The weight averages of the two teams are almost identical.

Leading the Yellow Jacket offense will be quarterback Pete Balaban. Balaban, who is a two year veteran at the signal-caller's post, is rated as an excellent passer. Also outstanding are Bill Datko and Bill White, who are two of the fastest backs in the district.

Fullback Dick Wharton, who injured his leg against Geneva last Saturday, is not fully recovered but he will play tomorrow. However, the status of tackle Brady Mitchell is indefinite. One of the standouts in the Titan's strong line play last Saturday, Mitchell was also injured, and it is not known if he will be able to play.

Same Starters Probable

Coach Hetzler will probably start the same offensive backfield that worked against Geneva last week. This will find Gaylord Lutz at quarterback, Wharton at fullback, and Dick Sylvester and Mac Ward at the halfback positions.

Comparative records of the two teams indicate that the odds favor the Yellow Jackets; but against Geneva, their only mutual opponent this season, the Jackets tied the Covies, 0-0, while the Titans won, 7-0.

Indies, TU's Take Lead In WAA Net Tourney

Getting off to a fast start, the Independents and the Theta U's stepped into the leading positions of the WAA volleyball tournament Wednesday as they took victories from the Sig Kaps and the Alpha Gams respectively. The Independents, under the leadership of Jean Gilliland, held a substantial lead against the Sig Kaps, headed by Jane White, until the last five minutes of play. Rallying their forces, the Sig Kaps rolled up their score but not fast enough to catch the Independents, who held them at 33-28.

The Theta U team, captained by Libby Mawhinney, moved ahead of the Alpha Gams early in the game. Frances Davenport, leading the AG's, fought to catch the aggressors, but without success. The final score was 46-21.

'Tomorrow' Holds Story Competition

Tomorrow magazine has announced the fourth annual college writers' short story contest.

First prize is $500; second, $300, and third, $200. Manuscripts will be judged by the editors of Tomorrow and the editors of Creative Age Press.

The prize-winning stories will be published in the spring and summer of 1950. All other manuscripts will be considered for publication as regular contributions and paid for at Tomorrow's regular rates.

Entries should be addressed to College Contest, Tomorrow magazine, 11 East 44th Street, New York 17, N.Y. The deadline is Jan. 15, 1950.

The contest is open to anyone taking at least one course in any college in the United States. This includes undergraduate, graduate, special, extension, and adult education students. No application blanks are necessary. Manuscripts should not exceed 5,000 words. Any number of manuscripts may be submitted by a single student.

Each entry must be marked "college contest" and bear the writer's name, his home address, and the name and address of the college he is attending. All entries must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Phi Alpha Theta To Hold Initiation In Library

Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, will hold formal initiation for seven students Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 6:45 p.m. in the faculty lounge of the library.

The new members are Samuel George, Shirley Shields, Howard Hazlett, Alice Aiken, Edgar Morehead, Leonard Fudge, and Frank Goodwin.

At 8 p.m. Dr. Sewall Slick, head of the social studies department at Clarion State Teachers college, will speak to the group on "What of Tomorrow?"

The lecture is open to all who are interested in international relations.

Outing Club Completes Plans For Swim Party

Plans for an Outing club swimming party, scheduled for eight p.m. Monday, Nov. 7, have been completed by Barbara Williams and Caroline Hulse.

An all-college swim and a series of talks on camp craft are being planned for a future date.

'30' Club Elects Case To Presidential Post

Jim Case, sophomore journalism major, was recently elected president of the "30" club.

Other officers are Jim Canan, vice president; Sally Fyock, secretary; and Al Krause, treasurer.

The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Future plans being made for the club include a party for freshman journalism majors, and a fall talent show to raise money for a United Press teletype service.

Typography Students Will Practice On Press

Typography courses in journalism will be made more practical during the next two years through the addition of a small, electrically run job press.

The press, furnished by Ed Patrick, sophomore journalism major, was converted from foot pedal power to electricity a few years ago.

Faddis Talks On Christ At Seminary Lecture

William Faddis, instructor of art, recently addressed the faculty and student body of Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary and the Religious Education school.

Mr. Faddis gave the lecture on the "Life of Christ in Art" upon the request of Dr. George Long, president of the seminary.

His lecture was supplemented by slides.

Christian Fellowship Will Hear Chalk Talk

Christian work on campus received a lift with the presentation of a second suburban sedan by Sam Fulton, Milwaukee auto accessory manufacturer, to the college. Mr. Fulton specified that this car, like the first, be used only for religious activity.

John Rock, senior pre-ministerial student, made the trip to Chicago to get the car, and while there attended a tri-state conference of the National Youth organization of the United Presbyterian church. He is a member of the national council of the group.

Expenses for the first car, received last year, are paid by the various Christian organizations as they use it.

The other five United Presbyterian colleges have also been presented their second automobile for Christian work. They are Muskingum college, Ohio; Tarkio college, Missouri; Knoxville college, Tennessee; Sterling college, Kansas; and Monmouth college, Illinois.

Journalists Will Publish Freshman Newspaper

Students in the journalism 151 class are planning to publish a newspaper which will be written primarily by and for freshmen.

Jim Case, sophomore journalism major, will edit the one issue paper.

Hugh Robinson is managing editor, while Dave Vogan will perform news editor duties. Jim Canan and Joanne Klein will handle copy editing.

Her two awards to contributing students for literary work are the Chi Omega sorority prize of $5 for general writing, and the Scrawl prize of $5 for special writing. Three judges, working independently, study the manuscripts and determine the winners.

Pat Hays, editor of this semester's Scrawl, wishes to make her magazine more representative of the campus by asking for contributions from students in all departments, not just English and journalism majors. Scrawl, in its 11th year has proved that the English majors of 1939 had a good idea.

High School Drama Clinic Will Feature Discussions On Centralized Staging

Visitors Will Witness Play Using Staging Described By Dr. Kelly Yeaton In Talks

Featuring Dr. Kelly Yeaton, from the speech department of Pennsylvania State university, who will speak on centralized staging, the annual High School Theatre clinic will get underway tomorrow at 8:15 a.m. with registration in Old Main. Also featured will be a play, "The Good Sport," by Glenn Hughes.

The clinic, sponsored by the college speech department, will be host to approximately 150 students and directors. Meetings are open to all who are interested.

Accompanying Dr. Yeaton, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Theater conference, will be Buell Whitehill, from the University of Pittsburgh, and Newell Tarrant, from the Erie Playhouse. Both of these men are on the executive committee of the theater conference.

Yeaton Will Speak Twice

Dr. Yeaton will speak twice in the Little Theatre, at 11:15 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m. In College hall a play, "The Good Sport," will be presented under the direction of Jewell Jennings, using centralized staging.

Dr. Will Orr, college president, will welcome the delegates to the clinic at 9:15 a.m., followed by David MacArthur, speech instructor, who will deliver the welcome from the speech department.

Forry Will Speak

Shakespearean interpretation will be discussed by John H. Forry, assistant professor of English, at 9:30 a.m.

At 10:15 a.m. color in staging will be presented by Charles Dietz, head of the art department, for the visiting directors. Simultaneously, student visitors will see a movie, "On the Air."

Lunch in the Tub will be served for the guests at 12 noon.

Students Will Hear Vogan

Mr. MacArthur will talk on "Dramatic Rhythm" at 1:15 p.m., while directors will hear a talk on problems of the director at 2:15 p.m. by members of the speech department staff. At this time the students will hear Ruth Vogan discuss "Do's and Don'ts in Acting."

The visitors will attend a tea at 4 p.m. and will be conducted on a tour of the campus.

In the evening the guests will witness the musical comedy, "Black Arrow," in the Community house.

YWCA Holds Initiation For Frosh Commission

Twelve women were installed as the freshman commission of YWCA recently.

Commission members consisting of girls who were active in YWCA work before entering college and have kept up their work after entering college, are Irene Carlson, Becky Swan, Nancy Wiggins, Phyllis Dolson, Marilyn Arwine, Pat Knoer, Joan Carnahan, Janet Gittings, Phyllis Hartman, Nancy Smith, Beverly Mergner, and Lee Jones.

The commission, chosen by the YWCA cabinet, was installed by Nell Kling, vice president.

YWCA is selling Christmas cards this year as a missionary project. The cards may be purchased from any member of the organization.

Audience Enthusiastic As . . .

Hopkins' 'Black Arrow' Musical Scores Hit

By Frances Davenport

Flavored by typical Hopkins humor, Westminster had a view of top musical comedy at the premiere showing of the "Black Arrow."

As the houselights dimmed and the orchestra began the overture, the audience sat up straighter in their seats, ready for an evening of good entertainment.

And they weren't disappointed! Paced by a terrific score of highly singable songs, the tremendous cast of the production moved through their parts with ease.

The audience gradually warmed to the presentation, and when it was all over went away singing and chuckling to themselves over remembered jokes.

Carrying the burden of acting, Jeanne Lewis and Croy Pitzer handled their roles with finesse. Jeanne, as always, stole the show by her use of clever gestures and comic singing. Croy showed an amazing talent for heavy acting as the villain of the story. We'll keep our eye on this newcomer to Westminster's stage. Singing principals Alyce Ann Epley and Jim Fudge did their usual good job of vocalizing. Jim's numerous slips in his dramatic part were because of fast speaking. A second cast, Art Jones, Judy Wilkinson, and Phyllis Hartman, will appear tonight in the second performance of the play.

The singing choruses were good as far as their singing was concerned, but failed to enter into the action. Impressions were that the dancers didn't know exactly what step came next, but what they lacked in facility they made up in enthusiasm. Noteworthy among the dances, however, was the kissing dance in the second act, with jester Bill MacAnallan doing the honors.

The scenery was wonderful throughout, including the quick changes accomplished between scenes. The sets were handled in such a way that the observer was transported into the action. One of the outstanding features of the play, the scenery added a professional air to the production.

Humor was, of course, labeled with a capital H—for Hopkins. What might otherwise have been classed as pure corn succeeded in drawing loud guffaws from the onlookers. A little unconscious humor, undoubtedly not to be found in the script, managed to delight the audience even further.

Music for the production surpassed any other phase. Each song had a rightful place in the action and served to enhance the charm of the Westminster's cheering section bus will leave from the front of the gym tomorrow at 1:15 p.m.

Students are requested to be at the gym by 12:30 p.m.

Tickets will be 55 cents and can be purchased on the bus.

Bob Ranck Elected Senior President

Juniors Name Nichols; Hartranft Joins Council

Bob Ranck, pre-ministerial student from Cherry Tree, Pa., was elected president of the senior class this week in elections held in the chapel.

Elected president of the junior class was Al Nichols, political science major from Rutherford, N.J.

Fewnick Heads Sophomores

Heading the sophomore class will be Paul Fenwick, pre-ministerial major from Kenmore, N.Y. Ronald Watkins will head the freshman class.

Don Hartranft was elected to Student council to replace Bud Miller. The other officers of the senior class elected were Ed Leard, vice president; Wally Lash, secretary, and Don McAllister, treasurer.

Elected to serve the juniors were Bob Rounce, vice president, Roberta Estep, secretary, and Jerry Hyder, treasurer.

Candidate Omitted

Chosen as officers for the sophomore class were Chuck Jackson, secretary, and Jo Foster, treasurer.

Another election will be held for vice president of the sophomore class, since one candidate's name had been omitted from the ballot.

Serving the freshman class will be Ted Smith, vice president; Joel Jackson, secretary, and Pat Knoer, treasurer.

Music Sorority Will Hold Initiation Ceremonies

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary sorority, will hold pledging and initiation ceremonies Saturday, Nov. 19, at 9:45 a.m. in the faculty lounge of the library.

Marie Olson will be pledged at this time.

Active ceremonies will be held for Shirley Armstrong, Lois Baum, Anna May Collingwood, Carol Keans, Carol Merolla, Juanita Sindel, Virginia Snyder and Gloria Stiffler.

Speaker Picks 'Facing Life Gallantly' As Religious Emphasis Week Theme

Dr. Walker Will Address Students 17 Times; Will Hold Discussions, Personal Conferences

Dr. Lee Edwin Walker, Spiritual Emphasis week speaker, has chosen for his theme, "Facing Life Gallantly."

Dr. Walker will speak 17 times during the week in chapel programs and evening services besides conducting group discussions in dormitories and fraternity houses each evening.

Recently appointed associate secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the United Presbyterian church, Dr. Walker comes to Westminster with a wide and varied background.

Held Pastorate In Illinois

He attended Muskingum college and was graduated from Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary in 1938. For more than three years he was pastor of the United Presbyterian church in Somanauk, Ill.

His next four years were spent as a paratroop chaplain in the army. A veteran of 21 jumps, Dr. Walker was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star and Presidential citation. When he was discharged, he held the rank of major and still retains that rank in the army reserve.

Preached In Philadelphia

Returning to Somanauk for a short time, Dr. Walker then became pastor of the Boulevard United Presbyterian church in Philadelphia. He retained this post until his recent appointment to the Christian Board of Education. He received his doctor of divinity degree in 1947 from Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill.

Aside from daily and evening chapel talks at 7:15 p.m., Dr. Walker will meet with different groups each evening at 10 p.m. for informal discussions.

Meet In Hillside Monday

Monday he will meet with residents of Hillside and Jeffers in the lounge at Hillside.

Residents of Ferguson and girls living in sorority houses will meet

Sorority Rushing Will Start Tuesday

Formal sorority rushing will begin Tuesday, Nov. 29, according to Ann Hepler, president of Panhellenic council.

A Panhellenic council ruling has been passed that no freshman woman may go to the home of an upperclass woman during the Thanksgiving vacation.

However, freshman women may travel in automobiles to and from college with upperclass women.

First sorority open houses are scheduled for Friday, Nov. 18, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 21 and 22, will be the days for rushing registration.

Panhellenic handbooks will be available at that time for 50 cents. These handbooks contain information on the six campus sororities.

Second open house will be held Dec. 2, and marks the beginning of the first silent period. This silent period will be from 6 p.m., Dec. 2, to 4:30 p.m., Dec. 5.

Final rush parties are scheduled for Dec. 5, 6, 7. Two parties will be given each day, one from 4:30 to 6 p.m., and the other from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Tub Head Refuses To Discuss Coffee

Roy Burnside, manager of the Tub, declined to comment on the continuation of 10 cents as the price of a cup of coffee.

When asked whether his coffee sales have dropped appreciably and how tea sales have compared with those of coffee since the price of the latter was raised, Mr. Burnside said he did not think the matter should be discussed at present.

Also, no prediction as to future rise or drop in coffee price was forthcoming from the manager. His only reply to the question was that he had no assurance of an imminent fluctuation in cost.

CGA Elects Jackson To Presidential Position

Chuck Jackson, sophomore history major, was elected president of CGA at a recent meeting.

Also elected were Phyllis Hartman, vice president; Janet McDaniel, secretary; Sally McNally, treasurer; and Loa Mylander, recorder.

Following elections a demonstration and practice of radio hand-signals was held, directed by Bill Stedman of WRW, and Basil Messina.

No meeting will be held during Spiritual Emphasis Week, but the study groups will begin work Tuesday, Nov. 22. Members are reminded that dues are payable at this meeting. A list of these study groups will be posted on the speech bulletin board next week.

President Receives Car

Samuel Fulton has presented the college with its second car within two weeks. He has designated this one for the use of the President. Fulton is president of an auto accessory manufacturing firm in Wisconsin.

Freshmen Choose 'Ideal' Candidates

Holcad To Hold Finals To Pick 'Ideal' Monday

(See picture, page 4)

Inaugurating a full week of elections, the freshman class cast their ballots last Monday afternoon for their "Ideal Frosh" candidates.

Working on a percentage basis, the field of 69 female and 61 male nominees was finally narrowed down to the top five in each group.

Frosh Will Vote Monday

Voting will be held Monday in the tower room of Old Main to choose the Ideal Freshman from the five women and five men chosen as finalists. Voting will take place between 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Peggy Darby, Riverside, Conn.; Phyllis Dolson, Maplewood, New Jersey; Marilyn Eastham, Sebring, O.; Marylu Shuck, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Dorothy Snider, Uniontown, Pa., were honored by their classmates.

One of these girls will be further honored when the Freshmen will again go to the polls next Monday morning to select the one "Ideal."

Representing the male populace will be nominees Robert Cronen-wett, Pompton Plains, N.J.; Kenneth Gordon, Buffalo, N.Y.; Thomas Kelly, Coraopolis, Pa.; Arthur Menno, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Fred Suppes, Johnstown, Pa.

Kiner Gets One Vote

In last Monday's election, every name listed was considered as a nominee. The Pittsburgh Pirates and their Home Run King Ralph Kiner polled a total of one vote and must be considered along with the other candidates.

Seniors Complete Practice Teaching

Eighteen seniors have completed practice teaching in New Wilmington, Hickory, Sharon, and New Castle high schools.

These students were Arthur Johnston, Robert Taylor, Donald Book, Frederick Helm at New Wilmington high school; Joseph Guthrie, Lawrence DeNoble, William Paul, Betty Fair Seely, Jerome Simon at Hickory high school.

Clair Hetrick, James Cuning, Fred Evanoff, Joan Silverman at Sharon high school; Leroy Barnett, Charles Desher, Morris Chapman, Robert Hope, Frank Theobald at New Castle senior high school.

Kay Brunswick, Larry Wood, Harvey Anderson, Wilbur Dumbaugh, Carolyn Davis, Sarah Davis, and Carolyn Holub have completed practice teaching at Hickory Township school and Sharon public schools under the supervision of Miss Marian Buchanan, supervisor of music, and Miss Ada Peabody, associate professor of music education.

Tri-Beta Will Organize New Biologists' Group

Beta Beta Beta, biology honorary, will organize a club for biology majors, primarily freshmen, who lack the necessary requirement for Beta Beta Beta.

Another project is the classifying and labeling of all the trees on campus. A block of wood, on which will be listed the scientific name, the common name, and the nick-name, will be attached to each tree. The blocks will be completed this winter and mounted in the spring.

The museum, on the third floor of Science hall, has been renovated and is now open to all students. There are many displays and new ones are being added all the time.

The Rights Of Coeds

WE SEEM TO HAVE glimpsed a deep water current this week with a poll on what the female segment of the college wants in the way of Sunday night permission.

A convincing majority of the coeds polled want a change in the rule requiring them to be in the dormitories at 7 p.m. unless they attend chapel.

This is too large a majority to be overlooked, either by the administration or by Senate, the women's governing body which deals with such legislation.

They should examine the problem closely. Then either the change should be made or good reasons furnished as to why not. Westminster women have every right to demand an explanation.

Enterprise Plus

PRESENTATION OF THE "Black Arrow" shows how a large group working together has produced something not often seen in a college of our size, a show in which every phase, from writing to staging, is originated by students and faculty.

It's amazing to think of the immensity of such an undertaking, the creativeness, and the cooperation involved.

It takes courage as well as much skill to undertake such a huge feat. With approximately 100 students at work on the show, only the most unified spirit could permit accomplishment.

The entire group deserves our congratulations and our support.

Claim Your Privilege

MONDAY, FROSH, you vote.

It's your business whose name you put your X beside. Your vote is, of course, a highly personal matter.

But it's the business of the whole freshman class that you exercise your rights. Neglecting to vote might mean the difference between victory and defeat for the person who should represent you.

SPEAKING OF ELECTIONS, Student Council informs us that some action will get under way to change the voting procedure for class officers. We agree that it's high time.

Titan Ticklers

By Bob McEwan

"This is quite a 'hopped up' car you've got."

On Sunday Evenings . . .

Later Permission Wanted

By Sally McCoy

It was 2 p.m. Sunday at the home of a Westminster coed who was spending the weekend with her family. Everyone was relaxing, reading the papers, or watching the television set, except Mary Titan.

In the front hall Mary set her suitcase down with a thud just as her mother came rushing from the kitchen, a worried look on her face.

"Mary, the roast won't be done for another 45 minutes. Can't you stay just a little longer? You could get a later bus back to school," she said.

"But mother, I've told you a dozen times . . ." and thus a family argument ensued which has been repeated many times. A student who must be back at Westminster by 7 p.m. must take the bus which leaves Pittsburgh at 4 p.m. It arrives in New Wilmington at 6:20, and the girl misses supper which is served at 5:30.

If she lives closer to campus, the family must rush to prepare an early supper and get their daughter back by seven. One 10 o'clock permission a month is granted for those leaving campus on the weekend, but it is not cumulative. A coed who fails to use it one month is not granted two 10 o'clocks the next month.

The rule that girls must return by 7 p.m. when away for the weekend was criticized most by Westminster coeds who were interviewed by the Holcad about Sunday evening permissions.

Two hundred forty-nine of the 418 women students were asked these questions: "How do you usually spend Sunday evening?" "How would you spend Sunday evening if you had the same permission as you receive on week nights?" and "Do you think women students should have the same permission on Sundays as on week nights?"

Eighty-five per cent of those interviewed answered yes to the last question. Complaints, other than the fact that women away for the weekend must return at 7 p.m., were: "We're being forced into going to chapel by not being permitted to go out otherwise." "We should be able to choose what we want to do on Sunday nights." "I think we're treated like children. Seven o'clock is too early." "I don't mind so much during the winter, but in the fall and spring when it's warm, you like to be outside." "I'd go to chapel if you didn't have to be back at the dorm the minute it's over."

The 15 per cent who do not think the Sunday permission should be changed commented: "No, because they (women students) wouldn't use Sunday as the Sabbath but as a week night." "I wouldn't get any studying done if I didn't have to be in at seven." "I sing in the choir so it wouldn't make any difference to me." "No, the permission should be extended to 8:30, but not later." "Sunday evening should be a part of the Sabbath."

One hundred thirty-six girls stated that they usually go to chapel on Sunday. Of these, 122 would still go to chapel if they had the same permission on Sundays as on week nights. Twenty-one who do not go to chapel now would attend if they had the later permission. Forty-one girls said they would like to go uptown after chapel is over. Six said they would probably go out of town if the permission were changed.

Ninety-two of those interviewed are regular chapel attenders, with the other 44 going "most of the time." Girls who don't attend chapel now and who wouldn't attend if the permission were changed numbered 84. Eight girls would attend "once in a while."

The survey included 59 per cent of the freshman class, 71 per cent of the sophomores, 53 per cent of the juniors, and 49 per cent of the seniors.

More upperclassmen than freshmen stated that they are in favor of the change in permission. Seventy-seven per cent of the freshmen (who would have their Sunday permission extended to 8:30) wanted the proposed change. In the sophomore class 87 per cent of those interviewed wanted the permission changed. They would receive 9:30 permissions. Ninety-five per cent of the juniors and 88 per cent of the seniors are in favor of the proposal which would extend their permissions to 9:30 and 10 p.m.

The Real McCoy

BACKWARD BASKET

Whether it's volleyball or basketball, the girls at inter-sorority games always make a good showing. But sometimes they forget which game they're playing. At the Alpha Gam-Sig Kap volleyball game, Mitzi Patterson served to the opposite side of the court, then looked for the ball which was out of sight. It landed in the basket directly behind her.

CURIOUS FROSH

"Burglars are in the attic," said some of the third floor residents of Browne hall when they heard noises above them. Later they heard noises in the broom closet, so they called Mrs. Johnson. When the closet was opened they saw Dot Foster and Trudy Martin climbing down the ladder from the attic. They had been "exploring."

THAT'S MY DAD

Dr. Christy was invited to play singles with Lou Pagliaro, the table tennis champ who was here last week. After Dr. Christy's first serve, Pagliaro said, "That was an illegal serve." "It was?" Dr. Christy asked amazedly. "Cheater," yelled an unidentified heckler. Dr. Christy's daughter, Lo Ann, began to chant, "Cheater, cheater, cheater . . ."

WEAKER SEX?

Men aren't the only good hunters, Dick Wakefield is forced to admit. He went hunting with Dodie Snider, who shot a squirrel with a 20 gauge shotgun. Dick didn't shoot anything.

HOW MANY WORDS PER MINUTE?

One of Mr. McGill's English students, Beth Holmes, was absorbed in what looked like a mathematical problem. She was busy writing during the entire English class period. Mr. McGill called her up after class and asked what she had been doing. "I'd rather not tell you," Beth replied. After further questioning she admitted that she had been keeping time with the second hand of a watch, counting the seconds until the class was over.

HO HUM

The windows were open, but the Saturday morning class was still asleep. No one knew the lesson, Finally Mr. Manley asked his international politics students, "Did you people do ANYTHING for this class?" In defense Glenn Reed answered, "We got up."

REPEAT THAT PLEASE

Returning one Sunday evening with a Gospel team, Verlee Jones, who lives with the Orrs, told the driver of the car, "Just take me to the corner of Vine and Park" . . . This "brief summary" of Roman religion was given by Mr. Kelly in one of his Bible classes, "Now there are some similarities and some differences between the Greek and Roman religions." . . . and Bill Dembaugh, explaining the causes of the French revolution to his history class said, "The people were hungry, and there were rumors that the tax money was being used to buy jewelry for the queen's mistresses."

Letters to the Editor

Prof Stresses Poet's Role

Editor, The Holcad:

On Wednesday of this week, one thousand students and their faculty were forcibly impressed by a chapel program of modern poetry. The effect of this program illustrates the power and penetration of the poet in our society. Interpreting our sphere of harsh, hurried, human life where progress is the keyword, time the menace, and slogans or labels the chief communications, the poet pierces the veil of the superficial to reveal the deep, raw truths of our existence, portrayed in terms of emotional and spiritual images of our innermost lives. All this—the spatuling up of buried truth, through this the realization of the mystery and awe of living, the integration of those truths to conceive the powered unity which girdles life, and the psychic contemplation of that unity—in a few brief moments has been experienced through the poet's intrapenetration.

The importance of this effect upon the individual, and, of course, upon the school which he and his fellows form into a shaping group, is obvious. Having experienced the heights and depths of that unity of which he is a part, having known the fleeting integration of himself with probing truths, having contemplated the mystery of living, its ultimate worth-while-ness, and the power lying beyond and above it, he, as an individual, and his school, Westminster, as a composite of similarly moved individuals, have seen the best of life's purpose. The poet has sensitized the auditors; he has led us into the meaning of our modern world. The students of Westminster are to be congratulated for their impressionability for the poet's truths. They have found a vital force for the living of their lives.

Robert A. McGill

Last week I said that when the dust had cleared Westminster would have beaten Waynesburg by one touchdown. Due to atmospheric conditions there was no dust. There goes my average again . . . down, that is. It now stands at 400. However, having seen Grove City play once this year, I believe that they are a lucky ball club. The Titans softened Allegheny up for them and they beat the Gators, 32-0. The next weekend they edged Thiel, 6-0, in a contest which Thiel could have won had they capitalized on the many Wolverine mistakes. I'm taking Westminster over the Grovers tomorrow in a contest that should be helped along by the planned "migration".

Now that the football season is drawing to a close and the soccer squad plays its final game of the season this afternoon, the spotlight is beginning to shine upon the coming basketball season. Rumor has it that the Titans will have a tall, fast team on the boards this year. I believe I am reasonably safe in saying that you floor fans will be in for some real thrills. The team is backed by plenty of experience with just the right amount of new blood.

Speaking of basketball, it has been announced that there will be a meeting of all intramural basketball managers and captains next Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. "Buzz" Ridd, who is in charge of the intramural program, adds that any men who are interested in officiating at intramural games for the coming season should contact him at the gymnasium office. Plans have been made to start the basketball league as soon after Thanksgiving vacation as possible in order that there might be three rounds played this year.

Congratulations are in order for the Sig Eps A and B football teams which won the inter-fraternity cup for the SPEs this year. The B squad went through its schedule undefeated while the A squad won three and lost one. The Sig Eps lost to the Sigma Nu A six in their second encounter during league competition.

A lot of cheering tomorrow is going to help the Titan cause greatly. All you people who are going to make the journey to Crimson land had better be prepared to cheer even louder than you did at Geneva, because the Covies dropped the Grovers, 13-7, this year. Lets bring home a win.

Waynesburg Gives Titans Third Loss On Muddy Field

Yellow Jackets Score In Three Quarters; Bianchi Brings TD

Westminster's gridders were handed their third defeat of the season by the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets in a poorly played contest on the rain-soaked College field, Waynesburg, last Saturday afternoon. The score was 27-6.

Three freak plays netted the Jacks two touchdowns in the second quarter. Chased deep behind the line of scrimmage halfback Bill Scott threw a desperation pass to end Bill Lane on the Titan five yard line. The Blue and White line turned back Stan Keck's men four times to gain possession of the ball, and "Champ" Barthelson punted out of danger from the end zone. A few plays later a pass thrown by Clarence Lewellyn and juggled by Titan defensemen was gathered in by Lyman Stough, who scored the winner's initial touchdown. Bill Scott's conversion by placement was good.

Jackets Score Again

Later in the second canto halfback Tommy McHenry fumbled a pass from center, recovered, eluded fast charging Westminster linemen, then raced around left end for 33 yards and a TD. Once again Bill Scott's kick split the uprights and the Jacks led, 14-0.

In the third period quarterback Pete Balaban completed a seven yard pass to Joe Laird for the victor's third tally. Again Scott's try for the extra point was good.

Bianchi Scores TD

The locals averted a shutout in the last quarter when Gaylord Lutz tossed a seven yard touchdown pass to Vic Bianchi. "Champ" Barthelson's try for the extra point was not good. The TD was set up by Dick Wharton, who ran 62 yards from scrimmage on the first play of the final period.

The smooth moving Scott continued his sharp running, as he slipped through the center of the line for 18 yards, and Waynesburg's fourth touchdown later in the final quarter. However, Scott failed to add the extra point.

Even though they were outscored by the Jackets, the Titans did run up seven first downs to the winner's six.

Alan McCullough

Alan McCullough To Captain Cagers

Alan "Mac" McCullough, senior business administration major from Bradford, Pa., has been elected to captain the 1949-50 edition of the Towering Titans basketball team. The returning lettermen from last year's squad cast their ballots in his favor this week.

"Mac" has been a four year letter winner with the Titans starting the second semester of the 1946-47 term. He has played all the positions during his career, but is a mainstay at the guard slot.

A demon on the backboards both on offense and defense, "Ozark Ike" is also one of the team's leading scorers. Many crowds have been very much impressed with his maneuverability and deception on the hardwoods. His trick shots, passes, and elusive dribbling tactics are highlights of the contests.

An aggressive ball player, "Mac" is a workhorse while on the floor. His ability has gained him recognition in the tri-state area as one of the best.

Soccer Team Will Play Inter-Squad Contest

Westminster's winning soccer team will offer a post season game to the students next Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Art Shaffer, this year's captain of the booters, will lead the juniors and seniors while Bob Cullison will captain the freshman and sophomore squad.

Westminster Will Rate Underdog Role In Weekend Highlight At Grove City

Geneva Responsible For Grovers Lone Defeat; Hetzler Squad At Full Strength For Contest

Coach Mel Hetzler's Titans will be out to add another upset to the season's record when they meet the once-defeated Wolverines of Grove City college tomorrow afternoon at Grove City.

The Grovers will be favored in tomorrow's contest on the strength of wins over Thiel and Allegheny, teams which tied the locals. However, the Blue and White show a 7-0 upset over the Geneva Covies, who defeated the Crimson, 13-7, earlier this season.

Booters Win, 1-0 In Overtime Game

After dueling for four quarters and two over-time periods, and with 30 seconds remaining in the final five minutes of play, the Westminster soccer squad edged out Carnegie Tech, 1-0, on the home field last Saturday afternoon.

Alex Spisak, center forward, started and scored the goal which gave the Blue and White its fourth victory of the year.

Spisak Scores

From the middle of the field, Spisak passed to "Red" Garrett, right wing, who got past the Tartan fullbacks and passed back to Spisak whose 10 yard shot was blocked by the Tech goalie. However, Chuck Clinton, Tech goalie, was unable to hold on to the ball and Spisak drove it into the net for the only goal of the game.

Outstanding for the Blue and White were halfbacks Emil Reznik and Don Kirsopp, fullbacks Norb Borowicz and Ed Davis, while Art Shaffer tended the goal without a miscue. Jack Burrey and Captain Tom de Voss were outstanding for Tech.

Titans Show Four Wins

The victory gave the Titan booters four wins, two losses and one tie as a record for the season with one game remaining on the schedule.

The Titans have so far been victorious over Edinboro, Thiel, Allegheny, and Carnegie Tech. They bowed to Slippery Rock and Frostburg, and tied Grove City, 1-1.

Indies, Beta Sigs Tie For WAA League Lead

Following up their win last week the Independents moved into a first place tie with Beta Sigma Omicron in the WAA volleyball league as they trounced the TUs, 43-25, last Thursday.

The victory puts the Independents' record at two wins and no defeats. The TUs have a one and one record to date.

On the other court Thursday, the Beta Sigs and the Chi Os met in the opening game of the season for each team. The Beta Sigs took the lead early in the game and weathered a last-minute rally to beat the Chi Os, 32-29.

Wednesday's games this week saw the Sig Kaps take their first victory of the year as they downed the Alpha Gams, 38-27, giving them a one and one record. The Alpha Gams have yet to hit the win column in two tries.

In Wednesday's nightcap the Beta Sigs dropped the KDs, 37-30, in a closely fought contest and boosted themselves into the league tie with the Indies. The loss was the first for the KDs.

Coach Hetzler's aggregation will be at full strength for tomorrow's battle. Only casualty in last week's loss to Waynesburg was lineman "Brick" Stevens, who received only minor injuries, and will be ready for action tomorrow.

Leading ground-gainer for the Wolverines is halfback Sam Restino, who has gained over five yards a try in previous games. Coach Jim Loveless' offense also shows an outstanding passing combination in quarterback Harold Foster, and two glue-fingered ends, Mike Bish and Jim Hamilton.

Grover's Have Good Defense

Grove City boasts one of the district's best defenses as only 31 points having been scored against the Wolverines in the six games they have played this season. Stalwarts in the Crimson defense are tackles Bill Hutchinson and Steve Lucas.

The Grovers lost Bill Strong and George Cacomise through graduation last spring. Both men played three years at regular positions in the Grove City backfield, and were highly instrumental in winning seasons for Coach Loveless.

Grid Reserves Play Grove City Frosh

Football fans will get a chance to see the Titan grid reserves in action Monday at 2:30 p.m. when they meet the Grove City JVs here.

"Buzz" Ridd, assistant football coach, is in charge of the Little Titans. The Grover reserves have several games under their belts, but this is the first game of this kind for the Blue and White reserves.

Ridd will select a starting eleven from the following and it's a sure bet that all of them will see action in the contest. Centers are Roy Cress and Joe Ivers. The guard positions will be handled by Jack Welty, Jim Cooley, Charles Kessler, and Bob Longline. Tackles will be Ted Lorence, John Chiodo, and Don Carroll while the terminal posts will be handled by Ted Councilor, Dick Pietrantonio, Jim Walker, and Joe Marriotti.

Dick Banick will direct the T formation and his backs will be Bill Falcon, Bob Hoagland, Rollie Shaffer, and Chuck Paul.

Tech Edges Thinclads; End Season Tomorrow

Coach Harold Burry's thinclads were edged, 26-29, by the Carnegie Tech Tartans in a hard fought cross-country meet last Saturday afternoon on the locals' three and one half mile course.

Westminster's Ralph Foster placed first with a time of 21:50 minutes. Tomorrow the locals will travel to Morgantown, West Virginia, where they will meet the University of West Virginia harriers in the last meet of the season.

piece. More than one person came away humming some song from the score. Resembling Victor Herbert in style, Joe's music had an aliveness that sparked the whole performance. Complete with well-worked orchestrations by Mrs. Hopkins, the music might well be ranked along with hit Broadway musicals of yesterday and today.

Costumes, with their varied and vivid colors, helped to make a colorful spectacle and added the needed authenticity.

To the people concerned with it, the musical meant a lot of hard work. To those on the sidelines it was well worth the work. Westminster has a right to be proud of Joe Hopkins, teacher, playwright, composer.

Target Sells Datebooks For Mortarboard Funds

Target, senior women's honorary, is selling datebooks in order to raise money for joining Mortarboard, a national honorary.

The books, which contain short verses and illustrations, make attractive and useful gifts. They cost $1 and can be purchased from any member of Target.

A regular meeting of Target will be held Wednesday in Dean Sittig's rooms at Browne hall.

Pi Sigma Pi Will Hear Phi Beta Kappa History

Dr. Myrta McGinnis, associate professor of English, and Robert McGill, instructor of English, will speak on "The History of Phi Beta Kappa" at the meeting of Pi Sigma Pi, education honorary, Nov. 30.

Phyllis Ackerly was recently appointed as chairman of the book drive.

Alpha Rho Tau To Visit Carnegie Art Exhibition

Alpha Rho Tau, honorary art fraternity, will visit the Carnegie International art show, Pittsburgh, Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Transportation will be available for a few students of the fine arts course as well as art majors, Chuck McLaughlin, president, has announced.

Students interested in attending the show are asked to contact Alpha Rho Tau members in the art studio.

Walker Will Speak At Communion To Climax Week

College, Local Clergy Will Assist In Service

Sunday evening's communion service at 7:45 p.m. in the chapel will climax Westminster's Spiritual Emphasis week with Dr. Lee Walker giving his final address.

There will be no activities Saturday in connection with Spiritual Emphasis week.

Will Address CYF

"An Invitation" will be the sermon topic Sunday evening. Preceding chapel, Dr. Walker will address CYF, speaking on the topic "The Harps That Were Silent."

Dr. Will W. Orr, college president, and Joseph Hopkins, instructor in Bible, will preside at the communion service.

Ministers Will Assist

Ministers on the faculty and staff will be aided in serving the communion by local ministers and elders.

Following communion there will be a meeting in the Little Theatre open to all students and faculty. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss any feature of Spiritual Emphasis week.

Little Theatre Schedules 'Liliom'

"Liliom," a classic fantasy by Ferenc Molnar, will be presented Dec. 12 to 16 in the Little Theatre by the Little Theatre group.

The play will be directed by David MacArthur, assisted by Marianne Bartlett.

Charles L. Dietz, acting chairman of the art department, will design the sets and Ed Gallagher will be stage manager. Miss Helen Cushman, speech instructor, will be in charge of costumes.

Heading the cast are Phyllis Williams as Julie and Jack Griffith as Liliom. Other cast members include Dorothy Elder, Marie; Isabella Cooper, Mrs. Muskrat; Phyllis Knight, Louise; Marianne Bartlett, 1st girl; Joel Mellinger, 2nd girl; Marilyn Eastman, 3rd girl; Jean Whittaker, 4th girl; Ruth Vogan, Mother Hollunder.

Bill Sample, Fiscus; Croy Pitzer, Magistrate; William MacAnallan, Wolf; Jay Gimlin, Poor Man; Paul Talley, Rich Man; Robert Tanguay, 1st Policeman; Richard Reed, 2nd Policeman; Ed Anderson, Linzman.

Interfraternity Party To Feature 'Sadie Hawkins Day' Theme

Fraternity Li'l Abners are preparing to don their running shoes for the "Sadie Hawkins Day" house party Dec. 3. The party will be sponsored by Interfraternity council.

A "Sadie Hawkins" race will mark the beginning of the party. All couples will meet on the Quadrangle and the race will be started by "Marryin' Sam." The couples will race from the quadrangle to one of the fraternity houses.

Each fraternity has been given a name which follows the general theme of the party. The names are Alpha Sigma Phi, "Dogpatch"; Sigma Nu, "Skunk Hollow"; and Sigma Phi Epsilon, "Lower Slobbovia".

Within each fraternity there will be three groups, the "schmoos," "Kigmies," and "Nogoodnicks." These groups will progress from house to house at specific times and in a definite order. Progression will con-

Westminster's 'Ideal Freshmen'

Chosen by a vote of the freshman class, Peg Darby and Tom Kelly were selected as the "ideals" of the class of 1953. The hotly contested election was sponsored by the Holcad.

Distribution Scheduled For Argo Picture Proofs

Proofs for Argo pictures will be given out Monday through Wednesday, Nov. 21 to 23.

They should be returned the week following Thanksgiving vacation when a representative from the photographers will be on campus to receive them, according to Editor Sally McCoy.

Block W Will Sponsor Semi-Formal In Gym

Block W will hold its annual all-college semi-formal dance at the gym Friday, Dec. 2, from 9 p.m. to 12.

Crowning of the Block W Queen of 1949 will be the high spot of the evening.

Music for the dance will be provided by Benny Jones' 12 piece orchestra. Bernie Kessler is chairman for the dance and "Champ" Barthelsson is in charge of decorations.

Dean Sittig has granted 12:30 permission to all girls attending the dance. Price of the tickets is $2.40 and they may be purchased from any Block "W" member. Corsages for the evening have been ruled out.

Darby, Kelly Win 'Ideal Frosh' Honor

163 Freshmen Vote In Hard-Fought Contest

Peg Darby and Tom Kelly were elected Monday to represent the Freshman class as the "Ideals." The election is an annual affair sponsored by the Holcad.

Requiring that a nominee must have a simple majority of the votes of the class, the election was hotly contested and the "Ideals" were not decided until the final ballots. The freshman class with an enrollment of 316 cast a total of 163 votes for their 10 candidates.

Peg Darby is a Bible-philosophy major from Riverside, Conn. An active participant in extra curricular activities, Peg is a member of the cheer-leading team and is a freshman representative to Student Council.

Tom Kelly, Coraopolis, Pa., is a political science major. Tom was a member of the Titan cross country squad and is also active in other campus activities.

Eight other candidates in the running for the honor were Phyllis Dolson, Maplewood, N.J.; Marilyn Eastham, Sebring, O.; Dorothy Snider, Uniontown, Pa.; Marylu Shuck, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Robert Cronenwett, Pompton Plains, N.J.; Kenneth Gordon, Buffalo, N.Y.; Arthur Menno, Philadelphia, Pa., and Fred Suppes, Johnstown, Pa.

Panhel Sets Nov. 21, 22 For Frosh Registration

Freshman girls interested in joining sororities must register Monday or Tuesday, Nov. 21 and 22, from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the tower room of Old Main.

It is necessary that the freshman girls register at that time, Ann Hepler, president of Panhellenic council announces.

The registration fee of 50 cents includes a book containing sorority background and rushing stories.

Stephen Spender Will Discuss 'Poetry For Today' Monday; Satirist Will Lecture Dec. 1

John H. Faulk Will Offer 'Speaking Of People' As Fourth Presentation In Lecture Course

Poetry and people are the divergent topics offered in two lectures scheduled here in the next two weeks.

Stephen Spender, British poet, critic, and philosopher, will discuss "Poetry for Today," Monday, Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. in the college chapel.

"Speaking of People" is the subject named by John Henry Faulk, satirist, philosopher, and wit. Faulk, the fourth speaker in this year's lecture series, will appear Thursday, Dec. 1.

C. Robert Kelly, lecture series director, said in his announcement, "These speakers are entertainers and will present interesting programs. I hope students will take advantage of these opportunities."

Faulk's Interest Lies In Folklore

John Henry Faulk was born and educated in Texas.

His first aim was to study law and follow the career of his father. After spending two years in school, he decided that law was not his field, but his true interest was in folklore.

Seeks Knowledge

With this in mind, he left on a hitch-hiking trip to see the world and broaden his knowledge of people. Although, he started for Japan, he got only as far as San Francisco. He was stopped there by a shipping strike. Mr. Faulk postponed his trip and returned home to continue his education.

Mr. Faulk secured his MA degree and was appointed an English instructor at the University of Texas. There he won a Julius Rosenwald Fellowship which enabled him to continue his work in folklore.

War Interferes

Mr. Faulk's work in folklore was interrupted by World War II. He first joined the Merchant Marine and in 1943 left the seas to join the American Red Cross as an overseas field director. Finally, in 1944 John Faulk became a buck private. He had been unable to join the regular service before this time.

After his discharge from the army,

Debaters Will Meet Here For Analysis Of Topic

Fifteen district colleges will meet at Westminster Dec. 23 for study and analysis of this year's debate question, resolved "that the United States should nationalize the basic, non-agricultural industries."

The clinic, sponsored annually by Tau Kappa Alpha, will hear a talk by Dr. Harry Hurtt, from Akron, who has recently returned from Britain where he studied the industrial program under nationalism.

Ruth Vogan Will Direct 'Hearts Enduring' Play

Ruth Vogan, speech major, will present a one-act play, "Hearts Enduring," by John Erskine, Dec. 1, in the Little Theatre at 4:15 p.m.

Ruth is presenting the play as part of her play directing class.

Included in the cast are Joel Mellinger and Bill Mullen.

Cleaners Work Behind Scenes To Keep Westminster Orderly

Nearly 20 people are employed to keep Westminster running in a clean and orderly fashion, according to Edward Reed, who directs janitorial activities for the college.

Two full time janitors and two students keep the halls of Old Main polished, the light bulbs changed, and the classrooms clean. Harry Hays works mornings caring for the boilers, and cleaning office rooms and the chapel, John Castor is on the evening shift and oversees the student janitors, Jack Shimer and Jack Owens.

John Castor explained why he is one of Old Main's most avid bulletin board readers by saying, "We're supposed to keep the rooms clean without getting in the way of rehearsals and meetings. No one tells us about these meetings so we have to read the boards."

An important job for the evening workers is the daily polishing of the floors in Old Main. The floors are

Britisher Offers Wide Background

Mr. Spender was born in England in 1909. He was educated in London and at University college, Oxford. Mr. Spender also holds the degree of doctor of letters from the University of Montpellier, France.

Mr. Spender, who is usually associated with the poetic movement of the early thirties, had his first book of poems, "Twenty Poems," printed while he was still an undergraduate at Oxford.

After his graduation from Oxford, Mr. Spender continued his education in extensive travels. During this time, he spent much time in Berlin and Madrid. He was in Madrid during its shelling by Franco's insurgents. Mr. Spender's stay in Berlin confirmed the anti-fascist tendencies of his early poetry.

In 1939, Mr. Spender was one of the founders of "Horizon", a literary review. He continued to edit this publication until 1942, when he joined the National Fire service. During his stay with the fire service, Mr. Spender helped organize an educational scheme.

Mr. Spender has worked with the Political Intelligence branch of the Foreign Service and in the Preparatory Commission of UNESCO. In 1947 and 1948, he was resident lecturer and advisor in literary and philosophical studies at Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville, N.Y., on a Rockefeller grant-in-aid.

Last summer, Mr. Spender, a student of Goethe, was a speaker at the Goethe Bicentennial celebration in Aspen, Col.

A reception, sponsored by Scroll, will be held in the faculty lounge of McGill library at 4:15 p.m., Nov. 21.

Frat Council Clarifies Frosh Association Rule

Interfraternity council, in a statement issued yesterday, said "Fraternity men will not associate with new men students away from the campus for purposes that are not endorsed by the administration."

They refer to the administration's tightening of enforcement on non-drinking rules.

A spokesman for the group stated that the announcement was made because of misunderstandings that have arisen.

Time, Please

NO CHANGE has been made in the rule that vacation starts at 6 p.m. No good reason has been presented to us by the dean's academic advisory committee as to why such a time schedule is in effect.

It has not been that way in other years. Classes were dismissed at noon so that students who had to travel a great distance could have a chance to get home in decent time for Thanksgiving day.

They have said that they saw no reason to change the time to 4:15 because it would make little difference. They have told us merely that "they did not feel that they should change it to noon," and that "other colleges seem to follow the 6 p.m. policy."

To us that is so much gobbledygook. Students from 17 states are represented here. The college would like to see more states represented. Yet no effort is made to accomodate those students.

It would even be a nice advantage to students who live in western Pennsylvania to have a chance to travel in the daytime, especially with the possibility of slippery roads looming.

No Gag

THERE IS NO censorship of any news that is published in the Holcad.

It is necessary at times to clarify to students and faculty alike that the Holcad is not influenced in any way as to the news which it prints.

Our selection of news is not subject to pressures from any individual or group. Also, all opinions voiced in this column are those of students. These opinions are not subject to pressure.

The administration and faculty have never had anything to say concerning what is printed in this paper.

If the day should come that our freedom of the press were usurped or infringed upon, the resignations of this staff would be effective immediately, in preference to speaking through a gagged mouth.

Freedom of the press is a cherished freedom, and a freedom to be jealously guarded in a democratic system.

Frosh Again

WE'VE GOT ANOTHER message for freshmen.

You crossed us up on election day. We ran the "Ideal Frosh" elections in a way to prevent unfairness as much as we knew how.

You were fair, all right. Almost half of you so fair that you didn't vote for anybody. Only 163 freshman votes were cast out of a class of 316. That's barely over half of you.

Only 51 per cent of you believed it necessary to exercise your democratic right. It's no way to keep democracy alive.

Poll Of 'The 400' Shows . . .

The 'Sack' Wins, Feet Up!

By Jim Canan

'Twas a long time coming, but Thanksgiving vacation is only one weekend and three alarm clock ringings away. Do your plans for the five day respite include merely catching up on your sleep, eating, and romping?

If a thorough, fifteen minute Holcad-sponsored canvassing of 400 breakfast misers and sleep walkers staggering into Old Main before an 8 a.m. class is any indication, they do.

Yes, of those 400 accosted butt can misers and last minute hair combers who were asked the above question, 399 answered yes.

One petite lass, suddenly awakened by the realization that she was finally to be included in a poll, modulated a yawn down scale and gurgled wistfully:

"I love turkey so much I might even get out of bed to eat it."

Among others who thought they would sacrifice all home town activities for sleep was a freshman who looked five years older than he did in September.

"I like to think of all that sleep," he reflected, "but there's only one thing bothering me. To sleep well I'd have to write a theme first, and I haven't selected my vacation topics yet. If I don't decide on them pretty soon I might as well not go home."

Babbling neurotically, he trudged off to English 101.

A member of the class of 1950, while cursing the informant who once told him that his senior year would be the easiest, spat that he was going to sleep if for nothing else than to forget his thesis. It consisted so far, he snapped, of two lonely note cards.

After 399 people were questioned, with like results, and we of the weekly poll staff were satisfied with our work, a nondescript male student approached us.

"I don't have an eight o'clock," he leered, "and I'd like to take this time to express my views on Thanksgiving vacation."

Precisely flicking his cigarette into the receptacle, he continued.

"You see," he sighed, "I'm going home only because my landlady asked me to, and because there will be no classes to attend. Actually, the only friend I have at home bores me stiff. I can't stand my mother's cooking, my father isn't intelligent enough to converse with me, and I've become repulsive to my old girl friend."

"Therefore," he went on, "I plan neither to eat nor romp. I may sleep, simply to be at my wide awake, vicious best during the day."

"Having lived up to the 'study two hours for each class hour' requirement thus far," he gloated, "I see no reason to deviate during the intellectual void popularly referred to as a vacation."

With that, he walked on his hands through the door, explaining as he pit-patted away that this odd manner of walking added oxygen to his brain.

Adding the reply of our grotesque friend to those of the other 399 interviewees, we realized suddenly that it has been a tough two months. Who knows, a couple more weeks of "the grind" and we might become a college of hand-walkers. Vacation, here we come!

Frisbee's Foibles

Thanksgiving! No Wonder!

Just think! The Pilgrim mothers, For that first thanksgiving feast, Had no fresh fruits nor vegetables, Canned pumpkin, prepared yeast,

Refrigerators, mixers, Pressure cookers, bread by bakers, Aluminum utensils, Pudding mixes, coffee makers,

No automatic ranges, Running water cold nor hot, And the turkey wasn't purchased Dressed, already for the pot.

I esteem the Pilgrim fathers, Claim relationship with pride, Still the obvious conclusion is; If they were satisfied

To provide their wives so little They had cause to mark the date— Any meal was ample reason To give thanks and celebrate.

Spiritual Aspiration

Let me live in a world of reality, But give me the vision to help others see, In the parched terrain over which we plod, The stream of hope, from loving God.

The Real McCoy

By Sally McCoy

ON THE SHORT END OF IT

Fellows who haven't seen a barber chair for several weeks can take a lesson from Art Jones. The coed diners at Ferguson, where Art is a waiter, sang congratulations to him when he finally got a haircut. Red-faced, Art acknowledged the congratulations, then returned to the kitchen until the laughter subsided.

COMPLAINTS AND PAINS

Dick Mattocks received a white card with a "D" in American literature. Enraged, he went to the office to complain about the "D." Dick isn't taking American literature . . . Len Parr and Dick Folk were ready to cut and eat a pumpkin pie which Dick's mother had sent him, when they dropped it on the floor, face down. Sadly studying it for a moment, they scraped it from the floor and ate it anyway. Later that night Dick and Len wished they had left it on the floor.

PUBLICITY

HEL-LO-O

Some of the art majors who went to Pittsburgh Wednesday to see an art exhibit forgot that they were in the "big city." Eleen Zahariou was walking through the art galleries and said "Hi" to a man walking in the other direction. He stopped, turned around, and with a doubtful look asked, "Do you know me?" No," answered the flustered Eleen who then went into a lengthy explanation of the "Hello" tradition at Westminster.

FILM CRACKS

In a psych movie shown Wednesday afternoon, a child named Robert was seated at a table with two companions. The narrator commented, "Robert always eats and drinks with gusto and dispatch." "Which one is gusto?" asked Dick Hunt . . . And at the movie "Yellow Sky," after Gregory Peck and his companions had walked across the desert, the hero shouted, "There's a town. We can get water." "Not if it's a dry town," warned Alice Aiken.

WHATNOTS

Senior cheerleaders Barb Downie and June Graham received huge mums to wear at the Grove City game, but cheered so enthusiastically that the petals of the flowers dropped one after the other until the girls were wearing only the stems . . . Professor Schanck talks about the seasons as "fall, winter, spring, and supper." . . . The lights in Browne hall cafeteria were flashed off for a moment to gain the diners' attention so an announcement could be read. When the lights were turned on a cat was standing in the center of one of the tables.

Letters to the Editor

Favor Later Sunday Permissions

Editor, The Holcad:

Your article of last week about Sunday permissions is just what we have all been waiting for. Needless to say we are some of the 85 per cent who want regular weekday permission for Sunday night.

We think students should have the choice of going to chapel or not. As it stands now, a girl goes to chapel or stays in. Congratulations to The Holcad for starting the ball rolling.

Jean Geuther, Carolyn Fitzgerald, Mary Ann Hagenbuch, Sally Fyock.

Editor, The Holcad:

Your article of last week concerning later permissions for women on Sabbath evenings really stated our feelings exactly. We are very definitely, completely, and absolutely all for it. Now let's do something about it before '52!

Clare Brown, Jean Averill, Mary Firestone, Jodie Turner, Betty Toner, Nancy Engle.

Wants Observance Of Sunday

Editor, The Holcad:

Just a word on the Sunday question. I'm new fashioned enough to believe our Lord's statement, "The Sabbath was MADE for man, and not man for the Sabbath." (Mark 2:27) "The Sabbath was MADE." This one day set apart in the seven is not something that man has hit upon as a result of his own thinking. It is not a product of historical evolution. It is something that was given to man READY MADE, with copious directions as to its use.

Because it is God-made, there is a profound sense in which no man can break this law. If he acts contrary to it, he will only succeed in breaking himself. God has made this day to be different from the other days in the week, in order that all the other days in the week may themselves be different.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

It will be a long time before any of us forget the gripping scene of "twinkle toes" Harry Sample and Brick Stevens running that ball back to set up George Watto's touchdown last Saturday. After Harry got over the initial shock of finding the ball nestled in his arms he started out looking about as devastating as a Mark V tank. He was even more devastating after he lateraled to Brick and threw that block. I'll bet that would-be Grover tackler is still in a daze. It was another version of the story about the fellow who fell out of a tenth story window. It wasn't the fall that killed him. It was the sudden stop.

School spirit is a wonderful thing. It is becoming more and more in evidence on the campus. But once in a while loyalty to other things must, of a necessity, overshadow the ever-present loyalty to the school. So this week, in all fairness to experienced, practical, and dependable sports predictors throughout the country, I am taking St. Vincent over Westminster. The Bearcats haven't lost a game this season, nor have they been tied. They have been scored upon once (six points), and that team was taken to the cleaners, 55-6. I am saying, however, that the Titans will be the second team to score upon them. But don't go away mad. My predictions thus far have been so bad that this one could end up being odorous also.

A few seniors whose names have appeared elsewhere on this page will be wearing the Blue and White for the last time this week. Most people won't consider this as much more than information used to fill up a paragraph. But it is much more than that. After the final whistle of the final game another part of life for those 10 men will come to a close. It might seem incidental . . . but not to them. Playing together as a team will have given them just a little bit more of what it takes to go on in life . . . and succeed. Cooperation is a wonderful thing. Even rugged individualists can be just so rugged. This is something that we, as the on-lookers, should begin to realize. The situation of the world today is a very good example.

Last Minute Tallies Give Grovers Win Over Local Eleven

Linemen Lateral Twice To Score Touchdown; Weight Proves Margin

Scoring three touchdowns in the final minutes of play the Grove City Wolverines defeated a hard-fighting Titan eleven, 33-20, last Saturday afternoon at Grove City.

Ned Hamilton got the Crimson off to a fast start as he intercepted a pass thrown by quarterback Gaylord Lutz on the third play of the game, and raced 29 yards for a touchdown. Dickson's try by placement for the extra point was good, and the Grovers led, 7-0.

A few minutes later the Titans deadlocked the game with the most spectacular play of the year. A pass thrown by the Crimson's Hall Foster was deflected into hands of co-captain Harry Sample who carried the ball to his own 40 and then lateraled to "Brick" Stevens, who broke into the clear with no one between him and the goal. As he crossed the 10 yard marker Stevens stumbled and began to fall. Just before he hit the ground he lateraled to George Watto who scored. "Champ" Barthelsson's placement tied the game, 7-7.

Locals Move Ahead

The Blue and White went ahead in the second quarter when Dick Wharton climaxed a 28-yard drive with a plunge from the one yard stripe to "pay-dirt." Barthelsson's kick was blocked. Led by Foster, Restivo, Hamilton, and Bish, the Grovers marched 68 yards to tie the score. With all but one Titan up on the line to block a placement try for the extra point, Dickson passed to Hamilton who was standing alone in the end zone to put the Grovers ahead as the half ended.

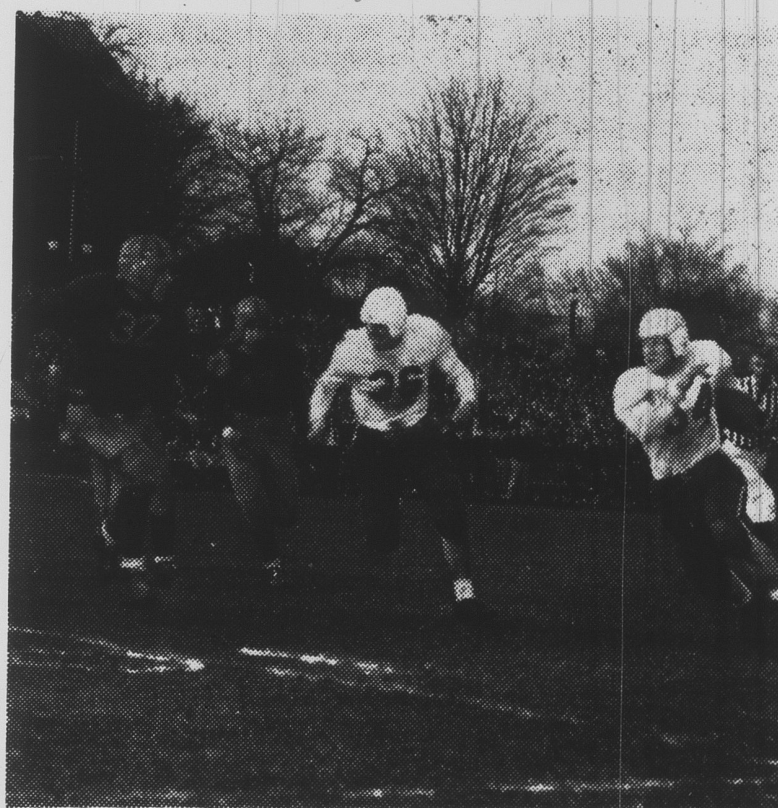

Not to be denied the Titans again took the lead in the third canto as Dick Sylvester raced over center for 36 yards to the Grove City four. Wharton plunged for the TD, Barthelsson booted the extra point, and the locals led, 20-14.

Grovers Rally

Halfway through the final period the roof fell in on the battle-weary Titans. Paced by strong, fresh reserves the victors scored three touchdowns in rapid succession. First Hal Foster ran back a punt to the 19, and then passed to Hamilton for a score. Following Dickson's conversion the Crimson led, 21-20.

Sam Restivo then recovered a Westminster fumble, which Dickson turned into a tally with a 30 yard dash over left guard. The extra point try was not good. Dickson plunged for another touchdown a few minutes later after Dick Hummel intercepted a Titan pass. Dickson's attempted conversion was blocked, and the final score read: Wolverines 33, Titans 20.

Wharton's Off Again

Titan guard Harold Heilman does some blocking for Whitey Wharton as Grover right end Larry Bish (number 32) charges in for the tackle. Center Harold Kelly (number 42) of the Wolverines follows the play around end in last Saturday's 33-20 setback at Grove City.

Ridl Announces Clinic For Basketball Players

A basketball clinic, open to all students, will be held on Monday, Nov. 21, at 3:30 p.m. in the gymnasium, according to "Buzz" Ridl. Rules, systems, officiating, and shooting will be discussed.

Practice dates for teams of the intramural basketball league are as follows: Friday, Nov. 18, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Tuesday, Nov. 22, Alpha Sigma Phi; Tuesday, Nov. 29, Independents and Commuters, and Saturday, Dec. 3, Sigma Nu. League play begins on Dec. 5.

Harriers Place Fourth In Tri-State Meet

Coach Burry's cross country team placed fourth in a Tri-state meet on the Schenley park course in Pittsburgh Wednesday afternoon.

The Titans edged Geneva, their district rivals, by scoring 80 points to the Covies 80½. Slippery Rock won the meet with 26½ points followed by Bethany with 65, and Carnegie Tech, the host, with 73.

Captain Ralph Foster, first man for the Titans, took seventh place in a field of 36 runners. Legge, Kelly, Bryan, and White also scored for the locals.

JVs Lose To G.C., 25-7

Scoring in every quarter, the Grove City JVs defeated the Little Titan footballers, 25-7, last Monday on the home field.

Roy Cress, center for the Little Titans, intercepted a Grover pass in the third quarter and ran 20 yards for the only Westminster score. Bob Hoagland converted the extra point. Charles "Buzz" Ridl, assistant football coach, tutored the Titans.

Titans Tie Grovers In Soccer Finale

Westminster's soccer team battled to a 1-1 tie in its last game of the season with Grove City college last Friday afternoon at Grove City.

Alex Spisak scored for the Titans on a pass from Bill Samuels midway in the opening quarter. The Grovers countered in the second period when Alex Eggers' free kick sailed past Art Shaffer. From then on, the teams battled on even terms, and two overtime periods were not enough to break the stalemate.

Six Seniors Finish

Six seniors wore Westminster's blue and white for the last time in the closing game. The booters will lose Captain Art Shaffer, Ellis Daugherty, "Red" Garrett, Jack Esposito, Norb Borowicz, and Bill Samuels through graduation.

This season's campaign was started at Edinboro, whom the Titans beat, 2-0; then followed the first 1-1 tie with Grove City. Burry's booters romped over Thiel, 3-0, but Slippery Rock upset the Titans the following week, 3-0.

Lose To Frostburg

Frostburg edged out the dribblers, 2-1, but the Blue and White trounced Allegheny, 3-1, and Carnegie Tech, 1-0, in the next two games.

Titans-Rockets To Play Benefit Game Dec. 12

Westminster's Towering Titans will meet the Slippery Rock basketball team in a benefit game Monday evening, Dec. 12, in the George Washington Junior high school gymnasium at 9:15 p.m., according to Grover C. Washabaugh, head coach.

Sponsored by the Optimist club of New Castle, the proceeds will go toward helping the Boys group of that organization.

YM-Xenia Game Off

Scheduled to travel to Pittsburgh tomorrow for a return touch football game with the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary, the YMCA was informed today that the game had been postponed. In a contest held earlier in the season at Westminster, the Xenia students were victorious, 27-6.

We wish to extend congratulations to Harry Sample, co-captain of the football team, and Miss Elaine Hooper, on their forthcoming marriage, Wednesday, Nov 23, in the college chapel.

Titans To Face St. Vincent Eleven In Final Contest

Ten Men End Careers With Unbeaten, Untied Bearcat Powerhouse

Ten seniors will wear the Blue and White for the last time tomorrow afternoon when Coach Mel Hetzler's gridders meet the undefeated St. Vincent college Bearcats at Latrobe in the last game of the season.

Tomorrow's game will be the first time that the two schools have met on the gridiron. The Bearcats, who have had only one touchdown scored against them this season, are rated winners of the district's mythical class B championship. The only team to score on St. Vincent, West Virginia Wesleyan, lost to the Vinceters, 55-6.

Will End Careers

Those men who will play their last game as Titans are "Bucky" Ambill, an offensive guard; Bob Benyon, a fullback who has been injured most of the season; John Chiodo, a reserve tackle; Fred Evanoff, an end; Bernie Kessler, an offensive guard; Gaylord Lutz, quarterback; Brady Mitchell, a tackle; "Junce" Raymond, a defensive back, and co-captains Harry Sample, an offensive center, and defensive tackle, and "Vito" Taylor, a guard.

St. Vincent is coached by Al DeLuca, who was an ace halfback at Duquesne university under Elmer Layden, and more recently an assistant coach at Duquesne. He is assisted by Bill Rafferty, one of St. Vincent's all-time linemen.

Bearcats Use T

DeLuca employs a winged-T offense, which features a set of fast moving backs. One of the big reasons for the Bearcats eight victories is a 145-pound wingback, Jackie Heimbeuecher, who is a flashy runner and kicker. Reviving the lost art of drop-kicking, Heimbeuecher drop-kicked successfully 18 out of 25 tries last year.

At left halfback will be Dave Hart, who played in the same backfield with Johnny Lujack at Connelville high school. The quarterback's chores are handled by George Kocerka, a small man at 150 pounds. Paul Clement, a converted halfback, holds down the fullback spot. St. Vincent's backfield boasts another fine performer in Vince Sundry, a standout halfback at Duquesne two years ago.

Indies Defeat Beta Sigs To Lead WAA Tourney

Independent women held their lead in the women's volleyball tournament, as three teams were eliminated this week.

Wednesday afternoon the undefeated Indies handed the Beta Sigs their first loss, 33-29. At the same time the Theta U's handed the Chi O's a 48-19 drubbing, removing them from competition.

Last Thursday the Chi O's edged the KD's out of the race with a 33-31 victory. In another game played last Thursday, the Sig Kaps bowed out of tournament play, as they were defeated, 36-30, by the TU's.

The Beta Sigs kept their victory hopes alive yesterday when they defeated the TU's, 51-24. The loss eliminated the TU's from tournament play. The tournament championship will be decided after Thanksgiving vacation.

Sororities Entertain At Open Houses; While Greeks Await Formal Rushing

By Dodie

Looking forward to formal rushing and pledging, campus sororities entertained freshmen and transfer women this afternoon with their first open houses. Fraternities, meanwhile, continue informal rushing.

THETA Us, Kay Campbell, Gloria Jenzer, Libby Mawhinney, and Dot Wallace are visiting Pitt's campus this weekend, while Betty Lou Stahlman will be at Edinboro. Marge Irvin, '49, has announced her engagement to Don Wheel. Visitors on campus last weekend were Mary Jane Sweeney, '48, Helen Sloss Catt, '49, and Jean Hopkins, ex-'49.

ALPHA GAM's second open house is to be planned by Helen Weeks. Cynthia Bacheler, '48, was married this past summer to Starr Babbitt, '49. Barb Bergland, ex-'51, Jean Basher, '49, Pat Smith, ex-'51, Jo Fennell, '49, and Lou Gill, '49, were on campus last weekend.

BETA SIG's will hold formal initiation for Evie Hill Monday, Nov. 21, chairman of the second party, Friday, Dec. 2, is Joan Magee. Happy Eisenbeis visited Pitt last weekend for the Pitt-Minnesota game, while Sally Funk, Dodie Renshaw, and Coral McWilliams are planning to see the Pitt-Penn State game there tomorrow.

CHI O, Isabella Cooper, is in charge of the second open house. Visitation officer, Eleanor Neary, was a guest here last weekend. Visitors on campus last weekend were Josie Hartman, '49, and Nan Gould, ex-'51.

ALPHA SIG's chairman for the interfraternity houseparty, Dec. 3, is Jack Wilson. Bill Bingham visited the Alpha Sig chapter at Penn last weekend, while on campus there for the Army-Penn game. Bill Henderson, ex-'50, and Burke Dorworth, ex-'51, are now attending Penn. Sam Clemens, '47, was on campus last week.

SIG EPS's part in the interfraternity houseparty will be taken care of by Bill Dahlgren, John Regule, and Don Laughlin. Bill LeFevre has been appointed comptroller. Chuck Bartoe, '49, and George Windsor, ex-'48, were on campus last weekend.

SIGMA NU, Harry Sample and Elaine Hooper, ex-'50, will be married in Wallace Memorial chapel Wednesday, Nov. 23. Kathryn Fye, Sharpville, Pa., accepted the fraternity pin of John Ellison. Jim Case and Dick Georgia visited at Bucknell university last weekend. Jack Williams, '49, was a campus visitor this week. Jim Boyd, '49, and A. Hugh Clough, '46, visited the house last weekend.

are extremely poisonous and a splinter of broken glass from such a bulb can cause non-healing wounds.

Perry McKibben is in charge of the library and music conservatory assisted by Jack Shannon. Each of the other buildings is under the care of one person. Emmett Kauffman handles the work at Science hall. Everett Kennedy is in charge at Browne, and Charlie Cornman cares for Hillside.

Ferguson hall's baseball loving Robert Kerr is well known to the girls as a Pittsburgh Pirates fan. Al Hawkins is responsible for College hall and Nettie Frankfurter of Jeffers is the only woman in such a post, although Mrs. Kennedy acts as maid at Hillside and Mrs. McKibben is the maid at Ferguson.

John Miller is the regular janitor for the gymnasium and Chuck Sittig aids him as student janitor. Two students care for the army surplus buildings. Edgar Moorhead cleans the infirmary and Jim Riddell, the art laboratory.

It takes a tremendous amount of activity to give Westminster its daily bath and brushing, but the janitorial staffs are scarcely noticed as they go about their routine tasks.

Gospel Teams Schedule Three Weekend Trips

Life Service will send gospel teams to Connoquenessing, Pa., and New Castle City Rescue Mission this weekend. Leading the teams will be Mark Lanfried and Margaret Anderson.

Another team will conduct the Monongahela Pioneer youth rally tomorrow.

Settlement work in Youngstown and New Castle has already been begun by the group, according to Pat Hayes, chairman of children's work. Plans for similar work in Mercer and other communities are being considered.

Letters To The Editor

The changes that many would like to make in Sunday night permission at Westminster is not progressive but retrogressive. This is not a time to be tampering with the foundations of a Christian college.

Faculty, staff and students need to be refreshed. It is only common sense to guard this precious heritage of the Sabbath. It is not merely a traditional custom, it is a tested commandment, proven 10,000 times over in the field of experience. Sometimes, we forget that Westminster students may be conducting a spiritual and moral purge to their parents who have drifted away in this day of money-making and pleasure-seeking. Personally, I do not believe there is a parent who would not wish his son or daughter to be back on campus for evening chapel. Why not try a parent poll on later Sunday permissions for coeds?

Is it too much to ask that one day might be geared to suit the needs of the minority? The majority never remember the need to be refreshed, spirit, soul, and body. The Sabbath was MADE for us. Why not combine our forces and enjoy it according to our enlightenment at Westminster?

Sybil S. Johnson
Editor's Note: Mrs. Johnson is the residence director at Browne hall.

Urges Clarity In Letters

Editor, The Holcad:

Clarity, correctness, unity, coherence, conciseness, and brevity seem to be mere words to a member of the English faculty whose letter was published by you last week.

In freshman English the importance of these precepts was drilled into us. I have read the aforementioned letter six times, plowing through the 65 word sentence, and still do not understand it.

Will someone please tell me, in a brief concise sentence, what the letter writer was trying to say?

Phyl Brasher Heads Tournament Committee

Heading the local committee, making preparations for the coming bridge tournament, Phyl Brasher is making plans while awaiting further action on the matter by Student Council.

Westminster college is one of more than 300 colleges and universities invited to compete in the 1950 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament.

Invitations and entry blanks were received last week by college officials from Kenney L. Ford of Kansas State college, chairman of the tournament.

Only undergraduates are eligible to play in the duplicate contract bridge event for the title and trophy. A preliminary round will be played by mail in February.

The 16 highest ranking pairs will meet for the face-to-face finals at the Blackstone hotel, Chicago, April 21 and 22. All expenses are to be paid by the tournament committee.

Further developments with regard to the local tournament will be printed in future issues of the Holcad as they are received from Student Council.

Miss Kirkbride Will Play For Program Monday

Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, assistant professor of piano, will present a program during WRW's regular broadcasting time, 1:15 to 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Miss Kirkbride will play "Variations, Opus Nine," Brahms. The piece was composed in 1854 from a theme by Robert Schumann.

Cuts Taken Wednesday Will Mean Double Loss

Double cuts will be charged for all absences after 6 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 23, according to the class attendance rules. The rule will also be in effect for all classes Tuesday, Nov. 29, when classes resume after Thanksgiving vacation.

YW Will Hear Address By Movement Delegate

YWCA will hear Marjeane Lynn, district representative to the Student Christian Movement from Allegheny college, at the meeting Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. in Ferguson hall lounge.

Following the meeting there will be a joint YMCA, YWCA swimming party in the college pool.

Class Sizes Announced

Twenty-nine classes taught here include between one and four students it was revealed this week by President Will Orr. Thirty-seven classes are held for five to nine students, and 57 classes for 10 to 14 students.

Krause Will Head Staff Of 'Information Please'

Al Krause, sophomore journalism major, will edit Information Please, student and faculty directory. It will be published by "30" club.

A weiner roast will be held by "30" club for freshman journalism majors at 4:15 p.m. Nov. 22, at the home of Doris Bush.

Mr. George C. Collins, director of the news bureau, has been made an honorary member of the club.

Bob Carey, senior English-journalism major, will be managing editor. Mary McCoy and Larry Friday are in charge of advertising. Doris Bush, Sally Fyock, and Howard Frisbee will serve as editorial assistants.

CYF Will Hold Party At College Hall Saturday

CYF will hold a "Farm Social" tomorrow at College hall from 8 to 11:30 p.m., featuring shirts and dungarees as dress.

The party is open to all members and their friends. The fee is 50 cents.

Dr. Walker will speak to the group on "The Harp That Was Silent" at 6:20 p.m. Sunday in the Little Theatre.

Dr. Purdy Will Attend Teachers Conference

Dr. Mary Purdy, head of the English department, will attend the National Council of Teachers of English meeting in Buffalo, N.Y., during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Carl Sandburg, American poet, will also attend the meeting.

Faulk Will Speak

JOHN HENRY FAULK

Mr. Faulk became associated with CBS. Since this work confined his company and audience to a microphone, Mr. Faulk left to find a job which would offer association with people.

He then signed a contract with the Columbia Lecture Bureau, and has been with them ever since.

Noted For Collections

Mr. Faulk is also known for his collections of folklore that are now in the Library of Congress.

During his lecturing Mr. Faulk has added to his repertoire of sketches of folklore characters.

He has created many characters that are known throughout the country. "Congressman Guffaw", "Windy Watson", "G.I. Joe", and "The Reverend Franklin Tanner" are among these folklore creations.

Federal Lawyer Will Give Address At Commencement

Judge Bakke Called 'Log Cabin Lawyer'

Judge Norris C. Bakke, the "log cabin lawyer," and presently associate general counsel of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, will address the class of 1950 at commencement exercises June 5.

Judge Bakke, who has been active in Christian work for many years, was born one of ten children in a log cabin in Mayville, N.D., in 1894.

He worked his way through the University of Chicago, receiving his bachelor of philosophy degree and bachelor of laws degree there in 1919. Graduate work at Harvard Law school followed, and also work at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Held Civil Posts

Judge Bakke was admitted to the Colorado Bar in 1920, holding the office of county judge from 1920 to 1925; city attorney, Sterling, Col., 1925 to 1926; deputy attorney general of Colorado, 1933 to 1936. He followed a general law practice from 1926 to 1932.

He was on the Colorado Supreme court from 1936 to 1945, when he was appointed chief justice. He received his present appointment as associate general counsel of the FDIC in March, 1947.

Did Christian Work

Judge Bakke's Christian work includes service on the Salvation Army's National War Service Advisory council, the Colorado Council

Dr. Handy To Head Summer Session

Dr. Everett L. Handy, professor of education and director of Westminster's graduate program, is the new director of the summer school session, according to a recent announcement of the executive committee of the board of trustees.

Dr. Handy's appointment has been made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. John Creighton, professor of history, who has been director of the summer school for the past three years.

Dr. Handy has been associated with Westminster for three years, two of which were spent as director of the graduate program.

He has been connected with educational work for 20 years. He came to Westminster from Chelmsford, Mass., where he was superintendent of public schools.

Since becoming head of the graduate program, enrollment of graduate students has increased from 47 to 67.

Dr. Handy expressed a desire to increase enrollment of graduate students in summer school. Recent trends have been in this direction because of the decrease of veteran students attempting to graduate under an accelerated program.

He received his S.B. degree from Boston university, and his Ed.M. and Ed. D. degree from Harvard. He attended Harvard under a teaching fellowship.

New Male Glee Club Will Prepare Concert

Rehearsals of the newly formed all-college male glee club will begin soon in preparation for a spring concert.

Organized under the auspices of the Conservatory of Music, the club will be directed by Alan B. Davis, professor of voice.

All men interested in participating should report at the first meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 7:15 p.m., in room 17 of the conservatory.

Economist Will Speak

A. C. Farmer, economic forecaster, will speak to economics students in the Little Theatre, Thursday, Dec. 15.

Mr. Farmer serves as assistant to the division manager of the Westminster electric corporation, Shanon.

They are warming up for the Sadie Hawkin's race Saturday night. The race, sponsored by Interfraternity Council, will be started at 7:15 by Westminster's "Marryin' Sam" from the Quadrangle. The couples will visit all three fraternities during the evening at times designated on the programs which will be distributed by each fraternity. Each fraternity will award a prize for the best costumed couple.

Sororities To Hold Parties Next Week

Sororities will climax formal rushing Monday, Dec. 5, to Friday, Dec. 9, with formal rush parties.

The second open house by sororities was held today for women interested in joining the groups.

Silent period will be held from 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 8, until 12 noon Friday, Dec. 9. All bids must be turned in to the deans' office by 9 a.m. that day.

Formal rush parties will be held by Sigma Kappa, Dec. 5, 4:30 to 6 p.m.; and Alpha Gamma Delta, Dec. 5, 7 to 8:30 p.m.

On Dec. 6 Chi Omega will hold its rush party from 4:30 to 6 p.m.; while Beta Sigma Omicron will hold its party from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Theta Upsilon's rush party will be Dec. 7 from 4:30 to 6 p.m.; and Kappa Delta will hold its rush party Dec. 8 from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Additional silent periods have been designated by Panhellenic council. They are from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 2, to 4:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 5; from 8:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 5, to 8 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 6; and from 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 6, to 8 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 7.

McLaughlin Will Design Commencement Notices

Charles McLaughlin, president of Alpha Rho Tau, art honorary, has been appointed by the senior class to design graduation announcements for this year.

He will be assisted by other members of the art honorary.

Tickets To Go On Sale For 'Lilliom' Next Week

Tickets for "Lilliom," a Little Theatre production, will go on sale Wednesday, Dec. 9 to 11, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at a box office near the speech office.

Mr. David MacArthur, director, has announced that no one will be seated during the prologue of the production, scheduled for Dec. 12 to 16.

WRW To Present Songs From Hopkins' Musical

WRW will feature numbers from the "Black Arrow," musical comedy by Joseph Hopkins, Bible instructor, on the regular broadcast Monday, Dec. 5, at 1:15 p.m. over WPIC Shanon.

The selections to be used will be chosen by Mr. Hopkins, who wrote all the production numbers. The entire premiere performance was given here Nov. 10, 11, and 12.

Faulk Puts Emphasis On Small World; Cites Necessity For Understanding

By Jim Canan

Emphasizing the smallness of the present-day world and the necessity for all people to know, understand, and appreciate their neighbors, John Henry Faulk talked over the back yard fence to a Westminster audience which absorbed a fresh kind of culture and liked it.

With laughs that burst from abdomens, or lingered at the tops to emerge as a giggle, those who attend heard "Senator Guffaw" extoll the contribution of Texas to motherhood in his campaign speech on the "big issues."

They donned flowery hats and became "large" women as they squealed with Effie MacDew, the president of the Magnolia Garden club, over her "dahlia complex." One solitary, feminine peal of laughter almost non-plussed Miss MacDew, but only added to the atmosphere of a woman's club.

"Bourban C. Lee," the Alabama recruit who was left cold by "to the left flank, march," and his ornery language-using sergeant with the palm-size brain brought a windy Texas army camp into the chapel, making GI's of the nearly 500 present.

However, when "Tanner Franklin," the colored minister of the "Shiloh Baptist church" trod his six feet six inches to the pulpit, the 500 shrank

District Students Will Gather Here For Debate Talks

Local Group Sponsors Pre-Season Conference

Representatives from 10 to 12 area colleges will attend the annual pre-season debate conference Saturday, Dec. 3, in Westminster's faculty lounge, according to Melvin P. Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech.

The conference is sponsored by the local chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating honorary, to clarify interpretation of terms in this year's debate question, nationalization of basic industries.

Reed Will Preside

Glenn Reed, TKA president, will act as chairman for the day.

During the morning session which begins at 9:45 a.m. Samuel Sloan, assistant professor of economics, will answer the question, "What is a basic industry?" Later in the day debaters from Geneva, Slippery Rock, Allegheny, and Mount Mercy will sit on a panel to discuss fundamental issues of the question. Robert Patton will serve as panel chairman.

Publisher Will Speak

Howard Campbell, president of the Gardner Publishing Co., Cincinnati, O., will speak at 11 a.m. on "The Case Against Nationalization." At 1:30 p.m. Harry Hurt will speak on "Labor in Britain."

Mr. Hurt, an Akron labor leader, spent a year studying conditions in socialist Britain.

Following Mr. Hurt's speech, all the college teams will enter a round of practice debates which will conclude the conference.

Tea Will Precede Library Contest

Tea for contestants in the Senior Library Contest will be served in the faculty lounge in the library Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 4 p.m.

Students who will graduate as late as Feb. 1951, are eligible for the contest. Final judging will be held in the spring.

During the tea, bargain books, old books, fancy bound editions, and other publications will be shown. First prize for the best library will be books valued at $30; second prize will be $20 in books, and a $10 prize will be awarded the best special library.

Sponsors for the contest are Dr. Mary Purdy, head of the English department; Harry Manley, acting chairman of political science department; Miss Mable Kocher, librarian; John Forry, assistant professor of English, and Dr. Robert Woods, professor of physics.

Scrawl Names Judges For Literary Prizes

Two faculty members and the alumni secretary have been chosen as judges for Scrawl's two literary prizes, it has been announced by Pat Hayes, editor of the literary publication.

They are Miss Maxine Gilliland, English instructor, Thomas Wiley, assistant professor of Spanish, and Paul Gamble, executive secretary of alumni.

Prizes will be offered for the best general work and the best non-fiction prose piece.

The magazine is expected to go on sale before Dec. 17.

YWCA And YMCA Plan Joint Christmas Meeting

YWCA and YMCA will hold a joint Christmas meeting Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m. in Ferguson hall.

A program has been arranged with a play and singing of Christmas carols as part of the evening's entertainment.

YWCA will sell Christmas cards in Old Main beginning Friday, Dec. 2, until the end of the next week. There will be no meeting Wednesday, Dec. 7, because of the basketball game.

YMCA members interested in trying out for the basketball team are invited to attend the first practice Saturday at 11 a.m. to the gym.

Got A Book?

HAVING BEEN cajoled, pressured, or tricked into the habit of reading during a four year stay at Westminster, most seniors have, unconsciously perhaps, accumulated a fairly well-rounded collection of books.

Aside from those whose collections include nothing much more than a few left-over text books they couldn't sell, lose, or otherwise get rid of, a large per cent of this year's graduating class undoubtedly have libraries which they can well be proud of. If so, they'll have a chance to show them off in the senior library contest.

The increased prizes offered for the best libraries this year provide an added incentive. (Story, page 1.)

Interesting and important to those who consider entering is the fact that neither the size of a collection nor its money value will be important. The main considerations in judging will be real interest in the library, familiarity with the books, and quality of books.

A chance to win $30 worth of books is worthwhile to anyone. And with this year's graduating class hovering close to 300, enough libraries should be entered to make all past senior classes look like illiterates.

Phony Story

ALTHOUGH A. G. BELL might justifiably have tossed his revolutionary invention into the bay had he known what New Wilmington would do to it, the telephone has finally come into its own here. For that he would be thankful.

The new telephone in the Tub represents a substantial victory for pro-telephone forces. A. G. really trained his followers well. He'd be appreciative and proud of the recent event.

For installing the Tub telephone the management deserves a good word. It's a convenient and needed addition to the recreation center. Alex would say so too.

It's interesting to note that not only Westminster students are concerned over the rise in coffee prices. The U.S. Senate has made it a subject of one of its numerous investigations.

We're glad to see that good use will be made of our new tennis courts. After several years of no tennis, the sport will come back as an organized campus activity next spring.

It's 'Sadie Hawkin's Day' Or...

Take To The Hills, Men

By Larry Friday

"Sadie Hawkin's Day" will be held Saturday, Dec. 3, and any yaller dawg of a bachelor who tries to skwirm out of his bounden dooty—which is to run for his life in the 'Sadie Hawkin's Day' race, will be shot like a hawg or a dawg as the case may be. This law will be enforced by Sheriff Jake (Death on Bachelors) Tolliver." These are the words taken directly from the Dogpatch bulletin board on the first floor of "old lane."

Since fraternity men are celebrating "Sadie Hawkin's Day" on Westminster's campus this year, these rules will also be enforced here too for them. The only difference in these rules will be that we are including all dawgs, not only the yaller ones.

The history of "Sadie Hawkin's Day" is a long and sad story. It seems that among the earliest settlers of Dogpatch, there was a girl named Hekzebiah Hawkins. Without a doubt she was one of the homliest girls that was ever born. She tried everything from a Toni to a bottle of Channel No. 5. (This perfume is now being sold in New Castle for 35 cents and three box tops a gallon).

None of these products helped poor old Sadie. Her father, being very fond of his daughter, decided something had to be done if he was ever going to get rid of her. After all, Sadie was 16 already and it was time she was getting married. Besides, the old man was having a rough time getting baby sitters for her. Everytime the agency sent over a student from Dogpatch college, who was trying to earn a little money by being a baby sitter, Sadie would have him half way to West Virginia before the authorities could catch her.

Now, this wouldn't have been so bad if Sadie hadn't been so ugly. One look at her would have brought tears to a dead man's eyes. She looked like some things that come out of the ground on a rainy night. This type of thing was too hard on the average college boy. Sometimes, after one of these experiences, the college student-baby sitter wasn't able to study for days. Everyone knows how upsetting this is to a college man.

Consequently, her father decided to help his daughter win a man. He went out one day and called all the eligible bachelors to the municipal building. With gun in hand, he told the bachelors that since none of them had been man enough to marry his daughter, he was going to take firm measures. He then declared Sadie Hawkin's Day and wished all the luck in the world to the poor critter who couldn't do 100 yards in at least 10 seconds.

A television set was offered to the steel-hearted man who would give up without a race, but, since there were no lovers of wrestling matches present, the offer was turned down. Who could sit home with that anyway?

To make a long story short, fleet-footed Sadie chased her man all the way to Schenectady where she finally caught him at a railroad crossing. He was tying himself to the tracks hoping that a train would come before Sadie did.

The other spinsters of the community were so pleased with this idea that "Sadie Hawkin's Day" was made an annual affair. This was in reality the event that created a need for psychology. Ever since this time men have been in a state of frustration. Psychologists claim that this is just initiative on the part of the girls, and that any attempt to stop this annual free-for-all, would cause a mental block in 102 per cent of the girls. (The extra 2 per cent is for some creatures that psychologists re-

Frisbee's Foibles

Ignorance Camouflage

Each time a teacher gives a test I wonder if he's more impressed by what we know, or by the zest with which we disguise what we've guessed.

Enthusiastic Fans

I doubt if deer or cottontails have ever been to college Or have become acquainted with Much academic knowledge. And I have never heard of one Who gained outstanding fame In business, politics, the law, Or some religious aim. Still they exert an influence That's felt from coast to coast: Their steps are yearly followed By a large and zealous host.

PROPHESED ANNOUNCEMENT

The warm Conservatory lounge with its comfortable chairs looked so inviting one cold morning that the orchestration class decided among themselves to hold class there. Led by Ray Ocock, they opened all the windows in their regular classroom. When Professor Cameron arrived he announced that class would be held in the lounge because the heat had not been turned on in the other room.

AND ALL THROUGH THE HOUSE—

Santa Claus has arrived early at the Alpha Sig house. While they were singing Christmas carols after dinner, Santa Pitcher, in red suit and white beard, entered with a loaf of bread. He filled all their mouths with pieces of bread, and turning aside he was heard to say, "Come and get your Christmas toys, kiddies."

IS HE?

"Kessler," said Professor Schanck, calling the roll in his statistics class. Chuck Kessler answered, "Here," but several other class members jokingly said, "That's not Kessler." Professor Schanck looked up and repeated, "Kessler." Chuck answered again and the class once more said, "That's not him." "I can tell an imposter when I see one. I played golf with Kessler this summer," added the professor. Evidently not recognized by Professor Schanck, Chuck replied, "That was my brother." But it really WAS Chuck Kessler who played golf with the professor this summer.

AND THEY RUBBED AND RUBBED

Several cakes of soap in one Browne hall wash room dried out over vacation. Grace Perry and Jane Barthel complained that their soap wouldn't even lather. But the problem was soon solved with a paring knife when they learned that Marianne Auld and Joan Carnahan had coated the soap with colorless nail polish.

CLASS LINES

The effect of sunlight on a white piece of paper was being explained by Mr. Dietz to a color theory class. "As a contrast," he said, "let's consider moonlight—you all know what happens in moonlight." . . . In a speech correction class which was determining the duration of sound, Ruth Devlin held the sound "eeee" for an exceptionally long time. "Sixteen seconds, better than average," commented Mr. MacArthur when she finished. And Bill Samuels knowingly added, "That proves my point—women are long winded."

. . . And Mr. Forrey, commenting on theories of discipline in his English methods class said, "Some of these are purely hysterical."

WEATHER FORECASTER—TRUE TO TYPE?

Returning from New Jersey after Thanksgiving vacation, Ray Op't Hof remarked to his car full of Westminster students, "We're lucky we have a clear night to drive." He had hardly finished saying it when rain appeared on the windshield of the car. It rained all the way back to New Wilmington.

Letters to the Editor

Seek Better Tub Service

Editor, The Holcad:

I would like to congratulate the three fellows who were "stuck" with a crowd of approximately 175 in the Tub last night after the lecture.

For 18 minutes after the crowd from the lecture entered the Tub there were two men behind the counter to serve those who had enough endurance to wait 20 minutes or more for a cup of tea or a milkshake.

Would it be such an undertaking to have three or four more waiters or waitresses behind the counter when it is known there will be a big crowd? It isn't really very much to ask.

The same goes for chapel times. Things get very crowded each day during morning and afternoon chapels and the people who are working do a good job but how much can one person do?

Sincerely,

A Tub Customer

Commend Independent Men

Editor, The Holcad:

As senior fraternity men we would like to commend the Independent Men on their recent chapel program. The Thanksgiving theme was timely, the presentation was reverent, and the program expressed thoughtful planning.

During the past two years the Independent Men have risen to a respectable and beneficial social organization on Westminster's campus—Congratulations! Three Students

Demand Permission Action

Editor, The Holcad:

Why hasn't something been done about the article on late permissions for women on Sunday evenings? Why haven't we heard the views of the administration on this question, since the survey shows that there

On our campus we have several honorary groups of long standing that have set and fast rules in their constitutions concerning membership and purposes. Once in a while when, in the course of a progressive system such as in effect at Westminster at the present time, it would be of a constructive nature to change these precepts. We believe it should behoove the members of such organizations to modify their requirements accordingly.

In this instance we are thinking of the situation which has become steadily worse since 1946 when so-called minor sports were instituted at Westminster on a large scale. The major-minor sports controversy has reached the point where we feel reciprocal measures instead of competitive measures should be taken.

Block W club, which has existed on Westminster's campus for a number of years, was originated with the thought of bringing together in fellowship those men who participated in the two intercollegiate varsity sports of football and basketball. This was a fine thing in the interest of better sportsmanship and participation in sports.

Since the drawing up of the charter, however, soccer, cross-country, track, and swimming have come into their own. The men who participate in these sports produce the same quantities of blood, sweat, and tears as do those men who are here on scholarship.

It would seem fair that they be allowed the same privilege as those men who participate in football and basketball, as far as belonging to a sports organization is concerned. We believe that these men would have plenty to offer Block W in their yearly chores of running the concessions at the football and basketball games, and the added membership would aid rather than jeopardize the success of the annual Block W dance.

In a recent survey among district colleges as to this situation on other campuses the following answers have been received:

From Kent State, "The Varsity K club includes men in all sports; there is no special organization for major and minor lettermen. They are all included in the one organization."

From Millersville, "All sports are major sports and anyone who has met the requirements for a letter is entitled to become a member of the club."

From Allegheny, "We have no major or minor sports. For all of the intercollegiate activities in our program we have the same sweater and letter award."

All this would seem to indicate that Westminster is behind the times in this respect. We would suggest that Block W seriously consider this problem in the interest of the school.

Burry Also Pays Victory Price In Producing Winning Record

By Alex Spisak

Westminster's own "perpetual motion" man is Harold E. Burry, coach of "minor" sports who, to prove that he never stops, has amassed a record of 67 wins, 38 losses, and three ties in his past four years of coaching soccer, cross country, swimming, and track.

The dynamic Mr. Burry refuses to take any credit for that amazing record and gives all the credit to his players who are "willing to pay the price of victory."

Mr. Burry's teams enjoyed their best record in 1947 and '48 when his teams won 26 contests, and lost only three out of the 29 engagements. That year, his soccer team won six, lost one, and captured the tri-state mythical championship. The swimming team came through with a 12 and 1 record the same year and also won the Penn-Ohio swimming meet.

Undefeated Track Squad

Last year's record stands at 19 victories against 12 defeats, and one tie. His best team last year was the track squad which was undefeated in seven starts. His present scoreboard for this semester shows seven wins, and the same number of defeats with one tie.

Mr. Burry is a native of New Castle and played end on the high school football team. He entered Westminster in 1931 as a business major with a minor in social studies.

During his four years at Westminster, Mr. Burry played plenty of football for the Titans at the guard slot before his graduation in 1935. He received his masters degree in education from the University of Pittsburgh in 1941 and is now working on his D.Ed. degree there.

In the same year, Mr. Burry accepted a teaching position in Ellwood City where he was high school football and basketball coach.

Apprentice Seaman

World War II came along and Mr. Burry became Apprentice Seaman Burry in 1943 when he came to Westminster under the Navy V-5 program in September of that year. He entered the Naval Reserve in June of 1944 and was commissioned a lieutenant. He served with the Submarine Service and Service Forces

In case anyone is wondering where he spends his spare time, when he's not in the gymnasium, pool, classroom, down on the field, or refereeing high school football or basketball games, Mr. Burry has a home, a wife Elma, and three daughters, Carol Louise, 8, Sandra Lee, 5, and Jacqueline Ann who will be 3 years old in January.

Titans Drop Finale To Bearcat Eleven

Taylor, Sample Star; Locals Fail To Score

Westminster's Blue and White gridders closed their current season on Saturday, Nov. 19, by dropping a 34-0 ball game to the undefeated St. Vincent Bearcats at Latrobe, Pa.

Ten seniors, Sample, Taylor, Mitchell, Evanoff, Chiodo, Beynon, Lutz, Amble, Kessler, and Raymond wore the college colors for the final time.

Sundry Leads Attack

Led by Vince Sundry the Bearcats scored twice in the first, twice in the second, and once in the third quarter. Strong line play by Vito Taylor and Harry Sample held the Vincents to their single TD in the second half.

Westminster lost its chance to score in the first half when quarterback Carl Barthelson tossed an aerial to Fritz Evanoff who carried to the Bearcat 26 yard stripe. In two running plays by Sylvester the ball was on the six-yard line. There the Titans lost the ball on a fumble with first down and goal to go.

Taylor, Sample Star

Vito Taylor was the defensive standout for the Titans against the once-scored-upon forward wall of the St. Vincent team. He was the fifth man in the Vincents' backfield during most of the game. Harry Sample also proved to be a power on defense as he bottled up play after play.

Taylor, Wharton Named To AP All-State Team

Associated Press sports writers have named Vito Taylor and Dick Wharton to honorable mention positions on the All-State football team according to word received here recently.

Vito was the number one defensive guard in the two platoon system this year while Dick was the outstanding halfback in the backfield on offense.

Pittsburgh Press sports scribes have named Brady Mitchell to the second team of the all-District class B grid squad, and have also named Harry Sample and Dick Wharton to the third team All-District group.

Harry Sample ran a close third in the Press selections behind Frank Lignelli of Clarion State Teachers college, who took first place for the center position, and Hal Kelly of Grove City who won a second-team berth.

Chester Dembinski, is missing from last year's team. Dembinski's center position will be filled by Captain Allan McCullough, who held down a guard spot last year. However, McCullough, who is six feet four inches tall, is no stranger to the pivot post, since he saw action at that spot during the 1947-1948 campaign.

Other Probable Starters

Bruce Wagner and either Jack Jones or Ed Halas will be at the forward positions. Clyde Shaffer, who has been converted from forward to guard, will be at a back court position, along with either Jerry Hyder or Pat King. Coach Washabaugh plans to alternate King and McCullough between guard and center.

In contrast with Westminster's veteran squad, Gustavus Adolphus of St. Peter, Minn., will present a team made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

The Gusties, who lost 16 games while winning only seven last season, are now in the midst of a rebuilding program under their newly-hired coach, Gus Young, and are fast regaining their top position in Minnesota basketball circles.

Gusties Are Tall

Coach Young, who captained Carleton college's famous "Victory Five" in the early thirties, boasts a starting quintet that averages six foot three inches.

Men who will rate watching Wednesday night are guard Norm Hald, the team's leading scorer last year, and Andy Papke, a two-year letterman at forward.

The Titan reserves will meet a Kittanning team in a preliminary game scheduled for 7 p.m.

Following is the season's schedule:

Modern Poet Joins Past To Present, Spender Asserts*British Poet Compares Verse To Modern Art

The modern poet's primary function is to relate the past history of civilization to the present, Stephen Spender, British poet, critic, and philosopher, told a large chapel audience recently in his discussion of "Poetry for Today."

Classifying poetry into two categories, major—impersonal or mythological, and minor—personal, he explained that some poets express their personal reactions to life. Others attempt to revitalize old stories and myths in order to apply their message to the present.

Man Must Adapt

The term "modern," Spender said, suggests new inventions, tastes, ideas, and greatly extended horizons. Yet, although man remains essentially unchanged, he must adapt his life to modern environment.

Poets use words to create poems, he pointed out. Certain words are considered more poetic than others, and today the proportion of poetic words has shrunk, due to changes in word meaning and modern advertising which appeals to the individual's romantic sense.

Compares Poetry To Art

Spender compared poetry to modern art which, like poetry, extends beyond personal into racial and social experience. Because of the machinery of reproduction we no longer know only Greek and Italian art, but, in art as in poetry, we have a complex world conception which is powerfully influencing our civilization. Possibly this very diversity of ideas may unite to embrace a single world idea.

is a question? Eighty-five per cent of the women think the present permission is unfair, yet we see no action.

The ruling that we must be in the dorm by 7 p.m. Sunday evening is not only inconvenient for students who go home on weekends, but also insulting! We believe that Westminster coeds are mature enough to decide whether they should go to church or not without being bribed to go.

We do not believe that freer permissions on Sunday would desecrate the day, as a recent letter to the editor stated. If a student does not choose to go to chapel, the fact that she would be able to go somewhere else on Sunday night would not change her attitude toward the Sabbath.

Library Displays Japanese Prints

Japanese prints, mainly of the fertile 18th century, are currently being displayed in the exhibition room of the library.

The prints are from the Butler Art Institute of Youngstown, and include examples of many of the most important Japanese artists of that period.

Characterized by extreme subtlety, sensitive delicate color, and rhythmic elegant line qualities which are strongly evident in most Japanese works, the prints give the appearance of having been created by the same artist. Study, however, reveals that there are subtle differences among the artists.

Among the artists represented are Shunsho, Hokusai, Hiroshige, Haronobu, Outomaro, and Kuniyoshi, all of the 18th century. At this time Japan kept voluntarily from contact with the outside world, and followed an ancient feudal system.

Hokusai, a pupil of Shunsho, was the greatest exponent of the realistic school, while Hiroshige was the most important landscape artist. Outomaro was the greatest painter of Japanese women.

to 25 so they could squeeze into the lantern-lit church-room.

Employing a sing-song inflection, the minister recounted the story of David in a manner that made the listeners appreciate the value of telling a sermon through a Bible story with flavor.

Faulk's shoeless, towheaded waif who told the tale of his sister's shoes tapered the evening into a serious mood, urging the audience to think about the philosophy behind the entertainment afforded by the mimicry.

Through the relaxing, humorous media of a neighborly southern twang, lip pursing, eye rolling, and sheer acting, John Henry Faulk not only gave us a cross section of the rich, the poor, the humble, the pompous, the frivolous, and the serious, but made it easy to take. All told, it was an hour's worth of a lesson in tolerance, neighborliness, and fun.

Singers Reorganize Men's Glee Club

Davis Assumes Role As Leader Of Group

By Bill Anderson

Since 1930 Westminster college has been without a glee club. Now, 19 years later, another club has been started. All it took was a group of aggressive conservatory men to rejuvenate the Westminster Men's Glee club.

On Tuesday evening 35 men reported for the first rehearsal, at which time such songs as "Begin the Beguine," "Night and Day," and "Comin' Through the Rye" were practiced. Under the direction of Alan B. Davis, professor of voice, the club is preparing for a sacred and secular concert to be presented sometime in late April or early May.

Before the group was organized, some interested students circulated a petition which they presented to Donald Cameron, director of the Conservatory of Music. He investigated and gave his permission and in turn, the college sanctioned the club.

The men asked Mr. Davis, who directed a similar club from 1927 to 1930, to be their director. In an interview yesterday, he spoke enthusiastically of his high hopes for the group. "Judging from the men that reported to the first practice," he said, "we should soon have a very fine club." He also stated that Ray Ocock will be the pianist and John Nelson his assistant.

Although the student instigators did not want their names printed, they did say that there is a need for tenors. A spokesman for the group commented, "A lot of us in the conservatory felt the need for a men's glee club, so we just decided that this college shouldn't have to wait for another 19 years!"

College Hall Sponsors Snowball Dance Tonight

With "Snowballs" as the theme the College hall men will sponsor an all-college, sweater and skirt dance tonight in College hall at 8:30 p.m. Providing music for the dancers will be the 12 piece college hall band. Dancing will last till 11:30.

Tickets will cost 50 cents. Walter Cleary, Art Menno, Ted White, and Don Carroll are the committee in charge of the dance.

Students who have not returned their Argo picture proofs will be charged $1 for each proof, since the proofs are the property of the photography studio.

These pictures will not appear in the Argo unless the proofs are returned this week.

Finals Announced In Poetry Festival

Finals in Westminster's annual Poetry Reading Festival are set for Feb. 15 at 8:15 p.m. in Ferguson hall lounge.

Three book prizes will be awarded to the winners of the contest open to all students. No experience is necessary to compete.

Readings will be from five to seven minutes in length and must not be memorized. Eight students from the preliminary readings will be selected to compete in the finals.

John H. Forry, assistant professor of English, heads the committee in charge of the affair. Other committee members are Miss Maxine Gilliland, instructor of English; Mr. Robert McGill, instructor of English, and George Bleasby, assistant professor of English.

Winners of the contest last year were Priscilla Barnes, John Douglas, and Bill Dumbaugh.

Chapel Will Feature First Christmas Story

Dr. Will W. Orr will read the Christmas story Sunday night in the last vesper service before Christmas vacation.

The program will be given by members of CYF, Bob Garvin and Peg Darby.

Miss Ada Peabody, associate professor of music education, will direct the girl's glee club in special music.

Audrey Stoehr will be student director of the glee club and Carol Merolla will play the organ.

Freshmen Join Senate

Three freshman women have been elected to Senate, women's governing body, Sally Snyder, president, announced.

Browne hall women elected Joan Carnahan and Trudy Martin to represent them.

Elizabeth Crawford will represent Jeffers.

Forum To Sponsor Mock Legislature

Students Will Operate As US Lower House

Westminster students will get a closeup of the workings of U.S. Congress March 20, 1950, when the Political Science Forum initiates a three day mock legislature.

Groundwork for the session is already being laid, according to Glenn Reed, Forum president and temporary chairman of the event. He requests that all interested persons attend a planning committee meeting Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 3:20 p.m. in room 207, Old Main.

Only the House of Representatives will function. The lower house includes 435 members. However, Reed says that there will be "plenty of room for lobbyists, the press, and other groups in addition to the congressmen."

Several standing committees will begin work about six weeks before the session with hearings on various national problems. They will attempt to bring in authoritative speakers on the various subjects.

There will be three evening sessions and probably one afternoon meeting, according to Harry Manley, advisor to the Forum.

98 Accept Sorority Pledge Bids; Formal Ceremonies End Rushing

Sorority bids were accepted by 98 freshmen and transfer women students as rushing ended at noon today when the pledge lists were disclosed to the sorority presidents.

Pledging ceremonies were held by the sororities this afternoon for the 98 women who accepted bids.

Alpha Gamma Delta pledged 27. They are Illona Baird, Jeanne Bauder, Connie Beaman, Mary Bean, Joan Beerbower, Gloria Ben, Sue Boyer, Genevieve Castrodale, Peggy Cole, Carolyn Eddy, Rosemary Fellows.

Joan Laufman, Pat Morrison, Jean Noss, Ruth Moody, Katherine Kotsch, Marjorie Phillips, Marion Miller.

Doris Webber, Sally Hetra, Carol Richmond, Norma Roessler, Doris Smith, Nancy Steinberger, Jean Whitaker, Joan Worgan, and Marilyn Newlands.

Beta Sigma Omicron pledged 17. They are Audrey Carlson, Irene Carl-

Williams, Griffith Hold Leads In Molnar's Fantasy, 'Liliom' In Little Theatre Monday

MacArthur Directs Experimental Production; Dietz, Gallagher Design, Construct Seven Sets

"Liliom," Ferenc Molnar's seven scene fantasy, will open in the Little Theatre Monday night, Dec. 12, with Phyllis Williams and Jack Griffith in the lead roles of Marie and Liliom.

Directed by David MacArthur, instructor of speech, the production is an experiment by the Little Theatre in the use of lighting, music, and scene design as conveyors of the mood of the play to the audience.

Accenting color, Charles Dietz, assistant professor of art, designed the scenes for the show. Helen Cushman, assistant professor of speech, is handling the costuming.

Gallagher Directs Settings

Sets were made under junior speech major Ed Gallagher's direction, while Mr. MacArthur and Bill Kerr, senior mathematics major, are in charge of lighting.

Ken Albridge and Paul Talley are assistant stage managers.

Members of the cast are Dorothy Elder, Marie; Phyllis Williams, Julie; Isabella Cooper, Mrs. Muskat; Jack Griffith, Liliom; Marianne Bartlett, first girl; Joel Mellinger, second girl; Marilyn Eastham, third girl; Jean Whittaker, fourth girl; and Robert Tanguay, first policeman.

Eight On Stage Crew

On the stage crew are Joel Mellinger, Nancy Smith, Bobby Bodmer, Sue Nolph, Beth Holmes, Janet McDanel, Doris Webber, Nancy Brown, and Mary Bean.

Marianne Bartlett, Sue Horton, Jean Simpson, Davie Lazear, Carol Royal, Ted Rupert, and Louise Rubino comprise the costume crew, while the makeup crew includes Sally McNally, Carolyn Beck, and Phyllis Hartman.

The property crew is made up of Mary Dickson, Marian Brodbeck, and Edna Mayo.

Bill Kerr, Gus Borasio, and Bill Stedman will handle the lighting.

Background From Classics

Background music for the play has been taken from works of Rimsky-Korsakov, Khachaturian, Rachmaninoff, Delius, Prokofieff, Stravinsky, and Tchaikowsky.

Director, MacArthur announces that the prologue, vital to the mood of the play, begins at 8:15 p.m. and that no one will be seated after it is under way.

Dope Sheets Available For Saturday's Game

Pi Delta Epsilon's new Titan Basketball Dope Sheet will go on sale tomorrow night at the Alderson-Broddus game for the first time.

Bob Carey and Art Shaffer, senior journalism majors, were editor and managing editor, respectively, of the publication.

Complete team history, lineup, roster, and squad pictures appear in the dope sheet. The price is 35 cents.

George Collins, director of the news bureau and assistant professor of journalism, took the photographs.

Four Men Debaters Will Participate In Pitt Tournament

Debaters Will Discuss Nationalizing Industry

Four men debaters and their sponsor, Melvin P. Moorhouse, assistant professor of speech, will attend the University of Pittsburgh's annual debating tourney Saturday.

The topic is the national debating question, nationalization of basic industries.

The men representing Westminster are members of Mr. Moorhouse's "A" men's team. Frank L. Jones and Robert Patton will debate the affirmative side. For the negative are Basil Messina and Frank Davidson. Ed Lindenberg will be the alternate.

This is the only big tourney to use the cross examination style of presenting the topic. Each speaker will get a chance to question his opponent and in turn be questioned by him.

From 15 to 18 nearby colleges will be represented. The Westminster men will meet six other colleges. Each of the teams will be rated by its six opponents and the winner of the meet will be the school with the highest rating at the conclusion.

YW, YM To Witness Christmas Plays

Louise Hendricks, senior Bible major, will direct a Christmas play Wednesday, Dec. 14, before a joint meeting of YMCA and YWCA in Ferguson hall at 7 p.m.

She will be assisted by members of YM and YW.

In the cast are Dorothy Foster, Joanna; Ginny Reehl, Rebecca; Carolyn Brown, Mary, Jesus' mother; John Peterson, Hamar; Tom Prosser, servant; Frank Jones, prophet, and Dwight White, uobelman.

The play, dealing with the first Christmas, is part of the adult work of Life Service. Louise is using the play as part of her work on play directing.

The play will be given at the Almira Ladies' Home, Dec. 11, at the Christ Mission in Youngstown, Dec. 13, and the Mercer Sanitarium, Dec. 15.

Sophomores Will Elect Class Vice President

Re-election of the sophomore class vice president will be held Tuesday, Dec. 13, in the tower room of Old Main.

The election will be held from 10 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 3 p.m. All sophomores are urged to vote.

Candidates for this office are Jim Case, Larry Friday, Pat Reinheimer, and Pat King.

Hillside Plans Dance

Dancing and a Christmas party will be held at Hillside after the basketball game tomorrow night, in honor of the hoopsters and their friends.

All students are invited.

Scrawl Goes On Sale

Scrawl, campus literary magazine, will go on sale in the halls of Old Main and in the dormitories next week, managing editor Lyle Bramhall has announced. Prize for this year's publication will be 25 cent.

Investigate Congress

PROBABLY THE MOST unique large scale enterprise forwarded here in recent years is the mock congress being planned by the political science group. Westminster may well be the first school to attempt a reenactment of the functions of our national legislative body. Neither the sponsoring group nor the Holcad has heard of such an event in another college.

"Congress" next March can serve several useful purposes. It will undoubtedly add to better understanding of the proceedings of the federal government. It will be an excellent chance to see in detail how the House of Representatives works. This will be accomplished through student participation, not just by passive observing.

The session, too, should stir increased interest in national events. And it will be an opportunity for some to dig deeply into current problems that affect everybody. What, for instance, are the facts underlying the butter-margarine controversy?

Success in the mock congress depends on every student. If the venture gains sufficient support it can be one of the most useful activities of the year. It's worthy of backing by the entire student body.

That Final Jinx

ONE OF THE MOST frustrating circumstances of final exams comes when you note with horror that the fate of the exam schedule has marked you for something like two finals the first day and another one or more the second.

Practically nobody can review a whole semester's learning in so many courses thoroughly enough before the exam period begins.

It's too late, of course, to consider a change this semester. We do, however, propose that in the future a free day be scheduled immediately preceding the exam period. This would give everybody a more equal chance to review. When so many of the faculty count so much on final exam scores, it is only fair that all students have enough time to organize what they have learned.

THIS YEAR'S SENIOR class officers are plainly on the job. The letter they issued today illustrates that. Among the plans the letter outlines is the class project. We encourage every senior to give serious thought to what memento the class of 1950 can leave with the college.

Cage Season Opens As . . .

Students Brave Game Mob

By Jack Shepherd

When the chill breezes of December begin to whip about the collegiate Gothic edifices and across the Quadrangle, then the thoughts of the average student turn to what some of the Titan athletes have been working on for over a month. You've guessed it, it's basketball, THE sport at Westminster.

As many students did, I pushed aside the multi-colored and worn books, closed my eyes to other responsibilities, and tramped off to the first game of the season.

However, not having been brought up on a ranch, in a lumber camp, or near an open-hearth furnace, I didn't consider myself quite rugged enough to buck the mob which usually forms before the game, waiting for the doors to open. Consequently, I slowed down and arrived at the game a bit late. It looked good from a distance, but a closer look indicated, that breathing space in the gym was at a premium.

Inside, 10 men were working up a terrific sweat trying to flip a leather sphere through an iron hoop. There didn't seem to be much excitement, due, I guess, to the fact that this was just a preliminary. Those JV's work up just as much perspiration as the varsity, but they get only half the cheers.

While standing philosophizing on the belabored JVs, a young chap approached, mumbled something about keeping the passage clear, then pushed a ticket into my hand. Not being proud I rushed to the balcony to find the seat.

You might know, the seat was up in the rafters, and everyone nearby was comfortably seated. I don't remember all that was said, but I was called several uncomplimentary names and offered several bits of bitter advice. I can't understand why, for I only stepped on one man's shoulder, and on another's fingers. I suppose, though, that that one woman objected to my sweeping her hair with my coat as I removed it.

By this time the two varsity squads were out on the floor, getting themselves into shape for the contest. The conversation about this time consisted of speculation as to the result of the game on the basis of what was being done in this warm-up period. This conversation was delightful, that is, until a terrific noise from below shook us from our seats. The balcony shuddered, and we clapped our hands to our ears. From below, about 60 mad, merry, musicians blew their horns, tooted their woodwinds, and beat their drums, while the fans hung onto their seats lest they be blown from the gym by the blast.

After this entertainment, mere cheering was like a whisper.

The gym certainly was colorful, in places. It seemed rather odd to see groups of women dressed alike, when everyone knows that women are always striving for individuality. And the more individual, the better. Anything for the cause, I guess.

The game finally got underway, and once again 10 men began to work up some perspiration. Excitement mounted, I suppose, but you would never have guessed it from the noise from the balcony. The referees' decisions got more noise than some plays at times. On the whole referees seem to be an unpopular brood. I suggest the many-headed Hydra and four-armed Brahma to work the games. The referees just can't please anyone, anytime, or any place.

At about half time, the seat seemed to harden and a little respite was necessary. Braving the throng, I was ushered into the open air by the mob, and engaged in more conject-

December Insomnia

December weather, cold and bleak, Finds Old Sol hesitant to peek Into the dusky morning air: A sentiment most of us share. But we, the slaves of endless haste, Feel morning slumber's idle waste, Forego the season's rest delight, And rise each day while it's still night.

Modern Art Takes Beating; Speech Prof Loses Lunch

By Stretch Brown

NEEDED: AN ART CONNOISSEUR

Girls at Ferguson hall have discovered that the abstractionistic painting hanging in the second floor hall has been hanging on its side for years. What was thought to be a crack in the paint is the signature of the artist.

BACKFIRE

Bob Beisheim bought a whizz bomb and hooked it up to Sherry Wolfson's car. Bob was quite anxious to see Sherry's reaction, but he was not prepared for the loud explosion that took place when he started his own car. It seems Sherry discovered the bomb and turned the tables on him.

LOST—AND FOUND!

Lump Swan was wheeling the buggy around in the Tub, picking up the dirty dishes. Seeing a paper bag on one table, he swept it along with the rest of the debris. Was Lump embarrassed when he learned that the "garbage" was Mel Moorhouse's lunch, which was now reclining in the garbage pail!

AND SEW A FINE SEAM

Girls who claim to be expert at the art of embroidery are up against some pretty stiff competition. Fred Timberlake has just finished embroidering a dresser scarf and is now monogramming a pair of shorts.

SCHOOL DAZE

Lucky Reznik was leaning back in his chair in psychology class, listening to Mr. Reid discussing adolescent behavior in school. Suddenly Lucky fell over backwards on the floor. Mr. Reid remarked dryly, "That's a typical example of what I'm talking about."

ZERO HOUR

Mr. Hopkins was discussing a certain chapter of Judges in one of his Bible classes. Explained Mr. Hopkins, "When Gideon led the Israelites against the Midianites, it must have been at twelve o'clock because it was a Midianite attack!"

THE PRO

Norm Rudolph and Keith McGinnis were developing some pictures in the barracks. Keith, being a veteran of five years at photography development, reassured Norm of his skill. His ego was somewhat deflated when he learned that he had forgotten to add the developer to the solution and all the pictures turned out blank!

ECONOMY PLUS

Fritz Evanoff has quite a system for saving money over at the Tub. He buys a cup of tea and saves his tea bag. During the course of time, he simply takes his cup over to the counter and asks for more hot water.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED

Marylou Black, now Mrs. Torrey, was sitting in choir when Mr. Evans called the roll. Coming to her married name he called it out several times, but there was no answer for several minutes. Then suddenly Marylou woke up. "Oh! Here I am!"

TROUBLE, TROUBLE, TROUBLE

Tom Eckles is bemoaning the fact that he has to retake a math exam. It seems that Tom was so anxious to get home for the Thanksgiving holidays that he wasn't concentrating very hard on the test being given the day vacation started. He tore up his answer sheet and handed in his scratch sheet that was too unintelligible for the prof to read!

Letters to the Editor

Blasts Lettermen's Club

Editor, The Holcad:

From the information that I have been able to obtain through conversations, rumors, and reading the Holcad, it seems that the Block W organization is definitely against any merger with the members of the minor sports. Personally, I can't see where they have any legitimate gripe or reason for not wanting to do so. By increasing their numbers, they would also increase their strength, and would be of more service to the college.

Block W members, as I understand, are for the most part scholarship students and as such receive their tuition gratis and a job. The men who participate in the minor sports do not receive any of these benefits yet they play just as hard at their respective sports.

What is the Block W aim? I've noticed that they do have concessions at the football and basketball games and that they also hold an annual dance. What happens to the money they make? As far as I know, these proceeds go toward the purchase of sweaters for the members and for no other cause. The minor sports participants, on the other hand, receive a sweater from the college in their senior year providing they have met qualifications. This would mean more to a person,

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

In the process of stepping on Block W's toes last week it seems I have acquired various names such as "meat-head", "lunk-head", and several other types of "head" by the members of that organization because of adverse criticism directed toward them. The criticism was meant to be constructive, not destructive. One member of the organization was kind to me in regard to the situation and, incidentally, gave me what I consider to be THE legitimate argument in Block W's favor.

His argument was: "In order to become a member of ANY honorary group on campus, one must meet the requirements of that group. For instance, one could not become a member of Kappa Delta Pi without the proper requirements in education courses. Block W has, since it was organized, required that all prospective members win a letter in either basketball or football in order to meet the requirements for admission. Why should Block W take members who have not met the requirements?" This is a reasonable argument.

It represents the success of the article run in this space last week. The article was written with the idea that it would immediately arouse a lot of comment. It did. I said something last week to the effect that the major-minor sports issue should be brought to a head. It was.

By way of explanation I wish to say that I wasn't criticizing the members of Block W, but the way in which the constitution had been written originally. I am sorry to say that some members considered the article as a personal degradation. I had expected they would uphold their group on an impersonal basis.

In line with the Holcad's policy I try to be fair to all sports on the campus. If some individuals have been seemingly overlooked in the past, it is because I like to emphasize the importance of a TEAM. I also want to see the minor sports men receive the recognition they deserve.

However, since my hopes for comparative peace among the sports ranks seem destined to be dissolved, I can only suggest to the minor sports members that they organize a group of their own. This plan would have to have the sanction of the administration. I believe it could and should be worked out satisfactorily before too long.

To the few Block W members who could still grant me a "hello" after last Friday and who openly discussed the matter with me in an honest and sensible way, I say "thanks." To those others who ceased friendly relations, and to those who don't have much regard for the sports department of the Holcad, I say that I'll rely on the adage that "time healeth all wounds."

Floormen Defeat Gustavus Adolphus In Season Opener

Win Is 60th Straight On Home Hardwoods; Meyers Shows Promise

Westminster's Towering Titans gained their first win of the current season, and their 60th consecutive victory on the home court, as they defeated the Gustavus Adolphus cagers, 68-41, Wednesday night. The locals have not been defeated at home since the "Iron Dukes" of Duquesne turned the trick in the "blackout" game of 1942.

McCullough Leads Way

With Captain "Mac" McCullough leading the way the Blue and White took the lead in the early minutes of the game, and never were behind throughout the contest. The Titans showed their best form during the first ten minutes of the second half, scoring 26 points to their opponents' seven.

High point man was McCullough, who scored five field goals, and five out of eight free throws for 15 points. The pleasant surprise of the game was the play of freshman Don Meyers, who marked up 13 tallies to take runner-up honors.

JVs Lose

In a preliminary game the Titan reserves lost to the Kittanning Kay Eyes, 34-31. The Kay Eyes were led by player-coach Tommy Weeter, a former Titan.

Last Saturday night the Blue and White defeated the Sharon Westinghouse floormen, 60-26, in a warm-up game at the Sharon Buhl club. McCullough with 17 and Meyers with 10 were high scorers of the winners.

Tutor And Pupil Guide Titan Fortune

Grover

"Buzz"

By Alex Spisak

Probably no Westminster student has ever noticed the green shirts, ties, and socks that Mr. Grover C. Washabaugh wears for basketball games as a "good luck" charm, but the congenial gentleman of the athletic department donned them again this week as the cage season got underway. The "wearing of the green" has head basketball coach. He also coached football here before World War II but he is best noted for his successful basketball teams.

Met Long Island

His greatest thrill probably came in 1941 when his team went to the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York. The Titans lost in the opening round to Long Island university who went on to win the tournament.

As for this season's prospects, Mr. Washabaugh says that "we're hopeful and we have some good talent, but we have an extremely difficult schedule since 19 of our 28 games will be played on other courts."

"Buzz" Assists

Assisting Mr. Washabaugh with the basketball team is Charles "Buzz" Ridl who was added to the athletic staff this year. "Buzz" is from Edgeworth, and played football and basketball while at Westminster before he was graduated in 1942. He was one of the members of the famous Titan cage team that went to Madison Square Garden to play Long Island university.

"Buzz" served a number of years with the armed forces during World War II and he is responsible for bringing Allen McCullough to Westminster. "Buzz" met "Mac" in the Far East and quickly convinced him that he should play his basketball in Titan land.

Davis Elected Captain By Titan Soccer Team

Eddie Davis, senior business education major from Cochran, Pa., was recently elected captain of the soccer team for 1950 by members of the soccer squad.

Ed played both halfback and fullback this year and will probably play a regular fullback position next year.

Titan Cagers Meet Alderson-Broddus At Home Saturday

Slippery Rock, Geneva Will Play Floormen Abroad Next Week

Westminster's Blue and White will try for their second win of the season tomorrow night when they entertain the Alderson-Broddus college dribblers at 8:15 p.m.

Next week the Titans will meet two of their district rivals. Monday night the Tall Boys will meet the Slippery Rock Rockets in a benefit game sponsored by the New Castle Optimists club on the George Washington junior high school court in New Castle. Thursday the locals will travel to Beaver Falls where they will meet the Geneva Covies.

Bowers At Center

Alderson-Broddus is expected to bring a fast, high-scoring quintet here. The Titans last played the Battlers in 1940 when Westminster won, 50-42. The West Virginians offense is built around senior Ray Bowers, a six foot six inch center.

Geneva has another strong squad this year. This season the Covies are coached by Cliff Aultman, who is in his first season as a college mentor. Aultman's most dependable point getter is the veteran Al Valsic, who was one of the district's leading scorers last year. Teaming with Valsic to give the Covies a strong scoring punch are Lloyd Cable, the former Aliquippa high school star, and a rangy center, Warren Weakland.

Reserves In Prelim

In a prelim to Saturday night's game the Titan reserves will meet the Irwin Eagles. The Eagles are former members of the Irwin Knights, who won the state class B championship in 1947 and 1948.

Swimmers Open Season At Grove City Dec. 13

Coach Burry's 1949-50 swimming team will begin its 12-meet schedule Tuesday, Dec. 13, against the Grove City college swimmers in the Grovers' home pool.

Eight veterans from last year's squad plus seven new prospects turned out for pre-season practice. Harry Sampson, a new-comer to the squad, is expected to fill the gap in the 220-yard free style event left vacant by Bill Wallace, last year's captain.

Returning members are co-captains Bob Braun and Fred Cassell, Bob Gunnett, Paul Fenwick, Charles Pitcher, Doug Reichert, and Pete Enroth. New members are John Fraser, Bob Love, John Robb, Fred Suppes, Bill Koller, and Larry Pitzer.

The schedule is as follows:

Sororities Pledge This Afternoon As Fraternities Continue Rushing

By Dodie

Greek gals breath sighs of relief today, as rushing comes to an end—but the new sisters face the problem of exchanging coke dates and phone conversations for long hours of pledge-dom. Fraternities, meanwhile, must wait until Tuesday for their pledging.

BETA SIGS will play hostess to campus sororities and Quadrangle next Thursday evening, before the all-sorority Christmas caroling. Marylou Hirschert and Carol Keans are in charge. . . . a luncheon in honor of the new pledges will be held by the actives tomorrow at the Tavern. . . . Jean Strubel, '48, was on campus Thursday, while Gladys Stitt, ex-'48, and Jean Moore, ex-'52, visited last weekend.

CHI OMEGA held formal pledging ceremonies this afternoon. . . . a pledge luncheon will be held at Mabel's Saturday for the new members. . . . Barb Lewis is in charge. . . . Marg Foster was Chi Omega's rush chairman. . . . last Wednesday's chapel program was planned by Edna McCuen.

KAPPA DELTA will initiate Sue Horton into active membership Saturday afternoon. . . . the pledge dinner will be held at the Tavern Saturday evening. . . . Lois Matthews was chairman of the final rush party. . . . Nancy Hoffman, ex-'52, was on campus last weekend.

QUADRANGLE accepted Myra Reichard into membership this week. . . . Peggy Morris, '48, was on campus last weekend.

THETA U's houseparty Saturday evening is being planned by Martha Kennedy and Ann Nicodemus. . . . on campus last weekend were Gail Antes, ex-'51, and Mary Lou Edgar, ex-'51.

ALPHA GAM's pledging was held this afternoon, followed by a pledge dinner at Mabel's. . . . Pat Carlson, ex-'52, was married to Bill Robertson Nov. 29. . . . Janet Lindsey, ex-'51, is expected on campus this weekend.

ALPHA SIG's Christmas formal will be held at South Hills Country club, Pittsburgh, on Dec. 17, with Joey Simms orchestra. . . . Bob Rounce and Hoover Yount are in charge of the open house to be held after the game tomorrow night. . . . the Christmas serenade and float are being planned by Roger Jarvis and Pete Enroth. . . . Duff Brown and Don Hartranft headed the committees that planned the rush party. . . . Alpha Sig's that visited the Penn State chapter last weekend were Joe Amiano, Don Book, Bob Clever, Tom Eckels, Bill Kerr, Bernie Kessler, Stan Kail, Ed Millward, Moe Reynolds, and Lucky Reznik.

SIG EP's Bill Dahlgren, social chairman, is in charge of the Christmas formal to be held at the Hillcrest Country club, New Kensington. . . . Jack and Mickey McDaniels, '49, were on campus last weekend.

SIGMA NU's Christmas formal will be held at the Connoquenessing Country club, Ellwood City on Dec. 17. . . . a dinner will be given for the married men of the chapter and their wives this Sunday. . . . John Lukacs and Chuck Gerrish are in charge of the annual Christmas party for the children of the Mercer Orphans' home, Dec. 16, at the house.

Education Students View Elementary Art Exhibit

Twenty-four elementary education students were in Youngstown recently to view an exhibit in the Butler Art Institute of art work done by elementary school children.

Mr. George Eaddis, instructor of art, accompanied the group.

SPE, ASP, YM Notch Opening Week IM Wins

Monday marked the beginning of action in the 1949-50 men's intramural basketball league. The Sig Ep A squad took a forfeit from the Independent men who failed to appear. In the nightcap the Alpha Sig Bs won their first contest of the campaign, taking a 24-23 thriller from the Left Wingers. Jack Welty, Left Winger pivot man, tossed in seven field goals for a total of 14 points and scoring honors.

In Tuesday's action, the Alpha Sig A squad was defeated by the Alumni, 30-26. Ed Millward scored 12 points for the losers, while Hope and Mercer led the Alumni squad with seven points each.

In the second contest of the afternoon, YMCA defeated the Sigma Nu C team, 22-12. Ralph Brown topped the scoring with 16 markers for the winners. Kenny Hopkins led the losers with six points.

Washabaugh Announces Open House In Gym

Grover C. Washabaugh has announced that there will be a "sports open house" held at the gymnasium Saturday afternoon. The gym floor will be open for basketball and volleyball and the pool will be open for swimming.

The open house has been planned for one day only, but if there is a large enough attendance and it is found to be a popular function, plans will be made for a regular weekly event.

Both men and women are invited to attend.

Honorary Will Discuss William Yeats' Poetry

Discussion of the poetry of William Butler Yeats, Irish versifier, will be led by Jack Shimer at a meeting of Scroll, English honorary, next week. The group will meet in the music room of the library at 7:15 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 13.

Original manuscripts will be read by Donna Dagnon, Bill Anderson, and Albert Malley.

Delta Nabla Takes Six At Formal Ceremony

Delta Nabla, honorary mathematics fraternity, held formal initiation for six pledges at the Manse recently.

Those initiated were Milford Shimer, Bill Dembaugh, William Hazlett, Charles McGary, William Margraf, and Jack Hodges.

Going to Sharon are Wilma Duff, Margie Anderson, Jerry Shave, and Barry Lash.

To the Darlington church will go Tom McLaren, Bob Franklin, John Geldemacher, and Jeanne Miller.

Those going to Pittsburgh are Marge McCullough, Darrell Yeany, and Marge Lohse.

Jim Clinefelter, Harold Byers, and Dwight White will lead gospel teams going to Campbell, East Brady, and Sharpsville.

Brown, Ranck Attend Problems Conference

Duff Brown, president, and Bob Ranck, vice president of student council, recently visited Pennsylvania College for Women to participate in a student government conference.

The conference consisted of two forums which discussed current problems on college campuses. National Student Association, the honor system, and activities planning and fees were discussed.

Fourteen colleges were represented at the conference.

"30" Club Will Initiate Freshman Journalists

Freshman journalism majors will be initiated into "30" club, journalism group, Monday, at 4:15 p.m., in the faculty lounge of the library.

Joan Noble is in charge of the initiation.

Time of initiation has been changed from Tuesday because of fraternity silent period and pledging.

Two sound movies will be shown at the first meeting after Christmas vacation, which will be held Jan. 13.

On the award certificates, it states that the letter or sweater was awarded for a VARSITY sport, whether major or minor. The only distinction then would be the scholarship.

You can't keep the so-called minor sports out of the limelight all the time. Their intercollegiate records should speak for themselves.

Maybe the administration can take a hand in this affair and arrive at a workable agreement.

WRW To Give Numbers By Larry Wood Combo

WRW will feature numbers by the Larry Wood Combo, Monday, Dec. 12, at 1:15 p.m., over WPIC, Sharon.

The combo is composed of James Ralston, piano; Ralph Brown, clarinet; Clair Gibson, bass; and Larry Wood, drums.

Mona Frank and Larry Wood will present the vocals.

Numbers include: "I Can't Help Loving that Man," "That Christmas Song," "Winter Wonderland," "Sophisticated Lady," "Beginning of the End," "Don't Cry Joe," and "Day by Day."

Social Groups To Carol At College Residences

Sororities will join together in singing Christmas carols at each dormitory and fraternity house Thursday, Dec. 15.

They will meet at the Beta Sig house and proceed from there around the campus.

The caroling will take place from 9:30 till 10:30 p.m.

On Wednesday evening Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity will serenade the women's dormitories as they hold their annual Christmas caroling serenade.

ure as to the game's outcome. But by this time, pre-game prophecies of a Titan victory were half way to becoming truth.

The game ground out into a rout in the second half, and the fans got a chance to see almost all of the hoopsters, to borrow a sport's cliché, in action. Although this type of game is not too exciting, it did give the spectators a good feeling to know that the home team was off to a good start with a victory.

It was exhilarating to hear the victory bells ring out in Old Main again. The sound of the bells were hardly a thing of the past ere the bleacher forwards and the sideline guards were analyzing the squad, man by man, knocking or boosting as the case may be. However, analysis of the team I leave to those pseudo-experts.

Let me conclude that there is nothing like a good crowded hoop contest—absolutely nothing.

Students will be charged double for absences after noon today, according to the cut system in effect. The rule will also apply to all cuts on Tuesday, Jan. 3, when classes resume after vacation.

Bob Patton Places Second In Tourney

Robert Patton, senior political science major, won second place in the University of Pittsburgh's annual debate tournament last week.

The distinction was the result of his case for the affirmative on this year's intercollegiate debate topic, nationalization of basic industries in the United States.

Judged by opponents and one critic judge, Patton was second only to a debater from St. Vincent college, out of a field including teams from 20 colleges.

Westminster's fourth year of participation in the tournament marked the first year of judging the contestants on an individual basis.

Fraternities Take 78 Pledges At Close Of Two Month's Rushing

Culmination of two months of fraternity rushing resulted Tuesday in the pledging of 78 men into the three national fraternities on campus.

Twenty two men signed their pledges for Alpha Sigma Phi. They are Roy Bennett, Bud Bentley, Dick Bloom, Harry Bowen, Bill Bradley, Bob Cronenwett, Robert Dugan, Jack Hughes, Art Jones, Tom Kelly, Ed Liddell, Erwin Lutton.

Forum Names Planners For Mock Legislature

Six committees were appointed for the mock legislature to be held in the spring, sponsored by Political Science Forum, at a meeting held recently.

Tom Danner, Ira Gates, and Bill Shannon make up the registration of representative committee.

Frank Jones and Robert Patton are on the rules committee, while Mildred Henderson comprises the records committee.

Bob Randolph and Dick Georgia are in charge of committees. The publicity committee is Karl Stetler and Frank Finlay, and Walter Gyr is in charge of house officers.

Sigma Nus Pledge 31

Sigma Nu pledged 31 men. They are Bill Anderson, Dick Banick, Bob Beckwith, Ralph Buchanan, Tom Byler, Don Carroll, Ed Cary, Ted Councilor, Roy Cress, Don Drugmond, Dick Folk, Doug Gordon, Ken Gordon.

Sig Eps Take 26

Tony Pazzanita, Herb Porter, Harry Sampson, Paul Scandrol, Roland Schaffer, Ted Smith, Dick Stone, Fred Suppes, Ed Urban, Bob Walrath, George Watto, and Roy Westwood.

Train Riders Can Get Special Rates Receipts

Students traveling by train to and from college for the Christmas vacation can obtain a receipt at the college office which will entitle them to student train rates, Student Council has announced.

The receipts will be used as a means of identification to obtain the train tickets at the station.

Student Council is making plans to have student identification cards issued next semester.

Eleven Seniors Will Appear In New 'Who's Who' Edition To Represent Westminster

Student Council Members Raise Criticism; Constitution Lists Selection As Their Task

Eleven seniors will represent Westminster in the 1950 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Their names were released this week by George Collins, director of the news bureau, amid criticism from some Student Council members over the fact that their organization did not help to nominate the representatives.

The seniors named are Duff Brown, Bob Carey, Alyce Ann Eppley, Glenn Hartman, Pat Hays, Ann Hepler, Marge Powell, Bob Ranck, Glenn Reed, Frank Ruth, and Judy Wilkinson.

Council has named "Who's Who" members for the past four years, according to Duff Brown, president. Before that, he said, the selections were handled by the news bureau under Dr. William Thomas, who left Westminster this summer for another position.

All of this year's communications from the publishers were addressed to Mr. Collins, who replaced Dr. Thomas.

Biology Section Will Present Films

Productions To Cover Cancer, Hygiene, Sex

Three films, "Traitor Within," "Body Care and Grooming," and "Human Reproduction," will be shown in room 15 of the Science hall by the department of biology Friday, Jan. 6 at 8, 8:55, 9:50 and 11:15 a.m., and 1:30, 2:25, 3:20, and 4:15 p.m.

"Traitor Within," shows the points on our bodies where cancer is most likely to develop and explains the symptoms for which one should be alert. There are no scenes to give offense.

Emphasizes Hygiene

"Body Care and Grooming" develops the theme that good grooming begins with personal care, and describes some recommended daily habits.

"Human Reproduction" is a factual film on the human reproductive systems, and on the process of normal human birth. Models and animated drawings are used to describe the anatomy and physiology of the reproductive organs of men and women. The film stresses the biological normalcy of reproduction and the importance of clear, objective familiarity with these facts.

Showings Open To All

The 8 and 9:50 showings will be for the students in biology 101. The other showings will be open to all college students and staff members.

Each film will last for approximately 50 minutes. An additional screening will be held in the evening if necessary.

Approximately 70 persons can be accommodated at each film presentation.

Honorary Will Sponsor Student Tutor Service

Target, senior women's honorary, will sponsor a new tutor service, using as tutors students recommended by the faculty.

Students who wish to use the service are asked to contact Louise Hendricks in Ferguson hall.

Fees for the service will be 75 cents an hour for individual students and 50 cents an hour for each person in a group that is being tutored.

Students' Records Used

Selections were made on the basis of students' records. Sources included the activities records of the dean of men and dean of women, activity lists turned in for Argo by each senior, college publications, and scholastic records of the college.

Qualifications, as set up by the "Who's Who" publishers included campus leadership, scholarship, and activity. Campus-wide scope of activities was considered in making the choices.

Criticism in Council meeting was not levelled at Collins or the methods used. But it was pointed out that Student Council's constitution lists the naming of "Who's Who" as one of the organization's jobs.

Brown Heads Student Council

Duff Brown from South Orange, N.J., is president of Student Council, a biology major, and a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. Duff is also a member of Beta Beta Beta, biology honorary, CYF, YMCA, and Life Service.

He also lists among his activities the swim team, presidency of Beta Beta Beta, and general chairman of Autumn weekend this year.

Coming from Oil City, Bob Carey is sports editor of the Holcad and a member of Sigma Nu. He is an

Gibson, Brown Win Literary Awards

Clair Gibson, freshman music education major, and Nancy Brown, freshman journalism major, have won the two literary prizes offered by Scrawl magazine, the college literary publication.

The non-fiction writing prize went to Clair for his article "The Inhuman Side of Military Government." Honorable mention in this category went to June Bandemer and Lois Gittings.

The Chi Omega general prize was awarded to Nancy for her story "The Decision." Honorable mention went to Marvin Konigsburg, Joan Henry, and Margaret Wheeler.

Sculptors' Christmas Angels Display Varied Interpretations

By Mary McCoy

What would you say if someone should ask you to describe a Christmas angel? We see them each year on Christmas cards, in department stores, and in churches; but what do you think a Christmas angel is like?

Three weeks ago Mr. Dietz asked his sculpture class to create a piece of art which was to be their concept of the Christmas angel; and he is very proud of the work his nine students have done. Using aluminum, galvanized iron, glass, plastic, wire, leather, plaster, and imagination, these art students have shown that there can be almost as many concepts of an angel as there are people to conceive them.

One of the most interesting angels from the standpoint of construction is a mobile, (a type of sculpture constructed with free moving parts) in aluminum, done by Henry Kautz. This Christmas angel is designed to give the impressions of time, space, and tangibility. When assembled it will hang by a wire from the ceiling and its different parts will be able to change relative positions with each other; keeping the angel from being a static impression.

Jack Griffith Stars As Liliom; Scenery, Music, Highlight Play

By Frank Ruth

Sparked by some fine acting, excellent scenery, and great mood music, Ferenc Molnar's "Liliom" is being presented this week in the Little Theatre and is a play this writer would like to recommend.

The seven scene fantasy has Jack Griffith in the lead as Liliom and Phyllis Williams as the wife, Julie, who is left with an unborn child when Liliom commits suicide following an unsuccessful robbery.

The surprise of the play was the fine acting done by Jack Griffith who has at last been given a chance to prove what he can do in a starring role.

His characterization of the embittered young carousel barker was handled very well, as Jack seemed to live his part. Phyllis, as his wife

Julie, carried her part well after she got over her uneasiness in the early part of the play.

Another newcomer to a starring role was that of Isabella Cooper, who entered her role of the hard carousel owner at times with ease and except for an occasional falling out of character, did a good job.

Croy Pitzer again displayed more

Move Now

A RECOMMENDATION calling for encouraging more Negro and foreign students to come to Westminster was presented to the Board of Trustees this fall by President Orr. The recommendation was passed unanimously.

In view of the fact that we will probably have a more varied racial and religious representation on the campus in the near future, it is time we take stock of the extent to which we are prepared for the step.

The national constitutions of most Greek letter societies on campus carry discriminatory clauses against Negroes and other groups. So long as opinion from local chapters is not exerted, national fraternity leaders seem content to let conditions remain as they are.

Toleration is hardly a concept which can be forced upon a group from outside. It must come from within. Now is the time when we are actively within a group where we can carry some influence for furtherance of democratic principles.

Those organizations whose constitutions carry discriminatory clauses can apply much pressure to alumni groups and to the national councils to eliminate those sections.

It seems unnecessary to present arguments for racial toleration on a Christian campus, where democratic ideals are taught and lived.

But we do urge that our local groups mobilize for action, and help to lead this democratic movement which is spreading rapidly throughout the country.

Improve System

CONFUSION in Student Council arising around "Who's Who" selections this year is the result of circumstances which could not be helped. But it brings up the thought that Council should develop a definite, smooth working system for use in future years.

We suggest that the selections not be made entirely by Student Council in the future. We do not doubt the organization's capabilities, but the personal element involved is so difficult to overcome that one organization is taking too great a responsibility by working alone.

Christmas Rumor

ALTHOUGH we lack back yard fences at college, we are far from suffering a shortage of the gossip that sometimes goes over them. In keeping with the Christmas season, we offer a choice bit for the use of rumor mongers. Remember this one? "Peace on earth, good will to men." A Merry Christmas to all from the Holcad.

Where Has St. Nick Been, Or...

Santa Leaves The Igloo

By Jim Case

The standard answer to Junior's inevitable question, "Where did I come from?", is that the stork is responsible for all that happened. A question equally hard to answer is one that arises in many children's minds about this time of the year. "Is there really a Santa Claus?"

The answer to this can't possibly be the stork because even Junior knows that a stork can only do so much. Besides, if the stork is blamed for babies, Santa Claus, and anything that happens along, Junior will begin to doubt that the stork really brought him into this world and you are right back where you started with the aves and hymenopterous insects.

To say there isn't a Santa Claus, and admit that you have been telling a big fat lie, will ruin all his faith in human nature and he is liable to run off and join the Tibetan domestic society for prevention of cruelty to Yaks. This in itself is nothing to be ashamed of, since the TDSPCY is regarded by many as one of the most exclusive organizations in the world. Can you name 10 of your friends who belong?

However, to go along with the old story of jolly old St. Nick can lead only to an entanglement that would confuse a Chinese justice of the peace. When Junior asks where Santa lives, the customary answer is the North Pole. You might get away with this, but if Junior has been reading National Geographic lately, you have "had" it. A friend of mine tried to palm off Lansing, Mich., but it seems that Junior knew a fellow who had a girl from Lansing and had been told that Santa definitely did not live in Lansing.

If you are lucky enough to get away with the North Pole being the residence of Mr. Claus, there are still a few questions that will make you think.

"How does he manage to get down the chimney?" A whole new field is open to you. Junior will never believe that a man with a latitude of five feet can slide down a hole nine inches in diameter without even getting his suit dirty. You can always contend that he uses brick stretchers held up by sky hooks but you're just getting in deeper and deeper with prevarications.

Another good question bound to come up is, "How do the reindeer run in the air?" If you know enough about aeronautics, you can probably confuse him with technical terms and make him feel ashamed not to have understood the whole setup, but the less fortunate must rely on their imagination.

There is always the possibility that each Christmas is a white one and you can say the reindeer run on the snow flakes but this has several flaws. If they run on the snow, why aren't they snowdeer? That's a good question. Why aren't they? Also, if you live near the equator, this story won't hold much snow. If you get the snowdeer landed on the roof, it isn't too difficult to explain how they stand there. They use their legs.

"How does good old S.C. get all over the world in one night?" This question will probably be asked so you'd better have an answer. If you want to make it simple, tell the dear boy that Christmas isn't celebrated at the same time all over the world. This takes little intelligence and no sporting blood so why not be dar-

Season's Greetings

A lot of Christmas cards employ "May you and yours find Yuletide joy."

While linguists this same message tell,

"Feliz Navidad," or "Joyeux Noel." And formal advertisements say, "Greetings for the holiday," But I formally ignore And shout "Merry Christmas folks," once more.

Cat's Etiquette Lacking; Carbeau Wins By A Hair

By Stretch Brown

TALL TAILS

Pete Enroth was eating supper one evening, and at the same time watching a cat lapping up a saucer of milk. The animal was splattering it all over as he drank. Disgusted, Pete looked down at the cat and cracked, "Where were you brought up—in a barn?"

HEADLIGHTS

Ed Anderson, Bob Carbeau, and Bob Williams were comparing foreheads in the Tub. Each one claimed that he had the most hair, and when no one could agree on the matter, they called over several uninterested people. Nearly everyone agreed that Carbeau had the best thatch. Ed, in self-defense, muttered, "He must have won by a hair!" and both Anderson and Williams are still demanding a recount.

COLD SHOULDER

In one economics class, Mr. Sloan was discussing people who put their gold in the deep freeze and in cellars instead of keeping it in circulation. Cricket Andrew piped up, "Yeah—frozen assets!"

BONERS

Members of the 257 speech class were startled into reading twice one notice which appeared on the speech bulletin board one afternoon. The notice read: "Do not dress today!" Fortunately the students did not take it literally and reported to their regular class period. It seems that old clothes are sometimes worn to stagecraft and on this particular day no dungarees or jeans were required.

IT HAPPENS EVERY SPRING

A group of kids were talking about girls who get crushed on football players during the football season, and on basketball players during the basketball season. Nancy Zangrelli turned to Ken Gordon and said, "Stick around until track season—you might be in the running!"

THE JOKE THAT FAILED

Waitresses and waiters at Ferguson Hall put a small rubber lizard in the centerpiece of the house-mother's table, a dish with green leaves drooping over the side. The lizard was carefully arranged so that the tail dangled over one side and the head stuck up realistically from the other. The kids expected to hear a shriek any minute from the diners at the head table, but much to their disappointment and surprise everyone left the table without even noticing the slimy green thing planted so obviously in the center. It seems that Mrs. Whitehill had seen a rubber replica like that one before, and when she entered the dining room she wasn't the least bit ruffled to find one lying so temptingly on the table.

Letters to the Editor

This column is open to all members of the college family. Letters to the editor should be addressed to the Holcad, Box 96, and must be signed. Names will be withheld upon request.

Attacks Widespread Rumors

Editor, the Holcad:

I think we've had about enough! Yes, more than enough! There seems to be a first class rumor mill going full force, day and night, around here. I refer, of course, to the many rumors which appear each day using words such as "fired," "leaving," "signing pledges," "lighting fires under so-and-so," and "dormitories with no front door."

Just what is going on? There seems to be a pressure building up every day, and it's not confined to the so-called agitators. Everyone seems to have a gripe, and it never used to be like that. If something is wrong, then let's have a policy clarification right away. I think I express the feelings of all the students when I say we're sick of rumors and we want some facts. We're tired of hearing about Westminster from the outside. Let's get it from within.

Surely, the administration must know about these rumors. If so, then why are they allowed to circulate. Rumor can hurt, and this business can go too far.

Unity is a precious thing. So precious, in fact, that if we don't have it at Westminster, we're not going to have the progress we all want for this college. Rumors can make, or break, that unity to a far greater degree than we imagine.

Let's have the FACTS, and let's forget the fancy.

Quotes And Unquotes

by Bob

There was a discrepancy in this column last week regarding the major-minor sports issue. Mr. Charles Myler, a Westminster sports star back in 1929-32, has informed us that in 1930 he won a letter in track and was immediately voted into Block W. Later on he won his football letter as a fullback for the Titans. He further stated that at that time there was no requisite for becoming a member of Block W other than winning a VARSITY letter. There was no distinction between minor and major sports.

In 1939, however, a change was made in the constitution and the present Block W club came into being. This fact appears to be the crux of the matter. I do have hope that some sort of settlement will be reached in the major-minor sports issue before this school year ends. At a recent Block W meeting plans were discussed, which cannot be disclosed at this time, which would indicate a step in the right direction. However, I still am of the opinion that a merger will not be reached. I hope that, in the event of the forming of a minor sports organization, competition will not completely defeat the purposes of either Block W or the other proposed organization.

Last Monday night two local officials from New Castle provided the benefit crowd that witnessed the Titan-Slippery Rock contest held at Washington Junior high with a new twist to the "Cake Walk." It is not the Holcad's policy to ridicule officiating at any time, but in this instance the job was carried out in such an incompetent manner that mention must be made of it. It would seem that the gentlemen of the New Castle Optimist club in charge of such benefits might at least obtain competent officials. Evidence: Westminster shot 41 free throws while Slippery Rock was given 36 chances.

Amid the usual rough style of the Rockets, the one shining star for the Green and White was Don Black of New Castle who proved that Rocket basketball can be played in a smooth style, minus the rough tactics. He is a fine competitor and should be commended for his clean playing and fine sportsmanship.

A rough road trip is right! The Titans will face two of the East's finer floor squads during the holidays as they travel to New Jersey to play Upsula and Seton Hall. A note comes to us from Seton Hall that the fans down there consider the Westminster game merely a warm-up contest. I'm giving a Christmas prediction that the Titans will discourage this thought by about seven points. After that one, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you all.

McCullough Stars As Titans Win Two At Home And Away

King Scores 19 Points In Win Over Rockets On New Castle Floor

Led by Captain Al McCullough the Towering Titans put their height to good advantage during the past week in trouncing two smaller opponents, Alderson-Broddus, 88-54, and Slippery Rock, 85-51.

Last Saturday night the Tall Boys got "hot" in the first quarter to take a 25-13 lead, and then coast to an easy victory over the Alderson-Broddus Battlers.

McCullough, who took scoring honors with 17 points, kept the fans on the edge of their seats during the thrilling canto with one of the best ball handling and shooting exhibitions of his career.

Tuesday night Slippery Rock was able to stop "Big Mac's" scoring power, but his smart passing took the spotlight as the Blue and White outclassed the Rockets on the Washington junior high school floor in New Castle.

Coach Washabaugh's number-two Tall Boy, Pat King, was the game's high scorer with 19 points.

Box scores for the two games follow:

Freshman Find

Don Meyers of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the newcomer to the Westminster basketball squad who is making a name for himself as a Towering Titan. He captained his team for two years at St. Casimir high school in Pittsburgh and was named to the first team All-State Catholic squad his last two years.

Burymen Sink Grovers In Lop-Sided Victory

Chuck Pitcher and Bob Gavett led Coach Burry's swimmers to a 51-15 victory over Grove City college Wednesday afternoon in the loser's pool. The Titans took first place in all eight events while allowing the Wolverines to place second in only four events.

Pitcher won firsts in the 50 and 100 yard free style matches while his team mate, Bob Gavett, won the 200 and 400 yard free style events. Cassell and Braun also took firsts in the 200 yard breast stroke and the 150 yard back stroke matches respectively.

Summary:
300-yard medley relay—Won by Westminster (Braun, Cassel, Samson). Time—3:16.3.
220-yard free style—Won by Gavett, Westminster; Fenwick, Westminster, second; Etter, Grove City, third. Time—2:14.8.

Tall Boys Meet Eastern Clubs In New Jersey During Vacation

Seton Hall, Upsula Host Titans Next Week; Face Tech, Frankies, Pitt In Pittsburgh

One of the longest road trips undertaken in the last few years by the Westminster basketball squad will start when the Titans meet Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh Saturday, then travel to New Jersey to take on Upsula and Seton Hall colleges next Monday and Wednesday nights.

The tilt with Tech is slated to get underway at 8 p.m. with a reserve game scheduled for 7 p.m. Tech is expected to be a much improved team this year, since there are nine returning lettermen on the squad coached by newcomer Mel Cratsley, a former Tartan star before World War II.

SNs Take Four In Basketball Loop

Sig Eps Trip Indies; Bachelors Down ASPs

Teams in all three divisions of the Intramural basketball league saw action as the campaign rounded out the second week. In two games last Friday Sigma Nu A defeated the New Castle Hi-Y, 24-14, and Sigma Nu B handed the Bachelors a 16-7 defeat.

In Saturday morning games Sig Ep A, led by Elder's 16 points, defeated the Royals, 32-11, and Sig Ep C won over Alpha Sig C, 22-17.

Sig Ep A took a 2-0 forfeit from the Independents on Monday. In the nightcap the Bachelors defeated Alpha Sig B, 24-16.

Jackson and Evanoff scored ten points each to lead Sigma Nu A to a 36-12 win over the Alumni on Tuesday. Ossoff's five points paced the losers' scoring efforts. In the second game of the afternoon Sigma Nu B took the Royals, 23-11.

The remaining first-half schedule follows:

Meet Upsula, Seton Hall

After the Tech game, the Titan squad will stay overnight in Pittsburgh and then leave for Newark, N.J., Sunday morning. The team will stay in that city while playing Upsula and Seton Hall.

Upsula college of East Orange, N. J., owns one victory this year over Gustavus Adolphus, whom the Titans beat in the season opener. The Vikings are coached by Donald B. Walker whose team won 12 games and lost 10 last year.

On Wednesday night the Titans meet the Seton Hall quintet at South Orange. The Pirates are coached by John "Honey" Russell who led the Boston Celtics before this year.

Russell also coached at Seton Hall until 1945 when he took the position. His team was in the 1941 National Invitation Tournament having won 42 straight games.

Face Frankies At Gardens

Westminster will return home on Thursday for the Christmas holidays. They will be back in New Wilmington Dec. 27 to drill for the game with St. Francis of Loretto in the Duquesne Gardens in Pittsburgh, Dec. 29. Duquesne university will face George Pepperdine college of California in the other game of the doubleheader. St. Francis recently beat Steubenville college, 113-51.

The Titans will travel to Pittsburgh Jan. 5 to open the University of Pittsburgh's home season.

"Doc" Carlson's Junglectats lost "Dodo" Canterna and Sammy David by graduation last June but will have Lou "Bimbo" Cecconi, Pitt's claim to All-American football fame, back as a veteran nucleus for a near-freshman squad.

WAA Head Sets Plan For Hoop Tournament

Interclass basketball competition will be next on the women's sports calendar, Gloria Jenzer, president of WAA announced.

The tournament, open to WAA members and all freshmen women, will get underway after the Christmas vacation.

Appointed to organize their classes into teams were Gloria Lorentz for the seniors; Isabel Tidd leading the juniors; Barbara Williams, sophomores, and Bev Mergner heading the freshmen.

Her activities include Cwens, Mu Phi Epsilon, the music honorary, Target, WRW, CGA, and YWCA. Judy has also participated in Little Theatre work, and was one of the leads in the "Black Arrow" production this year.

Election Gives Friday Vice President's Post

Larry Friday is vice president of the sophomore class, according to election results released yesterday.

The election was the second to be held this year for the office.

College Approves German Honorary

One application to organize a new honorary was approved and one turned down this week by the college, according to an announcement by President Will Orr.

Delta Phi Alpha, German honorary, will probably be installed here sometime this semester, announced Walter Biberich, associate professor of German and advisor to the group. Students holding an 85 average in German are eligible. This applies whether they are taking the course now or have taken it in other years.

Interhonorary Council, designed to strengthen honoraries, was not approved. Among the reasons given for disapproval were that organizations should be of value without setting up extra machinery, and that too many organizations are already making for confusion.

"If organizations are not functioning now, they should be pruned," Dr. Orr stated.

Collins Enters Honorary At Formal Ceremony

George C. Collins, head of the news bureau, was initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary, at a formal ceremony this week.

Mr. Collins, who teaches journalism classes, was added to the faculty this year, coming to Westminster from North Carolina.

Basketball dope sheets, published by Pi Delta Epsilon, are now on sale at Westminster home games. The sheets contain team history, tentative lineups, squad pictures, and thumbnail sketches of the players.

Sculptors' Angels Vary

mas angel is an illuminated thing and that it belongs in a holy place, so she has assembled her plaster and metal figure around a light bulb with a miniature stained glass window for a background.

Ann Ashbaugh's angel is an abstract figure being born out of a flower; a beautiful idea for birth, if angels must be born.

Horton Uses Wings

A massive angel with tall wings, creating the idea of a head in the space left for it between the wings, is Sue Horton's impression. The figure contains something of the monumentality and the existence outside our world in its aspect of the Christmas angel.

Claire Brown has created a simplified plaster figure of a kneeling angel with half furled wings.

Paul Talley's concept is the form of an angel moving through space. It is carved from plaster giving the impression of forward motion. The idea that it is in space is established by putting a hole through the figure.

Lou Cobner's angel is arranged to form a harp; made from clear plastic, wire, and plaster; it is lighted through the plastic base.

Sittig Experiments

Chuck Sittig is experimenting with new materials in his angel. He is using galvanized iron, aluminum, leather, and glass on a plaster base. His angel's wings are of glass and the figure is done in whirls of aluminum and leather which create an effect of motion.

A tragic angel, created by Barbara Hollingsworth, has its hands chained together to symbolize the attitude of today's men toward Christmas. This angel is close to our time and in her helplessness not only is a work of art, but also provokes in the viewer thoughts of the reason for a tragic Christmas angel.

Unknowns Post Sheet For Architecture Poll

Requesting signatures of students who would like to see modern architecture appear on Westminster's campus, a sheet was posted on the outside bulletin board of Old Main yesterday by some unknown students.

However, later in the day the sheet was removed, but a similar one took its place, again to be covered with signatures.

Instigators of the poll are generally unknown, as is the identity of the person or persons who removed the sheet.

Griffith Stars As Liliom

of the fine acting that was shown to Little Theatre audiences in the "Black Arrow" with his role of the heavenly judge who gave Liliom a chance to go back to earth to see his daughter and do one act of goodness.

Until she found herself in the latter stages of the play, Dorothy Elder was still the little girl of "I Remember Mama," but once she got over that feeling, Dorothy did a good job as the wife of shy Wolf Beifeld, "a good man" as played by Jay Gimplin.

Ruth Vogan, the always crabbing but good hearted aunt who took in Julia and Liliom seemed to lack the enthusiasm that we have seen Ruth display in many of her past roles.

Phyllis Knight as Louise, the daughter of Marie and Liliom, brought a refreshing youthfulness that was not overplayed. William Sample's portrayal of Ficusur was another example of his ability to play many varied character parts.

To the production staff of "Liliom", a big bouquet for the fine scenery and good music that added so much to the enjoyment of the play. And the lighting under Bill Kerr and his crew did much to carry the mood of the play.

Once again it has been shown that with a great lack of space, the Westminster "Little Theatre" can still turn out some really fine productions.

Six Students Will Aid In Poetry Festival

Six students were chosen at the meeting of Scroll, English honorary, this week to aid the faculty committee in the Poetry Festival.

This student committee working on publicity and the preliminary poetry round consists of Marjory Van Dyke, Ann Nicodemus, Peggy Townsend, Howard Frisbee, Wally Lash, and Carl Snyder.

The festival will be held Feb. 15.

Santa Leaves Igloo

ing. You can eliminate Russia by saying they are too busy inventing Coca-Cola and perfecting the lightning rod to bother with Christmas. This still leaves quite a journey for one night, especially for an old man, so tell him he uses jets and travels faster than sound. That also explains why he can't be heard. You also might eliminate Siam and Persia since only cats live there.

A Mrs. Claus?

If Junior has reached the age when he realizes that there are things in life other than food, he may wonder whether there is a Mrs. Claus. If you decide there is, what does she do all the time? She does the same as any other wife, dusts the igloo every day, prepares Santa's meals and various other things. She helps the old boy all year and each Christmas worries whether he will have an accident on the way home.

If Junior starts to get on your nerves by now, just take him to the department store and let him talk to Santa himself. He should know the answers to all questions and if he doesn't he can make up good excuses. Junior may worry about giving Santa a list of things he wants for Christmas because Santa doesn't bother to write them down. If Junior gives him a long list of things and then happens to see Santa in another store, he can make him look pretty stupid by asking him to name the list he gave him. Don't worry about this, it is Santa's problem.

Is There A Santa?

We haven't answered the big question yet. Is there a Santa Claus? Maybe there really isn't, but we all believe in him. He is as much a part of Christmas as the presents, the big dinner, and the tree. He doesn't live at the North Pole, he doesn't have to slide down a chimney, and his reindeer don't have to run on the snow flakes but as long as there are people in the world, there will be a Santa Claus.

To quote a well worn phrase of Santa's, "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."
